East Tawas' Controversial Parking Citations to Stand

Parking problems provided principal discussion and action at Monday night's meeting of the East Tawas Council, but the matter was not as heated or controversial as it was two weeks ago.

Unanimous council action saw adoption of a recommendation by Mayor Robert Bolen to the effect that vehicles recently ticketed for violation of a city ordinance should stand.

On January 7, several irate citizens protested the surprise enforcement of an ordinance banning vehicles from parking on street rights-of-way in residential areas. Although admitting that it was necessary to provide access to streets for snowplowing purposes, citizens pointed out that there was no snow on the ground when tickets were issued and argued that for notification had not been given.

An evaluation of the city's or-inance and the protest raised by citizens was conducted during the interim period and Mayor Bolen pointed out Monday night that it would not be consistent or feasible to return some fines and not others, as had been suggested two weeks ago.

A resolution was adopted by the council upholding recent citations issued by the police department in the matter, with the understanding that, in the future, only those vehicles parked on city street rights-of-way which interfered with actual snow removal operations would be cited for violation of the ordinance.

In addition to this matter, the council also discussed problems involved with the two-hour parking limit as it concerns organizations with lengthy meetings. It had been pointed out to the council that two hours for parking vehicles on city streets was often insufficient and resulted in citing cars owned by visitors to the community.

Approval was given by the council to adopt a courtesy card system which provides that special parking privileges would be granted for the date specified to those organizations requesting the special privilege.

On recommendation of its engineering consultant, Spicer Engineering Company, the council adopted a resolution providing for approval of the East Tawas portion of the Tawas area facility plant for waste water treatment.

Authorization was given by the council to proceed with preparations and submission of a step two application for a federal grant to assist in the design of recommended facilities.

This action was necessary to meet the city's need and responsibilities in terms of rehabilitating its sewage disposal system.

State OK's Tawas City Bridge Funds

The City of Tawas City was notified Tuesday that the Michigan Department of Transportation had approved funds for the reconstruction of two bridges here under the federal bridge replacement program and the Michigan critical bridge program.

Financing amounting to 80 percent of the cost of new bridges at Whittemore Street over the Tawas River and Sixth Avenue over Dead Creek were approved for funding.

The city's engineering consultant is to proceed with the preparation of plans and estimates, coordinating procedures with the department of transportation.

Tawas City Youth Rescued from Ice Flow

A 13-year-old Tawas City boy was rescued from an ice flow about 50 yards off the Tawas River mouth Sunday afternoon by personnel from the United States Coast Guard Station at Tawas Point.

Paul Bosler was rescued from a chunk of ice which was moving slowly into the bay after a passing motorist reported his predicament. The ice flow measured only 12 to 14 feet in circumference and was six to eight inches thick.

Coast guard personnel used a 14-foot aluminum boat to affect the rescue.

Standing by to lend assistance were officers of the Iosco County Sheriff's Department marine division.

Development Council Shows Worth to Tawas Hospital

Timothy O'Connor, chairman of the Tawas Hospital Development Council, announced the appointment of four replacements for outgoing chairpeople who have served on the committees over the last two years. O'Connor and Paul Dude, hospital administrator, commended the outgoing chairpeople on their involvement and commitment to the advancement of health care in the community.

Timothy Weaver of Tawas City is replacing Thomas Huck of Tawas City as deferred gifts committee chairman. This committee presents estate planning seminars and helps inform various professional groups of hospital plans and progress.

Susan Lambrecht of Tawas has replaced Kathleen Furtaw, formerly of Oscoda, as chairwoman of the community relations committee. Responsibilities of the group include assistance with publications and publicity, service and education planning.

Ralph White of East Tawas will take the place of Roger McIntosh of East Tawas as chairman of the community relations committee. The purpose of this committee is to contact area corporations and state and national foundations to raise funds for hospital growth.

The special prospects committee, formerly chaired by Judith McIntosh of East Tawas, and the annual support committee, formerly headed by Irene Barker and Elizabeth Rosenberg of East Tawas, have merged to form the annual support/special gifts committee chaired by Gary S. Wood of East Tawas. This committee is responsible for informing area residents of hospital plans and to raise funds from individuals and businesses through membership in the Samaritan Club (donation of $100 or more per year) and through special gifts.

Subcommittees of annual support/special gifts have been established to facilitate the fund raising and information sharing process. The following people have been appointed as subcommittee chairpeople: Neil Mochty and Donald Schriber replace Marlin Eaton and Mrs. Barker in East Tawas, Louise VanSickle replaces Carolyn Nash in AuGres, Marshall Wood replaces Robert Richter in Tawas City. Wood has served as chairman on the committee previously. Marjorie Gibbs and Ruth McNichol remain as Oscoda chairwomen.

"The success of the council has been tremendous," stated Dude. "They have raised the level of community awareness in the advancement of health care, provided new community service and education programs and raised $400,000 for the current expansion program that is slated for completion this spring."

O'Connor announced that the development council has set a goal of raising $95,000 this year to be used for the forthcoming surgical suite expansion. He pointed out that donated dollars are extremely valuable to non-profit institutions like Tawas Hospital. Every donated dollar results in a savings of three dollars in principal and interest charges and allows the hospital to add facilities and services it could otherwise not afford.

City Manager Unsnarls 'Red Tape'

Months of struggling with bureaucratic red tape has paid off for the City of Tawas City.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas announced at Monday night's council meeting that the city had regained its favorable position for participation in the federal-state "201" program to upgrade the city's waste water treatment system.

According to information received Monday from Lansing, Tawas City has 876 points and stands 79th among 211 communities which have made application under this program. Prior to the new listing, this city had only 308 points and was seventh from the bottom of a list of 214 communities.

This new status was achieved through considerable effort by the city manager, who commented Monday night that the 1980 budget would have to be revised to transfer money to pay for increased use of the city hall's telephone.

Thomas has been working on the problem since mid-summer which finally resulted in the city council authorizing its signature on a consent decree admitting the city was polluting Great Lakes waters. Confusion at Lansing over this had seen the city's priority rating drop from 135th out of 699 projects in 1976 to 240th out of 252 projects, and had dipped even lower in 1979.

Because of the fact that the city had been lead applicant for a regional step one sewer planning grant, officials at Lansing quickly processed the city's paper work. Another problem was solved earlier in the month when East Tawas and Tawas City agreed to adopt similar concepts for step two applications.

This program is extremely important to upgrade the waste water treatment systems in the Tawas area, using the most cost-effective approach toward development of secondary sewage treatment.

