

Seven Candidates File for Vacant Oscoda Dist. Seat

With seven candidates filing nominating petitions by Friday's deadline, a "hot" race has been assured to fill the District One vacancy on the Isosco County Board of Commissioners.

A special primary election is to be held Tuesday, March 24, in Oscoda Township to pick party candidates to compete in the April 28 election.

Democrats have filed for the primary election. All of the names are familiar to Oscoda residents and several are businessmen.

Republicans filing include James F. Stech, Cecil Kennedy and Kendrick W. Williams. Democrats include L. Allen Purcell, Robert A. Smarr, Robert J. Kelly and Stanley Kowalski.

The county board of commissioners was thrown into a tail-spin January 21 when John Landry, who took over the commission seat effective the first of the year, resigned for personal reasons.

Landry had soundly defeated Stech for the Republican nomination in last August's primary election and the former commissioner had strong support from the Isosco County Republican Committee's executive board.

Stech appeared before the county board of commissioners a week later seeking the appointment, but was denied the appointment.

Although no formal vote was taken, both Chairman David George and Com. Carlton Merschel believed that the vacancy should be filled by a vote of the people.

This action left the matter up to County Clerk D. Keith Pappas, who called the county election commission into session and set the wheels in motion for the elective process.

In the meantime, the GOP executive committee sent a letter to the county commission endorsing both Stech's appointment and supporting him in the primary election. This action was criticized by Merschel and other committee members, who pointed out that endorsement of a candidate in a primary election was just not the thing to do.

The Isosco Democratic Committee immediately responded by recruiting candidates for the vacancy in the Oscoda area.

All that remains now is to have a good turnout of Oscoda voters on March 24 and April 28. In past instances where special elections have been called to fill commission vacancies in that precinct, the issue was settled by an extremely small number of voters.

Two This Week—Two Next Month

D&M Awaits Delivery on Diesels

Delivery is expected this week by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company on two remanufactured Alco locomotives and an additional two locomotives are to be delivered within a month.

This major purchase represents a substantial investment for the railroad in continuing its service to industrial and commercial customers along its Lake Huron Shore route, as well as its expanded service to North-Central Michigan.

Following World War II, the Detroit and Mackinac became the first railroad in the United States to completely modernize its motive power by retiring coal-fed steam locomotives and replacing them with Alco diesel-electric units.

Since then, the railroad has upgraded its stable of 10 locomotives by contracting to remanufacture two of the original road engines and completely modernized two other locomotives at its own shop in Tawas City.

The railroad recently selected four surplus locomotives from Conrail and two were remanufactured by General Electric at its Hornell, New York, facility for delivery this week. The other two locomotives are in the final stages of remanufacture.

In the remanufacturing process, the outside shell of the original locomotive is retained and utilized, with completely new components installed. Power rating is also increased from 1,500 to 2,000 horsepower.

The railroad is to continue its practice of using the month and year of purchase in numbering its locomotives. The new units are to be numbered 1280, 181, 281 and 381.

Four locomotives being replaced by the remanufactured units are to be held in reserve until an evaluation is conducted, states Clayton McPhail, the D&M's general manager.

The D&M is one of only three or four railroads in the United States where Alco equipment may still be found. When originally purchased, the railroad used a maroon and gray color scheme on its locomotives and the four previously remanufactured units have green bodies.

The color scheme of the four new units will continue the green body theme with a horizontal stripe running the entire length. Lettering is to be green and a "Mackinac Mac" decal is to be located directly under each cab window. Each end of the locomotive is to be painted in a herringbone pattern with yellow stripes to improve visibility to oncoming highway traffic.

Throughout most of its nearly 90 years of service, the D&M's route has followed the Lake Huron shore from Bay City to Cheboygan. In 1976, the railroad purchased 66.7 miles of track extending from Cheboygan to Mackinaw City and the line from Gaylord to Cheboygan from the financially-troubled Penn-Central System.

Total trackage was expanded to 400 miles when the D&M accepted an offer from the state to provide railroad service on the former Penn-Central line from Gaylord to Linwood. Five-day-a-week service is now provided in this central corridor to Cheboygan, Gaylord, Grayling, West Branch and Standish.

The railroad has also upgraded its rolling stock with the purchase last year of 75 new open top hopper cars with larger tonnage capacity and 350 new boxcars two years ago.

Officials of the D&M, including Charles A. Pinkerton III, president, inspected the two remanufactured units to be delivered this week when they were undergoing road tests recently at Hornell.

Peter Lambrecht on Democratic State Committee

Peter Lambrecht of Tawas City was elected a full voting member of the Democratic State Central Committee. The election took place at the State Democratic Convention, held in Detroit February 14-15. He is the first Isosco County resident to achieve full member status on the committee in recent years. Lambrecht is on State Rep. Tom Alley's executive committee and is Isosco County Democratic chairman. His term on the Democratic State Central Committee is for two years.

Council Briefly Discussed Snow Removal—Adjourn

Never noted for brevity at its meetings in 20 or more years, Tawas City Council took only 30 minutes Monday night to dispose of its agenda.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas is currently on two weeks of active duty in Virginia as an air force reserve officer and any matters to be considered are to await his return.

