

State Approves Runway Expansion at Airport

A major project to improve the Iosco County Airport was approved Wednesday by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission. The state allocated $35,000 in additional funds for a previously approved project to build an extension of the runway, a bituminous overlay, an apron and a connecting taxiway. In addition, the state loaned the county $50,000 to supplement $5,000 in local funds for an improvement project at the airport.

At a meeting Friday between the Tawas Area Industrial Development Commission, the county road commission and airport committee of the county board of commissioners, discussion was held on proposed closing of a road which crosses the area for the extended runway. Although no final decision was made, preliminary discussion was held on an extension of Lincoln Street to open acreage owned by the IDC for development and 40 acres of land owned by Kenny Schaaf, both parcels being located north of the railroad tracks.

The Michigan Department of Transportation recently denied applications for permits to construct railroad crossings to reach the two above parcels and rerouted Lincoln Street would be located along the southern boundary of the airport to connect with Aulerich Road. Atty. Ronald Tyler is serving as legal counsel for the county in the matter.

Miss Iosco County

GAIL TAMPLIN, 17, Hale Area High School senior, was picked Saturday night to be Miss Iosco County during ceremonies held at Oscoda Area High School. The eighth annual Miss Iosco Pageant, sponsored by the Oscoda Rotary Club, saw Miss Tamplin winning in a field of 15 other girls. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tamplin of Hale and plans to attend Michigan State University to study music. She played an oboe solo during the program and won $750 in scholarships and $450 worth of clothing. The covaldictorian of her graduation class, she was crowned by Leslea Abney, the current Miss Iosco County. Miss Abney will be a contestant for the 1980 Miss Michigan selection and Miss Tamplin will compete next year.

Summer Resident's Play Headed for New York

A summer resident of East Tawas, Milan Stitt, has a new play, "Back in the Race," which opens officially Thursday in a tryout at Lansing's Boarshead Theatre.

To intrigue Michigan playgoers, the play is about a dynastic automotive family and is set in a family vacation home here on Lake Huron.

The Detroit-born playwright wrote the highly successful "The Runner Stumbles" in 1964 and got serious about his new play about two years ago during a visit here.

His new play will be performed at Lansing by the same New York company that will open it April 17 at the Circle Repertory Theatre in Greenwich Village. As full-time, recognized playwright, Stitt also writes dramatizations for television.

His new play has a local setting concerning a young man from Detroit who is a direct descendant of the New England preacher, Jonathan Edwards, who has just inherited a fictional company called Edwards Motors.

"He is very wealthy and he's returning to East Tawas where they had a family lodge and he sort of confronts his heritage there," said Stitt in a Detroit Free Press interview.

History in Making --- Power Company Sells Riverlands

Cong. Robert Carr; Rupert Cutler, United States assistant secretary of agriculture, and officials of Consumers Power Company have announced the utility firm has agreed to make the largest package sale in history of Michigan riverlands to the United States Forest Service.

Carr and Cutler played crucial mediating roles in the sale by Consumers Power of approximately 25,700 acres of land along the AuSable and Manistee

Rivers in the Northern Lower Peninsula to the Forest Service. The two parcels of riverlands, which are now assured of preservation and public use, contain 91 miles of frontage along the two major rivers, as well as 13 miles along tributaries. Purchase price of the land is 13.5-million dollars.

Purchased by Consumers Power in the early 1960s for hydroelectric generation, the acreage is surrounded almost entirely by and will become part of the Huron and Manistee National Forests. Consumers Power no longer desires these riverlands for hydroelectric generation, but will continue to operate two existing dams on the Manistee and six on the AuSable.

Praising the sale agreement, Carr and Cutler pointed out that federal acquisition of the riverlands will be a major step toward putting almost the entire length of the two rivers in public hands. Earlier this year, Consumers Power announced the sale of 9,358 acres along the AuSable and Manistee to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for four-million dollars.

TC Industrial Park Vital to Progress

Need for development of a proposed 40-acre industrial park as a means of increasing Tawas City's property valuation through new construction was stressed Monday night by City Mgr. Lowell Thomas.

In presenting engineering and cost estimates on a 21-lot industrial park, Thomas said that its development was one of a number of projects which are vital to the city.

The reason for this, he said, is that Tawas City currently contemplates civic improvements which would cost an estimated 8.3-million dollars over the next five to six years and that new construction was necessary in order to lessen the burden on city taxpayers.

Working with Edmonds Engineering Company, the city manager has prepared tentative plans and a layout for the city-owned 40 acres purchased from the Hughes family and located adjacent to the city's present industrial park on Ninth Avenue.

Thomas said that the bottom line on industrial park development would cost in the neighborhood of $800,000 and he is to meet March 27 with representatives of the Economic Development Administration to obtain information concerning an application for federal funds to finance between 70 and 80 percent of the cost.

He is also to meet with representatives of other agencies, including the Upper Great Lakes Commission, to determine the availability of additional funds.

Thomas said the local share of the project would be between $150,000 and $200,000. He said it was essential to receive approval on the first application because of the current state of affairs in federal financing.

The cost would include $190,000 for sewers, $80,000 for water mains, $200,000 for roads and drainage, $150,000 for a rail siding, $110,000 for engineering and $70,000 for construction.

He said that the plan calls for constructing an unloading platform along the rail siding which other businesses and industry in the area could utilize.

Thomas said that should federal funds not be forthcoming for this project, the city should consider development of up to five lots in the 40-acre site which would be closest to water and sewer. He stressed the importance of receiving a commitment from an industry, possibly one already in operation here, to construct a new building in the industrial park to enhance the city's chances at obtaining federal funding.

He said he had met with the Tawas Area Industrial Development Corporation to encourage assistance along this line.

His status report indicated that such a development was paramount to future improvements to the city. Among other things, the city is contemplating a five-million-dollar project for sewage treatment, development of the river mouth, replacement of municipal buildings, construction of two new bridges, neighborhood rehabilitation, streets and recreational development.

Using present costs, the city's share of all these projects would be $2,650,000. Thomas said that funding would require bond issues approved by the people and, by 1985-86, the additional tax rate necessary to retire those bonds would be 8.88 mills.

Thomas said it was necessary to expand the tax base with new construction in industrial and commercial areas in order to lower that proposed tax rate.

In other matters, Coun. Robert Pawloski questioned if there was a need to obtain an easement along the west side of the Tawas River to enhance the city's position in obtaining federal-state funds for development of the river mouth.

The council directed the city manager to write a letter opposing a proposed federal ban on week-end boating. Hearings are being held in March and April on this proposed ban of recreational boat use and the opinion was expressed that, if enacted, it would be a severe blow to Michigan. It was also argued that no such ban is being proposed for other recreational uses of gasoline.

Fire Caused Extensive Damage to Barbier Sales

Two East Tawas volunteer firemen were injured Tuesday morning when an overhead door crashed down on them while fighting a fire at Barbier Motor Sales, East Tawas.

Admitted to Tawas Hospital and held overnight for observation was William Hester. His brother, Robert Hester, said that he was being held at the hospital as a precautionary measure and that his injuries were not believed serious.

Undergoing X-rays to determine the extent of injuries he may have received when the door dropped was Thomas Lixey. It was expected that he would be released later Tuesday morning.

Michigan State Police were notified of the fire at 6:38 a. m. and an immediate call was placed to the East Tawas Fire Department. About 20 minutes later, the Tawas City Fire Department was called for assistance.

