

Parents to Get Briefing

Two parents' night events are to be held this week at the Tawas Area High School commons, according to a report from Jerry Youngs, junior high school principal.

Meetings have been called for Wednesday (tonight), May 2, and Thursday, May 3, 7:30 p. m.

Parents of eighth graders are invited to attend either meeting to learn various course offerings when students enter school next term as freshmen.

Youngs said that administrators would answer questions concerning the high school curriculum, credits required for graduation, required and elective classes.

He said that eighth graders would soon be registering for fall term classes and parents should be aware of offerings for college bound, vocational and general education students.

Programs each night are to be identical in format.

TA Building Trades Show Off House

STUDENTS and instructors of building trades classes of Tawas Area High School are to show off this new house at an open house Thursday afternoon and evening.

The house was recently completed on Victoria Lane, North Park Acres, Tawas City. It is the sixth house constructed by Tawas Area High School students since building trades was included in the vocational education offering at the school. The three-bedroom house is now being offered for sale. These pictures show some of the students working on final finish of the interior. Work started last week on establishing elevations for the foundation of a new house to be constructed next term. Turn to page 6 for details of the open house and the senior students who will be looking for jobs in the building trades field after their graduation.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Council Adopts Sewer District

Following a public hearing Monday night, Tawas City Council adopted recommendations of the water-sewer board and city engineer calling for establishment of a special assessment district to finance construction of sewer extension to serve 17 lots in the Second Addition to the Elms Subdivision.

Monday night's action follows the special assessment district format previously established April 1 by the council, when it authorized deletion of two lots at the request of a property owner.

The property owner, Carl B. Babcock, submitted the only written protest at Monday night's hearing, stating that he objected to the inclusion of lots in the special assessment district which had not been included in the original petition.

Babcock and Allan W. McCall, who is establishing a restaurant in the former Marathon Station, were original petitioners for the sewer extension, requesting that Lots 5, 6, 7, 14, 15, 16 be included in the district.

On recommendation of the city engineer, the water and sewer board proposed a larger district to eliminate the need for sewer construction at some future time.

In January, the council established the district to serve 19 lots as recommended, but on April 1 deleted two lots at the request of Babcock.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas told the council Monday night that it would be more practical to include the area adopted April 1 by the council, rather than to reduce the size of the district as requested by Babcock.

Total cost of the revised project is estimated at $33,005 and the entire amount is to be spread on taxes of the special assessment district comprised of five property owners. Babcock owns 45 percent of the property and his estimated cost would be $15,738.17.

Actual cost would be determined after July 1 and the first installment would be due with payment of the 1980 city taxes. Property owners have a period of 15 years to pay the cost at an annual interest rate of seven percent.

A COLLISION between two tractor-trailer units Tuesday morning on US-23 disrupted electrical service from Mathews Street south to the Tawas River bridge. A Huron Building Supplies truck was in the process of turning into the Bublitz Oil Company when there was a collision with a truck owned by R. L. Whittaker Trucking. There were no injuries. A power pole carrying a 48,000-volt electrical line was struck and "hot" wires dropped to the pavement. A Consumers Power Company crew repaired the damage.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Annual Clean-Up Next Tuesday

Residents of Tawas City are reminded that Tuesday, May 8, is the annual clean-up day in this city and the cooperation of all residents is requested.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas and the city council asks all residents to clean yards this week-end to remove any winter accumulation of debris.

Discards and rubbish in containers should be placed by streets prior to May 8. Brush and limbs should be cut in five-foot lengths. Anything set out after street collections have been made will not be picked up by the city contractor or DPW crew.

Annual spring clean-up day in Tawas City has been traditional for more than 60 years, but the event has been moved to a later date this year due to unseasonably cold weather.

This year, the program is part of the state-wide Operation Clean-sweep project extending from April 14 through May 14, involving more than 4,000 groups throughout the state and more than 200,000 individuals.

Plenty of Fishermen Here, but Weather Was Too Cold

Fishing conditions in the Tawas Bay area over the week-end proved to be disappointing to a large crowd of downstaters here for the spring season.

Unseasonably cold weather and rain dampened the spirits of a horde of fishermen here for the Tawas Bay Brown Trout Derby, as well as anglers here for the trout opener on inland streams and masses of fishermen seeking a silver-horde of smelt.

Some success was reported in the Brown Trout Derby, but fishing pressure was down due to the rough water of Tawas Bay.

Conditions at mid-week appeared to be favorable to trigger a good run of smelt over the week-end, but colder weather brought a drop in the water temperature and a major smelt run simply did not materialize.

Only scattered catches were reported in the Whitney Drain and Tawas River and smelt fishermen had the best success at the mouth of the AuSable River.

Weekly leaders in the Brown Trout Derby are as follows:

Brown trout: William Wells, Leslie, 15 pounds, eight ounces, caught at Alabaster; Thomas Curtis, Prudenville, nine pounds, 5 1/2 ounces; Robert Delaney, Auburn, eight pounds, 15 ounces, Tawas Bay; Gary Wood, Tawas, eight pounds, 14 ounces, gypsum dock; Charles Drumm, West Branch, eight pounds, 13 ounces, state dock; Wood, eight pounds, eight ounces; William Cholger, Tawas, eight pounds, eight ounces, Steven Hlinka, Tawas, eight pounds, two ounces, and eight pounds, one ounce.

