

New Group Would Monitor Lake Huron Fish Plantings

At Thursday's meeting of Tawas City Business Association, Rod McLaren of Oscoda Marine announced formation of a new organization which is interested in sport fishing conditions of Lake Huron.

The new organization would monitor fish plantings by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources in Lake Huron and would cooperate with the state to encourage such plantings. The Oscoda businessman expressed the opinion that sports fishermen of Eastern Michigan should receive their fair share of fish plantings financed through state fishing license fees paid by sports fishermen. He told the 34 persons in attendance that a planting of at least 50,000 fish was needed annually in this area to maintain a sports fishery.

East Tawas in Agreement With State on New Facility

An agreement between the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the City of East Tawas relative to development of a new toilet building and parking lot to serve the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock was turned over to the city park commission for action.

According to the agreement, the state would pay engineering costs for the project, which is scheduled to start next spring with a fall completion date.

In addition, the state would pay the city a percentage of its cost for maintaining the parking lot and administering the facility. As a result, no meters would be required in the parking lot.

Plans prepared by Spicer Engineering Company for development of the project were approved by the city council, subject to approval of the park commission.

When completed, the city owned property would be turned over to the state with the stipulation that the property would revert to the city unless used for public recreation purposes.

The new toilet facility would be located about 35 feet from the community building on the lawn area adjacent to the present parking area along the shore east of the dock.

In other business, the council approved a taxi ordinance designed to assure safe and dependable taxi service in the city. The planning commission conducted the hearing and no objections to the ordinance were heard.

Charles Pierson was given permission to solicit patrons for the Isco-Wurtsmith Singers.

Two requests for rezoning at the "Y" intersection of US-23 and Tawas Beach Road were turned over to the planning commission for a recommendation.

Discussion was held on recent action of the zoning board of appeals which denied a permit for a gift shop proposed for the former Northern Plumbing Building on US-23. Because of the difficulty of the owner to meet requirements in this resort A zone, which prohibits such commercial use, the city is to continue discussion on possible revision of regulations.

The city is to apply to the Isco County Board of Public Works for permission to borrow from excess funds available in a city water project for extension of water mains between Green Road and Tawas Lake. The city seeks to borrow $30,000 at five percent interest to purchase materials for the project. The city crew would construct the mains.

Upon appeal from businessmen, the city council agreed to remove parking meter posts from city streets. Parking meters were discontinued about a year ago and it was felt that removal of posts would improve sidewalk snow removal and eliminate a hazard to motorists.

The council agreed to rehire a part time employee to enforce the city's two-hour parking restriction.

A one year contract was approved with Donald J. Gollinger for leasing the Log Cabin Bait Shop at the city park. The new contract calls for a $1,000 down payment and three percent of gross receipts paid to the city. The former two-year contract called for a down payment of $600, plus one percent of the gross the first year and two percent of the gross the second year.

Russell Small was authorized to survey Lincoln Street east to the cemetery in order to remove trees to facilitate construction of proper drainage ditches.

MUNICIPAL FACILITY LOSES Voters Name New Mayor and Three New Councilmen

For the second time in less than a year, Tawas City voters turned down a $500,000 bonding proposition to build a new municipal center by a narrow margin, 387-325.

A total of 717 persons representing 64½ percent of the city's total registered voter list, went to the polls during a day-long drizzle.

But the big surprise in Tuesday's general election was reserved for city officers. Voters named a new mayor and elected three new councilmen.

David Westcott will be Tawas City's new mayor effective January 1 after tallying substantial margins in all three precincts to defeat incumbent two-term mayor, Herbert Cholger, 399-297.

Elected to the three four-year terms on the council were John (Joe) Martin, Robert Pawloski and Florence Upson. Martin was top vote getter of the three with precinct counts of 154-171-136 for a total of 461. Pawloski was next with precinct counts of 107-113-134 for a total of 354. Mrs. Upson had precinct totals of 99-132-102 for a total of 333.

Donald Hayes was elected to fill the two-year vacancy on the council, defeating Lois Lanski, 348 to 297. Hayes had been appointed by the council to fill the position.

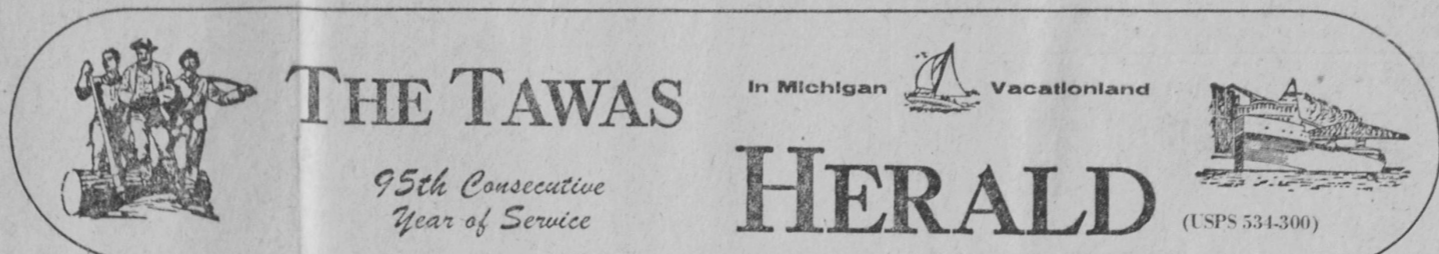

Narrowly defeated for re-election was Jerry Cotter, who totaled 327 votes on precinct counts of 93-106-128. Also defeated for re-election was Robert N. Rollin, who had 299 votes.

Mrs. Upson was the only winner among candidates supported by Allied Taxpayers. Cholger, Rollin and Mrs. Lanski were all endorsed by that group, which opposed the municipal facility proposal.

Charles Landon, who resigned from the council, received 61 votes. Boynton-St. James, a write-in candidate, had 45 votes.

Mayor-Elect Westcott, along with Councilmen-Elect Martin, Pawloski, Upson and Hayes will join Coun. Hugo Keiser and James Lansky on the city council effective January 1. Keiser and Lansky have two years remaining on four-year terms.

City Council Takes First Step

Annexation Petitions OK'd

In the face of mounting opposition from adjoining townships, Tawas City Council voted Monday night to petition the state boundary commission seeking annexation of adjoining properties in both Tawas and Alabaster Townships.

Action by the council was not unanimous in either instance, with two dissenting votes on the petition involving Tawas Township and one dissenting vote on the petition for Alabaster Township.

The city's plans for proposed annexation were first discussed at a meeting last month and a public hearing was held with representatives of both townships on October 15. Officials of each township indicated at that meeting that they would fight any annexation petitions presented by the city to the state boundary commission.

Maps of the areas proposed for annexation adopted Monday night by the council indicate that the city seeks to annex approximately 240 acres of Tawas Township territory and approximately 40 acres of Alabaster Township.

Proposed areas for annexation were modified somewhat from maps presented last month and indicate the city seeks less additional territory than previously discussed.

The area proposed for annexation in Tawas Township extends from the section corner behind the Alibi Inn north on the section line between Sections 35 and 36 to the north quarter line of Section 25. A second area proposed for annexation is 40 acres of Section 25 bounded by M-55 and Fifth Avenue.

In Alabaster Township, the proposed line would extend south from the section line between Sections 35 and 36 to the quarter line. Depth of the parcel would be approximately 1,320 feet west of Townline Road and about three-quarters of that area along Bay Drive is served by city water.

Treas. John Weible of Alabaster was present at the meeting and suggested that action by the city be delayed until after a public hearing scheduled at West Branch by State Rep. Tom Alley to consider proposed changes to annexation laws.

One of the principal changes to the annexation law being proposed by the Michigan Townships Association is that property owners of the areas affected would be given the opportunity to vote on the question. Under the present law, a vote is not held unless the area to be annexed contains a population of 100. None of the areas being considered for annexation by the city meet the population requirements for a vote.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas told members of the council Monday night that if the city does not take action now on annexation, it probably never would be able to do so as he believed that the present law possibly will be changed. He said the Michigan Townships Association had agreed to a compromise with cities under the present law, but MTA was now attempting to change the law.

Thomas expressed the opinion that any change made in the law would not be retroactive to include petitions presented to the boundary commission prior to any change in the law.

The city manager said that both the positions of the city and the townships would be heard by the state boundary commission. "What we have to do is to get the wheels rolling so a decision will be made under the present law," said Thomas.

Coun. Donald Hayes expressed concern that the area originally considered for annexation included two bars, the Alibi Inn in Alabaster Township and the Roadhouse Bar in Tawas Township. He questioned if Tawas City had sufficient population to meet state liquor commission rules for two additional liquor licenses. He also believed that if the townships lost those licenses, both would be immediately eligible for new licenses.

Council action in adopting an alternative map completely eliminated the Roadhouse Bar from the area to be annexed in Tawas Township. The Alibi Inn, however, is included in the proposed area to be annexed from Alabaster Township.

Coun. Robert N. Rollin expressed the opinion that action should be delayed until after hearings are held on proposed changes to the annexation laws.

A motion by Coun. Hugo Keiser striking out the area lying south of the railroad tracks in Tawas Township, but including the approximately 240 acres of land, was adopted by a three to two roll call. Voting in favor were Coun. James Lansky, Keiser and Jerry Cotter. Opposed were Rollin and Mayor Cholger.

Councilman Hayes, whose business place is located near but not included in the proposed annexation area, abstained from voting.

Cotter's motion on the annexation petition involving Alabaster

Township was adopted by a four to one roll call with Lansky, Keiser, Cotter and Cholger voting in favor and Rollin voting in opposition. Hayes again abstained from voting.

RANDALL LANSKI of Tawas City is shown here with the efforts of one day his trapping last week. He is shown with a coyote and three red fox. Lanski said he and other Isco trappers were upset over a statement made by a Michigan Department of Resources representative which questioned the ability of local trappers. The state arranged for a Torch Lake trapper to catch coyotes which were molesting livestock in Western Isco County. Lanski felt that several Isco trappers were equally well qualified to do the job.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Would Amend TC Water Ordinance

First reading on an amendment to Ordinance No. 142 clarifying the 100 percent surcharge for water service paid by all nontaxpaying property was held Monday night by the Tawas City Council.

In addition, the amendment provides that 60 percent of the water charges for all property would be used to determine the sewer service charge.

This action was taken following a number of questions from schools, churches and county officials protesting the new water rate adopted June 7, 1977.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas said that minutes of the June 20, 1977, council meeting revealed only that water board minutes had been accepted. He said that the rate adjustment, as well as the surcharge, should have been implemented in ordinance form by the council.

"I am not sure the city council has the authority to charge a special rate to nonproperty taxpayers located in the city. And, if the council does have the authority, I think it takes an ordinance to implement it," said Thomas.

In addition, he pointed out that the council's 1977 action involved a question of discriminatory rates without authorizing action. As a result of his recommendation and that of the water board, the amendment corrects those deficiencies.

A 100 percent surcharge for water service paid by six different categories include: 1. Schools and colleges; churches and lodges; hospitals; governmental offices (courthouse, city hall, library, public works garages, etc.); property outside the city limits; other tax exempt properties.

All other users and properties pay no surcharge. One of the changes in the new schedule is that city-owned buildings pay the same surcharge for water service.

A classification system was also adopted to specify the percentage of the water rate to determine the charge for sanitary sewer service. If a user is not connected to the city water system, the user is required to install a water meter and clock on the well or other source of water serving the property to determine consumption. The user's sewer charge would be a percentage of what the water charge would be if water were provided by the city.

The water charge adopted in 1977 is 50 cents per 1,000 gallons, plus the meter size and ready to serve charge, plus the 100 percent surcharge on water usage to all nonproperty tax paying water customers.

The city manager said there had been a delayed and inconsistent application of the city's policy. The increase was to take effect July 1, 1977, but the surcharge was not added to the hospital bill until the first quarter of 1978 and the school did not receive the surcharge until the last quarter of 1978. The churches were not charged until the billing which commenced after July 1, 1979.