The fire is believed to have originated in a parts room in the garage section of the 20-year-old concrete block and steel structure. Firemen were unable to determine the cause of the blaze.

Fire broke through the roof at the northwest corner of the building, but firemen were successful in stopping the blaze. The roof was badly damaged and will need replacement and steel reinforcing girders in the structure were warped.

A wall separating the second floor parts department from the service area is believed to have retarded flames and aided firemen in combating the blaze, which was under control around 7:30 a. m.

Truman Barbier Jr. said that several automobiles in the display area were damaged by smoke and that parts and tires in the garage area were lost in the blaze. The entire building was damaged by smoke and heat.

Barbier said that the garage would be closed until a temporary location is secured, but he expected the sales lot would be operated out of temporary quarters in a mobile home.

The two firemen were injured when the metal overhead door disengaged from its tracks. Both men were struck in the head and back.

The nearby Lixey's China House was not damaged by the blaze, being protected by a concrete wall. Fire broke through the roof of the Barbier structure only briefly as firemen were able to contain the flames.

Public Hearing Thursday on Proposed Zoning Changes

A public hearing on proposed amendments to Tawas City's zoning ordinance is to be held Thursday night, 7:30 o'clock, at the city hall.

Although the amendments are mostly concerned with procedural changes to bring the ordinance into compliance with state law, one would rezone a strip of lots along M-55 in North Park Acres Subdivision and establish a new office service zone.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas said the city does not have an office service zone in its ordinance and the matter has been under study of the city planning commission for some time.

Six lots under consideration for rezoning extend from the Tawas Masonic Temple east to one lot beyond First Avenue. An access road parallel to M-55 is provided in the subdivision plat which would serve the property. The new zone would permit such businesses as medical-dental offices, banks, credit union office, savings and loan office and such personal service establishments as a barber shop or beauty shop.

One amendment under consideration would permit home occupations under certain restrictions in a residential zone. Another proposed amendment would clarify the status of residences in a B-2 business district. The public hearing is to be conducted by the planning commission, which is to make a recommendation to the city council concerning action on the amendments.

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

Oppose School Breakfasts

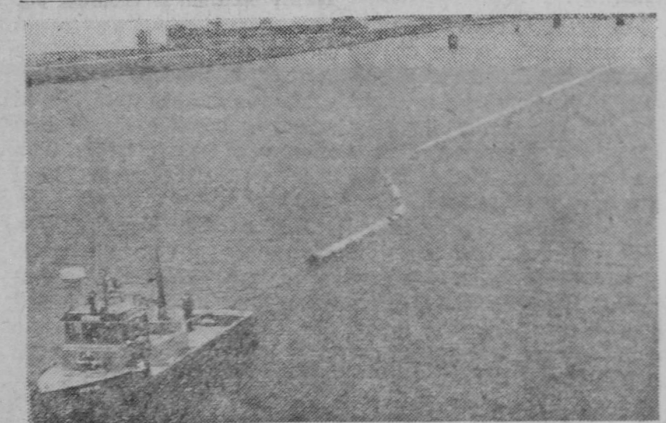

Strong opposition to the state-mandated school breakfast and lunch programs is apparently forcing the senate education committee to take a serious look at making alterations in the present law, according to State Sen. Robert Young of Saginaw.

Under a state law adopted in 1977, breakfasts and lunches must be offered in school districts where half the students are defined as needy under federal family income standards. The percentage of defined needy students will be lowered to 30 percent in 1980-1981 school year and to 20 percent after 1981.

Seek Persons to Help Kids

Rainbow Runaway Assistance Information Network has recently been licensed as a child-placing agency and is in the process of recruiting interested persons willing to provide temporary shelter care for troubled youths 12-17 years of age. Rainbow will now be utilizing its own foster homes as well as other licensed foster home facilities when placing a youth temporarily.

Rainbow is administered by Northeast Michigan Community Service Agency, Incorporated, and is funded by Michigan Department of Social Services, Office of Criminal Justice, Bureau of Community Services and locally donated funds. The program, initiated in July of 1976, serves 11 counties in Northeast Michigan, including Iosco.

EDMANDS ENGINEERING, Incorporated, of Bay City was recently presented an award for its work in the design and installation of a new 30-inch diameter water main across the Saginaw River, a project completed for the City of Bay City last June. N. A. Rosenberg was the project manager for Edmands. Lakeshore Contractors, Incorporated, of Muskegon was the contractor and one of its tugs is shown towing the 950-foot-long steel pipe.

TC Stays With Its Wooden Bridges

Although Tawas City would only save between 10 and 15 percent in construction costs for wood vs. concrete bridges, the city council Monday night felt that it should continue with wood in its bridge replacement program.

The city received word last month that bridges at Whittemore Street and Sixth Avenue qualified for federal-state funds under a critical bridge replacement program.

After conferring with the city's consultant, Edmands Engineering Company, City Mgr. Lowell Thomas said Monday night that wooden timbers used in bridge construction had apparently increased in cost at a greater rate than concrete. He said that the saving to the city would amount to approximately $2,500 to $4,000.

improvements could be made by insisting that those organizations which receive funds through the annual United Way campaign should not seek funds in the community at other times of the year.

A letter from the community chest addressed to all local governmental units of the area it serves indicated that the board of directors had voted to re-evaluate its position as an essential part of the community.

"Historically, this organization was formed as a united community effort, functioning solely in response to public need. It is necessary, at this point, to determine whether this need has changed," stated the community chest's letter.

The annual campaign has had difficulty in reaching its goal in recent years and the 1979 campaign goal was not reached. A meeting of the board of directors is to be held March 20 to determine if the community chest is still needed and desired and should "the lack of interest from business and industry be interpreted as a lack of need?" The letter asked if soliciting by other non-member groups affects the need for a community chest and would agencies do better in conducting their own solicitations.

Students to Take Blood Pressure

Thursday, March 20, 9:00-11:00 a. m., Tawas Area High School Seniors in the vocational nursing program will be at Bay Park Tower to take blood pressure of the residents and any senior citizens in the area are welcome.

THIS WAS THE SCENE last Wednesday when the East Tawas Department of Public Works used its equipment during one of the few times this winter that snow had to be cleared from the streets. Later in the week, rain melted the snow, then the weather turned colder, but turned mild again Tuesday. Spring officially arrives later this week.—Tawas Herald Photo.

