THIS SQUARE-RIGGED ship, a replica of Christopher Columbus' Santa Maria, which sailed from Spain on August 3, 1492, docked last Friday at East Tawas on a tour of the Great Lakes. Iosco to Take Another Look at District Health Allocation

A request to reconsider supplemental payment to finance a deficit in the operation of District Health No. 2 was taken under advisement last week by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners and turned over to its health committee for study.

In its current budget allocating $85,000 for health department services, the county board of commissioners did not include an appropriation of $9,000 for the district health department's deficit.

The three other counties involved in the district health department, Alcona, Ogemaw and Oscoda, had approved the supplement.

According to information from the health department, should Iosco County not approve the supplement, services to this county would necessarily be cut by an amount equivalent to $9,000.

The health department has a total budget of $457,222 for 1978, of which $191,226 is paid by the four participating counties.

The local payment is based on a population-state equalized property valuation formula. With a population of 24,905, Iosco has 51.2 percent of the four-county total; Iosco's valuation of $206,084,147 represents 45 percent of the district's total value.

Allocations from the four counties, based on the above formula, include: Alcona, $36,715; Iosco, $85,000; Ogemaw, $48,668; Oscoda, $20,844.

In the past, Iosco's representatives on the district health board of directors have disputed the population figure used for this county, emphasizing that Wurtsmith Air Force Base is included in the total but actually receives little health services from the department.

Duane Walters - Vernon Blust on TC Planning Commission

Two new members of the Tawas City Planning Commission were appointed Monday night by the city council to fill vacancies.

Named to the planning commission were Duane C. Walters of Tawas Hardware, former president of Tawas Chamber of Commerce, and Vernon Blust, an employee of the United States Forest Service.

Terms of both men are to expire in 1980.

Blust had been serving on the cemetery board and John A. Martin was nominated to fill his vacancy. He is to be contacted to determine if he would accept the appointment.

The planning commission vacancies resulted from the death of Steven Ezo and appointment of Donald Hayes to the city council. Hayes was welcomed to his first council meeting Monday night.

In other business, the council established a special joint meeting with the planning commission Wednesday (today), 6:30 p. m. The meeting was requested by Robert Pavloski and William Kidder of the planning commission, who were present at the council meeting.

ET Street Work to Proceed

East Tawas Council voted Monday night to spend $3,900 to sealcoat Rainbow Drive, which extends in a southwesterly direction from West Tawas Lake Road through Tawas-entha Subdivision.

This work had been requested on petition by property owners at the last meeting, but the council pointed out at that time that the subdivision had received approval contingent upon the owner bringing the road to grade.

After investigation, the city learned that it should have insisted that the owner stabilize the road within five years of approval.

The problem of a narrow intersection on Rainbow Drive with Tawas Beach Road is to be studied and work is to proceed with the sealcoat work.

In other business, a new fire protection contract with Baldwin Township was approved by the council and is to be submitted to the township board for its consideration.

The fire department has a total operational budget of $43,803.50, of which $14,920 is for hydrant rental and is to be paid entirely by the city. The balance of $28,883.50 is the actual budget upon which township participation is based.

Under the proposed contract, Baldwin Township would be paying more than 50 percent of the fire department's budget, based on the assessed valuation for both the township and the city. The township's share would be $15,828, to be paid in installments due on October 1 and on April 1, 1979.

During discussion on the city forestry program, the council authorized purchase of 50 nursery stock trees rather than to utilize naturally-grown trees as formerly transplanted under a program directed by Thomas Jacques.

The council authorized its street and sidewalk committee to return an easement to L. G. McKay. This easement had been given across private property by the McKay family to permit use of the old city dump, which has since been discontinued.

The city is to readvertise for bids on a new 1979 police car.

A proposed three-year contract with Hager Sanitation is being evaluated by the finance committee. The contract proposed an eight-percent increase in cost to the city for each of the next three years.

Last Day to Register

A registration card may be picked up at the Tawas City firm's sales room next to the Kroger Store. First prize will be a 30-inch Gibson range and second prize will be a Moulinex LaMachine food processor.

Ground Breaking in August

Hospital Expansion Gets OK

Board of Trustees of Tawas Hospital voted July 19 to proceed with a $2,100,812 expansion of the hospital. A final presentation was made by the architectural firm, Hospital Building and Equipment Company of St. Louis, Missouri.

Plans to add to a new surgery wing were also discussed and the architect will submit additional plans at a future meeting.

Included in the $2,100,812 cost will be land acquisitions, equipment, renovation, financing and related costs. With the addition of a new surgery wing, the estimated cost will be increased by $350,000.

Work is to start on this project sometime in August with completion in late 1979.

The construction, housing a new nursing wing with a special care unit and emergency room, will be built first with the renovation of the existing areas to follow. This is planned for the minimum amount of interruption of hospital activities.

Renovated areas will include a new pharmacy, physical therapy, inhalation therapy, X-ray, laboratory, gift shop, admitting and other office space. Only three additional patient beds will be added, two in the obstetric unit and one in the special care unit.

"This expansion of the hospital facilities opens the way to meet the growing health care needs of this community," said Donald Snyder, administrator. "Adequate facilities, buildings and equipment are needed to attract additional medical and nursing professionals to the community."

The Tawas Hospital Development Council, under leadership of Timothy O'Connor, has been active in support of this program. With its five committees, this group has set an ambitious goal of raising $395,000 to help with the expansion program. Plans are now under way for a major thrust of the program in September.

Committee chairmen include Elizabeth Rosenberg, annual support; Bruce Myles, community relations; Judith McIntosh, special gifts; Thomas Huck, deferred gifts; John Lippert, corporations and foundations.

State Accepts Iosco's Property Equalization Without Change

For the third year in a row, the Michigan State Tax Commission accepted ratios of assessment as prepared by the Iosco County Tax Equalization Department. This means that ratios presented to the county board of commissioners for adoption earlier this spring will be used for the basis of tax assessments.

The report indicates Iosco County has a state equalized valuation of $210,023,607 for real estate and $17,591,040 for personal property.

Local assessing officers had brought in a figure totaling $171-

938,079 for real property. John Rose's equalization department determined that an average factor of 1.23 was necessary to bring assessed values up to the state equalized valuation. Personal property assessments remain unchanged from those brought in by local assessing officers.

Real factors range from a high of 1.44 in Grant Township to a low of 1.06 for the City of Whittemore. Other low factors included the City of Tawas City, Burleigh and Reno Townships, all with 1.07.

Rose said Monday that he hopes his department will have the county completely reappraised this year. Earlier this spring, the county board of commissioners authorized training CETA personnel for this project.

The tax equalization department's training program has been so successful, however, that it is difficult to keep the CETA workers on the staff. A number of trainees have left for better paying positions after receiving initial certification.

Rose's department was authorized 30 CETA slots for this project, but the number has now dropped to 25. Federal CETA positions have been frozen by congress and funds are not available to fill vacancies.

The department picked up three CETA workers when a project in Tawas City terminated.

Runaway Propane Trailer Crashed Into TC Building

A runaway propane tank trailer, which disengaged from its towing truck, crashed into a vacant building Friday afternoon on US-23 east of the Tawas River bridge. There were no injuries.

