

Iosco Makes Emergency Allocation

An emergency appropriation of $15,000 from contingency funds was made Friday by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners to meet a payroll crisis at the county medical care facility.

Roy Bergstrom, medical care facility director, and Charles Palmer, auditor for Iosco Department of Social Services Board, had appeared before the commission earlier in the week and said that additional county funds were necessary to meet the October 1 payroll.

The medical care facility's cash crisis was attributed to a number of factors, one being the fact that reimbursement under state Medicaid payments amounts to about $35 per patient when the actual cost is $43.40 per patient. The state also claimed that it had made an overpayment of $1.50 per patient.

In addition to that problem, the opening of Provincial House Nursing Home on North Street had lessened the number of patients going into the county facility. During the past summer, the 64-bed medical care facility was averaging 52 patients and a number of employees were released from employment as a result.

When Provincial House Nursing Home reached its capacity of 120 patients, the overflow went to the medical care facility which is again at capacity and released employees have returned.

It was stated Wednesday that an additional $10,750 would be needed to meet October's payroll and about $4,100 would be needed in November. Total additional appropriation needed from the county for October through December would be $22,000.

It is expected that representatives of the Iosco Social Services Board will meet today (Wednesday) with the county commission at its regular meeting.

Comm. Marian Ulman expressed the opinion that the county commission should have been made aware of the financial problems at the medical care facility earlier this summer in order to give time to place a millage proposition to voters in November. It is now too late to present such a question to voters as the deadline was September 15.

John Webb Jr., chairman of the county commission, expressed the opinion that the medical care facility would have to live within its budget. He said he did not see how the county commission could provide the equivalent of one-quarter of a mill of tax revenue to support the facility.

With last week's allocation of $15,000, the total contribution of county funds to the medical care facility's budget this year amounts to $96,000.

Last February, County Treasurer Edward Nelkie advised the county commission and department of social services, that at the rate of spending at that time, a contribution of $123,000 from the county would be needed during 1979.

As an alternative at the time, the county treasurer suggested that the county commission consider a special millage proposal to be presented to voters, believing that current county finances would not permit such an expenditure. Nelkie pointed out at the time that voted millage for construction of the medical care facility expired this year.

In other business, the county commission authorized steps be taken to hire a clerk to handle payrolls of CETA employees for those local units of government without capability of maintaining proper bookkeeping.

Employment of the county's former payroll clerk, Tammy Ilicin, expired September 30 as she had been employed under CETA for a period of 18 months. Payroll work for 10 CETA trainees hired by the county is to be handled through the county clerk's office and CETA trainees hired by other units of local government or governmental agencies is to be handled by the new payroll clerk. During the interim, Nancy Wade, former county CETA director and now an employee of Region 7-B, has agreed to handle the work on a temporary basis, according to the chairman of the county board of commissioners.

Schill Road Under Study at E. Tawas

Discussion was renewed Monday night by East Tawas Council on opening Schill Road in the Tawas Lake area.

The city is to attempt to determine the exact position of the city boundary in that area so as to determine actual ownership of the road.

During plans for expanding the former county airport located near Tawas Lake more than 15 years ago, the county road commission took action to formally close the road. It was said at the time the action was necessary for safety at the airport.

The city contends, however, that the boundary line between Baldwin Township and the city is located in the ditch along the east side of the road and that the county had no legal power to close the road.

The city hopes to open Schill Road as an alternate access route to the northeastern residential section of Tawas Lake as well as to provide drainage in the area.

In other business, no objections were heard at a public hearing called by the planning commission on a proposed subdivision control ordinance. The ordinance is necessary in order for new plats to be considered at the state level. The ordinance was approved by council action.

A proposed taxi cab ordinance based on one in force at Alpena was considered by the council and turned over to the council's ordinance committee and the planning commission for study. The ordinance would provide that a taxi company would provide 24-hour service, would govern personnel and provide that under licensed franchise, vehicles would be in safe condition and insured.

On recommendation of the board of public works, a 10-cent per 1,000 gallon charge was added to the water rate of customers using more than 10,000 gallons per quarter. At the present time, the rate is 40 cents for each additional 1,000 gallons and the new rate would be 50 cents for each additional 1,000 gallons.

The council approved by reference the state uniform traffic code and emergency safety rules. During a recent court trial on a traffic violation ticket, the attorney for the defendant pointed out that the city council's adoption of the state uniform traffic code had not taken place at a regularly scheduled and public posted meeting of the council, in violation of the open meetings act.

The council corrected that oversight by readopting the state code under the prescribed conditions.

Whittemore Bicyclist Hurt Seriously in Car Collision

An 18-year-old Whittemore area bicyclist was seriously injured September 25 when he was struck by a car on Leggett Road, Burleigh Township.

Investigating Iosco County Sheriff's Department officers said that Timothy L. Ecker rode his bicycle out of a private driveway and into the path of a car driven by Geneva H. Wrathell of Whittemore.

The young man was taken to Tawas Hospital for emergency treatment and then transferred to Saginaw St. Mary's Hospital for surgery.

Three other personal injury accidents were investigated during the week by the sheriff's department.

On September 24, a car driven by Walter A. Wright, 22, Oxford, crossed the center line of US-23 in Tawas City and struck a car driven by Fred D. Pettibone, 70, East Tawas, near the Tawas River bridge. Two passengers in the second car, Irma A. Pettibone and Clifford Lonsbury, were treated at Tawas Hospital and released.

Four persons were injured Friday night in a crash on River Road, Oscoda Township. Treated at Tawas Hospital were William D. Brown, 41, Detroit; James A. Wilson, 42; James C. Schafer, 22; William H. Dicks, 50.

Officers said that Brown was eastbound when a second vehicle cut in front of him. The driver swerved to avoid a collision, lost control of the car and hit a tree. The driver who caused the accident is unknown.

Robert A. Burnell, 35, Saginaw, was treated Saturday night following a crash on South Branch Road. His vehicle was involved in a collision with a truck driven by Joseph Gauden, 23, Ossineke.

Start Fund Drive for New Senior Citizen Cen.

Tawas Community Senior Citizens have begun a drive to raise $25,000 as the local one-third share toward construction of a new center on Emery Street at East Tawas.

Beatrice DeMaet, president of the organization, said that letters requesting donations were mailed to local businesses and industries last Friday.

The organization presently holds its weekly meetings at the senior citizen drop-in center sponsored by Trio Council on Aging and located at the American Legion Hall on North Street, Tawas City.