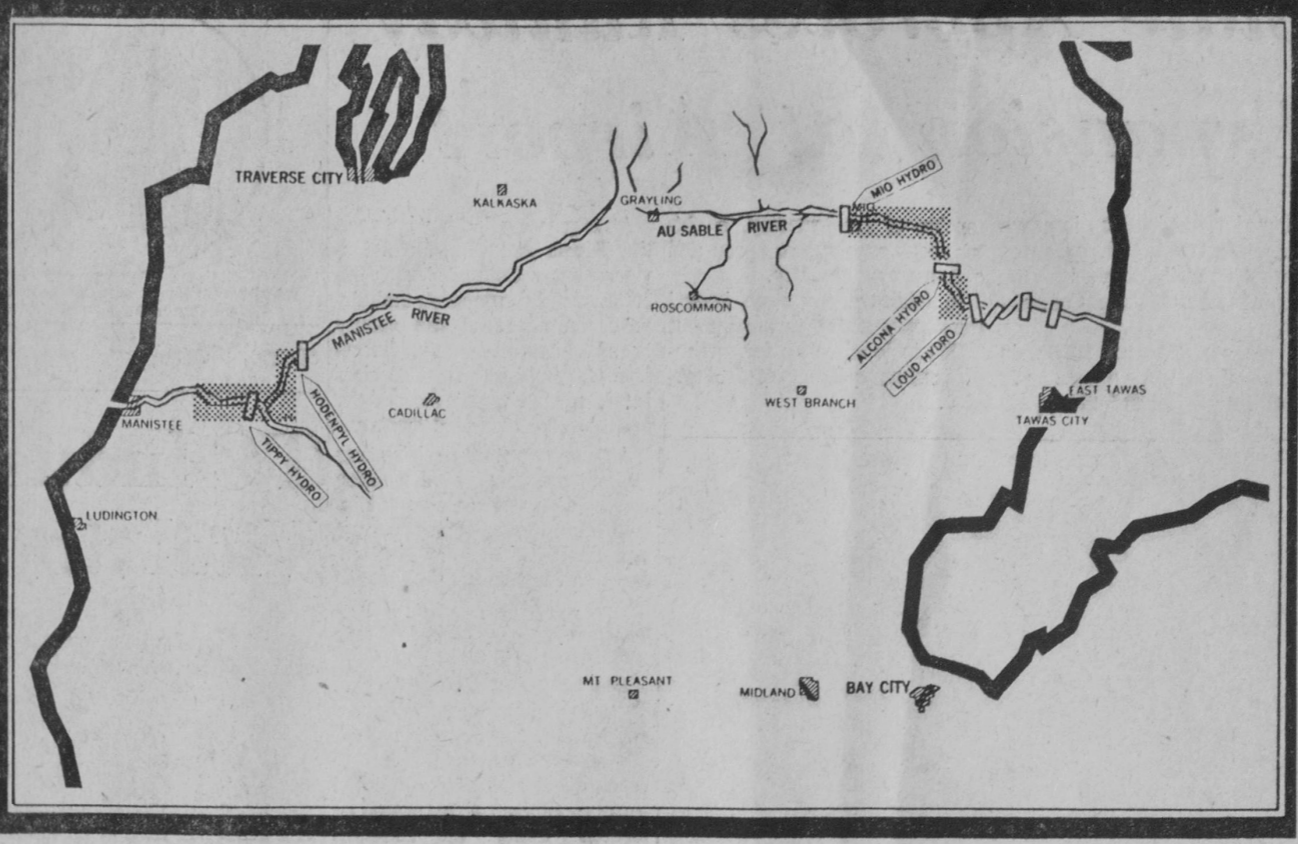

Members of the council were unanimous in endorsing Thomas' last statement. Mayor David Westcott felt the city "should stay with what we have in wooden bridges" and Coun. Donald Hayes expressed the hope that one day, the city could find its way clear to convert one of the structures into a covered bridge. A poll of councilmen clearly indicated that all were of the same opinion.

In other matters, a letter from Tawas Area Chamber of Commerce requesting endorsement and participation in applying for federal funding to study the feasibility of a bicycle path study was tabled until further information is received. The chamber is to apply for coastal management funds to develop a plan for a shoreline bicycle path leading to Tawas Point. Under the proposal, Baldwin Township, East Tawas and Tawas City would each pay $750 as the local share of the study.

The council went on record supporting continuance of the Tawas-Whittemore-Hale Area Community Chest, but felt that by filling in areas of the National Forests, will consolidate approximately 80 miles of boundary and will represent a considerable savings in administrative and surveying costs. "Step by step, with the type of support and cooperation which is represented in this agreement today, we are assuring the people of Michigan and the entire nation that these rivers will continue to provide the high-quality recreational experience which they offer today," Cutler said.

THIS IS A GLIMPSE of the more than three-million dollars in equipment, displays and exhibits to be shown during Michigan State University's - Farmers' Week, March 17-22. The more than 150 educational sessions offered range from wildlife hobby development to crop irrigation practices. More than 25,000 persons are expected during the week.

Of the approximately 25,700 acres involved in the sale to the Forest Service, about 13,200 acres lie between Mio and Oscoda on the AuSable River and about 12,500 acres lie between the City of Manistee and the Village of Mesick along the Manistee River.

WORKING WOMEN

Successful Dressing
By Gloria Higgins

In order to get ahead, today's working woman must use not only her head. It usually helps if she knows that all of her, head to toe, looks as good as she knows she is. The better she feels about herself, the better job she can do.

However, achieving that great, put-together look is not something that just happens. The usual routine involves shopping, traffic, waiting, walking, high prices and limited time.

Fortunately, there is an organization that has been working for over five years to provide fashion and wardrobe-planning aid and advice to the working woman. Its 36-page, full-color catalog, called a Planner, can help a woman select her wardrobe at home from color-coordinated groups, especially designed for the working woman.

These Career Guild fashions reflect the traditional good taste that is the key to a successful career wardrobe, while the Planner can help you turn 12 items into 25 different combinations—for less than $275, or around $11, for each look.

For a free brochure, write to Career Guild, Dept. P.S., 6412 Vapor Lane, Niles, Illinois 60648.

Armenia Stevens Passed Away

March 12

Armenia Stevens of East Tawas passed away Wednesday, March 12, at Tawas Hospital at the age of 91 years. She was born January 31, 1889, in Nashville and was a member of Christ Episcopal Church, East Tawas. Her husband, Simon R. Stevens, predeceased her in 1962.

Funeral services were held Saturday, March 15, at Jacques and Kobs East Chapel with the Rev. Kenneth Near and the Rev. Alfred Saulsbury officiating. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery.

She is survived by two daughters, Beatrice R. Griffith of Leesburg, Florida, and Mildred E. Owens of Heber, Arizona; five grandchildren; 12 great grandchildren; three great, great grandchildren, and a brother, Charles E. Sutton of Joshua, California.

The family requests memorial contributions be directed to Christ Episcopal Memorial Fund.

Lower Hemlock

Mr. and Mrs. James Katterman were Friday guests of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Van Miller of Farmington, and attended a wedding on Saturday in Detroit, returning home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McCormick were joined by their granddaughter, Stephanie Malone, for lunch at McDonald's Restaurant Saturday. The occasion was the McCormicks' 35th wedding anniversary.

Hospital Proceeds With Ultrasound

Tawas Hospital has received notification from the State Department of Health to proceed with plans to install ultrasound. Ultrasound will be a new service offered by the hospital and a very beneficial diagnostic tool for physicians and specialists to use in the care of patients.

Ultrasound was developed initially for use in pregnancy to determine safely the age and condition of the infant prior to birth and to diagnose various medical problems a mother and baby might be experiencing. Its use has since been expanded to include diagnosis of certain diseases in the organs of the abdomen and cardiovascular systems. Ultrasound uses sound waves bounced off internal body organs to produce a picture of the organs. It involves only the use of sound waves, no radiation, therefore, is particularly safe, even in pregnancy.

Paul Dude, administrator, stated that the hospital is proceeding with plans to obtain the ultrasound equipment and to hire the appropriate personnel to operate it. He went on to comment that the addition of ultrasound is one of the many ways Tawas Hospital is growing to meet the needs of this area for expanded health service.

Spring Near; Tree Planting Time Here

With spring in the air, now is the time to think of picking out trees to plant that will help on next winter's fuel bills. Trees can also cut down on cooling costs in the summer.