Investigating Michigan State Police from East Tawas identified the driver as Ronald E. McPherson, 22, Tawas City, an employee of Fuelgas Company, Flint. Also in the truck was Kenneth W. Rechsteiner, 25, National City.

State police said that the truck and trailer unit crossed at the bridge over the Tawas River and the trailer disengaged after the unit hit a bump in the roadway.

The lead unit continued on, but the trailer ran over a curb and struck a telephone pole in front of the former Lubaway building on the bay shore side of US-23, purchased earlier this year by the City of Tawas City.

The tongue of the trailer unit smashed an eight-foot by eight-foot plate glass window in the building and damaged the front of the structure.

The accident report indicated that the trailer was equipped with safety chains, but did not prevent the unit from veering away from the truck. The state highway department was notified of a bump in the roadway at each end of the bridge.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz told members of the city council Monday night that he had been contacted by Fuelgas Company of Flint in regard to paying for damages to the building.

The city manager said that it was fortunate that a serious disaster had not occurred as a result of the accident.

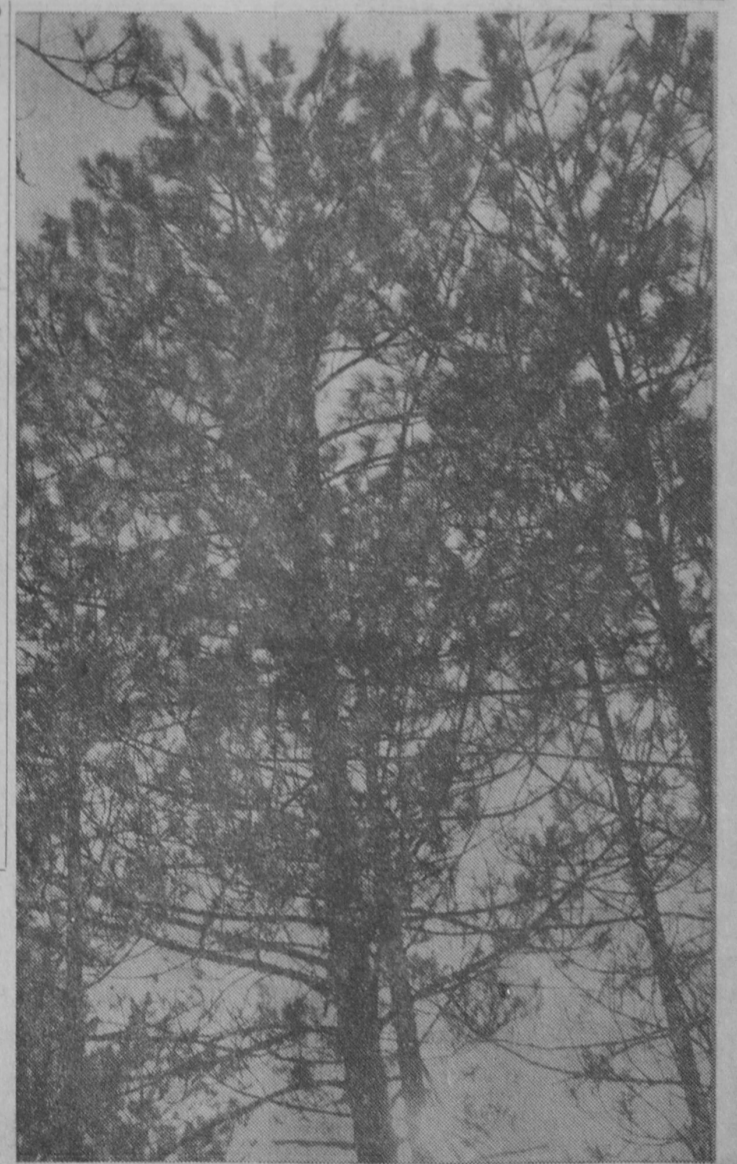

Kiwanis Plantation Marks Anniversary

In celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Michigan Kiwanis Forest Plantation, a rededication service will be held Saturday, July 29, at the Kiwanis Monument on Monument Road, which is located approximately one mile south of Lumbermen's Monument.

The service will begin at noon followed by a barbecue lunch. A minimal fee will be charged for the lunch. After the prayer rededication and reconsecration, Michigan Kiwanis Gov. Gene Overholt will address the gathering, as will Calvin Norton of the United States Forest Service.

Music for the occasion will be provided by the Oscoda Kiwanis Club.

FIFTY years ago, these red pine trees were planted as seedlings in the Kiwanis Plantation of Huron National Forest. A special program is to be held Saturday at Lumbermen's Monument marking this milestone.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Summer CETA Project at Tawas Area Schools

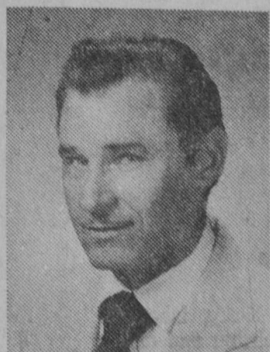

A summer CETA project under Lucky Kosto has 14 young people employed in construction projects at Tawas Area Schools. Kosto, a member of the school faculty, has charge of the project which includes renovation of four classrooms at the Tawas City Elementary Unit, construction of a foundation for a walk-in cooler at the high school and painting the East Tawas Elementary Unit fence.

Some work has been completed on the Tawas City project, which is to include lowering ceilings, installation of new lights and windows, all in the older portion of the building.

Sheriff's Dept. Lists Complaints

Seven larcenies, five breakings and enterings and a concealed weapons complaint were investigated last week by Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

Four sections of bowling alley which had been placed outside of Tawas Lanes and stolen Saturday were returned to the owners by two suspects after being apprehended by Iosco County Sheriff's Department officers.

The sections of bowling alley, which had been removed from the lanes during modernization, had been loaded on a pickup truck when Walter Schultz, owner, stopped two subjects. Schultz told the two men to unload the bowling alley sections from a pickup truck, but two 3½-foot by four-foot sections and one 3½-foot by eight-foot section later turned up missing. Officers found the truck at East Tawas.

Other larcenies were reported by Ronald W. Cooper, Fourth Avenue, Tawas City, theft of a tire; Betty D. Sharp, Michigan Center, theft of tent; Dennis A. Thomas, National City, outdoor motor stolen from boat; Kevin Mielock, East Tawas, theft of eight-track tape player and accessories from car parked at McIntosh-McKay Chevrolet; Jerry's Marina, Tawas Point, theft of three outdoor motors; Jean Gibson, Whittemore, theft of eight-track tape player from car parked in garage.

Batchelder, Section 32, Plainfield Township; Rita's Burglar Basket, Tawas City Park, entry into concession building and article of food thrown on floor; Whittemore-PreScott Area School, superintendent's office entered through window.

David F. Stagg, Glennie, was charged with carrying a concealed weapon when arrested on Old State Road, Reno Township. During a routine investigation, a handgun was found on the floor of his car.

WORK WAS COMPLETED Tuesday on installation of a storm drain in the old bed of Dead Creek on city property west of the Tawas City Elementary Unit. The drain connects with a storm sewer which was constructed more than 25 years ago when the course of Dead Creek was straightened. Since then, portions of the old creek bed have been filled with stagnant water and unsightly. Excess dirt removed from other sewer work has been used to fill in the old creek bed on city property near the elementary school playground and Knothole League baseball fields.—Tawas Herald Photo.

