Tawas Area Welcomes Visitors to Perchville

The Tawas area is expected to host several thousand visitors this week-end during the 31st annual Perchville USA Festival.

Cash prizes are to be awarded each day to winners of ice fishing contests and grand prizes are to be awarded on the ice Sunday afternoon.

Royalty reigning over the festival will be Susan Lambrecht, Perchville queen, and Roger Jackson, Perchville king.

Mrs. Lambrecht has been the Iosco County Cooperative Extension Service director since 1976, holds a bachelor and master degree from Michigan State University and has worked at the Cooperative Extension office here since 1976.

Serving on the queen's court will be Ione Sabin, Mabel Smith, Jane Churchill and JoAnn Klinger.

Jackson has served as executive director of Tawas Area Chamber of Commerce since 1976 and came to Tawas from employment with the General Electric Corporation. Born in Lexington, Massachusetts, he attended the University of Rochester at Rochester, New York.

The week-end program is being sponsored by Tawas Area Promotions with David Carroll, president.

The program starts Friday with Doe Night at St. Joseph's Social Center and Stag Night at the East Tawas Community Building. Each program includes a cocktail hour from 6:00 to 7:30 p. m., followed by dinner and crowning of the king and queen.

Saturday's program starts at 11:00 a. m. with a parade on Newman Street, a four-by-four truck rally at 1:00 p. m., arrival of a legislative safari at 2:00 p. m., polar bear swim at 3:30 p. m.

There will be an ice shanty race Sunday morning at 11:00 a. m., followed by helicopter rides at 12:30 p. m., demolition derby at 1:00 p. m., polar bear swim at 2:30 p. m., awarding of prizes at 3:30 p. m.

Tawas Area Lions will hold a pancake breakfast Sunday from 7:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. at the East Tawas Elementary Unit.

There will be a teen dance Friday night, 8 to 11 o'clock, for youngsters in grades nine through 12 and a dance Saturday night, 7:30 to 10 o'clock, for junior high school students, both at Immaculate Heart of Mary Parish Hall, Tawas City.

Featured during the festival will be an ice sculpture contest and maps are available at the chamber of commerce office listing locations of work by local artists.

First prize to be awarded Sunday will be a 15-cubic-foot freezer filled with a hindquarter of beef, one side of pork and 12 whole chickens with an estimated value of $1,200.

Second prize will be a cross-country skiing outfit valued at $145 and third prize will be a $75 merchandise certificate.

Fun and food tents are to be set up along the shore of Tawas Bay near the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock, which will serve as headquarters for all outdoor events over the big week-end.

Appointee Sidetracked

Clerk Schedules Election for Commission Vacancy

An attempt to force the county board of commissioners to appoint someone to fill the vacancy of First Dist. Com. John Landry, who resigned two weeks ago, has been sidetracked by Iosco County Clerk D. Keith Papas.

According to a time schedule prepared last week by Papas, candidates for the vacant Oscola district seat must file nomination petitions by 4:00 p. m. February 13.

A special primary election to select party candidates is to be held on March 24. If not more than one candidate from each political party files petitions, the person receiving the most votes would be declared the winner and take over the vacant seat on the board of commissioners.

If more than one candidate files from any one party, the March 24 election would be considered a primary and a special election would be required on April 28 to fill the vacancy.

The board of commissioners was sent into a tailspin two weeks ago when Landry, who was elected to office on the Republican ticket in the November general election, resigned from office after attending only one meeting.

Last August, Landry defeated James Stech, incumbent, for the Republican nomination, 344-230.

During discussion on the day Landry submitted his resignation, Com. John Webb Jr. said he would offer a resolution appointing Stech to fill the vacancy and Com. Marian Ulman said she would second the motion. The matter never came to the floor as both David George, board chairman, and Com. Carlton Merschel said they would abstain from voting, believing a special election by Oscola voters was necessary.

The matter came to a head during the board's committee of a whole meeting last Wednesday when Stech appeared before the commission and asked for the appointment.

On Wednesday night, the executive committee of the Iosco County Republican Committee endorsed Stech's appointment to fill the vacancy. Hugh Prescott, county GOP chairman, told members that according to the way he read the law, the commission was required to fill its own vacancy.