Mayor David Westcott congratulated the Tawas City Department of Public Works crew for what he termed an "outstanding job" in cleaning up the streets after last week's snow-storm.

Coun. John (Joe) Martin felt, however, that the business area needed "faster attention" and he was joined in that thinking by other members of the council.

Martin said that "we owe it to the businessmen to clean the snow off streets and sidewalks faster." Coun. Hugo Keiser said that "the cleanup is a convenience to shoppers." Coun. James Lansky felt that the crew could get an earlier start in the morning.

City Supt. Merlin (Red) Look pointed out that state funding permits reimbursement for snow removal in only one area of the business district and he needed authorization from the council, as well as from the state under new regulations, to remove snow from other areas.

Coun. Donald Hayes said he could see no problem in snow removal because the city manager was absent and he seconded a motion by Keiser to have the DPW "clean the business area immediately after a storm, regardless of reimbursement."

Tourist Alliance Seeks Grant for Promoting Shore

Huron Shoreline Tourist Alliance, an organization of chambers of commerce and tourist-oriented organizations from Pinconning to Harrisville, plans to seek another state grant to promote the tourist industry in this region.

This was the word Tuesday morning from Roger Jackson, executive director of Tawas Chamber of Commerce, who called a meeting Monday of HSTA.

Besides representatives of various communities along the shore, State Rep. Tom Alley and James Hall, executive director of East Michigan Tourist Association, were in attendance at the meeting held at Lixey's China House, East Tawas.

Jackson was directed to send a letter to the state tourist bureau seeking an application for state grant money and to arrange a meeting between officials of that department and community leaders along the shore. Both Representative Alley and Hall would attend the meeting.

The HSTA group seeks a grant similar to the $10,000 it received two years ago to bring outdoor writers, information center representatives and tour directors to this region to see firsthand what is offered to visiting tourists.

Four areas of concentration would be bus and tour operators, plus media representatives interested in fishing, sailing and winter sports.

The previous $10,000 grant received by HSTA was matched by $9,000 from the local communities involved.

Voters Pick Candidates for Election

Norma Reinke and Kathleen Bolen were selected by East Tawas voters Monday to be candidates in the spring election for the office of city treasurer.

Mrs. Reinke was top vote getter with 187 ballots marked in her favor. Miss Bolen received 78 votes and the third candidate, Kimberly Morrill, received 53 votes.

City Clerk Clyde Soper said about 16 percent of the city's total number of registered voters went to the polls in the primary election.

Votes by wards gave Mrs. Reinke totals of 65, 65 and 57; Miss Bolen had totals of 13, 30 and 35, while Miss Morrill had totals of 21, 21 and 11.

The successful candidate in the April election will succeed Grace Pelton, who is to retire after 20 years of service.

No Major Shift Caused Through Class Assessing

No major change in assessments between property classifications is noted in Isosco County and a spokesman for the county tax equalization department said Tuesday that, generally speaking, assessors had treated property owners in each classification in a fair manner.

According to Tuesday's Detroit Free Press, the case is far different in Western Wayne County, where residential property owners received big tax breaks at the expense of business. Those residential owners now face tax bills that, in many cases, are 30 to 50 percent higher than last year.

Since adoption of the state constitution in 1961, property must be assessed for tax purposes at 50 percent of its true cash value—the price that the property would command on the open market.

Until this year, local government never had the means of correcting inequities between property classes—agricultural, commercial, industrial, residential and timber cutover. The county board of commissioners could raise a unit's property values up to par with the rest of the county with a multiplying equalization factor, but that factor was multiplied against all classifications and the local assessment inequities remained.

Tentative equalization ratios and estimated multipliers for the five real property classifications and the one personal property classifications are announced this week and may be found in a public notice printed in this newspaper.

These ratios and multipliers recommended by the county's equalization department are necessary to compute individual state equalized valuation on real and personal property for all units.

In addition, several local units of government are announcing dates for meetings of boards of review to be held in March. At those meetings, property owners have the opportunity to review property assessments and valuations established by the local assessing officers.

All assessed changes made at the local level are to be considered before adoption of the county's final equalization report in April.

Work was completed last year on a complete reappraisal of real property in Isosco County. Last year, the City of Tawas City received a multiplying factor and this unit again has the highest factor of any in the county.

The county equalization department spokesman said that increases were based on sales studies and review of appraisals in each assessing unit, all by separate classifications.

Road Revenue Again Reduced

Fuel and weight tax revenue, the main source of support for Michigan's state and local highway and transportation systems, declined again in the last quarter of 1980 compared with 1979, the Michigan Department of Transportation stated Monday.

As a result, Isosco County Road Commission is to receive $33,052 less funds than a year ago, East Tawas' share was decreased by $274 and Whittemore receives $226 less than it did a year ago.

Unless computations of the state are incorrect, Tawas City receives $373 more than it did a year ago.

Gas tax proceeds decreased 9.2 percent from the October-December period of 1979 and weight taxes (license plate) fees fell by 7.5 percent. Net income for distribution to the state, counties and municipalities and to public transit and rail systems was down by nine percent.

from the third quarter distribution, which was off 10.9 percent from a year earlier.

Deductions for various grants, including collection costs, left $144,253,246 for distribution for state and local highway, road and street programs and for other transportation, off $14,185,630 from 1979. The money is divided according to formula set by state law.