"In some instances, the surcharge involved doubling only the consumption charge, while in other instances, the consumption charge and the ready-to-serve charge were added together and the 100 percent surcharge (See ORDINANCE, page 6.)

Minor Line Item Changes, but Budget Total Remains

Minor line item changes were made during Wednesday's public hearing, but the bottom line in the 1980 operational budget for Isco County remains at $2,865,789. This figure was adopted two weeks ago by the county board of commissioners.

Of principal concern for the moment, however, is the unresolved budget deficiency for operation of the sheriff's department. Total funds budgeted for law enforcement next year amount to $622,129, which falls short of projected expenses.

The county and deputies have not come to agreement yet on a new salary contract and any settlement reached in state arbitration would be retroactive for an entire year as deputies worked without a contract in 1979.

Unless cuts are made elsewhere in the sheriff's department budget, and that is not anticipated due to inflation, some personnel cuts may be required.

The county learned a week ago that personnel cuts would not jeopardize the $51,330 received from the state road patrol contract. Sheriff George Westcott told commissioners Wednesday that a reduction in personnel could affect road patrols. He said the $38,930 received under the contract with Tawas City for police protection was an important revenue to the county and service to the city would be maintained at the current level in order to protect that contract.

Under the new budget, a seven percent salary increase was included for all employees and elective officers.

The commission also authorized payment of a $7,000 supplement to the state salary received by the district judge, in line with a proportionate supplement authorized by Arenac County. Reductions in line items were made to the district court budget.

Appropriations of $500 each were made to East Michigan

Tourist Association and Isco Soil Conservation Service, which had not been made in the original budget. An allocation of $500 to the building authority was eliminated.

Following a discussion with Floyd Smith, mental health director, the commission authorized an appropriation of $5,000 to the mental health budget. This money provides necessary matching funds to receive $145,798 in state and federal funds to expand the counseling program of the mental health service. It is anticipated that this additional counseling will lower the county's present budgeted expenditures of $24,000 for state institutions. (See COMMISSION, page 6.)

Southgate Man Believed Killed While Loading Gun

A 57-year-old Southgate man, Wilbert Hall, was accidentally shot and killed in a gun accident Saturday in Alabaster Township.

Hall, who has a cabin on Whittemore Road, 1½ miles west of US-23, was found on the ground in front of his garage by a passing motorist.

Investigating officers from the Isco County Sheriff's Department said that equipment which had been used to clean a shotgun was found in the garage.

Officers believe that Hall may have loaded a .410 gauge shotgun after cleaning the weapon and the trigger may have snagged on something as he pulled the gun toward him.

Council Votes to Wait Until After Election to Fill Chair

A move to appoint Florence Upson to fill a council vacancy on the eve of Tuesday's general election was defeated Monday night by a four to two roll call of the Tawas City Council.

Maud Braman appeared before the council and read a letter urging Mrs. Upson's appointment to succeed Charles Landon, who resigned last month. Mrs. Upson was a candidate in Tuesday's election for the city council and Mrs. Braman pointed out that she received the second highest number of votes cast for a council seat in the August primary. She felt it was necessary to fill the vacancy immediately due to legal questions which might arise out of action taken by the council with a vacant chair.

Coun. Robert N. Rollin made a motion to appoint Mrs. Upson to fill the vacancy, which was supported by Mayor Herbert Cholger, Cholger and Rollin voted "yes" and four "no" votes were cast by Coun. James Lansky, Donald Hayes, Jerry Cotter and Hugo Keiser.

Cotter expressed the opinion that the matter would be settled by voters at the general election Tuesday and the matter of filling the vacancy could be handled at the next regular meeting on November 19.

Hired to Blast Jail Cells

Robert Jones of Tawas Township has accepted a contract to demolish the interior of the Ogemaw County Jail at West Branch.

Later this week, Jones will be using nitroglycerin to remove eight-inch reinforced concrete walls in the jail cells which were constructed about 25 years ago. Davison and Son Builders, Tawas City, is contractor for the jail remodeling project.

The thick concrete walls could not be removed by the use of conventional air hammers and Jones was called upon to use his expertise with explosives.

"It will be a touchy job," Jones told the Herald Monday as the building will remain in use during the blast. Pressure of the detonation is expected to be in excess of one million pounds per cubic inch and a temperature of 4,000 degrees centigrade is anticipated.

The sheriff's department radio equipment is located only 30 feet from one wall to be removed and is to remain in operation during the blast.

(Read Luke 6:31-38) "Give as freely as you have received!" (Matthew 10:8 TLB)

Recently, our daily paper ran an article about the rural mail carrier who loved colorful flowers and enjoyed sharing them. Years ago, he began his project with a few packets of flower seeds that reseed themselves. He scattered them beside the road along his mail route. Each year, he throws out seeds in new areas.

He takes pride in the beauty he has instigated and enjoys the colorful patches which he has planted. His customers are delighted with the flowers and are now adding to his efforts. Every spring, he shares his brand of love by faithfully scattering more seeds.

God showed His love for us by giving His Son, Jesus Christ. Because of this, we are able to return God's love and fellowship with Him. We also have the joy of sharing God's love, and ours, with others. The more we give love, the more enriched our own lives become.

PRAYER

Heavenly Father, thank You for giving Your love so freely. Help us to be more faithful in sharing Your love with others. In the name of Christ. Amen.

Four Receive Degrees from OES Order

During a special meeting of Tawas Bay Chapter No. 71, Order of the Eastern Star, Monday, October 29, the degrees of the order were conferred on Marian King, Roscoe Lee, William Englebrecht and Donald Burris. Grace Weeden, worthy matron, invited Roland Bugh, worthy patron, to confer the degree. He was assisted by William McDonald, past patron, and Wilbur Roach, associate patron.

Mrs. Weeden made introductions and announced the date of closed installation of 1980 officers as Thursday, November 8. Refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed by 75 members and guests.

Would Assist With Forms

Mrs. Hugh Prescott, service officer of Jesse C. Hodder Post No. 189, American Legion, announces that she will be at the post Thursday, November 8, from 10:00 a. m. until 3:00 p. m. to assist members of the post prepare the Veterans Administration questionnaire.

Evelyn Tucker is TOPS Queen

National City Chapter No. 1318 TOPS named Evelyn Tucker as October's queen of the month for the most weight loss and Dorothy Huntley received a charm for being the best summer loser.

New hours were set for the winter months with weigh in at 5:30 p. m. and meeting at 6 o'clock.

Halloween Fun at MC Facility

A Halloween party was held by Iosco Medical Care Facility Auxiliary October 31 for the patients at the facility. The party is part of the activity provided by the group to entertain the patients, who greatly appreciate the attention.

A regular meeting is slated at the facility for Thursday, November 8, at 7:00 p. m. and is open for new members or visitors. Helpers are needed and volunteers welcomed. For more information on the projects of the group, attend the meetings or call the facility.

Sherman - Galavage Vows Solemnized at IHM Church

Immaculate Heart of Mary Church, Tawas City, was the scene of the double ring ceremony Saturday, November 3, uniting in marriage the former Cheryl Galavage and Kevin Sherman. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Galavage of East Tawas and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sherman of Utica.

The Rev. Fr. Lawrence Boks officiated at the 5 o'clock service and Craig Schalk, vocalist, was accompanied by Mrs. Alden Phelps, organist. Candles and greens adorned the aisles and white and wine floral arrangements decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride descended the aisle in an ivory organza gown highlighted by silk Venice lace motifs and pearls encircling the sheer yoke and cuff of the full sheer sleeves. A full flared skirt extended from the beaded Empire waistline to the matching lace flounced hemline, sweeping to a chapel train. An ivory picture hat covered with triple flange of dacon organza with matching band and flowers and streamers at the crown completed her attire and she carried a cascade bouquet of white fuji chrysanthemums, red roses and babies breath.

Mary Ellen Galavage, maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Jennifer Galavage, Tecla Lambert, Julie Charboneau and Vicki Santoni, wore wine polyester gowns with gathered necklines and featuring blouson overlay for capelike effect over the long sleeves. Crystal pleats highlighted the skirts and they carried wine candles in chimneys encircled in white and wine flowers.

Serving as best man was Gary Sherman with Michael Galavage, Douglas Sherman, Dean Sherman and Dennis McKinney, groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding and reception following at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Mrs. Galavage selected a medium blue double knit gown with matching jacket. Mrs. Sherman was attired in a blue polyester knit gown with jacket. White orchid corsages enhanced their attire.

The couple, graduates of Lake Superior State College, will reside at 703 North Bridge, Belaire. Honoring Miss Galavage at bridal showers were her attendants and Susan Schalk.

Club Heard District Reports

Whittemore Women's Club meeting October 31 at the city hall carried out the tradition with roll call answered in Halloween verses. Reports were heard on the Northeast District convention by Ira Dorcey, district president; Adele Brown, and Jenny Valley. Highlights of Mary Ferguson's speech were discussed, bringing out questions and answers of the power of the Federated Clubs and membership.

Mrs. Dorcey reported on membership changes that may ensue due to inflation, a real problem among clubs today. Alice Humphrey announced she will be a volunteer worker at Tawas Hospital.

Diet and food will be the theme of the November 14 program, presented by Susan Lambrecht of the Iosco County Extension Service.

Attend VFW District Rally

Theresa Roiter, president of Veterans of Foreign Wars No. 5678 Auxiliary, and William Lear, commander of the post, attended a District 11 rally November 4 at Roscommon with the post receiving 100 percent membership citation.

Other awards to local members included Thomas Roiter for community activities and who also received an award for his participation in the Voice of Democracy competition. Receiving awards for their activity were Lu Baker, Fannie Walstead, Mabel Smith, Gloria Petri, Erna Becker, James Everts and David Kennedy.

Veterans Day will be observed Sunday, November 11, with a pot-luck chicken dinner at 12:30 p. m. at the post home. Gold Star Mothers will be honored. Families and all veterans are welcome to attend.

Hosting the affair will be their daughters, Mrs. Keith (Jacqueline) Laidler of St. Johns and Mrs. J. C. (Bonnie) Baynum of Kankakee, Illinois. The couple has six grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

National Honor Society to Renovate TA Courtyard

Tawas Area Chapter of the National Honor Society is now planning the renovation of Tawas Area High School courtyard. As it stands, the courtyard is merely a rectangle of level grassland but the society hopes to turn it into a landscaped area for the community's enjoyment.

In an effort to gain insight into the planning and execution of such an effort, the advisers, Barbara Erickson and Larry VanWagoner, and four members of the society took a one day trip to Delta Community College. The college has one of the more beautiful and well-constructed courtyards in the state. From the trip, many ideas were gained and the planning for the Tawas courtyard was begun.

Plans are still uncertain at this time, but community support has been tremendous. Many citizens have offered to donate trees and small shrubs and others have come forth with ideas. If individuals have suggestions or know of problems that could be avoided, they are urged to contact either the advisers or members.

To fund this project, a spaghetti dinner was held last week and the newspaper drive is going full force. For papers to be picked up, call the high school at 362-6127. After 5:00 p. m., call Mrs. Erickson at 362-3689 or VanWagoner at 362-2522.

Democrats Won Election in Landslide

15 Years Ago— November 4, 1964—Pres. Lyndon Johnson won a tremendous landslide victory in Tuesday's general election, defeating Sen. Barry Goldwater by a three to two majority. In spite of the Democratic sweep, Republican Gov. George Romney defeated the bid of Neil Staebler, Democrat, for Michigan's top executive post.

A 10-cent-an-hour wage increase was granted to all hourly workers Monday night by the Tawas City Council. Wages of laborers were increased from $1.90 to $2 an hour; truck drivers, who formerly received $2 an hour, received $2.10, and one heavy equipment operator's pay was increased from $2.20 to $2.30 an hour.

Today's teen at Tawas Area High School is Roy Champine, 16, a junior, who is maintaining a B average.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company is encouraging home owners to convert to gas heat now in order to save money over other heating methods.

Truman Barbier, Oldsmobile dealer at East Tawas, said Monday he would like to send a few Halloween "pranksters" into orbit. A large Oldsmobile sign was completely destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. The aluminum and wood sign was fashioned in the shape of a rocket and someone poured gasoline at the base and touched it off.