Mrs. DeMaet said that her organization began making plans for a new building earlier this year and had enlisted the support of State Rep. Tom Alley in attempting to obtain state funds to assist with the project.

East Tawas City Council had provided a parcel of land on Emery Street between State and Lincoln Streets on a long-term lease basis if the campaign to raise funds is successful.

The organization's president said that plans for the fund raising campaign were discussed Monday and again at Tuesday's business meeting.

Preliminary plans for the proposed structure have not been obtained as yet, but it is expected that rough drawings will be obtained shortly.

A special meeting with representatives of Alabaster and Tawas Township is scheduled prior to the next session of the Tawas City Council on Monday, October 15, to outline and discuss the city's plans for annexing portions of adjoining township lands into the city's corporate boundaries.

Annexation of adjoining lands with low population, without a referendum as permitted under existing state statutes, has been under consideration by Tawas City officials for a number of years.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas presented a map and details of the proposal to the city council Monday night. He said that the information would be discussed at the October 15 meeting with township officials, which is scheduled to start at 7:00 p. m.

Thomas said his plan contains a natural extension of the city's commercial area along US-23 and also provides for a variety of living environments to city residents desiring "elbow room." He said that was a critical factor in development of the city as persons attracted here to establish business or industrial enterprises desired larger home building lots and, at present, had to look to build out in the townships.

Thomas said that the natural way to annex land by a city would be to extend areas so as to square off the boundary lines, but because of the city's present configuration, he felt that compromise lines had to be developed to alleviate problems with the adjoining townships. He emphasized that no significant portion of either township's tax base would be affected by his plan.

One of the major areas under consideration for annexation for a number of years has been the southwesterly extension of Bay Drive across Townline Road into Alabaster Township. Water service was provided to that area by the city a number of years ago and Thomas' plan calls for extending the city boundary 1,320 feet along Bay Drive.

The second area under consideration is the land surrounding the 40-acre industrial park the city recently purchased from the Hughes family and annexed to the city. Thomas indicated that this area consisted of approximately 160 acres of wooded and rolling land, containing no residential dwellings. The city manager's map indicated the proposed boundary line would extend northerly from Hilltop Road in Elms Subdivision to a projection of Second Street at the northern boundary of Memory Gardens Cemetery.

The third extension would be southwesterly along US-23 to a point beyond the Roadhouse Bar. Thomas said that would be a natural extension to the city's commercial area.

The fourth area under consideration is a 40-acre parcel lying west of Fifth Avenue and north to M-55. At the present time, the city boundary west of Fifth Avenue includes a 40-acre parcel lying about mid way between North Street and M-55.

According to Thomas' plan, the city boundary would be extended westerly on Meadow Road to include the Davison property.

The city manager said that no consideration was being given to extending the city boundary west along Plank Road nor to other residential areas of the township along Emily Drive or Randall Street. A referendum would be required in those areas because of the population, which Thomas said would complicate the annexation procedure.

Thomas said the meeting had been requested by Alabaster Township officials and an invitation had been extended to Tawas Township. He said the plan he proposes might be reconsidered after meeting with officials of the two townships.

The city council directed the city manager to proceed with preparing a necessary resolution for action by the state boundary commission to include the areas for annexation which he presently proposes.

Coun. Donald Hayes, whose business is located in the US-23 area being considered for annexation, abstained from voting on the question.

Return Allied Taxpayers' Petitions for Clarification

Petitions seeking a referendum on two proposed changes to Tawas City's 1971 charter have been returned to Allied Taxpayers for a clarification on wording, according to a report Monday night to the city council by City Mgr. Lowell Thomas.

Allied Taxpayers seeks to place before voters at the November 6 general election the question of returning to the elective system for naming a city clerk and a return to the former three-ward system for selection of councilmen.

The city clerk normally rules on the sufficiency of such petitions, but City Mgr. Lowell Thomas said he had turned the matter over to the city attorney for review "because of problems arising in the past."

An opinion read Monday night from the city attorney said that the petitions seeking the referendum again did not meet state statutes, although both had the required signatures representing five percent of city's registered voter lists.

City Atty. Kenneth Myles said that the petition seeking a vote on the return to the three-ward system, apparently prepared by an attorney, contained wording used in two different statutes pertaining to changing a charter by referendum.

Allied Taxpayers' petition asked for a revision of the charter rather than an amendment to the charter. State statute authorizes holding a referendum on a charter revision at the next general election, but this would mean that a charter revision commission would be elected by the people to study the entire charter and any proposed changes would be placed before voters following that study.

On the other hand, a referendum on a specific amendment to the charter, such as requested by Allied Taxpayers, is not permitted by state statute until not less than 90 days have elapsed after filing of petitions. Because of that provision, the referendum could not be held at the November 6 general election.

Thomas said it was obvious that Allied Taxpayers sought an amendment to the city charter and not a complete revision by an elected commission, but it was also obvious from reading state statutes that this could not be done in a period less than 90 days after filing. He said that a letter had been sent to Allied Taxpayers requesting a clarification on its petitions.

Mayor Herbert Cholger expressed the opinion that although the petitions might not be legal, "common sense would indicate that rather than getting into a hassle," the city council could place the two questions before voters on its own initiative power at the November 6 election, as permitted by law.

He said that Allied Taxpayers used the petition method to bring the matter to the attention of the council "and to show the willingness of the council to cooperate with the wishes of the people."

Fugitive Arrests at Hale Clear Area Burglaries

Arrest of two persons on a fugitive warrant cleared several previously unsolved burglaries in Western Iosco County.

Awaiting extradition to Colorado are Nolan Nash and Kimberly Riggs, who were arrested by Iosco County Sheriff's Department officers at the Hale Trailer Court.

Nash had been wanted by authorities at Caro for questioning concerning a breaking and entering. He was driving a pickup truck allegedly stolen in Colorado.

A quantity of stolen items were recovered including four television sets, two telephones, tools, a record player, radio and tape players.

Nash admitted five burglaries at Long Lake, entry of a cabin on Wicker Road, seven burglaries at Mack Lake and entry of two homes off Rose City Road, all in the Hale area.

Plan Developed by City Manager Set Annexation Meeting October 15

(Read Ephesians 1:16-23) "At the name of Jesus every knee should bow . . . and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord." (Philippians 2:10-11 RSV)

On the way to church one sunny Sunday morning, I passed a field of sunflowers. They were to the west of me and seemed to spread over acres and acres. Thousands of glorious, yellow blossoms were in full bloom. In the east, the sun was just rising. Every sunflower was turned towards the sun and bowed down as though in worship.