Sen. Irwin's Newsletter in Circulation

The North Country News, a legislative report from State Sen. Mitch Irwin, is included with this week's issue of The Tawas Herald. Besides discussing various legislative matters, a questionnaire is included seeking citizen comments on 26 different subjects. The senator's newsletter is being included as part of 17 Northern Michigan and Upper Peninsula newspapers this week.

Conservation Officer's Hobby is Carving Ducks

Philip L. Babe's interest in wildlife comes naturally—it is his profession and hobby.

A conservation officer employed by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for the past eight years, his special interests include taxidermy, wood carving and collecting antique duck decoys.

Babe's artistic skill in wood carving is apparent to anyone who has seen his latest creation—a life-sized basswood model of a wood duck.

This life-like carving could be classed as a "decoy" in any sense—it may be thrown into the water someday in national competition, but never to be ducks within shooting range—it is for decorative purposes only at Babe's home on Wilber Road, Tawas City.

The conservation officer estimates that he spent approximately 35 off-duty hours at his workbench on this project. Each major feather on the model has been carved and detailed with such skill, using sharp knives, burning tools and a power grinder, that one could expect to see the inanimate object suddenly come to life and burst into flight.

Babe's experience in taxidermy served him well in mixing paints to perfectly match the coloring of nature's beautiful wood duck. He used the skin of a dead bird as a comparison guide in the finishing of his model. An application of varnish was given as the final coat to provide just the right sheen to the wooden "feathers" to match that provided by nature.

The two piece model (body and head) carved from basswood seems perfect to the untrained eye, yet Babe says he made some mistakes and he learns something new each time he sits at his workbench. Those newly-learned skills and techniques are incorporated into the next creation.

Babe has been carving since his high school days and the hunting decoys which he produced and sold after returning home from military service are becoming collector items, especially since his name is becoming known in the decorative carving field.

He also collects antique duck decoys and is always watching for the work of some master carver. Such finds are extremely rare today due to the national interest in collecting.

Babe plans to exhibit some of his own work in national competition and may exhibit locally this summer at the Tawas Bay Waterfront Art Show. He will be busy this winter as he said that "wood carving is a good hobby during the energy crisis."

Bible Prophecy Conference at Assembly of God

Abraham Rababy, a native of Beirut, Lebanon, will conduct a four-day prophecy conference on the Middle East in Bible prophecy at the Assembly of God Church, located at 311 East Lincoln Street, East Tawas, Sunday, February 3, at 11:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. and continue Monday through Wednesday at 7 o'clock.

Rababy will be speaking on today's current events in the light of Bible prophecy. Is the Middle East in Bible prophecy? Does the Bible speak of Iran and Afghanistan? What roll will Israel, Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Lebanon and many other Middle East countries have in Bible prophecy? Is Russia the bear in Bible prophecy? Is the Battle of Armageddon approaching? What does it all mean? These questions and many more will be answered during this prophecy conference.

Rababy was a minister in Lebanon from 1959 to 1975 when he and his family had to flee the country when war broke out. Their lives were spared through many miraculous events during this hazardous time. He presently resides with his family in Flint and has recently returned from spending three weeks in Beirut.

The Rev. Edward J. Fairbanks states that all meetings are open to the public and everyone is welcome to attend.

Make Plans for Rectory Open House

Plans were finalized for a sauerkraut and sausage booth at Perchville with Mrs. James Frank as chairman of the committee.

Read the Bible During 1980

Read the Bible through in 1980 is being encouraged by the Rev. Edward J. Fairbanks at the East Tawas Assembly of God Church, located at 311 East Lincoln Street, East Tawas.

Pastor Fairbanks states, "All Christians should be students of the Bible. Get into the Book and let the Book get into you is the church's motto for 1980. The Bible is the basis of the Christian faith, therefore, Christians ought to know what it says. If it is read from cover to cover, we will know what it says; and if we do what it says, it will have a great influence in our lives, in our community and in our nation. In Hosea 4:6, the Bible says, 'My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge'. Almost every home has a Bible or a New Testament and many have several, but they do not do anyone any good unless they are read."

The Assembly of God Church has provided Bible study guides, daily devotional booklets and guides for reading the Bible through in a year for everyone in the church that desires one.

Pastor Fairbanks states that a Bible reading guide will be sent to anyone who writes the church requesting one.

The program is planned for 7:15 and is open to the public.

Rababy was a missionaries' interpreter until his ordination in 1959. He pastored in Beirut, Lebanon, until he and his family left during the outbreak of war in 1975. As an evangelist, he traveled to Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Israel.

A resident of Flint, Rababy has translated a Bible study course in Arabic to send into 25 Moslem countries where the door is closed to Christianity and missionaries.

Maid of honor was Dianne Gingerich of East Tawas with Mrs. Terri Clawson of Oscoda, Marjorie Granger and Nancy Granger of Tawas City and Dawn Cooley of Bay City, bridesmaids. They wore gowns created by the bride's aunt,

DAR Names Mrs. Adams Vice Regent

River Aux Sables Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, elected a new vice regent, heard a book report and viewed a slide program at its January luncheon in the home of Mrs. Lyle W. Adams, Tawas City.

Mrs. Homer D. Roberts, Hale, was named to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Lloyd Wiegierink, who succeeded Mrs. L. Stanton Bush as regent. Both will serve until the chapter's annual election in May.

In a review of "The Last Great Nation on Earth" by Rose L. Martin, Mrs. Robert E. Murphy, Greenbush, characterized the book's theme as an account of the gradual foisting of socialism on free people everywhere and especially on the still free people of the United States.

"The United States has produced a strange species, the naive traitor, who believes that by betraying his country or selling it short, he is acting in the best interests of humanity," she quoted.

The slide program focused on the centennial celebration at St. Mary's High School for Indian Girls, Springfield, South Dakota. The boarding school educates young women of Indian blood from every tribe in the United States, and with Bacone Indian College, Oklahoma, received $84,000 in scholarships and support from NSDAR in the past year.

Slides featured members of the graduating class in their own hand sewn tribal costumes, decorated with the fine traditional bead work for which the school is famous.

The current project, in which Michigan DAR and the River Aux Sables are participating, is to remodel and equip an arts and crafts room at the school, according to Mrs. Ralph Haley, chapter chairman of the American Indians committee.

An honored guest at the meeting was Mrs. Raymond House, a 57-year-member of the Skenandoah Chapter, Oneida, New York, and mother of chapter officer, Mrs. Adolph Sieland, Fairview.

7B Consortium Eyes Sponsorship

Region 7B Employment and Training Consortium, established in 1975 and the largest balance of state consortium in Michigan is filing a pre-application for prime sponsorship. The consortium administers Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) funds and operates employment and training programs in eight counties in Central Michigan.