Suit Brought by DNR Against Owner of Controversial Dam

Suit has been brought in Iosco County Circuit Court by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources seeking to force removal of an earthen dam blocking a drain west of Newman Street at East Tawas.

The suit filed Thursday was brought by Howard A. Tanner, DNR director, vs. Elouise Dimmick, County Pros. Atty. Stephen H. Naegele is representing the state.

The suit seeks a preliminary injunction and show cause hearing against the private property owner.

On May 20, 1978, Mrs. Dimmick hired a contractor to block a ditch which crosses Newman Street on Lot 11 of the Dimmick Trustees Addition to East Tawas.

The suit claims that the earthen dam blocks the flow of water over bottomland, that the ditch is a tributary to the Tawas River and serves as a natural drain to other riparian owners and the public generally.

It is claimed that the blockage could cause drainage water to "block up and potentially overflow, which would cause substantial permanent damage to upstream owners."

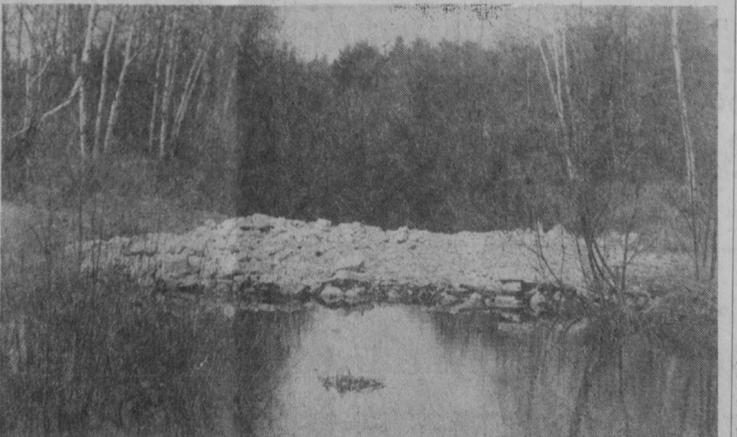

The petition claims that the property owner did not obtain a permit from the DNR for the earthen dam, claiming this was contrary to Act 346, Public Acts of 1972.

The state asks a mandated injunction directing the defendant to remove the obstruction.

The drain has been a source of agitation between the city and the property owner for a number of years, Mrs. Dimmick claiming that the ditch was located on private property and the city had trespassed by clearing out a section of the drain to improve flowage. The city claims that the ditch has been a natural drain for more than 50 years.

A multi-million-dollar suit brought by Mrs. Dimmick in federal court against the city is still pending.

Council Studied Proposed Budget

First work session on finalization of a 1979-80 operational budget was held Monday night by the Tawas City Council.

As presented two weeks ago, the proposed budget recommended by City Mgr. Lowell Thomas was $315,000, but this is not expected to be the final figure to be adopted May 21, as prescribed by the city charter.

The city treasury started the current year with a surplus of $96,000, including federal revenue sharing funds. The surplus expected at the end of the current year on June 30 is projected at between $40,000 and $45,000.

The surplus was reduced considerably earlier this year with the purchase of much needed equipment for the department of public works.

Since the meeting two weeks ago, Thomas told councilmen that he had learned that the city's state equalized tax base had advanced from $14,404,601 to $14,597,032, which would provide a slight increase in operational funds.

The city manager submitted a proposed street blacktopping program to be included in the new budget, but pointed out that budgets for capital improvement and the water and sewer department were yet to be presented.

Thomas' proposed general fund budget calls for a six percent across-the-board wage increase for city employees, but does not include any increase in salary for the city manager. He said he planned to submit a position classification plan for city employees for consideration next year.

Brief discussion was held on a proposal to establish a special assessment district to purchase property west of city hall for business parking purposes. This matter had been considered during a recent executive session of the council.

Mayor Herbert Cholger said he had conducted a survey of businessmen in that block and found that only one was interested in the proposal.

Coun. Hugo Keiser, a property owner in the block who was on vacation when the matter was discussed, said he had not been contacted and believed no action should be taken until the matter was discussed further.

The city's option on the property is to expire shortly. Its purchase had been included in the city hall-library-fire hall proposal which was defeated by 11 votes in the November election.

A meeting is to be arranged among property owners to determine if there is any interest in purchasing the property for parking purposes.

Dipper Pushed from Park Dock

Leonard Klatt of Corunna told investigating Iosco County Sheriff's officers that he and a fishing companion had an entirely unexpected dip in Tawas Bay early Sunday morning.

Klatt said that he and his friend were in a group of fishermen dipping for smelt from the Tawas City Park dock. He said he suddenly felt hands pushing him off the dock.

The two Corunna men were pushed into the bay and, while other fishermen were assisting them out of the water, Klatt's gasoline lantern was stolen. Witnesses said they saw two teen-aged fishermen running from the dock, but could not identify them.

Injured Sunday in US-23 Crash

A 29-year-old Belleville man, David J. Morin, was treated Sunday at Tawas Hospital following a two-car collision on Lake Street, Tawas City.

Investigating sheriff's department officers said that Morin's car was struck from the rear by a car driven by Max J. Stribny, 30, Southgate.

Oscoda Girl is National Merit Scholar

Debra E. Thompson of Oscoda is one of more than 1,900 high school seniors named today as winners of college-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships.

Winners were selected by officials of the sponsoring college, who also computed the students' financial need and determined the individual stipends.

