Three Persons Killed Friday in Blazing US-23 Collision

Tragedy struck a double blow to Tawas area families Friday afternoon when two cousins were killed in a US-23 crash which claimed three lives. Dead are Cynthia H. Drumm, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Drumm, and Tamara H. Whitford, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Whitford. Tamara was a junior at Tawas Area High School and Cynthia had graduated from high school here last June. The third victim was Christopher W. Thomas, 27, of Flint.

The three victims were northbound in a car driven by Miss Drumm. Investigating state police from East Tawas said the car had passed several other vehicles at a high rate of speed, then passed two more cars and was moving back into the northbound lane when the driver lost control on the slippery pavement. The skidding car crossed over into the southbound lane near Media Drive, Baldwin Township, and was struck broadside by a car driven by Zyggy Surowiec, 63, Houghton Lake. The car driven by Miss Drumm burst into flames on impact, trapping the three victims in the wreckage. A third car driven by Cathy Relitz, 32, Oscoda, then smashed into the rear of the Surowiec car. Witnesses at the scene pulled the body of Miss Drumm from the burning car, but were unable to reach the bodies of the Whitford girl and Thomas. The East Tawas Fire Department was called to the scene. Surowiec's wife, Monica, was seriously injured in the crash and was transferred to a Saginaw hospital after receiving emergency treatment at Tawas Hospital. Driver of the third car involved was not injured.

Funeral Mass for Cynthia Helen Drumm was conducted Monday, November 12, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church with the Rev. Fr. Francis Murphy officiating. Interment was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, East Tawas. A Christian wake was held Sunday evening at Jacques and Kobs West Chapel. Miss Drumm was born March 15, 1961, at Tawas City and expired Friday, November 9, in an automobile accident. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Drumm of Tawas City; a sister, Debra Bygden of Charlevoix; three brothers, Steven, Gregg and Jeffrey, all at home; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smiley of East Tawas and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ulman of Tawas City.

Tamara H. Whitford of Tawas City died Friday, November 9, in an automobile accident. She was born June 1, 1963, in Tawas City and was a student at Tawas Area High School. Funeral services were held Monday, November 12, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, East Tawas, with the Rev. Fr. Francis Murphy officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery. A Christian wake was held Sunday evening at Jacques and Kobs West Chapel. Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Whitford of Tawas City; three brothers, Randy, Troy and Cory, and a sister, Tracy, all at home; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Whitford and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ulman of Tawas City.

Cotter Resigns TC Council Seat

Jerry Cotter, who was defeated in his bid for re-election to the Tawas City Council last week, announced Wednesday that he was resigning immediately. "The important business of our city government will soon be under new leadership and direction," Cotter said in a letter to the council and other city officials. "I am very anxious for the new mayor and council to begin this work immediately." Cotter said, "any contribution I could make in the next seven weeks would be minimal."

Terms of office of three councilmen and the mayor expire December 31. In resigning the office, Cotter said he hoped to see the council name a successor as soon as possible. "To the new officials I convey my sincere congratulations and I wish all of you the best of luck in your endeavors," said Cotter. At last week's council meeting, Cotter was one of four members who voted to stop an attempt by Allied Taxpayers to name a successor to Charles Landon prior to Tuesday's election. The name of Florence Upson was offered from the floor by Maud Braman as a successor to Landon. A motion by Coun. Robert N. Rollin and seconded by Mayor Herbert Cholger was defeated by a four to two roll call. Mrs. Upson received 333 votes and was elected to a seat on the council. Top vote getter in the election was John (Joe) Martin, 461 votes, and Robert Pawloski, 354 votes, both of whom are now councilmen-elect. Filling the two vacancies will be an order of business for the council at the November 19 meeting.

Young East Tawas Man Admitted to State Bar

Gary Rapp, 25, a 1972 graduate of Tawas Area High School and a May graduate of the Detroit College of Law, was admitted to practice before the Michigan State Bar during a ceremony held Thursday morning before Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller. Rapp successfully completed an examination last Saturday before the Board of Law Examiners of Michigan held at Lansing. He was among 1,000 prospective young applicants taking the examination. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rapp of East Tawas, he received his bachelor of science degree in business administration from Ferris State College. His summer employment included an attendant position at the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock at East Tawas. In moving for Rapp's admission to the state bar, Robert Eppert, a lifetime correspondent of East Tawas, a fellow law school colleague and a practicing attorney here, said: "The time, money and effort expended, as well as incurring the resulting pain therefrom, in regards to Mr. Rapp's pursuit of a juris doctorate, certainly warrants to this court his desire to be so admitted into the State Bar Association." The motion was supported by James Shotwell, president of the 23rd Judicial Circuit Bar Association. Also participating in the ceremony was Thomas Huck, East Tawas attorney. Ralph White, a family friend, introduced remarks into the court record. Rapp is the ninth young person from Isosco County currently active in the legal profession or in the judicial system. He said his immediate plans called for "finding a job" and Judge Miller invited him to register here for court assignments. Among those attending the ceremony were his parents and sister, Susan Rapp.

Suggests Naming School Buildings After Educators

A recommendation to rename school buildings in honor of two long-time local educators was taken under advisement Monday night by Tawas Area Board of Education.

Supt. Ernest W. Jordan of Augres-Sims School District, former principal of Tawas Area School and formerly the superintendent of Isosco Intermediate School District, suggested the plan.

In a letter to the board of education, Jordan believed the junior and senior high school should be named in honor of Supt. Reynold E. Mick and the Tawas City Elementary Unit be named in honor of Miss Clara Bolen.

Miss Bolen, a resident of East Tawas, was a local educator for 48 years, starting at Alabaster in 1923. She retired as elementary principal of Tawas Area School District in 1971.

Mick, a resident of Tawas City, was the first superintendent of the reorganized school district, serving from 1953 until his retirement in 1972.

Jordan expressed the opinion that recognition of the two veteran educators was long overdue and believed that renaming the two buildings in their honor would be appropriate.

