

Voter Apathy Projected for Nov. 4 General Election

Professional opinion pollsters are predicting that less than one-half of voting-age Americans will be casting ballots in the November 4 general election. If it happens, it will be the first time since 1924. Only 54 percent of the country's eligible voters went to the polls in 1976 and that was the lowest in 28 years. While political scientists find a strong correlation between voting or nonvoting as a socio-economic standing, it may be that after nearly a year of campaigning by presidential hopefuls—first in primary elections across the country—voters may be "turned off" by the general election campaign, particularly so since much criticism has been leveled at the caliber of candidates entered by all parties. Last night's (Tuesday) debate between the two top presidential contenders was not expected to generate any great interest in the campaign, now in its final days. Democratic Pres. Jimmy Carter and his vice presidential running mate, Walter F. Mondale, will be opposed by Republican presidential hopeful, Ronald Reagan, and his running mate, George Bush. While none of the four presidential candidates stand to win, John B. Anderson and his (See ELECTION page 4.)

Supt. Dighera Calls TA's Operating Budget 'Lean'

In presenting a proposed 1980-81 operating fund budget Monday night to Tawas Area Board of Education, Supt. Allan D. Dighera used the word, "lean," to describe expenditures. "Some services will have to be curtailed to enable us to continue our present academic program; some supply orders have been cut back, textbook purchases postponed where possible and a reduction of three general education teachers," he stated. Due to the economic problems faced by the state, the school has had one reduction of $25,000 and, as the year progresses, the district may see additional reductions in an attempt to balance the state budget. "This has forced us to use our uncommitted reserve to balance our budget as is required by state law," said Dighera. "In taking this measure, I must inform you that our present reserve would allow us to operate Tawas Area School for approximately three days. Sound financial practice recommends an uncommitted reserve equaling approximately six weeks operation." Dighera said the board of education, administration and staff were committed to operate the schools within the economic constraints placed upon them, based upon the wishes of citizens of the district. "This budget is a tight one and leaves us little flexibility. It has increased just over nine percent from last year, one in which we all faced inflation well into the double digit category. Hopefully, the year ahead will see an upswing in our economy and the picture for all of us will be a little brighter," said Dighera. The superintendent presented the hope that the budget, as presented Monday night, would not have to change significantly during the course of the year. He said its primary purpose is to serve as a guide to help spend money prudently and help project future needs. The budget as presented calls for revenue of $3,031,326, balanced by expenditures of the same amount. Local revenue amounts to $2,715,719, state revenue of $204,445 and federal revenue of $93,679. Expenditures include $628,583 for elementary instruction, $310,800 for junior high school instruction, $733,668 for high school instruction, $39,284 for vocational education, $133,231 for special education and $16,027 under a second category of special education. Community education amounts to $47,343, $100 for health services, $99,698 for administration expense, $74,666 for Title I expense, $334,396 for fiscal services, $273,396 for operation and maintenance, $286,106 for transportation, $2,869 for community services and $51,000 for outgoing transfers. Eighty-nine cents of every dollar budgeted under revenue comes from local sources, including property taxes, special education, community education, investment income, building trades house and other income. Only seven cents of the revenue dollar comes from state sources, three cents from the federal government and one cent from district equity. Seventy cents of each expenditure dollar goes to salaries, nine cents for employee benefits, six cents for supplies and materials, four cents for other expenses, four cents for utilities, two cents for capital outlay, two cents for purchased services, two cents for repairs and maintenance, one cent for insurance.

Fire Marshal OK's Work on Schools

Files in the state fire marshal's office have been closed concerning a complaint filed two years ago by state police against buildings of Tawas Area School. The fire marshal's office inspected buildings last summer and found that prescribed corrections had been made to the buildings. Corrections included installation of fire doors at East Tawas, partitioning off stairwells and use of fire retardant paint on classroom ceilings. At the high school, several vents were closed and a propane gas line was moved. In other business at Monday night's meeting, a brief report was given on selection of candidates to receive scholarships from the Joseph Barkman Foundation. Some 11 candidates have been approved. This scholarship fund was established through the late Tawas businessman's will. A leave of absence was granted to Patricia Harvey, office secretary, who is to return to the hospital for additional surgery. An executive session was held to consider expulsion appeals by three high school students. All students were placed under educational contracts and were permitted to return to classes.

Four Races Feature Nov. 4 Balloting at County Level

Two races for county board of commissioner positions and two contests for county offices feature the local portion of the November 4 general election ballot. Veteran Iosco County Sheriff George Westcott, a Republican, is being opposed by George E. Naumowicz of Hale, a Democrat. The other race for county office finds Stephen H. Naegele, incumbent prosecuting attorney, a Republican, being opposed by

Walter Schultz of East Tawas, a Democrat. John D. Webb Jr., incumbent Fifth District member of the board of commissioners, a Republican, is being opposed by Robert Pember, a Democrat. Although Webb is a resident of Reno Township, he was born in Plainfield Township, the same township in which Pember resides. The second race for a seat on the county board of commissioners is in Fourth District where Marian Ulman, incumbent Republican, is being opposed by Boynton St. James of Tawas City, a Democrat. The Fourth District comprises the Cities of Tawas City and Whittemore, plus the Townships of Alabaster, Tawas, Sherman, Burleigh and Precinct No. 1 of Baldwin Township. The Fifth District comprises Plainfield, Reno, Grant Townships and part of Oscoda Township. Unopposed candidates for county office include D. Keith Papas, clerk; Edward J. Neltie, treasurer; Leon Putnam, register of deeds; Harry G. Krueger, drain commissioner. Unopposed candidates for the county board of commissioners include John Landry, First District, who defeated James Stech, incumbent, in the primary; David George, Second District; Carlton Merschel, Third District. All unopposed candidates for county offices and the county board of commissioners are Republicans.

A public hearing is being held this morning (Wednesday), 11 o'clock until 12 o'clock noon, on a proposed budget for 1981 county operation. Also to be viewed by interested citizens is the proposed federal revenue sharing budget. The proposed operating budget calls for revenue of $2,296,879, the majority of which comes from a 4.5-mill levy on county property raising $1,247,117. Appropriations under community services amount to $5,

300, while $340 is listed for CE-TA administrative expenses. Cooperative extension is to receive $39,092 with $7,893 for the marine agent. An additional $6,750 goes to cooperative extension under contract. A $21,400 appropriation is to be made for operation of the county airport, $1,078 for parks and recreation and $1,900 to the planning commission, bringing the grand total of community services to $83,573. An appropriation of $373,550 is to be made for operation of the sheriff's department, $176,614 for operation of the jail, $26,983 for animal control and $46,362 for road patrol, bringing the grand total under this category to $647,151. The federal revenue budget shows a projected balance on hand of $193,837.31 on December 31 and expenditures during 1981 amount to $103,630.31. This includes payment of $28,837.31 to Multi-County Landfill, Iosco County Building Authority bond issue of $37,775, interest of $12,018 and depreciation fund transfer of $25,000. Public inspection of the proposed budget and comments are invited by the board of commissioners at this morning's session.

Proposal D Could Cripple Work of Road Commission

"Passage of Tisch Proposal D could wipe out new highway building and cripple road maintenance in Isosco County," according to Allen Buchanan, engineer-manager of the Isosco County Road Commission.

"Many voters erroneously think Proposal D only affects state government and that constitutionally earmarked gas and weight taxes will not be cut," Buchanan said.

"The fact is that local road and street funds will suffer drastically and motorists will face steadily deteriorating roads if voters approve Proposal D November 4.