Miss Thompson received her Merit Scholarship from Michigan State University in the field of nursing. A senior at Oscoda Area High School, she is a student nursing assistant.

She is salutatorian of her class, a member of the National Honor Society, voted "most likely to succeed," received certificates of academic excellence and participated in varsity track.

Quick Thinking Saved Chum's Life

A 12-year-old East Tawas boy was credited Sunday morning with possibly saving the life of a companion, who was severely burned in a gasoline explosion.

Treated for first, second and possibly third degree burns to the face, hands and ears was Matthew Hintz, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hintz, 504 West Washington Street.

Matthew and William Yax of 498 West Franklin Street were playing in the Hintz garage. Young Hintz struck a match near a gasoline can, setting off an explosion.

He was immediately engulfed in flames about his head, but protected his eyes with his hands. "Billy" took off his sweater and used it to smother the flames, then led the boy out of the burning building to safety.

The Yax boy then called his mother by telephone and she came to assist. One of the other Yax children called the fire department and notified Mr. and Mrs. Hintz, who were attending church, while Mrs. Yax rushed Matthew to the hospital.

When questioned about his brave act, "Billy" told firemen and East Tawas police officers that all he could think of at the time was the television program, "Emergency Squad." He explained that firemen in one program used a coat to smother the burning clothing of a victim and he used the same method to help his chum.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Yax.

Buried Cable Cut With Axe

A breaking and entering, two vandalism complaints and a larceny were investigated last week by Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

Michigan Bell Telephone Company reported that someone had used an axe to sever a buried telephone cable in Section 29 of Oscoda Township. The cable followed the Consumers Power Company right-of-way used by dirt bike riders.

The other vandalism complaint was reported by McIntosh-McKay Chevrolet-Cadillac, where four tires were damaged by someone using an ice pick.

The cottage breakin was reported by Orvy Hulett of Sand Lake.

Nancy L. Brown of Tawas City reported the larceny of a citizens band radio from her car.

Tawas Area Band Received First Division Award at State

After highly successful performances at Cheboygan, Mackinaw City, Sault Ste. Marie and Newberry, the Tawas Area Symphonic Band in Class A competition received a first division rating in the Michigan Band and Orchestra Festival at Escanaba.

Competing in the Class A category, the Tawas Symphonic Band received four ones for an over-all first division rating.

At the state level, the bands have received 11 first and three second division ratings in the past 14 years. The last nine of these performances have been in Class A.

At the festival, bands and orchestras compete against set standards which vary slightly between classes of schools. Each band performs three numbers before three judges, then sight reads two selections before a fourth judge. There are a combined total of 33 categories in which the judges adjudicate each band. This year, Tawas band received 30 A and three B grades.

Adjudicators were Paul Gramer, band director, Manistee; Robert Stephenson, low brass instructor, Northern Michigan University; Edward Downing, director, Interlochen Arts Academy; Lorin Richtmeyer, band director, Northern Michigan University.

Archie's Whittemore Shell Station has been closed Sundays and the Standard Oil Distributor at Whittemore had received an 85 percent allocation of gasoline. At present, Standard is back on a 100 percent allocation.

In the Tawas area, several service stations reported lower gasoline allocations than normal. Despite increased traffic due to the influx of fishermen, there did not appear to be any local gasoline shortage.

Legislation Would Permit Catch of 50 Perch in Lakes

State Rep. Tom Alley of West Branch is cosponsoring legislation to remove the daily catch limit on perch, explaining that the limit is unnecessary.

A law enacted by the last session of the legislature set a daily limit of 50 perch for sport fishermen.

"The main reasons for the enactment of that law were to control perch catches by nonresidents of Michigan and prevent commercial catches under the guise of sport fishing," Alley pointed out.

"There may be some merit to these arguments, particularly on Michigan Great Lakes waters, but the new law still is unfair to Michigan fishermen," he said.

Alley and Rep. Lewis Dodak, Montrose, who are cosponsoring the bill, said they would attempt to correct the problems by amending their bill to repeal the perch limit for Michigan residents on inland lakes, allowing it to remain in force for nonresidents and Great Lakes waters.

They said this would solve the problems which led to the law, yet protect interests of Michigan fishermen.

No Gas Shortage Yet for Farmers

Farmers are about three weeks behind in their spring field work, according to a report Monday from Burleigh Township dairyman, Dornace Bellville.

Unseasonably cold weather and rain has made it virtually impossible for farmers to get on their fields.

As a result, farmers have been using very little petroleum fuels for operating equipment and have not experienced an apparent fuel shortage in Western Iosco County.

Bellville said that no gasoline service stations were open Sunday on M-65 from Turner corner to a point south of Whittemore, where two independent stations were closed.

Graham Oil Company at Whittemore, he said, was closed for a week's vacation because the firm had received only a 65 percent allocation of gasoline. He said the firm still had adequate supplies for farm customers.

Archie's Whittemore Shell Station has been closed Sundays and the Standard Oil Distributor at Whittemore had received an 85 percent allocation of gasoline. At present, Standard is back on a 100 percent allocation.

In the Tawas area, several service stations reported lower gasoline allocations than normal. Despite increased traffic due to the influx of fishermen, there did not appear to be any local gasoline shortage.

4-H Achievement Day Held Saturday

Iosco County Spring Achievement Day, held Saturday, April 28, at St. Joseph's Social Center, East Tawas, was culminated with a style revue and share-the-fun acts for over 200 parents, friends and 4-H members and leaders.

