Laud Fire Departments for Past Performances

Three volunteer fire departments of Western Iosco County were honored Monday night by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 7435, Hale.

In recognition of the excellent performance of volunteer firemen over the years, certificates of appreciation were presented to Grant Township Fire Department, Plainfield Township Fire Department and the South Branch Fire Department.

In making the presentation, William Mills Sr., VFW commander, said that recognition was being given specifically for performance by the three departments during the forest fire season earlier this year.

On May 5, a forest fire set by the United States Forest Service burned out of control and roared through 25,000 acres of timberland in neighboring Ogemaw and Oscoda Counties. Volunteer firemen of South Branch and Plainfield Township responded to assist federal and state agencies to combat the blaze.

At the same time, Grant Township firemen had their hands full in fighting a 300-acre forest fire near Island Lake which threatened numerous homes in that area.

"All three of the departments performed wonderfully," said Commander Mills. "Too often people forget the public service of these dedicated volunteer firemen and we are offering this special recognition and our highest praise on behalf of all citizens, to the three departments for protecting life and property."

Accepting the certificates on behalf of the firemen were Duane Caverly, Plainfield Township fire chief; Dwight Holman, South Branch fire chief; Allen Emry, Grant Township fire chief.

The presentations were made during the regular practice session of the Plainfield Township Fire Department at its fire hall in Hale.

Michael Jones New T. Hospital Chief

Michael Jones was named Tuesday by the board of trustees as the new administrator of Tawas Hospital. He is to assume the position December 1.

Since the resignation July 1 of Paul Dude, who left the position to become president of the Southwestern Michigan Hospital Council, Craig Miller has been acting director of the hospital. When the new administrator arrives, Miller is to resume duties as vice president of Flint St. Joseph Hospital.

Jones graduated from the University of Michigan in 1973 with a master degree in hospital administration. He then served as a health facilities planner with East Central Health Planning Council at Saginaw until 1975, became assistant administrator at Tolfree Memorial Hospital at West Branch and, in 1978, was named administrator of Oceana Hospital, Hart, where is currently employed.

He and his wife, Debra, have a three-year-old daughter.

Hale School OK's Salary Package

Hale Area Board of Education granted an 8 1/2 percent increase Monday night in settling contractual terms with non-bargaining unit employees of the school district. Involved are five 12-month employees and one nine-month employee.

The 12-month employees were granted long term disability and vision terms and the nine-month employee received vision benefits only.

In other matters, the board adopted a resolution requiring all students to have inoculation records completed or in the process of completion by January or face suspension from school in compliance with state law.

Contracts were awarded on the purchase of two new 66-passenger buses costing a total of $26,313 each. Boyce Company of Traverse City is to furnish two Carpenter bus bodies at a cost of $11,014 each and Miscisin Brothers of Standish is to furnish two bus chassis at a cost of $15,299 each.

The offered donation of a video tape camera by Hale Hardware was accepted by the board of education for use in the education program.

One board member is to accompany Supt. Peter Holley December 16 at a hearing before the state department of education concerning the transfer of property out of the school district.

Township firemen had their hands full in fighting a 300-acre forest fire near Island Lake which threatened numerous homes in that area.

"All three of the departments performed wonderfully," said Commander Mills. "Too often people forget the public service of these dedicated volunteer firemen and we are offering this special recognition and our highest praise on behalf of all citizens, to the three departments for protecting life and property."

Accepting the certificates on behalf of the firemen were Duane Caverly, Plainfield Township fire chief; Dwight Holman, South Branch fire chief; Allen Emry, Grant Township fire chief.

The presentations were made during the regular practice session of the Plainfield Township Fire Department at its fire hall in Hale.

Hale Veterans' Posts Held Memorial Service

After several years of agitation by veterans organizations, observance of Veterans' Day was returned to November 11. To mark the occasion, two veterans organizations of the Hale area joined together yesterday (Tuesday) to hold a memorial service in front of the Plainfield Township Hall.

At 11:00 a. m., November 11, 1919, an armistice was signed ending World War I, the costliest war in history of man in terms of numbers involved and lives lost, both civilian and military.

Armistice Day had been observed as a national holiday to pay tribute to the dead of that war, until 1954, when the designation was changed to Veterans' Day. Later, politicians in their wisdom, changed the date of the observance to the second Monday in November.

Joining in the service were boy scouts and girl scouts of the Needs Assessment Under TA Review

Several areas of necessary curriculum improvements surfacing during a recent career needs assessment conducted by Prin. Jerry Youngs have coincided with board of education findings, according to a report given Monday night at the regular meeting of Tawas Area Board of Education.

The report indicated that one of the principal needs was a student awareness of the different occupational fields open to them as well as improvements in the field of health education.

This assessment conducted by Youngs surveyed 424 students, 515 parents and 75 staff members. Involved were grades six, eight, 10 and 12.

The report stressed that students should be able to understand ideas through reading, basic mathematical skills, acquire knowledge and experience in the sciences, develop decision making skills through creative thinking and develop knowledge and an appreciation of the environment.

"Some of the deficiencies shown in this survey were the same as found by the board of education during its door-to-door survey conducted last summer. Basically, the school is doing a good job, but additional emphasis is needed in certain areas," said the superintendent.

Information gained through both surveys is to be studied by the staff and board of education to consider ranking of areas to be emphasized.

In addition to the needs assessment, the board of education heard a report Monday night on results of the California Achievement Test given these same students earlier this year. The national test showed that students of this district had shown a seven percent improvement over the preceding year.

Tawas Area School students ranked high in mathematics, followed by reading and language skills. This was the same order as the previous term. In mathematics, 74.8 percent of the students were at or above grade level, 69.2 percent were at or above grade level in reading and 67.4 percent were at or above grade level in language skills.

The most serious deficiency was in spelling where 63.1 percent ranked at or above grade level.

Dighera noted that although both students and teachers may be more familiar concerning questions to be asked in the tests, he felt that the improvement was mainly due to the additional emphasis being placed in areas of the curriculum.

In other matters, Trustee James Russo, board policy chairman, reported on policy revisions and said that several changes would be presented to the board for study.

An executive session was held to consider a student appeal. The student had been permitted to stay in school under a contractual arrangement, but expulsion was upheld by the board of education because of a marijuana apprehension and the fact that the student set a fire in one of the rest-rooms.

The board of education is to request the county board of commissioners to resubmit the pegged millage proposal which was defeated by voters at the November 4 election. It was felt that voters did not fully understand the question in that additional tax millage was not being requested, but that the tax rate as previously established under the 15-mill tax limitation and "pegged" four years ago by voters be continued.

Four bids were received for the purchase of a 1972 Ford bus, ranging from $501.90 to $578.09. Bids were received from churches in North Carolina, Florida, Hale and Brighton. Bids are to be reviewed before action is taken.

City Manager Busy With Two Federal Applications

As the result of a meeting Monday with a representative of Farmers Home Administration, City Mgr. Lowell Thomas started work preparing an application for a $175,000 FmHA loan to finance construction of a new fire station.

This project was given overwhelming support by voters in the November 4 general election.

Federal money had been committed previously to aid in financing a city hall, fire hall, library project which was rejected twice by voters. City officials learned that the offer was to be honored until December of this year.

Thomas said Monday that he would ask the city council to exercise its land purchase options acquired from the Detroit and Mackinac Railway and from William Borosch to provide a fire hall site at the intersection of Fourth Avenue and Mathews Street.

Boundary lines established by surveying the property were checked Monday morning by Thomas, Carl Babcock and Borosch.

Thomas said that an agreement between the architectural consultant and the city would also be presented at the next council meeting for action.

The city manager said that extensive "paper work" would be required for the FmHA application. Also received in the mail Monday morning was a final application for LWC funds to aid in financing development at the mouth of the Tawas River. This project has been approved by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, but approval by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service has not been obtained as yet.

