

Hospital Week is Being Observed

"Tawas Hospital wishes our community well this week and all other 51 weeks of the year," said Donald Snyder, administrator, in announcing the start of National Hospital Week, May 7-13.

National Hospital Week is an annual observance sponsored by the American Hospital Association and its member hospitals to show appreciation for the work done by hospital employees and to encourage hospital-community interaction.

Free activities in observance of this special week include:

A free blood pressure check will be conducted Thursday, May 11, 9:00 to 10:00 a. m., at the front entrance of the hospital. All members of the community are welcome.

Tours of the hospital will be conducted on the half hour Thursday, May 11, 9:00 to 10:00 a. m. Each tour will originate from the chapel. A film, "Story of Eric," will be shown Thursday, May 11, 7:30 p. m., at the Masonic Temple with Kathryn Sias, registered nurse-obstetrics supervisor, moderating. The film tells the story of a young couple and shows the birth of their son using the LaMaze technique of childbirth. Mrs. Sias is also the director of the hospital's childbirth education program.

This year's theme, "Hospitals Wish You Well!" carries a goodwill message from the hospitals for the continued or renewed good health of everyone in the community.

"We would like to make this an occasion to remind people that good health does not just happen, it takes effort," states Snyder.

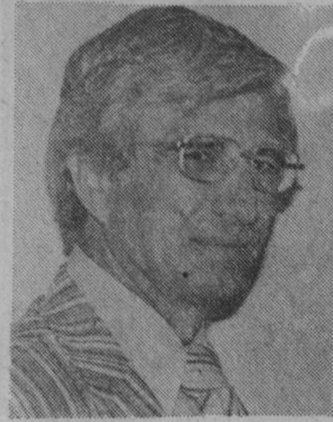

The administrator said that he hoped that National Hospital Week "will signal the need to change unhealthy lifestyle patterns—like smoking, eating or drinking to excess; getting too little rest or exercise, or not having the routine medical care recommended by your doctor."

National Hospital Week, he said, is an appropriate time to start doing what you can to stay out of the hospital.

Other activities during the week included a volunteer's tea in the cafeteria and candy strippers' awards presentation in the classroom Tuesday afternoon.

On Wednesday, vocational education students will enjoy pizza in the classroom at 10:00 a. m. The annual employees' tea and awards will be held at 2:00 p. m., followed by a "gong show."

On Thursday, Kirtland College students will enjoy pizza in the classroom at 11:00 a. m. There will be a dinner for CPR instructors in the classroom at 6:00 p. m., followed by honor awards.

Donations are to be collected in exchange for a jar of jelly. This project is organized through the Michigan Jaycees.

Elementary Goals Discussed at Hale

A report on elementary objectives was given to Hale Area Board of Education Monday night by Prin. Peter Holley.

Holley reported on plans for next year, of concerns about children and what the school will be doing to meet those concerns.

The principal reviewed how preschoolers are checked and tested before entering school, how the program attempts to improve chances for success of children once they enter school.

Holley reported that the school is now investigating career education as it pertains to the elementary grades. The idea of the program, he said, is to make children aware of future careers in the elementary grades.

Goals and objectives for next year were discussed with board members.

In other business, the board of education heard a report from William Louks, transportation director and bus mechanic, concerning bus inspection and operation of the bus fleet.

The school's calendar committee presented its recommendation for opening school on September 5, the day after Labor Day, and to close school for the term on June 8, 1979. During the current year, school opened one week prior to Labor Day.

The board of education heard a report from its salary committee and a report indicating that a grievance from the Steelworkers Union had been resolved. A teacher grievance has been dropped.

The board of education approved a $13,600 budget for next year's athletic program. Included was the purchase of 75 new football helmets costing $2,750. The new helmets meet new requirements which mandate that all present football helmets be replaced with a new type by 1980.

Mrs. Clark Brindley was appointed representative of Hale Area School on the parent advisory council of the Iosco Intermediate School District.

School Addition Under Discussion

Board of education members, candidates for two vacancies on the board, administrators and two architects attended a brief work session Monday evening to inspect the Tawas City Elementary Unit.

At its last meeting, the board of education adopted a resolution which is to be placed before voters at the annual election June 12 asking approval of the transfer of $210,000 in delinquent taxes to the building and site fund.

Improvements to the Tawas City Elementary Unit would take a major portion of the delinquent taxes, recently paid to the school district through establishment of a tax revolving fund by the county board of commissioners.

Voter approval of the use of this delinquent tax money for building and site purposes is necessary, inasmuch as a portion of the taxes were voted by the people for school operation.

Among those attending the session was Irvin Hacker, member of a Bay City architectural firm which designed the newest portion of the building which was constructed in 1961. John Dye, Oscoda architect, was also in attendance to lend his expertise in preliminary discussion for renovation of the unit.

Those attending found the 1961 construction in excellent condition. Major emphasis was placed on an inspection of the older portion of the building constructed about 30 years ago and presently housing lower elementary grades.

A classroom addition is being considered for this unit, plus renovations recommended during an energy audit and state fire marshal recommendations.

A work session is to be held next Monday night by the board of education to give further consideration to improvements at that unit, along with recommendations for the East Tawas Elementary Unit and the junior and senior high school.

PARTICIPANTS in Saturday's 10-mile walk-a-thon had to walk briskly due to the cold weather, but an estimated $1,000 is expected to be collected to aid youngsters attending the Special Olympics at Mt. Pleasant this summer. The second annual event was sponsored by Tawas Area Elks Lodge No. 2525. The cold weather cut the expected number of walkers in half, but 35 showed up at the Newman Street starting point. The top picture shows the start of this event.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Physical Education Program Featured

A report on physical education classes conducted in Tawas Area School was given Monday night to Tawas Area Board of Education members by elementary, junior and senior high school instructors.

Dennis Chandler, physical education instructor at the East Tawas Elementary Unit, said that children in grades kindergarten through fourth grade receive two one-half hour physical education sessions each week. Students from St. Joseph's School also participate.

Chandler said he attempts to give the kindergartners and first graders as many physical education experiences as possible during the brief classes, emphasizing basic motor skills. "I try to get across to the children to enjoy themselves, as well as to learn about sportsmanship, respect for others, themselves and equipment," said Chandler. "Winning and competition are not of importance."

He said the program is a little more challenging for second, third and fourth graders, which touches on the fundamentals of basketball and football, but stresses physical fitness through games from other lands and dancing. All fourth graders who participate receive a certificate.

Joseph Disette, who has charge of the physical education program at the Tawas City elementary unit, said children in grades one through four have one-half hour classes two times a week, while fifth and sixth graders have 55-minute classes three times a week.

Students in grades one through four participate in exercises, while fifth and sixth graders participate in exercises for 15 to 20 minutes in each class and the remainder of the time is spent in emphasizing muscle skills through low organized games. Physical fitness tests are administered twice a year.

Physical fitness is emphasized through different games, while team sports are conducted for fifth and sixth graders.

Betty Cobb, who has charge of three of five gym classes in junior high school, said that the program was continuous through correlation with elementary teachers. She said that emphasis was not placed on winning or losing, but the program was designed to develop an appreciation for all sports. She said that strategies and rules of sports were included and much emphasis is placed on carry over sports.

Because of space limitations, physical education classes are co-educational and about 90 students are in each class.

Michael Viele, physical education instructor for the high school, said that his program emphasizes carry over sports. "Not many youngsters participate in team sports once they get out of high school so we try to get them to enjoy something that they will carry with them through life," said Viele.

Marsha Sztanyo, high school instructor, said she stresses carry over sports and that she tries to get girls involved in the program. Some of her instruction includes table tennis, self defense, trampolines Merchandise donated by county merchants will be auctioned to the highest bidder. Turn to page 5, sec. 1, of this newspaper for a complete listing of items.

FINAL PROGRAM PLANS for the auto, boat and camper show to be held May 18, 19 and 20 were made last week by the East Tawas Business Association. George Kay, center, president, is shown above discussing plans with his committee. The program will feature displays on Newman Street by 12 or more business places selling automobiles, boats and campers. Cash prizes are to be awarded daily at 8:00 p. m. in front of Kennedy's Bakery.