Board Pres. Randall DeWise said the letter was accepted and would be studied for future consideration.

In other matters, the board of education was notified that a hearing would be held November 19 on a tax exemption certificate being considered by the Tawas City Council for Bopp-Busch Manufacturing Company. The firm has applied for a 50 percent property tax reduction over a period of 12 years for $149,475 worth of equipment to be installed. Installation of the equipment would provide additional jobs. All local taxing units have the opportunity to voice objections at the hearing. The exemption requires approval by both the city council and the state tax commission under terms of state law.

A resolution from the Isosco County Farm Bureau urged this district to include a course in vocational agricultural training in its curriculum.

A contract was approved hiring Patricia Mitchell to replace Sandra Wilson, first grade teacher, who was recently granted a maternity leave of absence.

Geraldine Wilfong was hired to replace Jeri Larkin as the school's health and physical education instructor.

A special meeting of the board (See TA BOARD, page 6.)

IF CURRENT weather conditions prevail, Thursday's opener on white tail deer in this area should see a light covering of snow on the ground, which should please the hunter who stalks his game. This picture shows a pair of hunters dragging a nice buck back to their camp in the Michigan northwoods during a previous season. Camping in tents could be uncomfortable during the below freezing weather, but state police warn hunters to be careful with heating equipment. All stoves burning propane gas and similar fuels should be properly vented as deaths result each year through improper equipment. Because of a heavy snowfall during the past two winters, a drop is expected in this year's deer kill, although the number of white tails seems great due to the increasingly higher toll of deer on the highways. An estimated 100,000 deer will be taken during the season and the hunter should make sure of his target before taking aim. Schools of the county are closed Thursday and Friday to permit students and staff to enjoy the hunting.

TA School Taking Bids on 89-Passenger Diesel Buses

Following considerable study in recent months, Tawas Area Board of Education took steps Monday night to determine the actual cost of 89-passenger buses equipped with diesel engines as opposed to the conventional 65-passenger units equipped with gasoline engines.

Although the board did not follow a recommendation of Supt. Allan Dighera and Trans. Dir. David Westcott to advertise for bids on two diesel units and one gasoline engine powered bus, the board did authorize solicitation of bids on one diesel and one conventional bus.

The superintendent said his study had shown that diesels are operated at less than one-half the cost of buses equipped with gasoline engines. Although over-all cost of an 89-passenger diesel unit is considerably higher than a 65-passenger bus, diesel-equipped buses cost 10 cents per mile less to operate.

With present 65-passenger buses averaging 70,000 to 84,000 miles traveled over a seven-year period, a conservative estimate places the saving at $7,000 to $8,400 during the normal life of each bus.

State reimbursement is based on a seven-year program for each bus, but the life of the diesel engine unit is more than three times longer than the conventional unit. In order for the bus bodies to equal the lifetime of the diesel engine, cabs on chassis would be equipped with fiberglass fenders and other metal work where rust is a problem.

In addition to researching literature available on buses, the administration met with James Bolen and Jerry Cotter, both of whom operate diesel truck fleets. The two businessmen advised they were "sold" on diesel engines since such costs enter into their profit and loss picture.

One of the principal savings cited was that miles per gallon traveled with a diesel unit is double that of a conventional gasoline engine. Maintenance cost is also lower for a diesel and those engines have a greater trade-in value.

Although costs are speculative pending receipt of bids, the administration is guessing that the cost of an 89-passenger diesel unit will be $40,000 as compared to $26,000 for the 65-passenger unit equipped with a gasoline engine.

Westcott said that the change to the 89-passenger diesel buses would result in fewer buses in the school's fleet. The school now operates 16 main line buses and that number would be reduced to 12 units over a period of four years through the use of buses with a larger seating ca-capacity. Because of shortage of funds last year, the district did not purchase any buses, which again complicated the replacement schedule. In 1976, the bus fleet was practically worn out and six buses were purchased. Three of those buses are to see limited service this year in order to extend their lifetime before replacement. Administrators also noted that a reduction in student enrollment (See TA BUSES, page 6.)

Pitts Pleads Guilty to Second Degree Murder

A plea of guilty to second degree murder, but mentally ill, was entered Tuesday morning by Donald M. Pitts, 39, who has been held at the Isosco County Jail since the March 24 shooting of an Oscoda man.

The plea was accepted by Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller. No date has been set for sentencing.

Pitts, who had been a custodian at the Tawas City post office, has been held without bond since being charged with firing a shotgun killing Kenneth E. Hoepfner, 28, Oscoda.

The shooting took place in a mobile home occupied by Pitts' estranged wife, Marilyn, who was injured in the blast but was treated at Tawas Hospital and released.

Police were notified about three minutes after the shooting when one of the Pitts children went to the home of a neighbor for assistance. Pitts was later arrested at his own home.

Judge Found No Cause in Miller's Shoreline Suit

United States Dist. Judge James Harvey ruled last week there was no cause for action against the federal government in a suit brought by Allan C. Miller of Tawas City.

Miller, circuit judge here and a former shoreline owner in Baldwin Township, sued the United States Army Corps of Engineers for contributing to the damage of shoreline property through its control of floodgates permitting an unusual amount of water to flow out of Lake Superior.

Judge Harvey ruled that a former shoreline owner in Baldwin Township, sued the United States Army Corps of

Editorials—

Officers-Elect Are Congratulated

This corner extends its congratulations to the new mayor and the four council members elected by voters to serve their community in last week's general election.

It is our sincere hope that a general "healing process" will commence immediately in order to eliminate discord which has pervaded city government and this community for the past several years.

It may not be an easy task, but much can be accomplished through mutual understanding, trust and effective teamwork.

The following paragraph was printed in this newspaper many years ago, but the words are as true today as in 1906, when the then editor penned them:

"There should be no factions in this little city of ours. When there is discord, there is little progress—when there is a united pull, there is little we cannot accomplish. Let us all be friends and pull together, showing our neighbors what harmony can accomplish in building up a town."