Deciduous or hardwood trees such as Norway, red and sugar maples; red and pin oaks, and little leaf European linden are good choices for shade trees in this area where the winters are often severe. They also add immeasurable comfort to the home in the summer. Their shade lessens the need for air conditioning and fans thus cuts down on energy expenses.

Deciduous trees on the west side of a home will shield it from the afternoon sun in the summer. During the winter their bare limbs will allow the sun's rays to warm the house.

On selecting a planting site hold a tall pole on the selected site and note the shadow it casts. Move the pole around until the spot that gives the most shade is found.

To shade a roof on a one story house, plant medium to large trees no closer than 15 to 20 feet from the side or 12 to 15 feet from the corner of the building in order to obtain the maximum amount of shade.

For further information, call Betty Riley, extension energy assistant, at 362-3419 and ask for Extension Bulletin E-1122.

Sheriff's Dept. Investigated 20 Complaints Last Week

Iosco County Sheriff's Department investigated 20 complaints last week. Fourteen persons were booked through the jail and the jail had 20 inmates as of Monday morning.

Included in the investigations were six breakings and enterings, two larcenies, one malicious destruction complaint, one warrant arrest, five property damage accidents, and one personal injury accident. The department investigated two complaints of lost property, one abandoned vehicle and arrested one person for improper registration plate.

Michael Mesiak of Tecumseh was cited Sunday night for insufficient safety chains on his trailer. He was southbound through Whittemore when the trailer he was towing came unhooked from his car and it struck the Francis Clegg home. There were no injuries.

David P. Sayles, 16, Tawas City, was treated at Tawas Hospital for an injured foot which he sustained while operating an all terrain vehicle on private property.

Daniel P. Larsen of Wilber Township reported the theft of a gasoline pump and tank.

Cover Ordinary Hopper in Railroad Experiment

In a cooperative effort between a local industry and the Detroit and Mackinac Railway, an experiment is currently being conducted to determine the feasibility of shipping gypsum rock in railroad hopper cars utilizing a recently developed cover of reinforced fiberglass and plastic.

A 100-ton hopper car fitted with the new cover was loaded with crushed gypsum ore Friday morning at United States Gypsum Company's Alabaster installation. The car was bound for a portland cement manufacturing firm in Pennsylvania.

Loaned to the D&M by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, the 100-ton car is normally utilized for the shipment of grain. After loading operations were completed at Alabaster, Edward Westphal, works manager, thought this type of covered hopper car would provide excellent service in the shipment of gypsum ore.

Glen Highfield of the D&M said that regular covered hopper cars were in short supply today and that use of the specially designed covers on open hopper cars should provide complete utilization of this type of equipment the year around.

Shipment of gypsum rock must be protected from rain and freezing weather during four months of the year because of the difficulty experienced in unloading cars after reaching destination.

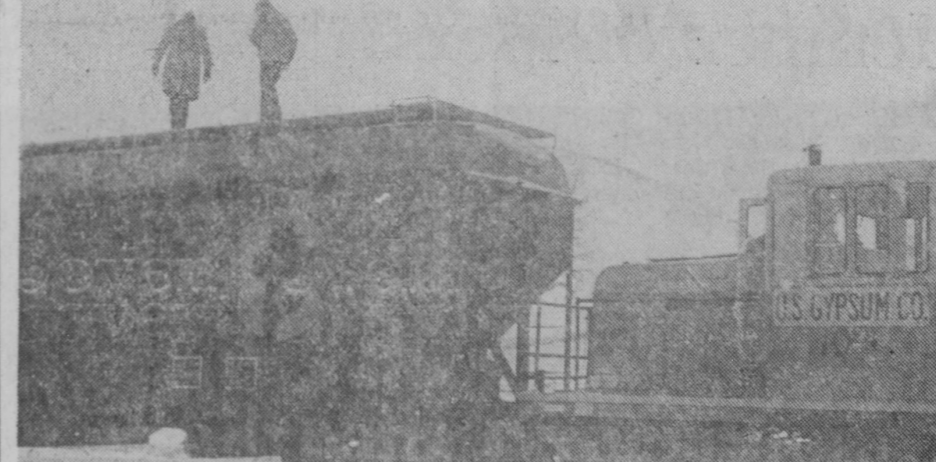

Highfield said that an order had been placed for covers to be installed on several 70-ton hopper cars owned by the D&M. The work is to be handled in the Tawas shop. Covers are to be securely attached to the top of each car and Highfield thought the end result would be a better car for customers and that it would answer a lot of service areas for the D&M to meet customer requirements.

Each cover weighs 2,900 pounds and includes a metal safety deck for workmen during loading and unloading operations.

C. A. Pinkerton III, president of the railroad, said experimental shipments of gypsum from this area would be made after the cars are completed and in use. An evaluation of the car as to its performance is to be made later in the year.

City Seeks LWC Funds for River Mouth Development

Tawas City made preapplication Saturday for state-administered Land, Water and Conservation funds to assist the community in developing a new Gateway Park at the mouth of the Tawas River.

At the same time, the city submitted a tentative draft of a new community recreation plan to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. This plan has been developed during the past 2½ months by John Beckett, Ann Arbor planning consultant, working with the city's parks and recreation board.

Action by the city council, based on a recommendation of the parks and recreation board, came at a joint meeting held Wednesday afternoon. Members of the city planning commission, the new commercial development committee and a number of interested citizens were also in attendance to hear the proposal.

The preapplication, which was to have been in the hands of the DNR by Monday, is for $477,000 in LWC funds and would help finance the first phase of an ambitious 1.342-million-dollar long-range project which has been the dream of local residents for nearly one-half century.

If approved, the city would submit a second application for "piggyback" funds from the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission and the Iosco County Parks and Recreation Commission has allocated $30,000 to the project if the city is successful in obtaining state-federal assistance.

Based on a financial program developed by City Mgr. Lowell Thomas, the city's share of the first phase would be approximately $95,000. Judging from interest shown by local residents over many years, coupled with findings of a recent public survey, voter approval of a long-term bond issue to finance the local share seems reasonable.

The key to any development or improvement to the river mouth lies in its stabilization through construction of a breakwall at the harbor entrance, along with a sea wall along the east side of the river to define the channel and protect against erosion.

The above construction, coupled with necessary dredging and filling, comprises the first phase of the project for which the city has made application for LWC funds.

During his firm's study of the river mouth, Beckett consulted with an hydraulic engineer from Michigan State University, who is familiar with Lake Huron-Saginaw Bay, and learned that the United States Army Corps of Engineers, as well as the state, probably would frown on any construction of a lengthy pier into Tawas Bay at the river mouth.

It has long been believed that piers constructed on either side of the river mouth would alleviate the problem of silting at the harbor entrance by drifting sand. Construction of such piers, it was learned, could compound the problem of beach erosion to adjoining private property owners.

A partial solution to the problem of annual dredging, suggested by the MSU engineer and incorporated by Beckett into the preliminary plan, is to narrow the river channel to permit a "flushing" action by the river current.

This concept is not new as it has been suggested in the past by local boatmen. In recent times, a defined river channel at the entrance into Tawas Bay has been lost through erosion. Local boat operators recall that when the river was used as a harbor for commercial fishing tugs, the entrance was kept free of sand through the flushing action of propellers of those fishing boats.

Narrowing the channel would also make it much easier to perform any dredging work when it becomes necessary.