"Unless one is lucky enough to live on a recently improved main road, travel will become increasingly difficult and at times hazardous. Even the author of Proposal D says it will roll back gas and weight taxes to 1978 levels, reducing state, county and municipal road funds in Michigan by 85-million dollars annually on top of the 11 percent revenue decrease already resulting from dwindling gas taxes and the trend to smaller cars.

This rollback of 10 to 12 percent would cut Isosco County road revenues by about $180,000 annually, which means even less money will be available to maintain the 881-mile county road system in the face of continuing inflation that is increasing maintenance costs about 10 percent every year.

"In addition, the tax rollback proposed by the Tisch plan will cut local government revenues to 1978 levels, making it unlikely that counties, townships or cities will have any funds to share in road improvements. Last year, local units in Isosco County contributed $181,282.97 toward roads and will be unable to do so in the future if Proposal D passes.

"The Proposal D requirement severely slashing overtime costs. "Recognizing the need for prudent economizing, Isosco County Road Commission has reduced equipment expenditures, overtime, some construction and maintenance activities. If Tisch passes November 4, the effects may not be felt until next spring but after that, every Isosco County motorist may experience an increasingly bumpy ride."

HALLOWEEN HINT

It's hard to say who is more scared on a spooky Halloween night—kids fearful of ghosts and goblins or parents fearful of candy and cavities. On Halloween night mothers with toothbrushes are as menacing as witches on broomsticks, and rightly so.

According to the dentists who specialize in treating children, or pedodontists as they're called, parents can prevent most decay by allowing sweets under controlled conditions. The American Academy of Pedodontics counsels parents to serve sweets after dinner.

Just before a child cleans his teeth. If a child eats sweets, having them in conjunction with a meal can limit the occurrence of cavities. Food has its greatest decaying effect while it is in the mouth and immediately following. By restricting snacks and candies to mealtimes or times when a child can brush afterward, the period of danger to young teeth is reduced.

Pediatric dentists also caution parents to be watchful of the "stickies", which is not a band of kiddie monsters but foods that hold sugar to the tooth's surface. These foods include candies, sodas, sweet sauces, cakes and cookies, pastas, and dried fruits like raisins. When children eat such items, they should brush their teeth immediately.

Further information about children's dental problems can be obtained by writing the American Academy of Pedodontics, 211 E. Chicago Ave., Suite 1235, Chicago, Illinois 60611, or by contacting your local pediatric dentist.

THE PUBLIC INTEREST

Thousands of convenient, essential products, including lumber and building materials, paper products, packaging and chemicals, fuels, enduring benefits as such streams, natural trails, swimming holes, grazing land, wildlife and pure water, are all part of the great American forest. The forest is one of the most useful resources with which this planet has been blessed.

Surprising as it may be to some, all those things can and do coexist in the working commercial forests of America. Commercial forest, as defined by the U.S. Forest Service, is all forest land—whether owned by individuals, government or the forest industry—that is capable of, and potentially available for, growing repeated crops of trees for harvest. It includes land in National Parks or Wilderness areas.

Demands on the commercial forest are growing at an alarming rate. An expanding population is placing new pressures on the forest for recreation. Thousands of acres are withdrawn every year for homes, shopping centers and additions to wilderness. Of even more concern, America's consumption of wood and American paper products is expected to double in the next 50 years.

America's bountiful forests have much to offer. Proper management can help them offer even more, longer.

There is a long road ahead if America is to continue to receive the multiple benefits of the forest.

You and Betty Crocker can
Bake Someone Happy

Blueberry Bakings

Fall is here. Time for things to settle down a bit after a hectic summer. What better way to start a fall morning than over a leisurely breakfast that includes fresh baked blueberry treats.

With Betty Crocker® wild blueberry muffin mix, it's quick and easy to do. Just add milk and an egg to the mix; then stir in the can of blueberries that comes with the mix. You'll spend your time lingering at the table, not in the kitchen.

Here are some ideas for adding that homemade touch.

BLUEBERRY-ORANGE COFFEE CAKE
Heat oven to 400°. Grease square pan, 8x8x2 inches. Prepare 1 package Betty Crocker® wild blueberry muffin mix as directed except—substitute 1/2 cup orange juice for the milk. Pour batter into pan. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, 15 to 20 minutes. While warm, drizzle with Orange Glaze (below). Serve warm. 9 servings.

Orange Glaze: Mix 1/2 cup powdered sugar and about 1 tablespoon orange juice until smooth and of desired consistency.

SOLVE THE LEFTOVER TURKEY PROBLEM

With the holidays just around the corner, turkey is bound to appear at one of the big three meals. Roast Turkey with all the trimmings presents no problem, but often how to vary subsequent meals can be a dilemma. Handy helpmates like packaged enriched pre-cooked rice and frozen mixed vegetables with cream sauce transform day-after turkey into a delicious casserole, hearty enough for the family yet special enough for company.

TURKEY-VEGETABLE CASSEROLE

1-1/2 cups hot chicken broth
2 teaspoons butter or margarine
1-1/2 cups Minute rice

1 package (8 oz.) mixed vegetables with onion sauce
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-1/2 cups diced cooked turkey
2 slices process American cheese, cut in triangles

Combine broth, butter and rice in 1-1/2-quart baking dish. Cover and bake at 450° for 10 to 15 minutes. Stir and move rice to sides of dish.

Meanwhile, combine vegetables, milk, Worcestershire sauce, salt and turkey in medium saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil; then simmer for 4 minutes. Pour into center of casserole; arrange cheese triangles on top. Bake 2 minutes longer or until cheese is melted. Makes 3 cups plus rice or 4 servings.

AMERICA'S ARTS & ARTISTS

15 Years: A Dream Comes True

Access of all Americans to the best of art? Many said it was, and would remain, a dream. Yet the vision and determination of inspired groups and individuals are making that dream a reality.

By Livingston L. Biddle, Jr.

Nothing is more enviable—or daunting—than the opportunity to make a practical reality out of a visionary dream. Yet today we see the phrases of the legislation that created the National Endowment for the Arts 15 years ago translated into goals, programs and accomplishments.

The Endowment's Annual Report provides a record of the many communities into which our finest dance companies toured; of historic buildings preserved and adapted into art centers; and of artists working with children in schools throughout the land.

It records grants that help preserve the traditional arts and crafts which reflect the ethnic culture of America's diverse population; and those that help encourage an expanding awareness of the artistic needs of minority groups and a recognition of the importance of their art.

FLAKY FOLDOVERS USE AMERICA'S FAVORITE FRUIT

"An apple a day" has been popular advice for more than 300 years, and this crisp, delicious fruit is still America's favorite. Flaky Apple Foldovers are an excellent way to savor the tart, tangy goodness of the season's fresh apples.

Tawas City Council Presents Revised Bonding Proposal

A much revised bonding proposal is being submitted to Tawas City voters Tuesday, November 4, seeking permission to borrow $175,000 to build a new fire hall.

If approved, the city would borrow the money from Farmers Home Administration and repay it over a period of 40 years at an annual interest rate of five percent.

The loan guaranteed by FmHA had been pledged to the city under two previous bonding propositions which were defeated by voters, but federal officials have indicated that the money is still available until the end of the year.

Need for a new fire hall has been emphasized by the city council and fire department. At the present time, two trucks are housed at the city hall and two at the city garage on Fourth Street, with a tanker truck stored outside and exposed to the weather.

This proposal represents one-half of the council's original thinking more than 10 years ago, when discussion was first held on construction of a new fire hall and renovation of the city hall.

At its second meeting in September, the council decided to eliminate renovation of the city hall from the November 4 proposal, because of the need for new fire department quarters and to eliminate any confusing issue or controversy over the city hall.