Thanks for Long Service to City

Jerry Cotter, who was narrowly defeated last week for re-election to the Tawas City Council, submitted his resignation effective Wednesday in order to permit the appointment of one of the newly-elected members prior to December 31.

Councilman Cotter leaves office with an outstanding record of service to the people of this community, having served four years on the council, five years as city attorney, three years on the city planning commission and a year as chairman of the city charter commission.

His contributions to city government have been invaluable and this corner extends its thanks and commends him for a job well done.

Are Marker Lights Needed?

This is being written after the fact, but it is hoped that Tuesday evening's buggy-car crash on M-65 would encourage Amish families of Western Iosco County to install battery-operated marker lights on horse-drawn vehicles used on state trunklines.

The same could be said for other farm wagons and equipment towed by tractors over state trunklines. The reflector type warning signs installed on the rear of such vehicles are just inadequate to warn traffic approaching from either direction that vehicles are traveling slower than the maximum speed limit.

(Antique automobiles which were equipped with "penlight" size warning lamps at the rear are equally dangerous and clamp-on marker lights should be provided when traveling at night.)

"Some may say we are trying to compare the problems of Tawas City with those of Detroit or other large cities, but the fact is that while Tawas City's social and crime problems do not compare, its economic problems are identical."

These words of City Mgr. Lowell Thomas were included in a "talking paper" concerning the proposed annexation of portions of adjoining townships.

"I am convinced, and even the township officials must agree, that the long range economic health of the entire area is closely related to the economic health of both Tawas City and East Tawas," continued the city manager.

"It is my hope that officials and residents of Tawas City and the surrounding townships can, somehow, detach themselves from the emotional and personal concerns of this question and try to look at it from an historical-social perspective in view of the prime functions and purposes of cities and townships and from a long range economic perspective for the entire area," he stated.

Tawas City Council took preliminary steps last week to annex approximately 240 acres of Tawas Township territory and about 40 acres of Alabaster Township. Petitions seeking annexation submitted to the state boundary commission were modified slightly to seek less additional territory than previously discussed.

"At this time in our country's development, the question of annexation to provide a small city with the kind of varied residential living environment that a township is able to offer is very significant," said Thomas.