TC Council Seeks Participation in Street Realignment

A new plan to realign Cedar Street with possible financial participation by three property owners was suggested by the Tawas City Council at its meeting Monday night.

Purchase of a portion of Lot 5, Block 7, Hazen's Addition, has been under council discussion for several months.

City Mgr. Reginald Bubltz reported that the property owner indicated that he would settle for a price of $831 for the northwest corner of the lot.

The city street has cut across the corner of the lot for 40 years or more. A letter from the city attorney indicated that while the city may claim the land through adverse position, he suggested that the city negotiate for the purchase of the property to avoid litigation.

The city had studied the possibility of moving the roadway, but three property owners along Cedar Street are encroaching on the right-of-way. Three houses are built on city street property, one as much as 8½ feet, and moving the roadway would be impractical. Encroachment by the dwellings has existed for 40 years or more.

It was suggested that the entire matter be handled at this time by purchasing the corner of Lot 5 and the deed city street property on the west side of Cedar Street to owners whose dwellings are encroaching on city property.

The city manager is to contact the three property owners involved to determine if they would be interested in paying a proportionate ratio of the $831 cost for officially realigning the street.

In other business, the city manager reported that the water storage tank at the industrial park had been painted and that water mains were being disinfected. Completion of painting and disinfection at the East Tawas pumping station is awaited for inauguration of the expanded water system.

Bubltz said he was to meet with the Iosco County Board of Public Works to determine if any low interest money remained in the overall project. If so, the city would borrow $10,000 to finance removal of the old water tank behind the city hall.

The city manager said that the water tank contractor still had its equipment in the city and a lower cost could be obtained now for removal of the old water tank, rather than to wait for several years.

Commission Had Routine Business

Routine business handled by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners last week saw approval of a $11,500 salary for the county's new electrical inspector, William Gibbs.

Gibbs is to handle electrical inspections formerly made by the late Francis J. Block, director of the county's building and safety inspection department.

Upon Block's death last month, Edward Sterling was named the new director.

Other action saw approval of a contract between the county and the United Steelworkers of America, which represents courthouse employees.

Robert Foster of Oscoda was appointed to the East Central Michigan Health System Agency board of directors.

John Dye of Oscoda was paid $336.91 for professional architectural services on additions and alterations to the county building annex, plus $241.74 on revising plans for the additions and alterations to the county building and jail.

Payment was authorized to Tawas Hospital in the amount of $6,903.25, representing quarterly cost for the ambulance agreement.

Grant Township notified the commission that the $10,000 in revenue sharing money allocated by the county to that township would be used in construction of a new bridge on Carpenter Road over the East Branch of the AuGres River. The township and the county road commission have contracted to build a new bridge at a cost of $53,000.

A letter to the governor's office recommended appointment of Ray Kesler of Hale to the State Commission on Services to the Aging.

City Purchases Three Trucks from East Tawas GMC Dealer

Purchase of three new trucks and adoption of a plan recommended by the city manager to finance purchase of the equipment was made Monday night by the Tawas City Council.

Low bid of William Look and Sons for two GMC dump trucks, along with the East Tawas firm's bid on a four-wheel drive pickup truck, were approved by the council.

Look had submitted a bid of $30,614 for the two dump trucks and $6,662 for the pickup truck.

Inglis Ford Sales had submitted a bid of $33,500 for the two dump trucks and $7,191 for the four-wheel drive pickup. McIntosh-McKay's bid of $29,224.62 was based on 1978 prices and did not reflect expected price increases for 1979. McIntosh-McKay's bid of $6,686.84 for the four-wheel drive pickup was also subject to a 1979 price change.

In addition, the council accepted a bid of $148.75 for each dump truck and $126.65 for the pickup truck for Tuff-Kote Dinol rustproof-ing submitted by Hayes Enterprises.

On recommendation of City Mgr. Reginald Publitz, the total estimated cost of $43,675 for the above equipment, along with underbody scraper approved at the last session, is to be financed through $23,175 from the equipment fund, $18,800 from the street fund and $2,000 from the fire department.

The four-wheel drive pickup is to be used by the fire department, replacing a vehicle which had been converted into department of public works use. The new truck is to be painted lime green to coincide with the color scheme of a pumper truck purchased last year.

LUNCH OR BRUNCH? Serve it Topped With Variety

For a different kind of summer lunch or brunch, why not plan to have a grilled meal? Add even more variety to this kind of menu by making use of toppings for the different foods.

Thuringer-Orange Kabobs, for example, use a sausage rather than traditional fresh meats. Topped with a marinade of orange juice, honey, mustard and coriander, they're truly appetizing. Tomatoes become special when they're cut in fan shapes, then topped with a Swiss cheese-crumbs mixture.

For a sandwich, spread pumpernickel bread slices with a seasoned butter, top with cucumber slices, then put together sandwich-style for easy nibbling.

Nothing tastes better for dessert than a bowl of assorted fresh fruits and berries, topped with a golden sauce.

Would Rezone Block

A hearing on proposed rezoning of property requested by Richard Ziehl is to be held by the Tawas City Council on Monday, August 7. Ziehl, owner of the former N. C. Harting residence on US-23 at the corner of North Street, has requested that the block between North Street and Birch Street, between US-23 and Court Street, be considered for rezoning from multiple family to B-1 commercial.

The planning commission recommended the hearing in view of the fact that a petition by adjoining property owners favored the change and had been presented to the city council.

In other business at the planning commission's July 20 meeting, Peter Lichtfusz, representing the Tawas Masonic Temple Association, requested information concerning zoning of Lots 63, 64, 65 and 66 east of Victoria Lane adjacent to Tawas United Methodist Church as the site for a proposed new Tawas Masonic Temple. Tawas Hospital is currently negotiating for the purchase of the present building.

Construction of such a building in a residential zone is permitted under a special use permit and with certain restrictions in regard to parking.

During discussion of a bridge over the Tawas River at North Street, it was the general consensus of the planning commission that, when or if ever a bridge is built, the city's future land use plan be used as a guide. The future land use plan recommends a bridge at North Street. At a recent meeting, the city council was presented with petitions in opposition to a bridge at that location.

Home Owners Meeting Conservation Standards Could Receive Recognition

Home builders or owners who construct or modify their homes to meet certain energy conservation standards could be eligible for national recognition under a new program sponsored in this part of Michigan by Consumers Power Company.

The program involves meeting criteria established by the electric utility industry for home insulation and installation of energy saving equipment.

Set up nation-wide by the Edison Electric Institute and its member companies, the program, designed to further encourage conservation, is known as "National Energy Watch." It has three basic goals, reduce the drain on fossil fuels on the national level, cut back on the need for new generating plants at the utility level and minimize monthly utility bills at the home owner level.

According to John Wessels, manager for Consumers Power Company's Tawas District, "guidelines for meeting the objectives of the NEW program have been established which we believe are appropriate for customers in the Tawas District."