"At the name of Jesus every knee should bow" seems like an incredulous promise. The masses of the world turn away from the light of God, thinking it is an unnatural restraint to worship and serve.

The sunflower, on the other hand, turns naturally to the source of its life. It follows the light wherever it goes.

Could the world realize that turning to the source of our life is the only submission required by true faith? If so, then indeed every knee might bow and every tongue might confess that Jesus is Lord!

PRAYER

O God, give us the realization that religion is not foreign but native to the human soul. May we do what we are born to do. May we adore You, worship You, serve You and love You, as we are led by the light of Christ. Amen.

Petitions

on the three-ward system were insufficient, an Alpena attorney hired by petitioners sought a circuit court writ of mandamus to force an election. The city clerk's action was upheld by Circuit Court Judge Leo Corkin of St. Johns, who dismissed the suit.

In an apparent retaliation, Allied Taxpayers submitted a petition to the city council asking it to authorize a referendum on the question of electing a city clerk rather than by the appointive method prescribed by the 1971 city charter. The majority of the council pointed out that the city clerk position was taken out of politics and changed into an administrative position under the city manager as the result of adoption of the city charter by the people. The charter also eliminated partisan politics in city elections and called for the election of councilmen on an at large basis rather than under the old ward system.

The city clerk later held a workshop for persons interested in learning about election laws, attended by a representative of the secretary of state's office.

Allied Taxpayers then petitioned to recall five of the six members of the council and a special election was tentatively set for October 2. The five councilmen petitioned the court for a writ of mandamus and Circuit Court Judge David S. DeWitt of Midland issued an order stopping the election. He ruled that petition wording was not of sufficient clarity and contained no specific charges which would justify a recall election.

No action was taken by Judge DeWitt on charges by the five councilmen named in the recall that there were misrepresentations in the procuring of signatures on petitions, that certain of the petitions were invalid and that circulators had fraudulently certified the petitions.

South Branch Man Killed in Crash

A 17-year-old South Branch man was killed Sunday morning in a crash on M-65, 2 of a mile south of Britt Road in Plainfield Township.

Dead at the scene was Donald F. Cohee Jr., who was a passenger in a car driven by Barry D. Moran, 18, Owosso.

Moran received emergency treatment at Tawas Hospital and was then transferred to St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw.

Investigating sheriff's department officers said that a passing car reported the accident at 7:20 a. m. It is believed the crash occurred about 1 1/2 hours earlier.

Officers used the county's new "Jaws of Life" machine in removing Moran from the wreckage.

Investigation indicated that the car traveled approximately 360 feet along the highway in the opposing lane before leaving the left side of the roadway. The car struck two trees before coming to rest against a third tree.

Officers said there were no skid marks on the pavement and believed the driver may have gone to sleep at the wheel. The accident remains under investigation.

Services for Donald Cohee Jr. of South Branch, a Hale Area School senior who lost his life Sunday, September 30, in an automobile accident near Hale, will be conducted Wednesday (today), October 3, at 11:00 a. m. from St. Pius X Catholic Church with the Rev. Fr. James Holt officiating. Burial will be in South Branch Cemetery.

He was born May 3, 1962, at Saginaw and is survived by his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kennedy of South Branch; his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cohee of Harrison; two brothers, Michael Koehler of Jose Lake and Scott Kennedy of South Branch; four sisters, Donna and Teri Cohee and Angela Kennedy of South Branch and Kari Cohee of Harrison; grandparents, Marie Sauseda of Saginaw, Karil Cohee of Harrison and Mrs. Carlotta Geneman of Wisconsin.

Highlights And Sidelights

Attorney General Appeals Ruling

LANSING—Even if the Bay Mills and Chippewa Indians retain some fishing rights resulting from treaties in 1836 and 1855, the State of Michigan can exercise reasonable regulation in the interest of conservation, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley contends in an appeal filed with the United States Court of Appeals.

Kelley's appeal, filed in the Sixth Circuit in Cincinnati, Ohio, challenges a ruling by Federal District Judge Noel P. Fox granting unlimited fishing rights to the Bay Mills Indian Community and the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians.

In his 34-page appeal, Kelley maintains that the Bay Mills and Chippewa Indians relinquished any unlimited fishing rights as part of the treaties of 1836 and 1855 and subsequent actions before the United States Court of Claims and the Indian Claims Commission.

But even if the Indians retain some fishing rights, the State of Michigan has the power to impose reasonable restrictions on Indian fishing rights . . . "in common with all citizens of the territory," according to rulings by the United States Supreme Court in recent cases, Kelley argues.

In his appeal, Kelley maintains that the supreme court has held that although the state may not curtail the right of the Indians to fish, the state can impose regulations on the manner of fishing, and/or the size of the take. The state can also impose and enforce restrictions against commercial fishing in the interest of conservation so long as the regulations are necessary for conservation and do not discriminate against the Indians, Kelley insists.

"The Indian plaintiffs' desire is to fish free from regulation by the State of Michigan," Kelley said. "To accomplish this goal they assert rights protected by the treaties of 1836 and 1855, but neither the historical record nor the treaties themselves support their contentions."

Specifically, the attorney general contends that any unlimited fishing rights the Indians may have had, were relinquished in the treaties of 1836 and 1855 and by subsequent actions before the United States Court of Claims in 1907 and the Indian Claims Commission in 1971.

"In the course of those proceedings, the Indian tribes argued that certain rights had been given up in the 1836 treaty and certain additional rights—including the right to fish—had been given up in the 1855 treaty," Kelley said in his appeal.

In the proceedings (1971) before the Indian Claims Commission, Kelley notes, the Indian tribes were awarded more than 12-million dollars as additional compensation for the land given up in 1836. The attorney general argues that the Indians also gave up unlimited fishing rights as part of the agreement.

Kelley filed his appeal in cooperation with Gov. William G. Milliken and Dr. Howard A. Tanner, director of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

He will also ask the Court of Appeals to advance the hearing date.

"I hope this case can be heard soon. In the meantime, I ask the citizens of Michigan and members of the respective Indian tribes to exercise reason and restraint," Kelley said.

"I believe we have presented sound legal arguments to overturn the ruling which gives unlimited fishing rights to the Bay Mills and Chippewa Indians. But until that reversal comes, the ruling by Judge Fox is the law of the land and must be obeyed."

