

All Residents Urged to Answer Census

As a means of insuring that the community receives its full share of federal and state revenue, City Mgr. Lowell Thomas urges all citizens to participate in the upcoming head count to be conducted by the federal government.

His suggestion should be noted by all residents of the county for it is extremely important that an accurate census is taken in Iosco during March and April.

During the last census 10 years ago, it was estimated that five percent of the country's population did not respond to the census and was not counted. "It will be dog-eat-dog this year at census time and every metropolitan area will be conducting campaigns to insure that city dwellers are counted in the census," said Thomas.

On March 28, the federal government will be mailing questionnaires to 90 percent of the households in the United States. Those persons who do not return the forms will be contacted by a census taker during April.

Thomas said that each governmental unit would have the opportunity to review census figures at some point during the survey, but he emphasized the importance of citizen response to the questionnaire. Federal and state revenue sharing funds received by each unit are based principally on the head count in each unit.

Ten years ago, officials of many local units of government were shocked when the census revealed a drop in population.

Tawas City, for example, had assumed that its population would range upward to 2,000 persons, the 1960 census having listed 1,810 residents in this city.

When the preliminary count of 1,625 persons was released, the city council immediately organized a drive in August 1970 to determine persons who had not been counted in the federal count.

An additional 47 names were picked up after considerable work on the city's part. It was estimated at the time that for each person not counted, the city lost $250 over the next 10 years. The final count adopted by the federal government for Tawas City was 1,666, indicating that some of the names found by the city's count were not acceptable.

At that time, city officials could not put their finger on the reason for the drop in population—school enrollment was higher than ever before and the postal service reported an increase in the number of patrons. It was finally determined that the loss of several industries meant that young families with small children had moved out of the area and that an ever increasing number of senior citizens had not been counted locally because they were vacationing in Florida.

Thomas stressed that files of the census bureau are confidential and that the eyes of other federal agencies have not yet been able to use the files to gain information about individuals.

The city manager saw no need to conduct any high powered campaign to get people to respond to the federal questionnaire, but he felt that all citizens should realize the importance of an accurate census.

Crash Injuries Fatal to Two Tawas Seniors

Two young men were killed and three others were injured early Sunday morning in a crash on Tawas Beach Road, East Tawas. All were members of the senior class at Tawas Area High School.

Pronounced dead at the scene was Victor Thomas Hoin, 18, East Tawas, and Vernon Joseph Beaubien, 17, Tawas City, died at Tawas Hospital.

Treated and confined to Tawas Hospital are Chris Martin, 17, East Tawas, who suffered severe head lacerations, and David L. Yanna, 18, East Tawas. Treated and released was Allan G. Nelkie, 20, East Tawas. Investigating Iosco County Sheriff's Department officers said that the car driven by Hoin was traveling at a high rate of speed and failed to negotiate a curve. The car struck a tree on the north side of the road, then bounced off to cross the road and struck a clump of trees on the south side of the road.

Wurtsmith Approved for New Missiles

According to an announcement yesterday (Tuesday) by United States Sen. Robert Davis, Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda has been approved for a $20,000,000 nuclear warhead system.

Davis said that construction was slated in 1982 and the new system will mean an additional 100 military personnel and five more civilian jobs at the base.

This system calls for construction of a "beddown" site for air launched cruise missiles, which are to be launched from B52 bombers rather than from the ground.

Davis said that Wurtsmith's B52G bombers met the criteria to carry the new weaponry which fulfills rapid deployment requirements.

A similar system is currently under construction at Griffiss Air Force Base, New York, and Wurtsmith is one of three other Strategic Air Command bases in the country to receive the new weapons.

Senator Davis said the news was significant for it means that Wurtsmith "will not be closed for a good while."

Funds OK'd, but New Problem With TC Bridges

After notification that federal and state governments have approved funding 90 percent of the cost of construction of two new bridges, Tawas City officials and a number of citizens are having second thoughts about replacing two bridges which are about 70 years old.

This was the word at Monday night's meeting of the Tawas City Council. Members of the council were generally agreed at further discussion was needed on the matter and a special meeting has been set with the city planning commission for Thursday, February 14, 7:30 p. m., to study the proposal.

In the meantime, city officials would like public input concerning the proposed replacement of Whittemore Street bridge over the Tawas River and the Sixth Avenue bridge over Dead Creek.

Preliminary estimates place the cost of replacing the Whittemore Street bridge at $223,000 and $146,300 for Sixth Avenue. The city's share is 10 percent of construction and engineering costs and 100 percent of design costs, representing a local outlay of $65,370.

Several councilmen expressed the opinion Monday night that although the planning commission in 1979 had recommended that the Whittemore Street bridge be retained for vehicular traffic, many persons were having second thoughts about replacing the old bridge because of low traffic flow. A number of years ago, city planners had recommended that the present structure be converted into a foot bridge, the stub end of a street connecting with US-23 be converted into parking and that a new bridge be constructed at North Street, where one does not exist at the present.

In addition, some councilmen felt Monday night that replacement of the Dead Creek bridge at Sixth Avenue was also an improper move and that a new bridge should be constructed at Tenth Avenue. The opinion was expressed that the Tenth Avenue location would connect directly with Plank Road to route heavy industrial traffic in that direction.

Besides pointing out the fact that Tenth Avenue had never been opened its full length and that it would require considerable cost for building a street, the city manager emphasized that the federal-state appropriation was being made to replace deteriorated bridges and that the money would not be made available to construct bridges at different locations.