House Bill No. 5799 adopted by the legislature in 1978, amending previous state acts, states that when a vacancy occurs in the office of commissioner by death, resignation, removal from the district, or removal from office, "the vacancy shall be filled by appointment within 30 days by the county board of commissioners of a resident and registered voter of that district."

"The person appointed to fill a vacancy which occurred in an odd numbered year shall serve until the vacancy is filled in a special election. That special election shall be called by the county board of commissioners.

The person appointed to fill a vacancy which occurs in a year which is an election year for the office of county commissioner shall serve for the remainder of the unexpired term.

"If the county board of commissioners does not fill the vacancy by appointment within 30 days, that vacancy shall be filled by a special election regardless of whether the year is an election year or an odd year."

Because of the last paragraph, Clerk Papas said he could not read the act as making it mandatory for the board of commissioners to appoint someone to fill the vacancy. As chairman of the county election committee, he called the three other members and set the date for the special primary election.

Terms of the county election committee expired on December 31 and the board of commissioners took no action on appointments at its organizational session the first meeting in January, believing that no elections would be scheduled in the near future.

The county clerk said last week, however, that members of the county election committee serve until new appointments are made. Members of the committee are Clyde Soper of East Tawas, Edward Tate of Oscola and Harvey Rasch of Plainfield Township.

In addition to endorsing the appointment of Stech, the GOP executive committee further endorsed him in the special election when duly designated. The resolution went on to say that "James F. Stech had displayed dedication to the Republican Party with open efforts to elect President Reagan. He is in good standing with the executive committee of the Iosco County Republican Party, has solid experience in the position of District One commissioner and has served his constituents well."

Although only nine members were present, the executive committee had a quorum. Merschel abstained from voting on the resolution endorsing Stech's appointment. He pointed out Thursday that it had been past policy not to support a particular candidate in a primary election.

Camp Iroquois Sold; Plan Residential Lots

Sale of Camp Iroquois at Sand Lake, formerly owned by the YMCA, was announced last week by K. L. Verlac Real Estate, Incorporated, of East Tawas.

New owner of the property is Whitney and Associates of Mt. Morris, who plans to develop the land into rustic, residential home sites.

Camp Iroquois has been owned by the YMCA since 1914 and many residents of Iosco County and surrounding areas have spent happy, carefree hours as boys at the camp.

Located in Grant Township, the former summer camp is one of the last undeveloped large parcels in this area. It has remained secluded in natural surroundings and the entire parcel is wooded with a predominance of oak and other hardwoods. White pine, red pine, jack pine, cedar and tamarack dot the forest.

One parcel has a fine sand beach for almost one-half mile along Sand Lake and the north parcel borders Floyd Lake for about 1,300 feet.

Buildings include a main lodge with stone fireplace, camp director's headquarters, nurse's station, program director's house, arts and crafts building, pump house, 10 cabins, steel storage building and a bathhouse constructed in 1965. The property includes 1,330 feet of improved access road. Sale price of the property was $350,000.

The Mt. Morris firm has plans to keep the natural beauty of the property intact. Development will give many people the chance to own a beautiful home site in the inland lake region of Iosco.

When development is completed, future sales of the property will be handled by K. L. Verlac and Philip E. Ross.

MAYOR DAVID WESTCOTT studies preliminary plans for the new Tawas City Fire Hall, which were delivered this week by the city's architectural consultant. Plans were reviewed Monday night by the city council. —Tawas Herald Photo.

Structural Change Required at Jail

A report from Undersheriff Michael Welsh Wednesday indicated that some remodeling must be accomplished at the county jail to meet mandated requirements of the state corrections department.

Meeting with the county board of commissioners Wednesday, the undersheriff said the jail had complied with all but 12 of the 67 rules checked by the state corrections department during its recent inspection.

To comply with 11 of those rules will require structural changes at the jail. Welsh said the state had indicated the county would be given a five-year time period in which to comply.

The major point of compliance within the next five years will be to remodel the jail to provide individual cells with 75 feet of floor space for each prisoner.

The cell block of the jail, built in 1955, provides eight-man cells, which met requirements at that time. The jail has a 31-inmate capacity and major remodeling, possibly an addition to the building, would be required to meet the regulations.