In two previous bonding proposals rejected by voters, the thought was to build an entirely new complex to house the fire department, library and city offices. Since then, the city acquired property adjacent to the city hall and the library is now housed in a converted dwelling.

Moving the library from its former temporary quarters south of the river bridge apparently has met the pleasure of library users as a dramatic increase has been shown in use of the facility at its new location.

If approved by voters, general obligation bonds would be issued by the city to purchase property at the corner of Fourth Street and Mathews Street and construct a building there containing 3,600 square feet of floor space.

The type of construction will depend upon bids received by the city as specifications are to be prepared so as to permit dealers in prefabricated steel buildings to bid on the proposed project.

Considerable discussion has been held at past council meetings concerning needs of the fire department and how a building could be situated on the property.

The site was once occupied by the Hamilton Store and is owned by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway. An option to purchase has been obtained by the city for that property, along with a portion of property owned by William Borosch comprising the former site of Campbell Grocery.

At one time, that area of Mathews Street was the commercial hub of the city and a two-story frame building which housed the original Tawas Township offices, followed by incorporated village status and then a city hall, was located at the northeast corner of the Mathews Street bridge—directly north of which, across the rail-mercial area and, according to the plat, the city garage site on Fourth Street was dedicated as the town's Union Square. Despite those early intentions, the commercial area was located along Tawas Bay.

'Yes' Vote Pegs Iosco Millage and Eliminates Allocators

Iosco County voters are being asked to again "peg" 15 mills of property taxes, using the same allocation formula which was approved by voters in 1976. Although to some it may seem that a "no" vote would cut taxes, that is not the case for the 15 mills of property taxes permitted under the state constitution will be levied regardless of the outcome of the November 4 vote.

The principal reason for the proposal is to eliminate the need for a county tax allocation board and the annual squabble, which ended four years ago, over shifting one-half mill of taxes or less between government and schools.

A special county advisory tax limitation committee last September believed that voters should be asked to continue the same split of property taxes for the next five years as follows: County operation, 4.5 mills; 25 of a mill for the intermediate school district; school operation, 9.25 mills; townships, one mill.

This same proposal was nearly defeated four years ago when voters really did not understand the question when presented at the election. Pegged millage won by the narrow margin of 4,846 to 4,781.

Members of the county advisory tax limitation committee emphasize that a "no" vote will in no way reduce taxes—a 15-mill tax assessment on property will be made regardless of voter preference.

A "yes" vote will insure that the same split of taxes will be made during the specified period, six years, actually, for the current pegged millage rate is not due to expire until after the 1981 levy.

JUNE GROFF of the Herald office staff checks over the "bed sheet" ballot which Sec. of State Richard Austin sent to all newspapers of the state last week to publicize the upcoming vote on proposed amendments to the state constitution. Voters, thankfully, will receive a smaller ballot with wording condensed—but missing the actual terms of each proposal, which only a "Philadelphia lawyer" can understand, according to the editor in his "Once Over" column on page 2.—Tawas Herald Photo.

New Use for 1950 Building

Tawas Industries, Incorporated's building was brand new when this picture was snapped by the Herald 30 years ago.

The second industrial building in the Tawas area to be constructed following World War II is to be vacated sometime next year by Tawas Industries, Incorporated, for a new shopping center.

Construction of the automotive filter manufacturing firm's plant fronting on First Street and extending to Wheeler Street along Court Street, followed closely on the heels of a building erected by Huron Shores Rustic Furniture Company on First Street.

Tawas Industries, Incorporated, is now in the process of constructing two additions at its Cedar Street complex, one measuring 60 by 200 feet and the other a 34 by 40-foot building to house heating equipment. Elmer Werth, president, said that work would continue during the winter months.

The original 58 by 160-foot portion of the First Street building was constructed in 1950 by James Boomer, contractor. The firm's assembly lines went into operation in that structure on June 16, 1950.

The firm, originally called Tawas Manufacturing Company, moved into one portion of the Alpena Candy Company building in 1945. Werth joined Nathan Barkman and Al Kirkendall in forming that company and its first assembly line was located in the Edgewater pavilion, now the site of Tawas Bay Aerie No. 2588, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The firm was reorganized as Tawas Industries, Incorporated, on June 27, 1946, and moved to the old Adams garage building at East Tawas. The firm's two divisions were moved into the First Street plant when completed in June of 1950.

Incorporating officers included Joseph Warren, president; Barkman, secretary; Werth, vice president, general manager and treasurer.

Over the years, Tawas Industries, Incorporated, has enjoyed considerable growth, which has included three different additions to its plant, followed by expansion with a new building and an addition on the old fairgrounds property behind the Detroit and Mackinac Railway yard on Cedar Street.

Prior to becoming a location for an industrial plant, the First Street site had a long history of commercial use. A building there once housed a grocery store, followed by the location of the Tawas Herald office. That building was destroyed by fire in 1913.

In the mid-1920s, Harris and Julius Barkman established Barkman Outfitting Company and built a store. The firm was in continuous operation there until late January of 1946, when fire completely destroyed the building. The firm then moved to the former Tawas Masonic Temple building on US-23, which was razed earlier this year by L. G. McKay Jr.

THIS PICTURE was snapped in 1950 while the building was under construction by James Boomer of Tawas City. The project was finished two weeks ahead of schedule.

Carter Buying Michigan Votes With Federal Grant Money

Poor, old Ronald Reagan probably will run second best here in Michigan to Jimmy Carter, based on recent announcements from Washington. Although the president should have no direct control over the national purse strings, Carter is taking credit for pumping more than 250-million dollars of federal aid into Michigan on the eve of the election.

Detroit Mayor Coleman Young has been a supporter of Carter throughout the campaign—he knows on which side Detroit's bread is buttered—and will be lending his full support to re-election of the president.

He, who billed himself in the last election as the "honest little old country boy from Georgia," may have learned the election eve drole trick from past administrations, but Carter is more than one up on all previous presidents in this campaign trick.

Someone who pays attention to such election trivia has figured out that Carter has re-neged on more than 200 promises made in the last election campaign, but it is a good bet that he will brush off that information with a toothy grin and the admonishment that the report is "only a last ditch election trick" by his opponent.

Michigan apparently is a key state in President Carter's designs as he made another campaign tour of the state last week-end. Voters should be able to see through this latest attempt to buy Michigan with federal aid announcements, but the eyes of many will be clouded by all those dollar signs. Until the campaign, this state had one of the lowest returns of any state on federal tax dollars sent to Washington.

Some Comments About the Six State Proposals

Complying with a request from Sec. of State Richard H. Austin, who is ordered by state law to "duly prepare a concise statement setting forth the nature" of any proposed constitutional amendment by sending "copies of said statement to the several daily and weekly newspapers published in the state prior to the election," this newspaper is giving "as wide publicity as possible to said proposed amendments."

The law states that "publication of any matter by any paper under the provisions of this section shall be without expense or cost to the state;" we are happy to print the ballot free of charge, in complying with Secretary of State Austin's request, but the Herald offers its own "two cents worth," also free of charge, on the several tax proposals.

Getting the "two cents worth" off his chest as quickly as possible, the editor of this newspaper states that it is absolutely ridiculous to subject voters to the mind-boggling task of reading, let alone trying to comprehend, the language contained in Proposal A, C and D. There really should be a proposal "I" added to the ballot which would limit the number of proposed constitutional amendments concerning taxation—two at most—which could be submitted to voters in any one election.