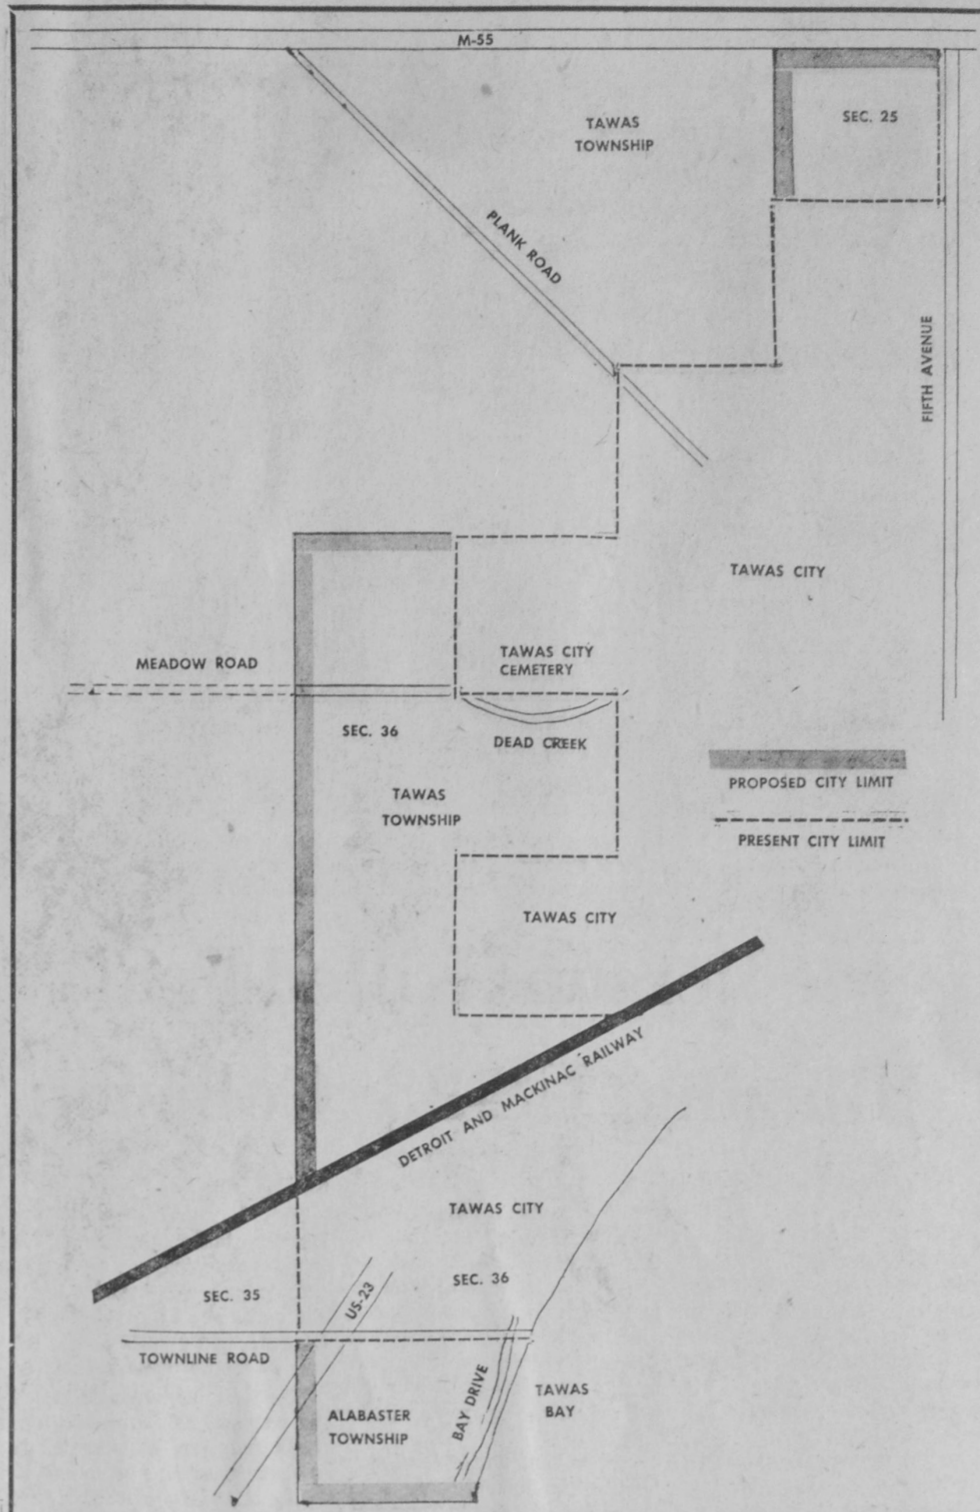

"If the cost of transportation continues to escalate and if it is vital that we conserve fuel and other forms of energy, then more and more families will seriously consider returning to the small city."

"In that event, the city must be in a position to offer a variety of residential living environments so that the broad range of social and economic wants and needs can be met."

"An area of the city must be available for apartments; an area of the city must be available for low to moderate income housing; an area of the city must be available for development of townhouses; an area of the city must be available for half and one acre lots and yes, two-acre lots, to appeal to those who earnestly desire that kind of living environment."

"And perhaps an area of the city should be available for those who wish to raise some of their own food, on a limited basis, of course, be that food animal or vegetable."

While cities continue to retain most of the industrial and commercial base in society, more and more parents moved out to a rural living environment and built a large house on a large piece of land, said Thom-

Mabel Groulx Honored by St. Vincent De Paul Society

In a ceremony at Alpena last week, Mabel Groulx of East Tawas was honored with a certificate of commendation as the Vencentian of the year by the Society of St. Vincent De Paul. This certificate reads as follows: "Not everyone who calls me 'Lord, Lord' will enter the kingdom of Heaven, but only those who do the will of my Heavenly Father. When I called you, few would hear. Mabel Groulx, you have answered with faith and integrity. As a member of St. Vincent De Paul, you have helped feed, clothe and aid the needy, visited the sick, listened to the old and feeble, sacrificed time away from your family so that others can live better in the name of the Lord. For your acts of charity and understanding of others, we present you this testimonial and pray that the Lord will continue to bless and strengthen you as you give witness to your fellow man."

Mrs. Groulx began helping at St. Vincent's in 1969 at Tawas City in the old McKay building. When the store operation was moved to 115 First Street four years ago, she endeared herself to others as Aunt Mabel. While she has lived through many personal tragedies, she continues to serve others because as she said, "I seem to experience God and healing through my efforts for others."

Also attending the ceremony were Lee Hollenbeck, Mr. and Mrs. John Owens.

SSI Is Easier to Get Based on New Rules

New rules now in effect should make it easier for people to qualify for supplemental security income (SSI) payments than in the past, a social security representative said recently.

SSI makes payments to people 65 and over, or disabled, or blind, with limited income and resources.

The new rules:

- Increase the allowed value of a car.
- Change the way the value of resources is figured to take account of any money owed.
- Permit more household goods to be owned.

Before, a car valued at $1,200 or less did not count as a resource. Now, a car valued at $4,500 or less will not count at all. Any excess value counts as a resource.

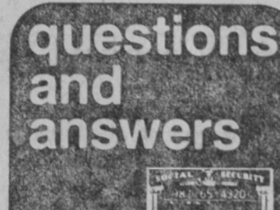

In the past, all resources were figured at their fair market value and any money owed was not taken into account. Now, money owed on a resource will be deducted when the value is figured, except for a car.

Before, household goods and personal property valued at $1,500 or less did not count. Now, the limit has been raised to $2,000. Any excess value counts as a resource.

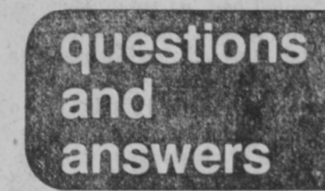

The new rules do not change the basic requirements for SSI payments, the spokesperson said. As before, an individual can get SSI only if he or she has resources that count valued at $1,500 or less. The limit for a couple is $2,250.

More information about SSI can be obtained at any social security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest social security office can be found in the telephone directory under "Social Security Administration."

Q. I'll be 65 in a few months and plan to apply for Medicare. I know Medicare doesn't pay all medical expenses, though, and I've been wondering if I should buy additional health insurance. Can you offer any advice?

A. Many private insurance companies sell health insurance to supplement Medicare. But, before you buy a supplemental policy, carefully examine the benefits offered to make sure you don't buy a policy which is unnecessary or duplicates Medicare coverage. The Health Care Financing Administration puts out a pamphlet called Guide to health insurance for people with Medicare. It describes the kinds of private insurance available and gives useful information about buying supplemental insurance. You can get a free copy at any social security office.

Q. My husband has used up the 90 hospital days that Medicare pays for in a benefit period, but he has to stay in the hospital for several more weeks. Doesn't Medicare provide a certain number of extra days for cases like this?

A. Yes. Medicare hospital insurance includes an extra 60 hospital days that a person can use if he or she ever needs to be in a hospital for more than 90 days in a benefit period. These extra days are called reserve days. But, reserve days are not renewable like the 90 hospital days in each benefit period. Once you use a reserve day, you never get it back.

Q. My wife is 67 and I'm 68. The only income we have is the rent we get from a tenant who lives upstairs. If we're eligible for SSI, how much will our payment be?

A. The maximum Federal SSI payment for an eligible couple is $312.30 a month. The amount of your SSI check may be less, however, depending on how much other income you have, your living arrangements, and other circumstances that affect your financial needs. If you think you're eligible for SSI, you should apply as soon as possible. No payment can be made for months before an application is filed.

