Races for Iosco County Commission Featured

Races for four of the five seats on the Iosco County Board of Commissioners provides much of the excitement being generated for the August 5 primary election. Although unopposed in this election, the fifth commissioner will have a race in the November general election.

There is a two-way race for First District seat presently held by James F. Siech, who is opposed for the Republican nomination by John Landry. This district comprises a portion of Oscoda Township.

The Second District, comprising portions of Oscoda and AuSable Townships, finds David S. George, incumbent, being opposed by Daniel T. Myles for the Republican nomination.

Four candidates are seeking nomination to the Third District seat presently held by Carlton Merschel. Besides the incumbent, candidates include Dennis H. Cholger, David S. Dekker and Kenny A. Schaaf. The district comprises portions of AuSable and Baldwin Townships, Wilber Township and the City of East Tawas.

Marian Ulman is unopposed for renomination to the Fourth District seat as a Republican, while Boynton V. St. James is unopposed for the Democratic nomination. These two candidates are to meet in November. The district comprises Alabaster, Burleigh, Sherman and Tawas Townships, part of Baldwin Township, the Cities of Tawas City and Whittemore.

John D. Webb Jr., incumbent Fifth District commissioner, is opposed for the Republican nomination by Alfred Baker. This district comprises the Townships of Plainfield, Grant and Reno, along with the western half of Oscoda Township.

et. Robert A. Smarr, Democrat, filed for supervisor. Unopposed Republican officers seeking renomination are Robert K. Foster, supervisor; Edward J. Tate, clerk; Maxine F. Bissonette, treasurer. A special township proposal asks voters to increase the tax rate limitation and to levy .175 mills for 20 years for the purpose of providing services for senior citizens.

A hot primary election is in store for Plainfield Township, which will also have contests in the November general election. Ray Kesler is a candidate on the Republican Ticket for supervisor and Richard J. Rathburn is a Democratic candidate for that office. Shirley J. Carter and Betty Timmer are Democratic candidates for township clerk, while Onylea K. Armstead and Barbara Malcho are Democratic candidates for treasurer. No candidate filed for township clerk on the Republican Ticket, but Evelyn I. Moore is a candidate for treasurer on the Republican Ticket. Four Democratic candidates filed for the two trustee vacancies including William F. Clark, Richard F. Dobson, Eugene L. Martin and Albert L. Preetz. Republican candidates for trustee are Frances Hansen, Doris J. Ronchetto and Perry Shellenbarger.

Dr. Edwin B. Cavell is being opposed by Kurt Eric Kuhl for

Contests at Township Level of Added Interest to Election

Six of Iosco County's 11 townships have races for township offices in the August 5 primary election. Three townships are seeking approval of special tax levies for township purposes.

There is a three-way race for supervisor of AuSable Township. Candidates include Raymond Andrus, Eve Bassham and Calvin McLaren, all Republicans. Two trustees are to be picked from a field of four candidates for township trustee, including Eileen P. Hall, Rhea Mathews, Nellie McNeill and Marguerite Shellenbarger. Richard E. Ferree and Roberta LaFave are candidates for township treasurer, while Della Schweickert is unopposed for clerk. Rose Raynak seeks the Democratic nomination for township treasurer. A special proposition seeks to increase the tax rate limitation and a tax levy of .175 mills for 20 years for the purpose of providing services for senior citizens.

Three contests are listed on the Republican Ticket in Baldwin Township. Peter A. Lichtfusz and Floyd W. Peters are candidates for supervisor, Thelma S. Allen and Joyce A. Kleon are candidates for treasurer and Frieda Rempert, clerk, is unopposed. Two trustees are to be selected from a field of three candidates, including Alen C. Anschuetz, Frederick M. Francis Sr. and George F. Rieth Jr.

James R. Estes is unopposed for the Republican nomination of supervisor in Burleigh Township and Sharron Ott is unopposed for the Republican nomination as treasurer. James E. Belson and Darrell Colvin are Republican candidates for clerk, while Leona Chipps, Richard Colvin, Charles H. Reed and Lillian White are Republican candidates for two trustee seats. Robert H. Bero is unopposed for the Democratic nomination as supervisor.

Five candidates have filed for four trustee posts on the Republican Ticket in Oscoda Township. Candidates are William C. Christman, Charlton Lee, William L. Stone, Steven Peterson and Delphine A. Weisl. Gerald L. Kerentoff filed for trustee on the Democratic Ticket.

Union Pickets Work Site

Work was stopped temporarily Tuesday morning on construction of Bay Park Tower-North, East Tawas, when a picket line was established by union electricians protesting the use of nonunion electricians on the job hired by Taume Electric Company of Gladwin, contractor for the project.

Other trade union employees on the project apparently honored the picket line as work came to a standstill. Progress on constructing the five-story building to house elderly persons has been at or exceeded the planned schedule.

Unopposed candidates in Reno Township are Terry A. Bellville, supervisor; Leonard Robinson, clerk; Winona Redmond, treasurer; Eilert J. Barnes and James Lyle Robinson, trustees. JoAnn Busch, candidate for Sherman Township supervisor, is the lone Republican running for office in that unit. Democratic candidates are Harold A. Parent, clerk; Harvey E. Smith, treasurer; Leonard G. Cole and Michael J. Jordan, trustees. No Democrat filed for supervisor.