According to computations announced Monday, Isosco County Road Commission is to receive $305,684, as compared to $338,766 a year ago; East Tawas is to receive $16,492, as compared to $16,786 a year ago; Whittemore's share is $2,944, as compared to $3,220.

Tawas City was one of 126 communities in the state which actually received more money than in the same quarter of 1979, ranging from a few dollars to several thousand dollars. Tawas City receives $12,403, as compared to $12,030 in the fourth quarter of 1979.

Ice Rink Melts

Tawas Area Lions Club's annual kids day ice skating program at the Newman Street athletic field has been canceled. The rink was in perfect shape last week, but thawing weather has turned it into "the old swimming hole," reports a club spokesman.

TA Closes Next Week With Gladwin

The hot hand of Jim Graham gave the Tawas Area Braves fits in the first half of Friday night's game with the Whittemore-Prescott Cardinals, but the Cardinal sharpshooter's aim was off in the second half and the Braves rolled to a 72-67 victory.

Despite Graham's efforts, control of backboards at both ends of the floor meant the difference for the Braves. Jon Dunn turned in a strong game on rebounds throughout the game and John Capiis came off the bench to add some valuable assistance on the backboards during the second half.

The Cardinals rang up a 20-14 first quarter lead, mainly on the deadly outside shooting of Graham, who meshed six field goals and a charity toss. Tawas came back in the second quarter to take a one-point margin, although the Cardinal senior still meshed four buckets.

It was all Tawas after that point as the steady shooting of Tom Schriber gave Tawas a 19-11 scoring edge in the third quarter. The Cardinals outscored the Braves, 20-16, in the fourth quarter but Coach Paul Becker substituted freely with the game in hand in the late minutes of the game.

Tawas had three players scoring in double figures, led by a 26-point effort by Schriber. Dunn had 17 points with excellent shooting under the bucket and Jay Grabow meshed 12 points from outside.

Graham had to settle for second high total for the night with 25 points. Jeff Janish was the only other Cardinal player to score in double figures with 12 points.

The Cardinals were dead at the charity lanes with 17 of 24 shots and Tawas meshed eight of its 16 attempts.

Action this week found the Braves playing at Oscoda Tuesday night and playing host to Standish-Sterling Central on February 20.

The season is now winding down in the Northeastern Michigan Conference and Tawas closes out the conference schedule February 27 by playing host to Gladwin. The Ogemaw Heights Falcons are leading the pack with only one loss during the season and that was at the hands of the Braves.

The Junior Braves had four players scoring in double figures to defeat the Cardinal junior varsity, 66-42.

Tawas took a 16-12 lead in the first quarter, outscored the visitors, 19-14, in the third quarter and won going away with a 21-13 mark in the third quarter.

Eric Groff meshed 22 points to top the Junior Braves, followed by Loeffler's 12 points. Elliott and Wojahn each had 10.

Tawas Defeated by Oscoda Owls

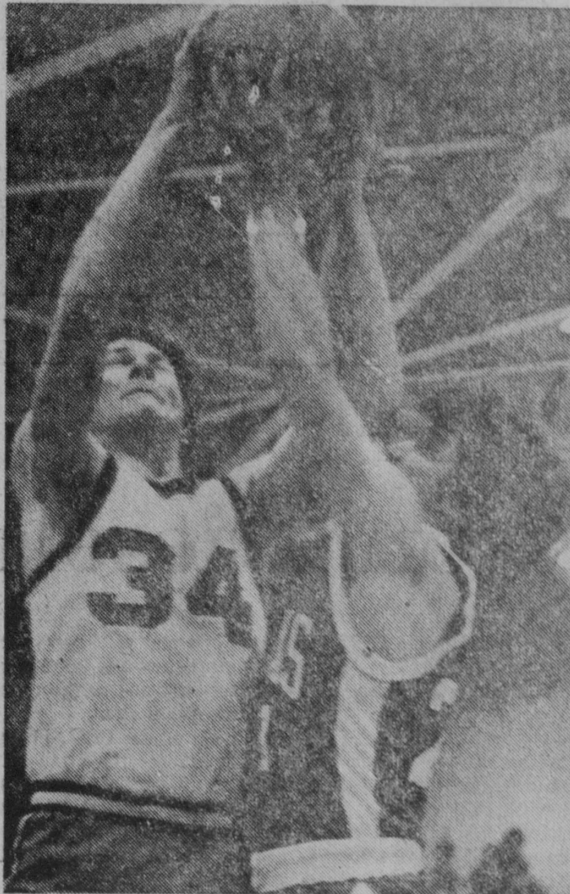

Tawas Braves fell before a strong Oscoda Owl team, 79-55, in action February 10 on the losers' home floor.

The Owls jumped off to a 20-11 lead in the first quarter and were never headed, although the Braves played on even terms during the second quarter when each team scored 19 points.

Oscoda completed 31 of 85 shots from the floor and Tawas meshed 21 of 61 attempts.

Jay Grabow topped the Braves with 23 points, followed by a 14-point effort by Tom Schriber and eight points by Kelly Moffatt.