"We have been looking at the possibility of becoming a prime sponsor for the past four years and after an extensive study, our administrative board voted unanimously to file pre-application forms before the deadline on February 15," says Roberta Volker, administrative director. The move would be effective October 1 if approved by the regional office in Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Volker points out that becoming a prime sponsor would eliminate working through the Bureau of Employment and Training, Michigan Department of Labor; enhance our ability to perform, and bring more dollars under our jurisdiction. "We would be dealing directly with the Region V office in Chicago," she added.

Region 7B will be the second balance of state consortium to seek prime sponsorship, Region Nine to the north applied for, and received that designation as of October 1, 1979.

Robert Brink, deputy director of Region Nine, addressed the Region 7B administrative board at its regular meeting January 17, pointing out the advantages and disadvantages of becoming a prime sponsor. The move is sanctioned by the Michigan State Department of Labor.

Commission

with delinquent taxes collected by the treasurer going to pay off the bonds. Nelkie said that bonds amounting to $1,275,000 were issued last year to start this program, but a $900,000 increase in the tax levy required an additional amount as a reserve fund. The new bonds would be retired in 1984.

Authorization was given to purchase two new chairs needed in the county jail. Commissioner Merschel reported that one swivel chair used at the main telephone desk had fallen apart earlier in the week and that he had authorized use of two chairs from the commission room until replacements could be secured.

On recommendation of Commissioner George, Isosco County Historical Society is to be questioned about its authority in removing trees near the museum for proposed expansion of the building. Application for federal funding has been made to expand the building, but proposed plans had not been submitted to the county commission until last week.

Members of the board of commissioners were of the opinion that the historical society may have "jumped the gun" in removing the trees while funding of the project was pending. It was believed, too, that some of the trees removed may not have been located on county-owned property. The museum is located in the former L. G. McKay residence, which was purchased several years ago by the county.

Authorization was given to Edward Sterling to attend the 17th annual conference of building inspectors at Michigan State University. An allocation of $150 for conferences is included in the department's annual budget.

Daniel Peters, a member of the Hale Area School faculty, was appointed to replace Wilfred Holzheuer on the county planning commission. Holzheuer spent 11 years on the commission and his letter of resignation stated he felt some new people were needed by that group.

A resolution authorized payment of $30,000 to Isosco Social Services Board as partial payment of a $50,000 appropriation to the medical care facility for 1980. A second payment of $20,000 is to be made July 1.

A resolution adopted by the board authorized a special ballot August 5 asking voters of the county to renew two-tenths of one mill of taxes for six years to expand and maintain services to those persons 60 years of age and older in the county. The funds are administered by the Isosco Commission on Aging and are used to operate senior citizen centers.

During discussion on the motion, Commissioner George expressed the opinion that the medical care facility "was not on solid ground yet" and believed the county commission should give consideration to ask voter-approval of renewing former debt retirement millage used to pay the county's share of constructing the medical care facility. Other members were of the opinion that no action should be taken by the board as such a request had not been received from the Isosco County Social Services Board and that its needs could not be anticipated.

On recommendation of the commission's legal adviser, ownership of compacting equipment has been turned over to Multi-County Landfill. The equipment was purchased by the county in 1974 at a cost of $40,000. Loan of the money has since been repaid by owners of Multi-County Landfill to the county treasury.

A request to extend the period of employment beyond the established 18 months for an employee at the Isosco County Museum was rejected by the commission. Members said that precedent had been established to terminate all CETA employees after 18 months and that a key employee had recently been lost at the county airport due to this policy.

Bell Closing East Tawas Office Friday

Michigan Bell announced today that it is moving East Tawas residence customer service records to Saginaw and closing its local public office on Newman Street effective Friday.

M. D. Thompson, local Michigan Bell manager, said the move is part of a state-wide records centralization program. East Tawas business customer service records were moved to Saginaw in 1978.

Six employees are transferring to other company offices in Northern Michigan and three have elected to leave the company with termination pay based on years of service.

The company still will employ 22 people here in its installation and repair, switching, engineering and construction operations.

TC Council Forms New Committee

Action toward establishment of a commercial improvement committee was taken through a resolution adopted Monday night by the Tawas City Council. The seven-member committee is to be named at the council's next session.

The new group is to consist of four members who are owners of commercial property in the city, two members who have no financial interest in nor are employed by property owners within the commercial zones and one member of the city planning commission.

The only member assured of a seat thus far on the new committee is Wayne Thompson, who was elected chairman of the planning commission Thursday night.

Candidates nominated by the Tawas City Businessmen's Association include Carl Babcock, Gregory Huck, Gary Wood and Benjamin Brewer.

Other names nominated by the council include George A. Prescott, Herbert Cholger, Arthur Krass, Leonard Hoshack and Edward Freil. The name of Reynold Mick was also mentioned as a possible member. Additional nominations are being sought from citizens who have no financial interest in the business district.

The council's resolution stated that the city is interested in supporting the retention and expansion of a stable property tax base and employment opportunities, as well as being concerned that the physical condition, appearance and development of the commercial section of the city directly affects the property tax base, employment opportunities and economic health of property owners.

The new committee is charged with coordinating the business community, commercial property owners and the city and to develop a workable plan for the general improvement of the city's commercial areas.

Specific tasks and goals may include, but are not limited to: improving traffic flow and parking; rehabilitation and enhancing the appearance of existing buildings; removal or condemnation of dilapidated structures; determining development and formulating proposed development plans; adhering to the city's future land use plan and pending shoreline use plan; reviewing and recommending improved zoning controls; attracting new business.

The group would solicit and determine the extent of private and public monies and financial mechanisms available for commercial improvement, the conditions required for acquisition and assist individual businesses and groups of businesses and the city in obtaining such funds.

Fund sources may include banking and loan institutions, private investors, economic development corporation, downtown development authority, state or federal funds.

Burglars Hit Isosco County

Breakings and enterings continued to plague Isosco County last week with seven reported to the Isosco County Sheriff's Department. Approximately $800 in currency was stolen at Kocher's Market, Hale, in one burglary. Front door of the establishment had been forced open and attempts had been made to make entry through a rear door. Cabin burglaries were reported by Kenneth R. Loreniger, Harold O. Hart, Curtis McGill, Goldie Bowl, Donald R. Alda and Benjamin F. Harris.

Gs' Defense Beat Braves

BRIAN NORTON'S 23 points were again high for the Tawas Area Braves in Friday night's game with visiting Gladwin. The Flying Gs turned back the Braves.—Tawas Herald Photo.

The name of the game is defense and that is what the Gladwin Flying Gs used to turn aside the Tawas Area Braves in Friday night's Northeastern Michigan Conference battle. The Braves went down before a well-disciplined Gladwin team, 58-52.