Sponsors of each amendment have attempted to close every conceivable loophole which could circumvent the thinking in their proposed new laws and, in so doing, have used the legal language which only a "Philadelphia lawyer" can understand. The truth of the matter is that no matter how an amendment is written, the legislature and even the courts, if necessary, must "interpret" the law—and there is still a fight over interpretation of the Headlee amendment which was adopted by voters two years ago.

Direct legislation by the people through amending the constitution, rather than forcing the legislature to earn its pay at Lansing, seems to be the rage these days in Michigan—this is not new, but the constitutional amendment ballot seems to be growing each year. Now, it is the size of a bed sheet (only a brief resume of each proposal is printed on the official ballot) and anyone interested in inspecting the secretary of state's sample may view it at the Herald office.

We can only offer this suggestion to voters, it has been said many times in the past and it is worth repeating: Any time one is unsure of provisions contained in a proposed constitutional amendment, "Vote NO!"

As for the editor, he is voting "no" on Proposals A, C and D. He has studied the proposals, found some provisions in each which may benefit the state and the taxpayers, but each proposal contains other provisions which he feels would be absolutely devastating to state and local government as well as the majority of Michigan's citizens and taxpayers.

The editor has a particular dislike for Proposal D, being advocated by a person whom he feels is "the demagogue from Shiawassee County," Robert Tisch, and was pleased to learn last week that Michigan voters answering one poll had the same feeling.

That, dear reader, was our "two cents worth" about the tax proposals—keep the change.

As for Proposal B, the editor is following his own convictions and is placing an X in the "no" square; he must hedge and vote "no" on Proposal E, feeling that there must be an upturn in the economy first before building four new prisons; he is voting "yes" on Proposal G, believing that legislators should not be privileged from civil arrest and civil process while in session; he is voting "yes" on Proposal H.

(Read Matthew 6:19-24)

The summer sun brought out not only the beauty of the lovely hanging baskets full of flowers in Victoria, British Columbia, but beautiful music by numerous young street musicians.

Our 10-year-old grandson, Michael, went quietly from cup to cap to box set out by the flute, guitar and mandolin players. From his small holiday allowance, he dropped a few coins in each container. His mother wisely refrained from repaying his generosity. Perhaps he felt they needed charity. Perhaps it was appreciation for the music. Because of his own lessons on the recorder, he knows that beautiful music is hard to produce. Whatever his reason, the act brought to my mind where your heart is, there will your treasures be also.

Michael's generous gesture puts to shame our so-called practical second thoughts when we have a spontaneous urge to be generous. The joy of giving freely, on innocent impulse, is too often missed by old and young alike.

PRAYER

Giver of all things, teach us to be more generous with the gifts You have given us, in Jesus' name. Amen.

road tracks, would be constructed the new fire hall—if approved by voters.

Hopefully, total cost of the project will be less than $175,000, which includes a $15,000 provision to cover land purchase, legal expense, soil testing, survey and minimal furnishings. Because of the current state of the economy, it is expected that competitive bids will be entered.

In September, Mayor David Westcott expressed the opinion that some minor renovation could be made to the city hall at some time in the future, using funds available in the city's budget.

Once the fire equipment is moved out of the city hall, former quarters of the fire department would be turned into a large room for meetings of the city council and other public use. The present combination council room-office would eventually be used exclusively for city offices.

The Men of Song at Oscoda Nov. 1

Appearing Saturday evening, November 1, at Oscoda Area High School Auditorium for the second concert of the current Oscoda Community Concert series will be Edmond Karlsrud and The Men of Song. Karlsrud, a popular American bass-baritone, is one of the most outstanding and experienced vocalists of the present era and The Men of Song quartet has been rated by many critics as the finest concert quartet ever assembled. They will present individual performances and also perform together in many special arrangements of art songs, songs of faith, operatic selections, show tunes, folk songs and spirituals.

Vaudeville, it's supposed, was named after the birthplace of a type of satirical or humorous drinking song—the valley of Vire in France.

Hemlock Rd. Church Had Evangelistic Meetings

On Friday, October 17, Hemlock Road Baptist Church of Tawas City completed special meetings with Evangelist Charles Curtis of Wisconsin, who conducted evening services during which many decisions were made for Christ. Curtis also held morning Bible study sessions.

The Rev. William Wright has expressed appreciation for the good attendance and also that so many decisions were made both for salvation and rededication. He extends to all an invitation to the regular meetings of the church.

District Health Dept. No. 2 Received State Recognition

District Health Department No. 2 Family Planning Program, serving the Counties of Alcona, Iosco, Ogemaw and Osceola, has recently received a special recognition award from the State Department of Public Health. This award was presented to each county in recognition of the Family Planning Program's high standard of achievement.

The Family Planning Program was established to help insure that couples make responsible and intelligent decisions in determining the number and spacing of their children. This is done both for the health and well-being of the couple as well as that of the children.

The program offers a variety of services free of charge. Of primary importance are the physical examination and counseling portions of the program.

The physical examination includes blood pressure, weight, breast examination, pelvic examination, urinalysis, hematology (blood test), PAP smear and testing for venereal diseases. Included in the counseling session is professional medical advice, nutrition education and help in solving special problems the person may be experiencing. All services are carried out by a physician with the assistance of a public health nurse.

During 1979, a total of 615 patients received services from the program. Of these, 91 percent of the examinations included all mandated procedures. This places the District No. 2 program 12th out of the 44 health jurisdictions in Michigan.

Questions concerning the Family Planning Program may be directed to Harrisville, 724-5411, or West Branch, 345-5020.

"LIGHT UP A LIFE" to "Bring 'em Back Alive!" is the Halloween safety message this scary skeleton is spreading with a flashlight, grinning jack-o'-lantern and highly visible face make-up. Automobile Club of Michigan urges parents to equip young trick-or-treaters with flashlights to light their way and make them more visible to motorists Halloween night. The stark white make-up and gloves on Auto Club employee, Angela Palmeri, represent the correct way to dress for trick-or-treating. Without those safety features, her black costume would make her nearly impossible to see in darkness. Other safety tips: Stay away from masks and use make-up; keep costumes short enough so they won't trip tiny feet; make costumes of bright colors and apply luminescent paint or tape to make them even more visible and caution children to cross only at intersections and to look both ways before stepping off the curb.

Plan Halloween Parties Fri. Night

Halloween parties Friday, October 31, in Tawas area will be sponsored by Tawas Council No. 2709, Knights of Columbus; Tawas Kiwanis Club, and Tawas Lions Club. Refreshments, games and a monster house will be featured at parties at East Tawas and Tawas City Elementary Schools and the K of C Hall, 821 Newman, East Tawas. Lions Club party will be at East Tawas from 6:30-8:30 p. m. for children of all ages.

Gifts will be given to all children attending. At Tawas City school, prizes will be offered for best costumes for children from toddler age through sixth grade. Children through 12 years of age will be welcome at the K of C Hall from 6:30-8:00 p. m. Parents are urged to have their children attend the parties and avoid the dangers involved in being on the street for trick or treats.

Bravettes Beat Pinny for Fourth

Tawas Bravettes grabbed third place in Northeastern Michigan Conference standings October 23, one game behind front-running Ogemaw Heights and Standish, by turning aside the visiting Pinconning Spartans, 62-55.

It was an uphill battle for the Bravettes, who came from behind a 26-25 deficit at intermission to outscore the Spartans in the second half.

Pinconning had a better shooting percentage than the Bravettes, completing 24 of 57 shots from the floor, but Tawas had more attempts at the basket and meshed 26 of 66 shots.

The free throw line also figured in the final margin of scoring between the two teams with Tawas completing 15 of 28 shots and Pinconning meshing only seven of 26 attempts.