Ensemble from Saginaw Set Local Program

A musical ensemble from Saginaw will be presenting the Gospel through music Sunday, October 7, 6:00 p. m., at the East Tawas Church of the Nazarene.

The basic theme of the evening will be "Jesus Saves." The program will include brass ensemble arrangements interspersed with testimony and vocal music. Pastor Daryl Burt encourages the community to attend.

School Petitions for Street Closings

A petition from Tawas Area School to vacate portions of Ninth Avenue and Second Street near the Tawas City Elementary Unit have been turned over to the city planning commission for a recommendation.

Presented Monday night to the city council, the school asks discontinuance of Ninth Avenue north of Dead Creek to Second Street. The street presently is located in the school playground.

No objection is seen to the Ninth Avenue vacation, although councilmen felt that provision should be made to insure that the foot bridge across Dead Creek would be continued.

Vacation of Second Street west from its intersection with Harris Avenue posed a different problem because private property owners would be involved and the street presently serves as egress to the city-owned junior baseball fields.

In other business, the council approved sharing the cost on a one-third basis for installing blacktop at the Jesse C. Hodder American Legion Hall on North Street.

At its last meeting, the council received a request to blacktop a portion of the parking lot to improve walking conditions for elderly persons using the senior citizens center housed in the building.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas estimated that cost of paving the 40 by 60-foot area would be $1,200. He said the American Legion post had agreed to pay a share of the cost.

Because of the lack of contingency funds in the city budget, councilmen felt that additional help should be received in the project, either through the county board of commissioners, Trio Council on Aging or the senior citizen organization.

A meeting is to be held October 24 at Tawas Area High School on a study of transportation needs conducted by East Central Michigan Planning and Development Commission. The Michigan Department of State Highways is looking for local public input at that meeting to guide future transportation planning. The city manager said that much of the study concerned needs for US-23. Tawas Chamber of Commerce has arranged a special meeting next Tuesday with state highway officials.

The city manager announced that he had prepared materials concerning the upcoming vote on the city's proposed new municipal center. The city manager made a comprehensive study of the proposal and said that he planned to meet with various organizations to present the information. He said the information was available to anyone interested in appearing before community groups.

A hearing is to be held November 5 on petitions relative to vacation of alleys in Porterfield's Addition. Vacation of the alleys was recommended by the planning commission.

The council appropriated $155 to repaint the city's industrial park advertising sign on US-23. A previous appropriation of $1,036 to the Michigan Employment Security Commission was rescinded as the payment will not be required until July 1, 1980.

Fresh Donuts and Cider

A Fall Feast in Michigan

Autumn brings a feast to the senses—an array of many brilliant colors, a cool, crisp wind on the skin and the delicious fruity aroma of Michigan apple cider.

Fresh cider and donuts are natural treats during fall in the state. They go well with trips to the football games, waxing leaves and carving pumpkins.

Good things are growing in Michigan and the apple growers estimate 720-million pounds of apples will be harvested this year according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Varieties produced include red Delicious, Jonathan, McIntosh, Rome Beauty, Northern Spy, Ida Red and Paulared.

Michigan's apple crop of 920-million pounds last year was the largest produced since 1896 and much of the credit belonged to weather. The state ranks third in apple production.

Apples for juice do not require special handling as apples for fresh market and are usually mechanically harvested, about five to 10 percent of Michigan's apple crop.

Cider is the natural pure juice of apples with no sugar added and has only 87 calories per six-ounce-glass. Flavor depends on the blend of different apple varieties and varies in different areas of the country depending on preference for sweet or tart cider. When cider has been pasteurized, it is commonly referred to as apple juice.

Cider needs constant refrigeration because of perishability. It will stay sweet and unfermented for one to two weeks, or two to three weeks if a preservative has been added. It can be served hot with cinnamon and cloves or frozen for winter treats around the fireplace.

Bell Sparked Panthers in Win Over JV

Tawas Junior Braves lost a "bell ringer" Thursday night, 32-12, to visiting Standish-Sterling Central. Ringing Tawas' scoreboard bell three times during the game was Brad Bell of the Panthers, who scored three touchdowns and played a whale of a game on defense.

The Panthers rode to an easy win when Bell scored his first touchdown with seven minutes, 53 seconds left in the first quarter. The Panthers passed for a two-point conversion and an 8-0 lead.

Tawas came right back with 52 seconds left in the quarter when Kelly Moffatt scored on a three-yard plunge. The Junior Braves' cause was aided and abetted when Tawas recovered a fumble on the Panther 15. The try for a two-point conversion failed and the Panthers held an 8-6 lead.

After that it was all Standish-Sterling as Bell raced to a 79-yard touchdown with only 11 minutes gone in the second quarter. Jerry Foco snared a pass for a touchdown shortly before the half and the Panthers took a 20-6 lead into the locker room.

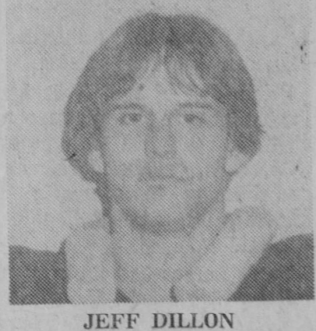

Tawas took too long in returning to the field during intermission and was penalized on the second half kick-off. Bell made the score 26-6 with his touchdown run and Todd Almy scored a two-yard touchdown with six minutes, 30 seconds, remaining in the third quarter.

Late in the fourth quarter, Tawas took advantage of a face mask penalty and one called for unsportsmanlike conduct against the Braves and Kurt Leslie raced to a touchdown with 50 seconds remaining in the game.

Leading tacklers for Tawas were Chris Jacobs with two solos and nine assists, Dave Sterling with one solo and seven assists, Jon Dunn with 18 assists and Moffatt with three solo tackles.

TA Golfers Record 5th League Win

Tawas Braves golfers recorded their fifth league win September 25 to remain in first place in the Northeastern Michigan Conference with an over-all record of five wins and one loss.

The key match in NEM competition was slated for October 1, when the Braves were to meet Ogemaw Heights, after which Tawas is to host Pinconning for the final league match. The league championship is to be determined at the conference match October 10 at Gladwin Sugar Springs.

Tawas turned in a well balanced card against the Panthers winning by a 216-245 margin.

Medalist Kraig Moffatt showed the way with a blistering 39, followed by Jim Palmer's 40. Other scores included Jim Huck, 43; Mark Jurczyk, 46; Tom Schriber, 48.