No candidates are listed on the ballot for Tawas Township supervisor, although Stuart H. (Sam) Hutchings is a sticker or write-in candidate on the Republican Ticket to replace Sup. LaVerne Koepke, who retires at the end of the year. Other Republican candidates are Betty L. Look, clerk; Irene Hughes, treasurer; Robert Grabow and Merlin Look, trustees.

Primary Election Tuesday, August 5

Races at the congressional, legislative, county and township levels—coupled with two county propositions and at least one township proposal—ensures plenty of local interest in the primary election to be held Tuesday, August 5.

Despite a great deal of thought and past experience by the state election commission, some ballots will be voided as the voter did not heed instructions printed at the top of the sheet. There are Democratic Party, Republican Party and party qualification sections on the ballot and ballots will be rejected if the voter places his "X" in more than one section.

The principal race at the county level is for the nomination of sheriff on the Republican Party, where George W. Westcott seeks nomination to his third term as sheriff. He is being opposed by Robert A. Buyse.

The successful candidate will meet George E. Naumowicz, who is the candidate on the Democratic Party.

At the congressional level, three candidates are listed for the 11th District seat in the House of Representatives in the Democratic Party. They are Ted Albert, Dan Dorrity and Herbert M. Stephens. The successful candidate will oppose Robert Davis, Republican incumbent, in the November general election.

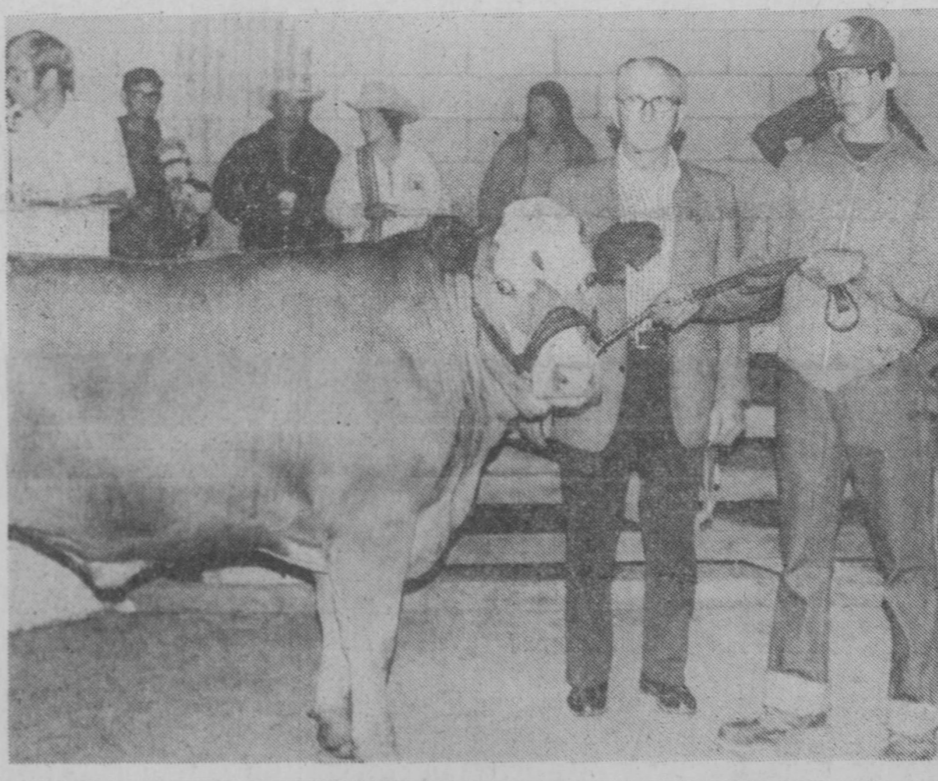

Zeb Oliver of Prescott and C. Warren Wagner of Whitney Township seek nomination on the Republican Party for the 16th District seat in the Michigan House of Representatives. The successful candidate will oppose Tom Alley of West Branch, Democratic Party incumbent, in the general election.

Unopposed Republican incumbents at the county level are Stephen H. Naegele, prosecuting attorney; D. Keith Papas, clerk; Edward J. Nelkie, treasurer; Leon Putnam, register of deeds; Harry G. Krueger, drain commissioner.

Walter Schultz, seeking nomination as prosecuting attorney, is the only other Democratic candidate besides Naumowicz.

WITH MARKET PRICES moving upward, there were fewer cattle than usual sold during the Iosco County Fair's 4-H and FFA livestock sale, but animals exhibited and sold were of the highest quality. Prices paid for beef did not reach the record high established during the past two years, but the grand champion Simmental-Angus owned by Rod Perrin, top photo, was sold to Audrey Kocher, top right, for $1.50 per pound. The reserve champion, a Simmental-Hereford owned by Darrel Robinson, was sold to Farmers and Merchants State Bank, Carl Adams, center, lower picture, entering the winning bid. Both animals entered by the young stock raisers weighed 1,040 pounds each.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Two Proposals for Iosco Voters

Two special propositions are to be decided by Iosco County voters at the Tuesday, August 5, primary election.