The undersheriff said that he had been told by the state jail inspector not to be concerned about the individual cells at this point in time as another county had obtained a variance in regulations, based on the hardship it would cause for expansion.

A list of approved architects was furnished by the state, however, to begin planning for the individual cells to show that the county was making an effort to comply.

One of the immediate regulations to be complied with is the provision for an exercise area and day room for prisoners, which apparently can be combined into one room. Welsh said that one-half of the garage at the rear of the jail could be converted into such a room, although additional manpower would be mandated for security.

The jail must also provide a processing area where inmates would receive showers before being placed in the general jail population. A detoxification and (See JAIL, page 4.)

GOING INTO OPERATION Friday was the new "LEIN machine" at the Iosco County Jail. This new unit replaces an older teletype machine installed two years ago. Testing the equipment are Sgt. Robert Westcott, right, and Undersheriff Michael Welsh. The equipment is connected with the main terminal of the Law Enforcement Information Network at Lansing and almost instantaneous information is received from a computer on driving and criminal records, wanted persons, plus information on warrants and stolen property. The new machine operates at a speed of 1,000 words per minute, as compared to 100 words per minute with the old unit. The service costs the county $3,800 per year, but a partial savings results from reduced telephone calls as it operates on a national network.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Council OK's Application for Gateway Park Funds

Formal action was taken Monday night by the Tawas City Council authorizing an application to the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission for $80,000 in Gateway Park funds.

If approved, these funds would be added to federal Land Water Conservation Act funds given tentative approval by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for development of the park.

(Turn to page 1, section 2, for more details on the project.)

In other matters, the council tabled action on a proposal by City Mgr. Lowell Thomas to open an account at the Oscola State Savings Bank. Because of fluctuating interest rates received on deposits, Thomas felt that it would be advisable to explore a short-term deposit program which offers up to 8 1/2 percent interest on a minimum of $25,000.

Coun. John (Joe) Martin said he was opposed to going out of the community to deposit city funds and Coun. Hugo Keiser pointed out that Peoples State Bank operates an office in Tawas City, pays taxes here and employs area residents. Although Peoples State Bank does not offer the same program as Oscola State Savings Bank, he said that other options were open. He said, too, that if the pending merger of Peoples State Bank with Michigan National Corporation is approved, the same program would be offered.

The matter was tabled by unanimous vote of the council.

Approval was given to two amendments to the zoning ordinance which were read at the January 19 meeting. The amendments bring the zoning board of appeals into conformance with state statute, revise the size regulation to permit larger accessory buildings and provide for enforcement of certificate of occupancy permits

View Preliminary Plans for New TC Fire Hall

Preliminary plans for a new fire station on Mathews Street were reviewed Monday night by the Tawas City Council. Construction of the new $175,000 facility and financing for the project were approved last November by voters.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas told councilmen that the plans were the result of a recent meeting between Samuel Dorchen, the city's consulting architect, and representatives of the city's volunteer fire department.

The 40 by 57-foot building would be constructed facing Mathews Street and would contain 3,444 square feet of floor space, about 156 less feet than planned originally. The west side of the building would contain a 57-foot-wide fire apparatus room with two 24-foot doors opening on to Mathews Street.

A communications room, office, rest-room, meeting room, shower and utility room would be located on the east side of the building. A small kitchenette would also be provided.

Thomas said that a workshop and storage area would also be included, along with a hose drying rack.

A parking lot for firemen would be located at the rear of the building with a back entrance controlled by an electrically operated combination lock.

Thomas said that it may be possible to make the meeting room available to community organizations. Provisions could be made to use the kitchenette, if desired, or that area of the building, the apparatus room and office could be locked during public meetings.

The city manager said this was the first preliminary plan to be received, although major changes are not anticipated in the basic layout due to a "sit down session" between the architect and firemen.

The council adopted the schedule of Iosco-Arenac Regional Library concerning vacation and sick leave policies for the part-time city librarian.

Approval was given to retaining possession of a strip of land along Dead Creek for public access. The property is located on Twelfth Avenue and was recently replatted by the city to sell lots. As the result of the action, the north half of one lot would remain in city ownership and the other portion would be added to the adjoining platted lot.