Thomas said that one matter remains to be resolved before final state approval can be given. This involves an historical survey at the river mouth to determine if there are any archaeological sites on the city-owned property.

Because of changes in the shore line through action by nature and man, the city does not believe that anything of historical interest remains.

New Legislation Aimed at Combining Intermediates

The often-discussed reorganization of intermediate school districts of Michigan is again shaping up for proposed legislation at Lansing.

Supt. Allan Dighera told members of Tawas Area Board of Education Monday night that Sen. Kerrie Kammer was to introduce a revised version of his Senate Bill 873 this week concerning reorganization of intermediate school districts.

When he proposed his original bill earlier this year it called for reducing the more than 50 districts to 22. Following public hearings around the state and meetings with school officials around the state, his revised bill calls for 36 districts.

Under the latest proposal, Dighera said that Tawas Area School District would become a part of Bay-Arenac Intermediate School District. That arrangement has not been met with enthusiasm by either the Bay-Arenac or local school officials, but Dighera said that the proposed bill had "bent the lines" in order to meet local wishes as closely as possible.

He said that Tawas Area School had cooperated closely with Bay-Arenac for a number of years. Proposed reorganization of intermediate school districts has been considered as a cost-effective program to save tax dollars and to improve services.

House Destroyed Grant Twp.

A two-story house owned by Willard Hayes on Carpenter Road, Grant Township, burned to the ground Friday night despite efforts of Grant Township Fire Department.

Fire Chief Allen Emry said the blaze was discovered by a neighbor, who called the fire department. An adjacent garage was saved by firemen.

Oscoda Teachers Return; School Bd. Studies Report

Following Monday night's regular meeting, Oscoda Area Board of Education adjourned to an executive session to review a report from a fact finding assigned by the Michigan Employment Relations Commission to aid in resolving current problems with teacher negotiations.

Bruce Myles, board president, said Tuesday that the report was referred to the board's finance committee for further study and review.

In part, the fact finder, Dr. Walter Nussbaum of Southfield, advised the board to grant salary increases to teachers and not to wait for a determination later concerning the amount of state funds to be received by the district. Should such funds not meet the budget, Nussbaum felt that cuts could be made at a later time.

Funding of Oscoda Area School District's operation was complicated earlier this year when the state deducted federal aid received by the district from its anticipated state membership aid. In addition, the school district has shared executive cuts in state aid with other school districts of the state during the economic slowdown which has generated less tax return to the state.

The salary dispute between the Oscoda Area Education Association was only one factor in negotiations as there has been contention over language governing teacher lay-off and grievance procedures.

Teachers have demanded a 10 percent increase in salaries, but the board of education offered a two percent increase now and more later this month when it knows how much state aid will be available to the district. The school has a 7.5-million-dollar operating budget.

In the meantime, however, Oscoda teachers returned to their classrooms Monday morning to end a strike which had closed schools since October 30.

An advisory vote taken Friday was to have defied the school board's ultimatum to return to work or face dismissal, but this action was later reversed by a second vote.

VETERANS' DAY

THE ABOVE SCENE will be repeated many times this week-end in the Iosco County area when nimrods trade bows for firearms. Should ideal weather conditions continue, the season starting Saturday morning should be one of the best in recent years.

Invite Public Comment on River Mouth Application

Public comments are invited during next Monday night's regular meeting when the Tawas City Council takes action on a final application for Land Water Conservation Act money to aid in financing construction of improvements at the mouth of the Tawas River.

Although the city awaits word from the United States Fish and Wildlife Service concerning its objection to the project, action must be taken Monday night by the council on the $80,000 application to meet a December 1 deadline.

Approval has been received from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, but the application is snagged at the federal level as the fish and wildlife service objects to filling in approximately four acres of lake bottom land.

Weddings and Engagements

Christ Episcopal Scene of Chartier-Starling Nuptials

In 4 o'clock rites Saturday, November 8, at Christ Episcopal Church, East Tawas, the Rev. Kenneth Near and the Rev. David Ruppe, brother-in-law of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony uniting Rande' Joann Starling and Bradley E. Chartier in marriage.

Miss Starling is the daughter of Gwendolyn Starling of Tawas City and Edgar M. Starling of Lake Wales, Florida. Mrs. Margaret Chartier of Flint and the late Alfred Chartier are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an ivory gown with silk Venice lace on the high collar, sheer bodice and long fitted sleeves. Lace also edged the hem extending to a long train. Babies breath adorned the bride's hair and she carried a cascade bouquet of silk gardenias, Stephanotis and babies breath.

Karen Ruppe of New York City, New York, served as her sister's matron of honor with Lynn Starling of Tawas City, another sister of the bride, and Mrs. Paul LaBay of Holland, Ohio, sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaids. They were attired in burnt orange knit gowns with V-necklines and gathered wrap-around skirts topped with sheer demi quarter length sleeves. They wore silk tiger lilies and babies breath in their hair. Also assisting the bride was Melissa Reitler.

Serving as best man was Paul LaBay, Brent Chartier of Flint, brother of the bridegroom, and Lee Starling, brother of the bride, were groomsmen. The bridegroom's nephew, Brandon LaBay was ring bearer and Keith and Scott Whetter of Farmington Hills seated guests.

The couple greeted 250 guests from Lansing, Traverse City, Mt. Pleasant, Detroit, Saginaw, Marquette, Denver, Colorado, and Toledo, Ohio, at a cocktail reception at the Wabun, Oscoda. Mrs. Starling wore a peach knit gown with accordion pleated overlay and rolled collar adorned with ivory Cattleya orchid corsage. Mrs. Chartier chose a dark floral print gown cut diagonally from the shoulder with double chiffon overlay. A purple Cattleya orchid enhanced her attire.

Mrs. Karl Cross, Mrs. David O'Farrell and Barbara Eppert hosted a shower in the Tawas area and Mrs. LaBay and Mrs. Rolland Hunt honored the bride at a shower in Flint.

The couple resides at 942 Parkway Drive, Tawas City.

McArdle-Kasischke Vows Repeated at IHM Church

Arrangements of fuji chrysanthemums and burgundy carnations in ornamental baskets adorned the altar of Immaculate Heart of Mary Church Saturday, November 8, for the marriage of Ann M. Kasischke and Frederick J. McArdle.

The Rev. Fr. Lawrence Boks performed the double ring ceremony and Jane Glancy and Janet Skinner, vocalists, were accompanied by Mary Byrd, organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kasischke of Tawas City are parents of the bride and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell McArdle of East Tawas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride descended the aisle in an Empire style white qiana gown featuring open neckline edged with imported Venice lace. Matching lace also enhanced the cuffs on the bishop sleeves. A Watteau train flowed to the floor and a scalloped veil was secured to a lace and pearl encrusted Juliet cap. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and pink roses and babies breath.

The parish hall was the scene of the reception for 350 guests. Mrs. Kasischke greeted guests in a daphne rose polyester knit gown with V-neckline, bodice and vest of open floral Alencon lace with matching lace on the cuffs of the chiffon sleeves. Mrs. McArdle chose a pink chiffon gown with round neckline, bodice and sleeves of schiffli pleats and flowing chiffon skirt. White orchid corsages enhanced their attire.

Miss Kasischke was honored at showers given by Miss Mooney and Miss Fernette; Mrs. Bolen, Mrs. Price and Patty Kasischke, and Joellen Storm, Judy Timreck and Doris Tomlinson.

The couple, graduates of Tawas Area High School, resides at 620 Maple Street, Tawas City.

Exchanged Vows at Port Austin

Mr. and Mrs. Roland F. Rabideau are residing at 1717 Kinney, Northwest, Walker, following a one week wedding trip to Maine.

The couple exchanged vows Saturday, November 1, at United Protestant Church, Port Austin, before the Rev. Arthur Krueger of Mt. Olive Lutheran Church, Walker. Martha Thuemmel was organist.