Proposition "C" asks a tax levy of .5 mills (50 cents per $1,000 state equalized valuation) for four years for the purpose of financing operation and maintenance of the Iosco County Medical Care Facility.

Proposition "D" asks renewal of a .2-mill tax levy (20 cents per $1,000 state equalized valuation) for an additional six years for the purpose of maintaining and expanding services for older citizens authorized by Act 39 of the Public Acts of 1976.

Two questions are listed on each proposal, the first asking authorization to increase the tax rate and the second to levy the ad valorem tax.

Although technically not a renewal of a tax, the first proposal placed before voters by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners asks voters to approve an operational and maintenance tax for the medical care facility which was partially financed through a debt retirement tax approved by voters 15 years ago. The debt for constructing the facility has been retired and that tax is no longer levied.

Because of the increased cost of operating the medical care facility during the past decade, the county's general fund is no longer capable of financing Iosco's share of the facility's total operational cost.

The .5-mill levy would raise $115,000 annually for a period of four years and that amount coincides with the deficit expected in the medical care facility's budget for 1980.

The measure has the support of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners and the Iosco County Department of Social Services, which has charge of overall administration of the facility.

A favorable vote would guarantee continued operation of the county's nursing home facility on Plank Road.

The second proposal, sponsored by the Iosco County Commission on Aging, helps to finance senior citizens drop-in centers in the county as well as financing services for older citizens of the county. The current levy expires with the 1980 tax and this proposal seeks renewal of the tax from 1981 through 1986.

(Two letters to the editor concerning the medical care facility proposal are printed on another page of this newspaper.)

TA Board Activities Center Around Opening of Term

Initial preparations for the start of a new school term in September were taken Monday night by Tawas Area Board of Education with review of the 1981 student handbook and acceptance of bids on milk, bread and garbage removal.

In addition, the board awarded a contract for upgrading heating plant controls in an energy conservation proposal at the high school.

A general discussion was held on amendments proposed to the student handbook by Charles Reddick, assistant high school principal. The proposal is to be reviewed by the board of education for action at the next meeting.

Reddick's brief review of the changes included the provision that students who have failed a required course must repeat and pass the entire course for credit; in order to graduate, a student must pass six semesters of English, one year each of government, United States History, science, mathematics and two semesters of physical education.

Another proposed change states that any locks used on a locker must be one that is key controlled. These locks are sold at the high school office. Any other type of lock will be removed from the locker. Lockers must be cleaned out before last day of school. Anything left home, the student must use the phone in the office. School per day will be disposed of by the school.

Another change is that if a student wishes to sign out to go home, the student must use the phone in the office. School per day will be disposed of by the school.

Political Signs Attached to Power Poles are Prohibited

Attaching political or other signs to poles that carry electricity violates laws in many communities and endangers electric linemen, J. E. Wessels, district manager of Consumers Power Company, said recently.

"As the political campaign of 1980 heats up, we have noticed that more and more political signs are being fastened to our electric distribution poles," Wessels said.

"Some communities in this area have ordinances making that illegal. But beyond that, attaching signs poses a threat to the safety of our linemen."

"We use bucket trucks more now to work on lines, but we still must climb poles under certain circumstances. If a lineman's climbing gear strikes a nail or other piece of metal that was used to attach a sign, he can be misled into thinking his spike is set firmly into the pole. This could result in what we call a 'cutout' and the lineman might fall, with serious injury or worse," Wessels said.

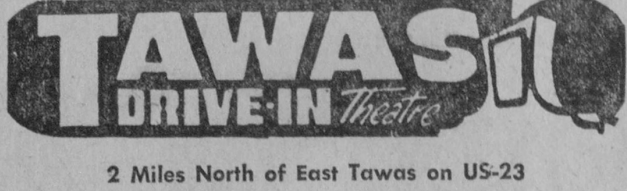

The same danger exists from the posting of signs for garage sales, auctions or other purposes, he added.

"Please remember that our poles are private property and that they serve the general public," Wessels said. "Using them for political purposes violates company policy and could result in a fine if the community has a law against this. But beyond that, the danger to our linemen is of greater concern."

A State law also prohibits posting of signs on utility poles within state highway rights of way, he said.

If a student is dropped from a class for any reason, the student would lose credit for that class; school hours start at the time a student arrives on school property...

In the section under unacceptable behavior by students, a new provision reads: "According to school board policy, any teacher, principal or superintendent may use physical force as is necessary on the person of any pupil for the purpose of maintaining proper discipline over the pupils in attendance at any school..."

Failure to respond or carry out a reasonable request by a staff member is termed insubordination and would result in after school detention. Another new policy under unacceptable behavior deals with students leaving school without permission...

Cheerleaders were added to the list of varsity athletic competition for girls. Added to the training code for athletics is no use of any illegal drugs. Students must be in attendance the entire school day in order to participate in practices or games scheduled for that day...

Schaffer Bakery was awarded a contract to provide baked goods for the school year. Price increases over the previous year ranged from two cents to four cents per loaf of bread or package of rolls.