Tawas Area High School's pep band is to present a program each evening at 7:30 o'clock and Saturday afternoon starting at 2 o'clock. The two-block area between Bay Street and State Street on Newman Street will be blocked at each end for outdoor displays. The Braves Booster Club will have a popcorn wagon near the corner of East Westover Street.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Curriculum-Program Changes Outlined to Bd. of Education

Ten curriculum and program improvements are scheduled to be made for the 1978-79 school year, according to a report Monday night to Tawas Area Board of Education by Supt. Robert A. Halle.

An important improvement will be made at the Tawas City Elementary Unit through the availability of an additional classroom, said the superintendent.

The available room will be used to relieve present overcrowded conditions in another room that is being used to house the school library, Title I reading program, learning disabilities teacher and programs, speech program and teacher, music teacher station and other activities.

Other planned improvements include hiring of a part time special education director, who will be employed to supervise and direct the special education activities of the school district as it attempts to meet the increasing demands of both state and national special education acts.

It is expected that the person serving in this position will have added responsibilities that would assume about one-half of his or her time.

The third curriculum improvement at the Tawas City Elementary Unit would be some form of counseling service provided elementary students. This could come in the form of an additional hired staff member or the sharing of counseling services from the junior high school level.

The final improvement planned for this unit is that elementary students qualifying for the learning disabilities program would receive more service than is available during the present school year. This may be contingent upon the employment of a learning disabilities teacher.

The junior high school curriculum is to be expanded to include a state and federally-funded remedial reading program. Implementation of such a program would enable all junior high school students to have a reading class as part of the regular curriculum.

Prin. Jerry Youngs said that study halls would be eliminated from the junior high school program, which has been a long sought goal of administrators and parents.

In the high school, a health education program, as now required by the state, is to be mandatory for all students taking physical education. This instruction is to be handled by Marcia Sztanyo and Michael Viele, who has a master degree in this field.

Halle said that inclusion of the mandatory health education classes would help to relieve the congestion in the gymnasium during physical education classes.

It is expected that a woman counselor will be added to the high school staff and the administration has interviewed one applicant for this position. The new counselor would relieve the load on the present high school counselor and would provide additional counseling services for all students.

Halle said there is a possibility that an advanced metals class and engineering drafting class will be added to the curriculum.

Finally, it is expected that fewer high school students will be in study halls next year. More and more students, said Halle, are selecting a regular class as their sixth hour.

Budget Hearing Next Week; Council Discusses Projects

Public hearing on Tawas City's 1978-79 operational budget is to be held next Monday night at the city hall. It is expected that the council will adopt the new budget following that hearing, which will guide financing effective at the end of the fiscal year on June 30.

Members of the city council held a three-hour work session Monday night to discuss the budget and possible capital improvements for the city.

A preliminary budget as prepared by the city manager calls for a tax levy of 15.10 mills, as compared to 15.35 mills during the current year. Total taxes raised by the proposed 15.10 mills would be $198,862.43.

Total receipts under the proposed budget would amount to $278,690, as compared to $248,398 during the current year.

Capital improvements discussed during Monday night's work session included the proposed city hall complex, street blacktopping and equipment purchase. In addition, replacement of bridges over Dead Creek at Sixth Avenue and over Tawas River at North Street were discussed.

Kenneth Myles, city attorney, was present to explain different avenues open for financing capital expenditures, including contractual purchases for equipment, low interest FHA loan for buildings, tax anticipation notes for bridges, general obligation and revenue sharing bonds for major expenditures.

Ellen Bilow, owner of the Graystone property at the mouth of the Tawas River, was present at the meeting to learn if the city was interested in purchasing her property.

The council's city hall committee is to present a report to the full council next Monday night.

The PBB controversy in Oscoda County has reached a point where it is ridiculous, especially when a candidate for governor shows up at Mio in an effort to make political hay over a situation which should and has been resolved in the courts.

The federal Environmental Protection Agency, which has the last say in regard to the proposed burying of PBB contaminated cattle, has now entered the picture. That agency is expected to complete its investigation this week.

In his decision to require the Department of Natural Resources to provide adequate protection against contamination of ground water, Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller was correct in his decision to require the DNR to provide a clay lined burial pit for the contaminated cattle. It could be stated that the judge even went beyond normal precautions by requiring a clay lining 20 feet thick, which may have been unnecessarily expensive.

The judge was only following the DNR's "rule book" for construction and maintenance of a sanitary landfill, all of which are supposedly under the supervision of the DNR. The state never should have objected to lining the pit with clay.

What has never been said in this controversy, however, is that chemicals and other toxic substances which often find their way to any sanitary landfill in the state are far more harmful to life than PBB and can reach the ground water supply through a leaching action.

That is the reason why surveillance wells are required at sanitary landfills. It seems strange that a community could get so upset over possible, but not probable, PBB contamination when far more dangerous materials exist and run the risk of entering the ground water supply in practically every sanitary landfill.

"It is God who clothes the wild grass—grass that is here today and gone tomorrow, burned up in the oven. Won't he be all the more sure to clothe you? What little faith you have!" (Matthew 6:30 TEV)

Several years ago, I went through a very traumatic divorce. Suddenly, I felt completely alone and inadequate to handle the situation before me. Life seemed full of overwhelming obstacles. Would the adoption agency let me keep our nine-month-old son? How would I rear him by myself? Should I try to keep the family home so that my child could have a feeling of stability? Should I get a job to help meet our expenses? Could I be both mother and father to my son? How could I cope with the acute loneliness?

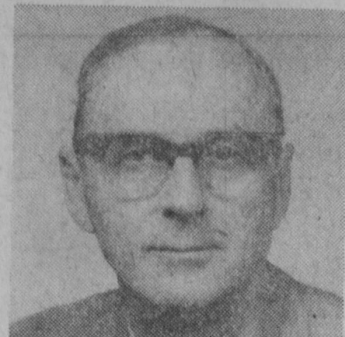

My brother, realizing my desperation, suggested that I let God help me. He said if I would talk things over with God, many of my problems would begin to disappear. Although very involved in the church, I had not spent much time on my spiritual growth. As I read the Bible and prayed more, I realized that God did care about me and that He was with me in my loneliness and despair. Gradually my problems became less as my spiritual life deepened.

PRAYER

Our caring Father, help us to come to You in our loneliness and despair. Give us strength to cope with life's obstacles. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

MC Facility Patient Asks

Return of Items

Two months ago, three dresses disappeared from the seat of a car while it was parked at a local store. The dresses belonged to a patient at the Iosco County Medical Care Facility and she feels badly about losing them.

The patient now recalls that two little pins were on the shoulder of one of the dresses and she feels badly about losing these as they were given to her by someone special.

It would be appreciated if these pins would be returned to the medical care facility so they could be returned to the patient. She would appreciate the return of the dresses, too. These items could be returned by mail, if preferred.

Kroger Announces Expansion in State

"We have come a long way since opening our first Michigan store in 1917," David A. Burt, vice president of Kroger's 108-store Michigan marketing area, said in announcing future plans and the company's expenditures in Michigan in 1977. "We plan to increase our sales area an additional 22 percent over the next three years, a commitment which indicates our confidence in the continued economic growth and vitality of Michigan," Burt said.

While serving over one million customers a week, the figures released today indicate that Kroger is also one of the state's good customers. In its annual report of purchases by state, Kroger reported it spent $44.8-million dollars for Michigan products and services in 1977. Burt said that approximately $49-million dollars of the total represents purchases of products from Michigan farms and plants. "While much of this product was bought for sale in our stores in Michigan,"

Burt said, "we also buy products here for sale in Kroger stores throughout the Midwest and South, thus broadening the market for Michigan products."

Kroger spent $8.2-million dollars to buy dairy products and eggs here last year, $1.6-million dollars for meats and poultry, $12.5-million dollars for canned and packaged foods, $2.6-million dollars for fresh fruits and vegetables and $4-million dollars for products other than food which are sold in its stores.

The state's economy also benefited from other needs of Kroger stores, Burt points out. For example, the company's 8,226 employees in the state were paid $109.4-million dollars in wages—most of which was returned to the local community. In addition, the 2,342 Kroger shareholders who live in Michigan received $57,429 in dividends.

Kroger also paid rent of approximately 7.9-million dollars for stores and other facilities owned by Michigan landlords. Other expenses needed to run the business, such as heat, light, power, advertising and other goods and services brought 78-million dollars additional to the state's economy.

Burt also announced an extensive promotion of Michigan produced products. "Our Michigan Days campaign will draw further attention to the wide variety of products available from growers and suppliers in our state. As the Michigan Department of Agriculture has stated, there are indeed 'Good Things Growing in Michigan'."