Gladwin used a good press defense from the starting moments of the game and then denied Tawas any open shots near the baskets, forcing the Braves to shoot from the outside. The Braves responded by meshing seven of 11 shots from the floor, added two tosses from the charity lanes and held a 16-15 lead at the end of the first quarter.

After missing the services of Kevin Grace for two games the previous week due to an ankle injury, Tawas' chances were hurt Friday night when Craig Moffatt was sidelined with illness. He is expected to miss three or more games.

Gladwin could hit on only four of 14 shots in the first quarter, but came back in the second period by meshing seven out of 11 shots to take a 29-28 lead. Brian Norton, whose 22 points were the high individual scoring total for a night, meshed four of his baskets in the second quarter. Each team took a desperation shot in the last seconds, but neither team could score.

The turning point came in the third quarter when Gladwin meshed nine of 15 shots to take a 47-40 lead. The Braves tried 11 shots from the floor and managed to complete only two. Tawas was deadly at the charity line, however, completing eight out of eight foul shots.

The Braves' shooting eyes returned in the fourth quarter when they completed five of seven shots from the floor and meshed two out of four from the foul lines for 12 points. Gladwin used a deliberate passing attack and took no unnecessary shots, meshing three of six from the floor and countered with five completions from the foul line to win the game.

Dan Lier paced the winners with 20 points and Rich Johnson had 10. Besides Norton, Grace was the only other Tawas player to score in double figures, meshing 11 points on three field goals and five charity tosses.

Tawas Junior Braves won an exciting contest with Gladwin, 59-53. The two teams were tied, 11-11, at the end of the first quarter and Gladwin was ahead, 29-21, at intermission. Tawas outscored the visitors, 15-13, in the third quarter and won the game with a 23-11 margin in the final.

With about two minutes to go in the game, Gladwin tied the score at 49-49 with two foul shots. Tom Schriber countered with one foul shot to give Tawas a 50-49 lead and John Caplis meshed a pair from the charity line to up the lead to 51-49. Gladwin again came back to tie the score, but six foul shots and a field goal by Caplis spelled the winning margin.

Scoring for Tawas were Schriber, 25 points; Kelly Moffatt, 12 points; Caplis, 10 points; Jon Dunn, six points; Mark Jurczyk, four points; Dan Barry, one field goal.

Tawas opened the second half of the season Tuesday night by traveling to Mio-AuSable and the two team travel to Ogemaw Heights Friday night.

Remembering... Anderson Coach Co.

America's Finest Mobile Home

WHEN ORIGINATED in 1947, Anderson Coach Company constructed a travel trailer; before going out of business in 1962, it had established a reputation of building one of the finest mobile homes in America.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Visitors utilizing the state's new boat launching ramp and facilities at East Tawas starting in 1980 could never guess that they are driving on an area which occupies an important niche in local history, or that it could even be termed "treading on hallowed ground" in the memory of some residents.

The property fronting on Tawas Bay east of Wadsworth Street was the site of the community's first industrial operation constructed after World War II and the manufacturing plant located there put East Tawas on the map as the town where the "Cadillac" of the mobile home industry was produced.

Every Tawas resident old enough to remember the fire of 1964, which destroyed the industrial building that sprawled on the property, will immediately recall the tremendous loss to the area at that time. The then newly-organized Tawas Area Development Corporation immediately held a special meeting to promote construction of a building to house the industry which had been operating in the destroyed building. Although that industry, too, has since disappeared, the building promoted by the industrial development corporation eventually led to establishment of a new industrial park on Aulerich Road.

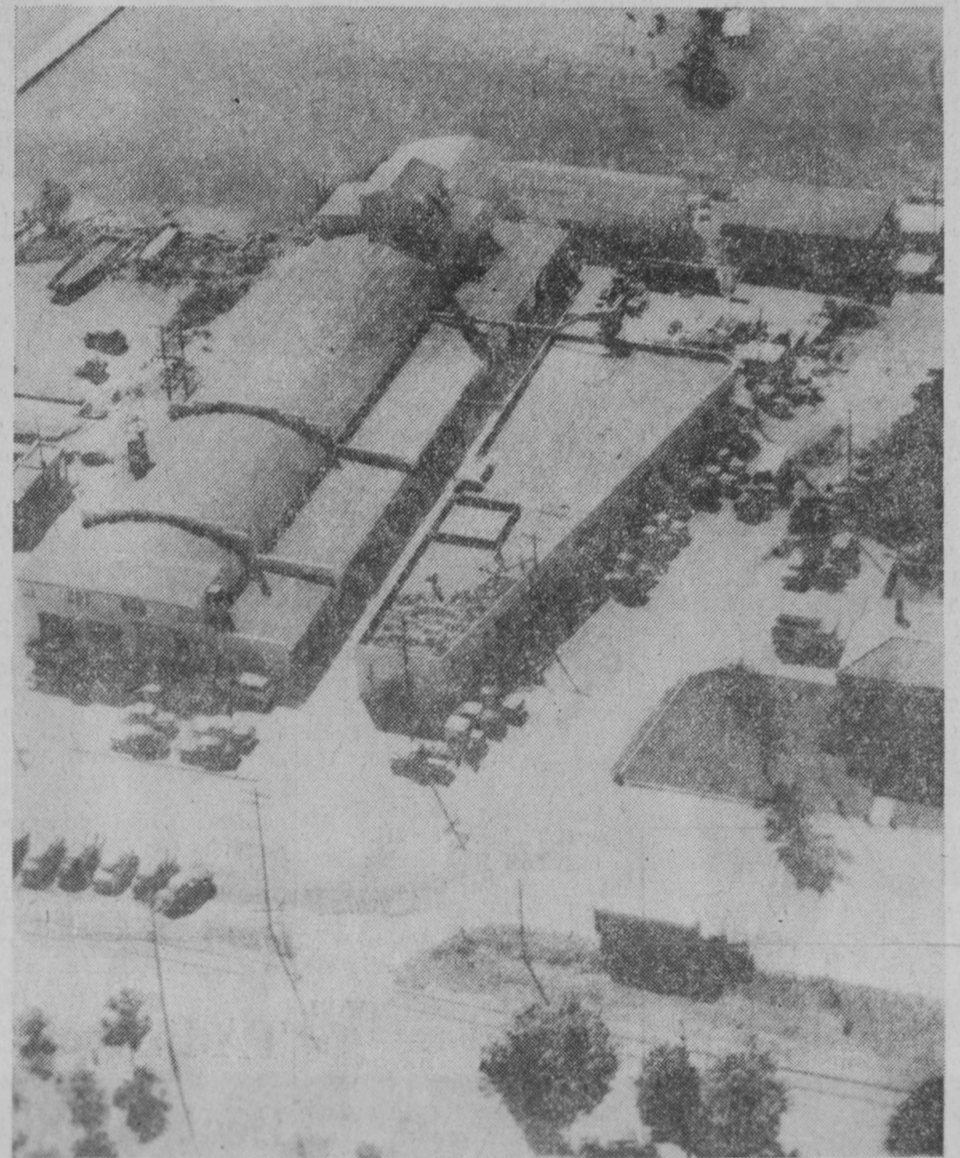

By the time of the fire on October 13, 1964, the industry which had constructed the building in 1947-48 had departed the community nearly 20 months earlier.