London's Farm Dairy and Wilson Dairy entered milk bids. The latter bid was low, but in addition to the general statement to the effect that the contract was not binding if there is a general increase in the cost of raw milk, the statement was expanded to include other costs. The board of education wished to receive further clarification before taking action.

A three-year contract was awarded to Hager Sanitation for garbage removal at $275 per month. The district now pays $280 per month under a two-year contract which has expired.

A report from Supt. Allan Dighera stated that the hot lunch program broke even last term. The budget shows an actual surplus of $3,000, but payment of retirement to persons in that department from the general fund amounted to $3,000.

Authorization was given to purchase a new oven for the East Tawas Elementary Unit under a state-federal rebate program. The district is to be reimbursed 75 percent of the $3,160 purchase cost.

Resignations from staff members included letters from Ann Blonde and Suzanne Weaver.

Johnson Controls of Saginaw was awarded a contract to replace thermostats and to calibrate the heating system in the high school. The firm's bid was $8,995. A second bid was received from the Honeywell Corporation of $14,531.

Arrested on Larceny Charge

Three Hale area men were arrested Thursday by Iosco County Sheriff's Department and charged with breaking and entering an unoccupied building. Arrested were Richard L. Desmons, Wayne K. Leamon and Robert R. Michalski.

They were charged with the theft of 26 electric motors taken from a barn owned by John Riggs, M-65, Hale. The motors were recovered at a salvage yard.

Other larcenies reported to the sheriff's department included: Lisa Smith, Tawas City, stolen bicycle; Hackett's Cycle Shop, Oscoda, theft of a motorcycle, generator and two chain saws; William Hurst, Tawas City, theft of fishing equipment and gasoline can from boat anchored in the Tawas River.

Student Appeal Hearings Held

Action by Tawas Area Board of Education Monday night saw one student being placed under contract in order to remain in school next term and two students were expelled.

Following executive hearings with students, those expelled for major infractions were given the option to reapply to the board of education after one year.

Advance planning on topics to be discussed at the August 11 meeting included a review of bids on milk prices, a report from the athletic director, second review of board policies and a hearing on a student appeal concerning expulsion.

Knowing the thanklessness that goes with the job of being a police officer, I wish to take this opportunity to thank your department on behalf of my family and myself...

We called upon your department because of a crime of extremely serious but of a delicate nature and your officers were there immediately.

As a retired Detroit Police Officer of twenty-five (25) years, I feel I have very high standards and expectations of what a police officer should and should not do and be. In the course of responding to our need, I feel all officers involved in this matter, not only met my expectations, but exceeded them...

We feel the professional action of the officers involved is a reflection of the standards of the entire department and of the quality of your leadership. We wish a copy of this letter placed in the files of each officer involved.

Class of 1970 Held Reunion

Fifty members of the class of 1970, Tawas Area High School held a reunion at the American Legion Hall, Tawas City, Saturday, July 26. Thirty-five spouses and guests were also present for a catered dinner and dancing.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white sheer knit gown styled with long slender sleeves, Queen Anne neckline and Empire waistline. The demibell skirt featured knife pleats. Venice lace adorned the bodice and sleeves. A Watteau train complemented the gown and a Camelot cap secured an imported illusion veil. Rhododendron and silk pink blossoms comprised her bouquet.

Joyce Allen of Flint, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Barbara Jackson, bridesmaid, with Dawn Olmsted, junior bridesmaid. The attendants wore pink floral cotton polyester gowns featuring three-tier gathered skirts with lace trim and wide elbow-length sleeves and sweetheart neckline. The junior attendant was attired in a loose fitting gown with flared skirt of the same floral print as the other attendants. They carried arm bouquets of silk rhododendron and white wild flowers.

Attending the bridegroom were his brother, Mark LaDrig, best man, and Larry Moore of Flint. Ring bearer was Jaime Olmsted. Jeffrey Hunt seated guests.

A reception for 150 guests from Saginaw, Burton, Lansing, Texas and South Carolina was held at the church's social center following the marriage.

Pine Lake Day Camp Activities Set

If Daisy Low could peek in on what is going on in scouting today, she would be pleased. The founder of the Girl Scouts of America believed that outdoor camping helps build finer girls. Even with the pull of television and the hustle and bustle of city life, today's kids love to get outdoors and rough it.

Pine Lake Day Camp will be held Monday-Friday, August 11-15. Activities will include cooking, crafts, archery, nature hikes, camping skills, music and outdoor recreation. Any presently registered girl scout including brownies and non-scouts of second grade or above may attend.

Camp will be in session from 9:00 a. m. until 3:30 p. m. Campers may stay all night on Thursday of camp week.

Individuals looking for something to do this summer may consult the camp director, Patricia Shotwell, 362-8186.

Dar Davis Named Art Judge for 20th Waterfront Show

Tawas Bay Artists are staging the 20th annual Waterfront Arts and Crafts Show in the Tawas City Park and Isosco County Building Saturday and Sunday, August 2-3. One of the oldest and largest art festivals in Northeastern Michigan, applications are over the 200 mark with a variety of paintings in oils, water colors and acrylics, pottery, weaving, stained glass, wood carvings, sculpture, jewelry and photography.