Hayes-Fisher Nuptial Vows Repeated at IHM Church

In 4 o'clock rites Saturday, May 6, at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church, Tawas City, the Rev. Lawrence Boks officiated at the double ring ceremony uniting Ruth Elizabeth Fisher and Shawn Donald Hayes in marriage. Organist was Melanie Werth with Jane Beauchamp and Elaine Bender, vocalists.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. David Fisher of Tawas City. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Hayes, also of Tawas City.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a white tulle organza gown accented with Venice lace motifs. Rows of dainty matching lace encircled the full sheer layered sleeves and drifted down the full skirt which flowed to a chapel train. Venice lace covered the bonnet-style headpiece and edged the first tier of the floor length veil. She carried a cascade of pink roses.

Dressed in matching pink flocked polyester gowns with puffy sleeves and lace encircled tiers were Mrs. Donald Harten, matron of honor, and Mrs. David Anschuetz and Geraldine Fisher, bridesmaids. Nancy Harten was flower girl. Their bouquets were comprised of pink carnations and babies breath.

Serving as best man was Michael Pacheco of Westmont, Illinois, with Spencer Welch and Glenn Gracik as groomsmen. Donald Harten and Michael Fisher were ushers.

Mrs. Fisher wore a light blue gown with pink and blue orchid corsage. Mrs. Hayes chose a peach gown with green orchid.

The reception and dinner followed the ceremony at the parish hall for 300 guests. The couple will reside at 1149 Bay Drive, Tawas City. They are graduates of Tawas Area High School.

Pre-nuptial shower honoring the bride was given by Lillian Glancy, Barbara Jacques, Susan Delahanty and Mrs. Hayes. She was also honored by her attendants.

A national, nonprofit organization, RIF is designed to motivate children to read by giving them the opportunity to choose and own inexpensive books. Founded by Mrs. Robert S. McVinnery in 1966, the RIF concept has grown across the United States. By allowing the children freedom of choice in selecting their books and through pride of ownership, RIF has furthered the cause of reading in many communities. Whittemore-Preccott has received a federal matching grant in order to purchase and distribute books to all elementary children. The district also provides free books to children enrolling in kindergarten for next year. Teachers and reading support staff also provide parents with information as to how they can assist in preparing the child to learn to read.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Due to recent action by a local chamber of commerce, a special interest group, of requesting donations from local units of government and institutions and the response of one or more of these agencies to the request, we are issuing this statement to these agencies:

In no way are we condemning the good work done by any local chamber of commerce or any other special interest group, but we do not believe that public tax money should be used to support such an organization. We submit that school districts have a hard enough time in maintaining or increasing school millages without giving public tax money to any special interest group. We feel public tax money should be used only for the purposes for which it is intended.

Whittemore-Prescott Area girls softball team won both ends of a double header played Thursday with Arenac Eastern. The Card girls won the first game, 15-3, and followed through with a 14-4 victory in the nightcap.

Lorna Bellville was the winning pitcher in the first game. Marsha McCord had two hits in three trips, including a double and a home run.

Joy Ori was the winning pitcher in the second game.

ALICE WHITE, 1326 Tawas Beach Road, East Tawas, is pictured here with the 63-pound sailfish she entered in the Metropolitan South Florida Fishing Tournament in the 20-pound division. She fished out of Islamorada with Capt. Skip Bradeen on the Blue Chip as guide. She will be awarded a citation for her catch.

Applications for Department Heads Reviewed by Provincial

Applications for department heads are currently being reviewed for the new Provincial House skilled nursing facility in Tawas City. The announcement was made by Paul Goode, operations director of Provincial House, Incorporated, the Lansing-based health care company which is constructing the new 120-bed nursing home at 400 West North Street.

The nursing home is scheduled to open for patient admissions in June. "Our start up staff will be a small core group," stated Goode, "adequate to give complete care to the number of residents we expect to admit immediately upon opening." When the facility is fully occupied, it will employ between 80 and 100 people.

Beverly Rawling, a registered nurse, has been appointed to the position of administrator and will have over-all responsibility for the nursing home. She is a graduate of the Delta College School of Nursing and has been employed for the past four years as a staff nurse at the United States Air Force Hospital at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda. Prior to that she had considerable management experience in family-owned and operated businesses.

Mrs. Rawling has been concurrently completing coursework for a bachelor of arts degree in social psychology. She and her husband, William, a Michigan Bell Telephone Company employee, have been residents of Oscoda since 1958. They have six children.

Goode explained that the company's general policy in selecting an administrator is to hire an individual with a nursing background. "In our experience with 17 other nursing homes across the state, we have found that this places the administrative emphasis on patient care. Prior to the opening of the Tawas City facility, Mrs. Rawling will have extensive orientation at several other Provincial House facilities to indoctrinate her in the policies, procedures and quality of care standards that Provincial House maintains for its nursing facilities."

Goode indicated that department head and staff positions would be filled by local area candidates. For further information contact Provincial House, Incorporated, 4000 North Grand River, Lansing, Michigan 48906; telephone, (517) 321-8300.

I'd switch the ignition off but the engine wouldn't stop. Instead it spluttered, rocked and coughed. Then I discovered WYNN'S SPIT-FIRE. Now my troubles are over," writes a happy user. Iosco Commission Accepts EDA Energy Grants

Iosco County Board of Commissioners has accepted Economic Administration grants totaling $48,000, with the balance of $13,000 to be paid by local units of government as matching funds.

The EDA grants would assist in financing energy saving improvements to the county building annex near the medical care facility, the city hall and city garage in Tawas City, the Plainfield Township Hall and senior citizens center at Hale.

During last week's May session, the commission discussed a proposed ambulance contract between the county and Tawas Hospital.

Jack Auen and John Webb, members of the commission, were appointed to represent the county on the ambulance board.

The county is to finance any deficit in operation of the ambulance service in advance of quarterly payments. This deficit had previously been paid by participating local units of government.

The contract has a four-month termination clause by either party. Liability amounts have not been established as yet, but the county is not to be held liable or responsible for damages arising out of the ambulance service operation.

A lease with the Iosco Historical Society for operation of a museum in the former L. G. McKay residence at East Tawas was finalized.

The county used federal revenue sharing funds of $35,000 to purchase the property.

A request from District Health Department No. 2 to pay the extra cost for health screening of senior citizens was referred to the commission's health committee.

Authorization was given to the equalization department to contract with IBM Corporation for renting of equipment to be used for data entries to CFC Data Corporation. Cost of the service is to be paid from the equalization department's budget.

All of the instructors felt that the school had enough equipment for their programs, although overcrowded conditions in the junior and senior high school gymnasium provided a problem. Separation of junior high school and high school students is needed.

On recommendation of Chandler, the administration is to purchase protective mats for use at the East Tawas Elementary Unit.

Northern Michigan Cong. Philip E. Ruppe announced today that his Lower Peninsula district representative will hold office hours in Iosco County on Wednesday, May 17.

Jerry Newhouse has scheduled office hours from 10:00 to 11:00 a. m. at the Iosco County Building, Tawas City. Any area citizen wishing to discuss a matter involving the federal government is invited to visit at that time. No prior appointment is necessary.

PARALYZED from the waist down after a motorcycle accident four years ago, Susan Castle applied for a job at Michigan Bell last fall and was hired as a stenographer in December. "My strongest impression was that no one paid attention to my wheelchair," she says.

"I was tested and hired based on my abilities." Michigan Bell was named Friday the nation's handicapped employer of the year in recognition of the telephone company's innovative program to hire physically and mentally disabled adults.

Owls Take to Wet Track Like Ducks; Win Championships

A flock of ducks from the Tawas River had ideas about landing in back of Tawas Area High School Monday afternoon, but veered off course because the school's track is full of youngsters. The ducks would have found a suitable landing as a heavy rain drenched high school track competitors in the annual county track meet.

Oscoda's two track teams had more than webbed feet as the Owls won the boys' event and were crowned champions with 60 points. The Oscoda girls squad also anchored the county crown.

In second place in the boys' meet was Tawas Area with 53 points, Hale Eagles were closed behind with 15 points and the Whittemore-PreScott Cardinals trailed with 14.

Oscoda won six first places in the boys' meet, Tawas had four, Hale Area registered five first places and Whittemore-PreScott had one.

Rough Week for Braves' Team

Tawas Braves lost four baseball games last week. Pinconning scored 14-3 and 7-6 wins, while Alpena turned in 10-9 and 7-4 victories.