Mistress of ceremonies was Angela Erickson, leather craft leader. Leading in the American and 4-H flag pledges were Debra Holmes and Lynette Dobson. David Robinson, president of Iosco County leader's council, welcomed the guests.

Demonstrations by Kelly Kriebel of East Tawas on aquarium preparation and Yvonne Dobson of Whittemore on cake decorating were part of the open house program.

Winning over 17 entrants in the style revue by divisions were Kelly McMurray of East Tawas and Cheryl Robinson of Whittemore, young division; Yvonne Dobson, Whittemore, junior, and Lynette Dobson, Whittemore, senior. Best of show during the talent presentations was won by Suzanne Hetterman, East Tawas, for her performance as Bubbles, the 4-H clown.

Winners of the conservation club contest were Douglas Vile, Oscoda, box display; Jeffrey Caverly, Hale, scrapbook; Margie Charette, Hale, research report, and Michael Runyan, Hale, poster.

The ecology flag went to Hale Elementary School for most awards in the county.

Tawas Canoe Race Postponed

The Michigan Canoe Racing Association-sponsored Tawas River Canoe Race tentatively scheduled for Sunday has been postponed until August 4-5. A report from the Tawas Chamber of Commerce Tuesday said the later date was picked due to its conflicting date with the Tawas Brown Trout Derby.

TIPST from the Building Inspector

When using 4' x 8' paneling over a light-colored background such as dry-wall, plaster or studs, use a felt tip marker with a dark color similar to the panel color, and make a line along the edge of each sheet. It will keep the background color from showing through. Usually one inexpensive marker will do a whole room.

Bell-Lance Marriage Vows Solemnized at ET Church

A reception at Oscoda Knights of Columbus Hall followed the exchange of vows Saturday, April 28, at East Tawas Assembly of God Church when Brenda Reena Lance became the bride of Vernon Edward Bell.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Donna Streuber of Oscoda and Robert Lance of Tawas City. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bell of East Tawas. The Rev. Edward Fairbanks performed the 4 o'clock ceremony. Mrs. Aldeen Phelps, organist, accompanied Mrs. Lester Shedenhelm, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown fashioned in sheer polyester over taffeta with accents of silk Venice lace. The fitted Empire bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline, long bishop sleeves and motifs of matching lace. The full A-line skirt with vertical design of lace flowed to a chapel train with two bands of Venice lace at the hemline. To complete her ensemble, the bride chose a fingertip illusion veil with matching lace secured to a covered headpiece. She carried a cascade of white roses and pink carnations. Matron of honor was Mrs. Kim Eberline, sister of the bride, with Carol Bell, sister of the bridegroom, and Jeri Thorn, bridesmaid. They wore peach gowns with wristlets of peach roses and carnations and carried matching parasols.

Serving as best man was Brian Williams. Groomsman were James Ramsey, brother of the bridegroom, and Dennis Fairbanks. Russell Ramsey and Dennis Groff seated guests.

Mrs. Streuber chose an ice blue gown and Mrs. Bell wore powder blue. Gardenias and Stephanotis comprised their corsages.

REVISITING THE Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial

A DREAM of the Rev. O. James Crews (left) led to establishment of the Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial in 1958, billed as the region's greatest tourist attraction. Preceding nightly programs was the organ music of Florence Crews, "The Voice of the Forest."

GIRL SCOUT AND BROWNIE TROOPS of the Tawas presented their annual fun night programs Thursday night at the Tawas City Elementary Unit gymnasium. Parents and visitors enjoyed skits and acts performed by each troop.—Tawas Herald Photos.

When the Rev. O. James Crews hit the scene in 1958 with a burst of oratory, county officials and most local businessmen were left quite out of breath. At first, they put their hands in back pockets to see if billfolds were still in place, but most soon realized the man was sincere about his dream.

Few speakers or showmen in the history of this county have had the rare gift to hold an audience so completely spellbound. Crews had that ability when, in January 1958, he told members of the county board of supervisors of his plans.

Crews expected to turn Iosco County into "more than just a little spot on the vacation map." To the crusty board of supervisors, he predicted great things were to come from his Michigan Indian Ceremonial to be located at Chapel Lake in Grant Township.

"We are not asking for financial assistance from the county on this project; we are only asking for the moral support, good will and co-operation from the county in publicizing this spectacular," Crews told the supervisors.

He was so convincing that, before the ultraconservative board of supervisors could say, "Where is Chapel Lake?" they had approved a sizeable expenditure for purchasing road signs to publicize the private enterprise—the first and probably the only time in history this has ever happened here.

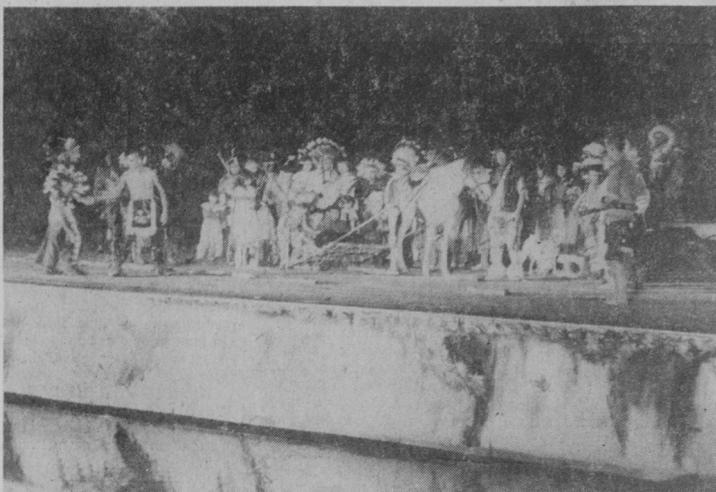

The amazing thing is that Crews fulfilled his promise to the county, at least for a brief, four-year period. The Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial streaked across this vacationland like a Fourth of July rocket before it finally faded—to Crews' great disappointment.