This year, Tawas Bay Artists have selected Dar Davis as the judge of the show. Davis, currently director of the Battle Creek Art Center, holds bachelor and master degrees in art education from Michigan State University and has three years teaching experience. He was coordinator for the Michigan Art Fair, past president of the Michigan Museums Association, past chairman of the museums panel of the Michigan Council for the Arts and director of the Saginaw Art Museum. A native son of Michigan, he is working through the Battle Creek Art Center to aid in the development of a permanent collection of the works of major Michigan artists.

The show opens from 9:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. Saturday and 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Sunday. The park along beautiful Tawas Bay makes a delightful setting for the festive occasion. Visitors are welcome to enjoy a full day of browsing and perhaps some shopping.

State's New Historical Museum Offers Unique View of Michigan

Michigan's new historical museum, across from the State Capitol in Lansing, offers visitors a unique view of Michigan's past on the "Walk Through Time Line."

This time line, a chronological arrangement of photographs, artifacts and drawings, takes visitors from the present, back through Michigan's history to the glacial ages. Visitors view development of the automobile, logging, pharmaceutical furniture and breakfast food industries. The Civil War, the Revolution, fur trappers, French voyageurs, British, Indians and early settlers are all represented in photos and artifacts.

Many exhibits, including an early typewriter, a Michigan seal, wood planes, telephones and household appliances are displayed so visitors may try their hand at actual operation. Exhibits are periodically rotated from the Department of State bank of more than 30,000 artifacts, now stored in Lansing. In addition, every half hour a slide and sound presentation entitled "The Promise of Michigan" is shown in the museum's 60-seat mini-theatre.

According to Richard H. Austin, secretary of state, the time line provides an easily-understandable and interesting view of the state's past, particularly for young students. The historical museum is operated by the History Division, Department of State.

Located at 208 North Capitol Avenue, Lansing (Mutual Building), the museum is open from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., Monday through Friday and 12 noon to 4:30 p. m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free.

Two - Day Conference at Detroit Focuses on Energy-Related Problems

Energy being a concern at the international, national, state and local levels, a two-day conference Thursday and Friday, August 14-15, at the Detroit Plaza, will focus on ways that local governmental units can deal with energy-related concerns.

The energy management institute for local governments will include both general and national energy agencies and how-to workshops which will focus on specific local needs.

Peter Walters from the Michigan Department of Commerce/Energy Administration will outline the Michigan energy situation. Keynote address will be given by Richard Stone of the United States Department of Energy. Other general sessions include municipal energy plan by Ann Arbor Mayor Louis D. Belcher and national energy planning from the ground up by James Benson from the Institute for Ecological Policies.

Twenty-eight different workshop sessions will be offered during the two days. Topics include solar feasibility studies, earth sheltered housing, wood energy, energy budgeting, bicycles, gasohol, county energy planning and many others. Each participant may attend four workshop sessions. Conference sponsors include lent weather, but rain canceled harness racing Saturday afternoon and caused a reduction in the number of visitors to the midway.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Michigan Department of Commerce/Energy Administration, Governor's Energy Awareness Advisory Committee, Michigan Association of Regions, Michigan Township Association, Michigan Municipal League and Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service. Copies of the program and registration materials are available from Isosco County Cooperative Extension Service, 362-3449.

Anything About Old Age Pensions?

ADOPTION of an old age pension was an issue debated in congress and state legislatures, as well as in newspaper letters to the editor columns, during the Great Depression.

This editorial cartoon appeared in a January 1933 issue of The Tawas Herald. The state legislature adopted a head tax that year to finance an old age pension law.

In 1934, during the depth of the Great Depression, Michigan cast out in many directions to find an answer to relieve the burdens of its financially-strapped and unemployed citizens.

For example, County Clerk Frank E. Dease of Isosco received a letter from a group of jobless Detroiters who were considering the establishment of an agricultural community in this county to be run on a co-operative basis.

Today, that idea would be called a commune. The unemployed Detroit citizens, who had left farms several years earlier, had hoped to cooperate with each other in growing small fruits and garden vegetables. If they did so, it was in some other county as nothing further ever appeared in this newspaper concerning the proposal.

The state legislature took a more direct approach by proposing a $37,874,458 general obligation bond issue to the voters. Another head tax was also proposed, both of which were debated furiously on the streets and in the columns of the newspapers.

In its declaration of policy, wording of the proposed bond issue stated that "unprecedented economic dislocation, resulting from a financial and industrial depression, occasioning widespread unemployment, loss of savings, of homes and of farms, and a general suffering, destitution and discontent, is causing a state of threatened unrest and disorder in the State of Michigan."

Proponents of the bond issue were of the opinion that the condition could best be suppressed and prevented by removing the cause of its existence—widespread unemployment. It was proposed to use money from the bond issue to finance a massive public works program in the state.

Isosco County, in May 1934, voted more than six to one against the proposal, showing a slightly more vigorous opposition than the average of the state, which voted five to one against the measure.

Another proposal, which was enacted by the legislature, was debated furiously in the letters to the editor column of The Tawas Herald and was bitterly criticized throughout the state. This was the so-called "Head Tax" which was borne by property owners and established the state's first old age pension fund.

To one Tawas Township farmer, Henry Anschuetz, it was a "headache tax;" to another letter writer, signed only by the initials, J. E. C., it was christened an "honor tax." Their letters were of interest to every taxpayer.