The city manager said the question now is if it is cost effective to spend $65,370 in local funds to obtain federal and state money to replace two bridges which some believe should not be replaced at those locations. If the Whittemore Street bridge is not replaced, the city stands to lose $600 annually in state road money as Whittemore is classed as a major street by the state.

Several Whittemore Street residents present at Monday night's meeting were of the opinion that the old bridge should be replaced and that traffic counts conducted there were not realistic, inasmuch as the bridge had been closed for a considerable period due to damage in a traffic accident and that (See COUNCIL, page 6.)

Ted Guthard, 42, former head football coach at Tawas Area High School, is heading to Michigan State University as one of three new assistants appointed by MSU's new football coach, Frank (Muddy) Waters.

Presently serving as the head coach at Bloomfield Hills Lahser High School, Guthard served the 1970-1971 seasons as head coach of the Tawas Braves. He resigned his position here in July 1972 when he became head football coach at Lahser High School.

Both Guthard and his wife, Carol, were members of the school faculty here.

Guthard became head football coach here in the fall of 1970 after serving as a defensive coach at Wake Forest University. A native of Detroit, he had previously served on the coaching staff at Eastern Michigan University and as a freshman coach at MSU.

He lettered for the Spartans as an undergraduate and now returns as defensive line coach.

His appointment brings to four the number of assistants hired by Waters since he took over a week ago. All but one of MSU's grid assistants accompanied former head coach, Daryl Rogers, to Arizona State.

Obtaining Cost Estimates

TC Council Studies Compromise Site for New Fire Hall and Library

Approval was granted Monday night by the Tawas City Council to rent a city-owned house next to the city hall on a month-to-month basis and to eventually sell the property for commercial purposes.

The above property, purchased from Audrey Adamek, had been intended for expansion purposes for a new city hall-fire hall-library complex, but two bonding proposals placed before voters were rejected.

At the same time, the council authorized the city manager to obtain preliminary cost estimates on constructing a building to house the fire department and possibly the library and to negotiate with the Detroit and Mackinac Railway for purchase of a building site at the corner of Mathews Street and Fourth Avenue.

Authorization was also given to the city manager by unanimous vote of the council to obtain cost estimates on minor renovation of the present city hall, converting the fire hall quarters into a public meeting room, redecorating city offices and implementation of some steps to conserve energy in the old building.

The proposed site of the fire hall-library building, once the location of the old Hamilton Store near the Mathews Street bridge, had been discussed as a possible compromise location for the city hall complex. The majority of the council felt last summer, however, that the new building should be built at the present city hall site to act as a catalyst for improvement of the downtown commercial area.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas said Monday night that something must be done to bring all of the fire department's equipment under one roof and that he and fire department members had been studying the matter for a number of weeks. Two of the department's four fire trucks and the library are presently located in a rented building south of the US-23 bridge.

He said that investigation had been made into the temporary location of the fire department and library in other rented buildings, but no further action has been taken. He advised against using the former Adamek dwelling for a library because it was not designed for library purposes and remodeling would be expensive.

Thomas asked permission to rent the house and one or two cabins at the rear, with the idea that the property would eventually be placed on the market. Before the property is sold, he emphasized that the house and cabins should be removed to insure that the property would be used for commercial purposes and that the city retain an easement at the rear for future use as an alley.

Thomas felt that the newly-organized commercial improvement committee and the planning commission could study the property for possible use in an over-all commercial development plan. Immediate rental of the house would provide income to help pay off the city's debt for the property purchase.

While admitting that separation of the fire hall and library from the city hall might not be the most cost effective step, Thomas felt that the Mathews Street-Fourth Avenue site would provide a compromise to those who opposed the location of the fire hall at the present city hall site. He said the proposed site may not meet everyone's optimal location, but it is centrally located, it is at the edge of the commercial - residential area, has good access to US-23 and the residential area.

Thomas said he had contacted the railroad and the property was available at a fair market value. He said the city may also wish to purchase the former Campbell Grocery building on Mathews Street, owned by William Borosch. He said that the city could conduct a study to determine if it would be feasible to restore this old brick building for use as a library, although it could require a considerable expenditure for reconstruction.

The city manager felt that a steel building could be constructed for fire department-library use at a reasonable cost which would be appropriate to present to voters for consideration. He also felt that minor renovation of the present city hall could be made "without going overboard" on the cost.

City Clerk Clyde Soper said the proposed ordinance is similar to the one presently in effect at East Tawas, with some modification of wording to cover nonresident solicitations. He said the intention is to have the chamber of commerce issue permits for each city, with enforcement coordinated with the city were given to each councilmen for study. A model ordinance has been prepared on information obtained from the Michigan Municipal League.

Mary and her four young children were a one parent family. Mary worked in a local factory to provide for the children. She had no near relatives and received few callers. One day, she heard she would have to go into the hospital for surgery.

My neighbors, Hilda and Tom Blair, who had no children of their own, heard Mary's crisis and went to visit her. While they were discussing what they could do for her, I arrived. Hilda told me that they proposed to look after the four children while Mary was away.

"God loves us so much that I want to share His love with you," Hilda explained. "I do not know anything about love like that. Tell me more about it."

As we told a receptive woman about God's love in Christ, God's presence filled that house.

Physician on Duty Around the Clock

The emergency department of Tawas Hospital now has a physician on duty in the building 24 hours a day. Prior to February 1, the emergency department had been staffed with a physician 24 hours a day on weekends and holidays, and from 10:00 a. m. to 12 midnight weekdays. When the emergency physician was off duty, one of the local staff physicians was on call. This occasionally meant that physicians had to come from home to see a patient in the emergency department, an inconvenience to the patient and the physician.