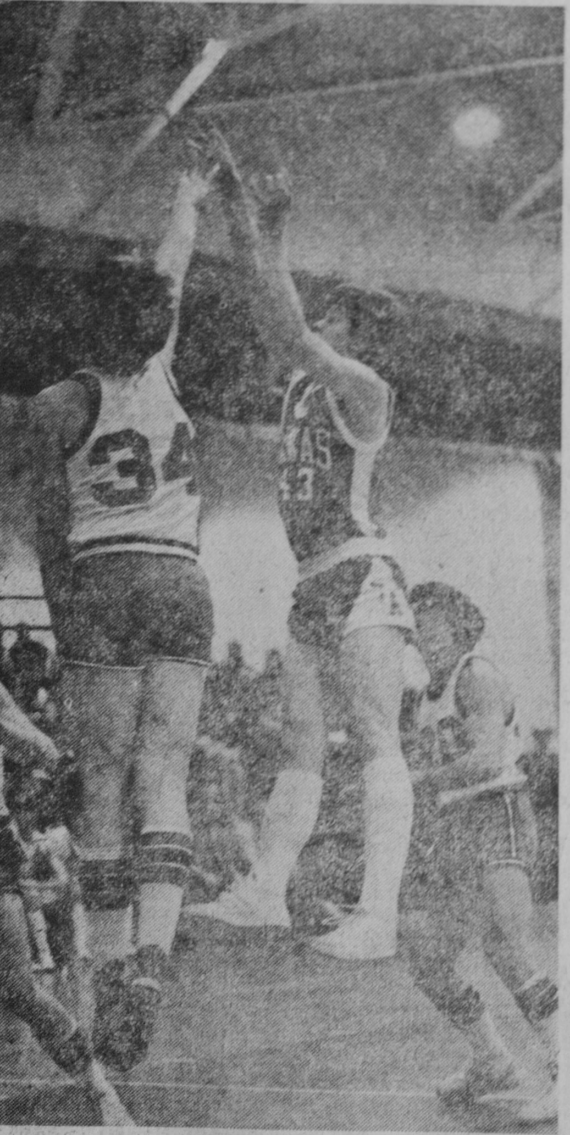

The Junior Braves won over the visitors, 38-36. Eric Groff paced Tawas with 12 points and Rod Loeffler had 10.

up, "but to keep it as clean as possible."

Following that brief discussion, the mayor read a letter from Greater Michigan Foundation stating that pairings would take place March 18 for mayor's exchange day.

Last year, Tawas City again participated in this government day program as part of Michigan Week and two exchanges were held with Imlay City, with each community playing host to visiting delegations of officials on different days.

The council felt that a similar program could be held this year, should the city participate on May 18, rather than to follow the usual custom of exchanging mayors for a day.

Veteran Baker Kneads Dough at Provincial H.

It had been 20 years since Walter Artanowitz, long-time baker, made a good-sized batch of bread... until recently.

Since moving to the Provincial House skilled nursing facility in Tawas City, Artanowitz has had an opportunity to bake bread for everyone in the facility. He can spend an entire afternoon preparing dough and dividing it into loaves to be baked in the facility's kitchen.

"Everyone loved it," says Reata Drumm, Provincial House activities director, recalling the last time Artanowitz baked.

The staff had been encouraging Artanowitz, 88, to bake bread since he first moved to Provincial House about two years ago. A baker with his own shop in the Detroit area for many years, he retired 20 years ago and had not baked in all that time.

State Ranks Third Nationally in Production of Mushrooms

By MARGARET C. McCALL

"Mad about mushrooms" pretty well describes my symptoms. Snowy white mushrooms at the market are almost irresistible. This is one vegetable that is low in calories and complements almost any dish.

According to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, the state ranks third in the nation in production of mushrooms, with an estimated 11-million pounds grown last year—a veritable mountain of good things growing in Michigan.

If you get the chance, visit a mushroom producer and watch how mushrooms are harvested. It is fascinating to see the workers, wearing miner's head lamps, move through the darkness of the mushroom house harvesting these tasty morsels.

Large mushrooms are ideal for stuffing and I have found you can freeze them (stuffed and baked) successfully, which is a real convenience. Marinated fresh mushrooms are a treat as an appetizer. Mushrooms are readily available either fresh or canned.

Wash fresh mushrooms gently or wipe with a damp cloth and pat dry. For the world's easiest marinated mushrooms, just combine small ones with a bottle of your favorite Italian dressing and a little sweet basil. Marinate at room temperature several hours, stirring occasionally, then drain and serve.

For stuffed mushrooms, remove caps carefully and place in greased shallow pan. Chop stems and measure. Sauté in a little butter with finely chopped onion until liquid is absorbed. Combine with an equal amount of chopped pecans and stuff the caps, mounding slightly. Sprinkle generously with grated Parmesan cheese, bake at 350 degrees until browned, about 15 minutes. Serve at once or wrap tightly when cool and freeze. Can be frozen for up to a month. To reheat, transfer to ovenproof shallow pan and bake about 10 minutes at 400 degrees.