The major difference in this new plan, as compared to previous documents submitted to the state, is the conceptual use of the property. Rather than devoting the river entrance to a proposed small boat launching site, improvement would be directed toward development of a Gateway Park with emphasis on family use, land based fishing and short-term wells for boaters wishing to visit the park and the city.

This concept is believed by the parks and recreation board to be an exciting departure from past thinking. It was brought on by the realization that the state is already expending major funds at East Tawas to develop new boat launching facilities as part of the harbor of refuge and it is doubtful if LWC funds would be made available for additional boat ramps.

Coupled with the fact that the city already has an operational boat ramp on property leased from the Detroit and Mackinac Railway and located in a much more protected location upstream from the US-23 bridge, park board members agreed with Beckett that it would be a waste of money and valuable property to pave city property at the river mouth for a large enough parking lot to serve cars and trailers of boaters.

Beckett said the basic intent of the Gateway Park is to provide "an appropriate and exciting entrance to the Lake Huron coastal system and to give vacationers, travelers and visitors an opportunity to stop and relax, refresh, receive information and sample some of the recreational opportunities offered by Lake Huron." The park will serve local residents as well by emphasizing opportunities for fishing and boating, supplementing those facilities and services being provided in the area by private enterprise and the public.

Should the breakwall and river channel sea wall be approved for funding, long-range development of the park could include a gateway pavilion, the central focus of the proposed park. Included would be rest-rooms, snacks, picnic and fishing supplies, bicycle rentals, canoe and boat rentals, tourist and visitor information station, recreation information and a Lake Huron interpretive center.

Beckett believes that such an information center should be of interest to the DNR as well as other state agencies, particularly the state highway department, as the river mouth is the first major and prolonged point of exposure to Lake Huron to northbound traffic on US-23.

Long-range development plans also include a family park with landscaped green area, including picnic tables, possibly tent camping, play area and a marine display area.

One of the "dream" ideas included in the plan would be an observation tower at the channel entrance, a tall focal point which visitors could climb and experience views of Tawas Bay features.

It was emphasized that what happens in development of the park depends absolutely on stabilization of the river mouth. A breakdown of estimated costs for the all-important first phase of the project includes $70,000 for construction of 470-lineal-foot riprap embankment on the Tawas Bay side, $250,800 for 600 lineal feet of sheet steel piling along the east side of the channel, plus $87,000 for dredging the channel and filling the area to be protected by the shoreline stabilization structures.

Two years ago, the city erased one of the major stumbling blocks to river mouth development when it purchased the east side of the harbor entrance from the Lubaway family. The city later purchased the Graystone building, presently housing the Tawas Bay Artists' Gallery and this structure would be incorporated in and become a major feature of the new park.

The long-range plan shows vehicular parking extending along the river channel and curving around the rear of the Graystone building with the park entrance located east of the former Lubaway marine sales building owned by the city.

State approval would be necessary to fill in submerged bottom land east of an existing pier (See APPLY, page 6.)

HENRY KANE---Auto Dealer

Of the 1,022 licensed vehicles in Iosco County in 1924, nearly half of that number were Model T Fords sold by Northeastern Michigan's pioneer automobile dealer, Henry Kane of Tawas City.

Although old-timers best recall Kane as a super salesman during the infancy of the automobile game, his other business enterprises here over a span of 28 years were varied, ranging from operation of a meat market to ownership of two different hotels.

Born August 15, 1863, in Canada, he came to Harbor Beach as a youngster, following the same route which brought so many seeking job opportunities further north in the white pine forests of Northern Michigan.

He had the natural instinct of a businessman and soon became associated with his brother-in-law, Collie Johnson, in the operation of a meat market on Lake Street. When their brick building was destroyed by fire, Kane took over operation of the old Bayside Hotel, which was located in the vicinity of Keiser's Econo-Way Drugs.

In 1909, Kane purchased the former drugstore and residence of Dr. G. S. Darling, an early day Tawas City physician, converting and expanding the building into what became the Iosco Hotel.

"When completed, the Iosco Hotel will be the favorite among the traveling public and will be a credit to the city," predicted The Tawas Herald on May 14, 1909.

The new hotel operated by Kane and his wife, Veronica, proved to be an instant success and, after seven years of operation, he sold the business to William Allen.

By then, Kane had been engaged in the automobile business for several years and he left his trade as a landlord to devote full time to selling cars. In December 1916, he opened his new garage on Lake Street, now the site of Huron Auto Parts.

"With the opening of Henry Kane's new garage on Thursday of last week, Tawas City acquired one of the most up-to-date institutions of this kind in Northern Michigan," reported the Herald in its December 22, 1916, issue.

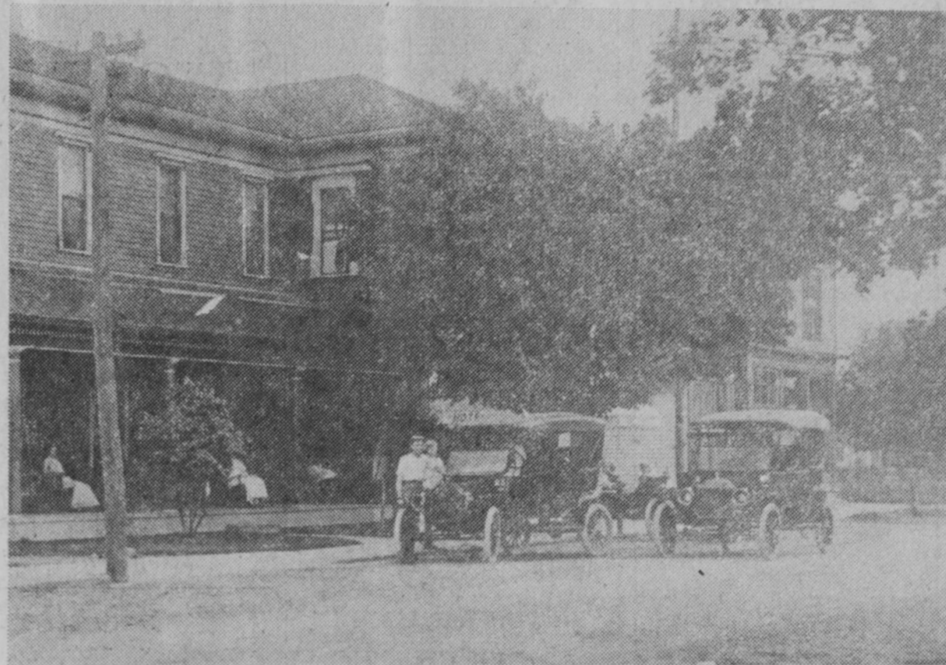

In front of his 45 by 66-foot concrete block building, Kane installed a Bowsner Dixie Highway filling station at the edge of the sidewalk, fed by an underground tank holding 500 gallons of gasoline.

"Mr. Kane is to be congratulated upon his enterprise in erecting such a building, which is both a credit to the city and a convenience which will be appreciated by automobile tourists, as well as local drivers," commented the Herald. Lake Street was to become a part of a new state trunk line which was to be called the Dixie Highway.

The new garage became known as the largest and best equipped facility between Bay City and Alpena and, in the process of conducting this business, Kane became a wealthy man. The simplicity and low initial cost of Henry Ford's Model T, coupled with the salesmanship of Kane, helped to put this part of rural America on wheels.