Paul Dude, administrator, announced that the hospital is extending its contract with Northern Professional Emergency Physicians to provide this service. He further stated, "We view this as a milestone in providing ever improving services to the citizens of the area and reflects our concern for the welfare of every patient."

City Council Action

New Commercial Committee Picked

After some confusion as to eligibility of candidates, Tawas City Council named six persons to a seven-member commercial improvement committee. Appointed to one-year terms were Edward Freel, Earl Davis and Gary Wood, while Benjamin Brewer, Carl Babcock and Leonard Hoshbach were appointed to two-year terms.

The seventh member is Wayne Thompson, who represents the city planning commission.

Freel, Wood, Brewer, Babcock represent business interests on the new committee, while Hoshbach and Davis represent the city at large with no financial interest in the business district.

A number of names had been nominated by councilmen and the Tawas City Business Association for membership on the committee. Several names had to be deleted Monday night because of disinterest, unavailability at the present time or technicalities arising out of wording in the criteria for establishing the committee.

Seven candidates were listed to represent businessmen and only two for the at large citizens. Wood led the balloting with six votes in the business category, followed by Babcock, Freel and Greg Huck with five votes each. Brewer received three votes, while Herbert Choiger and Arthur Krass received two votes each.

Upon further reading of the criteria, however, it was found that only two nonresidents could serve on the committee. Freel, Huck and Wood do not live within the city and a second vote was required, which saw Brewer replacing Huck.

In other business, Coun. Florence Upson suggested the city again study the possibility of establishment of an alternate route from Mathews Street to reach the rear of the post office. After considerable discussion, the matter was turned over to the planning commission for study and to determine the availability of an easement across private property.

The council held its second reading of Ordinance No. 199 amending two other ordinances and final approval was given to adoption. This ordinance establishes water and sewer connection charges and requires permits before connections are made.

Tax board of review dates were set for March 10-11, 9:00 a. m. to 12 o'clock noon, and 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. Property owners have the opportunity to

WINTER OVERCOAT.