Leading the Bravettes in their fourth conference win as against two losses was Jan Johnson, senior, who hit the hoops for 16 points. Diane Nelkie, another senior, contributed 11 points. Others scoring were Colleen Curry and Kellie Brockenbrough, seven points each; Linda Nelkie, six points; Cindy Stephan, five points; Lisa Bielby, four points; Lisa Konenske and Renee Powell, one field goal each.

Lou Salois topped Pinconning scorers with 27 points to lead both teams in scoring.

Junior Bravettes Used Fast Breaks

Fast breaks and a good defense helped Tawas junior varsity girls to win their fourth game October 23 over visiting Pinconning, 58-29.

Tawas controlled the rebounds in the second and third quarters to hold Pinconning to only four points.

The two teams played on even terms in the first quarter with Tawas holding an 18-16 lead, but the Junior Bravettes shot ahead in the second quarter to lead at intermission, 30-17.

It was more of the same type of play in the third quarter as Tawas boosted its lead to 42-20 and the Junior Bravettes outscored the Spartans, 16-9, in the final quarter.

Every player on the Tawas squad reached the scoring column, paced by Dawn Allen's 19 points. The only other player to score in double figures was Ann Wood, who had 11 points.

LOOKING BACKWARD—

Bay Perch Density in Contention

15 Years Ago—

November 3, 1965—Conflicting views on the density of the perch population in Saginaw Bay were heard at Wednesday's hearing. Removal of the size limits on perch caught by gill net fishermen drew strong opposition from tourist industry representatives, sports anglers and trap netters, who contend that gill netters are ruining fishing in the area.

Passage of the welfare merger bill, signed by Acting Gov. William Milliken, will result in a saving for Isosco County through the blending of the county social welfare and state aid agencies. The new act provides for matching funds of 40 percent direct relief, administrative and net operating costs of medical care facilities.

ANIMAL ODDITIES

Attention Focused On Saving Pandas And Eagles

Chu Geping of China and Gary Duke, Thomas Dunstan, and Steven Sherrod of the United States have never met. They may never meet, but still there is a common bond between them.

Chu Geping is the deputy director of China's Environment Protection Office. He is worried about the future of the giant panda, native only to China's Sichuan Province. Messrs. Duke, Dunstan, and Sherrod worry about the future of the American Bald Eagle, the national symbol of the United States, and a bird native only to North America.

He said the company was "delighted" that such outstanding ornithologists and conservation experts as the members of the Eagle Rare Advisory Committee, established by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, are working with the Eagle Rare Bourbon as a brand to help in the efforts to safeguard the eagle for its program to preserve and future generations.

The committee members, Mr. Leikind explains, will act as guides and hosts on Leikind, president, General Wine and Spirits Company, serve as an educational marketers of Eagle Rare Bourbon, the growing concern over the need to help nationwide aimed at endangered species was serving the eagle. All will be available for interviews to inform the public on what to do if they see on International Trade in Endangered Species of Flora and Fauna. The Convention prohibits the import and export of endangered species.

A brochure on the American Bald Eagle, produced in cooperation with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, is available without charge from Eagle Rare Bourbon, P.O. Box 123, New York, N.Y. 10022.

CONGRESSMAN BOB DAVIS

The walls in Congressman Bob Davis' office are covered with plaques from national organizations honoring him for what he has done. Davis is proud of those awards.

But the memento he's most proud of hangs on a separate wall all by itself. It's a collection of letters from constituents, letters thanking Congressman Davis for his help with their individual problems. To some, the problems might seem small — a lost Social Security check or a mix-up with the Veterans Administration.

But to Bob Davis, those individual problems are important. That's why he's so proud of all those thank you letters.

Off the Florida Coast

Former Tawas Cityan With Wide Scientific Background Seeks Gold

When science and gold are considered in the same breath, a picture immediately forms in one's mind of an ancient alchemist bending over his frothing test tubes—trying to conjure the formula to manufacture this precious metal.

The ancient alchemists always met defeat, but not so with Arnold McLean; he is a first-rate scientist, but he is attempting to use his knowledge of electronics to find the fabled treasures of gold which were lost by the Spanish in the New World more than 250 years ago.

And, McLean has been successful, not with his own sophisticated equipment which he has been perfecting for nearly 20 years, but by being associated as a stockholder and a part-time team member of Mel Fisher, one of the genuine treasure hunters of the modern day era, who has found and recovered a fortune in gold and silver from Spanish ships lost off the coast of Florida.

How could it happen that a man born in Michigan, graduated from Tawas City High School in 1934, could become involved in treasure hunting more than 1,000 miles away in the tropical waters of Florida? The Great Lakes contain an untold number of ships which foundered and sunk off its coast, but as a boy growing up in Tawas City, McLean had no interest in prowling the water looking for old ships. Besides, the ships lost in the Great Lakes contained no gold which could excite the imagination.

McLean, who graduated from the University of Michigan in 1939 and Northwestern University in 1941, served as a civilian-scientist for the United States Air Corps during World War II, later with the United States Air Force during the Korean War developing scientific systems to guide fighter planes in night combat. He was also involved with this country's space program which has opened new frontiers for the future in the infinity beyond our galaxy.

McLean's interest in searching for gold treasure started in 1944, when he and three other scientists developed equipment to search the coastal waters for enemy mines and submarines. A patent was issued to the scientists for the development, but the equipment was not declassified from its "top secret" status until 1964 and McLean obtained its use.

McLean had long dreamed of using his scientific instrument to look for Spanish galleons lost off the Florida coast and had become associated with Fisher in looking for the ships using conventional means — expenditure of great deals of money through diving at potential sites using SCUBA equipment, and with a little luck, the venture was made highly profitable.

Another treasure hunter, Kip Wagner, made a fabulous find in 1959 off the Florida coast. His team located one ship of the legendary Spanish silver fleet, which had sunk in 1715. The Spanish had recovered about $6,000,000 worth of treasure shortly after a hurricane had decimated the valuable fleet, but the remainder of the $14,000,000 cargo lay hidden under the shifting sands off Ft. Pierce, Florida.

Wagner's team made annual finds, but lacked capital and professional knowledge on how

ARNOLD McLEAN, a former Tawas City resident, now a retired scientist living in Florida, is looking forward to next spring when he resumes the search for treasures lost by early Spaniards off the Florida coast. He is shown holding a Spanish gold piece he found in one wreck that has an appraised value of $10,000. One of the silver coins he

to make the one big find. Finally, in 1963, Fisher and his treasure hunting team were called upon to join the search. Using professional equipment developed over a period of years, Fisher's Treasure Salvors company found several tons of the lost silver and gold.

McLean took part in this fabulous find during vacations to Florida and at other times when his business as an air force scientist took him to Cape Canaveral.

During the next decade, McLean was one of eight stockholders in Fisher's Treasure Salvors firm which scoured the waters off the Florida Keys seeking treasure fleets lost by Spain in the 1700s. There are 2,000 or more wrecked ships off the coast of Florida, some of more recent times, which complicates the business of searching for treasure ships.

During that period, McLean continued the perfection of his detection system which scans the ocean floor, transmits data concerning metallic objects found thereon to a continuous strip of graph paper. The equipment also differentiates between ferrous and nonferrous metal, which is extremely important in treasure hunting.

McLean said his first real adventure in treasure hunting took place in 1973, after he retired from civil service, when he accompanied Fisher on an expedition to an area known as Silver Shoals. There, he found his first pieces of Spanish coin.

Treasure Salvors has since been joined by another retiree, Dr. Gene Lyons, who has studied shipping records in the Spanish archives which led to the discovery of the treasure ship, Atocha, off the Florida Keys. That ship carried 903 silver ingots, weighing 60 to 70 pounds each, of which five were recovered. The treasure hunters found thousands of gold coins, tens of thousands of silver coins and 300 gold bars, weighing two to three pounds each, in that wreckage.