Dismissal of Code Charge is Expected

A charge of operating a business in a residential area, contrary to city ordinance, is expected to be dropped against Randall G. Lanski, 428 Mathews Street, Tawas City.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas said Tuesday that Lanski had discontinued the selling of potatoes and deer feed at his home and the city was satisfied that requirements of the ordinance had been met.

A warrant had been served early Thursday ordering a court appearance on Tuesday of this week. It is expected that the city attorney will appear in district court and request dismissal of the charge.

A notice of ordinance violation had been sent to the property owner after a complaint was registered at the city hall.

Expect Higher Lunch Charge at Hale Schools

Rising cost of food and labor may see an increase in the charge for hot lunches at Hale Area School.

A report to the board of education Monday night by Supt. Peter Holley indicated that federal reimbursement for lunches was not keeping pace with actual cost to the district.

At the present time, Hale Area School has one of the lowest lunch charges in the area, with 35 cents daily for elementary students, 40 cents for secondary and 65 cents for adults.

At the start of the second semester, that charge could be increased to 50 cents, 55 cents and 85 cents, depending on results of a study being conducted.

In other matters, the board of education approved a recommendation expelling a student who had threatened a teacher. The expulsion was for the remainder of the school year and the student has the option to enter night school after a period of six months.

A report was given on arrangements being made with Consumers Power Company to pay a $4,000 bill for service. For some unknown reason, one meter at the school had not been read by the power company for 25 months and immediate payment was demanded. After checking with state authorities, an agreement was reached whereby the bill could be paid over a period of a year.

Discussion was held on state assessment test results with Prin. Robert McDonald and Joseph VanderVeen, counselor.

Art classes of secondary and elementary grades are being encouraged to participate in a program to design a new emblem with an educational theme to be used on school stationery.

A special meeting is to be held with the school policy committee to review priorities for school maintenance.

PRESERVING VENISON

Isosco County's Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service office offers the following suggestions for preserving venison.

For freezing, be sure to use wraps or containers made especially for freezing. They will prevent passage of moisture vapor and air and will maintain the original goodness of the meat.

Package in quantities the family will eat in one meal. When packaging steaks and chops, place two layers of waxed paper between individual pieces of meat so that the frozen pieces can be separated for easier thawing and cooking. Label all packages with the cut of meat and the date of packaging. Freeze quickly at zero degrees Fahrenheit or colder by spreading the packages out on the freezer shelves or packing them close to the walls of the freezer.

Recommended storage time for ground meat is two to three months; steak and roasts, eight to 12 months. Shorter freezer time yields better quality meat. All frozen venison should be used within a year.

Venison may be successfully home canned with a pressure canner. For instructions, contact the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service office at 362-3449, and ask for a copy of USDA publication, "Home Canning of Meat and Poultry." Follow the directions carefully.

Venison, like other meats, can be cured at home. If a commercial curing preparation is used, follow the manufacturer's directions. If making the brine, use a sweet-pickle solution. To make brine: Heat 4½ gallons of water. Add eight pounds salt, two pounds sugar and two ounces saltpeter. Stir until the ingredients dissolve. Skim the surface and cool the brine to 40 degrees Fahrenheit before using. Chill the venison to a temperature between 34 and 40 degrees Fahrenheit and then trim the meat into pieces all as near the same size as possible. The best cut of venison to use is the upper portion of the round, which contains no fat and can be separated fairly eas-

School Board Heard Report on Last Year's CAT Results

A report on results of the California Achievement Test given to elementary and 10th grade students last year was presented Monday night to Tawas Area Board of Education by Jerry Youngs, junior high principal. Last year was the first time that this school conducted such a comprehensive district-wide testing program. In the past, the school used two or three different tests which did not provide continuity.

"We were getting some results, but we could not compare test scores from two or three different tests with any kind of reliability," said Youngs. "We now are all using the same test instrument which we feel is a giant step in the right direction as we attempt to improve our curriculum."

He also stated that the individual student report, sent home to parents, is a good communications tool and, if used properly, would allow parents to follow the progress of their children in a logical and sequential manner. Approximately 1,200 students in grades kindergarten through eight along with the 10th grade, were given the test in early spring and administered by the classroom teachers. Once tests are completed, they are mailed to California where the tests are machine scored. The scoring service provides the school with class record sheets and individual student reports at a cost of approximately $1 per student. Items in the test are based on the objectives stated in recent curriculum guides, textbooks and other instructional materials used by school systems in all parts of the country. Test questions were written specifically to measure the objective referred to previously and were tested with thousands of students during the experimental stages of development. Most all of the objectives measured by the Michigan Assessment Test are also measured by CAT.

"On an average, 60 percent of our students were at or above grade level on the CAT test, dealing basically with reading, mathematics and study skills. It will be interesting to see test results from this year when a comparison can be made," said Youngs.

Keith McCready Recognized by NCTE for Writing Ability

Keith McCready of Tawas Area High School has been cited for outstanding performance in writing. The National Council of Teachers of English has named him a winner of a 1979 Achievement Award in Writing. The NCTE writing contest is held annually beginning in January. Over 7,000 students were nominated last February by their English teachers for the competition and each nominee submitted a sample of his/her best writing and impromptu essay. These compositions were evaluated by state judging teams of both high school and college English teachers. The approximately 850 finalists selected each year represent high schools in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and American schools abroad. The number of possible winners for each state is keyed to state population.

The council recommends the award finalists, now seniors, for college scholarships in 1979, should they need such assistance. Names of the students are sent to admissions officers and English department chairs at two and four-year colleges and universities.

The National Council of Teachers of English is a professional organization of individual and institutional members at all levels of instruction. Its goal is to increase the effectiveness of the teaching of English language and literature in the nation's schools and colleges. NCTE furnishes such teaching aids as books and recordings and publishes several professional journals, among them "College English" and "English Journal." McCready is the son of Judge and Mrs. William McCready of Tawas City.

ment would require fewer buses in the fleet. This may not prove to be a factor as the number of student-operated private cars in the school parking lot is down somewhat this term, due presumably to the higher cost of fuel.