Mrs. Rabideau is the former Julie Kay Heins of Port Austin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Heins Jr. of Port Austin. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roland Rabideau of Tawas City.

A reception for 350 guests from Florida, Tennessee, Massachusetts, North Dakota, California, Indiana and Illinois followed the double ring ceremony at Conservation Club, Port Austin.

Escorted to the altar by her grandfather, the bride wore her mother's gown of ivory Chantilly lace over slipper satin with long fitted sleeves and fitted bodice forming basque waistline flowing to a gathered skirt with illusion inset in front and ruffled tier in back. An ivory fingertip veil of bridal mist was secured to a ring of ivory silk flowers.

Her bouquet was comprised of rose forget-me-nots, daisies and chrysanthemums.

Brenda Heins served as her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Richard Brown and Mrs. Michael Reed were bridesmaids. Miss Heins' gown was fashioned in pink lustrergo with scoop neckline, full sleeves gathered at the elbows and pleated skirt belted at the waistline. The bridesmaids wore identically styled gowns in rose. They carried bouquets of soft pink daisy chrysanthemums and ivory Stephanotis.

Richard Rabideau was his brother's best man and Dennis and Robert Hayes served as groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Heins wore a mauve chiffon gown with sheer blouson bodice over spaghetti strap camisole, sheer sleeves and shirred skirt. A wrist corsage of sweetheart roses, ivory Stephanotis and miniature carnations enhanced her gown. Mrs. Rabideau chose a formal length beige two-piece dress with silver beadwork at the neckline adorned with a pink carnation corsage. The bride's grandmother was attired in a lilac polyester gown adorned with a

The Great American Forest

GROWING MORE TREES

The great American forest means trees for tomorrow and tomorrow after that. This article is part of a series based on information from the American Forest Institute to help keep people better informed on how important our forests are.

It's no accident that the most productive forests in America are those owned and managed by the forest industry.

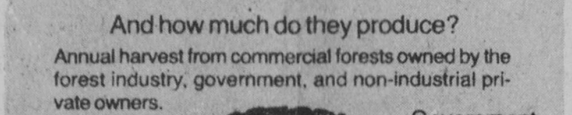

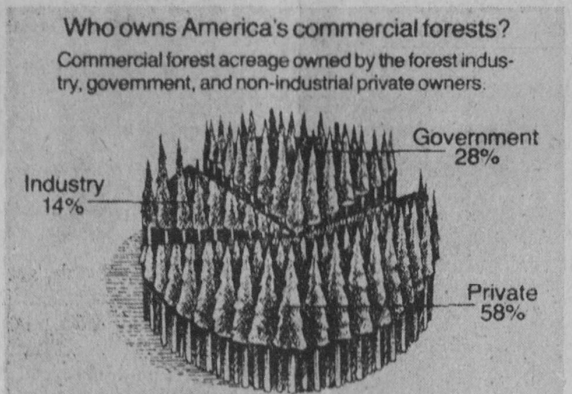

Although they make up only 14 percent of the commercial forestland, they provide 29 percent of the annual timber harvest.

This is because the industry has learned that it's not only possible to grow more trees faster, but also imperatively.

It's a race against time: Every year Americans need more lumber and plywood to build homes, more furniture to make them liveable, more paper and pulp to print the books and periodicals that educate, enlighten and entertain, more packaging and containers for thousands of essentials, from milk to machinery.

The sobering fact is that within 50 years U.S. demand for wood and paper products is expected to double, yet not all the nation's commercial forests are working equally hard to get ready.

Commercial forest, as defined by the U.S. Forest Service, is all forestland—whether owned by individuals, government or the forest industry—that is capable of, and potentially available for, growing repeated crops of trees for harvest. It includes land in National Forests but not in National Parks or Wilderness areas.

On all commercial forestland, tree growth per acre averages only 61 percent of potential, which is not good enough. The greatest room for improvement, however, is in National Forests, where trees now grow at only 48 percent of potential.

As the industry has shown, however, the growth cycle can be speeded by applying such techniques as: encouraging natural re-growth, planting superior seeds and seedlings, fertilizing, thinning and protecting and fire.

Since we clearly have the know-how to grow more and higher-quality trees, how soon can this nation get on with the job of increasing productivity on all commercial forestlands?

The first step is to understand the problem. If you'd like to learn more about the importance of America's forests and the challenges they face, you can send for a free booklet, "The Great American Forest." Write American Forest Institute, P.O. Box 37430, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Nutrition And You

Your Personal Nutritional Needs

Unlike the laws of physics which apply to us equally, nutritional requirements vary from person to person. Many factors interfere when it comes to nutrition's "universal truths." That is why many people misunderstand the U.S. "Recommended Daily Allowances" (USRDA).

The USRDA is a general guideline, established by the government, which focuses on preventing deficiency diseases in the larger population. However, there is no way to recommend a single diet or program of supplementation that could provide each of us with optimum nutritional health.

It is also important to remember that these guidelines are for "satisfactory" health—that is, the absence of illness or disease. While it can't be scientifically defined, "optimum health" means much more—stamina, vitality, and a sense of well-being conducive to a long, active life. Nutrition is essential to this ideal health condition.

Americans can do much better than to meet the USRDA guidelines, but our diet has been deteriorating in some important ways since the beginning of this century, according to the Science & Technology Department of Shalkee Corporation.

Even with our increased affluence, many people are getting less than the recommended nutrients, and adolescents and the elderly are at greatest risk. Dieting Americans, at any time about half of our population, cut calories at the expense of their nutrient intake. Stress and physical exercise also create additional nutritional demands.

Many scientists believe that the USRDA guidelines do not apply to all of us at all times. Nutrition is always a personal matter. We should each pay close attention to our changing personal patterns and nutritional requirements.

Recruiter Won

State Award

SSgt. Mark A. Holthus, United States Air Force recruiter, Federal Building, East Tawas, won the top recruiter award for 3554th Squadron for outstanding performance in Michigan during October.

The monthly award is bestowed to the recruiter with the most outstanding job performance. It will be presented to Sergeant Holthus by TSgt. James P. Purcell Jr., his supervisor.

Holthus has been a recruiter with the Air Force in East Tawas for four months. He resides locally with his wife, Kathleen.

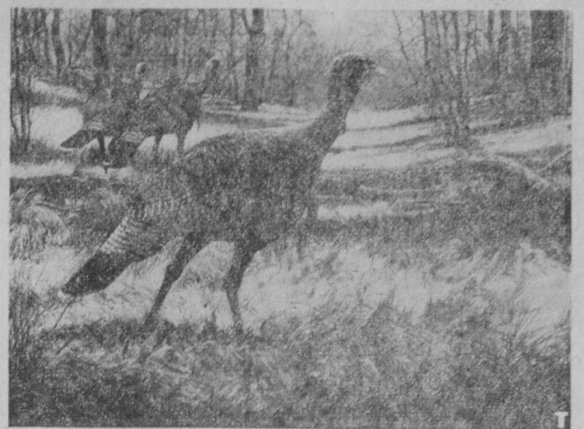

ET Firemen Saved House from Total Destruction

Fast action on the part of East Tawas Volunteer Fire Department Sunday afternoon is credited with saving an East Tawas home from complete destruction from a fire, believed to be started by children playing with matches in an upstairs bedroom.

The Larry Wingrove home sustained about $7,500 worth of damage in the blaze.

AMERICA'S HERITAGE

NATIONAL WILD TURKEY WEEK: NOV. 16-22

"The Silent Stroll," a painting by American artist James A. Brooks, depicts America's majestic big-game bird in a wooded river bottom.

Until lately the wild turkey was a rare bird. It once, however, numbered in the millions.

Thanks to massive live-trapping and transplanting of wild native stock, that downward trend has been halted. Still, the turkey's future may not be so bright.