Keith LaHaye had control problems in the first game with Pinconning, giving up five walks in two innings. Tawas also had three errors in the same two innings.

In the second game, Tawas cut down the errors and walks, but the hitting was lacking. The Braves came up with only five hits to Pinconning's nine and Jim Dubovsky took the loss. Brian Klemish had three hits in five trips and Jim Grack hit a homer.

Dave Butler suffered a loss in the first game with Alpena in a relief role. He started the second game and was charged with that loss, too.

LaHaye started the first game and he held Alpena to four hits in four innings. He also belted two hits in three trips to the plate. Jerry Grack had another big day with two singles and a double in the first game and two singles in the second game. Dubovsky belted a two-run homer and a single.

Tawas had two other exceptional batters in the two games. Dave Revord had three singles in four times at bat and Brian Chaney had a single and two walks.

June 6 is Deadline for Filing

Electioneering has started in earnest for legislative and congressional posts at stake in the primary election later this summer.

To introduce candidates to readers of the Herald, the following biographies are published from candidates who had announced their intentions as of last week.

"I am ready for a tough campaign. I am ready for the tough job of being a congressman. I have proven that I can get things done for people. I can win," he concluded.

per Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula.

He said he intended to work to see Northern and Upper Michigan schools "get their fair share of the state's educational dollars."

With his wife, Leone, and the two youngest of their seven children, Brown resides in Gaylord.

"I was raised in Northern Michigan and have been a part of this area as a resident, a businessman and a voter," Brown said.

Brown cited unemployment, school property tax relief and tourism funding as some of the issues he believes are important to the citizens of the north county.

"Because of the high unemployment rate in our area, I will work to temper government's hold over business and industry," he pledged.

On school property tax relief, Brown asserted that "our area is bound by policies which are aimed toward helping big city schools rather than the less populated school districts located in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula."

He labels the single business tax as "the most unfair tax to ever hit Northern Michigan," stating that the tax is not based on profit, ability to pay, nor on a flat percentage rate.

As it now stands, he states, "the tax is based on net profit, payroll added to benefits to employees and depreciation. Therefore, employers may be reluctant to award employee raises or add to employee benefits because they are penalized by the single business tax."

"Eliminating the glaring inequities of the tax will be my foremost priority in the Michigan Senate," states Wise.

Hugh Prescott Campaigns for State Senate Nomination

Hugh Prescott, Republican, of Iosco County announces his candidacy for the 37th District senate seat.

Prescott, commander of Jesse C. Hodder Post No. 189, American Legion, and an ardent advocate of veteran's "rights with dignity," states that his campaign will serve dual purposes.

Prescott, who has actively and financially over the past 20 years committed himself to all of the principles involved in the process of attempting to restore fiscal responsibility to government, states, "I am a mainstream conservative who still believes the trend of irresponsible government can be reversed. That this election year of 1978 holds the promise to me that we will elect a majority of men and women with strong American principles."

In announcing his candidacy, Prescott stated that his main concern in the 37th Senatorial District is unemployment and property taxes and if elected his first priority would be total fiscal reform and improving the climate for industry and jobs by revamping workmen's compensation, eliminating the ineligibles from workmen's compensation and improving the standard of living for the eligibles.

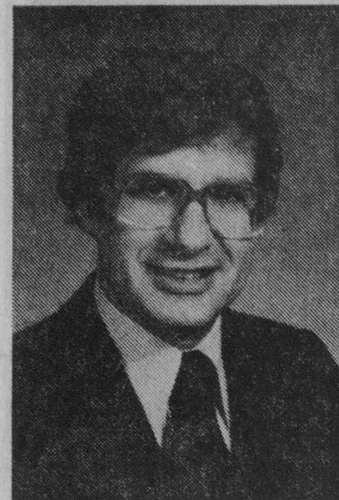

In addition to that, Prescott states, "I intend to conduct my 'survey of needs' from the grass roots during my campaign and when elected I will address myself to those needs."

Robert W. Davis Throws Hat in Ring for Congress

ROBERT W. DAVIS

Robert W. Davis, Republican leader of the Michigan Senate and well known in the Iosco County area, has announced he will be a candidate for the 11th Congressional District being vacated by Cong. Philip Ruppe.

Davis said his personal background and political experience on the local, state and national scenes make him a very competent spokesman for the people of Upper and Northern Michigan. "For nearly 12 years, I have been getting things done for you in the Michigan Legislature. Now I am ready to put my experience and ability to work for you in Washington," Davis said.

"I have helped literally thousands of constituents with their individual problems and have also assisted many communities. I am thoroughly familiar with the legislative process and, because of this, I will be more effective in Washington than a newcomer."

Davis pointed out his close ties to the entire congressional district. He was born in Marquette, raised at St. Ignace, attended Northern Michigan University, operated a business at St. Ignace for 12 years and has lived in Gaylord for the past several years.

His top priorities as a congressman will be jobs and the economy, solving the special problems of people in the district and bringing more federal dollars into the Upper Peninsula and Northern Lower Peninsula. He said he will also work to protect and expand the mining and forest industries.

"I am ready for a tough campaign. I am ready for the tough job of being a congressman. I have proven that I can get things done for people. I can win," he concluded.

Gaylord Man Eyes Senate Nomination

R. L. "Rod" Brown of Gaylord has announced his candidacy for the 37th Senatorial District seat being vacated by Sen. Robert Davis.

In making his announcement, Brown emphasized his desire to be an ardent spokesman for the people of Northern Michigan and the Eastern Upper Peninsula.

"I was raised in Northern Michigan and have been a part of this area as a resident, a businessman and a voter," Brown said.

As executive assistant to Senator Davis, I have worked within our governmental system solving problems for many constituents of this district."

Brown cited unemployment, school property tax relief and tourism funding as some of the issues he believes are important to the citizens of the north county.

"Because of the high unemployment rate in our area, I will work to temper government's hold over business and industry," he pledged.

On school property tax relief, Brown asserted that "our area is bound by policies which are aimed toward helping big city schools rather than the less populated school districts located in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula."

He labels the single business tax as "the most unfair tax to ever hit Northern Michigan," stating that the tax is not based on profit, ability to pay, nor on a flat percentage rate.

As it now stands, he states, "the tax is based on net profit, payroll added to benefits to employees and depreciation. Therefore, employers may be reluctant to award employee raises or add to employee benefits because they are penalized by the single business tax."

"Eliminating the glaring inequities of the tax will be my foremost priority in the Michigan Senate," states Wise.

Judge Swallow Seeks Appeals Court Seat

Circuit Judge Joseph P. Swallow of Alpena has announced that he will be a candidate for the Michigan Court of Appeals Third District seat being vacated by Judge Donald E. Holbrook Sr. of Clare.

Judge Swallow is currently serving as presiding judge of the 26th Judicial Circuit. Swallow has previously served as prosecuting attorney of Alpena County and as a member of the Michigan Legislature from the 105th District. He was previously a candidate for the Michigan Supreme Court.

In announcing his candidacy, Judge Swallow said, "As a judge, I have always viewed my responsibility as one of interpreting the law and not making the law. As a member of the Appeals Court, I intend to remain true to that responsibility."

Judge Swallow is the originator and project director of the first pilot project family court in Michigan. His family court project, which combines all family problems in one existing court, has been cited by the supreme court as a basis for major improvement in Michigan's judicial system.

Swallow, 45, is a veteran, having served in the army as a paratrooper, attaining the rank of captain. He is married and the father of three children.

Steven J. L. Goforth Seeks Nomination

Steven J. L. Goforth of Lupatun has announced he is a candidate for state representative in the 105th District.

"I am running for two reasons," Goforth said. "First, to be a capable legislator in Lansing; second, to assume an active role throughout the district by meeting with the people as often as possible."

Goforth attended Ogemaw Heights High School before a two-year army tour of duty in Germany. While there, he took courses from the University of Maryland and later from Kirtland Community College, University of South Florida and Michigan State University. Goforth will receive two bachelor of science degrees from MSU this June.

Goforth has been a legislative aide to the assistant house minority floor leader since last March and has worked in construction, maintenance, bartending, carpentry and real estate sales to put himself through college.

Goforth concluded, "I know I can win this race. I will have to work hard to present myself to the people but that is the only way to earn their trust and respect."