Application was received from Bopp - Busch Manufacturing Company for an industrial facilities tax exemption on a new $200,000 stamping press installed at the industry. One additional job would be provided.

Under state law, a community may establish a district to permit a 50 percent tax exemption for up to 12 years on qualified applications. A public hearing is to be held March 2 to permit other taxing units, including the school and county, to protest the exemption.

As the result of a 1979 evaluation for insurance purposes, Tawas City has a class seven rating. The city manager said he was gratified to learn that the rating had not been increased as it would affect local insurance rates. He said the city would make a study to determine what could be done to improve the rating through increasing water flow from hydrants and other points detailed in the survey.

Jail

holding cell is also mandated, although it is believed that the present "drunk tank" could be remodeled for this purpose.

Welsch said the jail seemed to be in compliance with another regulation by filling security slots with CETA trainees. Eight persons filling these slots relieve the desk sergeant from the security responsibility in the jail, as mandated by the state.

The undersheriff said that the jail would not have to provide a ramp for handicapped persons, inasmuch as the building was constructed prior to the effective date of the law in 1966. Any additions or remodeling would require barrier free design.

Another problem being investigated by the sheriff's department and the board of commissioners is the need for a new roof on the jail. The present roof was installed about six years ago and it is leaking in a number of places. Indications are that the roof will require replacement.

E. Tawas Applies for Fund Balance

Application is being made by the City of East Tawas to the Iosco County Board of Public Works to utilize the balance remaining from bonded monies provided for construction of the joint water system to rebuild filtration beds at the water pumping station.

A resolution adopted by the council pointed out that repair and improvement of the filtration bed would be beneficial to the two cities and Baldwin Township served by the joint water system.

From $50,000 to $60,000 remaining from the bond issue would be provided for this purpose, if approved by the Iosco County DPW.

In other matters, the council agreed to pay More Trench America Corporation its reduced bill of $357.37 for repairs to a pump recently purchased from that firm by the city. The final charge for the service was reduced by one-half.

Approval was given to installation of a high-intensity sodium street light at the intersection of US-23 with the road leading to Greenwood Cemetery.

Judge Denied OEA Motion; Teachers Worked Saturday

Teachers of Oscoda Area School District worked Saturday after losing their bid for injunctive action against Oscoda Area Board of Education.

Following a two-day bargaining session brought about in circuit court by Judge J. Richard Ernst, the judge denied Oscoda Education Association's petition for an injunction after contract talks were still at an impasse.

Hearing on the motion was to have been heard Thursday morning, but Judge Ernst ordered representatives of the two parties to continue negotiations on a 1980-81 contract before he would take action. Lengthy sessions continuing well into Thursday and Friday nights were held, but no settlement could be reached.

A work contract between OEA and the school district expired at the end of the 1979-80 term.

Teachers went out on strike October 20 and did not return to the classrooms until November 5, facing dismissal notices from the board of education if they did not comply.

The latest dispute was the result of an order by the board of education for teachers to report for work Saturday, January 31, listed as an inservice records day. Because of the loss of days while teachers were out on strike, the board of education maintains that the Saturday session for teachers was necessary to meet the 190 days called for in the contract.

Students attend school for 180 days, but teachers are hired for an additional 10 days.

The education association contended that it had submitted three alternatives to the Saturday workday, that the order was without lawful purpose and claimed it was a retaliation against the association.

The Saturday workday is one of five charges of unfair labor practices which OEA has filed against the board of education and a hearing has been set for February 17-18 by the Michigan Employment Relations Commission to hear those charges.

Stained plastic cups and dishes can be cleaned with denture cleaner.

National Cherry Month

It is National Cherry Month, and we are lucky to be living in the state which includes the cherry capital of the world. In Traverse City, of course, people like to remind visitors that Michigan grows more than 75 percent of all the nation's red tart cherries.

Cherries are among the good things growing in Michigan and last year the state produced 158-million pounds of red tart cherries and 58-million pounds of sweet cherries, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

February is National Cherry Month because of George Washington's legendary youthful encounter with the cherry tree. But Michigan's versatile cherries are delicious to eat and delightful to see any time.