The guidelines include meeting minimum R values for insulation in new and existing homes. (Insulation is assigned an R value, in the form of a number, based upon its energy efficiency. The greater the R number, the greater the insulation value or resistance to heat flow.) Other requirements include such things as installing storm windows and doors and using more energy efficient appliances.

To qualify for membership, a home builder or owner must complete a NEW certification form which is available at any Consumers Power Company office.

"If the dwelling measures up to standards and attains a rating of at least 100 points, it will be included in the program," Wessels said.

Recognition will be made through the issuance of a home owner membership certificate and a decal for display on the home. An additional award of merit will be offered to those who install heat pumps or solar equipment. However, such installations must be inspected by Consumers Power Company personnel.

If the home does not meet the requirements for membership, the utility will advise the home builder or owner of measures that can be taken to comply.

The utility executive noted that National Energy Watch is the country's first nationally-organized conservation program. He also said that in addition to the three stated goals of NEW there is another practical aspect.

"When the time comes to sell or rent a home, the fact that it has been documented as a dwelling that meets energy efficiency requirements could be a definite selling point," Wessels concluded.

THE FORGOTTEN

LOYAL ORANGE LODGE

One of the oldest blood feuds in the world, a sectarian dispute which finally broke into gunfire and bombings in 1968 and is still a major concern because of violence, once had minor repercussions in this country between the offspring of immigrants, whose heritage trails traced back to Ireland.

Through the Americanization process and passage of time, which has practically eliminated many old world disputes through assimilation in this "melting pot" of the United States, neighbors with different ancestral heritages now live in peace and harmony. It is in the best interest of all concerned.

The present generation of young people, whose ancestral roots may be traced back to Northern Ireland, probably never heard of an Orangeman. A student of history may have read in his textbook or reference materials that the Protestants of Ulster are still called Orangemen today, but most have never heard of the Orange Society, which flourished for many years in this country and gradually succumbed to changing times.

An older generation will recall a weather-beaten two-story building, which stood for many years on the south side of M-55 across from the Hemlock Road Baptist Church; after nearly a quarter of a century being vacant, the old building was devoured by flames and the scar left in the soil has quickly healed with growth of young trees.

That building, constructed in 1902, was the home of Grant Heroes No. 456, L.O.L., the last Orange Society in Isosco County. At one time, there were Orange Lodges at East Tawas, AuSable, Whittemore and AuGres.

In the 1870s, most members of the three local lodges were recent immigrants from Canada and some were only one generation removed from Northern Ireland—feelings of those Irish Protestants ran high against the Irish Catholics. Many Irishmen of both sects traced their New World origin to the potato famine which hit their mother country in the mid-nineteenth century.

Some background information concerning this feud of 300 years may be helpful in understanding some of today's problems which beset Ireland.

Orangemen derived their name from King William III, the prince of Orange, and were enrolled in lodges of Ulster in the ordinary form of a secret society. Their toasts, about which there was no concealment, indicated the spirit of the Orangemen.

The commonest form was "The glorious, pious and immortal memory of the great and good King William, who saved us from popery, ORANGE HALL across from the Hemlock Road Baptist Church served a dual purpose in the early 1900s. The second floor was used as the meeting place for the Grant Heroes No. 456, Orange Society, and the ground floor was for public meetings and community dances. The above group picture snapped by C. E. Scarlett in 1917 shows members of the Isosco County Pioneer Society during that group's annual meeting.—Tawas Herald Photo.

slavery and knavery, brass money and wooden shoes," with grotesque additions according to the orator's taste. (The brass money referred to King James II's finances and the wooden shoes to his French allies.) The final words were often, "and a fig for the bishop of Cork."

Orangemen were fond of beating drums in parades and flaunting flags with the legend, "no surrender." Orangeism was essentially political in nature and its original object was the maintenance of Protestant ascendancy in Ireland and that spirit survived in the New World.

The first regular lodges were founded in Ulster in 1705, but the system existed earlier. The Brunswick Club, founded to oppose Catholic emancipation, wore sprigs from the original orange tree.

Orange flowers were worn on July 1 and 12, the anniversary of the battles of Boyne and Aughrim. Another great day for Orangemen was November 5, when William III landed in Torbay.

William of Orange, 1650-1702, gained fame for his opposition to King Louis XIV of France, and later became William III, king of England, Scotland and Ireland. Born in the Hague, he was the son of the Prince of Orange and his mother was Mary, the daughter of Charles I of England. He married James, was the Duke of York, who later became King James II of England.

William became friendly with those who opposed his father-in-law, a Roman Catholic, and when James' son was baptized a Catholic, Protestants invited William and Mary to rule England in 1689. William, in 1690, defeated James and a French and Irish army at the battle of Boyne, Ireland. Protestants of Ulster, Ireland, backed William and are still called Orangemen today.

The people emigrating from Ireland to Canada and the United States in the last century brought their heritages with them and one former Tawas City resident, Nelson S. Sawyer, remembers with clarity the annual parade of Orangemen which took place in the Tawas in the early 1900s.

Along with their prejudices, the Irish also brought with them the love for a good fight and more than a few Orangemen's parades in July were marred by a free-for-all between the sons of Ulster and Cork.

Sawyer, who has no Irish heritage, best remembers the annual Orangemen's picnic. Youngsters of the two towns were invited to participate in games and the highlight of one summer for Sawyer was climbing a greased pole to claim a $1 pocket watch. (He hedged on the other kids by greasing his pants and then coating the legs with sand from the shore of Tawas Bay.)

What usually set off the fights was this little ditty repeated in unison by Orangemen: "It's up the long ladder and down the short rope, hurrah for King William and to H— with the pope."

The battle of Boyne would again be fought, only this time it took place on the sawdust-covered streets of the Tawas. These men of Ulster and Cork would engage in fistfights, perhaps to the merriment of other townsmen, but there would be no spirit of compromise or good feelings after a good battle, which was often the case in other fights here in the lumbering days.

In 1877, Hoffman Lodge of Orangemen No. 150 was organized at East Tawas with five charter members. By 1883, the lodge had grown to 18 members. Robert Johnson was the first master in 1877 and James Dillon was master in 1883 and the lodge met once a month at Carpenter's Hall, later the home of the Grand Army of the Republic. Until 1978, it was the meeting place of Audie Johnson Post, American Legion. The building still stands on Newman Street south of the Federal Building.

The June 30, 1881, issue of The Isosco County Gazette printed the following item: "On Tuesday, July 12, the Orangemen of East Tawas, AuGres, AuSable and other parts of the country will celebrate the 191st anniversary of the battle of Boyne, by a gathering at this place. The AuGres Lodge, L.O.L., No. 148, will be met between Tawas City and Alabaster by members of Hoffman Lodge and the AuSable Lodge and will be escorted to the American House, in this place, where an excellent dinner will be furnished by Messrs. Curry Brothers, the proprietors, after which there will be a street parade and commemorative exercises at the fairgrounds during the afternoon."

The gathering of the Orangemen to celebrate the Boyne in 1881 was not as large as had been anticipated; only about 25 members formed the line for the parade. Eight (See ORANGEMEN, page 3.)

POPULARITY of fraternal orders and secret societies ran high during the first quarter of this century. Many different organizations had chapters in this county with such names as Macabees, Knights of Pythias, Orange Society, to name a few of the orders which have since disappeared. The above group has not been identified, but members are posing in front of the old county courthouse.