Caldwell is Candidate for House Post

Norman C. Caldwell of Mio has announced his candidacy on the Republican Ticket for the 105th District of the Michigan House of Representatives.

Caldwell, 43, is a native and resident of Mio and has been the Oscoda County surveyor since 1966. Early work experience was gained on the family dairy farm in Oscoda County.

After graduation from Mio Agricultural High School in 1952, Caldwell was employed with the Michigan Department of State Highways as an engineering aide and, in 1955, was promoted to instrumentman.

After his appointment as survey party chief in 1958, several years were spent on interstate projects throughout Michigan and the northeastern portion of the Lower Peninsula.

Registration as a land surveyor in Michigan was accomplished in 1960 and Caldwell continued with the highway department until 1965, when he resigned to become self employed. Caldwell Land Surveys, Incorporated, was formed in 1971 and has continued to serve the area from the offices in Mio.

Caldwell has been an active member of the Republican Party and served as the Oscoda County Republican chairman from 1968 to 1976.

The candidate and his wife, Donna, have four children and two grandchildren.

Jack Payant is GOP Candidate

Jack Payant from Kingsford is a candidate for Republican nomination to the United States House of Representatives from Michigan's 11th Congressional District.

He said the issues facing this nation are mammoth. "The energy crisis, economic development, conservation of our environment, farm problems, crime, unemployment, welfare reform are only a few that are on the horizon."

In his judgment, the most overwhelming issue of concern to residents of Northern Michigan is the big federal government with its bureaucracies "strangling the American citizens."

He said this huge government is bad for a number of reasons, the biggest danger at present is that it is one of the primary reasons for high direct taxes and galloping inflation, which is the most vicious tax of all because it strikes hardest at those on fixed incomes.

Payant proposes to force congress to balance the budget each year through an amendment to the United States Constitution, similar to a provision in the Michigan constitution, whereby the government has to balance the budget and cannot borrow money to make up the difference if it is not done. The only exception would be that this provision would be suspended during the time of any war that has been officially declared by congress.

A former United States Marine Corps sergeant, he presently serves as city attorney at Iron Mountain. He is a former state representative from Michigan's 109th District.

Edmund Vandette Announces GOP Candidacy for Congress

Edmund Vandette of Houghton is a candidate for the 11th District seat in the United States Congress. "I am offering my candidacy to the people of this district because of my deep concern regarding the major issues that face our country," he states.

He presently serves as associate professor, Michigan Technological University, Houghton.

He believes that the major issues facing the country are survival of the middle class and the lopsided attention to bigness in the federal government.

"The American people need and deserve government that plans ahead and protects the working people and industry so that they can remain competitive and viable in all markets. We deserve protection from crisis, inflation, crisis taxation and runaway bureaucracy that threatens the heart of America," he states.

One step toward solving the problems that face the nation, states Vandette, is to form a congressional coalition, so that other congressmen can see and appreciate first hand the needs of the people.

"Your congressman must have the ability to work with the state leadership in the 11th Congressional District regardless of party label. Only in this way can we articulate and support, in the strongest terms possible, the needs of our people."

Vandette presently serves as president of the State Board of Education.

Herbert Stephens in Race for Congress

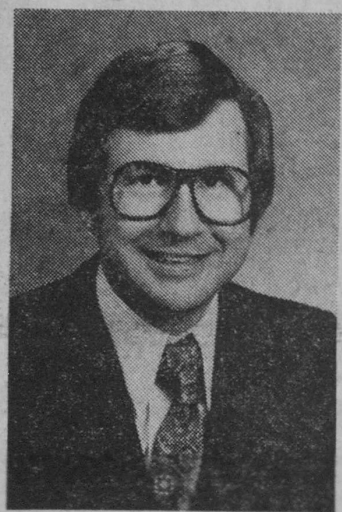

Herbert Stephens, a 37-year-old motel owner from Sault Ste. Marie, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination to congress from Michigan's 11th Congressional District.

Sighting as one of his qualifications his success as a businessman, Stephens said, "Today I offer the skill and the lessons I have learned over these years to you; to serve as your voice, to carry your message."

Stating that far too many people believe that their government officials do not listen, Stephens said he would travel throughout the district, actively listening to people and encouraging a renewal of their participation in the democratic process.

Stephens owns the International Motel in Sault Ste. Marie and shares ownership in six other motels throughout the state, including the Best Western in Grayling. He and his wife, Barbara, have eight children, ranging from 1 1/2 to 14 years of age.

HERBERT STEPHENS

Alpena Man Runs for Nomination

Stephen H. Fletcher is a candidate for the Republican nomination to congress from Michigan's 11th Congressional District.

Since January 6, Fletcher has traveled extensively in the 11th District assessing the climate of his candidacy. He said in his prepared statement, "I have spoken with many hundreds of people concerning my candidacy and my qualifications and, very frankly, the support I have received, both financial and moral, has greatly exceeded my expectations."

An Alpena businessman, Fletcher has been active in politics at the district and state level. He has served as chairman of the 11th District and Alpena County Republican Party, has been a delegate to state Republican conventions and, in 1976, was elected as an alternate delegate to the Republican national convention.

Fletcher stated, "I come to the voters of Northern Michigan as a candidate who has never run for public office and, of course, a candidate who has never served in public office. I come to the voters as a man skilled in organizational ability who knows we ought to apply the principles of business management to government."

He feels that the number one concern of the area is jobs and his background in productivity can help the voters of the district achieve a better life style.

C. J. Smith of Oscoda County Runs for State Representative

C. J. Smith Jr. of Oscoda County has filed to run for state representative in the 105th District on the Republican Ticket. The 105th District includes the Counties of Alcona, Arenac, Gladwin, Iosco, Ogemaw, Oscoda, plus parts of Bay, Midland, Montmorency and Roscommon, with a total population of about 80,000.

Among his qualifications, Smith lists experience in farming and stock raising, business and personnel work, manufacturing and community involvement in issues important to this district. He attended Michigan State University after graduation from Monroe High School. He belongs to the Lewiston

C. J. (CHUCK) SMITH JR.

Lions Club and has been active in working with young people in a program sponsored by the Fairview High School. Smith, who has been a resident of the district for the past 12 years, is single and lives on a farm northeast of Fairview.

"I am sick and tired of hearing apologies for what has not been done—and that 'nothing can be done.' Something can be done, but to be effective one must speak from an official position. That is why I am running for this office and if successful, I promise one thing: In behalf of the people of the 105th District, I will be seen and heard," said Smith.

Tawas Hospital Plans New $2,000,000 Building Project

By ROSE BLACKMORE
Educational Coordinator
Tawas Hospital

25th Anniversary

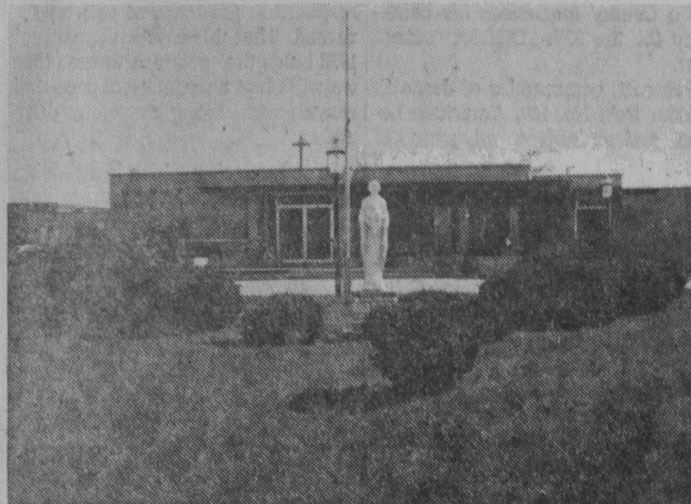

Twenty-five years ago this month, Tawas Hospital Association completed the building of a hospital and turned it over to the Sisters of St. Joseph for operation, providing health care services to this community. The hospital was well planned and it has served the community admirably.

Like any dynamic organization, the hospital has grown along with the community. During 1970-1972, the need for more beds was evident and, with the approval of state health planners, the community added the north wing to the hospital.

At that point in time, plans were also made for future expansion. As officials looked at the normal growth in health care in hospitals, the assumption was made that more beds would be needed and that this would be the next planned expansion. Even the best made plans need to be flexible as conditions change.