Standish-Sterling brought four junior varsity players, thus an official won-loss status is unavailable. However, the five junior varsity players from Tawas defeated the visitors, 197-244.

Pat Kaems' 47 was low for Tawas, followed by 48 scores carded by Jim Alexander and Jon Ericksen, a 50 by Keith Harris and a 52 by Eric Groff.

Scores by Tawas "B" team members were Phil Petrach, 46; Bruce Nelkie, 51; Eric Painter, 53; Tim Huck, 56; Gale Erickson, 58; Scott Gingerich, 59.

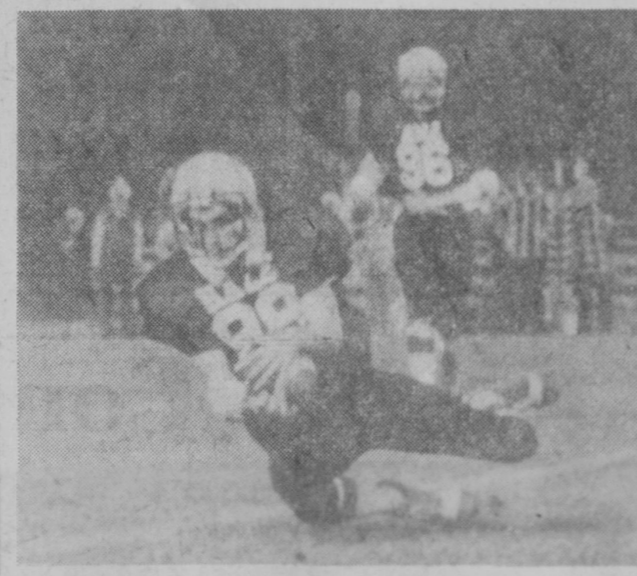

Hale Eagles Won Over Caseville in Homecoming

Hale Eagles and visiting Caseville turned in good defensive games Friday night to provide an exciting time for homecoming fans at the Hale Area School football field.

After a scoreless first half, the Eagles finally got on the scoreboard with nine minutes, 24 seconds remaining in the third period when Quarterback Vern Reed III punched through for a touchdown from one yard out. Reed then passed to Tim Lesneski for a two-point, game winning conversion.

Caseville came right back in the fourth period to score on a 31-yard pass from Quarterback Jim Reeves to Mike Novak, but the conversion attempt was stopped.

Halfback Scott McDonald was the leading rusher of the night for the Eagles with 69 yards in 16 carries and Tom Sanders was next in line on offense with 46 yards in five carries.

Lesneski led the defense with seven tackles and four assists. The Eagles had 195 yard rushing and 31 yards by passing. Following McDonald on offense was Sanders with 46 yards in five carries and Reed with 33 yards in 11 carries.

Backing up Lesneski on defense were Jeff Dillon, Matt Husted, Caverly, Tim Lesneski and Dan Dear, each with six tackles. Husted recovered a fumble.

The Eagles now have a record of two wins and two losses and play host Friday night to Posen. Posen and Atlanta are co-leaders of the North Star League, each with three straight victories. Posen downed Hillman Friday night.

Tawas Girls Won Over Gladwin

Tawas girls won their second straight conference game September 25 by outscoring Gladwin's Flying Gs, 60-41. The junior varsity also recorded a victory with a 49-34 scoring edge.

Kari Allen hit the hoops for 17 points to lead the Tawas girls, followed by 14 points turned in by Laurel Minard and 10 by Cindy Wood. Mary Sullivan was tops for Gladwin with 12 points.

Tawas jumped off to a 19-12 first quarter margin and held a comfortable lead at intermission, 36-18. Tawas continued in a winning fashion in the second half with 48-29 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The Bravettes completed 27 of 57 shots from the floor for a shooting average of 47 percent. Lisa Bielby scored 21 points as the junior varsity won its game, 49-34. Kelly Brockenbrough and Linda Nelkie each meshed six points, while Marion Sheehan topped the losers with 11 points.

Tawas rapped the backboards with 73 shots from the floor and completed 22.

Golfers Split Two Matches

Tawas Braves golfers split two nonconference matches last week, winning over Fairview, 170-171, then losing to Roscommon, 170-169.

Jim Huck paced Tawas with scores of 40 in each match.

Tawas Scored Twice in 1st Half to Beat Panthers, 13-8

Rebounding from its conference opener loss to undefeated Gladwin, Tawas Area Braves turned in a 13-8 victory Friday night over the Standish-Sterling Central Panthers. The Braves are now even in conference play with one win and one loss and have two nonconference victories tacked on for an over-all record of three wins and one loss.

Tawas' defense again proved to be an important factor as the Braves held the Panthers to 137 yards and intercepted four passes to kill Central's scoring attempts.

Bryant Wilkie went 12 yards for the first Tawas touchdown of the night, capping a 50-yard scoring drive.

Jay Grabow, Tawas' junior quarterback, connected with Ken McKenzie on a 26-yard aerial touchdown play and John Brockenbrough booted the conversion for a 13-0 lead at the half.

That ended the scoring for the Braves as Central's defense shut them out during the second half. LeClair of Standish-Sterling intercepted a pass and returned it 70 yards for Central's only touchdown of the night. Little added the two-point conversion to close the gap.

The Braves totaled 232 offensive yards during the night. After playing three straight games away, the Braves stay home Friday night and entertain the Whittemore-Prescott

Area Cardinals during the annual homecoming game. Both teams have one and one records in Northeastern Michigan

Conference play and both teams had two wins against nonconference foes at the start of the season.

The winners led by two points, 14-12, at the end of the first quarter and extended their lead to 21-28 at intermission. Pinconning continued to roll in the second half with a 59-35 margin at the end of the third quarter.

Nancy Britt was top scorer for the Cardinals with 20 points, followed by 17 points turned in by Marilyn Moraitis. Shelley Cole and Joy Ori each had six points.

Tawas Split With Panthers

Tawas eighth grade girls split the decisions in two basketball games played September 24 with Standish-Sterling. The "A" team won its game, 31-28, while the "B" team lost, 15-12.

Tawas jumped off to an impressive lead early in the game with an 11-1 margin at the end of the first quarter, but Standish-Sterling kept fighting back to make the game close in the final quarter.

Two field goals by Wood and a free throw by Lisa Seifert late in the fourth quarter were key points.