NEMROC Receives Accreditation for Rehabilitation of Handicapped Persons

Raymond Merrill, president of the board, announced recently that Northeastern Michigan Rehabilitation and Opportunity Center (NEMROC) has received a three-year accreditation certificate for its rehabilitation program of handicapped persons. The Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF) of Chicago, Illinois, granted the accreditation after recently completing an extensive survey of the NEMROC operations.

The commission has commended NEMROC for "successfully meeting high standards of performance" and its "dedication and commitment to improve the quality of the lives of handicapped and disabled individuals." For these reasons, NEMROC was able to receive a three-year accreditation rather than one year as normally granted. NEMROC is a private, nonprofit organization which provides employment to handicapped individuals in Northeastern Michigan. It currently employs people at two facilities in Alpena, one in Tawas City and one in Onaway. CARF sends independent survey people from the rehabilitation field to analyze the NEMROC operations in nine program areas. The areas surveyed are purpose, organization and administration, services, personnel, records and reports, fiscal management, physical facilities, community involvement and program evaluation. CARF accreditation is required of NEMROC by several state agencies which refer handicapped people to the workshops for vocational training. NEMROC provides employment to handicapped persons by the manufacture of prime products and the subcontracting of work for other businesses in the area. The agency currently employs 90 people, operates four facilities and has an operating budget of approximately 1.1-million dollars. The accreditation lasts until July 13, 1981. At that time, CARF will resurvey the entire agency for further program accreditation.

AN EXPLOSION the morning of Sunday, July 16, and resulting fire practically leveled this mobile home and trailer on Kokosing Road north of Hale. Owned by James H. Irwin, investigating sheriff's department officers said that a quantity of dynamite had been stored in the garage where the fire started. Two cars and a motorcycle were destroyed in the blaze. The blast shook the entire Long Lake area and rattled windows of dwellings. —Tawas Herald Photo.

lodges in the district were all represented, however, by special delegates and members from a few of them.

"After partaking of an excellent dinner prepared for them at the American House, they formed a procession in front of the lodge room and, headed by a martial band of music, marched through the principal streets of East Tawas and Tawas City and thence to the fairgrounds, where the company, together with a few other citizens, listened to addresses by the Rev. J. F. Emerich of Almont and Fred Scheffer of Tawas. The exercises over at the grounds, they fell into line and marched back to the hall and disbanded. In the evening, a degree meeting was held at the lodge room and the Royal Arch Purple Marksmen's degree was conferred upon four candidates." The 1881 newspaper account made no mention of fisticuffs during the parade.

East Tawas Encampment No. 6, Knights of Companions, a branch of the Orange institution, was organized that same year by Sir Knight Johnson. The following four principal officers were elected: Alexander Gordon, noble sir knight; B. W. Stoddard, senior warden; James Shaw, WS, and Dillon, WU.

Carpenter's Hall was the scene of a free lecture in 1882 delivered by Emerich on "the principles of the Orange institution," after which an ice cream social was held for the benefit of Hoffman Lodge.

Membership in the Orange Society never reached the proportions, locally, of other fraternal orders, but The Tawas Herald reported in 1905 that "arrangements for the Orangemen's celebration in this city on the 12th instant are completed and all indications point to an immense crowd. A fine program has been arranged and everything is being done to make the celebration a success."

In that same issue, the Herald noted that Grant Heroes, No. 456, LOL, of Grant Township "are just completing a fine new hall near the Hemlock Road Baptist Church. The building is two stories high and 30 by 40-feet in size. It is well furnished throughout with hard wood floors, etc. The second story will be used for lodge rooms while the first floor will be leased for public meetings. The building is a credit to the organization and shows that the Grant Heroes are hustlers."

A grand opening ball was given at the new hall on July 15 and ladies of the Easter Morn Hive, LOTM, gave an "old maid's convention" there on July 29. "After the entertainment, a dance will be given. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend," stated the newspaper.

Orangemen of the shore district held their annual celebration of the battle of Boyne at Whittemore in 1903 "and all arrangements have been completed to give them a royal welcome at that lively little village," reported the Herald. Prominent speakers were secured and an elaborate program was planned. Special excursion trains were run from Alpena and intermediate points.

One former railroadman living in Tawas City recalls that Orangemen cooperated with others to bring one speaker to the Opera House at East Tawas in the early 1900s. The topic of the speaker was of an anti-Catholic, anti-pope nature and members of the various Knights of Columbus organizations in Northeastern Michigan gathered at the hall to try and prevent entry. "McHarg (president of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway) posted a notice warning railroad employees that any who engaged in a fight would be summarily discharged from the railroad," recalls the old-timer.

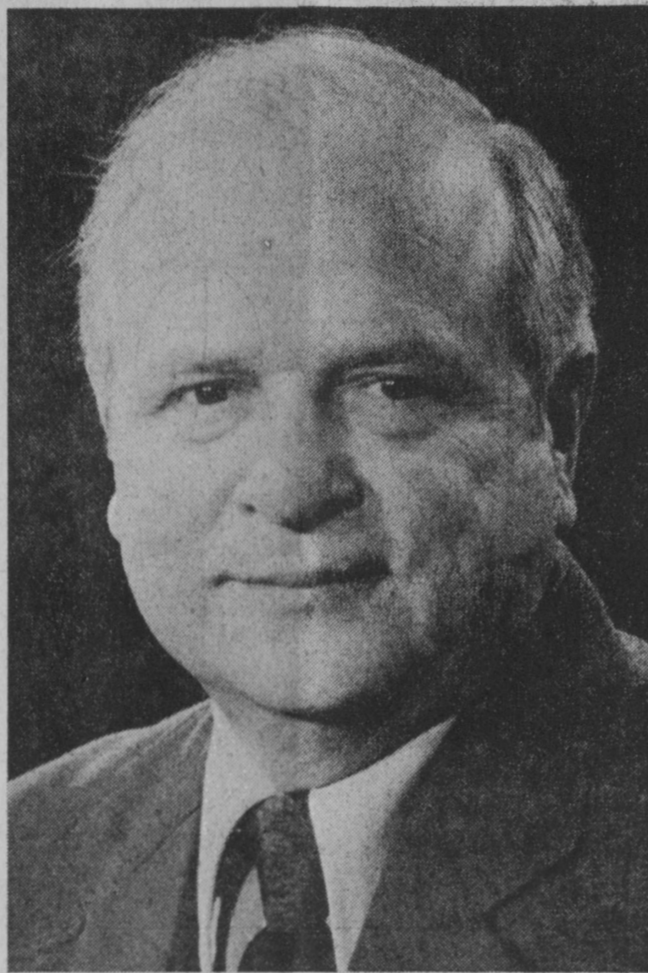

With the death of many of its first generation members, the Orangemen and its LOL and LOTM chapters settled into the social atmosphere of the many other fraternal organizations, which flourished and enjoyed the greatest peak of popularity of such orders in the early 1900s. Despite the annual observance of the battle of Boyne, old prejudices gradually faded into oblivion through marriages and new blood.