In this day of consumerism, we felt it was our duty to make available to our clients, the most up-to-date REAL ESTATE SERVICE, currently possible. This is the reason we are proud to announce the introduction of "Home Warranty Protection." This service is made possible thru Interstate Warranty Company. Here is how it works:
As of January 15, 1981 any listing of a residential home by K. L. Verlac Real Estate, Inc. is protected by a Warranty Protection. This service is free of charge during the term of the listing, up to a maximum of 6 months. Example of this would be: Your home is listed by us and two weeks later your furnace stops working and it is determined that a new furnace is needed, the Home Protection Company will buy you a new furnace at absolutely no charge to you except for a $50.00 deductible. This service also covers many other major items in the home. Once your home is sold, at closing there is a fee of $295.00 which in turn covers the new buyer of the home for 13 months. We at K. L. Verlac Real Estate, Inc. think so much of this program that at closing if our seller does not feel the service was worth the fee, we will pick up the tab, enabling every buyer of a home from us, to enjoy 13 months of carefree "Home Protection." We know of no other company which offers a service of this type. At today's home prices we realize it takes just about all the money a person has available to buy a home. We don't think you should have to come up with additional dollars after purchasing to put in a new hot water heater, wiring, dishwasher, etc. Your hometown Real Estate Company, K. L. Verlac Real Estate, Inc. is constantly striving to give you the best possible real estate service available and the Home Protection Warranty is just another example of the fine service now available. Our top salesman, Philip E. Ross, listed and sold in 1980, over $2,387,400.00. We intend to do better this year and along with it provide the kind of protection every seller and buyer should have. If you happen to find a home listed with another real estate firm and would like to purchase it, call us and we can probably submit your offer with the same "Home Protection Warranty" we offer our sellers and buyers. If you are thinking about selling or buying, think K. L. Verlac Real Estate, Inc. for the protection you deserve and need. Call 362-6101 and we will be happy to explain the services in detail.

THIS WINTER is going down as one of the coldest in recent years, the first 24 days of January registering temperatures well below normal for that month. Following last week's storm which dumped about nine inches of snow on the area, the temperature dropped to 20 degrees below zero Thursday morning. One of the coldest jobs in the area is being performed by workmen of Great Lakes Contractors of Warren, who are replacing two bridges in Tawas City. The project started in early November with removal of old concrete bridges on Sixth Avenue and Whittemore Street and these pictures show progress as of last week. In the top picture, rows of piling have been driven into the bottom of Dead Creek and await construction of a wooden roadway over the stream. The two spans are scheduled for completion in the spring and the Dead Creek span will face its first test of ice jams and roaring water.—Tawas Herald Photo.

THIS WORKMAN is using a cutting torch to prepare steel beams being used to straighten the piling for the Whittemore Street bridge. A dam built across the river downstream from the bridge to collect debris has raised the river about 18 inches at the bridge site and has slowed the flow of the river. As a result, the ice forming on the river has provided a convenient "platform" for workmen.—Tawas Herald Photo.

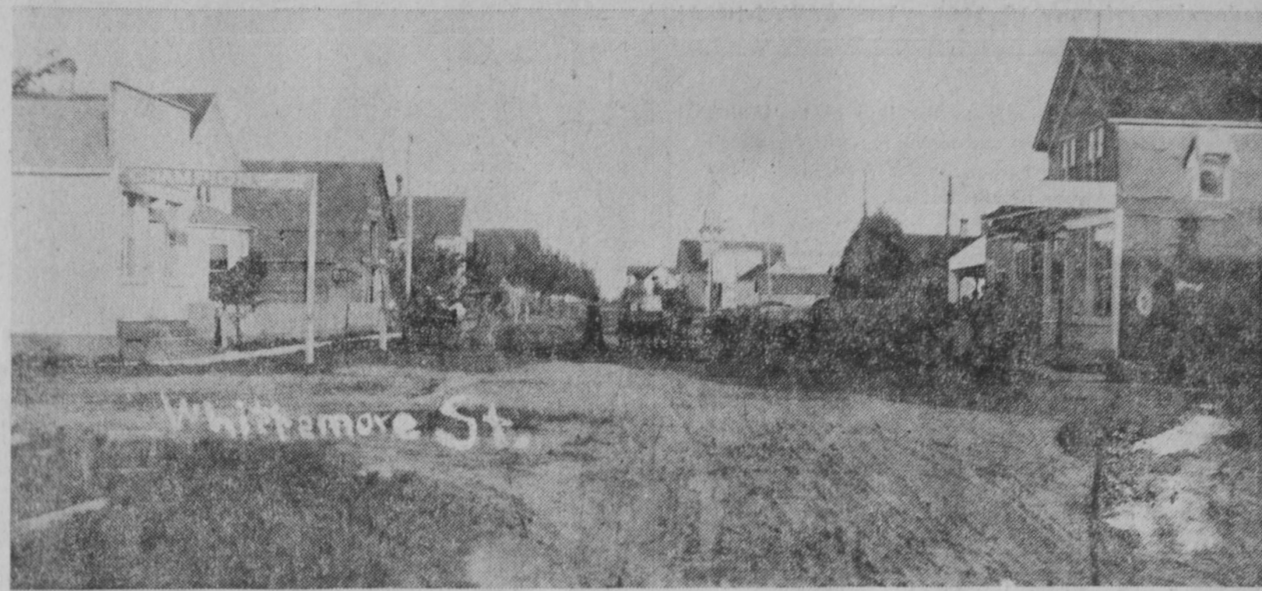

THESE MEN are attaching a long cable from a dragline in preparation to straighten the wooden piling. The treated piling was driven 25 feet into the river bottom and some veered off course after striking a solid object—possibly rock—below the stream bed. The posts will be cut off later to a uniform level for installation of wooden beams to form the bed of the roadway.—Tawas Herald Photo.