The game between the two "B" teams was low scoring and Tawas was completely shut out from scoring a basket in the second half, missing numerous shots from the floor and six charity tosses.

Michele Wheatley, Sue Bolen and T. Reinholm scored four points each for the Tawas squad. Theresa Beach had nine rebounds.

Jury Acquits Bressette of Isosco Charge

Following a two-day trial Monday and Tuesday, an Isosco County Circuit Court jury acquitted Jeffrey Bressette, who was charged with unarmed assault with intent to rob and steal.

Bressette was arrested July 10 in AuSable Township while a passenger on a Greyhound bus. It was claimed that he had demanded personal property and valuables from other bus passengers, that he would kill them if they did not comply with his demands. He was restrained by the driver and other passengers after physically assaulting the driver.

The circuit court jury apparently agreed with the court-appointed defense attorney, Brent Babcock, who declared in court that Bressette was "stoned to the bone." Babcock maintained his client was too intoxicated to perform the specific intent of the charge under the law.

TCBM Held Fishing Trip

TAWAS CITY Businessmen's Association held its annual fishing trip Thursday on Tawas Bay. Three boatloads of fishermen took part in the excursion, the idea being that any fish caught during the day would provide a dinner for the entire membership of the organization later in the fall. Those participating complained that water of the bay was too choppy Thursday and the businessmen returned without any fish. Other arrangements for providing fish for the organization's annual dinner are expected, although one angler felt it might be best to hold a ham dinner.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Britts Witness Change from Cabbage to Herefords

One of Northeastern Michigan's most successful beef feeder calf operations is being carried on today by third and fourth generations of a family which originally intended to grow cabbage on the heavy soil of Southwestern Iosco County.

In the process of their pioneering efforts of clearing and breaking ground in Sherman and Burleigh Townships 74 years ago, the Britt family has played an important role in this region's agricultural pursuits and succeeding generations have witnessed many dramatic changes in farm practices over the years.

The family's story in this county began in 1905, when C. A. (Clifford) Britt, an employee of the D. M. Ferry Seed Company, found heavy soil to his liking in Sherman Township. Clifford never played an active part in farming here, being identified as a pioneer in Michigan's automotive industry as an employee of the Detroit Motor Bus Company and later founder of the Dearborn Coach Company, but his brother, Elmer Britt, and his father, W. W. Britt, came here from LeRoy, New York, to settle on the original purchase of 650 acres of land located in Sherman and Burleigh Townships.

The land which Clifford found had been heavily timbered with white pine and many years were required to pry out stumps and construct suitable drainage systems in the heavy soil. Today, about every 50 feet of the land is tiled.

An interview with the Britts published by The Tawas Herald on August 10, 1906, stated that "The gentlemen are more than pleased with this part of the country" and within a year of coming here were engaged in stock feeding.

"They have also introduced a new industry into our county which promises a big success," stated the Herald. "Last year, they raised an acre of cabbage for the market, which proved a good investment. As a result of this experiment, they have five acres of fine cabbage this year."

"These gentlemen have had large experience in cabbage culture in New York and the adaptability of the land here at once appealed to them and the experiment was successful. The profit in growing this crop is large and it promises to be a good thing for the farmers," stated the Herald, which noted that neighbors of the Britts also had 20 acres of land devoted to the growing of cabbage.

Cultivation of cabbage was continued on a large scale by the Britts, but their original stock raising enterprise soon became of primary importance to their operation. In the process, the family expanded its land holdings and, years later, discovered that a different type of "crop" lay hidden under the heavy clay soil. Today, a portion of the farm is the site of Michigan Gypsum Company's quarry.

Through those pioneering years of farming, many hands were needed in the operation of the Britt farm, requiring the help of from three to four full time hired men in addition to the work by family members. In later years, dairy cattle were added to the operation and a large crew of men was required to fill silos.

With advancement of the mechanical age, the Britt farm became one of the most modernly equipped in the area and, because of that mechanization, practically the entire operation is carried on today by two persons.

In the late 1930s, Elmer Britt was joined by his two sons, Warren and Howard, in the dairy operation and they had 300 acres under cultivation for rotation crops. By 1960, they had a herd of 40 head of dairy cattle and 43 head of Hereford beef cattle.

Because of the excellent pasture land in this part of the state, the Britts continued in the beef cattle business and were among the 50 or so interested stock raisers who organized the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Association in 1940, formed through the efforts of County Agent W. L. Finley.

On advise of Michigan State University specialists, area farmers began directing their interests in 1940 toward the production of high quality beef calves. Within a short time, area cattlemen began improving herds through the purchase of high quality purebred Hereford bulls. Elmer Britt took an active part in that early organization of the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Association, which holds its annual feeder calf sale each October at West Branch.

About 10 years ago, Warren and Howard Britt discontinued their dairy herd to devote all their energies to feeder calves. Their operation today is recognized as one of the best managed in the state and was the scene last year of a tour which brought attention from feeder calf operators from throughout the state.

The Britts calved 140 cows in 1978, 100 in the spring and 40 in early fall. At the West Branch feeder calf sale last fall, their consignment of spring-born calves averaged 600 pounds in weight.

Until recently, the Britts mainly used Hereford bulls but now use three larger crossbred exotic bulls, Hereford-Charolais, Angus-Chanen and Hereford-Holstine, which has resulted in a dramatic increase in calf weight.

They place heavy emphasis on raising high yielding, high quality alfalfa hay as the basic feed for their cow herds, but they have not departed from the use of Grimm alfalfa which was introduced to their farm many years ago. They have found that this variety is well adapted to their heavy soil and has never been matched for their use by more recently developed varieties.

Because of the dwindling availability and higher cost of land in other sections of the state due to urban sprawl, it is expected that farm land in this region of the state will become even more valuable for agricultural pursuits in the future.

Sons of the Britt brothers have shown an interest in carrying on the family's farming tradition in Southwestern Iosco County and Warren's son, William, received a blue ribbon for his grand champion steer entered at the 1979 Iosco County Fair.

Because of the high cost of entering large scale farm operations today, handing down management and ownership of farm land from one generation to the next is practically a necessity to insure continuance of a family name in working the soil.

Warren and Howard Britt say they plan to continue farming for a few more years before retirement and their sons are interested in carrying on the family tradition.

That tradition began nearly three-quarters of a century ago when W. W. Britt and Elmer Britt came here with the intention of raising cabbage for market and the succeeding generation stayed on to develop one of the best managed livestock operations in the state.