But enthusiasm waxed strong that spring of 1958 when it all started. Financed by the Mother Church of the Temple of Light, a nonprofit Protestant religious organization with which he was associated, Crews announced plans to construct a 2,000-seat open air stadium on the shore of Chapel Lake. The site contained 160 acres of fenced woodland owned by the church.

Crews planned to make Chapel Lake a playland for the region. "Designed much as a Broadway spectacular, production of the Michigan Indian Ceremonial has prospects of being one of the greatest tourist attractions in the state," Crews told a Tawas Herald reporter.

He related that he "got the germ of the idea" several years earlier when he visited a similar ceremonial at Wisconsin Dells. "After exploring all factors at Chapel Lake two summers earlier, we decided that this would be an ideal location."

By May 24, 1958, Indians from all over Michigan gathered at Chapel Lake for a powwow called for tryouts for places in the summer ceremonial presentation. A 120-foot by 50-foot stage was constructed on piling driven into the lake bottom and a stadium was built on a hill overlooking the stage and extending down to the water's edge.

Photographers had a field day taking pictures of Indians dressed in colorful costumes and rehearsing for the opening program. Some of the cast included Whitney Alberts (Chief Blue Cloud), Oscoda; Oralee Tipkey (Princess Little Fawn), Lapeer; Lennie Stevens (medicine man), Mt. Pleasant Indian Reservation; Joseph Tipkey (Chief Red Cloud), Lapeer.

After a month of rehearsal, the Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial held its premier stage presentation on June 30, 1958, with Crews as the managing director. Among the dramatizations presented were the story of the Pleides, the Dance of the Seven Children, the Ritual of the Dying Chieftain, the Peace Pipe Dance, the running of the gantlet by the Great White Scout. Thrown in for good measure were canoeing, jousting and log rolling.

"Preceding each nightly performance will be the 'Voice of the Forest,' featuring the organ music of Florence Crews of Detroit playing an overture that will include the weird and strange music of the Indian tribes," stated a publicity blurb in the Herald.

The Indian troupe played to a packed stadium on opening night. "First nighters who attended the opening program of the Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial Monday were very much impressed with this newest attraction in the Tawas and Iosco County area," stated the Herald on July 3, 1958. "From the opening of the council fire ritual, led by two Indian warriors bearing flaming torches, to the grand finale, spectators had only high praise for the presentation, staging, casting, direction, costuming and lighting."

A cast of more than 60 American Indians, including Chippewa, Ottawa, Sauk and Potawatomi from Michigan and Pueblos from New Mexico comprised the cast in the hour and 45-minute nightly programs. Chief White Bird (George Cook) of Houghton Lake proved to be a brilliant master of ceremonies and the Indians were impressive entertainers.

But let this revue from the Herald tell the story: "Part three, consisting of the finale, 'The Picture Beautiful,' depicted a bit of Indian village life following long years of war with the white man. The peaceful setting of the village scene was suddenly shattered when a white intruder was discovered spying on the frolicking Indians. The white man was rescued from death at the stake by Chief Blue Cloud, only to be submitted to trial by gantlet." It may have been a little corny, but spectators loved it.

During intermission, Frank Davis, veteran secretary-manager of the East Michigan Tourist Association, praised Crews and his cast for what he termed Michigan's great tourist attraction. Davis dedicated the show to Michigan's first citizens—the Indians.

The only flaw in the opening night program was the swarm of mosquitoes and other flying insects which were attracted to the lake-side amphitheatre by powerful spotlights projected on the stage. Many of the outdoor theatregoers never saw the finale to the spectacular, due to the pesky bugs.

That was not the only fly in the ointment for Crews' dream—Michigan's weather is so unpredictable that it is predictable that an outdoor event has a good chance of being rained out. A gigantic spectacular, complete with boxing matches, planned on July 4 was a complete washout.

Unfortunately for the state's newest tourist attraction, the summer of 1958 was nearly a complete disaster with rained out programs practically every week. The rain held off for a special show on August 22 in which Leslie E. Arndt, editorial staffer of the Bay City Times, received the honorary title of "Scout Strongfoot," after his appearance as America's "Davey Crockett" at the Brussels World's Fair.

Crews was adopted into the Black River, Swan Creek, Saginaw Chip-

Federal Mandate on Barrier Free Design Called a Threat to Majority

In case you have not heard, all existing public buildings in this nation must meet federal requirements in the near future to guarantee barrier free design. The federal mandate means that public buildings must provide equal access to all citizens but, in actuality, it means that the regulations have been established to benefit less than one percent of the total population.

At a meeting Thursday night of area school officials, one speaker pointed out that federal regulations would be enforced, if necessary, through withholding of federal funds to states and local communities. A survey is to be made in Michigan by handicapped persons to determine if those regulations are being met.

This corner will stand with any person or group in demanding equal rights for all, but believes, too, there must also be a reasonable approach to achieve those high goals without treading on the rights of others, in this case the vast majority of people in this nation.