But, during the heyday of Anderson Coach Company of East Tawas, some 13,319 mobile homes had rolled through the twin front doors of the concrete block building.

The building, called Plant One, was also the scene of the longest labor dispute in area history—nearly six months—and the plant had been closed earlier by a one week strike of employees. Those disputes came near the end of the firm's operations here and during the time of national business recession.

But, founding of the firm here in 1947 proved beneficial to the entire area with many jobs opened to returning veterans and young people. There were few job opportunities in the Tawas in those days and some 147 units were constructed during the first year of operation in a leased building located at the Detroit and Mackinac Railway yard.

The company was organized as a partnership in July 1947 by

ANDERSON COACH COMPANY'S Plant One at East Tawas is shown in this aerial view snapped in the mid-1950s. Located east of the Michigan State Police post on US-23, the plant had grown to such an extent that it occupied practically every bit of its property on this site. At the peak of its operations, the firm employed more than 150 persons.

Rex Anderson, Charles Schaldenbrand and Ray Thompson. Reorganized as a corporation in 1948, Anderson withdrew in 1949 and in 1953, Schaldenbrand sold out his interest. The "golden years" of the firm came under the leadership of Thompson, who was killed in an automobile accident in February 1954.

In 1948, the plant was moved into a new building on US-23 next to the state police post at East Tawas. As production steadily increased, the company kept pace with others in the highly competitive mobile home field. Before 1948 ended, Anderson Coach incorporated the unique dielectric process in its production line. That wood-welding system was a distinguishing innovation of the company for many years.

Huron Sales Company was organized in 1951 to handle distribution and sales of all Anderson Coaches. Representatives of its family of 135 dealers were located in all sections of the United States and Western Canada.

The mobile home industry underwent a tremendous transition during the first seven years of the company's existence. As explained by J. E. Jensen, president and general manager, in a 1956 Herald interview, a 23-foot coach was considered large in the early days; by 1956, the smallest trailer produced by Anderson was 36 feet, going up to as long as 48 feet, both in eight and 10-foot wide models. Eventually, the coaches were to reach 55 feet in length.

The transition in mobile homes could be seen in both exterior and interior designs. The coaches of 1956 had house-type bathrooms, modern kitchens, thermal pane windows, carpeting on floors, two and three bedrooms, as well as single bedroom models.

Another phase of the transition was that the coaches were more luxurious than before. Instead of being primarily used for travel or temporary housing, they were being sold for permanent housing, especially to military personnel, or workers who found it necessary to move from one location to another.

Because of the necessity of building larger coaches and in order to increase production, during 1953 the company constructed a new paint shop, along with a final finish building and warehouse located on US-23 in Baldwin Township. The firm had expanded, too, with a second plant at Logan, Utah.

From a force of only 25 employees in its second year of operation, Anderson Coach production and administrative departments grew to more than 150 employees.

The entire mobile home industry witnessed a national business slump in 1957 but, prior to, lay-offs that winter, the company still employed 114 men. By 1958, the work force was down to 94 men and complaints were now being heard from the men that production was being slowed through many minor changes made in plans for constructing trailers. This proved to be a controversial point as it became impossible to construct the necessary number of trailers for the men to come under benefits of the company's bonus (See ANDERSON, page 6.)

AN INCENTIVE PROGRAM based on sales, established when the firm was producing travel trailers in large numbers, proved unpopular with employees when the firm began producing custom built coaches. The work force went out on strike for one week in 1958 and then struck for a period of six months in 1959 during a severe national business recession. Recovery was not a simple matter in the highly competitive mobile home industry.—Tawas Herald Photo.

TA Bravettes Beat Oscoda in Volleyball

Tawas Bravettes overcame an opening game loss Wednesday night to defeat Oscoda's volleyball team, two games to one.

After defeating the Bravettes, 15-5, in the opening game, the Owls lost their first match of the season when Tawas won the second and third game, 15-11 and 15-13.

Kari Allen, senior, turned in an outstanding performance with eight points, eight sets, 30 spikes and six blocks during the night. Diane Erickson, Donna Hughes, Jan Johnson, Laurel Minard and Cindy Wood each scored five points. Hughes registered 30 sets to lead her team, while Joyce Hatcher had 20 spikes and Minard had 15.

Both teams played highly skilled and concentrated games. Tawas began conference play Monday night when the Bravettes traveled to Ogemaw Heights.

Owls Overcame Lead Held by TA

Tawas Braves fell before the Oscoda Owls January 15, 78-68, victims of a good second half surge by the Owls.

The Braves jumped off to a 13-8 margin in the first quarter and held a commanding 43-25 lead at intermission. The Owl offense made up for lost time in the second half by outscoring Tawas, 26-11, in the third quarter and then canned 27 points to Tawas' 18 points in the final quarter.

The Owls made good on 54 percent of their shots from the floor, 35 out of 65 shots, while Tawas had a respectable 53 percent on 26 out of 49 chances. Those fewer attempts by the Braves meant the difference.

Les Dahl led the winners with 26 points and Brian Norton topped Tawas with 18.

Tawas had three other players scoring in double figures with Kevin Grace meshing 17, Jay Grabow had 14 and Jim Gracik totaled 11. Eugene Hobert canned 14 points for the winners.