To call attention to the bird's present-day plight, the National Wild Turkey Federation (NWTFF) is sponsoring National Wild Turkey Day and Week the third week in November. (Thanksgiving is National Turkey Day.)

An organization devoted to defining wild turkey problems and seeking solutions, the National Wild Turkey Federation was founded in 1973. It is the nation's only nonprofit organization dedicated to the wise management and conservation of the wild natural things and areas valuable and should be available to every American through wise conservation and management. Free leaflets may be obtained by writing the National Wild Turkey Federation, Edgefield, South Carolina 29824.

Court Granted Change of Venue

Change of venue in a breach of warranty suit originally entered in Wayne County Circuit Court has been transferred to the 23rd Judicial Circuit in Iosco County.

Norma J. and Gerald Vanderport of Mikado are seeking damages of more than one million dollars against Federal Press, a foreign corporation which provided a stamping press at the Phoenix Division of Hedblom Industries of Oscoda.

Mrs. Vanderport lost three fingers of her right hand while operating the press and asks damages of $1,000,000. Her husband seeks damages of $200,000. Two other suits filed in Iosco Circuit Court include one by Grant Township versus Reynold Kendall and another by John Wesniewski of Roscommon versus Edward D. Knight.

Grant Township seeks to force Kendall to remove a fire damaged mobile home, debris and junk from his property in Quiet Acres Subdivision. A show cause hearing has been scheduled for November 25.

Wesniewski seeks damages of $50,000 against Knight, former owner of the Bay House, East Tawas. He claims that on September 15, 1977, he fell into an open stairway and was injured.

Canvassers Still at Work

71 Pct. of Iosco's Voters Cast Ballots in General Election

Election-1980 does not come to an official close locally until Iosco County Canvassing Board completes its work of reviewing tabulations by the various units. The night of November 4 and morning of November 5 were tiring for local election board workers. The job of counting ballots, starting around 8:00 p.

m. in most precincts, lasted from three to 15 hours. Polls of Plainfield Township did not cast the last ballot on voting machines until 8:45, because of a long line of voters. The first unit to report its results to the Iosco County Clerk's Office was Baldwin Township, 1:00 a. m. on Wednesday; the last precinct, Ausable Township, did not report its results until 12 o'clock noon. County Clerk D. Keith Pappas said that 12,020 voters out of a total registration list of 16,929 went to the polls on November 4. This represented a turnout of 71 percent of the registered voters. The highest percentage was recorded by Tawas City, 85 percent, where a fire hall proposal helped to create additional interest, and the lowest was recorded by Wilber Township, 60.4 percent. Tawas City had 979 voters and Wilber had 269. Records of other units were Alabaster Township, 311 voters, 74.3 percent; Ausable Township, 1,093 voters, 68.8 percent; Baldwin Township, 822 voters, 78.4 percent; Burleigh Township, 312 voters, 79.2 percent; Grant Township, 548 voters, 73.3 percent; Oscoda, 3,325 voters, 65.6 percent; Plainfield Township, 1,656, 69.9 percent; Reno, 229 voters, 73.9 percent; Sherman, 223 voters, 76.4 percent; Tawas Township, 648 voters, 67.3 percent; East Tawas, 1,517 voters, 77.2 percent; Whittemore, 168 voters, 64 percent.

Iosco County voters followed the nation in favoring Ronald Reagan and George Bush over Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale, 6,886 to 4,256. John Anderson and Patrick Lucey received 739 votes, Edward Clark and David Koch received 117, Barry Commoner and LaDonna Harris received 20 and the ticket of Gus Hall and Angela Davis received but one ballot. Cong. Robert Davis, who was re-elected in the 11th District, was given Iosco County's best margin for any national or state candidate, defeating Dan Dorriety, Democrat, 7,636-2,995.

Voters were splitting their tickets both ways as indicated by Tom Alley's 6,746-4,220 win over C. Warren Wagner, Republican, for the 105th District post in the state legislature. Alley was returned to Lansing by district voters. The four races at the county level saw incumbents winning easily. Stephen Naegele, Republican, defeated Walter Schultz, Democrat, for prosecuting attorney, 6,135-4,223; Sheriff George Westcott, Republican, won over George Naumowicz, Democrat, 7,952-3,245; John D. Webb Jr., Fifth District member of the county board of commissioners defeated his Democratic challenger, Robert Pember, 1,349-1,174; Marian Ulman, Fourth District county commissioner, defeated her Democratic challenger, Boynton St. James, 1,509-955.

Totals received by unopposed county officers included: Pappas, county clerk, 8,004; Edward Nelkie, county treasurer, 8,139; Leon Putnam, register of deeds, 8,184; Harry Krueger, drain commissioner, 7,765. Iosco County voters rejected a proposal to "peg" the tax rate for another five years, which will probably see another vote at a future time. The proposal had 5,294 "yes" votes and 5,425 persons voted "no." This was not a proposal to raise taxes. (See ELECTION, page 6.)

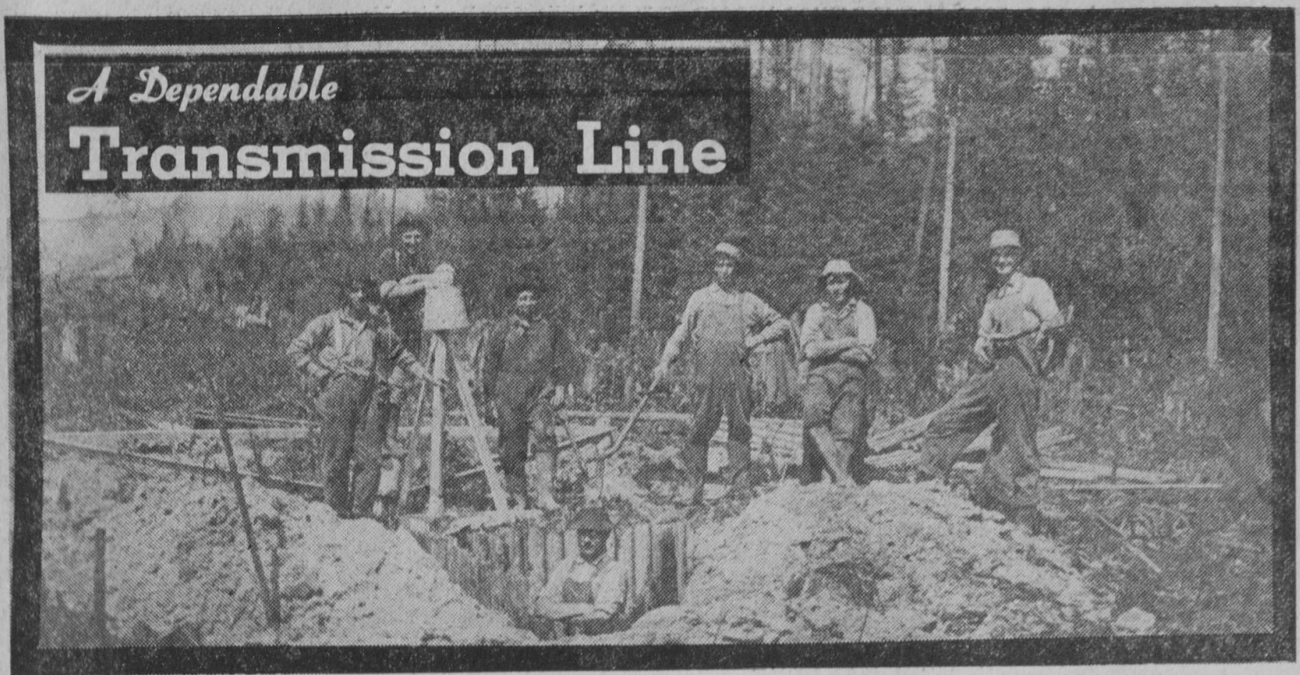

LEONARD GOTTLERBER retires December 1 after spending 42 years as an employee of the Iosco County Road Commission. He has been purchasing agent since 1938.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Veteran Rd. Commission Employee Retires Dec. 1

Leonard Gottleber, 65, has not been around as long as his employer, the Iosco County Road Commission, but he is the county's oldest employee in terms of years of service and he was around when the original county garage was dedicated in 1938. That year of 1938 saw Gottleber being hired on April 25, to be exact, by Jesse Sloan, the road commission's first engineer-manager. Since then, he has worked under one superintendent, three engineers and three engineer-managers. His first job 42 years ago was with the county's bridge building crew and later helped build the county garage at Whittemore in 1939. But the latter was only a temporary job for he became the road commission's purchasing agent on November 2, 1938, and has held the position continuously since then. The one exception to the above statement was time out for military service from January 1945 to October of 1946. Following training at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia, he wound up as a heavy equipment instructor with the army corps of engineers north of Clark Field in the Philippine Islands, earning the rank of staff sergeant. In late 1946, Gottleber resumed his job interrupted by World War II as purchasing agent for the road commission.