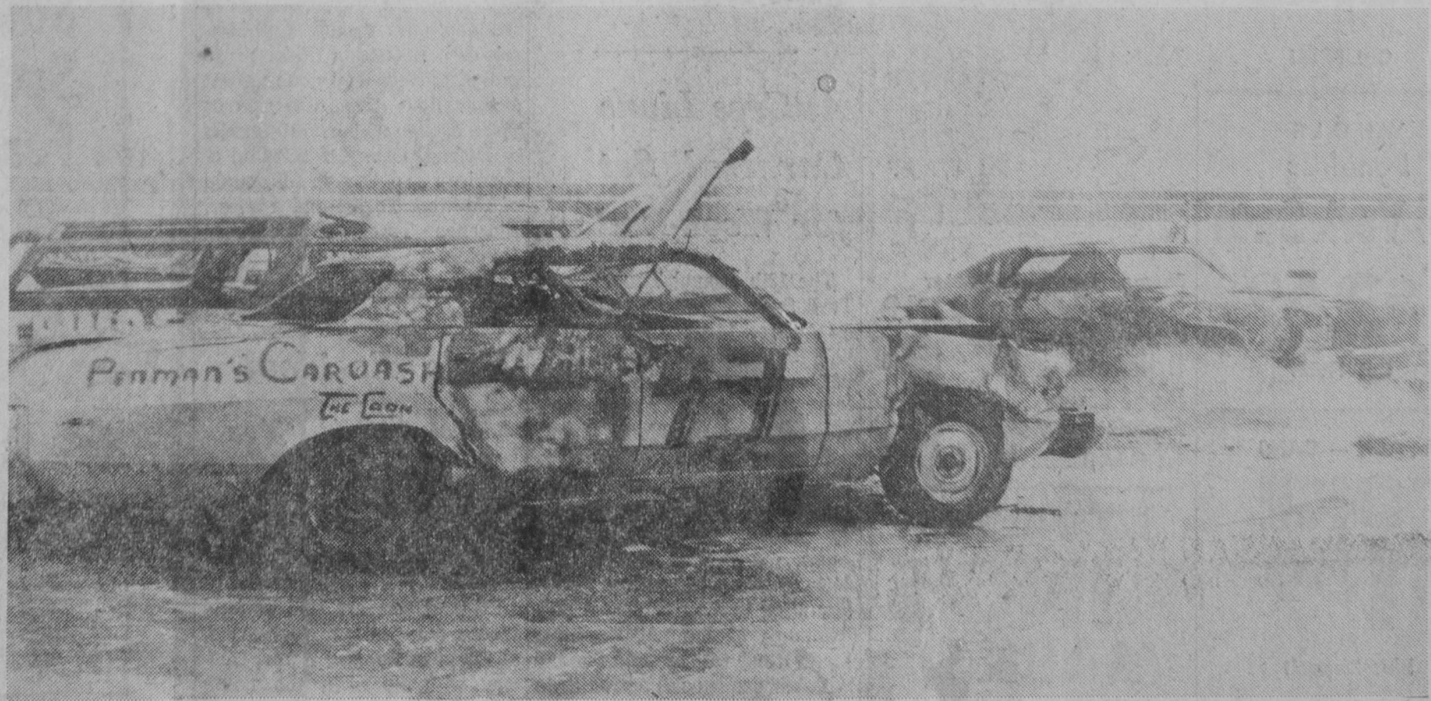

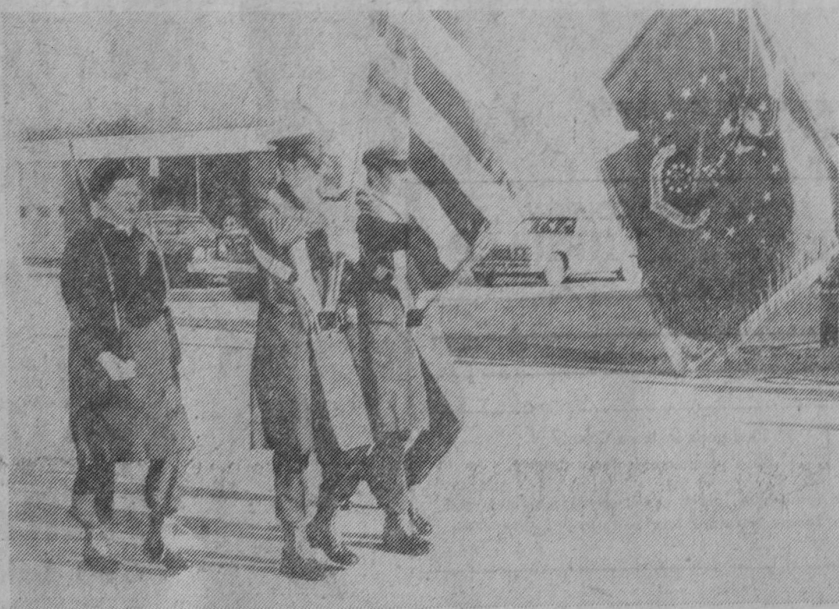

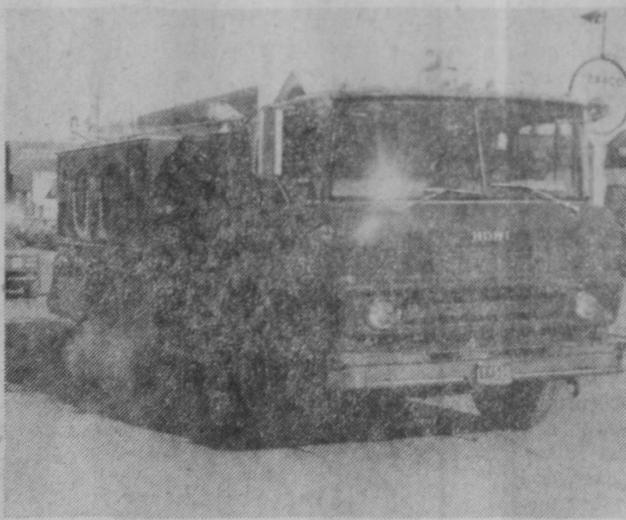

Don't Go Out Without It.

30th PERCHVILLE, U. S. A.

THE TAWAS HERALD Wednesday, February 6, 1980-5

UNSEASONABLY mild weather this winter cut a number of program features from the 1980 Perchville program last week-end. Attendance both Saturday and Sunday was lower than previous years, but the festival possibly was one of the most successful in the state despite the lack of snow. Bright sunshine greeted visitors Saturday and most of Sunday, which was welcomed due to the cold blast of wind off Lake Huron. These pictures show some of the activities taking place during the program which was kicked off by the perch fry at top right. Other pictures show the annual parade and demolition derby, probably one of the most exciting ever staged here.—Tawas Herald Photos.

EXCELLENT CATCHES were produced in Tawas Bay during the Perchville program. These pike and perch were

"Mike" Nunn made a last minute check of the script for the biggest publicity coup in area history.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Wide World Brought Publicity

A television program viewed by an estimated 40-million Americans once brought an untold amount of publicity to Perchville and, 24 years later, still represents the biggest coup in the 32-year history of promotional activities by Tawas Chamber of Commerce.

Although advance publicity blurbs proclaimed that the program was to be broadcast "live" from the Tawas, that was a sham as technical difficulties required the entire fishing village to be picked up from the ice of Tawas Bay and trucked about 60 miles south so as to be more conveniently located to the NBC affiliate at Bay City, WNEM-TV.

When viewers settled back in their easy chairs on New Year's Day of 1956 to listen to Dave Garroway, they had no idea that hundreds of hours of prior preparation were required to create the illusion that Wide World was a "completely unrehearsed program." Participants had spent days reading and learning working scripts prepared by a corps of network writers.

But no matter, the eight-minute segment from Perchville came off without a hitch and Wide World is remembered today in television history as the industry's first live documentary program. It was also the first time that polar bear swimmers became associated with events at Perchville, although some years were to pass before their antics were to become an annual attraction here.

The Wide World program, broadcast every other Sunday for 1½ hours, was only a few weeks old when Richard O. Allen, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce, made the rather startling announcement that the Tawas had landed a segment in the program.

"There will be no actors—the only 'actors' will be the people who are out on the ice during the telecast," said Allen. He said that anyone who wished to place a shanty on the ice could do so, but emphasized that no nationally advertised names or products could be displayed on the shanties.

"Use a little imagination in decorating your shanties," urged Allen, suggesting that any signs be treated humorously.

Allen was the chief instigator in negotiations with NBC to include Perchville in the program. Following that first announcement on December 15, 1955, the Herald reported two weeks later that a meeting had been held with NBC officials changing the origination point for the broadcast.

The network found it impossible to transmit its signal from Tawas Bay to Bay City and program preparations had advanced to such a point that

THIS WAS THE OPENING scene which about 40-million television viewers saw as Perchville was introduced to the nation. Last-minute technical difficulties moved the entire fishing village to Kawkawlin in order to use facilities of WNEM-TV. The ruse was not detected.—Tawas Herald Photo.

no major change could be made in the script.