With the advent of Medicare and Medicaid, hospital and health care became available to more people. This resulted in more demands on the health care system and hospitals. Health care costs have increased due to these demands, new technology and inflation. As a natural evolution, the federal government has become more involved with the payment of health care fees and has responded by trying to reduce these costs. Today, the emphasis is to treat more patients on an outpatient basis than by bringing them to the hospital as bed patients.

In the planning period from 1970 to 1976, the outpatient areas of the hospital—laboratory, X-ray, inhalation therapy and physical therapy—have grown faster than the demand for patient beds and, with the gift made by the Richardson estate for cancer detection equipment, it gave the impetus of increasing the diagnostic and outpatient areas of the X-ray department.

TAWAS HOSPITAL observes its 25th anniversary of service to the community next month. A second major expansion of original facilities is being planned and construction is expected to start in the summer.

This problem could have been addressed singularly and a small addition could have been added to the hospital. However, many other areas were also overcrowded and to ignore this while attempting to solve the space problems of the X-ray department would have been shortsighted.

State codes and standards also have a way of changing. The original patient wing of the hospital no longer meets the space requirements mandated by the Michigan Department of Public Health. The cardiac care unit, which when planned had no code requirements, now does not meet the more recently established regulations for that area. Numerous other areas of the hospital also need updating and expanding to be in compliance with the requirements of the department of health.

Approval for remodeling or expansion of hospitals must now be obtained before any sizeable construction can begin. In order to obtain these permits and approvals, it is necessary to address all the deficiencies indicated by the state and federal agencies and thus what would seem to be a very minor project at its onset, becomes a large construction project.

In looking at hospital needs, it became evident that several things should be done at this time. In order to most efficiently use the existing hospital building, a nursing wing is planned to be attached to the end of the north wing which was constructed in 1972. By moving patients from the east wing, it allows that space to be expanded for other outpatient services for the hospital. The emergency room will be expanded and in that area, additional space will be made to bring together the business and accounting office functions along with other offices. The X-ray department will be expanded into the present laboratory and the laboratory will be expanded into the area now occupied by medical records and the inhalation therapy department.

A number of changes will take place and the following will be enlarged and expanded: Emergency and outpatient care unit, 30-bed medical-surgical unit, four-bed special care unit, recovery area, two postpartum beds, radiology department (nuclear medicine department and tomography unit), laboratory facilities, central supply sterile room, physical therapy department, medical records department, respiration therapy, admitting and business office, gift shop, administrative offices, maintenance work area.

It is planned that final drawings will be brought to the hospital for review the week of May 8. Concurrently, the working drawings will also be submitted to the Michigan Department of Health and the state fire marshal's office for review and comment, which will require approximately 60 days. Once the plans are approved by these offices and the board of trustees, construction should start by the end of June or early July.

It is assumed that within a year's period of time, the new nursing unit will be occupied and renovation of the east wing will begin. Plans are that the work will be completed in 14 to 16 months from the start of construction. Also in the planning state is a new surgery section, which it is hoped to have in process before the completion of the first phase. This is needed as the hospital has been told that its present operating room does not meet standard requirements and that enlarging the operating suite will help attract specialists needed by this community.

This project, which will cost slightly over two-million dollars, will be financed through long term borrowing and funds contributed by the community. For this purpose, a development council has been established and has been active in public relations and fund development for the hospital.

The council is made up of four committees: Corporations and foundations, John D. Lippert, chairman; annual support, Elizabeth Rosenberg, chairman; deferred gifts, Thomas B. Huck, chairman; community relations, Bruce Myles, chairman.

The development council has set a goal for raising $395,000 over a three to five-year period.

Rasty Babcock

Some men are born to love the water. Such a man was Erastus (Rasty) Babcock, who grew to manhood at East Tawas, survived a shipwreck on Lake Superior and, when he died at the age of 59, was cremated and his ashes were returned here to be scattered on his beloved water of Tawas Bay.

Born to Robbins E. and Margaret Babcock at Port Huron on March 20, 1880, Rasty came here as an infant in August of that year when his family moved to East Tawas.

Like most boys growing up in the Tawas in the 1880s and 1890s, Rasty could usually be found near the commercial dock at East Tawas during the shipping season. That was where the action could be found for boys who loved the water—the hustle and bustle activity of a busy lumber port provided a never-to-be-forgotten experience for many a Tawas youth.

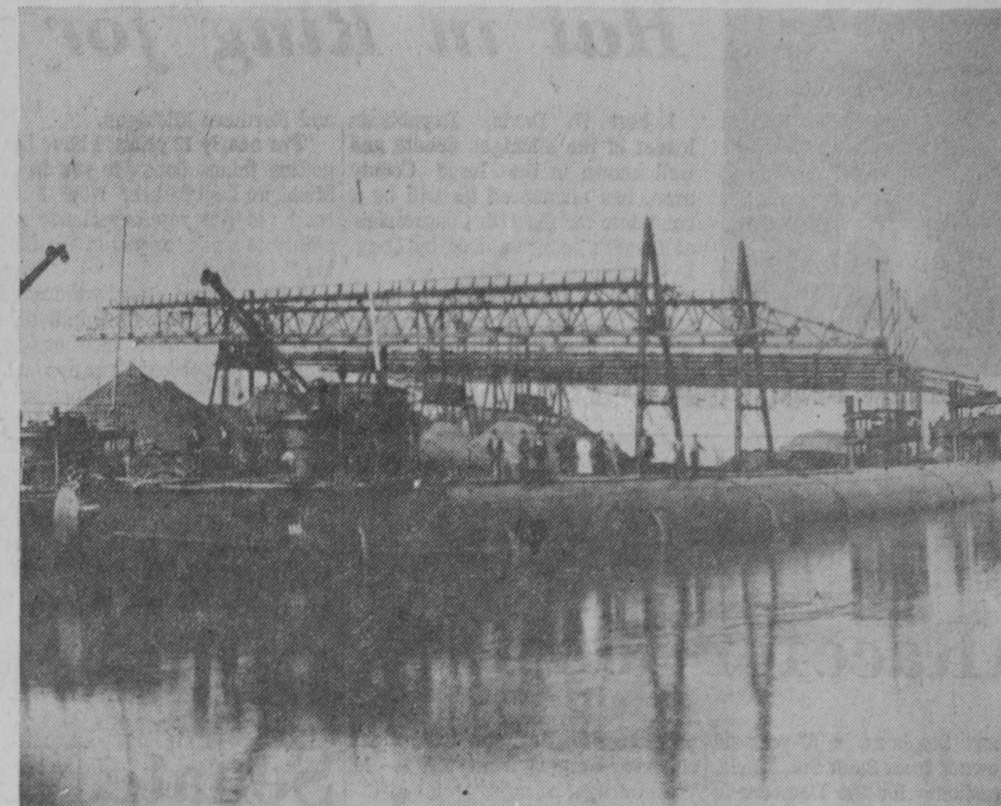

There were ships of all sizes tied snugly to berths along a quay at the foot of Newman Street: Four-masted schooners and smaller lumber hookers with sails furled, or side-wheel and propeller driven steamboats, all being loaded with locally manufactured products. An endless stream of white pine lumber was trundled out of the mills on small rail cars, to be met by scores of dock wallpapers and quickly transferred to the waiting ships.

In the deeper water of the harbor, tug boats strained to set into motion long lines of lumber barges or to tow huge bracelet rafts of saw logs; here and there, white-winged sailboats made a zigzag tack under the experienced hand of a commercial fisherman as the tiny craft heeded the shrill warning signals of steam tug whistles and made their way gracefully to a nearby pier.

It was in such a setting that young Babcock grew to love the life of the water and came to believe the life of a Great Lakes sailor would be his future calling. He attended the public schools of East Tawas until his junior year and, in the spring of 1899, was signed on as a hand on one of the lake freighters.

That sailing season was to provide one of his greatest adventures and one that nearly cost his life. It all started on May 9, 1899, when Rasty shipped from Buffalo, New York, on the Steam Barge Forest City. In June, he was engaged on the Schooner Homer, between Cleveland, Ohio, and Duluth, Minnesota, staying aboard her until he went on the Schooner Marcia, which ran between Lorain, Ohio, and Duluth. He remained with the Marcia until December 11, when he left her at Two Harbors, Minnesota, at the head of Lake Superior.

He wrote a letter to his parents in East Tawas, conveying to them his intentions of being home before Christmas, but he did not say on what boat he would be coming.