Following Sloan's tragic death in an automobile accident on the bridge over the East Branch of the AuGres River, John Henry became road commission superintendent and the next three engineers included Robert Glancy, Rodney Meade and Jerry Trout. Otis Love became the next engineer and was promoted to engineer-manager after Henry's retirement. James Delahanty then served as engineer-manager and the post is currently held by Allen Buchanan. Gottleber has witnessed many changes in the road building and maintenance field during his 42 years with the commission. There are actually fewer people working for the road commission today than when he started, but this is readily attributable to the fact that there are more hard-surfaced roads today requiring less maintenance. Another change came two years ago when the road commission moved into its new headquarters on M-55. While a new breed of rugged diesel trucks and heavy equipment today requires an entirely different stock of replacement parts, Gottleber points out that the road commission has always maintained an excellent fleet of equipment, even though its mechanics worked overtime during wartime shortages to keep everything running.

As purchasing agent, he has not placed an order in years for calcium chloride dust control agents and handwork by the crew on claying road shoulders is a thing of the past, but it still requires the same number of scraper blades, tires and spare parts to keep the equipment operating. Born October 14, 1915, in Baldwin Township, he attended the brick school on Monument Road, which now serves as the township hall, and his first job was working at the Tawas Beach Club. He later worked for Webber Construction Company of Bay City and the Chevrolet Motor Division before joining the road commission. Honored last week at a retirement party held at the Bear Track, he was presented with a new watch from his fellow employees and a plaque from the road commission. He and his wife, Alma, plan to vacation in Florida this winter and they are looking forward to a tour of the western states. They have two children, a son, Neil of Grand Rapids, and a daughter, Nancy Goebel of Denton near Kalamazoo. They have two grandchildren. Succeeding Gottleber as the new purchasing agent for the road commission will be William Cholger, who has been a heavy truck driver with the county for the past 7½ years.

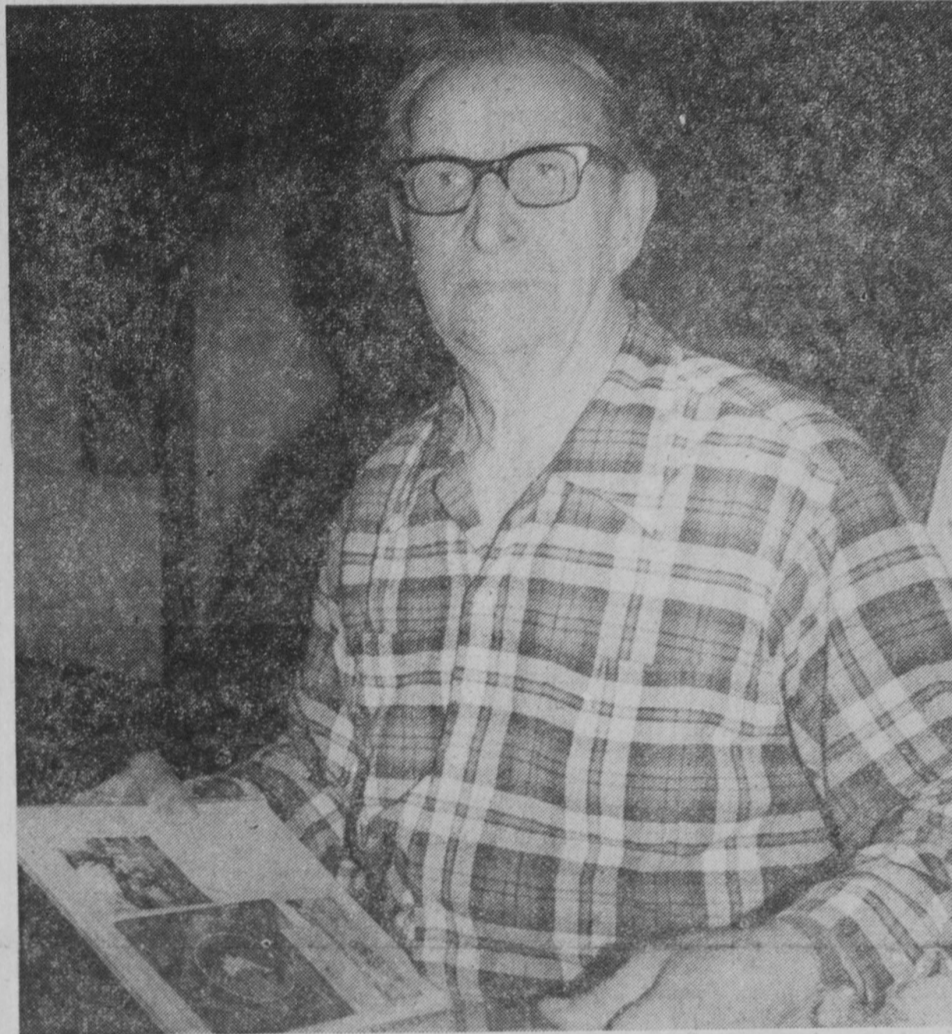

A TEMPLATE CREW is at work here in 1911 preparing footings for a high-tension line through Wilber Township. Andrew Anschuetz, who spent a year on the project, is at right.

One of the most remarkable construction projects in Northern Michigan's history is nearing its 70th anniversary and a Baldwin Township retiree recalls that his participation in the work represented one of his first "paid jobs" away from home. Andrew Anschuetz, retired carpenter, now 89 years of age, was hired by a contractor in 1911-12 to help clear the right-of-way for the 140,000-volt Ausable River-Owosso transmission line which provided communities along the route with electricity generated at Cooke Dam.

The line, designed by J. B. Foote in 1910, was built and placed in service in a matter of one year's time and has operated all these years with only minor revision. As a youngster born in 1892 in Tawas Township, attending the Laidlawville School and then walking daily to attend school in Tawas City, Anschuetz learned early in life of the hard work and man-sized responsibilities of working in the woods. "I learned to pull a crosscut saw at a young age," he recalls.

His father, C. Henry Anschuetz, operated a sawmill on Cold Creek and Andrew worked in the nearby woods each winter helping his father and brothers get out a supply of Norway and white pine logs to provide stock for their lumber manufacturing operation.

His grandfather, John Leopold Anschuetz, a gunsmith by trade, was an early day pioneer of Tawas Township, coming here in the late 1860s from Saginaw County after emigrating from Germany. Andrew's first deer hunting experience was with a muzzle-loading rifle hand crafted by his grandfather. Harnessing the Ausable River to generate electricity was the single most important event in Iosco County's history during the first decade of this century and Andrew was a member of a crew numbering more than 50 men hired to clear the right-of-way running through Wilber Township for the new transmission line. "We slept in tents and shanties, were paid $2 a day for 10 hours of work and we really earned our pay around Indian Creek—that area was filled with rattlesnakes," he recalls. Nearby farm families provided most of the manpower and horsepower for this work and jobs provided by the giant project were greatly appreciated as other employment was at a minimum.