THE TEMPERATURE was several degrees below zero when this picture was snapped Thursday morning. Workmen said that cold weather was not unusual to them as contractors find that working on solid ice is rather convenient. During a warmer time of the year, platforms would have to be built over the water to accomplish the job.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Whittemore Post Card Views

THE LATE JESSIE McLEAN, who lived more than half of her 88 years in Tawas City, always had a special place in her heart for the community of Whittemore. Although not a native of that place, she grew into womanhood there and married Charles McLean, a rural mail carrier, on June 25, 1914. Two of their three children were born in Whittemore and the family moved to Tawas City in 1924, where her husband owned and operated a department store until his retirement. He died in 1970. When Mrs. McLean passed away, October 7, 1980, her children were called upon to sort through memorabilia which their mother had saved down through the years. Included was a collection of post card views showing how the rural community of Whittemore appeared during the early 1900s. The faces of long-departed friends were included in some views, but most of the post cards were of familiar street scenes and buildings. Comments penned by Mrs. McLean on the back of some of the post cards are valuable footnotes to a history of that community and a sampling has been selected for this feature.

THIS SCHOOL BUILDING was constructed in 1907 and the first year of school was held beginning in September of that year "with Mr. Lisle and Florence Schroyer (Curtis) as teachers." An addition was later made to the building and it was used as an elementary school after consolidation of the Whittemore-Prescott Area School District. It was razed about 10 years ago.

THE DETROIT AND MACKINAC Railway Depot at Whittemore is pictured here in the early 1900s. The building was later moved, after abandonment of the Prescott Division, and converted into a dwelling.

BEANS AND PEAS were important cash crops grown in Burrell Township and the women are shown sorting beans.

THIS VIEW of Whittemore's main street shows the unimproved trail leading through town. The building at left was the old schoolhouse, later converted into a blacksmith shop and operated by Rowley and Broadworth. The building across the street was the Schroyer and Wismer livery barn. A roller-skating rink was later located on the ground floor and entertainment hall above.

THE STORE in this view is unidentified, but Charles L. McLean, rural mail carrier, is in the buggy. Standing from left are Frank Wiltberger and W. S. Hall. The building is thought to be the store of A. Blumenau, which is also shown in the view at the top of the page. The only street lamp in town—an oil burner—is located to the right of the store.

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

Tawas School Has Its Back Against Wall

A minor "miracle" is needed and soon to save spring sports and other extracurricular activities this year at Tawas Area School. The Herald was not placing overemphasis on its news report of last week which stated this school district "has its back to the wall," financially speaking.

Parents in attendance at last week's board of education meeting made some very realistic observations that spring sports, forensics and the spring band trip were important and necessary offerings to youngsters attending school; it should be admitted by all, however, that academic offerings should be the last to be cut in any financial pinch.

There is no question in anyone's mind that the school district is in a financial bind. Despite what we all think about governmental spending at times, this corner views Tawas Area School's budget as extremely lean. It has always been recognized that the people of this area, and subsequently its schools, have always been conservative in terms of spending tax money. Youngsters are given a good, basic education without a lot of the frills which some other school districts of the state enjoy, but an adequate curriculum has been provided here and some improvements have been made.

It is becoming more difficult each year for taxpayers of such school districts as Tawas Area and Hale Area to swallow the designation that these districts are "rich," hence both are "out of formula" and do not receive any state membership aid. In addition, we seem to have a governor who has a great dislike for these "rich" districts and has recommended that transportation funds to those districts be drastically slashed.

It must be admitted, however, that schools here have a high valuation behind each child, due mainly to the fact that there are many nonresidents who pay taxes here on their resort and recreational properties. For that reason, no objection is voiced when other districts with less valuation behind each child are benefited by state membership aid—those schools deserve that assistance.

By the same token, it must be recognized, too, that the average annual income in Iosco County is much lower than the average income paid in South-eastern Michigan. Those bedroom communities of the metropolitan area have schools which offer much more in academic and athletic curriculums than up here in the north—and the taxpayers of those down state districts have voted high millage rates to support their schools.

Because of unemployment throughout the state, it is doubtful if those down state districts will renew such high millage rates. By the same token, it will be most difficult to get taxpayers of Tawas Area School District to approve additional millage to make up for the loss in this district's categorical aid—a deficit now of $151,596 and it will be more than that by the annual school election in June.

What really hurts are reports in Detroit newspapers to the effect that some units of government in that area defy the state constitution by not assessing residential property at or as near as possible to 50 percent of true cash value. Some of those suburban communities make up the difference by placing the greatest load on industry. Dearborn is too rich to receive any state aid for its schools, but perhaps that is why some other suburbs can vote such high millage rates for schools and really take advantage of the state membership aid formula.

One of the best things that ever happened in county and state government was the reorganization that each county have a tax equalization department. As long as property taxes are assessed to finance government and schools, the nonpolitical tax equalization department offers the most equitable means of providing uniformity in assessing. Despite our own groans at tax statement time, equalization departments of this county and surrounding counties seem to be following the mandate of the constitution, and the regulations of the state tax commission.