Although it is said that one Roman Catholic farmer always cursed the Orange Hall on the Hemlock Road when he drove past with his team of horses, when the vacant building burned in the 1950s a younger generation never even heard of the battle of Boyne or Loyal Orangemen.

One former Tawas City businessman, a Roman Catholic, recalls that a good friend and a neighbor always remembered his Orangeman heritage whenever he was in his cups. "We were always the best of friends when he was not drinking, but he once stopped by after staying too long at the local tavern. He began a harangue about the Catholics and I finally had to tell him that to save our friendship, he should never stop in when he was drunk—he remembered that and we remained friends."

Today, Northern Ireland has built heritage trails tracing the Ulster ancestry of one-quarter of the nation's presidents, all in an effort to attract tourists from the United States. Those presidents with an Orangeman heritage include Andrew Jackson, James Polk, James Buchanan, Andrew Johnson, Ulysses S. Grant, Chester Arthur, Grover Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison, William McKinley and Woodrow Wilson.

Because of the threat today of guerrilla violence, it is not expected there will be a great stream of American tourists to Northern Ireland to trace their Ulster ancestry.

"You have two choices in life: you can dissolve into the mainstream, or you can be distinct. To be distinct, you must be different. To be different, you must strive to be what no one else but you can be . . ."

Iosco's own HUGH PRESCOTT is running for Michigan's 37th Senate seat. Hugh was raised here and has lived here most of his life. He will be a strong voice for this area in the State Senate.

Hugh has traveled extensively throughout the district and has been exceptionally well received. All indications outside Iosco suggest Hugh now has a better shot at the Senate seat than anyone else of either party throughout the 19 counties in the district.

We have the most beautiful district in the State of Michigan. We have natural resources that make this a beautiful tourist attraction. We must make every effort to meet today's needs and tomorrow's goals with great care, to preserve the delicate balance between providing our people meaningful employment through the Free Enterprise system by encouraging the private sector to invest in northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula, and also preserving our environmental values.

Our district needs leadership with the ability to analyze our problems, and the courage to meet those problems head on. Iosco County's own Hugh Prescott will provide us with that leadership.

Vote for our "favorite son," HUGH PRESCOTT for the Republican 37th Senate in the August 8th Primary.

FRESH FRUITS MAKE SUPERB PIES

Fresh fruit pies are an American claim to culinary fame. Innovative American cooks are always doing one better on the favorite "fruit baked under crust" routine. Plum Peachy Deep Dish Pie, for example, is not an ordinary fruit pie. For one thing, the filling is a combination of two favorite summer fruits—juicy sweet peaches and tart-tangy plums—spiced with a whiff of nutmeg and sparked with sour cream. And the wonderful concoctions bake to a beautiful golden brown under a flaky, tender crust.

Try a pretty lattice to top the pies—it is a wonderful way to show off the colorful fruit filling and can really be so easy to make! Just follow this short-cut "no-weaving" version: Lay half of the one-half-inch strips over pie filling about one inch apart. Repeat with remaining strips, placing them in the opposite direction. Slightly press the strips together at meeting points.

Remember to choose ripe, unblemished fruit for your fruit pies as well as for out-of-hand snacking. The home economists for the California tree fruit growers offer these tips to selecting, ripening and storing their fruits:

Choose peaches that have a creamy yellow background. Peaches are ripe when they give slightly to gentle hand pressure. Refrigerate ripe peaches to keep them fresh for several more days.

Plums are available in many flavors and colors—sweet and tangy—red, green, blue, yellow. Best clue to a ripeness is when plums yield to gentle hand pressure with a slight softening at the tip end. If not quite ripe, leave at room temperature for a day or two; ripe plums should be refrigerated.

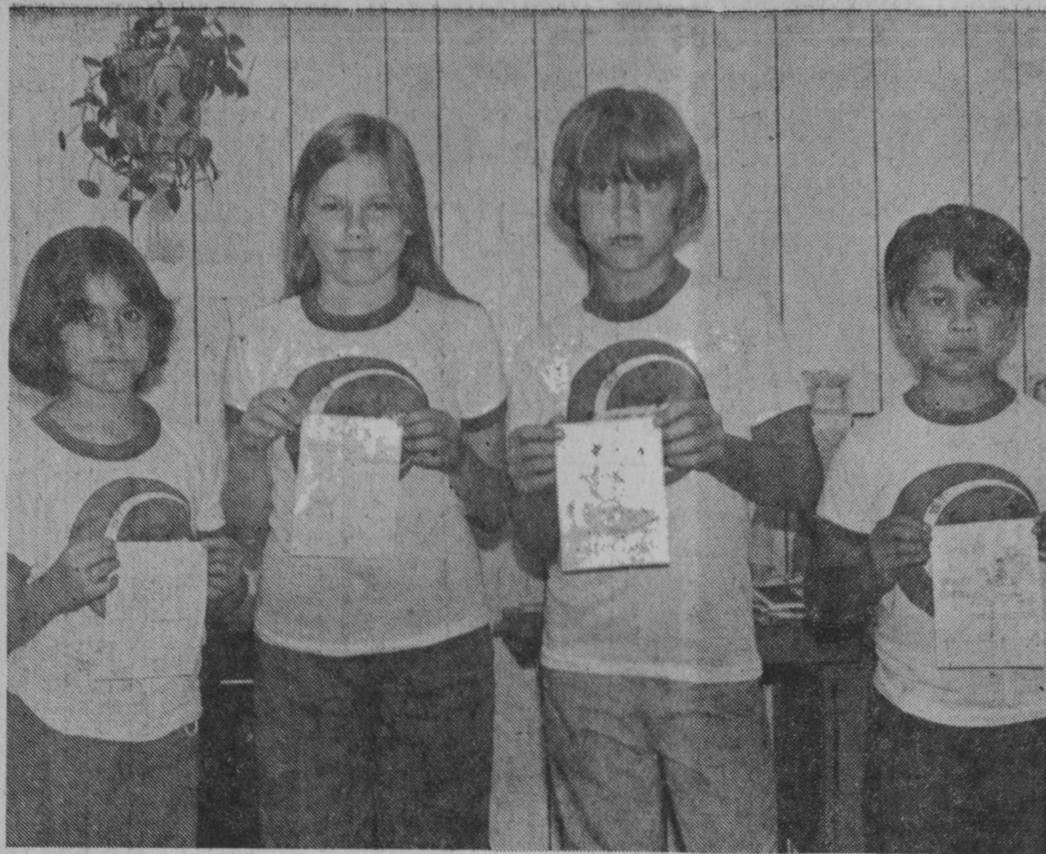

PLUM PEACHY DEEP DISH PIE

- 1/2 Cup cold butter
- 3/4 Cup flour
- 3/4 Cup dairy sour cream
- 4 Cups (about 1 1/4 pounds) peeled and sliced fresh peaches
- 2 Tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 Cup sugar
- 3 Tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- 1/4 Teaspoon salt

In a bowl, cut butter into flour with pastry cutter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Mix in sour cream and work dough into ball. Cover and chill at least two hours or overnight. To make pie in 10-inch deep dish pie plate or shallow casserole, mix peaches and plums with lemon juice, sugar, tapioca and salt.