Anschuetz was later employed by the contractor for Eastern Michigan Power Company to dig holes for the concrete footings on which the steel transmission towers were erected. These "template crews" were required to follow specifications to the "T," in order to insure that the prefabricated steel towers fit perfectly on the anchoring foundations. Electrical power generated at Cooke Dam, beginning February 2, 1912, was carried on copper cables strung on the steel towers about 45 feet in height. "Everything worked according to specifications and, without any commotion, the turning on of the power was accomplished," commented The Tawas Herald in its issue of February 9, 1912.

Both took an active part in functions of the Andrew Klinger Barracks composed of World War I veterans and their wives. The organization once numbered 26 members, but is now inactive because of the passing of World War I veterans. One of his greatest joys in life today is recalling past experiences for his grandchildren and visitors and among his prized possessions are a number of family photo albums which he and his wife assembled over the years. He hopes that one member of the new generation will take an interest in family genealogy as he recently obtained a list of names of the Anschuetz family living in Michigan and Wisconsin.

AN ENGINEERING MARVEL early in this century is still in use today and it has been practically maintenance-free for nearly 70 years. Towers carrying electrical power from hydroelectric dams on the Ausable River were installed in a matter of a year.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Delta College Planetarium Plans Shows

The planetarium at Delta College is preparing for the presentation of three shows in the next three months to provide the tri-county area with information relative to the most recent astronomical developments. The shows are designed to provide a mixture of entertaining and academic endeavors for youths at the preschool and elementary levels, as well as the adult audience.

Programs to be shown are now through November 26, a fall show; a special Christmas show, December 8-19, and a winter program, January 19-May 1.

For further information and reservations, call Marlene Sundberg, 686-9227. Admission to the planetarium is free.

WITH CONTINENTAL, THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS A DISTANT RELATIVE.

Your third cousin twice removed may be in Florida. But he's as close to you as your family right here in town. When you call long distance.

And if you dial direct without operator assistance, you won't have to spend much money to spend a little time with him.

For example, a three-minute call from Devil's Lake, North Dakota to Jacksonville, Florida will cost you no more than $1.24, excluding federal and local taxes.

And those are just our regular 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. rates. If you call during one of our bargain calling periods (weekends and week nights after 5 P.M.) you can save up to 60% off our regular rates.

So if there's too much distance between you and your favorite relatives, pick up your phone.

And let Continental bring your family a little closer together.

Regular Meeting—Tawas City Council

October 20, 1980

Meeting called to order at 7:30 PM at the City Hall by Mayor Westcott.

Present: Lansky, Martin, Pawloski, Upson, Westcott, Keiser, Absent: Hayes.

Others: Manager Thomas, Supt. Look.

Public Hearing on establishment of expanded Commercial Redevelopment District opened, having been duly noticed. Manager explained again the distinctions between a CRD and a DDA. No objections being heard. Public Hearing was closed.

Resolution offered by Keiser, supported by Pawloski, that WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Tawas City recognizes the importance of a healthy and thriving business community to the economic welfare of the City, and WHEREAS, Act 255 of the Public Acts of 1978 provides an incentive for the improvement and expansion of commercial properties through exemption from certain taxes; now, therefore, BE IT RESOLVED, that pursuant to said Act, the City Council does find and determine that all that property in Tawas City zoned for commercial or industrial use pursuant to said Act and buildings used for commercial or industrial purposes on or before October 20, 1980, bounded on the east by the City limits, on the southeast by Tawas Bay, on the south and west by the City limits, and on the northwest by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway right-of-way, excepting that parcel previously established as a Commercial Redevelopment District by resolution of Council on September 8, 1980, meets the requirements set forth in Section 5 of said Act, and FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City Council does hereby establish the area described above as Commercial Redevelopment District No. 2, pursuant to said Act 255, Public Acts of 1978; roll call vote: unanimous yes.

Minutes of October 6 meeting approved.

John Brugger addressed Council, requesting rezoning of parts of Blocks 14 and 16, Wheeler's Second Addition, from industrial to commercial. Council will refer the proposal to Planning Commission for Public Hearing on November 20.

Leonard Hosbach read letter from Commercial Improvement Committee reaffirming its support of establishment of a DDA. Manager reported findings of his survey of three other communities which have operating DDA's, without necessity of taxing extra millage for their operation. Following further discussion, Ordinance No. 205, as introduced at September 15 meeting and Public Hearing, adopted on motion by Keiser, seconded by Pawloski, to be effective October 30; roll call vote: unanimous yes. Mayor requested suggestions of people willing to serve on the Board be submitted to him by Council before November 3.

Manager announced plan for rebidding on Transportation Fund Bonds for bridge money set for November 3, as no bids were received for October 20 opening, probably due to current economic conditions.

Motion by Keiser seconded by Westcott that the sum of $150 be appropriated from the surplus and unappropriated funds of the General Fund for a contribution for support of the Isoco County Historical Museum; roll call vote: unanimous yes.

Resolution approving project plan for Tawas Plating's proposed pre-treatment facility, as requested by Michigan Job Development Authority, offered by Keiser, supported by Pawloski; roll call vote: unanimous yes. (Full text, Supp. Bk., p. 90.)

Council accepted Parks & Recreation Board and Planning Commission recommendations against sale of lot on Matthews Street at the River, due to its use as fishing access.

Consensus of Council was that an oral reading of minutes at each meeting would be an unnecessary waste of time, two members stating that it wouldn't hurt.

Resolution declaring this week to be Tawas Area High School Marching Band Week in Tawas City in recognition of the Band's achieving first place in recent competition, offered by Pawloski, supported by Lansky, unanimously adopted. (Full text, Supp. Bk., p. 91.)

Manager reported DNR approval of pre-application for Rivermouth development LWC Funds, in the amount of $80,000, but the project could be jeopardized by U. S. Fish & Wildlife filing an objection with Corps of Engineers.

Bridge construction bids were let by the State October 15, the combined bid of $277,774.75 offered by Great Lakes Contractors, Warren, being somewhat below the latest engineers' estimate. The local share has increased to approximately $69,720, greatest part of increase due to State requirement that City pay $4,700 for off-site testing of materials.

Draft of Comprehensive Personnel Policy distributed for discussion November 3.

Council authorized Supt. Look to try out a used mowing machine which is available for purchase.

DOT report on study of speeds on U. S. 23 recommends lowering limit to 45 mph .3 mile further southwest than presently, but does not recommend lower speed limits anywhere on U. S. 23 in the City.

Beckett Raeder Rankin, Inc. letter with suggestions for street-scape improvements distributed for Council study.

Motion by Westcott seconded by Keiser that Manager work with Fire Chief Blust on taking bids for sale of 1948 Ford fire engine; roll call vote: unanimous yes.

Isoco County Board of Supervisors accepted the offer of the City of East Tawas of a large parcel of land near Tawas Lake for a new county airport.

Soviet Foreign Commissar

as, if adopted, it would have continued the same allocation of taxes to the county, schools and townships as established under the 15-mill limitation by previous voter action. Regardless of action by voters, 15 mills of taxes will still be assessed and, unless the question is resolved at some future time, an allocation board must be appointed in 1982 to divide the millage.

Isoco County voters followed the state trend on proposed constitutional amendments on all but one issue. Voters here favored Proposal D (Tisch), 5,788-5,699. Other proposals were defeated as follows: A, 8,396-2,774; B, 6,631-4,767; C, 7,524-3,945; E, 7,136-3,931; G, 6,851-4,145; H, 5,840-5,019.