THIS IS WHALEBACK Barge 115 which was lost in Lake Superior in 1899. The vessel is being loaded with iron ore. A young sailor from East Tawas was aboard the vessel when it was aground on an island. Picture from Freshwater Whales by Richard J. Wright.

The next word received here was one always dreaded by families of Great Lakes sailors—young Babcock had been aboard the Whaleback Barge 115 which was lost on Lake Superior.

Whaleback 115 was built in 1891 and was 256 feet long and 36 feet at the beam. The barge was loaded with 3,000 tons of iron ore and was valued at $50,000. A report in The Detroit Evening News said it was the first "pig" to founder and the second to be lost. She was registered under Pickands, Mather and Company of Cleveland and belonged to the Rockefeller interests.

The heavily laden barge was in tow of the Steamer Colgate Hoyt and was bound down the lake. Starting from the head of Lake Superior on Monday, December 11, the steamer and barge were nearing Pic Island when the tow line parted. Nothing could be found of the barge and it was believed that it sunk immediately.

Unofficial word was received locally that Rasty was aboard the ill-fated vessel. A postal card was sent to the local editor from a sailor on another whaleback which said that one of the crew on the missing 115 "was a young man named Babcock from East Tawas." Another dispatch from Miss Amanda Hamilton of Marine City, sister of the young man, stated positively that he was aboard the barge.

"It is possible that the barge is still floating about in Lake Superior, or has run into some out-of-the-way cove or bayou and that all on board are safe," commented the Losco County Gazette.

RASTY BABCOCK's first love was the water and he shipped out on several schooners before his adventure following the sinking of Barge 115.

A report in The Detroit Evening News, however, cast a shadow on any hope for any survivors. The report said that the barge had been given up for lost. "The search was given up yesterday when the Hoyt passed through the Soo Locks bound down to Lake Erie."

The captain of the Hoyt was quoted as saying that a furious, cold northeastern wind was encountered on Lake Superior and, for 40 hours, the Hoyt and its tow made slow headway. When near the lower end of the lake, the course was shifted to the south and the shoreline was skirted for shelter. On Tuesday, it was noticed that the crew of the 115 was at the pumps, but no distress signal was given.

At 6:00 a. m., the Hoyt's captain noted the tow's lights were burning when he went for breakfast. Five minutes later, it was reported that the tow line had parted. The Hoyt put about and searched for four hours, but scarcity of coal prevented longer delay. The captain's report said that the lifeboats and rafts of the barge were either washed away or frozen to the deck and were useless. There was only a three-day supply of food aboard the barge.

"Mr. and Mrs. Babcock are very much distressed concerning the fate of their son and they are sympathized with by many friends. Some tidings of the missing boat's whereabouts are being anxiously awaited," stated the Gazette's report.

Eleven days later, young Babcock's parents and the entire community breathed a sigh of relief when on December 22, 1899, the following telegram was received (See SHIPWRECKED, page 7.)

WHALEBACK lake carriers were developed in the 1890s for shipment of iron ore from the Lake Superior ranges. When fully loaded, the ship looked somewhat like a huge submarine running partially submerged. The design was one of the early all steel ships intended for the Great Lakes, but at least one ship made an easy crossing of the Atlantic Ocean.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor: I am writing this letter in regards to the volunteer fire department of Sand Lake.

I am employed with the ambulance service at Tawas Hospital and have on several occasions been dispatched to the Sand Lake area for numerous emergencies.

On those occasions, I was very grateful for all the helping hands of the volunteer fire department, that escorted us and helped with the care of the patient. It has saved much time and many lives.

I know I am not writing only my feelings but the feelings of other ambulance personnel and the citizens of Sand Lake, who are appreciative of this assistance.

Gratefully submitted, Laura Smyczynski

Local Persons Attend AARP Convention

Gertrude Reece, assistant state director, and Bertha Stewart, both of East Tawas, were among more than 2,500 delegates and guests who attended the biennial national convention of the American Association of Retired Persons at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, Chicago, Illinois, May 14.

Highlight of the convention was the presentation by the 11-million-member association of the prestigious Andrus Award to Dr. Margaret Mead, noted anthropologist, author and lecturer.

The Andrus Award, named for the founder of AARP, Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus, honors an individual whose outstanding achievements in later years exemplify the participation of older Americans in national life and prove that age is no valid measure of creativity and contribution.

Also featured during the four-day convention were actor and singer, Theodore Bikel, and United States commissioner on aging, Robert C. Lebed.

In his report to the convention, C. F. Decker, AARP executive director, outlined what he termed "a bill of national expectations," including calls for major national efforts to improve health care and public safety, to end government waste and inefficiency, and to bring about meaningful, comprehensive tax reform.

J. Leonard Johnson of Jamestown, New York, was sworn in as the new president of AARP.

District Health Urges Parents to Have Children Vaccinated

Recently, there have been cases of hard measles (Rubeola) reported by physicians in District Health Department No. 2, which is composed of Ogemaw, Isosco, Oscoda and Alcona Counties. The vast majority of these cases have been in teenagers and children who have not received their hard measles inoculation.

Measles (Rubeola) is a highly contagious disease and anyone who is exposed will contract the disease. The contagious period is about 10 days, until four days after the rash appears. The modern vaccine is 95 percent effective. Those receiving measles inoculation before 1967 were given the killed vaccine or live virus with gamma globulin. These were ineffective vaccines, although they were the best available at the time. A large percentage of those inoculated did not secure permanent immunity, so this is why teen-agers have been so susceptible.

Revaccination can do no harm. Regular immunization clinics have been instructed to give hard measles vaccine to anyone under 20 who desires it. Those over 20 have almost 100 percent immunity as they have been exposed to the natural virus. A major epidemic is not expected. Contact local health department office for further information. The schedule of clinics is as follows: West Branch, county building, first Tuesday, 10:00 a. m. to 12 noon-1:30 to 3:30 p. m.; Mio, courthouse annex, first Tuesday, 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.; Oscoda, health department, second Tuesday, 10:00 a. m. to 12 noon-1:30 to 3:30 p. m.; Harrisville, county building, third Tuesday, 10:00 a. m. to 12 noon-1:30 to 3:30 p. m.; Skidway, chamber of commerce building, third Tuesday, 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.; Hale, Baptist church, fourth Tuesday, 10:00 a. m. to 12 noon.

Former Iosco CETA Employee Protests Starting Salary

A charge of discrimination has been filed against the Iosco County Board of Commissioners by Nancy Wade, director of the CETA program here for the Region 7B Manpower Consortium, on behalf of a former CETA employee.

The grievance filed by Wade states that Mary Lou Starling had worked 1½ years under the federal CETA program as a clerk typist and her pay had been advanced to $3.61 per hour.

When she left her CETA job for a new county position in the building and safety inspection department, she was told that her starting pay would be $3.48 per hour, according to terms of the union contract.

At Wednesday's meeting of the county board of commissioners, Donald Case, representing Region 7B, said that if no precedent had been set by the county or if no provisions were made in county hiring policies concerning CETA employees, he felt that the $3.48 hourly rate was not justified and that the employee should be paid $3.61 per the union scale based on her county experience.

Wade was present at the meeting and said that the employee, although hired under the CETA training program, had actually been a county employee in her office for 1½ years. She said that wages paid to CETA employees were based on the county's contract with the union and that it was only a matter of transferring between departments.

A different view was held by County Clerk D. Keith Papas, who stated that CETA employees were actually trainees under a federal program, and, according to the union contract, all new employees had to start at the base rate of $3.48 per hour.

This view was also held by Jack Allen, county commissioner, who felt that the employee should start at the regular hourly rate.

Carlton Merschel, chairman of the county board of commissioners, referred the matter to the personnel committee to study and to make a recommendation. Case said he would withhold his report to Lansing pending action by the board of commissioners.

the club's efforts with the Whittemore-Burleigh-Reno Fire Department to raise funds for improvements to the city park. Mrs. William Milliken opened the three-day convention with an address on "International Women's Year." Report on the state convention was given and a silver plate and certificate received for the civic improvement project were displayed and presented.

State of officers presented for the new year and accepted as read was Mrs. Irving Brown, president; Mrs. James Sturtevant, vice president; Mrs. John Clark, secretary, and Mrs. Richard Samson, treasurer.

Past presidents banquet will be featured at the May 17 meeting with dinner served at the Masonic Temple at 6:30 p. m.

Shipwrecked

from Middleton, Ontario, Canada: "I am all right. Be home in a few days—Rasty Babcock."