Low bid of First of Michigan Corporation was accepted by Iosco County Board of Supervisors for the purchase of bonds to finance this county's new medical care facility.

25 Years Ago— November 5, 1954 — Churches of the Tawas are preparing for the annual Christmas parade. C. Kate Evans of East Tawas is chairman.

Lionel Wesenick of Whittemore was elected president of the newly organized Iosco County Farmers Union.

The Vic and Zel Restaurant, which has been located in the Bublitz GHQ Building since 1945, has been moved to a newly constructed building south of its former location.

35 Years Ago— November 10, 1944—Iosco County led the state with a heavy percentage of its voters favoring Thomas E. Dewey for president, but Franklin D. Roosevelt was re-elected to his fourth term. Extending the voting time until 8:00 p. m. slowed returns coming into the county clerk's office. There was a large crowd of citizens at the courthouse to watch results on County Clerk Russell H. McKenzie's blackboard. National trends and results by radio were broadcast over loud-speakers at the courthouse arranged by E. John Moffatt and William Wood.

The Lone Ranger (Bruce Beemer) and his famous horse, "Silver," visited the White House and gave the president's grandson a ride around the grounds.

Ira Scofield of Hale had the misfortune of losing his left arm in a corn shredder last Thursday. He is at West Branch hospital.

In a mock election Tuesday, Tawas City High School students favored President Roosevelt over Thomas E. Dewey, 63-36.

Last Wednesday morning, fire of unknown origin damaged the L. G. McKay residence at East Tawas to the extent that it is said to be a total loss. The McKays had been listening to election returns over radio until early morning and did not awaken until arrival of the fire department.

Highlights And Sidelights Foster Home Recruiting Drive

LANSING—In an effort to enlist and hold more quality foster homes in each county, the Michigan Department of Social Services awarded a contract recently to the Michigan Foster Parent Association to conduct a state-wide foster home recruiting campaign during the next year.

The grant is $59,755 for the period from now through August 31, 1980.

Potential beneficiaries of the project include all public and private foster family care agencies in the state, new and experienced foster families and foster children — particularly those with special needs that may make them hard to place.

Mary Ball Hodges, director of the recruiting project and an MFPA area vice president in Kalamazoo, said the primary goal of the campaign will be "to increase the number of quality, trained foster families available for Michigan's foster children with emphasis on families that can give care to special needs children."

Mrs. Hodges said she expects MFPA to succeed in its task where other agencies, including MDSS, have had problems. "First, DSS and many other agencies do not have one person to do full-time recruiting," she said. "And, who, better than foster parents, know what to look for in others as potential foster parents? Most of us have talked others into foster parenting already," she added.

Mrs. Hodges said she plans to use the entire network of MFPA members around the state to work on the campaign with special attention being placed on small communities "that do not get the recruitment attention the large cities usually do."

MFPA's efforts will begin with the mailing of needs survey to all public and private foster care agencies it can identify in Michigan. Results will be tabulated by county or community and then shared with those agencies that responded. The survey will also serve as an indication of which agencies want foster parent candidates referred to them by MFPA.

The association then plans to identify and contact foster parents who have either stopped fostering or lowered their capacity in an attempt to find any chronic weaknesses in the foster care system, and also to recruit those who have left or diminished their services.

Dropouts from foster parenting are a major concern of state foster care officials. MDSS, for example, lists more than 7,400 families on its current foster care rolls and the total has risen by about 100 families in each of the last three years.

However, one MDSS licensing analyst estimated that about 2,000 (or 27 percent) of the foster families drop out each year to be replaced by 2,100 new ones. A foster care specialist in MDSS attributed much of the turnover to parents who did not understand the demands of fostering when they started.

Lost Friday, Eagles Settle for NSL Tie

Hale Eagles had to settle for a second place tie in the North Star League after being upset Friday night by Hillman, 26-20.

The Eagles scored on the first play of the game when Mark Turnbull intercepted a pass and ran for a touchdown. Vern Reed passed to Scott McDonald to give Hale an 8-0 lead.

McDonald scored on a five-yard touchdown run in the second quarter to give the Eagles a 14-0 lead, but the try for a PAT failed.

Todd Farrier scored a touchdown for Hillman in the second quarter and the Eagles held a 14-6 edge at intermission.

Hillman dominated the third quarter and the first half of the fourth quarter when Farrier and Howard Manning scored touchdowns and Jay Johnson added PATS from placement.

With five minutes, 50 seconds remaining on the clock, Reed scored a touchdown to knot the score at 20-all, but the try from placement was short and the game went into overtime.

Hillman's Flynt Schulze intercepted a pass thrown by Reed on Hale's first play in overtime and, two plays later, Manning scored the winning touchdown.

Hale's strong defense gave up more points than in any other game this year. Leading defenders were Dan Dear, 10 tackles; McDonald, seven tackles; Jeff Dillon and Larry Caverly, six tackles each; Tom Lesneski, five tackles and 11 assists.

Hale had 298 yards on offense, 190 in the air and 108 by passing. Glen Bell carried the ball 15 times for 55 yards, while Turnbull pulled in three passes for 104 yards.

The Eagles finished the season with a five and four record and had four wins and two losses in league play.

Junior Braves Won Final

Tawas Junior Braves turned in an explosive offense Thursday night to finish out the season with a 43-0 shutout victory over Alcona Junior Varsity.

With Jon Dunn, John Wiese and Jeff Douglas opening holes in Alcona's line, Kelly Moffatt raced to five touchdowns and rushed for 371 yards during the night.

Tawas had 505 yards rushing during the night and the two other touchdowns came on a 35-yard run by Wiese and a 35-yard pass interception turned into a score by Dunn. Bill Dalbec kicked one PAT from placement.

Dunn was the game's top defensive player for Tawas with 14 tackles. Douglas had 13 tackles and Curt Leslie turned in 10. Mark Tousley also turned in a good defensive game.

Tawas finished the season with a record of two wins, five defeats and a tie.

Rockhoffs On Regional Winner

Michigan Lutheran Seminary of Saginaw won a place in the Class D regional football playoffs. The team won the Central Michigan League title with a 7-0 record and a 7-2 over-all record. Michigan Lutheran Seminary will play Owendale-Gagetown in the first of two playoff games at Caro November 10.

Roger Rockhoff, a senior, and David Rockhoff, a junior, are members of the team. They are sons of the Rev. and Mrs. James Rockhoff of Tawas City.

Braves Whitewashed Alcona Tigers in Final Grid Game

Tawas Braves whitewashed the Alcona Tigers, 45-0, Friday night to end the season with a seven to two record. Parents of varsity football players, managers and cheerleaders were honored during a pregame ceremony.

Scoring two touchdowns each during the night were Bryant Wilkie and Jim Gracik, who tallied on runs of one and 26 yards and two one-yard plunges, respectively.

Jay Grabow scored on a two-yard run, while John "The Toe" Brockenbrough boomed five one-point conversions and booted a 20-yard field goal.

Tawas' first touchdown was set up when Ken McKenzie intercepted a pass on Alcona's 45-yard line. On the next play, Grabow passed to Brian Norton, who caught the ball inside Alcona's 10 and carried it to the one-yard line. Wilkie scored with 35 seconds remaining in the first quarter.

The Braves defense held the Tigers for three plays and then took over a punt on the 35. Gracik picked up five yards on the next play and Norton pulled in another pass on the 10. Wilkie carried to the one-yard line and Gracik punched over for the touchdown with eight minutes, 57 seconds to go in the second quarter.

A fourth down completion to McKenzie on the 19 set up the next touchdown and two plays later Gracik scored another touchdown.

Wilkie scored one more touchdown before the half with one minute, five seconds to go.

The Tigers had their best series on the opening kickoff of the second half, but finally had to punt. Two running plays by Gracik and Wilkie moved the ball to the four-yard line and a penalty against Alcona cut that distance to 2½ yards. Grabow ran the ball from his quarterback spot for the touchdown.

Tawas gained 352 yards to only 110 for Alcona during the night. The Braves had 143 yards rushing and 97 yards by passing in the first half which told the story of the game.

Norton made eight solo stops for the Braves during the night to lead on defense.

Cards Had Win Over Caseville

Whittemore - Prescott Cardinals ended the football season on a winning note Friday night by defeating Caseville, 27-6.

Jim Graham, who was hampered by an injury earlier in the season, scored on a two-yard run and carried the ball 27 times for 204 yards.

Quarterback Todd Horn scored two touchdowns on runs of one and two yards, while passing 80 yards. One of those passes was snared by Dick Gracik for another touchdown.

Caseville's only touchdown came on a 70-yard run by Mike Kelly.

Eighth Grade Girls Split the Decisions

Tawas eighth grade girls split the decision in four basketball games played last week.

The "A" team won both of its games over Northeastern Michigan League opponents, defeating Standish-Sterling, 21-19, on October 29, then polished off Ogemaw Heights, 43-24, on Thursday night.

Tawas had a good lead going into the fourth quarter against Standish-Sterling, but was shut out in that period to make it a close game.

Ann Wood was top scorer with eight points, followed by Amy Wood and Tracy LeClair with four points each. Evelyn Sventko was the leading rebounder with four.

The Tawas - Ogemaw game was close and well played until the fourth quarter when the Tawas team rolled up 18 points.

Patty Stephan's 12 points were top for the game and Lisa Seifert had 10 points.

The "B" team lost both of its games, Standish-Sterling taking a 19-8 decision and Ogemaw registered a 20-18 victory.

Michelle Wheatley led Tawas scorers in the Standish-Sterling game with four points. Sue Bolen had five rebounds.

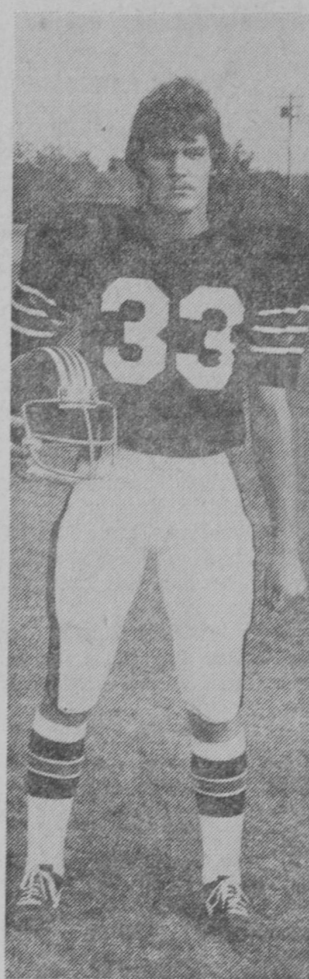

Tawas jumped off to an early eight-point lead against Ogemaw, but was unable to hold the advantage. The winning basket was scored in the last minute of the game and it was the first time Ogemaw held the lead during the entire game.

Hughes scored five points to lead Tawas, followed by Bolen's four points. Faith Look led on rebounds with five and Kay Dalbec had four steals.

Herbert Phelps was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Tris Coffin Saturday night.

Mrs. Norman Harris and Dennis went to Roscommon and visited David Harris on Friday.

Mrs. Raymond Kobs, Cindi and Pamela visited Mrs. Russell Alda on Saturday.

JON ROCKHOFF, a five-foot, 11-inch, 185-pound freshman, is a member of this year's Northwestern College football team of Watertown, Wisconsin. Jon, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. James Rockhoff of Tawas City, has performed well as a reserve linebacker and on the special teams. He is a graduate of Michigan Lutheran Seminary of Saginaw.

Tawas Bravettes Won Pair of Games Over NEM Teams

Tawas girls won a pair of basketball games November 30 at Gladwin. The Bravettes defeated the Flying Gs, 60-56, while the Junior Braves won over the Gladwin junior varsity, 49-37.

The Bravettes jumped off to a 34-29 lead at intermission, but Gladwin held a four-point lead, 47-43, at the end of the third quarter.