As a result, NBC paid the cost of transporting shanties to a point near Kawkawlin. The entire ice fishing village on Tawas Bay was loaded on trucks five days prior to the program and moved to a new location.

A dress rehearsal was held on the Saturday prior to the actual broadcast to make a last-minute check of the script and to coordinate the timing necessary between Bay City and New York City, the point of origin for Wide World.

Then came the big day and Saginaw Bay ice near Bay City was bristling with television camera equipment, including one unit perched on a 25-foot-high platform. Hundreds of spectators watched the proceedings out of camera view.

By super-imposing the television camera pictures, the program first visited Time Square in New York and Garroway commented on activities taking place there, the morning after New Year's Eve; then the scene faded into the Perchville sequence.

While television cameras trained on the tiny ice fishing village, Harold Gould of East Tawas, originator of the idea of Perchville, told viewers of the activities which were taking place. Gould's performance was superb as he was being interviewed by Garroway, who was sitting in a studio back in New York. Timing was perfect through simultaneous broadcast and Garroway thought he "was seeing things" when the cameras focused on a coup of Polar Bear Club members swimming in the icy waters.

The only hitch in the entire program came when one of the bathers, a 17-year-old Birch Run boy, was taken to Mercy Hospital following his plunge into the icy water. He was treated for exposure and shock and was released.

Others from the Tawas appearing on the program were Chester Parker, mayor of Perchville; Del Collier and W. D. "Mike" Nunn, East Tawas businessmen. Although not interviewed by Garroway, Walter Champion, L. G. McKay Jr. and Henry Greenwood were part of the "cast."

Now that was pretty heady stuff locally, for television was still in relative infancy back in 1956. What the viewer did not realize, however, was that it would have been impossible for Garroway to talk directly to the "actors" on the ice—they repeated their well-rehearsed lines on cue of Albert Beaumont, who had charge of the remote pickup for NBC.

Following the Perchville segment, the camera pictures faded out and moved to Palm Beach, Florida, to show viewers the latest fashions by leading designers. Naturally, local folks felt that nothing could compare with the Perchville segment.

The first reaction to the program proved to be the visit of several hundred Michigan residents to Perchville on the day following the broadcast. Although shanties had not been returned from Kawkawlin, the ice was jammed with fishermen and spectators—all clamoring to meet and talk to Gould—the "father" of Perchville—and to watch the Polar Bear swimmers. "Although it is still too early to measure the success in terms of advertising value to the Tawas, the publicity received on such a nationwide television show would be incalculable," stated the chamber of commerce's secretary-manager. Perchville had been featured six years earlier in Life Magazine and had been the subject of numerous other magazine and newspaper articles, but Tawas hit it big with its first "live" appearance on national television.

Although a number of the participants of that broadcast in 1956 have since died or moved away, the pictures beamed over the national network so long ago are clearly etched in the minds of many local residents, who relaxed in their easy chairs on New Year's Day and watched history being made on their television sets.

REMEMBER Dave Garroway, master of ceremonies for NBC's Wide World program? He interviewed local residents at Perchville from his warm studio in New York City. Garroway thought he was "seeing things" when the camera focused on a group of Polar Bear swimmers splashing in the water.

THE EIGHT-MINUTE SEGMENT at Perchville was well-rehearsed and the telecast came off without a hitch, despite the split-second timing required. Several hundred Michigan residents showed up at Perchville the next day, but shanties had not been returned from Kawkawlin. The local telephone switchboard was flooded with long distance calls from many parts of the country.

TAWAS AREA CHEERLEADERS built a pyramid to cheer the Braves on to victory Friday night over the visiting Pinconning Spartans. The win settled a score with Pinconning as the Spartans had defeated Tawas earlier in the season.—Tawas Herald Photo.

BRIAN NORTON banged in 14 points on driving shots like this and accounted for 21 rebounds during the night. Tawas jumped out to a 24-7 lead in the first quarter and was never headed.—Tawas Herald Photo.

KEVIN GRACE came through with 13 points during the night, although he missed this shot and was guarded closely by the Spartans. He meshed five of eight foul shots to aid the cause.—Tawas Herald Photo.

TA Braves Get Revenge by Stomping Pinny's Spartans

A little more than a month ago, Pinconning's Spartans defeated the Tawas Braves, 57-46, and were being touted as the team to beat for the NEM championship. Since then, the Gladwin Flying Gs have taken a firm hold on first place and appear on their way to a second straight championship, while the Braves gained revenge Friday night for that earlier loss to the Spartans.

The Braves put it all together in the rematch, jumping off to a 24-7 first quarter lead, to defeat the visiting Spartans, 77-68. The margin of difference was actually much greater for Tawas substitutes played the greater part of the fourth quarter permitting the Spartans to close the gap.

Early in the second period, Tawas had roared off to a 32-9 lead and the victory advanced the Braves to a tie with Pinconning for second place in conference standings, each team with a four and two mark.

Pinconning's offense came to life in the second quarter, but Tawas still held the upper hand with a 20-18 bulge. The visitors outscored Tawas, 16-11, in the third quarter and held a 27-22 margin in the fourth quarter. Coach Paul Becker, who substituted freely in the final stanza, had to put his five starters back in the game with less than a minute to go when the Spartans cut Tawas' 27-point margin.