All in all, the firm with which McLean is associated has found from 10 to 20-million dollars worth of treasure lost by the Spanish off the coast of Florida and that total does not include the value of gold and silver which has been recovered during the past year, the most successful period of all time.

McLean says his sophisticated equipment still has not proven successful in locating wrecks, but he plans to conduct his own independent search starting next spring, as well as continuing his involvement with Fisher's Treasure Salvors, which has expanded considerably with new stockholders.

"My wife thinks I am crazy, but I should have another 10 years of active life. My detection system is in good shape and I am going to find that 'big pile' yet, by myself," states McLean, now 63 years of age.

Growing up on Tawas Bay has led McLean to be an active sailor and he owns a 42-foot cruising auxiliary sailboat. "I would like nothing better than to sail back to the Bahamas this winter, but I am leary about the pirates in those waters," he states.

McLean hopes to prove that his scientific methods are more efficient than the "gambling ways" used by Fisher, certainly one of the most successful treasure hunters in the world and whose proven methods cannot be faulted.

"I have lived my life to the hilt, solving many problems and meeting many challenges for the government as a civilian scientist during two wars and 10 years in the space business," said McLean. He believes that the prospect of finding a gleaming gold treasure from some sunken wreckage of a Spanish ship, by himself, is the great challenge of his life. With a little luck, combined with his scientific knowledge, he might make it; there are many others who have tried and failed.

McLean and his two sisters were in Tawas City for the recent funeral of their mother, Mrs. Charles (Jessie) McLean, and are to leave shortly for their own homes.

Artists Schedule Regular Sessions

At the Tawas Bay Artists regular Thursday, October 23, meeting, Martha Steffens, chairwoman of the annual Christmas tea and bazaar, announced the regular workshops would be held every Tuesday morning, 10 o'clock, at the Art Gallery until the date of the bazaar Saturday, December 6. All members desiring to help are urged to attend.

Connie Dreher is to serve as chairwoman of the bake sale and Gertrude Reece will be the cashier at the bazaar.

Alice Deibaugh, chairwoman of the nominating committee, announced the following slate of officers to be voted in January: Joan Blust, president; Beatrice Charters, first vice president-librarian; Larry DeRosia, second vice president-gallery chairman; Mrs. Reece, third vice president-membership; Virginia Imbronone, fourth vice president - publicity; Paula Peterson, fifth vice president-art show director; Betty Nepp, secretary; Wanda Race, corresponding secretary. The office of treasurer is to be announced later.

After the business meeting and refreshments, served by Mrs. Steffens and Marilyn Jurczyk, hostesses, the members and guests were entertained by an interesting and enlightening talk on the future plans of the Gateway Park by Lowell Thomas, Tawas City manager.

RICK BONINO, a 1973 graduate of Tawas Area High School and a 1977 graduate from the University of Michigan, now a political reporter for The Spokesman-Review, Spokane, Washington, has been named recipient of a C. B. Blethen Award for excellence in journalism. Bonino, 25, was honored in the state news reporting category for a sixpart series on the family farm. The series followed a wheat farmer and his family from planting to harvest at their 1,200-acre farm. The stories also won Bonino awards from Sigma Delta Chi, a professional journalists' society, and the Washington Association of Wheat Growers. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bonino of Tawas Township.

The Iosco Intermediate School District is a legally constituted unit of school government formed under Act 190 of the Public Acts of 1962 which amended Act 269 of the Public Acts of 1955. The district serves as a regional educational service agency as part of a three echelon system of local schools (K-12), the intermediate district and the State Department of Education.

The governing body of the intermediate district consists of a five member board of education. The Iosco Intermediate Board of Education is elected for six year terms by appointed representatives from each of the local constituent school boards of Hale, Oscoda, Whittemore-Prescott and Tawas.

The Iosco Intermediate School District fulfills two board functions; those that are required by the statute and those that are permissive. The required functions include the following:

- PROPERTY TRANSFERS - Any property owner may petition to have his or her land transferred from one school district to another. The determination of whether or not the transfer is proper is made by the Intermediate Board and this Board's approval is needed before any such transfer can be made.
- TRANSPORTATION - The Intermediate School District is required to review all school bus routes within the ISD and certify to the State eligible mileage and qualified numbers of transported pupils. The ISD also must audit school district transportation personnel licensing.
- CERTIFICATION OF PROFESSIONAL STAFF - A file on every professional employed in all school districts (both teacher and administrators) must be maintained at the ISD office. Improper certification must be reported to the State Department. The ISD shall maintain a permanent record of professional service, i.e. years of service.
- SCHOOL LUNCH EVALUATION - All school food service programs shall be evaluated and its records audited annually by the ISD.
- ATTENDANCE - An attendance officer is required of the ISD to assist local districts in the handling of students who are delinquent in school attendance.

MEMBERSHIP AUDIT - The ISD is responsible for the conduct of an annual audit of local district membership (enrollments). The student count for state aid membership allowances is based on the ISD report to the state.

FEDERAL PROGRAMS - Certain federal funded programs are overseen fiscally by the ISD.

STATE REPORTS - Nearly all financial and statistical reports that are submitted by local school districts to the State are required to be examined by the ISD before being submitted.

SPECIAL EDUCATION - The Mandatory Special Education Act requires that the ISD submit annually a district-wide plan for the delivery of special education for all handicapped persons. The ISD is further responsible for the fiscal operation of county-wide programs.

STATISTICAL RECORDS - Annual reports of local districts are required by the State to be maintained on file at the ISD.

The Iosco Intermediate School District through the support of the electorate levy 3/4 of a mill for Special Education supportive services. With such funding the intermediate district directly operates the Bright Horizons Learning Center which is a school serving youth of the Iosco Intermediate District who are in need of special instructional programs. Additional support services provided to the local K-12 districts include the following:

- 1. School Social Workers
- 2. School Psychologists
- 3. Teachers and consultants for the Visually, Hearing, Physically and otherwise impaired youth
- 4. Program Services for Pre-School Children
- 5. Planning, Coordinating of Data Collection Service

The Iosco Intermediate School District is also involved in a number of cooperative ventures with the Bay-Arenac Intermediate School District in providing services to local public and non-public school systems. Such ventures include the following:

- 1. The Regional Educational Materials Center
- 2. The Special Education Learning Materials Center
- 3. General Curriculum Coordinator and Curriculum Resource Specialist

Student Views on Proposal D

The following is the viewpoint of the majority opinion of students of Michigan State University and is printed for the consideration of voters prior to the election on November 4 which will decide proposed amendments to the state constitution.

"As Michigan voters, we are faced with several tax proposals on the November 4 ballot. While each has its merits and flaws, one has the potential to cripple higher education in the State of Michigan.

"If Proposal D, the Tisch tax cut, is approved by voters on November 4, several of the state's colleges and universities may be forced to close and many other state services may be drastically reduced, if not eliminated. How can this be? Proposal D is billed as a property tax cut and none of the revenue goes into the state coffers.

"The state's budget totals approximately 10-billion dollars, of which nearly 6.7-billion dollars are federally or constitutionally committed to various programs. This leaves about 3.3-billion dollars in the state's general fund. If Proposal D passes, it will roll property tax assessments back to the 1978 levels and proceed to cut them in half, about a 60 percent property tax cut.

"Proposal D says that the state must replace all revenue which is lost at the local level. Therefore, under Proposal D, the state will have to expend about two-billion dollars to replenish losses of local governments. Since the general fund contains about 3.3-billion dollars and two-billion dollars would be needed to make up for local revenue losses, the Tisch proposal would leave about 1.3-billion dollars to fund various state services.