Tawas completed 16 of 18 free throws during the night which made the difference in scoring as Gladwin completed only 12 of 21 shots from the charity lines. Tawas completed 21 of 60 shots from the floor while the Gladwin girls meshed 22 of 51 shots. Tawas had 21 turnovers compared to 22 for Gladwin.

Cindy Wood and Kari Allen paced the Bravettes with 14 points each. Jan Johnson meshed 12 points and was the only other Tawas player to hit in double figures. Allen pulled in 18 rebounds during the night.

The junior varsity game was marred by turnovers, each team being charged with 37. Tawas turned in a better shooting percentage from the floor, meshing 18 of 57 attempts, while Gladwin made good on only 15 of 64 shots. Tawas meshed 65 percent of its shots from the charity lanes, 13 of 20 attempts, while Gladwin connected on seven of 14 shots.

Hitting in double figures for Tawas were Kelly Brockenbrough and Linda Nelkie with 16 and 12 points, respectively. Nelkie had 12 rebounds to lead the team while Lisa Bielby, who scored eight points during the night, turned in six steals.

'Homespun Holidays'

A special Cooperative Extension "Homespun Holidays" program is scheduled for Thursday, November 8, 7:00 to 9:00 p. m., at the Tawas United Methodist Church, located on M-55. The program is planned to provide ideas to help participants find new ways to celebrate which enrich their family's life together; create new family traditions which are person-oriented; get closer to the original meaning of the holiday; better manage the time, money and energy which holiday celebrations demand.

Included in the two-hour demonstration session will be segments on make-ahead holiday meals, holiday snacks, gift-wrapping ideas and holiday decoration ideas. Participants will learn to prepare such foods as ham Wellington, marinated vegetables, cranberry frost salad and fig-apple pie. Ideas for creative and inexpensive gift wraps and home decorations which can be done easily by family members will be demonstrated. Ideas shared in the session will be different than those presented in a similar program last year.

Margaret Mielock and Susan Lambrecht, extension home economists, will present the session. In addition to the demonstrations and displays, the evening will include an opportunity to taste some of the foods prepared. Participants will receive a booklet of recipes and directions.

Similar sessions are scheduled November 6 and 7 in West Branch and Standish. A fee will be charged to help defray food and materials costs. For reservation or further information, phone Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, 362-3449. Advance reservations are helpful but not required.

Olinda Fournier Died November 5

Olinda E. Fournier of East Tawas passed away Monday, November 5, at Tawas Hospital at the age of 56. She was born January 14, 1923, in Flint and moved to East Tawas from Flint in 1977 with her husband, Leon, whom she married February 15, 1941.

She was a girl scout leader for 20 years in the Fairwinds Council and was neighborhood chairman of the GBJAMPS in Flint. She was recipient of the St. Anne award for Catholic girl scout leaders and was former president and a charter member of the St. Agnes Altar Society.

Besides her husband, she leaves one son, Leon of Albany, Minnesota; three daughters, Nancy Fournier of Lansing, Kathy Olmsted of Burton and Becky Fournier of Flint; two grandchildren; one brother, Edwin C. Kramer of Tawas City, and two sisters, Helen Johnson of Tawas City and Doris Christensen of East Tawas. One brother, Fred Kramer, predeceased her in 1971.

Funeral services will be held Friday, November 9, 10:00 a.m., from St. Agnes Catholic Church, Flint, with the Rev. Fr. William J. Carolin officiating. Burial will be in Sunset Hills Cemetery, Flint. The Rosary will be recited Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock from the Reigle Sunset Chapel, Clio Road, Flint. Friends may call there Wednesday evening.

The family has requested that any memorial contributions be directed to the Tawas Area Senior Citizens building fund.

Former Tawas Man Died in California

Aron Gauthier of Oakhurst, California, passed away Saturday, November 3, at a Clovis, California, hospital at the age of 85 years. He was born December 1, 1893, at Tawas Township and had been a salesman at Flint until his retirement in 1953.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, November 6, at Clovis Funeral Home with burial in Clovis Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, the former Margaret James, whom he married in 1928; two sons, Milton of Oakhurst and Gerald of Flint; a daughter, Ernestine Spaulding of Birmingham, and eight grandchildren. He also leaves a brother, Ervin Gauthier of Tawas City.

Ordinance

was based on that figure." The classification schedule corrects that confusion.

A letter from the pastor of the First Baptist Church protested the higher water and sewer bill received in July.

The Rev. Charles Cerling said that usage at the church was low and that it "suggests to me an element of discrimination totally unrelated to the effect our usage has on the water and sewer system."

He felt that people of the church pay property tax and experience the same burden, if any, as others in the community because the churches do not pay taxes. He felt that churches and members do "an incalculable amount of volunteer service during the year for the community."

He said that whenever a billing rate is based on considerations other than usage, "we have come to a tax. There is a growing move in this country to force churches to pay taxes. The water department's move appears to me to be a part of the movement. We are taxing people through the back door because they will no longer permit us to enter through the front door."

Discussion during the council meeting pointed out that many nonresidents of Tawas City used facilities of churches, schools and other governmental buildings which pay no property taxes and it was believed the 100 percent surcharge for those properties was justified.

Further discussion on the matter is to be held at the next meeting.

TC Street Closing Hearing Slated

On recommendation of the planning commission, Tawas City Council Monday night set December 3 for a hearing on the proposed vacation of Ninth Avenue from Third Street to Second Street.

That section of Ninth Avenue starting at Dead Creek (Third Street) divides school-owned property at the Tawas City Elementary Unit. The planning commission recommended that the street be vacated.

A second request to vacate Second Street from its intersection with Harris Avenue was not recommended by the planning commission. Although the street is not improved, it serves city-owned property west of the school grounds.

In other matters, the council set November 19 for a hearing on an industrial development tax exemptions requested by Bopp-Busch Manufacturing Company on Industrial Avenue.

The firm plans to install an electric computerized die cutting machine valued at $119,200 and a building addition costing $7,200 with $1,125 in additional fixtures. Total value of that application is $127,525.

The second application asks consideration of an exemption permitted under state law for a 7 1/2-ton overhead crane to be located in another building. Valuation of the equipment is $21,950.

The two applications total $149,175 and according to a certificate accompanying the application two additional jobs would be created within two years. The firm presently hires 18 people.

Notification of the hearing is to be sent to local taxing units and the city assessor. If approved, the applications would be submitted to the state tax commission for approval.

The city manager said that industrial property currently exempted from taxation under the special provision of state law represents 2.8039 percent of the city's total valuation. He said the two new applications would increase that amount to approximately 3.8 percent, well under the five percent limitation under the law.

The council also adopted a resolution establishing Baylock Corporation's tax exemption for a three-year period, as requested on its application but not included in the certificate forwarded to the state tax commission. The normal period for such a period is 12 years. A second stage of construction included in another application by that firm has not been completed and a new application is to be resubmitted.

The city manager reported that William Philpot had obtained a 3 1/2-acre site in Baldwin Township for storage of damaged cars and that he was to make application for a zoning variance seeking permission to construct a 24 by 50-foot building on his property located on Bay Drive for indoor storage.

Edmunds Engineering Company is completing the drafting of a topographical map and survey of the 40-acre industrial park. The city manager said it was his intent to apply for state and federal funds to aid in development of the property.

The city manager said that requests for proposals for preparing a shoreline study and preliminary engineering and a site plan at the river mouth were being considered. Participation by East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region is to be requested.

The letter asked removal of a trailerload of carrots which Lanski had parked on an adjacent lot owned by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway. The letter also asked the property owner to verify that "potatoes, carrots and beets were grown by you in your garden on that property," or he must cease the sale of those items.

The city manager said that the property owner could seek recourse by asking for a variance from the zoning board of appeals, which would require the scheduling of a public hearing and notifying all property owners within 300 feet.

The city manager emphasized that all citizens must be treated alike in enforcement of ordinances and, regardless of any council action, he had no recourse but to enforce the ordinance.

A letter read by Mayor Herbert Cholger stated he saw no need for concern unless "it is offending some of the close neighbors," and that the temporary nature of the sale of deer feed was fitting with the theme of the season as a promotion and accommodation for hunters.

When it was pointed out that a complaint had been received at the city hall concerning the activity, the mayor agreed that the ordinance should be enforced.

She was a member of Tawas United Methodist Church; Lake Shore Chapter No. 661, American Association of Retired Persons; Daughters of America, and the Rebekah Lodge of Detroit.

The Rev. Kenneth Tousley officiated at funeral rites Sunday, November 4, at Tawas United Methodist Church. Committal services were conducted Monday, November 5, at Woodmere Cemetery, Detroit. Rebekah memorial services were held Saturday night at Jacques and Kobs West Chapel, Tawas City.

Surviving is one sister, Mrs. Merle Roden of Trenton. A brother, William, predeceased her in 1976.

Lillian Martin Passed Away

Miss Lillian R. Martin of Sand Lake Heights passed away Thursday, November 1, at Youngstown, Ohio, while visiting relatives. She was born April 3, 1915, at Calumet and lived at Sand Lake for nine years, having moved there from Detroit where she worked as an inspector for Revere Copper Company for 32 years.

She was a member of Tawas United Methodist Church; Lake Shore Chapter No. 661, American Association of Retired Persons; Daughters of America, and the Rebekah Lodge of Detroit.

The Rev. Kenneth Tousley officiated at funeral rites Sunday, November 4, at Tawas United Methodist Church. Committal services were conducted Monday, November 5, at Woodmere Cemetery, Detroit. Rebekah memorial services were held Saturday night at Jacques and Kobs West Chapel, Tawas City.

Surviving is one sister, Mrs. Merle Roden of Trenton. A brother, William, predeceased her in 1976.

Damage Minor on Halloween

Despite the usual splattering of store fronts at East Tawas with eggs and rotten vegetables, Halloween vandalism was minimal according to reports from the Isoco County Sheriff's Department and East Tawas Police Department.

Vandalism complaints investigated by the sheriff's department were as follows:

Harold Larsen, East Tawas, windshield broken; Mrs. C. Martin, Tawas City, mail box smashed; City of Tawas City, sign posts damaged at Seventh Avenue and Second Street and 12 guard rails damaged on Bay Drive; M. Bariger, Tawas City, mail box damaged; Harry Wood, Miller Road, windows smashed; Edna Middleton, Grant Township, door window broken; M. Satkowski, Baldwin Township, window smashed; W. C. Roach, Isoco County Airport, sign damaged;

There was extensive damage at Memory Gardens Cemetery, Tawas City, where numerous tombstones were overturned.

Door-to-Door Delivery Study

Leonard Hosbach, Tawas City postmaster, has been designated by the Saginaw regional office of the United States Post Office to make a thorough study to determine if essential requirements are met for providing door-to-door postal delivery in Tawas City.

This action followed a request September 17 asking the postmaster to complete the survey. The study is now in progress.

Ordinance Enforced on Home Sales

Selling of potatoes or deer feed, not grown on the owners' land at the sales location, is in violation of a city ordinance relative to conduct of a business in a residential zone.

This was the word Monday night from Lowell Thomas, city manager, who informed the city council that a letter had been sent to Randall Lanski, 428 Mathews Street, informing him that he was not complying with the ordinance.

The city manager, acting as zoning administrator, said that the notice of violation letter had been sent after a complaint was registered at the city hall.

The letter asked removal of a trailerload of carrots which Lanski had parked on an adjacent lot owned by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway. The letter also asked the property owner to verify that "potatoes, carrots and beets were grown by you in your garden on that property," or he must cease the sale of those items.

The city manager said that the property owner could seek recourse by asking for a variance from the zoning board of appeals, which would require the scheduling of a public hearing and notifying all property owners within 300 feet.

The city manager emphasized that all citizens must be treated alike in enforcement of ordinances and, regardless of any council action, he had no recourse but to enforce the ordinance.

A letter read by Mayor Herbert Cholger stated he saw no need for concern unless "it is offending some of the close neighbors," and that the temporary nature of the sale of deer feed was fitting with the theme of the season as a promotion and accommodation for hunters.

When it was pointed out that a complaint had been received at the city hall concerning the activity, the mayor agreed that the ordinance should be enforced.