Last year, the school bus fleet transported an average of 1,247 students daily out of a total enrollment of 1,757. Although exact figures were not available Monday night, the percentage of students riding buses is believed to be higher this term.

TA Board

is to be held December 3 to take action on an application to the Municipal Finance Commission on a $400,000 tax anticipation loan for school operation.

The board authorized an expenditure of $600 to $1,000 to complete its application for a federal energy grant. Results of preliminary application indicate that the district does not have as high a priority as originally anticipated, but it is believed the district will qualify for funds on either the first or second allotments.

A special work session is to be held November 26 to discuss the management by objective survey to be conducted in the district in the near future.

THANKS

We would like to thank the Tawas Area business persons for helping to make the 10th annual Football Banquet a success through their donations.

County Commission OKs Revenue Sharing Budget

Routine matters handled by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners Wednesday included adoption of an amended federal revenue sharing budget for 1980. The budget calls for an expenditure of $247,199 in federal revenue sharing funds, including $20,000 for computer capital expense, $111,190 for the landfill contract, $76,000 for the courthouse addition and debt retirement, $40,000 for airport expansion.

Funds available include a balance of $264,046 from the previous year, 1980 revenue of $334,684 and $21,000 representing interest on investment of funds for total revenue of $619,730. The balance carried over for debt retirement is $372,540.

In other matters, the board denied a $3,750 bill submitted by Roger McIntosh for site work and construction of taxiway extension to serve an aircraft hangar located on land leased from the county. Action indicated that the work had not been authorized by the board. A letter from McIntosh said that his lease indicated the taxiway would be extended to the property line. He said the work had been done at his own expense and he wished reimbursement. A resolution was adopted designating the county board of commissioners as the management agency for treatment facilities and interceptor systems as identified in the area wide water quality management plan for East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region.

The board entered into an agreement with BGC Graphic Equipment Company of Holland for servicing microfilm equipment in the register of deeds office. A similar agreement had been canceled several years ago in an economy move. Cost of the four-times-a-year servicing of equipment is $1,885.88.

The board authorized a full-time trainee in the register of deeds department contingent upon the retirement of the deputy register of deeds. The position would revert to a swing position if the deputy does not retire. The new full-time trainee position is to commence November 13.

Stephen H. Naegle, prosecuting attorney, was named director of the cooperative reimbursement program of the Department of Social Services for 1979-80. The prosecutor would handle all legal work related to various support actions, carry out provisions concerning the establishment of paternity and child support in cooperation with the social services department.

No action was taken on a recommendation that a certified public accountant be hired to audit federal revenue sharing money received by the county. Preliminary investigation revealed that federal or state personnel have handled the audit in the past.

The Michigan Aeronautics Commission has requested a meeting with the commission to discuss a change in plans at the county airport.

J. D. Carpenter Died in Florida

He was born May 15, 1895, in Grant Township and was a veteran of World War I having served in the United States Air Force in France. He retired from General Motors in Flint in 1963.

Graveside rites will be held locally at Memory Garden Cemetery, Tawas City, at a later date.

Survivors include three sisters, Grace Miller of Chelsea, Evelyn Fahselt of Tawas City and Maud VanHouten of Montrose; two brothers, Oren and Elmer Carpenter of East Tawas.

Revisiting Henrietta Thornton's Front Parlor Grocery Store

The front parlor grocery, once a familiar family business, has practically disappeared from the scene in rural Michigan. Rarely does one encounter one of these quaint enterprises—holdovers from an era when the horse and wagon provided the principal means of transportation for farm families.

Although similar enterprises now called party stores continue to flourish, Iosco County has been without a true front parlor grocery for almost two decades, coinciding with the retirement and subsequent death of Henrietta Thornton of AuSable.

This interesting local facet of historical Americana was recorded and preserved for a later day through a pictorial essay published nearly 20 years ago by this newspaper. The Herald photographer visited the proprietress of Iosco's last front parlor grocery in May 1961, and came away with a series of pictures which cannot be duplicated today.

Mrs. Thornton (no relation to the Herald publishers) was 93 years of age at the time of the visit and she had operated her little store at the same location for 33 years.

The frail, but chipper little businesswoman recounted that she had come to Iosco County as a child in 1881. Those were boom times for the white pine lumber industry at AuSable-Oscoda and male members of her family were employed in local mills. Although it would not be too many years before the sawmills disappeared forever and the thriving community of AuSable was reduced to ashes by the fire of 1911, Henrietta and her family remained in the AuSable area.

Many years after her marriage, she and her husband established their little grocery store in the living room of their home in 1929. The location was excellent for their home fronted on the original route of US-23, which wound its way through Iosco County on a zig-zag route, passing through the Tawas and then north to AuSable-Oscoda via a gravel road through Wilber Township.

Passing motorists traveling in open cars of the day found Henrietta's front parlor grocery a convenient stopping place and a brief respite during the dusty trip. There, they could purchase cold luncheon meats and bread, or snacks and soft drinks for the children.

A number of similar stores were located along the route of old US-23, many of them providing the convenience of a hand-operated gasoline pump to "slake the thirst" of nearly empty fuel tanks of automobiles. With the rerouting of old US-

23 along its present Huron Shore Road route, many of the little stores along old US-23 simply faded from the scene, but not the front parlor grocery at AuSable. After the death of her husband in 1935, Henrietta continued operating her business as a convenience for neighbor families and the few motorists who chose to travel along the inland route.

The front parlor grocery of Henrietta Thornton was a familiar stopping place for the delivery truck of Alpena Candy Company of Tawas City, which provided a good share of the merchandise required for the store's well-stocked shelves.

The little store was a popular gathering place for neighbor children, who would pedal their bicycles to Henrietta's to spend their few pennies for licorice whips, jawbreakers, soft drinks or wax novelties filled with sugar water—most of which remain only in the memory of an older generation. They also loved to hear the stories concerning early days of AuSable told by the storekeeper.