If one has limited the use of red tart cherries to pies, here is a suggestion for another dessert, deceptively simple to prepare and truly elegant. This is a Black Forest torte but it is more impressive if the German name, Schwarzwaldler Kirschtorte, is used.

Bake a favorite dark chocolate cake in two layers. After they have cooled, carefully slice them in half, so to have four layers. Sprinkle each with about a tablespoon of kirsch, a cherry-flavored liqueur. (That is the real secret, because it moistens the cake layers.)

Spread canned cherry pie filling between the layers, top with the fourth layer, then frost top and sides with sweetened whipped cream flavored with kirsch. Decorate the top with shaved chocolate and a circle of bright maraschino cherries with stems. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

Well-drained black sweet cherries may be used between the layers and spread a thin layer of whipped cream over the sweet cherries for the filling.

19 Tawas Area Bandsmen Participate in Honors Band

Ten Tawas Area Symphonic and nine Cadet Band members participated in the District IX Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association All-Star Band last Saturday at Clare. Conductor of the senior band was Lloyd Conley, former Clare band director, and composer. He has written three selections for Tawas Area Bands over the years. The first, "Tawas, A Suite for Band," commissioned in 1969; "Diversion No. 1," a saxophone quartet (1971), and "Diversion No. 3," and a full band work premiered at the 33rd Midwestern Music Conference by the Tawas band.

The junior high all-star conductor was Andrew Balent, Warren composer. He has written approximately 200 band works for 13 different publishing companies.

Each student selected to perform in the bands participated in a live audition held at Ogemaw Heights and Beaverton. Those students selected were then invited to participate in the Saturday rehearsal in preparation for the evening concert.

There were 70 senior all-star band members attending and 68 junior all-star band members. Participants were from Alcona, Atlanta, Arenac-Eastern, Augres-Sims, Beaverton, Clare, Farwell, Gladwin, Hale, Harrison, Hillman, Mio, Ogemaw Heights, Oscoda, Standish-Sterling, Whittemore-Prescott, as well as Tawas Area.

Tawas Area Chamber of Commerce Would Move to Proposed New Center

Tawas Area Chamber of Commerce agreed in principle to move its headquarters into a new information center at the proposed Gateway Park to be located at the mouth of the Tawas River, if and when the project is completed.

Unanimous action informing the City of Tawas City of its intent was given at the board of directors' regular meeting held Wednesday morning.

The proposed new information center would serve the entire Lake Huron area from the Tawas to Cheboygan, according to Roger Jackson, executive director of the chamber of commerce. Representatives of various chambers of commerce along the shore line have given their stamp of approval.

The proposed center was added to Tawas City's application for federal Land Water Conservation Act funding as the first phase of developing the new Gateway Park.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas said Thursday that Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission had recommended the addition of the information center as part of the first phase. That agency has given preliminary approval to assist with funding both the park development and informational center projects, but final word from that agency will not be known until early April.

Addition of the information center project to the first phase will result in a slight delay in receiving approval on the amended application, said Thomas. The city met the deadline for submitting the original application for LWC funds to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Preliminary approval had been given last year, to the first application, but the DNR now needs additional information.

At the request of the DNR, Thomas is to furnish an elevation drawing and floor plan before it can give its final approval. John Beckett, the city's consultant on the project, is now preparing those plans.

The proposed information center would provide 1,200 feet of floor space and would be expandable, if necessary.