The governor has stated that with a substantial cut of this type, many state services would drastically suffer. In fact, with regards to higher education alone, it has been proposed that the Tisch proposal will reduce the funding of Michigan State University, University of Michigan and Wayne State University by 50 percent. It could also entirely eliminate any state support for the remaining 12 state colleges and universities.

"Maybe a property tax cut is needed but is this the necessary price? Before going to the polls November 4, ask yourself a few questions: Would you vote to decrease state police funding by 60 percent? Would you vote to decrease mental health and correctional facilities by 60 percent? Would you vote to close 12 of Michigan's 15 state colleges and universities? If the answer to each of these questions is NO, we urge you to vote NO on Proposal D."

Oscoda Teacher Walkout Now in Second Week

A picket line rally was started late Monday afternoon at Oscoda Elementary School by members of Oscoda Area Education Association, who have closed schools of that district in a dispute with the board of education over terms of a proposed new contract. The union had been working without a contract since the start of the school term.

Joining Oscoda teachers on the picket line for two hours from 4 to 6 o'clock were teachers from surrounding schools, including members of Tawas Area Education Association.

School children of Oscoda Area School District started their second week of a "vacation" forced by the walkout of teachers starting a week ago Monday. No progress was made at a session with a state mediator last Wednesday and no further meetings have been scheduled in the immediate future to resolve the contract dispute.

A representative of OAEA said that Monday's picket line rally was a show of support by teachers from surrounding schools.

The major difference in the dispute results from a two percent salary increase offered by the board of education, which could escalate to 9.5 percent if and when money becomes available from the state. The teachers are asking for an increase of 10 percent.

The heart of the dispute, however, apparently centers over a contract provision by the board of education which would limit the scope of teacher certification.

Teachers, said the OAEA representative, want to teach all grade levels and classes for which they are certified by the state board of education and insist that layoffs be based on seniority. On the other hand, the board of education desires to keep teachers with specialized training regardless of seniority.

Other language contract differences involve grievance procedures proposed by the board of education, which teachers say would be impossible to follow.

TO THE CUSTOMERS OF MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY (Published by Direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission) NOTICE OF HEARING ON IMPLEMENTATION OF OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CONTROL BY INDEXING SYSTEM Case No. U-5955 (CPI—Nov. '80)

In its Opinion and Order dated November 6, 1979, in Case No. U-5955, this Commission established an Operation and Maintenance Expense Control By Indexing System for rate schedule customers of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company (Consolidated). That system authorizes an annual change in the portion of Consolidated's jurisdictional rates and charges attributable to certain operation and maintenance expenses, other than purchased gas and uncollectible gas accounts, in accordance with changes in the Consumer Price Index (CPI).

The Commission found in its Opinion and Order dated February 5, 1980, that a reasonable Operation and Maintenance Control By Indexing System base amount for use in determining the 1981 surcharge is $137,027,000. The amount of the adjustment will be computed at the 1980 hearing and collected as follows:

- (1) Determine the percentage change in the All Items, Wage Earners and Clerical Workers Revised, Unadjusted, National CPI between August 1 of the year prior to the November hearing year and August 1 of the hearing year. The 1980 hearing will determine the percent change in the CPI between August, 1979 and August, 1980.
- (2) Calculate the allowable change in "other O&M" expense by multiplying the base amount by the percentage change in the All Items National CPI as determined in Step (1). The base amount plus the allowable change will be the new base amount for the next hearing, not the actual other O&M expense which Applicant may have. For the purpose of major rate cases, the base amount plus the total allowable changes will become a new base amount and be included as such in the rates.
- (3) Calculate the allowable change per Mcf by dividing the allowable change determined in Step (2) by the 12-months' total jurisdictional gas sales of 441,444,495 Mcf as determined in Case No. U-5955. The total jurisdictional gas sales as determined in the latest rate case should be used in subsequent indexing hearings until a new figure is set in a new major rate case.
- (4) The amount per Mcf in Step (3) should be applied to customers' bills for total jurisdictional gas sales, for 12 months starting with the January billing month following the November hearing.

Consolidated has requested that the Commission increase its commodity charges pursuant to the Operation and Maintenance Control By Indexing System by .394¢ per Ccf, or .387¢ per therm, for the 12 months beginning in January 1981. The annual bill for an average residential heating customer using 175 Mcf would increase by about $6.90 as a result of the proposed surcharge.

Consolidated has further requested that when the final order in its pending general rate case, Case No. U-6372 is issued, the .334¢ per Ccf, or .328¢ per therm, surcharge previously authorized on February 5, 1980, be cancelled and the additional surcharge authorized for 1981 be modified to reflect the sales volume found reasonable in Case No. U-6372. Consolidated stated that such modification is expected to have no material impact on the bills to its customers.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT:
A. A public hearing in this matter will be held at 9:30 a.m. on November 25, 1980 in the offices of the Commission, Mercantile Building, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan, for the purpose of determining the percent increase in the CPI between August, 1979 and August, 1980, and the corresponding surcharge to be applied to all customers' bills as provided in the Commission's Opinion and Order dated November 6, 1979 in Case No. U-5955. Any interested persons may attend the hearing and participate, subject to the provisions of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.
B. Any person seeking to intervene, in accordance with Rule 11 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Commission shall file with the Commission, on or before November 20, 1980, an original and 15 copies of a petition to intervene, together with proof of service upon Applicant.
Subparagraph (2) of said Rule 11 provides as follows: "(2) A petition to intervene shall set out clearly and concisely the facts supporting the petitioner's alleged right or interest, the grounds of the proposed intervention, and the position of the petitioner in the proceeding, so as fully and completely to advise the parties and the Commission of the specific issues of fact or law to be raised or controverted." (Emphasis added.)
The Commission will require strict compliance with the above-quoted rule.
Jurisdiction in this matter is pursuant to 1909 PA 300, as amended, MCLA 462.2 et seq.; Section 4 of 1919 PA 419, as amended, MCLA 460.54; Sections 4, 6, 6a and 6b of 1939 PA 3, as amended, MCLA 460.4, 460.5, 460.6a and 460.6b; Section 3 of 1923 PA 238, as amended, MCLA 486.253; 1979 PA 306, as amended, MCLA 24.201 et seq.; and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Administrative Code, 1968 Annual Supplement, R 460.11 et seq.

WANTED— CONCERNED TAXPAYERS
You, the taxpayer, have an opportunity at this November 4th election to express your concern about high taxes, begin curbing the costs on Federal, State and Local levels of all branches of government. There is no lobbyist in Washington or Lansing, or anywhere, that is concerned about you as Mr. Taxpayer, but is strictly working for new programs to increase the amount of taxes required.
Mr. Taxpayer, many of you in your lifetime have seen the national debt increase from zero to 900-and-some-odd billions of dollars without any concern to the average taxpayer. In this election that is coming up, you have the power in your hand with the backing of the Tisch Amendment and vote "YES". The only salvation from high taxes that the taxpayer has, we have been misled for years; we have gone along with government officials and school officials, newspapers, radio and TV stating that the Headlee Amendment would take care of eliminating the unnecessary growth in government; only to be misled and see taxes go continually higher. A "YES" vote on the Tisch Amendment will not curb the necessary operations that we want to see function. They will use all scare tactics that this is the end of everything. You have no lobbyist that is representing you anywhere but yourself; so it behooves you to vote "YES" on the Tisch Amendment; and anything that is needed, they can come back to the taxpayer and ask them to vote on it and I am sure that worthy programs will be approved.
Take it back in your hands this election. Don't leave it up to the politicians. We have seen over the past 50 years a gouging of taxpayers' monies to run programs on matching fund basis, only to find these programs so entangled with politics that when the programs would be enacted it would be too costly to Mr. Taxpayer.
Again, be your own lobbyist, be your own judge and do not listen to sweet talk as we have done this for 50 years, only to be leaving a tax load on the future generations to come, on programs that were not designed for them.
Democrats, Republicans, retirees and workers—use your voice wisely and vote "YES" on the Tisch Amendment.
Sincerely,
THE CONCERNED TAXPAYERS ASSN.