What is surprising is the statement made Thursday night that existing offices of physicians, for instance, must meet mandated barrier free design regulations, or face the threat of losing Medicaid payments.

Taking a look around this area, it is believed that most doctor's offices would meet barrier free design regulations, or could meet those regulations with minor changes, as most are in new quarters and have been constructed since the new regulations became effective. This is not the case in many communities, however.

In the case where a county, township or city's existing public buildings do not meet barrier free design mandates, the threat is made that such funds as CETA, Economic Development Administration, Office of Housing and Urban Development, for example, would be withheld from communities until there is compliance.

Such a threat certainly is not a reasonable approach to correct the plight of the handicapped persons. This nation, which has numerous public buildings constructed many years ago and still with many years of useful service, simply cannot be modified to meet a mandate for less than one percent of the total population in wheel chairs.

The cost for such modifications in the entire nation will run into the millions of dollars. That is unreasonable as total compliance should be spread over a longer period of time.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read Matthew 5:13-16) "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 5:16)

I have never thought of myself as a leader. I have never possessed the gifts of organization or administration. How often have I had the right heart and the best intentions about a worthwhile project, yet lacked the knack of organizing the necessary elements to see that project bear fruit.

Then one day, I had a revelation! I realized that through Christ we are all able to be used as beacon lights for those around us. Though I may never have the skills needed to be a leader, Jesus Christ can use me as a guide to help others get safely home to their Father in heaven!

Few are called upon to be leaders but all are called by God to be guides. If we will yield our simple, open vessels to God, His Holy Spirit will fill us so full of His love that the overflow will become a beacon light to guide others to Him.

PRAYER

Our beloved Father, help us, Your children, to shine forth for You that all might come to know You as their Father and God. In Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY You do not have to be a leader to be an effective witness for Jesus Christ.—Jeannie C. Riley (Franklin, Tennessee)

Search Warrant Required to Open School Student Locker

LANSING—Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley has ruled that public school administrators may not search student lockers or cars on school property without first obtaining a search warrant.

In a letter opinion to State Rep. Bela E. Kennedy, Kelley said that previous court rulings have clearly established that students have constitutional rights while at school. "A search of a student must, therefore, conform to constitutional standards," Kelley said in his opinion.

"Students have a reasonable expectation of privacy where the school grants them use of school property for a locker or for a parking space. Therefore, to invade this privacy, a search warrant is required unless exigent circumstances are present which make it impractical to obtain the warrant," Kelley said.

"It is indeed unfortunate that the presence of narcotics, weapons or other materials may prompt school administrators to want to search lockers or cars," Kelley commented on his opinion.

"But the law clearly protects the constitutional rights of students and requires a search warrant unless there are exigent circumstances or the student has waived his or her rights."

Morning Motorists Should be Alert—Time Has Changed!

DEARBORN—Automobile Club of Michigan urges morning motorists to be more alert during pre-school hours following the switch to Daylight Savings Time at 2:00 a. m. Sunday (April 29).

Michigan residents advanced their clocks one hour giving them an added hour of daylight in the evening.

"Commuters will be driving in winter-like light conditions in the morning and should keep an eye out for children on their way to school," says Arthur C. Gibson, Auto Club safety and traffic engineer. "There is also an increased possibility of fog this time of year."

Gibson suggests the following precautions:

- 1. Dress children in brightly colored clothing to make them more visible.
2. Put reflective tape on bicycles, lunch boxes and jackets.
3. When unable to use sidewalks, children should walk on the shoulder of the road facing traffic.

4. Cross streets only at traffic signals or patrolled corners.

5. Bicyclists should ride with the flow of traffic on the edge of the road when sidewalks are not available.

In 1978, there were 46 pedestrians and 23 bicyclists killed between the ages of five and 19.

"Motorists can help cut injuries and fatalities by using their headlights when visibility is poor," says Gibson. "However, do not forget to turn them off when reaching your destination."

pewa Indian Tribes at the final performance on Labor Day. He appreciated the Indian name bestowed upon him, "Chief Big Heart," but he always felt that "Chief Old Crow" was more appropriate.

But that performance, too, was shortened by rain and the Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial had had a rather dismal opening season, despite initial success. Before 1958 was to end, Tawas Chamber of Commerce created quite a stir when the winter sports committee captured "Old Man Gloom" on the streets of East Tawas, hoping that the dejected attitude of some businessmen would leave.

After being hospitalized during the winter, Crews returned for the opening of the second season at Chapel Lake on June 19, 1959. "This year's program will include many new features, new dances, new characters and the cast will be larger than last year," reported the managing director. Included was the use of "black light" effects in staging. One of the featured programs that year was the portrayal of the "Legend of Iargo Springs."

Returning as master of ceremonies was Chief White Bird, who represented the Chippewa Indian Tribe that winter at Indian claims hearings at Washington, D. C. Because of disagreements and fights which had broken out between members of different tribes, last-minute casting changes were made.

A learned man in the science of the stars, Crews said he could see a "fairly rainy season" and had a plastic topped rain shelter constructed, "to be immediately accessible to all who attend the show this summer." A free picnic grove and surrey rides were also provided. Crews conducted devotionals each Sunday morning for the Indians and the public was invited to attend.