Hot outside shooting was the key to Tawas' victory with Grant Mousseau leading the tribe with 19 points and Jay Grabow hit for 15 points from the other guard position. Brian Norton, who played a whale of a game on the backboards with 21 rebounds, had 14 points and Kevin Grace counted 13 points to give Tawas four players scoring in double figures.

Tawas shot at a 41 percentage clip from the floor during the night and Pinconning meshed 36 percent of its field goal attempts. Leading the Spartans in scoring was Kevin Fegan, who was high for both teams with 27 points. Mike Horner turned in 14 points and Daren Ingle had 12.

Tawas Junior Braves lost to Pinconning, 48-47.

Action this week found the Braves playing host Tuesday night to Oscoda and they travel to Whittemore - Prescott Friday night.

Alcona Tigers Whipped TA Braves, 56-47

Alcona Tigers whipped the Tawas Braves, 56-47, to gain revenge for a Tawas victory earlier in the season.

The visitors jumped off to a 13-10 lead in the first quarter and held a 30-24 edge at intermission. Alcona outscored Tawas, 12-8 in the third quarter and Tawas held a one-point, 15-14, edge in the final stanza.

Brian Norton's 15 points topped the Tawas lineup, followed by 10 points turned in by Kevin Grace.

Jr. Braves Won Over Alcona JV

Paced by Kelly Moffatt's 23 points, the Tawas Junior Braves turned back visiting Alcona Junior Varsity, 58-52, in action January 28.

Tawas jumped off to a 13-11 lead in the first quarter, but Alcona was one point ahead, 25-24, at intermission. Tawas put the game away with a 21-12 bulge in the third quarter and Alcona held the upper hand with a 15-13 fourth quarter edge.

John Caplis meshed 10 points to back up Moffatt and Dan Barry had eight points.

TA Matmen Lost to Ogemau

Tawas Braves eighth grade teams split the decisions last week with Standish-Sterling. The "A" team won, 55-29, and the "B" team lost, 26-22.

Bruce Nelkie meshed 20 points to lead the "A" team, followed by Don Hester's 12 points. Others scoring were Bill Bublitz, nine points; Chris Lear, eight points; Darrin Wilson, Jim Nivison and Chris Norton, two points each.

Eric Painter led the "B" team with nine points, followed by Ed Latham, eight points; Jerry Converse, four points.

TA Girls Won Three Games Over S-S Panthers

Tawas won a triple victory January 28 over visiting Standish-Sterling volleyball teams. The varsity girls defeated the Panthers in two games, 15-5, and 15-1; the junior varsity won in three games, 14-12, 12-15 and 15-10; the freshman squad won in three games, 15-9, 10-15 and 15-4.

Becky Conn was top scorer for Tawas with seven points, while Pam Epley and Joyce Hatcher each had six points. Hatcher had five sets, while Hughes and Wood had four each. Kari Allen led in spikes with three.

Nikki Painter topped the junior varsity with 14 points, followed by Debbie Allen, Lisa Bieby and Carmen Brackenbury, each with nine points.

Jane Stonehouse fired 15 points to lead the freshman squad.

Eagles Split Decisions With Arenac Schools

Hale Area Eagles split the decision in a pair of games played last week with two Arenac County schools. On January 29, the Eagles lost at AuGres, 71-62, while the host Eagles defeated Arenac Eastern, 67-60, on Friday night.

The Eagles outscored AuGres, 29-21, on field goals completed, but the Wolverines made good on 85 percent of their shots from the foul lines, meshing 29 of 34 attempts.

Hale was able to close the gap to seven points three times during the night but could not catch the AuGres squad, which jumped off to a 26-14 lead in the first quarter.

Hale had three players hitting in double figures, led by Maynard Smith's 14 points. Sanders scored 12 points and Dillon added 10.

Friday night's game was a thriller with Arenac Eastern down by only four points with 1½ minutes to go in the game. Hale held a 11-8 margin at the end of the first quarter, then outdistanced the visitors, 21-12, in the second quarter. Arenac Eastern came back with a 20-15 margin in the third quarter and each team scored 20 points in the final quarter.

The Eagles had three players scoring in double figures, led by Vern Reed's 16 points. Mark Turnbull meshed 13 points and Sanders had 12. Tim Lesneski was the leading rebounder for Hale with 11.

Action this week found Hale playing host Tuesday night to Atlanta and Posen plays at the Hale gymnasium Friday night.

The Eagles are now even in league competition with four wins and four losses and they have an over-all record of seven wins and six losses.

Points Take Bus Drivers Off Roads

Lansing—The Michigan Court of Appeals has upheld Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley's position that a state board of education regulation that takes school bus drivers off the road when they accumulate seven or more points on their driver licenses is valid.

The court of appeals in a Wednesday decision unanimously agreed with Kelley that the regulation is a valid exercise of the state's power to protect its citizens, particularly an unusually vulnerable segment of the population, i. e. school children.

The regulation in question, the so-called "School Bus Driver Competency Requirements," was adopted by the state board of education on July 1, 1974. The requirements cover several areas of bus driver competency such as physical capabilities as well as driving records. The seven-point limitation for school bus drivers was subsequently challenged as arbitrary by the Grand Rapids School Employees Benefit Association when a driver was suspended after accumulating seven points. The limitation was upheld in circuit court and subsequently appealed.

As the state board's attorney, Kelley successfully argued the wisdom, rationale and relevance of the requirements and the limitation was upheld.

The judges concurred with the attorney general, saying: "Clearly, it (the seven-point limitation) is a reasonable method of assuring the continuing fitness of the school bus drivers."