Proceedings of Iosco County Board of Commissioners

OCTOBER SESSION

October 1, 1980
A special meeting of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners held at the County Building in Tawas City on October 1, 1980, pursuant to adjournment September 17, 1980, and the call of the chair. Meeting called to order at 4:00 p. m. by Chairman Webb and the roll called.

The clerk presented to the commissioners copies of a report he prepared on the obligation incurred through July of the current year for unemployment benefits paid to former employees, showing the county's obligation to be $8,898.50 as of 7/31/80.

Robert Roach, Wilbur Roach and Judson Bowers, of the Multi-County Landfill Corporation, with whom the county has contracted to provide a sanitary landfill for county residents, appeared before the board to present a formal request for a commitment from the board to pay the cost of a state-mandated hydrogeological survey of the landfill site (estimated to be approximately $6,000), submitting it to be the county's obligation under the provisions of paragraph 3 of the existing contract, and indicating that the survey is a prerequisite for obtaining a license. Following a discussion of the matter, Chairman Webb proposed that the matter be deferred until the next meeting.

Former Commissioner Joe Fox, representing the Michigan Association of Counties, addressed the board briefly, reporting that revenue sharing payments may be deferred until January, 1981, as the legislature recessed without taking action, and also, that no action was taken on payments-in-lieu-of-taxes before recessing; further indicating that the federal legislature recessed without having taken action on federal revenue sharing.

Commissioner Merschel presented and moved adoption of the following resolutions:
Your airport committee recommends that the sum of $91,

$71.25 be paid to the State of Michigan, Department of Transportation, as the local share for grading and paving of the county airport runway extension, and lighting on the runway and extension, with $50,000 of said payment to be funded by the proceeds of the loan from the state and the balance from federal revenue sharing funds, said sums to be transferred to the airport fund and the check drawn thereon.

Chairman Webb reviewed the business before the board and the agenda.

A brief recess was ordered by the chairman at 4:55 p. m.

Upon call to order at 5:20 p. m., Finance Chairman George presented and moved adoption of the following resolutions:
Your finance committee recommends that the county treasurer be authorized to transfer the sum of $7,060 from capital projects fund No. 291.01 to the Iosco County Medical Care Facility account, to be used for medical care facility roof repairs.

Your finance committee recommends that travel expense vouchers for County Road Commissioners Ralph T. White, Henry M. Conley and A. J. Auferich in the amounts of $14.96, $36.72 and $13.60, respectively, be approved for payment from road commission funds.

Supported by Merschel and carried.

Your finance committee recommends that the county clerk and county treasurer be authorized to pay the following (as required by Act 312, Public Acts of 1969, as amended) amounts as awarded in the County of Iosco Sheriff's Department and P. O. A. M.; case No. D79-E1257; Act 312 arbitration.

1. George E. Gullen, Jr., $850.57
2. As listed below—1979 wages to be retroactive to January 1, 1979, for all employees now on the payroll. 1980 Wages to be

Braves Overcame Deficit at Half to Beat Owls, 20-14

Tawas Area Braves splashed to a 20-14 victory Friday night over winless Oscoda, but it took some doing as the Braves were down, 14-3, at intermission.

Oscoda's Owls gave their fans something to cheer about in the first half as Ken Wilson ran for a three-yard touchdown in the opening period and then scampered to a 77-yard touchdown shortly before the first half ended. Both extra points were kicked through the uprights by Ken Truman.

Although the Braves missed two scoring opportunities on fumbles deep in Oscoda's territory, possibly caused by the rain-soaked pigskin, the Tawas squad made good on a key play when Jay Grabow booted a 27-yard field goal.

Following an excellent half time program presented by marching bands of both schools, the Braves ignited for two touchdowns and another field goal by Grabow to win the game as the Tawas defense completely shut out the Oscoda squad's offense.

The first Tawas touchdown came on a three-yard run by Kelly Moffatt with six minutes, 33 seconds, remaining in the third quarter.

Jon Erickson grabbed a nine-yard pass from Grabow two minutes later to score another touchdown and Grabow booted a 26-yard field goal late in the fourth quarter to score the winning points. Moffatt rushed for 77 yards in 24 carries during the night and Grabow completed 10 of 15 pass attempts. Besides his two field goals, Grabow kicked two extra points.

This nonconference win gives Tawas a record of three wins and five losses for the season.

Parents of varsity players and cheerleaders were recognized prior to the start of the game.

Jr. Braves-Frosh Both Lost

Tawas Junior Varsity fell before the Oscoda Owls junior varsity Thursday night, 35-6, while Tawas freshmen lost to Oscoda, 58-26.

Charles Elliott scored the Junior Braves' only touchdown, a one yard plunge in the second quarter.

Scoring touchdowns for Oscoda were Kevin Patrie, runs of 60 and 18 yards; Karl Wininger, five yards; Mike Shaw, a 65-yard pass from Dan Hanson;

Robin McLaughlin, a 30-yard pass from Hanson.

Top defenders for Tawas were Pat Kaems, John Tenbusch and Rod Whitford.

Jim Demmera scored two touchdowns for the Tawas freshman squad on runs of 50 and 45 yards. A pass from Don Hester to Bruce Nelkie, good for 34 yards, went for a touchdown and Hester returned a kickoff for an 80-yard touchdown.

JAY GRABOW may not have scored a touchdown during the night, being stopped here by the Oscoda defense, but he booted a pair of field goals, two extra points and passed for one touchdown.—Tawas Herald Photo.

National Gypsum's Annual Report

National Gypsum Company reports that earnings from continuing operations for the third quarter of 1980 declined to 12.6-million dollars from 18.8-million dollars a year earlier and sales were 214.8-million dollars compared to 217.3-million dollars. Total net earnings declined to 16.0-million dollars, or 96 cents a share, from 24.7-million, or $1.50 a share.

For the nine months of 1980, earnings from continuing operations were 37.9-million dollars, down from the 56.8-million dollars for the same period of 1979 and sales fell slightly to 625.1-million dollars from the 636.3-million dollars reported in 1979. Total net earnings were 45.3-million dollars, or $2.73 a share, down from 66.5-million dollars, or $4.04 a share.

Robert E. Scifres, chairman and chief executive officer, commenting on the results for the third quarter and nine months said, "The decline in earnings reflected primarily an over-all reduction in shipments and the escalating costs of energy, raw materials and labor. While housing starts were down substantially from year ago levels, demand for the company's products in the nonresidential and repair and remodeling markets has continued strong."

However, Scifres continued, "While National Gypsum's earnings for the first nine months were down from the corresponding period of 1979, they were only off 2.1 percent from the same period in 1978."

While 1980 results were unfavorably affected by the current economic cycle, demand for building products should be strong during the decade of the 1980s, Scifres said.

"We now have the biggest expansion program in our history under way, with new plants and equipment, new products and new markets. We have made major commitments to the gypsum business, as well as consumer products such as wall coverings, decorative fabrics, cushioned vinyl flooring and mirrors," Scifres concluded.