During this hectic time of unemployment and financial catastrophe in Michigan, the legislature and the governor must be fair to all areas of the state when funds are reduced. At one time, "rich" Tawas Area School District probably received more than its fair share of membership aid, but the state aid membership bill several years ago took care of that. But cutting categorical (transportation) aid from $212,000 a year ago down to around $10,000 for the coming term is just too much to swallow.

Another point to remember is that the state, for years, insisted that small rural school districts of Michigan simply had to reorganize into larger districts—to save money and to provide a better education for children. The state "guaranteed" that it would pay 75 percent of the cost of transporting children to centralized schools by bus, but it is doubtful if there is a school administrator in the state who can recall when his district received full state funding. Because of the distance involved in these far-flung districts, it will be an impossibility now for many youngsters to walk to school—but it is probable that all students living within two miles of school will be walking next term.

It may be that this school district will have to cut its sports program this spring—other districts are doing the same. It will be tough for some youngsters, but the board of education is correct when it insists that academic offerings should be the last to be cut in a financial emergency.

(Read Matthew 21:18-22)
 My husband died when our boys were two and four years old. I worked hard to give them the kind of life children enjoy with both parents. The day came when both were in college and I was in deep financial trouble. I had gone as far as I could on my own strength.

In my prayers, I had talked to the Lord about everything except finances. One night as I prayed, I turned my financial troubles over to God and asked for help with this problem. The next morning as I sat at my desk, I opened a magazine and started to read a page entitled, "News You Can Use." The article stated that a law had been passed the previous January that provided someone in my situation with a government pension. This pension was retroactive to January and it solved all my financial problems.

Some might say this was a coincidence but I believe God can work miracles. I truly believe that God will take care of those things we cannot take care of if we place our concerns in God's hands.

PRAYER

Most merciful God, we thank You for the many answered prayers in days past. As we strive to live in the center of Your will, we are thankful for Your promise to hear us when we call on You. Amen.

Proceedings of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners

JANUARY SESSION (Cont'd)

January 21, 1981

A regular meeting of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners held at the county building in Tawas City on January 21, 1981, pursuant to published schedule.

Meeting called to order at 9:45 a. m. by Chairman George and the roll called.

Present: Landry (District 1), George (District 2), Merschel (District 3), Ulman (District 4) and Webb (District 5)

Absent: None.

At the request of Commissioner Landry, the clerk read a letter under date of January 21, 1981, from Mr. Landry regretfully tendering his resignation as District No. 1 commissioner, due to unforeseen personal circumstances. In discussion of the matter, Mr. Landry indicated his resignation to be effective immediately, and the other board members expressed their shock and surprise, and regret that he would be unable to serve with them. It was thereupon moved by Merschel and supported by Ulman that Mr. Landry's resignation be accepted, with deep regret and sorrow. Motion carried. Mr. Landry thanked and bid goodbye to board members and departed the meeting.

Chairman George invited any members of the public in attendance to address the board, there being no response.

Edward Sterling, administrator of the county building and safety inspection department, appeared before the board to present the 1980 annual report for his department, whereupon he distributed typewritten copies of the report to board members and reviewed the same in detail, indicating that the building permits issued were only down 66 from the previous year, with commercial being down the most.

IOSCO COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF BUILDING & SAFETY INSPECTION ACTIVITIES REPORT FOR THE YEAR - 1980

(Available at county clerk's office)

In discussion of complaints and appeals, Mr. Sterling asked if a fee could be established for hearings before the construction code board of appeals, whereupon the matter was referred to Commissioner Merschel to research the statute.

In further discussion, Chairman George referred to a request from the Iosco County Housing Commission to hire Secretary-Treasurer Mary B. Klinkel as administrator and to have Mr. Sterling perform inspections for the community development block program, whereupon the matter was discussed at some length by the board, it being the consensus among board members that perhaps they should "go along" with the housing commission's proposal and "give it a try". Commissioner Webb thereupon read a letter from the housing commission setting out a proposal to contract with the county building and safety inspection department to perform specified services.

Following continued discussion concerning the possibility of combining building department and housing commission personnel at one site and the matter of compensation for Mr. Sterling to perform the additional duties, the matter was referred to the administrative committee to meet with Mr. Sterling to explore the matters and report back to the board.

In response to a proposal by Mr. Sterling that a flat fee be instituted for inspections of new homes (Sterling indicating the present fee structure to be out-moded), Chairman George proposed that he submit a specific proposal for the board's consideration.

Chairman George introduced Tom Alley, representative of the 105th Legislative District, and Peter Lambrecht, chairman of the Democratic Party County Committee.

Mr. Alley addressed the board, indicating he is looking forward to working with the commissioners, and discussed the following matters: The governor's 1981 tax reform proposal incorporating a straight-across-the-board tax cut of 35% for homestead owners, indicating local government will be reimbursed by the state for about 90% of the loss in tax revenues from senior citizens, which will be financed by a 1% increase in sales tax; the added responsibility on local government; legislative committees on which he will serve; his priorities (school financing and reform, tourism and jobs); public transportation programs, indicating they are contingent upon budget appropriation and that he is working with the department of transportation; the M. A. C. Conference in February, inviting commissioners to attend his hospitality room to discuss problems and priorities; and jail operating costs, which was raised by Chairman George, indicating that mandated services are causing hardships for local units of government. Continuing, Mr. Alley indicated that he will be holding regular office hours in the counties in his district and requested use of the county building, advising that Democratic Party Chairman Peter Lambrecht will be his liaison representative in the county and inviting the commissioners to contact him (Alley) at any time for his assistance.