Some Tips on Living During Minimum Heat Level

With the weather so unpredictable, people sometimes lose their power or run out of fuel and lose their heat. If that happens, do the following to maintain a minimal heat level:
 Use an alternate heating source—a fireplace, wood stove, electric heater or electric blanket.
 Do not use a portable kerosene, gasoline or catalytic heater or barbecue grills in the home. They take oxygen out of the air and put a poisonous gas called carbon monoxide into the air.
 Do not use the oven for emergency heating if it can be helped, but if you must, do these things: Clean the grease out of the oven so it does not start a grease fire. If it is an electric stove, do not set the oven or top burners at their highest settings. If using a gas stove and one becomes dizzy or gets a headache, get fresh air quickly! Open a window to let in fresh air. Never sleep with the burners or oven on either gas or electric stoves.
 Close off rooms which are not absolutely needed. Hang blankets over windows at night (let sunshine in during the day), stuff cracks around doors and windows with newspaper, rags, towels, etc.
 Prevent water pipes from bursting if it is expected to be without heat for quite awhile. Collect water for drinking and store in covered containers. Turn off water, water pump, water heater and the furnace. Open all faucets to sinks, tubs and showers and drain pipes.
 If the situation starts getting out of control, call a neighbor, friend, local social or emergency service agency. Write those phone numbers down in advance and keep them handy.
 To keep warm in a cold house, dress warmly. Multiple layers of protective clothing are more effective against cold than a single layer of thick clothing. Entrapped, insulating air is warmed by body heat in the layers. As one becomes warm, the layers can be removed as needed to prevent perspiring and subsequent chill.
 Eat well-balanced, nutritional meals to allow the body to produce its own heat efficiently, especially quick-energy foods (raisins, other dried fruits and other foods).
 Wear a hat, especially when sleeping under these emergency conditions. The body loses between one-half and three-quarters of its heat through the head.
 Use several light-weight blankets rather than one very heavy blanket for the most warmth while sleeping.
 Clip these suggestions and tape them inside a handy closet or cupboard door in case of emergency.
 For more information on this or other energy-related topics, contact Betty Riley, extension energy assistant, at 362-3449.

FHA Production Loans Now Available to Youth

Youth between 10 and 18 years of age may be eligible for loans from the Farmers Homes Administration to establish modest production projects, according to Philip Shaw, the local FmHA supervisor.
 "The loans may be used for nearly any kind of income producing project," says Shaw. But, they must be done in conjunction with an organization, such as 4-H, FFA, boy or girl scouts, where the organization adviser can help plan and supervise the project.
 Examples of likely projects include lawn and garden service, repair shops, livestock or crop production, catering service, etc. Other eligibility requirements according to Shaw include being unable to get the loan from other source and have a cosigner for loans over $2,500.
 Terms of the loan, according to Shaw, includes a 9 1/2 percent interest rate and to be repaid according to the life of the security. Yearly supplies and operating expenses are to be paid back annually, but long term purchases such as cattle or machinery could be scheduled to be repaid over several years.
 Shaw emphasizes to any potential applicant or organization adviser, that this type loan could be an excellent way for a youth to gain a small business type experience and also build an equity for a small business or college expense after high school.
 Anyone interested should contact the FmHA office at 345-5470 or stop in the office at 240 West Wright Street, West Branch, any weekdays.

Proceedings of Iosco County Board of Commissioners

DECEMBER SESSION (CONT'D)

December 19, 1979
A regular meeting of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners held at the county building in Tawas City on December 19, 1979, pursuant to published schedule.

Meeting called to order at 9:40 a. m. by Chairman Webb and the roll called.

Present: Stech (District 1), George (District 2), Merschel (District 3), Ulman (District 4) and Webb (District 5).
Absent: None.

Committee reports were presented and discussed.

Chairman Webb reviewed the business to be considered by the board.

Commissioner Merschel, having been assigned together with Chairman Webb to make a study of the cost and pros and cons of the M. A. C. Self-Insurance program as compared to the present workers' compensation insurance coverage, reported that the 1978 cost to the county, as advised by a refund of 8.2%, was $9,733, and that the 1979 cost (initially $13,412), if adjusted by the same percentage of refund, would be $12,312.

Continuing, Merschel noted that if the county were to join the M. A. C. program, it would require a board member to attend meetings at least once a month, the cost of which would offset any savings that might possibly be realized through anticipated additional refunds, indicating his recommendation that no change in programs be made at this time, but that they continue to monitor the self-insurance program. In further discussion: The pros and cons of self-insurance program were reviewed by board members; Commissioner Merschel referred to a February, 1978, resolution recognizing several local insurance agencies as the board's representatives on insurance matters, proposing that they be heard before any changes are made; and Chairman Webb indicated that the passage of a resolution one way or the other will be required today.

Committees were ordered to their respective duties at 10:55 a. m., the official meeting to stand in recess until 3:30 p. m. The communications received by the clerk's office were referred directly to the chairman upon receipt.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Upon call to order at 4:20 p. m., all commissioners being present, the minutes of the meetings of November 21, November 28 and December 5, 1979, were reviewed and a motion made by Commissioner George that they be approved as drafted and presented by the clerk. Motion supported by Stech and carried.

Commissioner Merschel raised the matter of workers' compensation insurance and discussed a proposal by local agents for a self-insurance program within the county, which would include the road commission and other county entities, proposing that the local agents be requested to prepare a proposal for the board's consideration and that a resolution be prepared to continue with the present coverage in the interim.

Commissioner Stech presented and moved adoption of the following resolutions:
Your health and public safety committee recommends that Chairman John Webb be authorized to sign the certificate authorizing implementation of the marine safety budget for 1980.
Supported by Ulman and carried.

WHEREAS, the current cost of operations for the Iosco County Medical Care Facility exceeds current patient reimbursement, even though costs are below the 80th percentile; and
WHEREAS, it is apparent that the inflationary factor used in updating the reimbursement rate is not sufficient to match the increased cost within the industry; and
WHEREAS, the Iosco County Medical Care Facility, because of lack of adequate funding, has reduced employee fringe benefits, granted only minimal raises, and reviewed all activities to insure conservation of funds; and
WHEREAS, Iosco County has financially supported our medical care facility since inception, and, however, lack of adequate funds has forced the county to reduce financial support to the facility; and

WHEREAS, it is anticipated that rebasing will provide sufficient funding to insure continued operation of our medical care facility;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that under the provisions of the "State Plan Under Title XIX of the Social Security Act of the State of Michigan," it is requested that the Iosco County Medical Care Facility be re-based as soon as possible.

Supported by Ulman, and following a period of discussion, it was moved by Ulman and supported by George to amend the resolution by striking the third paragraph. Motion to amend carried.

The question was thereupon called on the resolution, as amended, and carried.

The following communications were read by the clerk:
A report from County Veterans' Counselor Sidney H. Teague updating his report of September 1, 1979, and a letter tendering his resignation from the post, effective January 1, 1980. Matter discussed at some length.

Letter received December 12, 1979, from Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Michigan relating to an adjustment to provide to active employees over 65 years of age, in compliance with the "Age Discrimination in Employment Act" (A. D. E. A.), the exact same benefits available to those under 65. Matter discussed briefly and referred to the insurance committee.