Smith said, too, that the state was slow in billing counties for institutional services last year and that the current appropriation actually included services from the previous year.

Discussion is to be continued at a future meeting concerning replacement of a clerk in the register of deeds office.

In other matters, the commission authorized an appropriation of $11,849.50 for partial payment on the purchase of a new ambulance at Tawas Hospital. The payment represents one-half of the loss for operation of the ambulance service.

The commission authorized payment of $173.25 to Nancy Wade as reimbursement for her payroll work on the county's CETA program. This service was provided during the time the county lacked a CETA payroll clerk.

A Controversy Over Bridges

When untouched regions of Michigan were opened to civilization in the last century, early settlers followed the practice of their New England fathers by founding the first settlements along a river.

It was that way in Iosco County, where fishermen first located in the late 1840s at the mouth of the AuSable River and a lumberman built the region's first sawmill on a narrow strip of land situated between Tawas River and Tawas Bay in 1854.

A river has played an important part in the history of every major city in the state and for good reason: Water transportation was essential in the development of those communities, in addition to providing a convenient system for securing a municipal water supply and for disposal of wastes.

Other than floating logs to its sawmills for a brief period, the Tawas River never amounted to much in regard to transportation, but its entrance into Tawas Bay once provided a haven for deep draft lumber schooners. Such use was always at considerable expense and labor because of the necessary dredging required.

Often abused or neglected over the years, the river winds in a meandering course from Tawas Lake to Tawas Bay and has been a natural barrier to development of the community. The founding fathers actually platted the little village west of the river because of the water barrier, but the town soon shifted near the first sawmill and eventually spread along the shore.

Throughout Tawas City's history, bridges crossing the river have been important to the industrial and commercial interests of the community, as well as to its citizens. With stores and mills scattered along the shore, bridges crossing the river were important in the everyday life of the village.

Down through the years, location and construction of bridges have provided some notable controversies in the community.

The first bridge spanning the river at Mathews Street probably preceded construction of G. O. Whittemore's sawmill early in 1854. That first bridge was a simple beam affair fastened to sturdy pine pilings driven into the river bottom and the deck was only a few feet above normal water level. A second bridge of wooden truss design soon replaced that first span at the same location.

The next wooden bridge was constructed at the Whittemore Street crossing, this one, too, of simple beam construction resting on piling driven into the river bottom. Bridges were later constructed upstream from the river mouth and on First Street.

THE MEN AT RIGHT are standing on the approach to the Mathews Street bridge over the Tawas River. The original picture was copied into postcard size about 70 years ago and surviving prints list both 1868 and 1873 as the date of the original exposure. A temporary bridge preceded this structure. The Tawas River below the bridge is jammed with pine logs bound for the Whittemore mill. Men at left are standing in front of a saloon.—Copy by August Brown.

Replacement of wooden bridges with concrete and steel spans at Mathews Street and Whittemore Street led to a controversy which split the community in 1914-15. By then, the last pine log in the region had been turned into boards and sawdust; without logs, there was no need for sawmills and those wooden structures had either been dismantled or destroyed by fire.

The automobile was the coming rage and its rubber tired wheels changed the face of the region with new and improved roads cutting into the interior. In 1914, things finally came to a head at city hall when a representative of Beach Manufacturing Company at Charlotte was invited to make a proposition to furnish steel for two bridges. The city hall was located at the northeast corner of the Mathews Street bridge and city fathers looking out the front window of the old building could see that the old wooden span would never withstand the heavy pounding of automobiles on a route which was soon to become a state trunkline.

A special meeting was called December 10, 1914, and the council voted to award a contract to Beach Manufacturing Company to furnish enough steel to construct two bridges at a cost of $1,700.

A community which has never lacked for controversy, citizens immediately took issue with the council and questioned the legality of its action. As it turned out, the citizens had a good point.

In awarding the contract, the council neglected to take appointive officers into its confidence and acted as the board of public works. In so doing, the council awarded the contract when no plans or specifications were submitted for approval and the council did not advertise for bids from more than one firm.

That action raised the eyebrows of a few citizens and the ire of many, judging from a report in The Tawas Herald. "It is altogether likely that had they advertised in some of the trade magazines reaching bridge and steel manufacturers, a much better figure could have been secured," stated Editor James Ballard.

"There is no question but that these bridges are badly needed, but those in charge of the work should make sure that they are getting full value for the money expended," declared the editor. Most of the blame for the bridge controversy fell on the shoulders of Mayor Stephen Ferguson, whose home was located on a route which was soon to become a state trunkline.

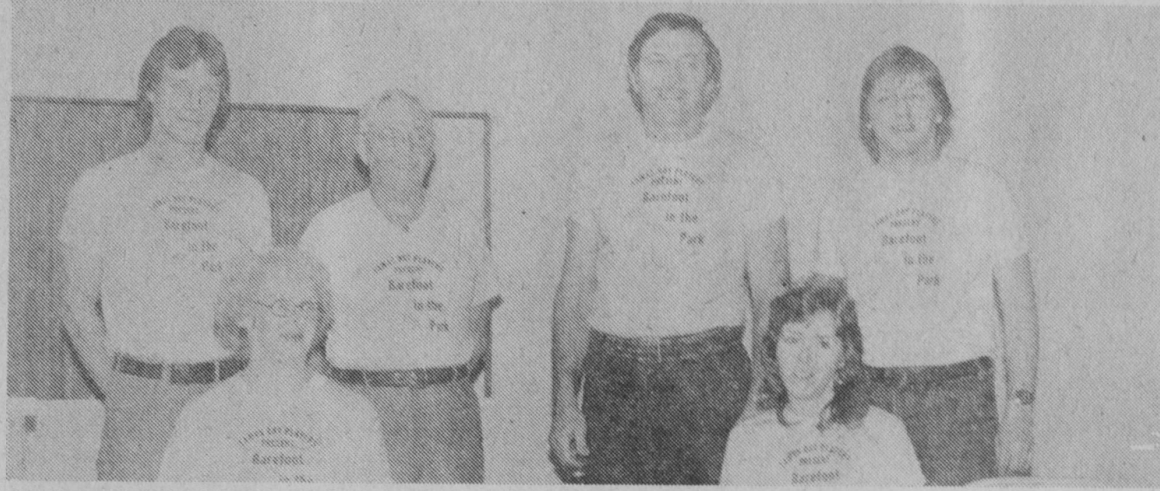

Ferguson had the full support of the council and no action was ever taken to correct the charge of illegal procedures in bidding. Preliminary construction had started on the new bridges when Ferguson announced that he would not be a candidate for mayor in the spring election.

A Republican, Ferguson handed the reins of city government over to one of the few Democrats ever elected mayor of Tawas City, Eugene Bing. The election that spring was hotly contested with Bing receiving 107 votes and Charles V. Crane receiving an equal number. After canvassing the votes, lots were cast by the council to break the tie and Bing was declared elected.

Under leadership of the new mayor, the two bridges were constructed that summer and Frank Novess was hired to superintend the construction.

According to the annual financial report published the following spring, the two bridges were constructed at a total cost of $4,946.09.

THIS WOODEN BRIDGE spanned the Tawas River at Whittemore Street until it was replaced in 1915 by a steel and concrete structure. Replacement of the bridge is again being considered by the Tawas City Council since the span constructed 64 years ago has deteriorated to a point where it is in an unsafe condition.—Bradshaw Photo.

Iosco Commissioner Proceedings

OCTOBER SESSION
October 9, 1979

A regular meeting of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners held at the county building in Tawas City on October 9, 1979, pursuant to statute.

Meeting called to order at 9:30 a. m. by Chairman Webb and the roll called.

Present: Stech (District 1), Merschel (District 3), Ulman (District 4) and Webb (District 5).

Absent: George (District 2) (Commissioner George arrived at 11:00 a. m.)

The clerk being required to attend circuit court, committees were ordered to their respective duties, the official meeting to stand in recess until later in the day, subject to the call of the chair.

The communications received by the clerk's office were referred to the chairman upon receipt.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Upon call to order at 4:15 p. m., all commissioners being present, Commissioner Stech reported in reference to a traffic accident involving a sheriff's department vehicle and a motorcycle, whereupon a brief discussion of the matter took place.

Continuing, Stech reported in reference to the Tri-County (Arenac, Iosco and Ogemaw) Foster Family Group Home Program for errant juveniles and the request by the tri-county governing board for an additional $3,500 from each of the member counties, indicated to be needed to continue the program at its present level for the 1979-80 fiscal year. In a discussion of various alternatives to the tri-county program, Stech pointed out that most are much more costly to the county and that the basic grant is reduced from $15,000 to $10,000 for a single-county program voicing his opinion that the present program is "money well spent". Commissioner George raised the matter of budgeting for the additional funds requested and discussed it with board members.

Commissioner Merschel presented and moved adoption of the following resolutions:

Your personnel committee recommends that Jerry Norwood, of 113 West Franklin, East Tawas, be appointed to the Iosco County Economic Development Corporation to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Paul Chevis.

Supported by Ulman and carried.

Your finance committee recommends that Architect John T. Dye be paid the sum of $2,337.95 which is the balance due for professional services rendered for the E. D. A. Emergency Grant, with payment to be made from the Energy Grant Fund.

Supported by Ulman and carried.

Continuing, Merschel referred to the advertisement for bids for installation of a new furnace at the sheriff's department, reporting that only one bid was received up to the 10:00 a. m. deadline this date, that being from Rose Heating and Plumbing. The bid was thereupon opened and read, indicating a total bid price of $1,985, whereupon Commissioner George proposed and so moved that the bid be accepted subject to the approval of Engineer James Russo. Motion supported by Stech and carried.

Commissioner Merschel further reported in reference to the power outage experienced in the county building a short time ago as the result of damage to a power cable during resurfacing of the parking area, proposing the installation (especially in the district court area where there are no windows) of emergency lighting devices which are activated automatically during electrical power outage, reporting the estimated cost to be approximately $650 for four units. Matter taken under consideration.

In further discussion of the $3,500 request for the foster family group home program, Merschel expressed the opinion that they should wait until it can be determined if funds are available; Ulman indicated her thinking that the juveniles are a number one priority; and Stech voiced his opinion that it would be less costly to stay with the present joint-county program. Discussion continued as to the role of community, children and family services and the function they perform.

Finance Chairman George presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by Merschel and carried.

Your finance committee recommends that John Webb, chairman of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners, be authorized to sign the budget development certification of the tri-county foster family group home program, and further recommends that there be no additional appropriation at the present time.

Commissioner Ulman presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by George and carried.

Your administrative committee recommends that Wilma McGill, representing the Republican Party, and Hope Rescoe, representing the Democratic Party, be appointed to the Iosco County Board of Canvassers for a 4-year term beginning November 1, 1979, and expiring October 31, 1983.

Finance Chairman George presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by Merschel and carried.

Your finance committee recommends that travel expense vouchers for County Road Commissioners A. J. Aulerich, Ralph White and Henry Conley in the amounts of $25.11, $58.87 and $27.54, respectively, be approved for payment from road commission funds.

George thereupon presented the following report of minutes of the statutory finance committee meeting of September 21, 1979, moving its acceptance. Motion supported by Ulman and carried.

/S/ David George, John D. Webb, Jr. and Marian Ulman Continuing, George presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by Merschel and carried.

Whereas, Iosco County Airport is essential to the continued existence of many industrial and manufacturing jobs in Iosco County; and

Whereas, the Iosco County Airport's runway is disintegrating from age and use and will require resurfacing in the next year or two for safe operation (total cost estimated to exceed $200,000); and

Whereas, as a result of four years of study and planning by the Federal Aviation Administration and the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, the Iosco County Airport is scheduled to be expanded in 1980 to serve as a regional air carrier airport, ninety percent of the cost to be financed with state and federal funds; therefore,

Be It Resolved, that the Iosco County Board of Commissioners therefore requests the East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region and the Michigan Department of Transportation to correct the omission of the Iosco County Airport Expansion program from the "Recommended Airport Development Projects" listed in the East Central Michigan Transportation Study - June 1979.