Like many of her generation born before Social Security, Mrs. Thornton continued to support herself without any outside assistance through profits from the store. It was a matter of remaining independent and retaining their own dignity for an earlier generation and it was for this reason that Charles Smith, then supervisor of Oscoda Township, suggested the story to this newspaper as a means of pre-

DRIVER of this horse-drawn buggy miraculously escaped injury the evening of November 6 in a crash on M-65 north of Whittemore. Mariam Miller, 18, Whittemore, was northbound in her Amish family's buggy when it was struck from the rear by Lyle LaBerge, 67, Whittemore. Driver of the car said he did not see the black-painted buggy until it was too late to avoid a collision.

Neither the buggy driver nor the horse were injured in the crash, but the wooden vehicle was reduced to kindling. The picture below shows new signs recently purchased by the county for installation on M-65 and M-55 warning motorists of horse-drawn vehicles being used in that area by Amish families. This sign is located about three miles north of the crash scene.—Tawas Herald Photo.

(Read Romans 13:1-8)
"Owe no one anything, except to love one another; for he who loves his neighbor has fulfilled the law." (Romans 13:8 RSV)

"I wish I knew more about the Bible!" The speaker was a bright student who, at the moment in my senior literature class, realized how little she really knew about the greatest book.

As a public school teacher, I am aware of the mandate to keep religion out of the classroom. Yet, literature contains so many references to the Bible that I often find myself explaining well-known stories as well as obscure ones—Jephthah's daughter or Job or Ishmael, for example. My teaching should be neutral, but how can I perform as a Christian at the same time?

Paul's letter instructed the Romans to use their individual gifts for the greater good but he also cautioned them to obey the law. Paul also said that all authority comes from God and that he who loves his neighbor has fulfilled the law.

My Christian belief should be evident in my respect for students and fellow teachers, my willingness to help beyond the requirements of the job, my gentleness of spirit and my serenity of mind. I try to behave like a Christian so that my students can recognize my source of strength. In living my faith, I can speak with a voice louder than words.

PRAYER
Father, help us to live as Christ taught and to love all persons. Amen.

Highlights And Sidelights

Headlee Says His Bill is Working

FARMINGTON HILLS—Richard H. Headlee, citizen-leader of the popular taxpayer movement in Michigan which voted to change the state constitution through a state-wide vote exactly one year ago, issued his first annual report on Proposal E, the tax limitation amendment. "Michigan's tax limitation amendment has proven successful in limiting taxes," Headlee stated from his office in Farmington Hills, "and it is fitting that we should be reporting its success following recent adoption of similar amendments in the States of Washington and California.

"In the last 10 years before passage of the tax limitation amendment, state and local taxes in Michigan increased twice as fast as the people's ability to pay, based on their personal income," Headlee said.

"We said the amendment would limit taxes in Michigan and since the amendment went into effect, state and local tax increases have indeed been limited and most units of local government have completed millage rollbacks," Headlee stated.

Such millage rollbacks under the property tax provision of the amendment have been completed in 70 percent of the counties, 74 percent of the intermediate school districts, 72 percent of the townships, 47 percent of the cities, 64 percent of the school districts and 72 percent of the villages.

Gerald Miller, state budget director, recently reported property tax increases in 1979 have been rolled back 40-million to 50-million dollars because of the Headlee Amendment. During the 10 years before tax limitation, state spending in Michigan, according to Headlee, "was out of control."

"Effective October 1, a provision in the tax limitation amendment limits state spending in the future to less than 9.94 percent of gross personal income," Headlee recently said. "Estimated state revenues from current tax sources for the present fiscal year are 7.2-billion dollars. While the amendment caps state spending at 7.6-billion dollars, or 450-million dollars more than currently budgeted, no one in Lansing has yet attempted to introduce a new way to raise taxes to reach the spending limit. We should be vigilant to prevent them from doing so whenever possible," Headlee stated.

In fact, the total number of new bills introduced in the Michigan legislature is down 30 percent in 1979 from 1978," Headlee points out. "Legislators are hearing the mandate of the people to hold down spending by not introducing as many spending bills as they did before the tax limitation amendment became law."

Because of the Headlee Amendment, Section 25 of the Michigan Constitution now begins:

"Property taxes and other local taxes and state taxation and spending may not be increased above the limitations specified herein without direct voter approval."

"The state is prohibited from requiring any new or expanded activities by local governments without full state financing, from reducing the proportion of state spending in the form of aid to local governments or from shifting the tax burden to local government.

"That facet of the tax limitation amendment which took away some of the decision-making power of the governor and state legislature and requires 41 cents of every state tax dollar to be sent back to the local communities in order to support local programs has developed into a surprise benefit for most community leaders," Headlee said.

Halloween Fun

PATIENTS of Iosco County Medical Care Facility were entertained with a Halloween party which featured volunteers and aides dressed in costumes to fit the occasion.

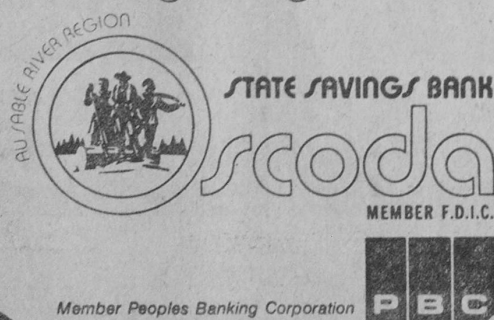

Refreshments were served to patients in the day room and a good time was had by all. —Tawas Herald Photos.

TAWAS CITY COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES - October 15, 1979.

Meeting called to order at 7:00 PM at City Hall by Mayor Cholger.

Present: Cholger, Lansky, Keiser, Cotter, Rollin. Absent: Hayes, Landon. Others: Mgr. Thomas, Supt. Look.