On October 2, 1924, Kane retired from business, selling his Ford sales and service to W. C. "Roxey" Roach of Windber, Pennsylvania, a former professional baseball player, who had owned a cottage at Indian Lake in association with a former Detroit Tiger, Miles Main.

"Kane's success has been well deserved and his business associates and friends throughout this section regret to learn

HENRY KANE was operating both the Iosco automobile dealer in Northeastern Michigan, and his new Ford dealership in Tawas City when this picture was taken. A pioneer of his retirement from active engagement in the automobile business," stated the Herald.

Kane and his wife remained in Tawas City, having constructed their home east of the city hall. He died October 13, 1925, at Harper Hospital, Detroit, following a six-month illness.

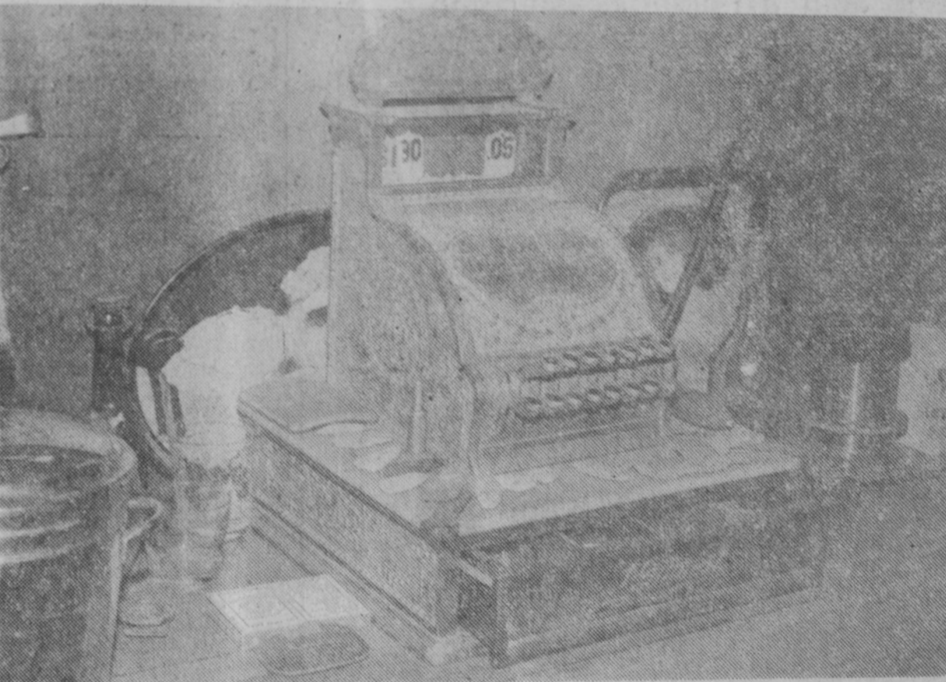

The former Kane residence is now owned by the City of Tawas City and may be used as temporary quarters for the branch of Iosco-Arenac Regional Library. It is expected that the old dwelling will be removed from the property at some future time for development of the site for commercial purposes.

One of the relics surviving an earlier era in this community is a brass National Cash Register which was once used in a cigar store located in the lobby of the old Iosco Hotel. Cast in the lid of the antique machine is the name, Henry Kane.

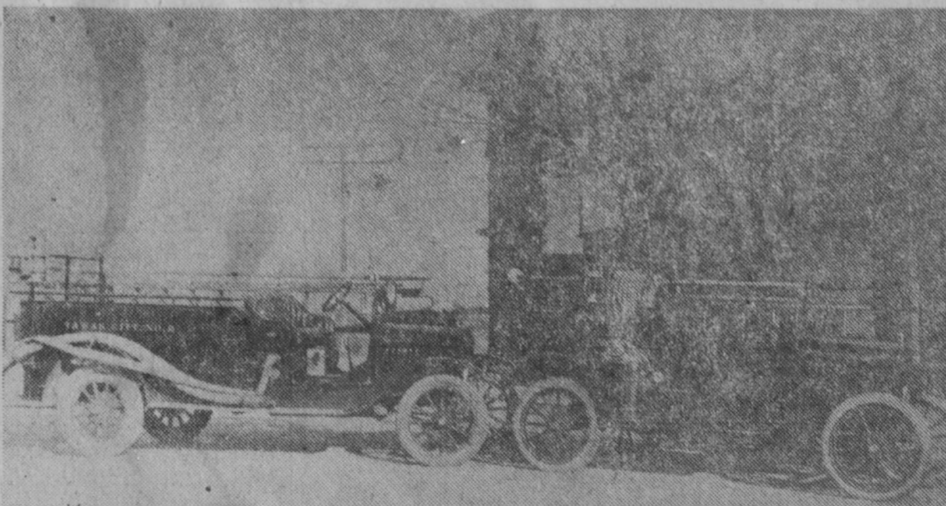

The old machine was rescued from the scrap pile about 15 years ago and is now the prized possession of a local collector.

TAWAS CITY purchased two new fire trucks Kane Ford Sales at right. Kane and Henry mounted on Ford chassis in 1919 and the equipment was photographed in front of the wheels prior to the advent of good roads.

Music to be Featured

Tawas United Methodist Church will feature the music of Edmond and Audrey Dodson at the 7 o'clock service Sunday, March 23, following a pot-luck at 6:00 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

(Read Psalm 61)

"Yes, He alone is my Rock, my rescuer, defense and fortress. Why then should I be tense with fear when troubles come?" (Psalm 62:2 TLB)

After moving from our hometown of many years, I was adjusting to a new community and a new job experience in a school in the city. The strain of early bus duty, several negative comments from well-meaning veteran teachers and constant hassles with uninterested students had left me feeling drained at the end of the day. Adding to my discouragement, the view from my kitchen window was very bleak, with winter lingering on much too long.

As I leaned against the refrigerator and looked up through the trees, I noticed the white steeple of a nearby church. I had stood near that spot at the sink everyday but I had never noticed the steeple. A large oak tree completely blocked the view. By leaning just a little to the left, I saw a whole new view.

So it is with the way the Lord works. When things get too hectic and tend to be going wrong, how it helps to lean a little in another direction. New strength flowed to me as I realized the Lord had already made note of my struggles and was ready to meet them with me.

PRAYER

Thank You, Lord, for life's struggles. May they lead us closer to You. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
When discouragement comes, lean toward God.

Community Concert Series Features Operetta March 23

Sunday afternoon, March 23, 3 o'clock, the curtain goes up on the final offering of this season's Community Concert Series. The stage at Oscoda High School Auditorium will bring to life the wonderful world of operetta... a world filled with some of the most beautiful and popular music ever known.

A company of eight talented vocal artists accompanied by piano, flute and cello will present a cavalcade of the "best-loved selections from such memorable classics as "The Merry Widow," "Student Prince," "Desert Song," "New Moon" and many others. The performers, stunningly costumed, recreate an era remembered for its beauty, artistry and romance. The production evokes a note of nostalgia in the memories of older music lovers and inspires younger generations who have yet to become acquainted with the romantic, lilting songs of the past. Audiences are irresistibly transported to that magical, joyful, innocent world of operetta. "Serenade," as this production is titled, is sure to provide a delightful, carefree Sunday afternoon of melodic pleasure for the entire family.

Admission is by membership card only and members are reminded to be in their seats early so that the concert may begin promptly.

Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to inform the people of Baldwin Township that it was not an unanimous decision of the Township Board to consider the purchase of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company building for the purpose of a township hall, which is located on US-23 in Baldwin Centre. It was approved by the board to bring it to the vote of the people only by a simple majority vote; three years and two days.

I voted no for the following reasons: No. 1. I know that Baldwin Township is not in need of such a large and costly $290,000 facility at this present time, or can I see for the need within the next decade. It was also mentioned that the township could rent a portion of it out to private concerns for office use. That idea should be out of the question also, due to the fact the township has enough problems to cope with, without getting into the hassle of the rental business.

No. 2. After viewing the building over, I know that it is not practical to fit our need, due to the fact that none of the rooms are large enough for a meeting place when we have a large attendance when an important issue is on the docket. So that means that we would have to spend approximately an additional $10,000 for remodeling right from the start.

No. 3. The property is too valuable to take off the tax roll for municipal use. Therefore, I feel the property should be left on the tax roll for commercial use, as Baldwin Township can certainly use the tax revenue.

No. 4. US-23 in that area has a high accident rate and normally, when people go to the polls on election day to vote, many of them do not have their full attention on their driving. So therefore, I am inclined to believe that we would be inviting more accidents if the township hall is located on US-23 in that area.

These are just a few of the reasons why I am not in favor of the proposal and I would like to urge the voters of Baldwin Township to vote no on this important issue on Tuesday, April 8, and wait for the township board and the building committee to bring you a more practical and feasible plan before I would encourage a yes vote.

Yours very truly,
Allen C. Anschuetz

I would like to direct this letter to the citizens of Tawas City.

Did you know we are the key community to the "Gateway to the North" as one travels up US-23 along the shore of Lake Huron?

Have you ever seen the sun rise in the morning as it comes up over the point and shines on Tawas Bay and our city? God is saying: "This is My blessing on you for the day."

Shouldn't we be a proud people to be living in a beautiful countryside like this? God has provided a beautiful natural shoreline and we cannot add to His beauty, but we can clean it up and develop it into something in which we can all be proud.

We have all wanted to see something done with the mouth of the river for years. Now is the opportune time if we all work together—the mayor, the city manager, city council, planning commission, the parks and recreation board and the citizens of our community. We have the best little city of any in the State of Michigan. You, the citizens, elected those officials and others were appointed—all for our own benefit and others.

The proposed Gateway Park at the mouth of the river is where it all begins. East Tawas and Baldwin Centre would be glad to see something done like this. Let's make this four-mile stretch along US-23 something to be proud of in Northeastern Michigan.

We do not want to see the mouth of the river made over into a parking lot for cars and boat trailers for boat launching. We have a boat launching facility and a parking area now that could be updated. We need a green park with picnic tables, rest-rooms, a tourist and visitor information station. It would provide a place to launch small car top boats and canoes and, above all, a fishing site, an observation tower for the public to climb and look over our beautiful Tawas Bay and a landmark for those who are boating out on the bay.

I believe we have now come up with a plan that has surpassed all other expectations.

Are we the key community? Yes. We have people who come from surrounding cities (and as far as West Branch) by the bus loads to spend the day at our beaches and our present lakeside park.

If you are a skeptic, why not fall in line and get behind this project. Let us all pull together and start with the Gateway Park at the mouth of the river.

Name Alley to Committee on Railroads

State Rep. Tom Alley, West Branch, has been appointed chairman of a special subcommittee to review railroad restrictions through the House Towns and Counties Committee. The subcommittee will be reviewing five bills aimed at prohibiting certain speed restrictions of trains.

"These bills were introduced due to the increased demand for better rail transportation in Michigan," Alley said. "I am pleased to have this subcommittee because of my interest not only in tourism and energy but because I have the Detroit and Mackinac Railway based in my legislative district."

Alley was appointed to head this subcommittee by State Rep. Thomas Brown, chairman of the House Towns and Counties Committee. I have given this assignment to Representative Alley because of his continued interest in railroad transportation and his proven ability to take charge of a subcommittee and take time to give consideration to all aspects of possible controversy," Brown stated.

Alley noted that he has legislation being drafted which may make it easier for privately owned railroads such as the D&M to go into passenger transportation service.

The subcommittee plans to schedule at least three hearings before going to the full committee with the bills.

Coming of Spring Brings Tornado Season to State

Michigan residents are reminded by the state police emergency services division that the coming of spring brings with it the potential for devastating tornadoes in the state.

Capt. Peter Basolo, commander of the division, said that a proclamation by Gov. William G. Milliken has designated March 16-22 as "Tornado Safety Week" in Michigan and that it alerts state residents to the need to know how to prepare themselves for possible tornado dangers.

The proclamation pointed out that Michigan since 1950 has had a total of 227 persons killed by a total of 427 tornadoes. The worst tornado day in the United States was April 3, 1974, when 148 separate tornadoes caused 315 deaths, 6,000 injuries and over 600-million dollars in property damages.

Basolo emphasized that tornadoes can occur at any time of the night or day and in any month of the year. However, tornadoes occur most frequently in the April-July period and between the hours of 3:00 to 7:00 p. m. More than 600 tornadoes strike the nation each year with annual property loss averaging 75-million dollars.

The governor's proclamation noted that state and local governments, civil defense directors, weather services and the public and private school systems and the press, radio and television were cooperating in efforts to inform state residents about precautions, protection and general safety measures to be taken against tornado dangers.

LOOKING BACKWARD—

Work Starts on Building Point Park

15 Years Ago—

March 24, 1965—Work was commenced on building of roads and camp sites at Tawas Point State Park. A contract has been let for construction of two combination toilet, laundry and shower buildings and the project this year also includes construction of a lagoon-type sewer disposal system and water mains.

Jennifer Charboneau, Tawas Area High School art student, has been awarded an eight-week scholarship to study next summer at Interlochen.

James J. Tarnosky of East Tawas is presently stationed at Lakehurst, New Jersey, and is serving as flight deck director on the USS Saratoga. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Tarnosky of East Tawas.

Sheila M. Dodson of Tawas City graduated from Mercy School of Practical Nursing, Cadillac.

Residents of the Hale area had a scare Wednesday when it was feared that Emil Wagner, who had gone fishing on Loon Lake, had become lost in the storm. Several men were going out to look for him when he arrived home.

25 Years Ago—

March 24, 1955—Iosco Sportsmen's Club reports success in its program to feed the county's pheasant population during the winter. The club purchased 20 bushels of corn and distributed it to farmers to feed the game birds. A number of farmers cooperated with the project by leaving corn standing in the fields over the winter.

New metal street marking signs have been received and the Tawas City Department of Public Works is to begin installing them as soon as weather permits.

Tawas City Water Board has been invited by the East Tawas Department of Public Works to discuss a water purchase plan after East Tawas' new filtration plant is constructed.

Barbara Young, Miss Silver Valley, left today from Willow Run Airport on a two-week expense-paid trip to Old Mexico. She reigned over the winter sports carnival here in February.

Two former Tawas City boys now serving in the United States Navy, Richard Pfeiffer and Dewey Pavelock, met recently at St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands. After an afternoon's visit, Pavelock's ship left for South America, while Pfeiffer's ship left for Puerto Rico.