Let stand 15 minutes. Meanwhile, on lightly floured board, pound dough with heavy rolling pin, to make workable. Roll pastry; cut into strips and make lattice top. Bake in 425 degree oven 10 minutes; reduce heat to 350 degrees and continue baking 45 to 50 minutes more.

Serve warm or cold. Makes eight servings.

4-H Cartoon Winners

Gas Franchise Sought by Two Utilities

15 Years Ago—

July 31, 1963—Both Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and Consumers Power Company are seeking nonexclusive, 30-year franchises to serve the Tawas-Oscoda areas with natural gas. City officials and their wives were dinner guests of Consumers Power Company Monday night at the Barnes Hotel, where the firm's letter of intent was submitted. Michigan Consolidated Gas Company announced that it would spend $2,800,000 to bring natural gas to the West Branch-Tawas-Oscoda areas, if permitted.

County Approves
Microfilming of Old Newspapers

Iosco County Board of Commissioners adopted a resolution Wednesday approving utilization of microfilming equipment and operator for preserving early-day Iosco County newspapers on film.

The resolution specifically approved utilization of materials costing approximately $150 for microfilming files of the Iosco County Gazette from 1873 to 1914.

The original film is to be stored in the county's special vault at Peoples State Bank and reprints would be made for state archives and the local library.

Leon Putnam, register of deeds, told commissioners that microfilming could be done during "slack periods" in his office at various times of the year. He said he was most interested in this project of the Iosco Historical Society as it would be a valuable means of preserving local history.

Such a program had been suggested by Mary Jane Hennigar, who has been active in the preservation of historical pictures and documents at Oscoda. She displayed the only copy remaining of the AuSable Saturday Night which was published there from the 1870s to 1890s. At one time, AuSable and Oscoda supported two or more weekly newspapers, but the fire of 1911 wiped out newspaper files for all time.

Files of the Gazette were turned over to Neil Thornton of The Tawas Herald upon the death of Miss Edna Otis of East Tawas. The files were placed in the Iosco-Arenac Regional Library for safekeeping and use by the public.

It is expected that those files will be completely microfilmed by next year during part-time work in the register of deeds office. A program will then be considered to microfilm files of The Tawas Herald dating back to 1884, along with files of the Oscoda Press since 1949 and the Iosco County News since 1941.

Newspaper files are recognized as one of the most important tools available in historical research and microfilming would provide an important safeguard as well as a convenient means of conducting research.

Annual Iosco County Fair Opens Wednesday at Hale

Fun for all is again the theme of the Iosco County Fair which opens today (Wednesday) with assembling of exhibits at the fairgrounds located at Hale.

Members of the Iosco County Fair Society held their annual cleanup at the fairgrounds last Wednesday and members of 4-H Clubs painted horse barns to brighten the area.

Gerald Bellen, fair society president, and Richard M. Samson, secretary-manager, were on hand to direct a rather large group of volunteers in the cleanup project. "Everything is now in readiness for the annual fair and the board of directors extends an invitation to all residents of the area to come to Hale and join the fun," said Samson.

Fun for the children began yesterday when the big midway opened one day prior to the fair.

A pony pulling contest is to open the program tonight at 7 o'clock. Lightweights are to be run first, followed by heavyweights. Top prize money of $60 will go to the winner followed by winners of the next 19 events in both lightweight and heavyweight divisions.

Thursday's program starts with judging all 4-H exhibits except horses. Harness racing under Robert Ruckie, superintendent of speed, is to start at 2:00 p. m. with three races of two heats each. The midway opens at 1:00 p. m. and judging of open class horses starts at the same time.

Friday will be a busy day with judging of all 4-H horses starting at 9:00 a. m. This is senior citizens' day and all senior citizens are admitted free. There will be a jamboree of retirees' kitchen bands at 2:00 p. m., followed by crowning of a retiree king and queen at 4:00 p. m. Another big day of harness racing starts at 2:00 p. m. with three races of two heats each. A lightweight horse pulling contest is slated for 7:00 p. m. There will be a first prize of $150, followed by prizes from $130 down to $40 for the next nine places.

Saturday is the big day at the fair with games and contests for all ages starting at 10:00 a. m. The annual parade is to start from the fairgrounds at 12:30 p. m. The midway is to open at 1:00 p. m., followed by the annual youth fat steer sale at 1:30 p. m. This event always draws a large crowd of interested spectators, many of whom have checkbooks in hand to run up the bidding to purchase livestock raised by the youngsters.

Saturday afternoon's program includes four harness races of two heats each, plus the Missaukee County 4-H Drill Team at 7:00 and 8:30 p. m.

A giant fireworks display is to close the program Saturday night at 10 o'clock.

Throughout the fair, the exhibition area in the Plainfield Township Hall is open to visitors where there will be displays of farm produce, flowers, craft items and 4-H Club projects.

Handicraft, baked goods and other domestic arts, along with historical and art displays, are located in a building south of the township hall.

The new Hale Area Senior Citizens Center will be an active place during the fair and there are exhibits of livestock in buildings located at various places on the grounds. Several different organizations will sponsor food concession stands.

Editorial—

No Endorsement

This corner noted last week that an editor from a neighboring county had endorsed a "favorite son" candidate from Arenac County in the race for the 105th District seat in the Michigan House of Representatives.

We offer no comment other than to say that no endorsement will be forthcoming from the Herald for any "favorite son" from this county—there are just too many well qualified candidates on the primary election ballot to be that partisan.

Each county has one or more candidates in the field and all have made personal appearances throughout the district. This should be an interesting primary election, but with two local candidates running for the same 105th District office, Iosco may lose its past dominance in elections to pick a state representative.

Voters of Michigan are being bombarded with some fantastic claims by candidates for the governor's seat, congressional races and state legislature. Practically every candidate has suddenly become a tax cut advocate to try and ride in on the growing strength of proposed constitutional amendments. If it was not such a serious question, some of those paid television interviews with candidates would be humorous.

Define Student For Social Security Use

Almost everyone knows that unmarried sons and daughters of retired and disabled workers and survivors of deceased workers can get social security benefits on a parent's social security record if they are full time students between 18 and 22, a social security representative said today. But, many people are confused as to just what is a student.

There are two rules, the spokesman went on; one for university, college, and junior college students, and another for high school, trade, or vocational school students.

For social security purposes, a university, college, or junior college student is considered full-time if the institution considers the student in full-time attendance according to its standards for day students, provided course of study lasts at least 13 weeks.

A high school, vocational, or trade school student is considered full-time if the school considers the student in full-time attendance, the student is enrolled in a course of study lasting at least 13 weeks, and the student is enrolled for at least 20 hours a week.

A student is not eligible for benefits, however, if he or she is paid by an employer to attend school because the employer asked or required the student to attend.

Another point that seems to confuse people, the representative continued, is just what kinds of schools qualify. Students of the following kinds of institutions can get social security student benefits:

- A high school supported or operated by a State or local government, or the Federal Government.
- A vocational or trade school supported or operated by a State or local government, or by the Federal Government.
- A State college, or university or a community college.
- A private school or college approved by a State or accredited by a State recognized or nationally recognized accrediting agency.
- An unaccredited private school or college, provided that at least three accredited schools or colleges accept its credits on transfer on the same basis as credits transferred from an accredited school.