MANY HANDS and horses were required to operate large farms in the days before tractors and modern implements were developed. This picture was snapped by A. G. Emery around 1905 and shows a team of horses being used to plow corn stubble left in the field from the previous fall. Women of the family dressed for the occasion with their Sunday clothes as a new type of plow was being used.

Last Art Show by Individual

The end of the one person showings at the gallery will be concluded with the one woman show of Karen Witter. Tawas Bay Artists presents the pen and ink drawings and water color paintings of a newcomer to the art group whose art work is the results of self-teaching. She started by copying cartoons from newspapers and magazines. She then dabbled in charcoal sketching and into portrait drawings from photographs. She also furthered herself in oil painting by copying the work of other artists.
 Once she had accomplished more self confidence, she attended extension courses at Wurtsmith Air Force Base through Alpena Community College. At present, she is drawing pen and ink, acrylics and water color.
 Mrs. Witter is still looking for one form of art she would like for a career. Her one woman show will be presented October 5-6 from 1:00 to 5:00 p. m. at the art gallery.
 Everyone is invited to view her work and meet the young artist.

Wood Heating Clinic at Hale
Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Iosco County and Hale Volunteer Fire Department are sponsoring a wood heating safety clinic Saturday, October 13, 10:00 a. m.-4:00 p. m., at Plainfield Township Hall. Due to soaring fuel prices and an abundance of wood-for-the taking here in Northeastern Lower Michigan, many people are turning to wood for supplemental heating. In some cases, wood is the main heating source. Having had the luxury of gas and fuel oil, many people forget the do's and don'ts of wood heating. That is why the wood heating safety clinic is so important.
There will be many displays and the event is free. Free coffee and donuts will be served and there will be door prizes.
The program will cover all types of wood heating systems, explaining the proper operation and installation of the devices. Also discussed will be the various types of wood and how to obtain it free. Due to the increasing number of home fires attributed to wood heating devices, the program is aimed at showing safe methods and techniques.
Mental Health Board Sets Meeting
AuSable Valley Community Mental Health Services Board will hold its next regular meeting on Monday, October 8, 7:30 p. m., at the mental health office in Tawas City.
Area coverage of this board consists of the Counties of Iosco, Ogemaw and Oscoda.

List Topics for Annual EMTA Meet

Gasoline availability, highway signing problems, inflation and advertising are among challenges to Michigan's tourist industry to be aired at the annual convention of the East Michigan Tourist Association at Bay City October 25.

The tourist group will mark 69 years of service to business people and local governmental units at the one-day conference expected to attract more than 300 association members.

The energy problem headed by availability of gasoline is a major concern to the industry as Michigan relies heavily on automobile travel by tourists and vacationers. A leading Michigan oil company executive will be the luncheon speaker at the convention.

Michigan Travel Bureau Dir. Jack Wilson of Lansing will keynote the EMTA's business session on the topic of tourism in the 1980s and the impact of the inflation spiral on Michigan's second ranking industry.

Department of Transportation officials will present an update on the highway sign removal campaign and current status of billboard construction in Michigan.

A morning workshop will feature local government involvement in tourism advertising and promotion programs, keynoted by A. Barry McGuire, executive director of the Michigan Association of Counties.

FAMILY LIVING EDUCATION

DON'T TAKE THIS WITH A GRAIN OF SALT:

Many scientists agree that routinely eating too much salt in food raises the risk of high blood pressure. If ancestors and relatives had hypertension, the doctor may advise easing up on sodium—and that is the key word.

First, hide the salt shakers, use less salt at the table. Second, when buying food, check labels to see whether the word sodium is listed in the ingredients. Examples of sodium words are monosodium glutamate, disodium phosphate, sodium alginate, sodium benzoate, sodium hydroxide, sodium propionate, sodium sulfide, sodium saccharin and sodium bicarbonate, the salt in our sodas. The order in which label words are listed indicates predominance in prepared products. Avoid foods where sodium is among the first ingredients.

In some foods, sodium is hidden by a taste not salty—such as sweet. Cakes and pies are examples, along with foods produced by fast food restaurants. But whether taste buds tell or not, sodium-loaded foods include processed foods, such as certain cheeses, instant or other ready-to-eat cereals—especially note labels for the word, sodium; canned and instant soups and bouillon cubes; catsup, mustard and prepared horseradish and salt seasonings, including sea salt, soy, Worcestershire and barbecue sauces; pickles, olives and sauerkraut and other foods prepared in brine; salty and smoked meat, bologna, corned or chipped beef, frankfurters, ham, luncheon meats, salt pork, sausage, smoked tongue; salty or smoked fish, anchovies, caviar, salted and dried cod, herring, sardines, smoked salmon; snack items, potato chips, French fries, pretzels, salted popcorn, salted nuts and crackers.

Powerful anti-itch drug you can buy without an Rx!

Stop itching fast of external vaginal, rectal, and other skin conditions. Doctors find even severe itching can be treated with a special drug. You can now get this anti-itch drug ingredient with no prescription in BICOZENE[®]. Use only as directed. The medically proven cream for itching.

Summary
Meeting called to order: Present; Commissioners White, Conley, Aulerich; Engineer-Manager Delahanty; Sec-Clerk Ferguson. Also, Betty Hammond, Alabaster Township Clerk; Virginia Smith from Benson Road; and a number of residents from South Bay Drive. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Old Business:

1. Bay Drive: This date being the date scheduled for the Public Hearing on Bay Drive, the engineer-manager presented the Plan and Profile sheet along with a cost estimate. William Johnson contended that although the road was commonly known as Bay Drive, it was not Bay Drive according to the plat. The engineer-manager stated that the legal description on the petitions made sufficient reference to the plat named name of the road to establish its locality. No objection to the project being filed, Chairman White announced that it was the commission's final determination to proceed with the project as petitioned. Roll call vote, all yeas. Property owners abutting the road have ten days to file a counter petition providing 50% of the abutting land owners object to the project. 2. Townline Road: The engineer-manager reported that the bid letting for Townline Road was scheduled for September 12 in Lansing. 3. Signs-Horse Drawn Vehicles: The engineer-manager reported that he had the information on the signs warning motorists of Horse Drawn Vehicles. The signs will be ordered and installed as soon as they get here. New Business:

1. Benson Road: Ms. Virginia Smith inquired about the proposed Benson Road improvements, in particular, a drain to the lake. The engineer-manager explained that the drain in question was not part of the project and would not be installed. 2. State Maintenance Audit: The Audit Report for the 1977 State Maintenance was reviewed. The state owes the road commission an additional $18,000.00. 3. Road Tour: The monthly road tour was scheduled for September 11 at 10:00 a. m. 5. Benefits: The engineer-manager reported that one employee's wife was eligible for Medicare benefits and that by paying the eight dollar monthly Medicare premium the road commission could save about thirty dollars per month in Blue Cross-Blue Shield premiums. Motion by Commissioner Aulerich, supported by Commissioner Conley to pay the Medicare premium. Roll call vote, all yeas. Motion carried. 6. P-41 Accident: The engineer-manager reported that a three million dollar lawsuit had been filed against the road commission for an accident that occurred on F-41 in June of 1978.