35 Years Ago—

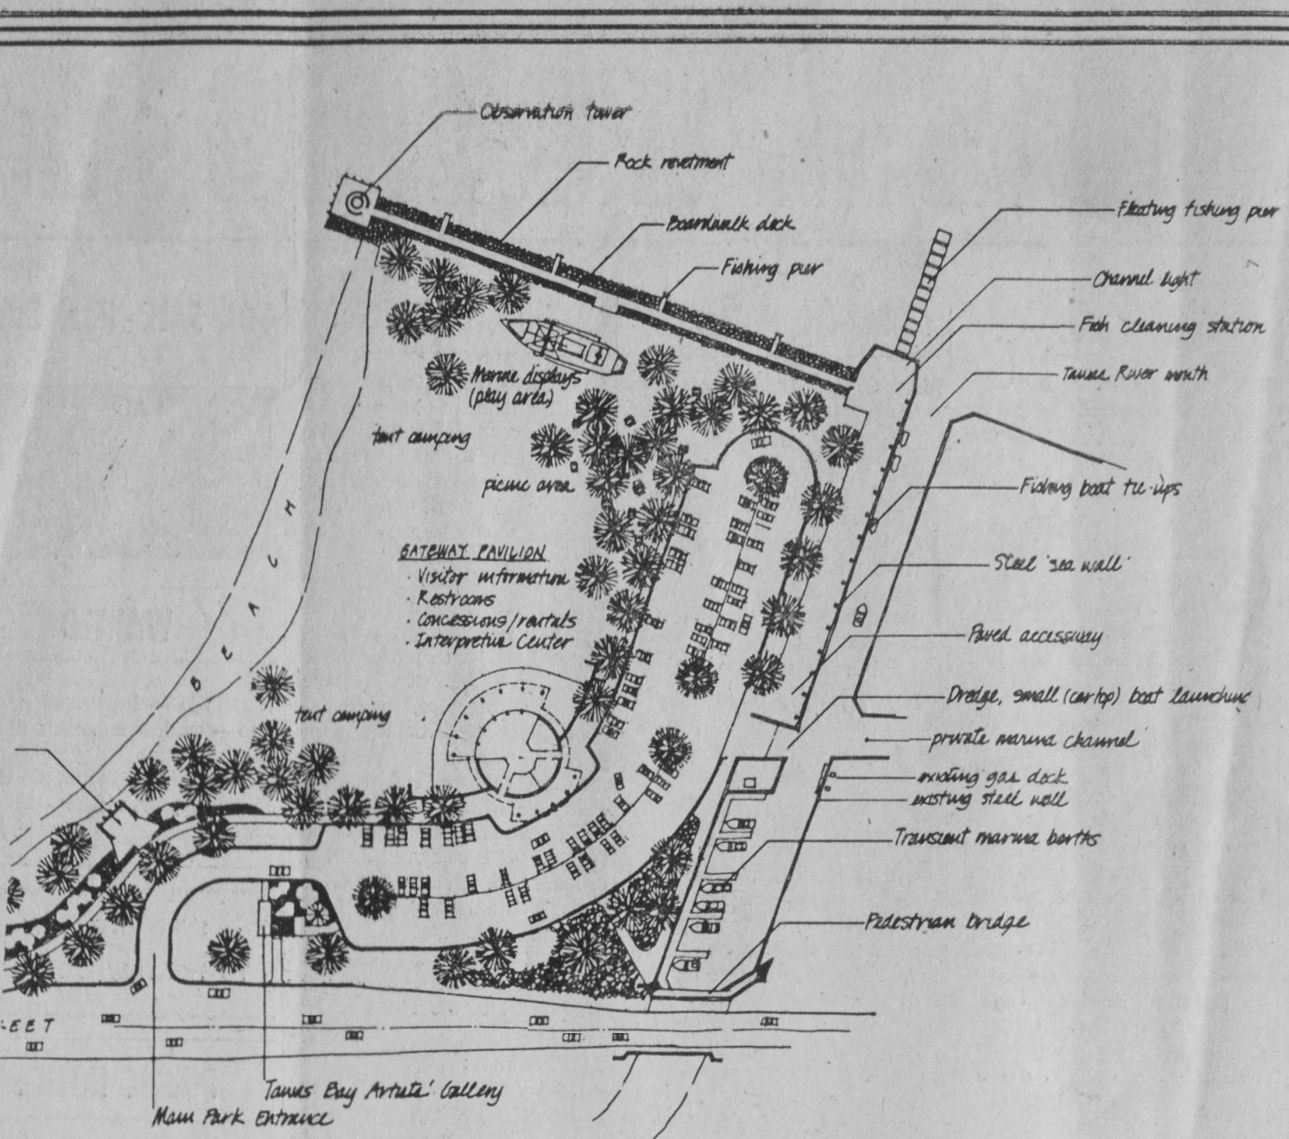

March 23, 1945—World War II veterans will be given assistance in establishing themselves in civilian life after the war through the GI Bill of Rights. R. A. Rollin is counselor for the Iosco County Council of Veterans Affairs.

Whittemore and Greenwood Granges adopted resolutions condemning the Michigan School Study Commission for recommending a reorganization that would eliminate all small school districts and centralize the control of the educational program with the state and federal governments.

Jack Carlson, Rosemary Mielock, Alice Small, Charles Colby and Karl Keinholtz, 11th graders at East Tawas High School, participated in a discussion at the parent-teacher association meeting in regard to "Russia, before and after the war."

Otto Lawrence has purchased the Decaire Fish Market in Tawas City and features fresh fish, smoked fish and oysters.

Sometimes the congressional farm bloc feels its oats to such an extent it demonstrates its power just for the fun of it. That was what happened when the house passed the Flannagan resolution—which does nothing more than say that congress considers a law passed two years earlier still should be observed. This law is the Tydings amendment to the Selective Service Act, which provides for the deferment of farm workers. After several hours of debate, the house passed the resolution by a voice vote.

Learn More About 4-H Passports

Passports are official documents which allow one to travel around the globe and experience the diversity of the world's culture and people. A 4-H passport is also an official document, issued to young people and 4-H leaders interested in learning more about their community, its history and heritage, and about the culture and people of other lands.

The 4-H youth program is inviting adults and older youths to become a new kind of volunteer: A 4-H passport key leader. Passport key leaders will be letting youths and adults know they can participate in one or all 4-H passport programs, ranging from work-adventure trips to other countries, hosting children from around the world, discovering their own family history or helping solve problems in their own community.

Passport key leaders will receive special orientation and training from Michigan State University Extension faculty. This training will include review of all 4-H passport opportunities and training in public speaking, public relations, communication and leadership skills.

Interested persons may call Robin Bell, 4-H youth program assistant, at 362-3449 or write Cooperative Extension Service, Box 599, Tawas City, MI 48763.

ONCE YOUR CHILD CAN SAY "HELP," TEACH HIM HOW TO GET IT.

Dialing "O" for the operator in an emergency is so simple even a child can do it.

But you'd be surprised how many children don't know how—only because they haven't been taught.

That's why it's important to teach your children this emergency procedure as soon as they can understand it.

Dialing "O" is fast because there's only one digit to dial.

Dialing "O" is easy because it can be used for any emergency situation.

And dialing "O" alerts an operator who's specially trained to handle an emergency. That's particularly important if a younger child becomes confused or panics.

Older children can be taught to find the emergency service number in the telephone directory.

And, of course, make sure all your children know that phones aren't toys and shouldn't be played with.

Any child can get involved in an emergency. What's important is that they know how to get out of it.