Schools outside the United States may qualify under certain circumstances. The people at any social security office can provide information about a particular school.

Students' benefits can continue during a vacation period of not more than 4 months if the student was full-time before the vacation period started and intends to return to full-time attendance after the vacation ends.

For more information about social security student benefits, interested people can get a copy of the leaflet "Social security checks for students 18 to 22 free at any social security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest office can be found in the telephone directory under "Social Security Administration."

questions and answers

Q. I've heard that the deductible and daily amounts which Medicare hospital insurance doesn't cover were raised this year. What are the new amounts?

A. Starting January 1, 1978, the Medicare hospital insurance deductible is $144, increased from $124. This means that for the 1st through 60th day in each benefit period, hospital insurance pays for all covered services except the first $144. From the 61st through 90th day in each benefit period, hospital insurance pays for all covered services except for $36 a day (up from $31 a day). For each hospital reserve day used, hospital insurance pays for all covered services except for $72 a day (up from $62). And, for the 21st through 100th day in a skilled nursing facility, hospital insurance pays for all covered services except for $18 a day (increased from $15.50).

Q. My wife entered the hospital in mid-December and may be there until the end of January. We've heard that the Medicare hospital insurance deductible was increased for 1978. Does she have to pay the new amount?

A. Not for this hospital stay. The 1978 hospital insurance deductible, $144, applies to benefit periods which start in or after January 1978. Since your wife started a benefit period—entered the hospital—in 1977, the 1977 hospital insurance deductible of $124 applies.

Q. My daughter, who's 25, just started getting social security disability payments. I remember hearing that disabled people can get Medicare. If this is true, how does she qualify?

A. Disabled people under 65 are eligible for Medicare after they have been entitled to social security disability benefits (or railroad disability annuities) for 2 consecutive years. Your daughter will receive information about Medicare in the mail several months before her coverage becomes effective.

Locke Recently Visited Taiwan

Scott E. Locke, navy operations specialist third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale A. Snyder of Whittemore, recently visited Keelung, Taiwan. He is assigned to the guided missile cruiser USS Worden, operating from Yokosuka, Japan.

This vessel's Keelung port visit was part of the seventh fleet's mission of presenting goodwill in the Western Pacific area. Worden's remaining schedule includes participation in training exercises with other seventh fleet units and those of allied nations.

Worden is 533 feet long, displaces 7,800 tons and carries a crew of 396 officers and enlisted men. She is outfitted with guns, missile launchers, torpedo tubes and an antisubmarine rocket launcher.

A 1976 graduate of Whittemore-Preseott High School, Locke joined the navy in January 1977.

Ballinger of Tawas City. Airman Black, a carpenter, was presented the medal at Hanscom Air Force Base, Massachusetts, where she now serves with a unit of the Air Force Systems Command.

The airman is a 1975 graduate of Tawas Area High School. Her husband, Vernon M. Black, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Black of Mobile, Alabama.

The airman attended T. L. Handy High School. His wife, Katharine, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. DeRosia of East Tawas.

Enters Delayed AF Enlistment

Robert T. Green, 18, son of Mrs. Regina M. Green, Oscoda, has entered the United States Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to SSgt. James T. Markham, the air force recruiter at Alpena, Green's entry into the DEP serves two purposes. First, it allows the air force to schedule an opening for him to attend basic training and be assigned to a job or skill area. Second, the DEP enables him to wrap up his personal affairs before leaving home.

Green, a 1978 graduate of Oscoda Area High School, will enter the regular air force on August 28. Following graduation from the six-week basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, he will receive technical training as a security specialist and be assigned to an air force duty station.

Summer Baseball Program Ended

The Tawas junior baseball program ended its 1978 season by playing three games Sunday, including two all-star games and a final Knothole League playoff game.

In the all-star games, the American Division of the Knothole League defeated the National Division, 3-2, in a pitching duel. Don Hester of the National Division's Scouts belted a 192-foot homer over the center field fence. Dan Ciolek was the winning pitcher.

In the Pony League all-star game, the American Division won over the National Division, 9-1. Don Look was the winning pitcher with excellent relief for the final three innings by Jay Grabow, who struck out seven and drove in two runs with a double. Grabow was also voted the most valuable player by his teammates.

Recapping playoff action for the final week, the Pony League ended July 17 when Herb Look's Twins downed the Dodgers the second time by a score of 7-6. Winning pitcher was Don Look with Mike Galavage slammng a 320-foot homer over the fence into Newman Street to lead the hitting attack against the Dodgers.

The first game of the Knothole League playoff July 17 saw the Scouts winning over the Braves, 7-5, in seven innings. Kevin Byrd was the winning pitcher.

The second game Friday saw the Braves turning in a big, 3-2, win over the Scouts. Eric Painter was the winning pitcher and he was helped by John Holmes, who had two hits in three trips, and by Jim Cook, who belted two hits.

It was a gloomy evening for the Braves Sunday as they watched helplessly while the Scouts knocked three pitchers off the mound and clinched the Knothole League championship, 20-1. Chris Wojahn, winning pitcher, went the distance and led the hitting attack by slammng a 192-foot homer over the center field fence. Hester also homered for the Scouts.

Tawas in Tie for Division Lead

Tawas Indies and Alpena are in a tie for first place in the northern division of the Northeastern Michigan League after the locals turned in a 5-1 victory Sunday.

Tawas batters cracked 12 hits, only two going for extra bases, and Brad Potts turned in an eight-hit performance to stop the Alpena team which had defeated Tawas earlier in the season.

Alpena scored one run in the first inning on a single, a stolen base and another single.

Tawas did not score until the sixth inning, but then went ahead with three runs. Earl Parsons opened the inning with a single and Wayne Revord walked. Singles by Tom Gracik and Francis Jordan and a long sacrifice fly by Jerry Gracik accounted for the runs.

The Indies scored two more runs in the seventh when Potts walked and scored on three straight singles by Pat Jordan, Bernie Link and Parsons.

Potts struck out 13 batters and walked 13. Gary Dodd, losing pitcher, struck out one and walked three. Bob Thatcher pitched in relief during the seventh and eighth innings for Alpena.

Tawas' next game is at Barton City on July 30, 2:30 p. m.

A POPULAR ATTRACTION for motorists traveling along US-23 last week was this steam locomotive displayed in front of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway's roundhouse. This switch engine was restored by the railroad a number of years ago and was used to haul a centennial "special" in 1976. Since then, the steamer has been placed on display occasionally at the D&M yard.—Tawas Herald Photo.

THE VANISHING DOLLAR

Wonder why your money doesn't seem to go as far these days? Why you can't catch up even after that last pay raise? Why jobs and businesses are leaving Michigan?

Grades from A through F were given by the Department of Finance and Revenue in Washington to each state according to how big their total tax bite was. A's had the lowest tax bite, F's the highest.

Ohio and Indiana got A's. Michigan got a D.

Chuck Smith believes that we have to turn that around. Because all the pay raises in the world won't do any good if taxes rise with them.

That's why as your State Representative Chuck Smith will work to help you keep more of your hard earned dollar. That's why he will fight to keep jobs in Michigan. That's why Chuck Smith will oppose any new taxes or tax increases.