Jackson Named Perchville King for '81

During the conferences, report cards will be given to the parents to take home to the children.

Molotov has announced that the Soviets will have atomic energy and that the atom bomb must not be kept secret by the United States.

Ambulance Cost Escalation Feared

Fears over a possible escalation in ambulance costs were expressed by members of the Isoco County Board of Commissioners at Wednesday's meeting.

Discussion on the ambulance service is to be discussed at the next commission meeting, particularly concerning a proposed new contract with Oscoda Ambulance Service and bills submitted on the quarterly deficit for operation of the Tawas Hospital ambulance service.

Commissioners pointed out Wednesday that the proposed new contract with the ambulance service at Oscoda contains no limitation on the amount of operational deficit to be borne by the county. The same is true for the ambulance operational deficit at Tawas Hospital.

A bill from Tawas Hospital requested payment of $7,556.77 as the first quarter deficit and projected a $21,160.77 deficit for the second quarter.

Com. Carlton Merschel expressed the opinion that the county may have to ask voters for a special tax levy to finance the deficit of the two ambulance services.

Deer Season Opens

FIREARMS SEASON on whitetail deer opens Saturday morning and any deer hunter would be proud to claim a buck like the one pictured at left. Isosco County's deer herd came through last winter in excellent condition and it is expected that the deer kill here will be the highest in a number of years. Area highways have taken their toll of deer and numerous automobiles have been collisions with the animals. Poachers have also been active in the area. Hunters are reminded that an insulator on a power pole certainly does not look like a buck and all hunters should refrain from using the insulators for target practice. One slug placed in the wrong spot can cut off power for an entire region, risking lives and property damage.

PWP Held Pot-Luck Dinner

A Thanksgiving pot-luck was hosted for Parents Without Partners Sunday, November 9, at the home of Judy Eberline. A rummage sale is slated for Saturday, November 15, to add to the activities for the month. Members are also reminded of the roller-skating party Wednesday, November 19, from 6:00-9:00 p. m. at Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

During the recent regional conference, hosted by the local chapter, three Tawas area persons were named to offices for the Wolverine Region. Warren Chapter presented two informative workshops to members present from Bay City, Saginaw and Midland.

AL Auxiliary Birthday Observed

In honor of the birthday of Audie Johnson American Legion Auxiliary No. 211, the post members hosted a steak dinner Wednesday, November 5. The fall centerpiece was won by Rose Haglund.

The auxiliary will serve an old-fashioned Christmas dinner to Legionnaires and their families Wednesday, December 3, 6:00 p. m.

Winner of the mystery package was Fred Look.

Daughters of 1812 Held Meeting at Frankenmuth

Bavarian Inn, Frankenmuth, was the scene of the Michigan Society of United States Daughters of 1812 board meeting November 5. Interest was shown in locating and marking 12 graves of veterans of 1812, known to be buried in Saginaw County.

The National 1812 House in Washington, D. C., came under discussion and $50 given for furnace repairs.

Delegates and alternates to the National Council April 11-

14, 1981, will be appointed by Mrs. Andrew Domson Jr., president. Maralyse Brooks of St. Johns is general chairman of the 1981 state council at Kellogg Center, East Lansing, to be held at the convenience of Mrs. Charles G. Holle, president general.

A bus tour to the Indian schools, financed in part by patriotic organizations, will be a combined effort of Daughters of the American Revolution and Daughters of 1812.

State Should Review Proposals

Following rejection of Proposal D last week by Michigan voters, Robert Tisch vowed he would again submit a tax-cutting plan to voters at the next state election. That may well be, but if his next proposal is as radical as the last, it does not stand much chance of passage.

Although all three tax proposals were soundly defeated, the Michigan Legislature surely should finally come to the realization that some manner of tax reform is needed in this state and that the elected lawmakers body at Lansing has shirked its constitutional obligation for a number of years by not resolving the question.

Tax reform may be a political hot potato, but if the legislature does not address the problem during the upcoming year, some demagogue—either a Tisch or a Headlee—will again present a radical constitutional amendment to the people which may not strike out at the polls.

With a Republican governor and a Democrat-controlled legislature—despite the GOP conservative landslide nationally—a bipartisan committee should be appointed in the legislature to work out a compromise solution to better distribute the manner in which taxes are raised to finance governmental and school operations at the state level.

There were some excellent ideas presented in each of the three proposed constitutional amendments—the only problem was that the cure was worse than the illness. Michigan would have been crippled by Tisch's "meat axe" surgery and a more reasonable solution is required.

One solution might be to shift some of the taxation burden from property to income, re-statement of the state sales tax on food and drugs and possibly increasing the "nuisance" taxes on beer, liquor and cigarettes.

But, above all, the legislature should recognize the conservative tide which swept away a number of big name officeholders in last week's election. Voters believed what President Ronald Reagan was saying about getting big government off the backs of the people.

There will be no easy solution to curb and then cut back on the costly growth of state government at Lansing, but many matters are better solved locally without the overriding influence and mandates of a big brother state legislature or federal congress. The state courts, too, must recognize this and a portion of the blame rests with the judiciary.

It will be interesting to see during the next four years if the conservatives in this country really meant what they were saying to the people during the presidential campaign. Those campaign promises should be kept.

(Read 2 Corinthians 8:1-15)

As part of my early Christian training, I was made aware of the importance of tithing. I was taught that if I did not love God with one-tenth of my money, I did not love God completely, or even worse, that I might be trying to worship material things along with God. Giving was so deeply ingrained in me that when I started to earn a weekly salary, I did not find it difficult to lay aside God's share before I claimed my own.

However, I am not flaunting my virtue for having simply obeyed God's command. Far from it. In fact, I ask myself now whether I have loved God perfectly or not, since I have never grown beyond the tithe. To grow, I must move beyond fulfilling the law to giving in love. Might I not give just half a percent more as a special act of love?

I believe that a few more Bibles can be distributed, that perhaps another starving infant can be saved, that in fact I can expect the unexpected, if I give a small amount beyond the tithe.

PRAYER

Let our love for Thy Kingdom be expressed, O Lord, in giving a bit beyond the tithe. Amen.

Road Tax Money Shows Decrease

State revenue for work on Michigan's highways, county roads and municipal streets fell by 11 percent in the third quarter of the year as compared with the same period of 1979, the Michigan Department of Transportation reported Monday.

Gas and weight tax proceeds for public transportation and railroad preservation programs decreased by a like amount.

The decline was the sharpest in a single quarter since the outbreak of World War II.

Steeper fuel prices and reduced driving, coupled with the trend toward lighter, more fuel-efficient automobiles, all contributed to the downturn. Another factor was the reduction this year in the state tax on diesel fuel used by trucks from nine to five cents a gallon.

This decrease meant that Iosco County Road Commission receives $262,472 as its third quarter payment, as compared to $294,199 last year.

Payments to cities were: Tawas City, $9,516, as compared to $10,551 last year; East Tawas, $13,110, as compared to $14,722 last year; Whittemore, $2,516, compared to $2,824 a year ago.

"Fuel and weight tax revenues are the source of nearly all the money available for road and highway work and for other forms of transportation," said John P. Woodford, department director. "The continuing decline comes at a time when the state, counties and cities are confronted by fast rising costs of maintenance and construction."

"The unavoidable result will be another reduction in the level of service. Municipal and small bus systems throughout the state will suffer the same result, as will other transportation programs."

Highlights And Sidelights

Brickley to Keynote District Forum

Lt. Gov. James H. Brickley will be the keynote speaker at the Thursday, November 13, Alpena District Forum of the Michigan Conference on Small Business.

The Alpena forum, one of 12 district forums to be held in Michigan, is designed to encourage local and small business people to become involved in the Michigan State-Wide Conference on Small Business, scheduled to be held in May of 1981.