"A discussion of this tax may be heard on any street corner," reported Herald Editor P. N. Thornton on February 9, 1934.

"Some would pension all citizens above the age of 70 years; others think that $3,500 is too high for the property limitation of the pensioners, as made in the new law, and that too many would be eligible; many do not favor an old age pension at all and insist that our present poor commission and county infirmary are sufficient—all look with more or less disfavor upon taxes in general, but especially a new one."

"Headache tax" would be a more appropriate name, as it has caused a good many headaches and has brought no relief to anybody in need," wrote Anschuetz.

"The general understanding of the people was that all persons who had passed the 70-year mark would be entitled to an old age pension if their condition proved that they were in dire need and unable to earn a living. Any law is supposed to serve a certain purpose. This tax so levied to provide for the aged is all on one side like the handle of a jug. If the relatives must provide and care for their aged parents, then we do not need that law at all. If this head tax is not to be used for the purpose for which it was intended, what sense is there in paying said tax? Let the people protest and that law will die a natural and peaceful death."

The writer of one letter, signing only with his initials, believed the law should be amended so that taxes would be more evenly distributed. "Call it a personal or 'honor tax' to be paid by all persons, male or female, between the ages of, say, 21 and 50 years who do not pay a real property tax and let this tax be for educational purposes for the benefit of our public school system."

The letter writer said that "times and circumstances have so changed that to a large number of persons, it seems advisable to get along without holding taxable property." He proposed an annual tax of $2 on every person in the state of legal voting age. "Now I hear someone say, 'You are talking as though we were living in normal times.' Normal times are the times we must talk of and try to prepare for, in order to assist in bringing them about."

Letter writer JEC also objected to the old age pension law as only the indigent poor could receive a pension. "Perhaps a system of old age insurance might be worked out, with the government acting as a liberal benevolent insurance company, helping those in need and in a way giving them a chance to help themselves where possible to do so," suggested JEC.

Another person, whose letter appeared the following week under the signature of JS, (See PENSIONS, page 3.)

FOR YEARS, some conservatives were vehemently opposed to the Social Security Act of 1935, claiming, among other things, that the act depersonalized beneficiaries and threatened individualism. The ordinary citizen was seen as a number in the eyes of the government in this newspaper cartoon. Social Security has proven to be a workable program, although financing is becoming a serious problem despite increased costs to wage earners.

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

The Herald editor has a distaste for "election eve" endorsements or, on the other hand, discrediting statements...

His presence is like a mighty bridge spanning a vast chasm. The herald of the Christian Gospel is sent to tell us that whatever others may think about us, or whatever we may think about ourselves, the Lord Jesus Christ knows our glorious potential...

That editorial comment may not have been necessary, but the publishers felt it was time to say something because many people did not know the truth of the matter.

One of the concerns expressed by the editor during the past two years has been the lack of cooperation between some elected department heads and the county board of commissioners...

The Herald has sermonized a couple of times about the need for cooperation and understanding between our local officials, believing that all on the public payroll are working for the people.

other counties are having with coordinators.

In our view, the subject at hand is not the matter of a county coordinator but of electing five county commissioners to represent the people.

(Read John 1:35-42) "Jesus looked at him, and said, 'So you are Simon the son of John? You shall be called Cephas' (which means Peter)." (John 1:42 RSV)

You are! You shall be! The actual and the possible. Realism and idealism. What is and what ought to be. And between the two, the Lord Jesus Christ.

PRAYER Christ, give us honesty to look at ourselves as we really are, with our weaknesses but also with our strengths. Give us vision to see our potential, and courage to pursue it, that we may be all you have created us to be.

Pensions

agreed with the other letter writers and stated: "It seems to me that the big question now is relief and not more taxation upon those who are least able to pay. Some such law, when we are back on our feet and people can get money to pay, might be a good thing. It does not seem sensible to start such a thing now when everybody is down and out. Anyway, the man over 70 is no worse off than those under that age where the circumstances correspond."

Two weeks later, E. H. Myroace's letter to the Herald editor stated: "The old age pension tax is more of a mental hazard than a financial one and I, for one, think it is a fair and legitimate tax. We are in a new era. Never before have we looked forward to our own futures. If we will look back five years we can see what this would mean to us now."

Stating that he considered himself neither a Republican nor a Democrat, Myroace said, "We read in the papers about graft and scandals. Still, we want to return to old methods, when the president (Roosevelt) and governor (Comstock) want to pull us out of a rut."

Another letter from Anschuetz pointed out one shortcoming of the head tax. "All laws," he said, "must be based on common sense and justice. The man who had been walking the street and could get no employment is placed on an equal basis with the millionaire—the farmer who produced crops for over three years below the cost of production and is now facing bankruptcy, must pay an equal amount with the wealthy manufacturer."

Anschuetz was of the opinion that correcting mismanagement at the University of Michigan—as shown by State Rep. Fred C. Holbeck—would eliminate the need for a head tax. "We are told that the deadline drawn to pay the head tax is March 1; if we need a head tax then let the people decide it by a vote. When an extension was granted for payment of delinquent taxes up to September 1935, that was good common sense. Now give the people a chance to benefit by it. When taxes were reduced to $15 per $1,000 valuation (15-mil limitation), that relieved real estate; then the sales tax was enacted. What did we gain?"