Chairman Webb referred to an agreement form received from the County Road Commission for snow plowing of the parking areas at Largo Springs and Sid Town, proposing that the form be forwarded to the Parks and Recreation Commission for execution. Matter referred to Commissioner Ulman.

Continuing, Webb referred to the work performed by Nancy Wade in completing the quarterly reports, etc. for the C. E. T. A. payroll function that was formerly performed by Tammy Illicin, indicating that a bill was submitted by Ms. Wade at the rate of $8.25 per hour. Following a brief discussion, it was proposed that the matter be held over until a subsequent meeting, with Chairman Webb to confer with Ms. Wade in the interim.

The business schedule for the day having been concluded, it was moved by George and supported by Stech to recess until October 17, 1979, 3:00 p. m., or subject to the call of the chair upon 24 hours notice to board members and the news media. Motion carried and meeting adjourned.

October 17, 1979

A continuation of the statutory October Session of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners held at the county building in Tawas City on October 17, 1979, pursuant to adjournment October 9, 1979.

Meeting called to order at 4:55 p. m. by Chairman Webb and the roll called.

Present: Stech (District 1), George (District 2), Merschel (District 3), Ulman (District 4) and Webb (District 5).

Absent: None.

Commissioner Stech presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by Merschel and carried.

Your health and public safety committee recommends that the Department of Social Services Board explore all avenues that may be available to resolve the Iosco County Medical Care Facility budget deficit for fiscal year 1980 and beyond, these avenues to include but not be limited to the following:

1. Requesting a millage ballot proposition to raise funds for facility operations

2. Securing a private operator for the facility

3. Possible sale of the facility for continued operation

4. Possible closing of the facility and its impact.

Findings of the Department of Social Services Board to be reported to the Iosco County Board of Commissioners.

Commissioner Merschel reported in reference to, and read the following petition containing 53 signatures:

PETITION TO THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF IOSCO COUNTY

October 11, 1979

We, the undersigned residents and friends of the Iosco County Medical Care Facility, herein petition the Iosco County Board of Commissioners to act to facilitate the reinstatement of Mr. Bergstrom as administrator of this facility.

We feel he has been fired without just cause, having been used as a "scapegoat" because of the difficult financial situation in these times. We accuse the Department of Social Services of malfeasance in acting against Mr. Bergstrom.

Whereas Mr. Bergstrom has given this facility and its residents good and faithful service, we request immediate action to redress this unjust and careless action.

Continuing, Merschel moved that the minutes of the board of commissioners meeting of September 19th and 28th be approved as drafted and presented by the clerk. Motion supported by Ulman and carried.

Commissioner Ulman presented and moved adoption of the following resolution:

Your administrative committee recommends that

WHEREAS, the Iosco County Board of Commissioners has long recognized the unsafe and congested condition of US-23; and

WHEREAS, this commission has over the years urged the State of Michigan to make major improvements to, or rebuild, US-23; and

WHEREAS, the state appears to have ignored Northeastern Michigan; and

WHEREAS, this neglect could result in loss of lives on an unsafe highway, and social and economic suffocation of Arenac, Iosco, Alcona, Alpena and Oscoda Counties; and

WHEREAS, a recent study by the State of Michigan transportation Department has confirmed US-23 as the region's most deficient highway; and

WHEREAS, the economic survival of Northeastern Michigan will depend upon how soon and to what extent the State of Michigan upgrades and modernizes this region's most critical highway artery; therefore, does urge the State of Michigan to take immediate steps toward developing workable alternatives for making major capital improvements to US-23.

Be It Resolved, that the Iosco County Board of Commissioners

Motion was supported by Commissioner George and, following a somewhat spirited discussion wherein Commissioners Stech and Webb indicated their preference for a new freeway to be located between US-23 and the western side of the county, rather than widening US-23, carried on the following roll call. Ayes: George, Merschel and Ulman. Nays: Stech and Webb.

Finance Chairman George presented and moved adoption of the following resolutions:

Your finance committee recommends that, after review, the chairman of the board of commissioners and the county clerk be authorized to approve per diem for meetings through today and salary for the month of October for the board of commissioners.

Signed: Marian Ulman, Carlton Merschel and David George

Supported by Ulman and carried.

ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT

IOSCO INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL DISTRICT
SCHOOL DISTRICT
Annual Financial Report for 1978-79

The Iosco Intermediate School District is a legally constituted unit of school government formed under Act 190 of the Public Acts of 1962 which amended Act 269 of the Public Acts of 1955. The district serves as a regional educational service agency as part of a three echelon system of local schools (K-12), the intermediate district and the State Department of Education.

The governing body of the intermediate district consists of a five member board of education. The Iosco Intermediate Board of Education is elected for six terms by appointed representatives from each of the local constituent school boards of Hale, Oscoda, Whittemore - Prescott and Tawas.

The Iosco Intermediate School District fulfills two board functions: those that are required by the statute and those that are permissive. The required functions include the following:

PROPERTY TRANSFERS—Any property owner may petition to have his/her land transferred from one school district to another. The determination of whether or not the transfer is proper is made by the Intermediate Board and this Board's approval is needed before any such transfer can be made.

TRANSPORTATION — The Intermediate School District is required to review all school bus routes within the ISD and certify to the State eligible mileage and qualified numbers of transported pupils. The ISD also must audit school district transportation personnel licensing.

CERTIFICATION OF PROFESSIONAL STAFF — A file on every professional employed in all school districts (both teacher and administrators) must be maintained at the ISD office. Improper certification must be reported to the State Department. The ISD shall maintain a permanent record of professional service, i. e. years of service.

SCHOOL LUNCH EVALUATION—All school food service programs shall be evaluated and its records audited annually by the ISD.

ATTENDANCE—An attendance officer is required of the ISD to assist local districts in the handling of students who are delinquent in school attendance.

MEMBERSHIP AUDIT — The ISD is responsible for the conduct of an annual audit of local district membership (enrollments). The student count for state aid membership allowance is based on the ISD report to the state.

FEDERAL PROGRAMS—Certain federally funded programs are overseen fiscally by the ISD.

STATE REPORTS—Nearly all financial and statistical reports that are submitted by local school districts to the State are required to be examined by the ISD before being submitted.

SPECIAL EDUCATION — The Mandatory Special Education Act requires that the ISD submit annually a district-wide plan for the delivery of special education for all handicapped persons. The ISD is further responsible for the fiscal operation of county-wide programs.

STATISTICAL RECORDS—Annual reports of local districts are required by the State to be maintained on file at the ISD.

The Iosco Intermediate School District through the support of the electorate levy 3/4 of a mill for Special Education supportive services. With such funding the intermediate district directly operates the Bright Horizons Learning Center which is a school serving youth of the Iosco Intermediate District who are in need of special instructional programs. Additional support services provided to the local K-12 district includes the following:

1. School Social Workers

2. School Psychologists

3. Teachers and consultants for the Visually, Hearing Impaired and Physically and otherwise impaired

4. Program Services for Pre-School Children

5. Planning, Coordinating of Data Collection Service

The Iosco Intermediate School District is also involved in a number of cooperative ventures with the Bay/Arenac Intermediate School District in providing services to local public and non-public school systems. Such ventures include the following:

1. The Regional Educational Materials Center

2. The Special Education Learning Materials Center

3. General Curriculum Coordinator and Curriculum Resource Specialist

4. Career Education Planning Activities and Consultancy services on Vocational-Technical Planning

5. Data Processing Functions for specific Business Management purposes

Members of the Iosco Intermediate Board of Education for 1979-80

Robert Elliott, President
Dale Brumfield, Vice President
Josephine Diloreto, Secretary
Donald Schuster, Trustee
George Erickson, Trustee

The general financial condition of the Iosco Intermediate District, as audited is presented as follows and is in accordance with R 340.355 of Act 269 - P. A. 1955 and Act No. 287 of P. A. 1964 of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

September 28, 1979

Board of Education
Iosco Intermediate School District
East Tawas, Michigan

We have examined the financial statements of the various funds of Iosco Intermediate School District for the year ended June 30, 1979 listed in the foregoing index. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. The financial statements of Iosco Intermediate School District for the year ended June 30, 1978 were examined by other auditors whose report dated October 9, 1978 expressed an unqualified opinion.

The School District has not maintained a record of its general fixed assets and, accordingly, a statement of general fixed assets, required by generally accepted accounting principles, is not included in the financial report.

In our opinion, the financial statements listed in the aforementioned index present fairly the financial position of such funds of Iosco Intermediate School District at June 30, 1979, and the results of operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a consistent basis.

RONALD McDONALD HOUSE, a 20-family "home away from home" for families of children being treated for cancer and other serious illnesses, has been open adjacent to Children's Hospital of Michigan, the largest pediatric hospital in the state and the second largest in the country. It will enable families to live together in a home environment and to gain strength and share experiences with other families staying at the home while their children are undergoing treatment or tests. It is owned and operated by Children's Oncology Services of Michigan, Incorporated, a nonprofit corporation made up primarily of parents whose children have been treated for serious illnesses at the hospital. The home was begun with a pledge of $300,000 by Michigan McDonald's Restaurant owner-operators. Cost for use of the home will be $7 per family per night, or free if they are unable to pay that amount.

the 1916 financial statement was $761 for cement, $194 for lumber, $111 for gravel, $132 for steel reinforcement rods, $82 for pipe railings, $600 for hauling materials, $769 for labor and $151 for superintendence.

At today's prices, the money expended by taxpayers for those two bridges was one of the best bargains in history and is a clear vindication that Mayor Ferguson knew what he was talking about 65 years ago when he said "the price is right."

Had the mayor and councilmen been around a few years ago, they would have been shocked to see the Mathews Street bridge replaced with a wooden span. However, engineers of today believe the new wooden structure will outlast the concrete and steel bridge constructed in 1916.

The Whittemore Street span, known for years as "Ferguson's bridge," has deteriorated to such a point that replacement plans have been started by the city council. Only a few people are living today who recall the brief controversy which surrounded its construction.

Included in the reconstruction will be removal of the wooden piling driven into the river bottom to support the original bridge constructed in the 1870s. Once a hazard to log drives, the wooden posts were later cut off below water level and have long been a nuisance to recreational boat owners.

Bird Watchers Monitor Great Lakes Mortality

All around the Great Lakes, people with an interest in birds have gotten together to produce a simple monitoring system for bird mortality on the lakes. This system, the Great Lakes Beached Bird Survey, is sponsored by the Long Point Bird Observatory and uses information collected by volunteers on monthly beach walks. It is the first such survey for an inland lake region and since its beginning in 1977, is providing interesting insights into bird life and death on the Great Lakes.

Participants in the survey walk a one or two-mile stretch of shoreline of their own choice each month and simply count, identify, and if possible, record cause of death and age of all the dead or dying birds found along the shore. The pooling of this information from over 70 beach walks on all five Great Lakes allows a comparison of death rates between lakes and areas as well as throughout the year. As the survey continues, it develops an index of normal mortality levels for the common types of birds, so that long-term changes or short-term problems can be detected. Therefore, it gives a handle on the effects on birds of the changing environmental conditions of the lakes. These effects can be the immediate ones of bird die-offs due to oil spills or more subtle ones, such as the effect of the longer shipping season on birds, something survey organizers are beginning to look at now.

Common species found are ring-billed gulls, herring gulls, common terns and many species of ducks, in particular oldsquaw, American wigeon and white-winged scoter. A large variety of all kinds of birds that

Two Young Iosco Women Outstanding

Two Iosco County women have been selected for inclusion of the 1979 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America.

Names were Christine L. Bush of Hale and Sharon Rose Roberts of Whittemore.

Mrs. Bush, who is regent of the River Aux Sables Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was nominated by that organization. She was a candidate for the outstanding junior member of the state DAR last year. She has been active in community affairs at Hale. She and her husband, L. S. Bush, formerly the community education director at Whittemore-Prescott Area School, are in the process of moving to their new home at Phoenix, Arizona.

Miss Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Roberts, is a senior at Valley Forge Christian College in Pennsylvania. She is a graduate of Whittemore-Prescott Area High School.