Early Retirement Can Affect Benefit Amount

A question that has been coming up frequently these days concerns what effect retirement before age 62 or 65 has on a person's future social security retirement payment, a social security spokesperson said recently.

This increased interest seems to stem from the greater number of people who retire from private industry well before the age at which social security benefits can be paid. In some cases, people can retire as early as 55, the representative said.

It's difficult to tell exactly how early retirement will affect payments in specific cases unless all the facts are known, including a person's annual earnings for each year since 1950.

In figuring a person's benefit, 5 years of the lowest earnings since 1950 can be disregarded. In most cases, these "dropout" years are from the early 1950's, when average earnings were much lower than they are now. Earnings for the remaining years, after adjustment for increases in wages over the years, are averaged and the benefit rate is figured from this average.

If a person retires from work covered by social security at 55, 7 years before age 62, then, not only must lower earnings from the past be included, but 2 years of zero earnings be figured in.

As a result, a worker who retires well before the normal age could generally expect to receive a significantly lower benefit than would a worker who continues working up until age 62 or 65.

People who want more information about their own situation can get answers to their questions at any social security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest social security office can be found in the telephone directory.

questions and answers

Q. My husband and I get SSI payments. Last month, he took a part-time job. Are we supposed to report his salary to social security?

A. Yes. You should notify social security promptly of any change in your income. Your right to SSI checks, or the amount of your checks, may be affected by changes in the amount of your other income. Even though SSI payments are made on a monthly basis, income for SSI purposes is figured on a quarterly basis. This means that a change in your income in any month of a 3-month calendar quarter can affect the payments due for each month.

Q. I'll be 65 in a few months, but I plan to keep working. Do I have to wait until I actually retire to get Medicare?

A. No. If you have worked long enough under social security or railroad retirement, you are eligible for Medicare at 65 even if you continue to work. To make sure you get the full protection of Medicare starting with the month you are 65, you should apply at a social security office about 3 months before you reach 65.

You can get your social security questions answered at any social security office.

15 Years Ago— September 30, 1964—A code of conduct is to be suggested by the board of education as a possible project of the Tawas Area Parent-Teacher Association. The suggested code makes no bones of the fact that discipline in such matters as dating, cars, dress, drinking and smoking falls squarely on the parents.

How many years since the courthouse grounds and perhaps the whole site of Tawas City were under the waters of Tawas Bay? Indications that such a condition existed were revealed this week while excavations were being made for the new jail. A dragline exposed the trunk of a tree at the bottom of the basement excavation. On top of the clay, it apparently had been brought in by the waves and buried under several feet of sand in some distant past.

35 Years Ago— September 29, 1944—Detroit and Mackinac freight No. 20 was wrecked Friday night when it hit an open switch west of First Street in Tawas City. Plainfield Asks Court Injunction Hearing on a preliminary injunction sought by Plainfield Township in a zoning ordinance enforcement cause is scheduled for October 11, 3:00 p. m., before Iosco Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller.

The township named Douglas G. and Carolyn R. Webb as defendants in its complaint.

The township's complaint states that the zoning administrator served complaint June 1 that a mobile home being used by the Webbs for living quarters contained less than 576 square feet of floor area in violation of the zoning code.

In addition, the defendants are charged with attaching a water supply and sewage disposal system to the structure without receiving approval from the township, in violation of Michigan Department of Health regulations.

Exercise Changed Normal Routine

The normal routine of a Friday morning was quickly broken on September 21 when word was received in the 379th Bombardment Wing Command Post that a BUY NONE had been initiated. Everyone immediately began gearing up for a simulated wartime condition which the exercise tests.

"The BUY NONE is an extremely stringent test of our ability to do the job we all train for," said Col. Samuel N. Shockey Jr., 379th vice wing commander, shortly after the exercise began.

"I think the wing is ready," he stated. "It will be our opportunity to demonstrate the professionalism the 379th is famous for. The BUY NONE will require the complete efforts and cooperation of the entire base. Without the total support of everyone, we will not be able to perform as well as this wing can."

A BUY NONE is similar to an operational readiness inspection except an inspector general team from higher headquarters is not sent to the base to begin the exercise and inspect the members.

In a BUY NONE, the wing commander is responsible for checking the progress of the exercise. There will be a monitor on station from Strategic Air Command but his job will be to forward reports of the wing's progress up the line.

Generation of the B-52s and KC-135s was completed in what one official termed "a flawless manner." Generation tests exactly how many aircraft can get through maintenance, loaded with a simulated wartime load, fueled and capable of being flown.

Once that portion of the exercise was completed, the aircraft were reconfigured to a peacetime training mission and made ready for Sunday flights. Every aircraft capable was flown, the bombers flying about a 10-hour mission and the tankers in the air about five.

According to Lt. Col. James A. Saur, chief of the Wing Operations Division, the 379th aircrews compiled some of the highest ratings to date.

The exercise concluded Thursday with a formal critique briefing.

WAFB Airman Has Real Fish Story

A quiet Saturday afternoon turned into a real fish story for AIC Rick Silvester following two weeks of having no luck at all.

The 379th Supply Squadron airman was out at the mouth of the AuSable River with some $50 in new fishing equipment. Silvester had been fishing awhile when he felt a strong hit on his fishing rod. He happily reeled in the line with what he thought might be a catfish but reached the end of the line reached the top of the water, his feelings became mixed at the sight of another fishing pole. Somehow, he had hooked it in the last, small eyelet.

He pulled the new-found rod from the water and began reeling in its line. While doing this, Silvester was startled to find that a fish was indeed pulling on it. After many minutes of fighting, the airman won out and netted his first fish caught in Michigan. It was a 22-pound salmon!