The debate in the letters to the editor column came to an end early in March 1934. The front page of the newspaper told another story of CWA sewer construction projects in Tawas City, new farm credit bonds guaranteed by the federal government, and a bond issue by local voters to finance construction of sewers under CWA, later WPA, to help get men off the unemployment rolls.

Beneficiaries of the bitterly criticized old age pension, first enacted in 1934, began receiving their pension checks in April. Disbursements were made in counties which paid the highest percentages in the head tax levy and payments were cut to the minimum so as to reach the greatest number of needy. Over $250,000 had been collected and nearly 40,000 applications were on file.

Headlines in the newspaper later in 1934 declared that a crackdown was being made on relief chiselers; the time of relief workers was cut in November; the Federal Housing Administration announced a plan to aid recovery through construction of better housing; there was a movement to cut the gasoline tax, which financed roads; business leaders of the country meeting in conference drew up a long list of things they wanted the government to do or not to do.

The turmoil fostered by the Great Depression, its ups and downs in employment, was to last until the dawn of a new decade. Numerous schemes at the federal and state levels to put men back to work were tried—some succeeded—but the start of a European war actually coincided with the start of recovery in this nation, when factories steamed up and men went back to work.

The holocaust of World War II may have been the savior to some, but the national debt it contributed planted the seeds for the present economic turmoil in this country. Times really have not changed all that much since the days when citizens were debating a head tax in the columns of this newspaper. It can only be hoped that the depth of the current recession will not reach that of 46 years ago.

Iosco County District 3 Voters Why We Should KEEP Carlton Merschel working for us on the Board of Commissioners

He has 8 years experience in county government and believes in and is strongly committed to:

1. Sound financial management policies—getting the most for our tax dollars.
2. The Medical Care Facility. This important institution MUST be maintained as an on-going service to our people without fear that it may have to be "abandoned" or otherwise disposed of. This can be done well within our ability.
3. Job and business related programs to provide good industrial and business climate.
4. Senior Citizen Programs. Helping wherever and when ever possible to enrich the retirement years.
5. Protection of property and rights of all citizens. To this end our law enforcement agencies such as sheriff department, courts, etc. must be maintained at a proper and adequate level.
6. Listening to the people and being willing, when necessary, to fight for what he thinks is right.

The taxpayers of our community are now faced with a millage proposal for the purpose of financing the needs of the Iosco County Medical Care Facility.

I can see no way that we, the taxpayers of Iosco County, can allow this very necessary medical facility to close its doors when time and again the desperate need for this facility has been demonstrated to us. We never know when an accident or illness could strike us or a member of our family requiring that we have rehabilitative care.

Some in our community believe that the Iosco Medical Care Facility is only for the elderly citizens in need of nursing care. This is definitely not so. Accidents can occur to the young as well as the old, and this facility which was built and paid for with county and federal funds simply cannot discriminate in view of age, color or creed.

Just think for a moment. If we didn't have this skilled nursing facility here in Tawas City, where would we take patients who require additional skilled nursing care and rehabilitation? The closest skilled nursing facility which provides the same type of care, I believe, is in Alpena or Bay City. A little mental arithmetic tells us that with gasoline above the $1.25 per gallon price, the cost of visiting a loved one 2 or 3 times a week would indeed be felt financially by the majority of families.

About three years ago, there was some controversy about whether or not this community could fully utilize both the Provincial House and the Iosco Medical Care Facility in view of the population of this area. At this time, both of these facilities are full and both have a waiting list. There are 120 beds at the Provincial House and 64 beds at the Medical Care Facility. Who would have thought a few years ago, that this area would require so many spaces for people who were ill?

On August 5, we are going to have the opportunity to vote for or against the one-half mill proposed for the operation of the Iosco County Medical Care Facility for the next four years. Personally, I would hate to see those 88 loyal employees attempt to find employment in this area, with so many of our community members being unemployed at this time. I would also regret seeing 64 patients relocated to other nursing homes somewhere between Alpena and Bay City. It is my understanding that nursing homes in Standish, West Branch, Rose City and Harrisville are all full and have waiting lists, too. I can't imagine any reason why we should lose our medical care facility at this time.

In conclusion, let me say that I feel that the employees at the Medical Care Facility are all working at the task the Lord wanted us all to do, to take care of the sick, the poor, the blind and the maimed. I firmly believe that we, the taxpayers of Iosco County, should allow this facility to continue to do the will of the Lord. We should all think twice about this issue on election day and remember to vote yes twice on your ballot on August 5.

My appreciation to you who are concerned.
Sincerely,
Carroll Symons

CITIZENS OF IOSCO:

I wish to express appreciation for the confidence you have shown for the past 20 years. It has been a pleasure to serve and be a member of the community.

My present step is a first into the "snow bird" phase of our lives. Betty and I plan to spend many more summers in Tawas. I feel obligated to share with you a serious concern for the county:

No one would suggest running the school without a superintendent.

No one would suggest running the road commission without an engineer.

No one would suggest running the medical care facility without an executive—and so on.