The Outstanding Young Women of America program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their homes, their professions and their communities. Accomplishments such as these are the result of dedication, service and leadership—qualities which deserve to be recognized and remembered.

This is the goal of the many leading women's organizations, college alumni associates and public officials who nominate deserving young women to participate in the program.

Workshop for Grieving Process

A workshop on the grieving process will be sponsored by Tawas Hospital on the evening of Monday, November 12, at 7:00 o'clock, at Tawas Area High School, room 83.

Ardis Greene, social service director at Saginaw Osteopathic Hospital, will conduct the workshop. She has done extensive work in death and grief therapy and she has studied under Dr. Elizabeth Kubler-Ross. In addition, Mrs. Greene is a dynamic and personable lecturer who has previously conducted workshops in this area.

The workshop would be of benefit and interest to the general public as well as to people who work in the helping professions. A fee will be charged to help defray program costs. Registration may be made with the Human Resources Department at Tawas Hospital, 352-3411, extension 352. All interested people are invited to attend.

Schedule Parent-Teacher Conferences at Tawas A.

Parent-teacher conferences are to be held Wednesday and Thursday at Tawas Area School. There will be no classes Thursday and Friday afternoon and students will be returned home by bus at noon.

Conferences are to be held tonight (Wednesday), 6:30 to 9:30 p. m. Meetings between teachers and parents are by appointment in the elementary grades, but no appointment is necessary for parents of junior high school and high school students.

Conferences Thursday are to be held from 12:30 to 3:30 p. m. Elementary students are to be served lunch at noon, but no lunches will be served at the high school building.

The following week will see school closed Thursday and Friday, November 15-16, for the first two days of the deer season.

School is to be closed Thursday and Friday, November 22-23, for the Thanksgiving holiday.

A full week of school is scheduled for the last week of November.

Regional Library Marks Inter. Year of the Child

The United Nations has designated 1979 as the International Year of the Child. Iosco-Arenac Regional Library is taking this opportunity to honor this special year during National Children's Book Week, November 12-18.

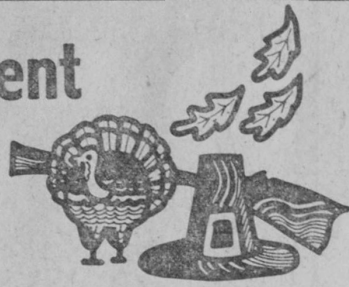

Throughout the week of November 12, all seven branches will feature special children's book collections of authors of books of international reputation. All authors are from countries other than the United States. Many of those children's books are set in the native country of the author.

The object of these collections is to illustrate the impact of foreign authors on children's literature.

That First Thanksgiving Dinner Lasted 3 Days!

by Lloyd Linford

If the challenge of preparing and serving Thanksgiving dinner seems great these days, just imagine what confronted Pilgrim mothers at the celebrated Plymouth feast 358 years ago. Count your blessings and be doubly thankful.

Pilgrim women available for kitchen duty in 1621 numbered only five. They were all that remained of the 18 adult homemakers who arrived aboard the Mayflower the previous winter.

Counting themselves, these mothers had about 50 Pilgrims to feed plus 90 Indians who showed up for the feast, which extended over a three-day period.

Perhaps with the help of 13 young girls who also survived that first hard winter at Plymouth, these five stout-hearted women somehow managed to serve what turned out to be history's most famous banquet.

The record is bare of details as to how the few mothers performed such a feat. Did masculine hands come to the rescue? Were the Indians any help? Historical evidence suggests the negative. Cooking was women's work, and they performed it as a matter of course. The clang of their pots and pans—what few they had—still echoes across the land every late November with a special kind of harmony.

Pilgrim Edward Winslow's account of that first Thanksgiving is simple and direct in unique spelling of the times:

"Our wheat did prouue well and God be Praysed we had a good increase of Indian corn, and our Barley indifferent good, but our Pease not worth the gathering . . . Our harvest being gotten in, our Governor sent foure men on fowling so we might after a more speciall manner rejoice together, after we had gathered the fruit of our labours."

Did "fowling" mean turkey hunting? Accounts left by the Pilgrims fail to mention turkey specifically, though ducks and geese are listed. Thus, some historians doubt that the big gawky bird so traditional at Thanksgiving time was even on that first menu.

A harvest celebration was not a new idea, neither to the Pilgrims nor to their Indian friends. For the bounty of autumn has prompted rejoicing among men of all persuasions since the beginning of recorded history.

molasses.

While the gallant women kept the fires hot and pots boiling, the men indulged in "frivolous games and exercised their arms" to keep busy and sharpen appetites.

The Indians demonstrated their marksmanship with bow and arrow. Red men and white competed in jumping, racing and other skills. Captain Miles Standish and his handful of citizen soldiers marched, blew bugles and fired salvos of musketry, much to the astonishment of their Indian guests.

All things considered, Plymouth's first Thanksgiving was a rousing success. Though half their number had failed to survive the first winter in the new land, the Pilgrims counted their blessings and expressed thanks unto God for watching over them as they carried on His work.

For the first time, they were able to see their way ahead clearly and lay aside thoughts of having to return home across the seas in defeat. This was ample cause, indeed, for celebration.

Today, three and a half centuries later, the impulse of the day remains much the same as it was then. Edward Winslow expressed it eloquently in a letter to friends back home in England:

"And although it was not always so plentiful as it was at this time with us, yet by the goodness of God, we are so farre from want that we often wish you partakers of our plentie."

As for the Pilgrim mothers, perhaps their thankfulness compounded when the affair was over, the kettles washed, and the clutter cleared away. Can't you hear them announcing to their menfolks next day?—"Just help yourselves to those leftovers."

But it was a rare occasion for the pious Pilgrims. Stern, harshly disciplined people, they frowned on gay holiday observances as pagan corruptions of Christianity.

Their usual reserve, however, was overcome on this occasion by a spirit of thankfulness that demanded expression. The fear of starvation had lessened. There was peace with the Indians. The hard work of summer was at an end and the future looked bright for the first time since leaving the Old World.

Thus, thanks to five hard-working women, the Pilgrims dined lavishly for three days on venison, geese, ducks, lobsters, eels, clams, oysters and other fish, various concoctions of corn, wild fruits, berries, herbs and nuts. The youngsters may even have munched popcorn because it was a favorite food of the Indians and had been for centuries.

Missing from the menu were cranberries and pumpkin pie. Apparently these traditional Thanksgiving staples had not yet been introduced to the Pilgrims. Both were available, however. The Indians around Plymouth were fond of pumpkin, and cranberries were growing in nearby bogs.

Cooking was performed outdoors, of course, under primitive circumstances. Venison, ducks, geese and perhaps turkey were turned on spits over the fire, while lobsters and oysters were roasted in the coals. Clam chowder and venison stew simmered in iron kettles. Salads were prepared from wild berries, plums, cherries and watercress. Pudding was made from corn and

TURKEY

The Great American Meal

by Bonnie J. Currie, Midwest Roto Food Editor

Turkey Tomorrow

What's for dinner tomorrow? Why not try "Turkey Tomorrow", a careful blend of nutritious turkey, rice, eggs, celery and mushroom soup making a succulent turkey casserole topped with potato chips.

- 3 cups cubed cooked turkey
- 2 cans cream of mushroom soup
- 4 hard cooked eggs, diced
- 2 cups chopped celery
- 2/3 cup minute rice (uncooked)
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons onion juice
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash cayenne pepper
- 4 cups crushed potato chips

Combine all ingredients except potato chips. Mix lightly, then put 2 cups potato chips in mixture and the rest on top. Bake 30-35 minutes at 375 degrees. Serves 16-20.

The Friendly Orient

For this great recipe by the National Turkey Federation you'll need your best pair of chopsticks and a hearty appetite.

- 1 small head lettuce, shredded
- 4 green onions, finely sliced
- 3 stalks celery, sliced
- 2/3 cups cooked turkey
- 1 can (3 ounce) chow mein noodles
- Almonds, toasted
- Sesame seeds, toasted

In salad bowl, make a bed of shredded lettuce, green onions and celery. Arrange turkey and chow mein noodles; garnish with toasted almonds and sesame seeds. Serve with chilled dressing.

DRESSING

- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons monosodium glutamate
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup oil
- 6 tablespoons wine vinegar
- 1 clove garlic, crushed

Combine ingredients, shake and chill.

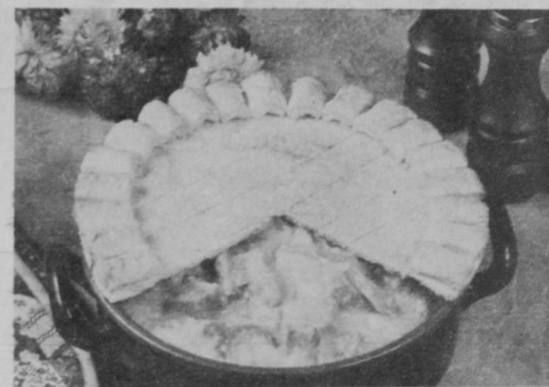

Turkey Pot Pie

Try this fantastic recipe put out by the National Turkey Federation. You'll love this Turkey Pot Pie! Pull your plate close and search out thick chunks of steaming turkey mixed with chopped onions, chili and peppers in a creamy cheese sauce, layering favorite ingredients shish-ka-bob style on your fork.

- 4 cups cooked, cubed turkey
- 2 onions, cut up
- 2 carrots
- 2 leeks, well cleaned
- 12 peppercorns
- Salt
- SAUCE
- 1/2 cup margarine
- 1 1/2 cups chopped onion
- 4 sweet red peppers, finely chopped
- 4-5 green chillies, halved and seeded
- 10 tablespoons flour
- 5 cups turkey broth
- 2 cups grated Cheddar cheese
- Salt
- Freshly ground black pepper
- Your own favorite pie crust, rolled thick
- 1 egg, beaten

Simmer the turkey in sufficient water to cover with the onion, carrot, leek, peppercorns and salt, for about 2 hours. Remove the turkey and let cool. Reduce the liquid in the pan to 5 cups by boiling rapidly. Strain and discard the vegetables. Melt the margarine in a saucepan. Add the chopped onion, peppers and chillies. Fry for about 10 minutes, if desired, the chillies can be removed at this stage. Place turkey in a 2-quart casserole. Stir the flour into the fried vegetables and cook for 1 minute. Remove from the heat and stir in the broth (chicken bouillon may be substituted). Cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture comes to a boil. When it has thickened, remove from the heat and stir in the cheese. Adjust the seasoning. Spoon over the turkey and let cool. Roll pastry crust out to fit casserole. Seal the edges and brush the top with beaten egg. Place on a cookie tray and cook in a very hot oven (450 degrees) for 30 minutes. Reduce temperature to 325 degrees and cook for 30 minutes longer.

Turkey Creole

The traditions used to be creole cooking in New Orleans and turkey at Thanksgiving. Once you've tried "Turkey Creole", you'll start a new tradition at your home!

- 4 tablespoons oil
- 2 cups diced onions
- 2 1/2 cups diced celery
- 1 cup diced green pepper
- 2 teaspoons finely minced garlic
- 1 can (28 ounces) tomatoes, broken up
- 1 tablespoon paprika
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 5 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, divided
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/4 cup water
- 4 cups diced, cooked turkey

In a large heavy saucepan heat oil. Add onions, celery, green pepper and garlic; saute for 5 minutes. Add tomatoes to saucepan. Stir in paprika, salt and 3 teaspoons of the Worcestershire sauce. Bring to boiling. Reduce heat and simmer covered for 20 minutes. Blend cornstarch with water. Stir into saucepan. Add turkey and remaining 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce. Simmer covered, stirring occasionally, until mixture is thickened, about 10 minutes. Spoon into parsleyed rice ring, if desired. Serve with crisp rolls and mixed fruit salad.

"Here's a big, powerful food processor without a big price tag."

It's the incredible Le Chef Food Processor from Sunbeam.