The following account written from Cleveland to The Detroit Daily Tribune gives a graphic description of the crew's experiences, which seems almost like a tale out of Robinson Crusoe or Swiss Family Robinson.

About 11 o'clock on Monday morning, the barge drifted ashore on what was afterward found to be Pic Island. Where the barge grounded, the land was extremely bold and rose from the water's edge 500 to 600 feet and even higher in places.

The barge began to pound heavily and the men were afraid it would knock a hole in the hull. There was a little life raft on top of the after turret and the men used this to get to shore. First, two of the men went ashore and made a landing; then sent the raft back and forth until all were ashore.

The shore was a couple of hundred feet from the barge and quite a sea was running. Some of the men took extra clothes with them, along with two loaves of bread and a shoulder of ham, besides stuffing their pockets full of candles.

"There were some provisions left on board the boat, but we had no time to get these and could not have carried them if we had, as the snow was so deep on the land. We landed in a small cove and began to climb up the steep bluff. We caught hold of roots and stones and the small evergreen trees, which grew among the rocks and at last reached the top."

The shipwrecked sailors thought they were ashore on the mainland. The snow was about three feet deep, but the temperature on shore was not as cold as when they were on the water. That first night the men camped in the woods and the next day started along the shore.

It was then they realized they were on an island. An old log cabin was located along the shoreline which had no roof but was still equipped with part of an old sheet iron stove. Using an axe brought from the barge, pine boughs were cut to make a roof on the shanty and a fire was started in the stove. The men slept in the shanty Tuesday night and it was there that the steward's feet were badly frozen.

A letter from Babcock said that the men made a raft from material from the old shanty and on this the eight men crossed over to the mainland, a distance of about three miles and a most perilous undertaking.

As soon as the raft struck the shore it quickly went to pieces. The men built a fire and camped in the bush all night. On Thursday morning, the crew started out and walked all day along the shore to the west. Provisions were given out and each man had about one-half a slice of wet bread and two ounces of raw ham. Some of the crew chewed the candles which they had taken with them from the barge.

That night, the crew again camped in the bush and on Friday morning began walking until striking the tracks of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. After eating the last of the provisions which they had carried from the boat, the men met two railroad section hands, who told them that the nearest town was 1 1/2 miles away.

The crew of 115 reached Middleton about noon on Friday, where they were given food and a place to sleep by the railroad station agent. The captain then wired the shipping company that all hands were safe and the group left Sunday for Cleveland on the next passenger train.

"When Babcock arrived home Thursday afternoon, there was general rejoicing, not only in the family, but with hosts of anxious 'friends,' stated the Gazette. The crew had lived nine days on only two days of rations.

It is not known today if being shipwrecked on the north shore of Lake Superior changed Rasty's mind about following the life of a sailor, or if his parents influenced that decision, but that was his only reason on the Great Lakes; he soon entered the employment of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway.

He did not turn his head away from the water, however, as he was a member of the Pastime Club of East Tawas when yachting was the sport of local young men. A picture has survived the years showing members of the club and their sailboat.

On July 3, 1904, he was united in marriage with Miss Winnifred Harting of Tawas City. In 1907, he moved to Tawas City where he resided until the death of his wife, when he returned to East Tawas. In 1915, he went to Detroit where he entered the employ of the Ford Motor Company.

In 1928, when the Ford Motor Company started its rubber plantation in Brazil, Rasty was one of the eight men chosen for the work and he went to Boa Vista as mechanical engineer. There, he contracted a tropical disease and returned to Detroit. After months of recuperation, he returned to the company's railroad department and worked there until his death on November 8, 1939.

Two of his children are living today, Harting Babcock of Dearborn Heights and Winnifred Hatton of Tawas City. One son, Carl Babcock of Tawas City, died several years ago. His sons and their sons have always shared in Rasty's love of the water.

One of the prized possessions of Mrs. Hatton, who is Tawas City librarian, is the original telegram received by her grandmother on December 22, 1899, which stated: "I am all right. Be home in a few days—Rasty Babcock."

Serious Problems Plague Iosco Co. Transit System

Continued problems with financing and personnel in operation of the Iosco Transit Authority may see the county discontinue this service, which has operated since 1975.

This was the suggestion voiced at Wednesday's meeting of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners, which attempted to unravel a number of serious problems and to develop solutions.

Fred Francis, representing the Iosco County Commission on Aging, told commissioners that he was dissatisfied with the entire operation, that the commission was a volunteer organization and operation of the bus system may not be worth all the trouble.

The bus system had been administered by Lea Hicks while she was employed by the Trio Council on Aging but, since her dismissal by that organization, full administrative control has been assumed by Iosco County Commission on Aging. Mrs. Hicks has continued to assist operation of the service on a voluntary basis.

Two serious problems presently face the county. The first is that CETA has leveled a nepotism charge in the hiring of a bus driver and this county may have to pay back $4,850 in wages; secondly, the cost of bus liability insurance has risen from approximately $300 to $5,400 annually.

The first problem stems from a complaint made by an Iosco County resident to the state CETA office at Lansing. Donald Case, director of the Region 7B Manpower Consortium, which administers CETA funds regionally, told commissioners Wednesday that he believed the county would have to pay back the money.

While employed by Trio Council on Aging, Mrs. Hicks administered the Iosco Transit Authority on a voluntary basis. Although she was to receive $20 per month for the expense of telephone calls and mileage, she reportedly never received any money as funds were not available from the transit authority.

Mrs. Hicks hired her daughter as a bus driver for the transit system. Joseph Fox, a member of the county board of commissioners, said Wednesday that both he and Case had checked the matter and believed at the time that no charge of nepotism could be made as Mrs. Hicks was not being paid to administer the transit authority. This was the same view held by Nancy Wade, who administers the CETA program in Iosco.

When Case checked later at Lansing, however, he found that the federal registry for CETA did not permit an administrator, whether paid or not, to hire a relative.

Mrs. Hicks told commissioners Wednesday that her daughter had hired an attorney to represent her in possible litigation. Case said that if the problem does go to court, CETA funds would be stopped immediately.

The second problem involving liability insurance for buses resulted when the county's former insurance carrier terminated its coverage. Under the new insurance policy, the buses have been placed in the assigned risk pool and the cost has risen from $300 to $5,400.

The Iosco Commission on Aging has been paying the cost of the liability insurance, but indications were Wednesday that it would be impossible to pay the higher rate. Through special millage voted by Iosco County, the commission on aging received $36,000 last year to operate its senior citizens centers and expects this to increase to $40,000 this year.

A partial payment was made on the bus liability premium and a study is being made to determine if the insurance can be obtained at a lower rate.

In addition, other problems involving the bus system discussed Wednesday included the fact that the buses are practically worn out, each one having more than 170,000 miles of travel on them. One bus in the fleet is currently down awaiting a new brake system costing $550. The buses were furnished by the state, but replacements have not been forthcoming due to court litigation and disagreement in the state legislature.

While the state pays for servicing and operational costs of the buses, receipt of money from Lansing has been a slow process and the system currently owes a gas bill of $3,300.

All bus drivers are hired under the CETA program and are paid at a rate of $3.25 per hour. It was reported that it was difficult to hire directors at that salary. Because of the fact that drivers must often work overtime, the additional pay comes from the Iosco Commission on Aging.

Carlton Merschel, chairman of the county board of commissioners, pointed out that this could provide an additional problem because of state laws covering pay for overtime.

Commissioner Fox expressed the opinion that the county may have to abandon the bus project as it could not afford the higher insurance rate and other financial problems.

Receipts from the bus system do not cover the cost of operation and main users are senior citizens. Buses are often operated with only one or two passengers.

Relative Seeks Descendants of Jacob Hartwig

Peter Hartwig, a resident of Neustadt, Germany, is attempting to locate descendants of a relative formerly living in Oscoda Township.

Jacob Hartwig, who came to this country from Germany with two brothers, was a resident of Oscoda Township, having registered and voted in an election held April 3, 1899. He was registered for an election held April 2, 1900, being a candidate for justice of the peace, and was a candidate for coroner in the November general election of 1900.

The above information would indicate that Hartwig had been a citizen of the United States for a number of years prior to 1899. He had two sons, Carl Jacob Hartwig of Alpena and Otto Herbert Hartwig of Oscoda.

Persons with information concerning the Hartwig family are requested to contact Dennis J. Borden, postmaster at Oscoda, who is assisting in the search.