Nightly performances were given during the 1959 season, without any particular difficulty with rain, but the expected stream of visitors flocking to Chapel Lake did not materialize, despite some high-powered promotional ideas. In his publicity blurbs, Crews pictured his Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial as "the largest, genuine Indian pageant and drama in the mid-western part of the United States. Those who have witnessed, both locally and from other parts of the country, have sung high praise for the show."

By Memorial Day of 1960, Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial was ready for its third season, widely publicized as "the greatest Indian show in America." The 1960 presentation included many new tribes and dancers, including champion dancers from Oklahoma and New Mexico, but the strange rites and ceremonies of the Woodland Indians of Michigan will continue to be a highlight of the summer show."

A new feature in 1960 was reserved individual seating, an improved rain shelter (another "fairly rainy season" being predicted by Crews), plus a more interesting teepee village and a midway. The Indian participants objected to the carnival atmosphere because it detracted from the original theme of the program.

A Fourth of July spectacular at Chapel Lake proved to be a feature of the 1960 celebration in Iosco County, commencing with the flying of the nation's new 50-star flag for the first time.

Dennis Glen Cooper, world famous television and travel lecturer, was on hand that summer to make a movie of the Indian pageant for use on his lecture program. Free tickets were being given on a weekly basis to create local interest, but crowds did not materialize.

Tawas A. Rotary Club Proposes Purchase of Jaws of Life Unit

Although Jaws of Life may sound like the title of a movie, it is a tool which is much needed in this area. Tawas Area Rotary Club hopes to do something about acquiring one.

On Sunday, May 6, from 9:00 p. m. to midnight, a telethon is to be conducted by WBKB-TV, Channel 11, Alpena, to benefit Rotary Clubs of Alpena, Hillman, Oscoda and Tawas Area.

At that time, each of the Rotary Clubs hope to be able to have enough donations to cover chosen projects.

The chosen project of Tawas Area Rotary Club is to purchase a Jaws of Life machine.

A special demonstration of the unit is to be held Saturday, May 5, 12 o'clock noon, at the Kroger parking lot in Tawas City.

This portable, self-contained unit is small enough to store in an automobile trunk, but it provides up to 12,000 pounds of usable force to rescue trapped victims in automobile accidents.

There is no flame, noise or spinning blade with this people saver. It can raise a car, roof, steering column, dash or remove doors. It can even be used under water.

"The only known Jaws of Life in this area, which includes: Ogemaw County, Arenac County, Iosco County and Oscoda County, is at Wurtsmith Air Force Base. In time of extreme need, this lifesaving unit may not always be available to rescue squads," states Dorothy A. Pierce of Tawas Area Rotary Club.

"My feeling is that this is a project well needed in our area and I sincerely trust that any interested people will make an effort to assist with donations on the day of the telethon," she states.

"Miss Indian Princess of Michigan" for 1960 in a state-wide contest and the beautiful Ottawa-Chippewa Indian maiden from Detroit was guest of honor at the season finale on September 4.

A special preview of Cooper's film, which had been featured on George Pierrot's Detroit television program, was shown to Tawas businessmen on June 27, 1961, and Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial held its opening program on June 30—a month later than usual. An Indian parade through the Tawas preceded the opening program.

The cast was expanded that season to include representation from such tribes as Chippewa, Ottawa, Delaware, Sioux, Pueblo, Kiowa, Potawatomi, Ojibwa, Pawnee, Mohawk and Cherokee. Chief White Bird was again the master of ceremonies.

The rain pavilion at Chapel Lake again had a good workout during the 1961 season, but Crews remained enthusiastic over the venture, now in its fourth season. A spectacular "Battle Dance of the Tribes" with fireworks featured the finale on September 2.

That was to be the last season for the Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial. After earlier urging by Crews, the county road commissioner decided to reconstruct Indian Lake Road in 1962. Because of the fact that a Plank Road extension and the road past Chapel Lake would be under construction most of the summer, Crews decided not to reopen the ceremonial that season.

Crews announced he intended to reopen for the 1963 season, but financial losses during the preceding four seasons dictated that "America's greatest Indian show" would never reopen. Many members of the cast had become disenchanted with the summer spectacular of four seasons, having received very little compensation for their efforts.

On March 28, 1962, the Herald announced that future Indian powwows would be held at the Tawas Indian Museum south of Tawas City. An Indian pageant was held at that location one week-end, but the program never compared with the spectacular at Chapel Lake and the annual Indian pageants here suffered a natural death.

Many obstacles cluttered the path to success for Crews and his Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonial. Outdoor events are particularly vulnerable to weather, but none more than Crews' extravaganzas.

A dusty road leading past Chapel Lake from the end of Plank Road proved to be an uncomfortable ride for visitors and was only one of the factors which led to the demise of the Indian ceremonials. Construction of a paved road came too late to save a dream.

of a double header with Mio-AnSable, 22-5, then won the second game, 17-3, the game called at the end of 4½ innings under the 10-run rule. —Tawas Herald Photo.

Bravettes Split Double Header April 23 With Alcona Girls

Tawas Bravettes split the decisions in a double header April 23 with visiting Alcona. The visitors won the first game, 10-7, but the Bravettes bounced back to take the second game, 11-1.

The first game was close throughout, with the lead being exchanged several times. Alcona scored three unanswered runs in the seventh inning to post the win.

Laurel Minard was the losing pitcher. She had two hits and two runs batted in to be the team leader at the plate. Kari Allen also had two hits.