Alabaster Township elected officials: Crawford, Hammond, Weible, Lutes. Tawas Township elected officials: Koepke, Katterman, Hughes, Grabow, Look.

Manager introduced City's proposal for annexation of enumerated areas presently adjoining City boundaries, speaking on Tawas City's desperate need to assure its economic survival by expanding its tax base and providing opportunity for varied living environments.

Alabaster Township officials presented their position, stressing that what they would lose would be of minor significance to Tawas City but a major loss of population and prime residential area for them.

Tawas Township officials objected to loss of area presently used for business purposes, stated their fear of repeated encroachment into the Township, and expressed concern that residents would not have a vote under the present law. They were assured that Township officials would be given notice of any action toward annexation taken by the City.

Minutes of October 1 meeting approved.

Resolution by Rollin supported by Cotter that Postmaster Hosbach be requested to proceed in an attempt to provide door-to-door delivery in the City; carried.

Discussion had on solution to Brooks's junk yard business encroaching on City street rights of way. Consensus of Council was that City should no longer tolerate conditions which have been allowed to exist in that residential neighborhood.

Storage, even on a temporary basis, of wrecked vehicles in areas not zoned for such, is to be eliminated as quickly as can be.

Following discussion of the US 23 study to be considered at the DOT Public Hearing October 24, the following Resolution was offered by Cotter, supported by Keiser:

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Tawas City has long recognized the unsafe and congested condition of U. S. 23, and WHEREAS, the City Council has, over the years and on other occasions, urged the State of Michigan to make major improvements to or rebuild U. S. 23, and

WHEREAS, the State appears to have ignored northeastern Michigan while all other areas of the Lower Peninsula have received new highways, and

WHEREAS, this neglect has resulted in the loss of lives on an unsafe highway, and social and economic suffocation of our area, and WHEREAS, a recent study by the State and East Central Michigan Planning and Development Reg on has confirmed the severe deficiencies of U. S. 23, and

WHEREAS, the economic survival of northeastern Michigan will depend upon how soon and to what extent the State upgrades and modernizes this area's most critical highway artery.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the City Council of the City of Tawas City does urge the State to take immediate steps toward developing workable alternatives for making major capital improvements to U. S. 23, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that such alternatives should include a new limited access highway, or widening the present highway to four (4) lanes with bypasses around population centers for through traffic.

Roll call vote: yes, Lansky, Keiser, Cotter, Rollin; no, Cholger. Motion declared adopted.

Resolution offered by Rollin, supported by Lansky, as follows:

RESOLVED, That it is hereby deemed advisable to authorize Consumers Power Company to make changes in the streetlighting service as provided in the Standard Streetlighting Contract between the Company and the City of Tawas City dated January 3, 1977, in accordance with the Authorization for Change in Standard Streetlighting Contract dated as of October 15, 1979, heretofore submitted to and considered by this Council; and RESOLVED, Further, That the City Manager and City Clerk be and are authorized to execute such authorization for change on behalf of the City.

Carried; resolution declared adopted.

Motion by Keiser seconded by Rollin that Mayor and Clerk be authorized to execute a new 12-month contract with Vilcan-Leman & Associates, Inc., Planning Consultant; roll call vote: unanimous yes.

Motion by Cotter seconded by Rollin that Mayor and Clerk be authorized to execute contract with Edmonds Engineering, Inc. for design engineering and construction engineering for completion of the City Fishing Pier; roll call vote: unanimous yes.

Motion by Keiser seconded by Lansky that $1635 be appropriated from the surplus and unappropriated funds of the General Fund of City Attorney account of the budget; roll call vote:

unanimous yes.

 "I like to feel that I am independent—if I did not have something to do, I would not last long," Mrs. Thornton told the Herald reporter.
 Due to her advanced age, Henrietta finally had to retire from business and she passed away a few years later. The last front parlor grocery store in Iosco County passed with her retirement, but the pictures snapped that day in May 1961 have survived to tell the story of a once-familiar business enterprise in rural areas and the frail little woman who was the last of her kind.

SEATED in her living room (top photo), Henrietta Thornton watches as a customer enters the front door of her tiny front parlor grocery. The aged widow supported herself without federal or state assistance through profits from her business. —Tawas Herald Photos.

Turkey --- Great American Bird, is a National Symbol

Turkey, known as the great American bird, has become a symbol of thanks for a bountiful harvest as well as the traditional dish for Christmas and other celebrations.

Good things growing in Michigan include about 1.2-million turkeys, more than 30-million pounds, marketed in 1978, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. This season's estimates are slightly less in this state, however, national production is expected to be the largest ever.

About 40 percent of Michigan's turkey production goes into processed foods. Facilities to readily freeze turkeys make the birds available year around, while improved breeding stocks produce tender, broad-breasted turkeys with large meaty thighs and drumsticks.

Roast turkey with all the trimmings is a feast and leftovers are great for making sandwiches, turkey pie with homemade biscuits baked on top or chop suey. Additional ideas to add to a recipe file for leftovers are turkey divan, hash and tetrazzini.

For turkey d'van, place slices of roast turkey breast in a shallow baking dish. Top with cooked broccoli. Cover with your favorite sharp cheese sauce. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and grated cheese. Bake for 15 minutes at 375 degrees.

Turkey hash is prepared by sauteing one-half cup each chopped onion and green pepper in five tablespoons of garlic seasoned butter. Add three cups diced, cooked turkey and one cup stuffing. Allow the mixture to cook over medium heat until thoroughly warmed. Pour two-thirds cup heavy cream over the mixture and cook until blended and piping hot. Top with one-half cup grated cheese and place under broiler to melt.

For turkey tetrazzini, combine two tablespoons melted butter, one tablespoon flour, one can cream of mushroom soup and one cup milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Mix two cups diced, cooked turkey; one four-ounce can mushrooms, and one-half cup peas into sauce. Put one-half pound cooked spaghetti in the bottom of a baking dish. Pour turkey mixture over this and sprinkle with cheese. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.