Kelley argued that when it is a higher standard for school bus drivers the state board of education acted under authority granted by the legislature. The three-judge panel agreed, saying, "But, as is manifest from the testimony given at the trial, the legislature, in enacting 1972 PA 74 (the law empowering the state board to establish the seven-point limitation), intended that school bus drivers meet a higher standard than good health and a chauffeur's license." Part of Kelley's case included a study showing that drivers with seven or more points in a two-year period are twice as likely to have an accident in the following year. Thus, Kelley argued, setting a seven-point limitation for school bus drivers was not done on an arbitrary basis.

The three-judge panel agreed that in the case of the school bus drivers, higher standards and stricter accountability are warranted.

Would Update State Forest Act

LANSING—State Rep. Jack Gingrass of Iron Mountain and State Sen. Mitch Irwin of Sault Ste. Marie recently introduced legislation designed to update Michigan's Commercial Forest Act.

According to the northern lawmakers, the Commercial Forest Act has encouraged timber growing since it was enacted 50 years ago but must be updated to reflect Michigan's economy.

"The present structure of the Commercial Forest Act and its subsequent tax has enhanced Michigan's total forest resources and wood industries," Gingrass said today. "However, in those areas where there is a high density of forests, many local communities are experiencing difficulty in financing needed public services."

Senator Irwin explained that the identical proposals introduced by Gingrass and himself would merely increase the commercial forest tax now being levied throughout the state.

"Currently landowners complying with Michigan's commercial forest act do not pay ad-valorem taxes as you and I do on our homes," Irwin explained.

"Rather, those property owners pay 15 cents for each acre of commercial forest land and the Department of Natural Resources pays an additional 25 cents on each acre. Those moneys are paid directly to the state's general fund," Irwin added.

"Furthermore, those landowners pay a yield tax of 10 percent on the timber that is cut which helps repay the State of Michigan for carrying their wood crop to maturity," Irwin said.

"Although we intend to continue this tax provision for forest landowners, we believe it should be commensurate with inflation and rising property values."

Specifically, the Gingrass and Irwin proposals would increase the landowner's share of the commercial forest tax from 15 to 30 cents an acre and the State of Michigan's share from 25 to 70 cents an acre. The measure also would provide for a regular 10-year adjustment of that tax based on the state equalized value on all timber cutover lands.

The proposals would also change the penalties for withdrawing properties from the Commercial Forest Act and require that any and all penalty moneys and taxes to be paid directly to the local units of government rather than the state's general fund, as now required.

"Because the value of land is ever increasing and the profit earned on timber products is rising, it is only appropriate that the commercial forest tax reflect a proportionate increase," Gingrass said. "Also, we believe our proposals would eliminate serious cash flow problems that many Upper Peninsula communities are experiencing."

Gingrass said that because such a high percentage of the total land area is in forest, his proposal would have a tremendous impact on local communities in that region of the state. He is hopeful the house taxation committee will take up the measure at its earliest convenience.

"We could end a great deal of financial hardship experienced by small communities in the north country by enacting this proposal quickly," Irwin noted. "Therefore, we are making a dual effort to receive legislative approval of this much-needed revision of this act."

Hot Ideas for Using Chocolate in Winter

Hot chocolate is everyone's favorite on a cold day. Make hot mocha by combining coffee with chocolate milk, warmed and topped with cinnamon. Good for breakfast with buttered English muffins.

When making cheese balls, add real butter at room temperature while making the cheese mixture. Use about eight ounces of sharp Cheddar cheese and four ounces butter, seasoning with grated onion to taste. Roll the cheese ball in sesame seeds, then chill.

If vegetables are not always greeted with cries of delight, make them into a new dish by stirring sour cream gently into them. Cooked, drained broccoli or green beans take on a fresh new taste with dairy sour cream.

Little kids' corner: It is fun to drink milk through a straw. It is fun to have milk in a different kind of glass for a change, like one with a picture on it, a tinted one or even one of the best crystal goblets.

Final thought: A lap is so you do not get crumbs on the floor.

4-Hers Eligible to Win Foals

Iosco County 4-H horse club members are eligible to win registered quarter horse foals through the 1980 Bob Evans Farms 4-H Weanling Quarter Horse Award program.

According to Robin Bell, Iosco County 4-H youth program assistant, one boy and/or girl will be nominated from Iosco County to compete in the statewide program. From county nominees across the state, one boy and one girl will be selected to receive the young horses.

The foals are provided by Bob Evans Farms, Incorporated, and are products of the purebred quarter horse breeding program conducted at the farm in Rio Grande, Ohio.

"Providing good quality weanlings for 4-H members who have shown outstanding leadership qualities is our way of expressing appreciation for the fine work done by 4-H youth," Evans says. This is the third year the program has been made available to Michigan 4-Hers.

To qualify for the unique horse award program, applicants must be current 4-H horse project members, at least 13 years of age but not more than 16 years old during the 1980 calendar year. They must complete a special nomination application and return it to their county 4-H youth agent before March 1.

A panel of judges will select 10 finalists from across the state. The finalists will participate in interviews during 4-H Exploration Days in June at Michigan State University and two winners and alternates will be selected. The foals will be presented to their new owners during the State 4-H Horse Show, August 19, at Michigan State University.

For application blanks and more information about the foal award program, contact Mrs. Bell at 362-3449.

High Protein Cheeses Gaining in Popularity

Cheeses are gaining in popularity. They are high in protein, require no preparation and have the versatility of combining with many other foods for delicious salads, soups, main dishes and desserts.