Commissioner Ulman presented and moved adoption of the following resolutions:
Your administrative committee recommends that:
WHEREAS, Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service agrees to support the cost of a half-time secretarial position for the district marine agent; and
WHEREAS, this support shall include the salary and all applicable fringe benefits, payable to the County of Iosco upon submission of itemized quarterly billings;
BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that the Iosco County Cooperative Extension Service be authorized to hire a clerk-typist for 20 hours per week, effective January 1, 1980 (approximate dollar amount-$4,900).
Supported by Stech and carried.

Your administrative committee recommends that Joan C. Arrington be appointed to fill the vacancy on the Iosco-Arenac Regional Library Board occasioned by the resignation of Ethel Coppler by letter of October 18, 1979, for the remainder of the term expiring April 15, 1983.
Supported by Stech and carried.

Your administrative committee recommends that Robert Brown, 2644 North US 23, Baldwin Township, be appointed to serve as county veterans' counselor for the year 1980.
Supported by Merschel, and following a period of discussion, the resolution and support were withdrawn.

It was moved by George and supported by Merschel that the resignation of Sidney Teague as county veterans' counselor be accepted, with regret, and that a letter expressing the board's appreciation of his dedication and service be sent to Mr. Teague. Motion carried.

Commissioner Merschel presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by George and carried.
Your building and grounds-insurance committee recommends that we continue workers' compensation insurance for 1980 with the Michigan State Accident Fund, through the Tawas Bay Agency, Inc., with the provision that study begin immediately on self-insurance plan to be presented on January 16, 1980.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving Memory of my husband, Ashton L. Harvey, who passed away nine years ago on January 19, 1971.

Days of sadness still come over me. Tears of sorrow often flow. For memories keep him ever near me though he died nine years ago. His patient face and gentle smile with sadness I recall. He had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all. Time may heal my sadness, smiles may hide my tears but all the memories remain forever through all the lonely years.

Sadly missed by wife,
Phyllis 4-1p

In loving memory of my Dad, Ashton L. Harvey, who passed away nine years ago on January 19, 1971.

Dad—I wanted so much to keep you. I watched you day by day. Until at last with breaking heart I saw you slip away. I feel so lost and lonely my heart heavy and sad, I've lost something precious to me, my sweet and gentle dad. The heartache doesn't heal with time or end with the end of day, because Dad, when God took you, part of me went too.

Sadly missed by daughter,

Health Systems Agency, advising that he was informed by Harry Baker, of that organization that the representatives on the board, to serve for not more than two 3-year terms; indicating that Robert Foster, of Oscoda, and Joseph Fox, of Tawas City, are the current representatives and that Foster is serving his second term. Stech expressed his opinion that the representatives on the E. C. M. H. S. A. Board should be from the board of commissioners, and further explained that committee members are appointed the first of each year, indicating that he has been serving on the E. M. S. (Emergency Medical Services) committee.

It was thereupon moved by Ulman and supported by Merschel that Commissioner Stech be re-appointed to the E. M. S. committee, of the East Central Michigan Health Systems Agency, Inc. Motion carried.

Finance Chairman George presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by Merschel and carried.

Your finance committee recommends that an independent certified public accountant be contracted to perform an audit of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds (as required by the Federal Revenue Sharing Act, as amended in 1976) for the year 1979, said audit or acceptable alternative to be completed before March 1, 1980.

Continuing, George presented the following report of minutes of the statutory finance committee meeting of December 20, 1979, moving its acceptance. Motion supported by Merschel and carried.

BE IT RESOLVED, that Commissioner James Stech be appointed as board representative to the Oscoda Township Special Planning Committee involving the economic future of the community in the event that Wurt-smith AFB should be discontinued at any future date.

Chairman Webb reported on having been informed by County Extension Director Susan Lambrecht that Doctor Al House, Michigan State Extension specialist on local government affairs, will be visiting the county on February 6th to talk with board members and department heads. Commissioner George thereupon explained Dr. House's function with Michigan State University.

Finance Chairman George presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by Ulman and carried.

Your finance committee recommends approval of the request submitted by County Treasurer Edward Nelkie, that he be given authorization to use his personal judgment in selecting a bank, or banks, located within Iosco County to use as a depository for all county funds. Further, that the same authorization be given for investing all county funds in local financial institutions. This authorization to be effective for 1980.

A brief recess was ordered by the chairman at 4:45 p. m. Upon call to order at 4:55 p. m., the matter of appointments to the county (elections) scheduling committee - provided by statute to be made at the first official meeting each year - was discussed, whereupon it was moved by Ulman and supported by Merschel to re-appoint the same members for the year 1980; namely, Clyde Soper, East Tawas city clerk; Edward Tate, Oscoda Township clerk; and Harvey Rasch, member of the Hale Area Schools Board of Education. Motion carried.

The matter of a replacement for recently-deceased Electrical Inspector Denzil Robinson was discussed briefly, it being proposed that the board withhold action for a time, as advertisements have been placed in area newspapers and there is no real problem at the present time, due to the lack of building activity.

Commissioner Stech reported on the membership composition of the East Central Michigan the firm closed its entire operation here. Rented to a new travel trailer firm established by former employees, the building was destroyed by fire in 1964.—Tawas Herald Photo.

system, which had been so popular during the days of brick trailer sales.

A one week strike closed the plant in September 1958, but it reopened when the men accepted a five-cent hourly increase in wages rather than to hold out for their 10-cent an hour demand. Negotiations started immediately on provisions of a new contract.

A depressed market continued to plague the mobile home business and the men asked the company to entirely eliminate the incentive bonus system. On Tuesday, August 4, 1959, the 90 hourly workers employed at the two plants walked off work, demanding an end to the bonus system, to be replaced by a 30-cent an hour across-the-board increase in wages and a base rate of $2.25 an hour.

A settlement was not reached until six months later Friday, January 29, 1960, when representatives of Local 2539, AFL-CIO, accepted the company's wage offer of a 10-cent hourly increase.

With no coaches available to its sales organization for one-half year and mobile home sales still depressed, the local industry was in serious trouble.

Production resumed on a backlog of orders, but in August 1961, the company announced plans to consolidate its manufacturing operations by closing its Plant One at East Tawas and move its production line to its Baldwin Township facilities.

In addition to improving its operation, the company hoped to reduce the overhead of maintaining two separate facilities, two miles apart.

James Guest, who had become company president several years earlier, explained, too, that the original building was limited in space. "We can no longer construct 55-foot coaches in a plant which was designed for 23-foot models. We have expanded this building to the very limit," he stated.

Closing of the East Tawas building meant the end of an industrial era which started in 1947 when the City of East Tawas provided a site for an industrial building next to its old sewage disposal plants.