Yet, the largest entity of all—the county—has no one person in an executive capacity! We have five well-intentioned persons, all part-time and with other principal interests, trying to operate the county. We have a very bad situation. It is part of the reason I am leaving.

How did this happen?

There was a time when the large board of supervisors met four times a year and each county officer ran his or her department as an executive. The county was well managed. The people elected the various county officers and held them responsible. BUT THIS HAS CHANGED. Each session of the legislature for a decade has enacted one law or another transferring authority away from the county officers and to the board. The result is today's headless "monster"—for want of a better term.

My other counties and several neighboring counties' even smaller than Iosco, have created "county coordinators" or some person to give continuity to county policies. A person the board selects and who has the board's confidence—not necessarily a full-fledged "county manager." The counties that have adopted some form of executive have done a much better job of governing. Until our board decides to act as a basic policy maker and leaves day to day decision making to some one official, Iosco is in trouble.

Let me cite a typical example of the lack of continuity resulting from the part-time, five-headed county commission government.

A couple of years ago, the board and sheriff received a directive from the federal court apparently requiring a $10,000 law library for the county jail inmates. The board was wondering how to come up with the money. I worked out with the sheriff a new jail rule permitting inmates to use our general law library on request and my bailiff supervised. We only had to buy one or two books. But what happened this year? The board—after telling me not to include library and jury commission in my budget—forgot about both! We are now flirting with trouble on the federal directive, but equally bad we are interfering with the efficiency of the prosecutor, the county civil lawyer and judges. Furthermore, some court-appointed lawyer for an indigent will find it necessary to travel to Bay City to do research and that will really cost. This is just one small example of the real cost of lack of continuity.

There was nothing intentional. Just the result of having no one in the position of full-time quasi-executive capacity. I could go on and on detailing the "penny-wise, dollar-foolish" failures. The breakdown of the computer for failure to get the air conditioning that everyone told the board a computer required is another. No amount of cost cutting can make up for big boners!

Marian Ulman has done a great job of smoothing over troubled waters. James Stech approaches the job as was originally intended—a part-time policy maker. The other three are endeavoring to run day to day operations and failing. Mr. Webb's personality has made any contact with the board unpleasant. He honestly feels he is guardian of the county coffers, but in truth he has cost the county dearly.

I know it would be wiser from a personal viewpoint not to write this letter, but I have served without fear of self for 20 years and I feel I owe this to you, fellow citizens, to weigh in your collective good judgment.

Sincerely,
Allan C. Miller
Circuit Judge

Editor:

The Iosco County Medical Care Facility needs our help. We have always, one way or another, provided a form of relief or aid to people who needed it.

Briefly, I would like to go back to around the beginning of Iosco County; say about 100 years ago. For many years, the county, through the board of supervisors, maintained what was known as a "Poor Farm" where the aged, ill and other unfortunate were cared for. This went on until some time in the 1950s.

For the period between that of the "poor farm" and our present Medical Care Facility (about 10 years), this service to the indigent, aged and other was provided on a contract basis with institutions located in other counties, such as Bay and Midland with our county paying the bill. This went on until 1965, when our present Medical Care Facility was opened. This facility is almost, but not quite, self-supporting through Medicare, Medicaid and private pay. For every year, since it was opened, some county money went into the operation to insure its high level of care to our people.

So, for 100 years or more, we have recognized this as an obligation and we have met it through county taxation.

Today, a change in this way of financing is necessary. The decision to continue this service must be put before the people of Iosco County in the form of a vote of up to one-half (.5) of a mill to provide our share of the cost. This has become necessary, primarily, for two reasons:

1. The severe cutbacks in federal and state revenue sharing and other aid to the county.
 2. Iosco County's low fixed tax rate of 4.5 mills which ranks among the lowest of all 83 counties in Michigan (not to mention what will happen in the event the Tisch Amendment passes).
- A YES vote will mean that our understanding and our financial help to those less fortunate will continue just as it has for the past 100 years. And, considering inflation, with no greater cost than we have been used to paying all along.

20th Anniversary of Art Show

THE YEARS have slipped by and this week-end the Tawas Bay Waterfront Arts and Crafts Show marks its 20th anniversary. To some, it seems like only yesterday when the first show was staged and this selection from the Herald's photographic file provides a nostalgic look at some of the past shows.

Professional portrait painters have added class to the show.

The show goes on, despite a brief rain shower.

The tree-lined Tawas City Park offers a beautiful location along the waterfront for the annual arts and crafts show.

Crafts demonstrations—this one is candle making—have always been popular features.

Women Can Get The Credit They Deserve

Historically, women have had a harder time obtaining credit than have men. That stemmed from the mistaken belief that women were bad credit risks. The facts clearly refute this myth. Over the years many women have done an excellent job of managing their finances and credit.

In extending credit, Federal laws make it illegal to discriminate based on sex or marital status. Women can obtain credit in their own names. Single women cannot lose their credit rating if they marry and married women cannot lose theirs if they are widowed or divorced.

Many financial advisors recommend that women establish their own independent financial identities in a credit history. While many credit histories are listed in the husband's name, a woman may request that creditors consider any account that accurately reflects her creditworthiness.