There is no limit to the ways cheese can be used, from casseroles to cheese cakes. There are some cheeses, however, which are meant to be eaten as is or simply matched with fresh fruits.

Appetizers are a promise of good foods to come and perfect starters are slices of brick cheese served on Michigan apple slices or Michigan pears with Cheddar or Muenster cheese. For a busy Saturday lunch treat, lightly butter a slice of brown bread, cover generously with hot Michigan baked beans and a thick layer of shredded Cheddar cheese. Broil slowly until cheese melts, then top with crisp bacon slices.

Considering cheesemaking requires 10 pounds of whole milk to make about one pound of cheese, this industry definitely has a stabilizing affect on the dairy industry.

Cheese is aged from 60 days to a year or more, depending on the flavor development desired. Aging and the quality characteristics are key factors in determining price.

There is an infinite variety of cheese products including shredded, grated, wheels, cylinders, bricks, cartons, pear balls or pear rectangles, cups and jars. In color, cheese ranges from purest white to deepest orange, with shades of yellow and marbled blues and greens. As for flavors, these, too, range from the mildest cream cheeses to robust Romano and Limburger. All varieties of natural cheese should be served at room temperature to enjoy the fullest flavor and texture.

With District No. 2

Health Educator Assumes Position

Michigan's natural cheese production totals about 33-million pounds each year, with American cheese amounting to two-thirds of this total, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Cheesemakers in Michigan produce Muenster, Cheddar, brick, Mozzarella and other Italian cheeses, cream and farmer cheeses, among others. Cottage cheese production amounts to about 56-million pounds annually.

Each person in the United States consumes about 18 pounds of cheese each year.

A newly-created position for District Health Department No. 2, which serves the Counties of Alcona, Iosco, Ogemaw and Oscoda, to conform with the new state public health code has been filled by Brian A. Witte. The position of health educator will consist of working with the four-county area schools, health organizations, media and community groups to develop a health education program to fit the area's needs. Input from these groups is very important in order to establish an effective program for the counties.

Witte received a bachelor of science degree in public health education from Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, and served his internship with Western Michigan Associated Health Departments under the supervision of Joseph C. Baer, administrator.

Witte will be stationed at the main office of District Health Department No. 2, 806 West Houghton Avenue, West Branch, Post Office Box 38, or may also be reached by calling 345-5020. The district health department is under the direction of Dr. Paul Christenson.

LOOKING BACKWARD—

Rain and Fog Spoiled SV Winter Fun

February 10, 1965—It was a typical Silver Valley week-end—the weather turned mild Friday, it rained Saturday, the area was covered by a dense fog Sunday and, to top it all off, the advertised speakers failed to make an appearance at the annual banquet. During the past five years, there have been only two winter carnivals which have not been wash-outs.

Tawas City's first primary election to select candidates for the spring election will be held Monday. There are two races listed, which could add some luster to the historic event.

According to a year-end report from Director Edward Burgeson, Iosco Social Welfare Board had total disbursements of $97,964.41 during 1964.

Elected to the board of directors of Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Association were the following Iosco County beef cattle raisers: John Dooley and Ralph Harris, Plainfield Township; Howard Brindley, Irene Mott and Joseph Barnes of Reno Township.

February 10, 1955—"The biggest and best ever"—this seemed to be the consensus of opinion of nearly everyone who attended the annual Silver Valley Winter Sports Carnival last week-end. An estimated 14,000 persons visited the winter sports area.

In a move to bring the names of streets in Tawas City up to date, the council authorized the change in names of 17 streets and also authorized the purchase of 87 new street marking signs.

C. Warren Wagner and Albert H. Buch are making plans to organize a Tawas Short Wave Club.

Sharon Brindley, Iosco County's 1955 cherry pie baking champion, goes to Grand Rapids to compete in the state contest. The 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brindley of Reno Township, she is a freshman at Plainfield Township Rural Agricultural High School at Hale.

February 9, 1945—Two Iosco County men have been killed in action. Sgt. Bernard Stephan of Tawas City, serving with General Patton's army in Luxembourg, was killed January 20 and Pfc. Lloyd Shellenbarger of Hale was killed December 21 on Leyte Island in the Philippines.

After first denying a building permit, the Tawas City Council voted to allow William Schroeder to construct a chicken coop. The building is to be permitted for the duration of the war.

Joseph Martin of Standish and

Paul Grain of Bay City have been assigned to act as officials for the district basketball tournament to be held March 1-3 at Tawas City.

The Tawas City Elks won the Northern Five championship by beating AuGres, 32-13.

St. James Electric is the agent for Conde milking machines.

Due to the shortage of coal and other fuels, the federal government has banned the use of electricity for outdoor advertising signs, ornamental lighting, show window lighting, marquee lighting or white way street lighting.

Ways to Speed Up IRS Tax Returns

Taxpayers can speed up the processing of tax returns by using the preaddressed, peel-off label and by double checking their entries before filing, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

The label, which is located on the cover of the tax return package, lists the taxpayer's name, address and social security number. If any of the information is incorrect, the taxpayer should make needed changes directly on the label. Taxpayers are also urged to use the coded, preaddressed envelopes that come with their returns.

If a husband and wife file a joint return and use different last names, they should separate the last names with an "and"—such as "Brown and Smith," and list the last names and social security numbers in the same order as the first names.

Easy-to-make errors, such as checking the wrong filing status, failing to sign the return, math errors and neglecting to attach all necessary documents are common mistakes which delay taxpayers' refunds because the IRS must correct the errors or obtain the documents before processing the return. Careful checking of all entries can result in smoother, quicker processing and a speedier refund if one is due.