The move was completed and company engineers immediately began plans for a camper-type coach, in addition to its regular line of coaches. Later, it was generally believed that production of campers probably would have saved the company, but the smaller units never went into production.

By 1962, the firm eliminated its former custom built coaches and standardized its new models, providing a 15 percent reduction in price to buyers. Donald Miller, sales manager, stated that the new concept would make Anderson Coach more competitive in the mobile home industry.

The firm never recovered its former position in the market and plans were announced in mid-February of 1963 to close the operation here, with its plant in Utah to continue production.

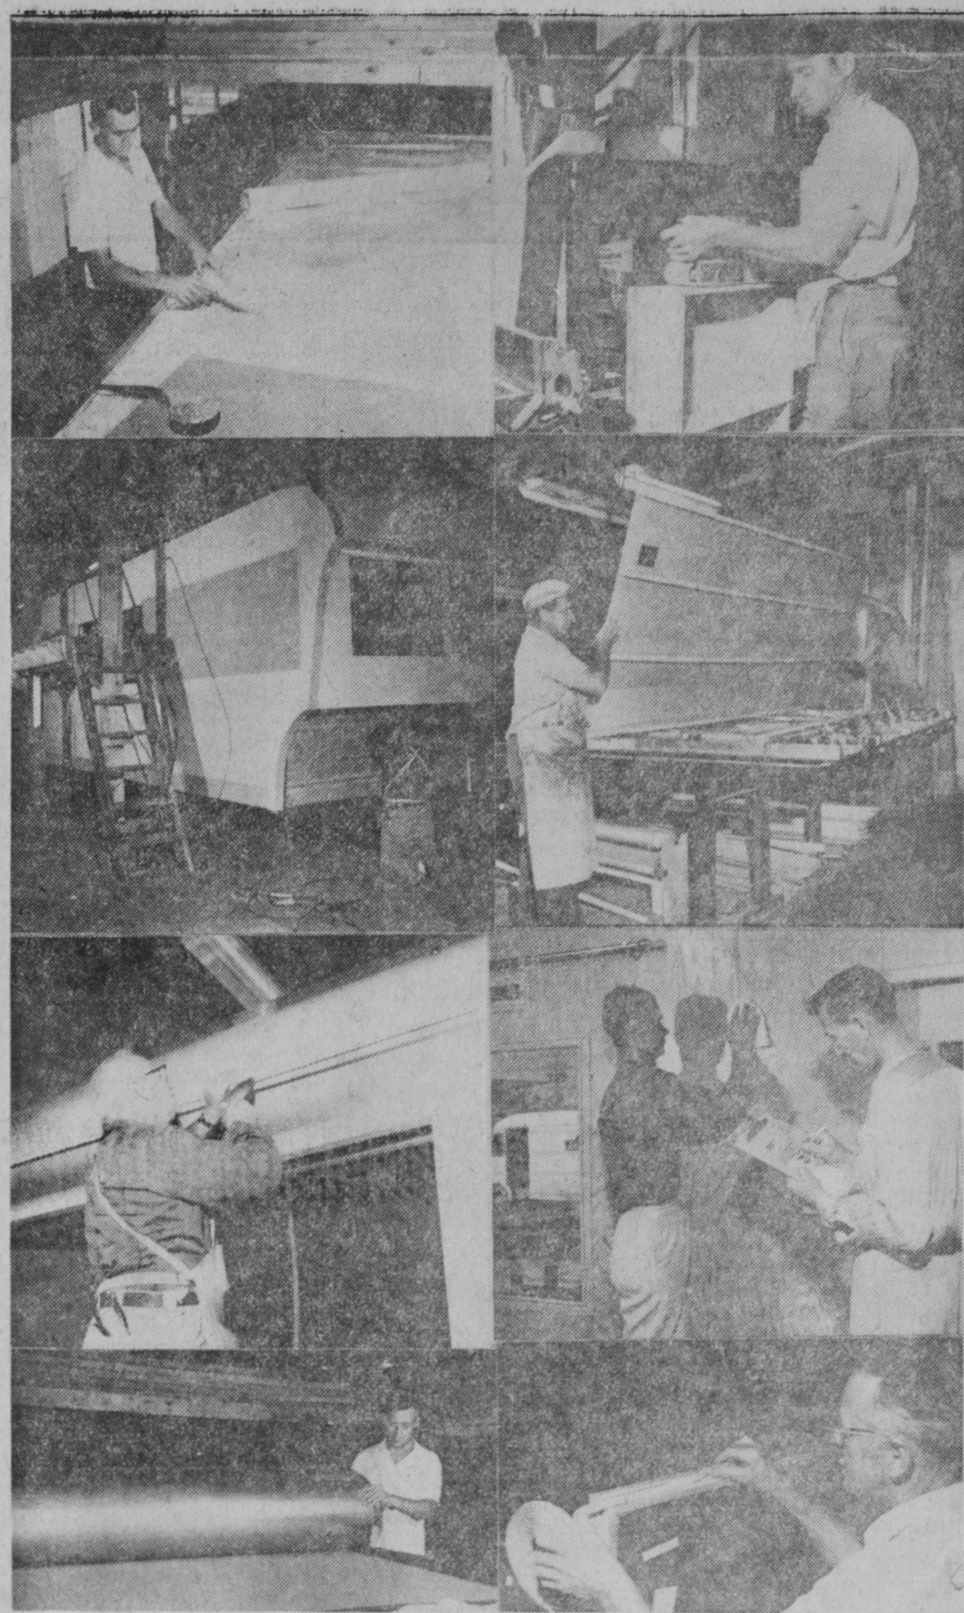

Closing of the plant caught the entire community somewhat by surprise, although there had been rumors to that effect during preceding months. Negotiations had been made to construct 300 prefabricated homes at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, but that contract was not received and one of the area's principal employers for nearly 16 years permanently closed its doors.

That closing was extremely painful to the community for Anderson Coach Company and its personnel had made a major contribution to the area. The firm's modern facilities had excellent equipment for mobile home production and its work force was highly skilled.

Former employees organized two different travel trailer firms in an attempt to take up some of the slack in lost employment. One firm, Tawas Trailers, Incorporated, manufacturer of Tawas Brave travel trailers, had moved into Plant One in September 1963. On Tuesday, October 13, 1964, the building was destroyed by fire.

A separate concrete block storage building escaped the flames and was later purchased by the City of East Tawas to be used as a city garage. That building was razed in 1979 to make way for the new boat launching ramp and parking facility constructed by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Many former employees of Anderson Coach Company have remained in the Tawas area—some entering business for