Tawas rapped 11 hits in the second game to turn in the win. Pam Larson, Ronda Hall and Allen each batted a double. Hall was tops with three hits, while Allen and Minard each contributed two hits.

Tawas jumped to an early lead, scoring six runs in the first inning and never letting up during the rest of the game.

Joyce Hatcher, winning pitcher, allowed only four hits.

The Bravettes turned back visiting Standish-Sterling Central, 18-6, in a NEM Conference game on April 24.

The game was close until the fifth inning when Tawas scored six runs. The Bravettes scored another seven runs in the sixth inning to end the game on the 10-run rule. Minard was the winning pitcher, but Hatcher came in to turn in an excellent relief performance.

Hatcher belted two doubles, while Minard and Carol Lawwers each hit for two bases. Minard and Hatcher each had four hits.

Thursday's game with Whittemore-PreScott was postponed because of rain.

The junior varsity softball team lost to Alcona, 32-31.

Tawas played an over-all good game on offense, but errors proved costly on defense. Diane Nelkie turned in five strong innings on the mound for Tawas.

Lisa Bielby had five hits in five trips to lead the team at the plate. Cindy Stephan had five hits in six trips and Nelkie had three hits.

Braves Lost Two of Three Games Played During Week

Tawas Braves lost the decisions in two of three games played last week. On April 23, the Braves split a double header with Alcona, 4-3 and 4-0, then lost to visiting Standish-Sterling Central, 5-3, in an eight-inning game.

Bill King allowed only four hits in the first game against Alcona. He struck out five batters and walked two, but Alcona scored four runs in the first inning on only two hits. A scratch single sent one grounder over the head of Bielby at second base for a hit and Tawas' first error of the season led to two runners who should have been out.

Paradise, winning pitcher for Alcona, spaced his hits well and received good defense from his fielders.

Ken McKenzie of Tawas had the only extra base hit of the game, a leadoff double in the first inning. McKenzie and King each had two hits.

Scott Klemish pitched a near three-hitter in the nightcap and was tough when he had to be, striking out seven batters. Alcona had the bases loaded twice, but could not score.

Tawas had five stolen bases in the game to help set up three of its runs. Jim Dubovsky was the leading batter with two hits.

The game with Standish-Sterling was well played, Tawas stealing a total of five bases in the game. Tawas found itself on the short end of the score on two occasions, but could not get the key hit that could have won the game in the late innings with runners on base.

Dubovsky, losing pitcher, gave up 10 hits. Wilson, the winner for Central, was nicked for seven hits by Tawas. King, Mayer and Klemish each had two singles.

The junior varsity split its games with Alcona, the first game going to Tawas, 5-0, and the second game won by Alcona, 10-0.

Jon Erickson was winning pitcher in the opener. Greg Freel had three hits, while Kelly Robinson and K. C. Douglas each had two. Tawas pitchers could not find the strike zone in the second game as 14 Alcona players batted in the first inning, with seven walks and two singles. Tawas batters had only three hits in that game.

The junior varsity won its game with Central, 13-8, with Robinson credited with the win. Tawas' eight hits, combined with 10 walks from Standish-Sterling pitchers, proved to be the deciding factor. The game was called after five innings due to rain.

Douglas and Erickson each had two hits, while Jay Grabow and Mike Leslie each had two runs batted in.

Twenty-five cattlemen from Iosco and neighboring counties attended a district meeting of the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Association held at the Federal Building.

Emil Lake has resumed work at United States Gypsum Company after being employed at Dafee Shipbuilding Company, Bay City.

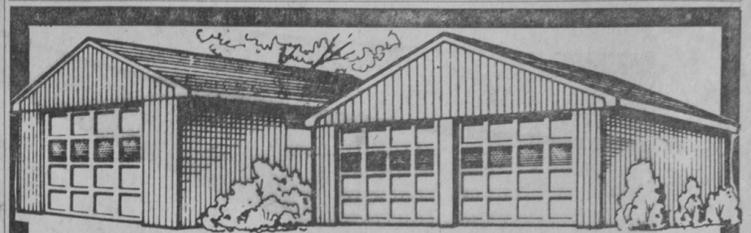

There are many signs that up-to-date small towns in most parts of the country will experience expansion that spells prosperity after the war. A survey has shown that only three percent of the people intending to build homes after the war expect to settle down in large cities. One of the principal reasons for the move to smaller towns is the massive road building program being planned after the war to provide employment for returning servicemen.

Program Explains Skills for Getting Into Country Living

Getting Into Country Living, a program on down to earth skills for independent living, will be the focus Thursday, May 3, from 3:30 to 8:30 p. m., at the East Tawas Community Building. Sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, the program features miniclasses, demonstrations, exhibits and take-home material on many aspects of life in Northern Michigan. Resource people include both specialists and local do-it-yourselfers.

Half-hour sessions scheduled between 4:00 and 8:30 p. m. are: Bread, the staff of life (Mary Peters); victory gardens '79, how to start an organic garden (Anne Markham); eating from the wild (William Bosserman); recycling clothes (Margaret Shinaver); getting the most from a small wood lot and heating your home with wood (Robert Ojala); leatherwork (Larry DeRosia); creating a string instrument (Douglas Foster);

"Foxfire," hill country wisdom (film). In addition to these sessions, many exhibits and demonstrations will be ongoing through the afternoon and evening. Snacks will be available to purchase and dozens of free and inexpensive extension bulletins will be available for participants to take home. There is no admission charge and participants may come and go any time.