Raymond Andrus, of the Osoda-Ausable Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the board to ask the approval of a $70 expenditure for the parks and recreation commission for an ad in a county promotional brochure which they will distribute at sports shows down state. In discussion, Mr. Andrus was given assurance of the board's approval and advised to proceed accordingly.

At 10:50 a. m., committees were ordered to their respective duties, the official meeting to stand in recess until 1:30 p. m.

Upon call to order at 1:55 p. m., all commissioners (except Mr. Landry) being present, Robert Curry, chairman of the county planning commission, appeared before the board to present a resolution adopted by the planning commission on January 8, 1981, approving an "Economic Development Corporation" project for development of the John Brugger property located in Tawas City, their statement of findings indicating that the project area does not conflict with the county planning commission's development plan and that the project area, as recommended, is acceptable to the county planning commission. The matter was referred to Commissioner Ulman.

Continuing, Curry reported in reference to the proposed county airport zoning ordinance, whereupon he read and discussed with board members the recommendations of the county planning commission relative thereto. In discussion of a date for a public hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance, Curry advanced the opinion that they are ready for the hearing.

County Treasurer Edward Nelkie and Deputy Treasurer Ruth Hensley appeared before the board to present the 1980 annual report of general fund revenues, together with a balance sheet report for the various county funds as of December 31, 1980, and a reconciliation of bank balances and fund cash accounts, which were prepared by the treasurer's office. Treasurer Nelkie addressed the board, congratulating board members and department heads for cooperating in the effort to hold the line on expenditures during 1980 and recommending that the austerity program be continued for 1981. Deputy Treasurer Hensley thereupon reviewed the reports in detail, and Mr. Nelkie and Mrs. Hensley answered questions of the commissioners and discussed other county finance matters.

Chairman George referred to and discussed the meeting scheduled to be held with parks and recreation commission members on January 27th at 8:00 p. m., inquiring of other board members as to whether the meeting should be an official session of the board. Matter discussed briefly, it being the consensus that the meeting should be scheduled as an official session.

Continuing, George raised the matter of planting shrubbery around the county building complex and, following a brief discussion, the matter was referred to Commissioner Ulman.

Finance Chairman Merschel presented and moved adoption of the following resolutions:

Disabled Should Not Wait to Apply

Workers in the local area suffering from a physical or mental impairment which prevents them from working should consider applying for social security disability benefits when it appears this condition will last 12 months or more, a social security representative said recently.

Social security disability benefits can be paid to workers under 65, disabled widows and widowers 50 or older, and to unmarried adults disabled before reaching 22.

Under social security, a person is considered disabled if he or she has a condition which prevents him or her from doing any substantial gainful work and is expected to last for at least 12 months or to result in death.

No payments can be made to a disabled worker, widow or widower for the first 5 months of disability.

Before a person applies for disability benefits, it will be helpful if he or she gathers certain information. This will help speed up the application process, the spokesperson said. This includes:

- The person's social security number.
- Date last worked.
- Date person became sick or was injured.
- Type of illness or injury.
- Date returned to work, if no longer disabled.

Names, addresses, and telephone numbers of doctors, hospitals, institutions, or clinics that provided treatment for the disability and dates of treatment.

Military service serial number and VA claim number if available.

List of kinds of jobs performed in previous 10 years.

Names, social security numbers, and dates of birth of spouse and children.

Workers' compensation

Whatever your time of life... Social Security protects you.

That's why your Social Security Card is important to you. It answers the call in case the alarm rings for four basic needs.

If you are disabled, it pays disability benefits. If someone you love and depend on dies, it provides survivor benefits. When you retire, Social Security benefits help you enjoy the things you worked so hard for. And when you reach 65, or you've been getting Social Security disability checks for at least two years, Medicare helps pay the hospital and medical bills.

If you have any questions about your Social Security protection, call your Social Security Office. It's listed in the phone book under Social Security Administration.

Homemade Bread Is Delicious!

Homemade bread—just the mention of it brings to mind its wonderful aroma and delicious taste. Making bread can save money, too.

Now there is an opportunity to learn how to make bread at home without the bother of messy cleanup. The Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Iosco County is sponsoring a bread-making-in-a-bag workshop on Friday, February 20, from 10:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon, at the Reno Township Hall.

Susan Lambrecht, Iosco County Extension director, will demonstrate the special bread-making technique developed by the Wheat Flour Institute. Everyone attending will follow the step-by-step procedures and make a loaf to take home and bake. Participants will also learn the results of the latest research on bread's contribution to nutrition and will get answers to any questions about whole grains, enrichment and dietary fiber.

Because of the supplies needed, there is a charge for the workshop and advance reservations are necessary. For information or reservations, contact the Iosco County Cooperative Extension Service, 362-3449.