Governor Milliken, in announcing the state-wide conference last May, described it as an opportunity to "explore both the job creation potential of small business and the problems faced by small business operators. Small business forms the bedrock of our economic system, providing nearly 60 percent of all private sector jobs."

Brickley, who will serve as keynote speaker for the forum, pointed out how numerous were the laws state government enacts which effect small business.

"When enacting legislation, government must take into account the impact on the small business operator," Brickley said. "We must recognize small business as a job creator and the foundation of the entrepreneurial spirit which helped build this state."

"Most importantly," Brickley continued, "this conference is opportunity for government to listen and for the small business operators to develop an agenda of the concerns they face which the state might address."

Included for discussion in the numerous sessions throughout the daylong conference will be workers compensation costs in Michigan, innovations and technologies available to small businesses, the role of state government's regulation in Michigan and its impact on small business, Michigan's energy future and minority business development, among other topics.

Brickley will speak during the luncheon session of the conference to be held at the Alpena Holiday Inn. The conference begins at 7:30 a. m. with registration and runs until 5:30 p. m. For further information, call Mark McKelvey, 517/373-6800.

Bravettes Split Two Decisions

DAR Good Citizen at W-P School

Wendy Wight has been named the recipient of the DAR Good Citizen award at Whittemore-Prescott Area High School, sponsored by River Aux Sable Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wight of Whittemore, she has been active in FFA and has served as class officer, received two all A certificates, was a member of the National Honor Society and attended Girls State.

Her hobbies include sewing, growing house plants, macrame, gardening, ceramics and hunting and trapping.

She has been on the junior varsity and varsity basketball teams, varsity track and volleyball teams and played on the powder puff football squad. She is also a member of the ski club.

Miss Wight plans to attend Michigan State University where she will major in physical education. She also plans to enroll in the Michigan State Police training program when she reaches the age of 21 years and also hopes to continue in an agricultural program.

Tawas Bravettes split the decisions in two games played last week while the junior varsity won both of its games. The varsity won over Gladwin, 54-49, on November 4, then lost to Alcona, 54-48, on Thursday night. The junior varsity trimmed Gladwin, 54-49, and then turned back Alcona, 53-30.

Lisa Konenske meshed 19 points and was high scorer for the Bravettes in the conference win over Gladwin. Jan Johnson, a senior, and Ann Wood, a freshman brought up from the junior varsity, meshed eight points each.

Tawas was down by one point, 11-10, at the end of the first quarter and came back to hold a 28-22 margin at intermission. The Tawas girls never lost the lead after that point.

The Bravettes completed 25 of 60 shots from the floor for a 42 percent shooting average and added eight of eight chances at the foul line.

Tawas had 19 turnovers compared to 12 for Gladwin, but shooting percentages made the difference.

Thursday night's game required one overtime period to settle the difference. Tawas had several chances to put the game away with less than a minute to go in regulation time and could not cash in on shots. Alcona controlled the overtime period and rode home with a victory.

Johnson was top scorer for Tawas with 18 points followed by Diane Nelkie's 10 points. Johnson had 13 rebounds during the night while Colleen Curry and Nelkie each had eight. Lisa Bielby led in steals with six.

The junior varsity had three players scoring in double figures in the win against Gladwin. Meshing 14 points each were Dawn Allen and Patty Stephan. Amy Wood had 12 points.

Tawas took a 12-10 lead at the end of the first quarter and was never headed. The Junior Bravettes meshed 25 of 57 shots from the floor and completed four of eight attempts at the free throw lines.

Allen had 25 points in Thursday night's game with Alcona.

Lisa Seifert and Patty Stephan each scored eight points. Allen pulled in 22 rebounds and Karen Soult had 11. Amy Wood turned in seven steals.

Machine Embroidery Workshop Announced

A workshop teaching basic machine embroidery techniques and one teaching monogramming will be offered on Monday, November 24, by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Iosco County. Taught by Kaye M. Wood of West Branch, the workshops are scheduled so that participants can apply the skills they learn to create Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Wood involves workshop participants in practicing the skills she teaches. Each participant brings his or her own zig-zag sewing machine and specified materials. As the four-hour sessions progress, they complete small projects using each of the techniques taught.

The basic machine embroidery workshop is scheduled for noon to 4:00 p. m. November 24 at Tawas United Methodist Church. The session on monogramming is 6:00 to 10:00 p. m. November 24 in the same location. Interested persons are welcome to attend one or both sessions. Advance reservations are required and there is a fee.

For further information on either workshop, contact the MSU Cooperative Extension Service in Iosco County, 362-3449.

Three Hurt in Two Iosco Crashes

Three persons received minor injuries in accidents investigated last week by Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

Debbie J. Anschuetz, 16, was treated at Tawas Hospital Wednesday. She was a passenger in a car driven by Jennifer A. Peaman, 16, Bischoff Road. The driver swerved to avoid hitting a deer in the roadway and the car hit a tree.

Jeffrey Scott Rapp, 17, East Tawas, and Jeffrey A. Yates, 19, Tawas City, received minor injuries Saturday when the car driven by Rapp struck the First Street bridge in Tawas City.

Five Burglaries Investigated

Five cabin burglaries in Plainfield Township and three larcenies were investigated last week by Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

The burglaries, all near Hale, were reported by Rudolph Binder, Iargo Road; Frank Springsteen, Iargo Road; Jarold M. Marsh, Iargo Road; John Jackson, Hale; Chris F. Ellerman, Hale.

Larcenies were reported by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway, theft of crossing signs from the Turtle Road intersection; Rosaria Pellerito, Tawas City, garbage can missing; James Sloan, Oscoda, canoe stolen.

Stress Proper Handling of Deer Shot by the Hunter

Once a deer is shot, proper handling and preparation are essential to prevent spoilage and to keep flavor at its best, according to specialists at Michigan State University.

"Venison is a highly prized game meat that can be made into mincemeat, jerky or summer sausage," says Sharon Kennedy, extension foods and nutrition specialist. It can be frozen for use in favorite dishes throughout the year.

"Or, it can be cured to make a product like corned beef," adds Albert Booren, extension meat specialist. "Use cured venison in a New England boiled dinner, Reuben sandwiches or hash. Cured venison can also be cooked in a smokehouse to give it a smoked flavor or dried in a smokehouse."

For descriptions of venison cuts and ways to cook them, obtain a copy of Extension Bulletin E-657, "Venison — Upper Peninsula Style," from the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Iosco County, 362-3449, or write to: Bulletin Office, Post Office Box 231, MSU, East Lansing, MI 48824. Single copies are free to Michigan residents.

Tawas Students Held Election

Students of Tawas Area Junior High School gave 55 percent of their votes to Ronald Reagan in a mock election held November 4. Thirty-four percent of the votes went to Jimmy Carter and seven percent to John Anderson.

Like their parents, students favored Cong. Bob Davis over his Democratic opponent, Dan Dorrity, giving the Republicans 75 percent of their votes, and chose State Rep. Tom Alley, Democrat, over C. Warren Wagner, Republican. Alley was given 79 percent of their votes, as compared to 21 percent for Wagner.

On the local level, students gave Sheriff George Westcott 141 votes, compared to 16 for George Naumowicz, Democrat.

The only real change in voting by students was for prosecuting attorney, where Walter Schultz, Democrat, received 77 votes and Stephan Naegele, Republican, received 50 votes.

Marian Ulman, Republican incumbent, candidate for District No. 4 commissioner, received 77 votes to 46 votes for Boynton St. James, Democrat.

Seventy-three percent of the students registering during the week prior to the election voted.

The top 10 students submitting posters during the election were Robert Jackson, Shelly Oesterling, Brian Mielock, Tami Bayer, Ronald Williams, James Vanderlip, James Coates, Gary Truddeu, Timothy Cotter and John Freel.

"Thanks"

We wish to thank the voters of Iosco County for their support of Republican Candidates at the local, state and national levels in the recent General Election.