I love to cook—whenever I can spare the time. But recipes that call for half a day's chopping, pureeing and slicing really intimidated me! Now, with my Sunbeam Le Chef Food Processor, I can do those jobs in seconds. Really! For entertaining, and for everyday dishes too.

What's so special about Sunbeam Le Chef? The motor is surprisingly quiet and powerful. Sunbeam calls it direct drive. I call it incredible. It easily kneads stiff yeast dough without stalling. Its super capacity container lets me prepare enough for a crowd, all at once. The Touch On pulse control instantly regulates action, so I'm less likely to over-process by mistake.

The Sunbeam Le Chef comes with 4 processing blades and discs, for handling each job just right. The multi-purpose blade for minced onions or homemade hamburger, the shredding disc for cheddar cheese or cole slaw. The slicing disc turns out perfect, even slices of vegetables or sausage. I use the mixing blade for cake batter and desserts. There's even a handy spatula and a complete 64-page recipe book included.

Le Chef, the amazing, indispensable food processor for everything from apple pancakes to zucchini. From my favorite appliance company. Who else but Sunbeam.

Despite its unpretentious appearance, the old Magnolia Lounge Bar and Steak House drew patrons from all over the Midwest.

Last Hurrah

by Carolyn M. Thompson

What does the word "Magnolia" mean to you? A delicate blossom? A southern beauty?

If you have ever been in the southwestern corner of Minnesota, that word conjures up memories of the old Magnolia Lounge Bar and Steak House.

Magnolia is also the name of the town, population about 200. But when folks in the area say, "Let's go to Magnolia," they usually mean the steak house and not the town.

The old steak house and bar was an institution in the community. To the locals, it was a social club, a background for celebrations, an extension of their living rooms. Any occasion—from a family reunion to the finishing of daily chores—called for a trip to Magnolia.

And Magnolia became a legend in the upper Midwest, drawing patrons from South Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin. It was not uncommon to hear of customers driving 300 miles or more to enjoy an aged steak in the ancient building which housed the steak house and bar.

Now, however, owner Tim Dispanet has served the last steak dinner and bottle of beer in the old structure. A new building, complete with carpeting, banquet facilities and modern equipment, has been constructed across the street from the original.

This should call for a grand opening celebration in a small town that hasn't seen new construction for years. But many of the long-time patrons would rather hold a "grand closing" to mourn the demise of the termite-ridden building which the new one replaces.

"You've got to have progress, I guess," one customer said, "but the new building won't seem the same."

"You can't change a good place like this," said another. "We've had some good times here. Oh boy! Oh boy!"

At first glance, it is hard to understand this tenacious affection for the old building.

The exterior is typical of the phony-front structures built around the turn of the century. The building is indistinguishable from other structures in the town, except for two faded signs over the glass block windows which announce, "Steak House" and "Bar Lounge."

When you open the squeaky wooden door, your eyes take a moment to adjust to the bar's dimly lit interior. A stuffed raccoon in the corner fits in with the eclectic decorations on the faded walls. A yellowed poster advertising "Final Letting of 3,000 Mules" hangs next to a deer's head. Someone has hung a sign from its antlers that says, "Please don't eat Bambi." Buzzy Martin, the tombstone carver, created the red granite picture of the flag raising on Iwo Jima. Above that hangs a bas relief picture of a barber shop.

Vinyl booths line one wall of the high-ceilinged bar. The floors are covered with worn, colorless linoleum.

At 10:30 in the morning Dispanet is behind the bar waiting on customers. Dispanet, a wiry, energetic man of 38, bantered easily with his patrons.

"What's with the beard, Tim?" a man asked.

"I haven't got time to shave," replied Dispanet as he hurried into the off-sale section to ring up a case of beer.

The main bar is cluttered with bottles, photographs and an array of signs. An old "Wallace for President" bumper sticker is displayed with "Save Water, Drink Booze," "Don't just stand there—buy something!" and "Mustaches Made While You Wait."

"We need more Cabin Still, Tim,"

Like his clientele, owner Tim Dispanet (right) wears boots in the bar.

Tim Dispanet personally selects the choicest beef for his steak house.

Tony Dispanet (left) discusses an order with a salesman where his father used to "hold court" with his friends.

In the dirt cellar underneath the old bar, Tim examines the cache of spirits in dusty old bottles.

Dispanet opened a trap door on the floor of the off-sale shop and descended a wooden ladder to the earth cellar. He ducked his head to avoid the wooden timbers that braced the low ceiling. Rows of dusty bottles in wooden crates sat on shelves against the unfinished dirt walls.

He pointed to some odd flasks. "We've got bottles of liquor down here that aren't even made any more," he said. "I really should do something about all of this stuff after the move—maybe auction it off. Some of these bottles could be valuable." Dispanet grabbed the Cabin Still and returned to the bar.

More customers have come in. Dispanet set a bottle of Pabst beer in front of a white-haired gentleman in a plaid jacket and matching cap. "Now this is the man who can tell you about Magnolia," Dispanet said. "Old Bill has been coming here for as long as I can remember. He once came in the middle of a blizzard so bad the whole town closed. He caught me just as I was locking up."

Bill Perkins smiled and took a sip of his beer. "I've only got one life to live," he said, "and I'm going to give it the limit."

Perkins, a 91-year-old retired farmer, loves to sip his daily bottle of beer in the company of old friends.

"This is the greatest old bar in the state," Perkins continued. "I came to Magnolia as a small boy in a covered wagon in 1898. I remember when this town had a lot of businesses—a couple of grocery stores, a barber shop, a bank. Now all that's left is the grain elevator and this place."

Why does a place like the bar and steak house not only survive but thrive in a small, isolated town like Magnolia? (Besides the vigorous on- and off-sale liquor business, the steak house serves about 1500 dinners weekly in a restaurant that seats only 100 people.)

Every person you ask will give you a different reason for Magnolia's attraction.

Harry Janssen thinks much of the credit belongs to the colorful personality of the man who started the business, Amos Clair Dispanet, Tim's father.

"I was with A.C. when he bought the building on April 14, 1938," Janssen said. "He was a good friend. Quite a character, yes indeed!"

Janssen recalled that when A.C. opened the bar in May, he inherited some of the roughneck crowd who used to drink and gamble at McCordle's, a 3.2 bar that had earned its nickname, "the bloody bucket." People still talk about the old days of fist fights and poker games where farms were lost with the turn of a card.

Now a sign over the bar proclaims, "No! I mean no! cards or dice playing for money."

"A.C. never drank in the bar area when he was tending it, but later he would 'hold court' behind what we called 'the judge's bench' in the dining area," Janssen said. "We would drink brandy, and A.C. would spin tales until all hours of the morning."

Janssen's eye glistened. "And what tales he could tell!"

A.C. Dispanet, a descendant of French Huguenots, was unique in this predominantly Scandinavian community. Although he moved to Magnolia from Iowa at the age of 37, he easily fit into the local scene.

Tim Dispanet spoke candidly about his father's adventurous past. "He used to take the Zephyr into Chicago every week to pick up bootleg booze from the Capone organization," Dispanet said. "Then he would bring it back here for distribution. He once carried $160,000 in inventory. He was never arrested, but he had a couple of close calls. My mother convinced him to get out of that business and into something respectable, so he bought this place," Dispanet said.

Fritz Wiese, a blacksmith from Kanaranzie, recalled the practical jokes that A.C. used to pull. "He sneaked over to my house and hung a 'Hog Cholera Quarantine' sign outside my kitchen door," Wiese said. "Then he called to ask, 'What's the matter with you folks, can't you keep clean?'"

In retaliation, Wiese smuggled a bunch of sparrows in butter boxes and released them in the bar. "I told him that's what he gets when he has holes in his ceiling," Wiese chuckled.

"A.C. loved the overalls and muddy boots crowd," said Eddie Hanson, retired banker from Kanaranzie. "That's why he never wanted to change the place. He thought it was important for farmers to feel comfortable coming to the place in their work clothes."

The conversations at Magnolia are a running commentary on life in the community.

"I hear old Jens bagged himself a wild turkey. Shot it with a rifle," said a patron.

"Isn't that illegal?" asked another.

"Yeah, but the season ain't even open yet, so what's the difference?"

Three men in a booth were discussing the 50 pounds of lutefisk one of them was cooking for 40 guests. "That's a lot of lutefisk, isn't it? No one can eat a pound of that stuff."

The man replied, "We've got one guy coming who can eat six pounds by himself. He's not even Norwegian!"

The locals keep coming back to Magnolia for the socializing, but it's the food that draws customers from around the Midwest. "Where you get the MOST of the BEST for the LEAST" the menu says. The a la carte menu offers a selection of seafood, pork and chicken, but the aged steaks are the stars, especially a 20-ounce sirloin and a 16-ounce filet mignon.

Dispanet personally selects the choicest cuts of beef from a packing plant in Windom weekly. Then he ages them in his own locker under special lights for seven to 10 days.

Because Dispanet takes pride in his beef, the menu states that no thick steaks will be cooked more than medium.

Dispanet takes even more pride in his personnel. Waitresses stay an average of 15 years, and Dispanet hasn't hired one in the past six years. Lois Meyers has worked at the Magnolia Lounge for 20 years, and her husband, Bob, has tended bar since 1949. Dispanet's brother, Tony, orders most of the supplies and also tends bar.

The steak house started out with a handful of people doing a variety of jobs. "We used to pluck our own chickens in the back," Dispanet said. Dishwashers would spell the bartenders or waitresses would help cook. Now there are 36 people on the payroll with more to be hired when the new place opens.

Dispanet, who gave up his barbering profession to run the business when his father died in 1972, is preserving the casual atmosphere of the old place as much as possible. "It's been home to so many," he said.

A sign over the old bar used to say: "There's no place just like this place anywhere near this place. So this must be the place."

To some of the loyal patrons, there is no place like the original Magnolia Lounge Bar and Steak House.

Dear Fleischmann's[®] Yeast,
 Company's coming—constantly.
 I always like to serve fresh-baked bread.
 But I don't always get the time.
 What can I do?

"Busy, Busy, Busy."

Dear Busy,
 Relax! If you've got a refrigerator and Fleischmann's Yeast
 you've got the time.

It's almost like baking in your refrigerator first. And it gives you time to take the children to school, go to the office, attend a meeting or play tennis. We call it the CoolRise Method. Your dough is mixed, kneaded and shaped all at once. Then, left to rise in the refrigerator. You can bake whenever it's convenient... from two to twenty-four hours later.

You can make CoolRise white bread or dinner rolls, oatmeal bread or poppy seed braid, apple cake or rich cherry walnut coffee-cake. Why not start now? With this easy recipe for authentic Italian bread.

You'll need:

- 4½ to 5½ cups unsifted flour
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 packages Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
- 1 tablespoon softened Fleischmann's[®] Margarine
- ¾ cups very warm tap water (120° F. - 130° F.)

- Corn meal
- Planters[®] Peanut Oil
- 1 egg white
- 1 tablespoon cold water

The fun begins.

In a large bowl, mix 1½ cups flour, sugar, salt and undissolved Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Add softened Fleischmann's Margarine.

Gradually add tap water. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add ¼ cup flour. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a stiff dough.

Turn out onto lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic—about 8 to 10 minutes. Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel. Let rest 20 minutes.

Makes 2 loaves.

Divide dough in half. Roll each half into an oblong shape, approximately 15 x 10 inches. Beginning at wide side, roll up tightly; pinch seam to seal. Taper ends by rolling gently back and forth.

Rising on ice.

Place on greased baking sheets sprinkled with corn meal. Brush dough with Planters Peanut Oil. Cover loosely with plastic wrap. Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours.

When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Uncover and let stand at room temperature 10 minutes. Make 3 or 4 diagonal cuts on top of each loaf with sharp knife.

Bake at 425° F. for 20 minutes. Remove from oven. Brush with egg white mixed with cold water. Return to oven; bake 5 to 10 minutes longer, until golden brown.

And enjoy... that aroma and taste of fresh-baked... the creative satisfaction of baking from scratch with Fleischmann's Yeast. It's more than a matter of doing your own baking. It's a wonderfully warm way to express yourself and to express your love for family and friends.