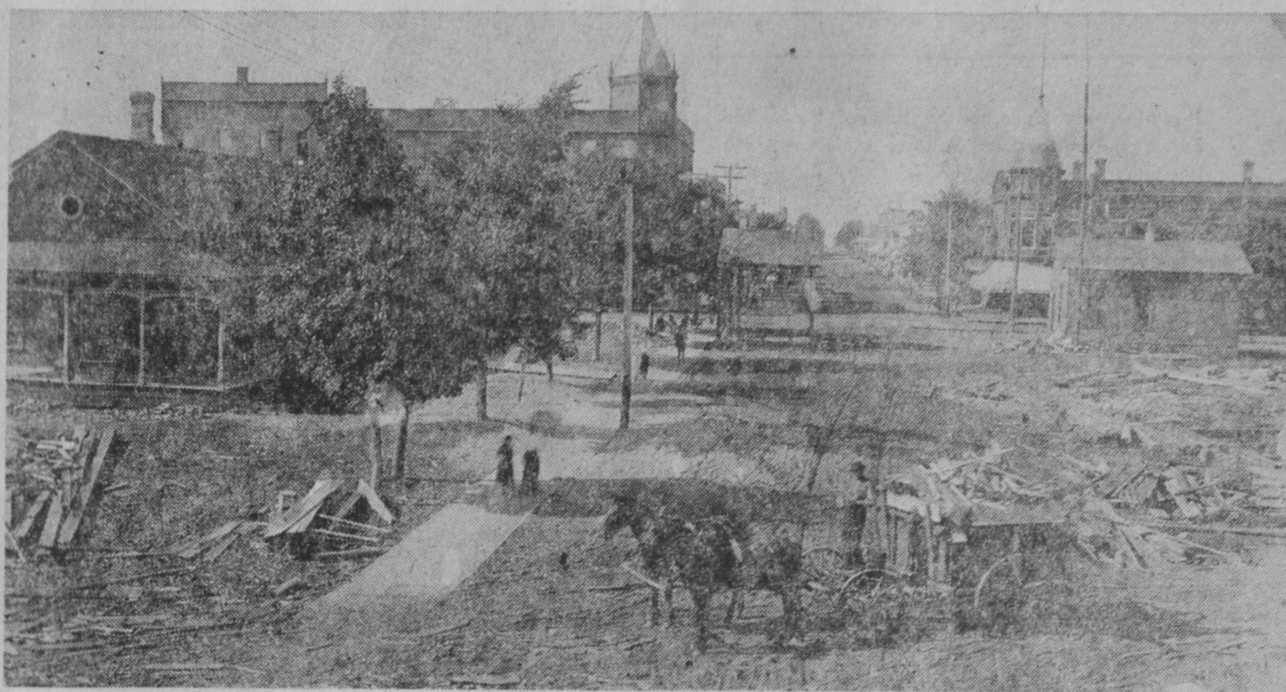

At the request of the city, Tawas Area High School is giving consideration to making the information center a project of the school's building trades class.

Because of depressed sales in the home construction field, the school may use building of the information center as a training project for students. A final decision must be made by school authorities no later than April as work usually commences that month on constructing the foundation for the building trades house to be finished the next school term.

THE MOUTH of the Tawas River is frozen solid with ice and the site for Tawas City's proposed new Gateway Park at left is covered with snow. Plans are being made to construct the park this year, but much depends on financing and timing.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Changes on Newman Street

LOOKING NORTH on Newman Street from the commercial dock in the 1890s. This view by A. G. Emery shows the saw-

Newman Street was not intended as the main business district when East Tawas was originally platted in the 1860s, but after a few buildings were constructed on Main Street, store owners apparently felt that Newman Street offered the best location because of its proximity to the new commercial dock.

Water provided the major means of transportation prior to the arrival of a through railroad in the fall of 1883 and, by that time, both sides of Newman extending from Bay Street north for nearly three blocks were lined with business buildings.

For the most part, buildings were of wood frame construction, many with second stories providing living quarters for shopkeepers and their families. Two notable exceptions were the Bank Block, located at the southwest corner of the intersection with State Street, and directly opposite was the Opera House Block, both of which were of brick construction.

In 1893, the Holland Hotel, located at the southwest intersection with Bay Street, along with the Emery Block, located east across Newman Street, were constructed.

For nearly 40 years of its history, Newman was "paved" with sawdust, the unwanted by-product of its sawmills along Tawas Bay. When the town was originally founded, numerous natural water courses extended from Tawas Lake to Tawas Bay and one apparently followed the line of Newman Street. A level street was provided by filling in swampy areas with refuse and sawdust from the mills.

Over the years, there have been many changes made in the appearance of Newman Street. Some of those changes included a fire in 1905 which demolished the Emery Block. The school building was completed in 1909. The Opera House Block was destroyed by fire in the mid-1920s and the Federal Building was constructed in 1941.

All of the original wooden buildings have either been razed or destroyed by fire and have been replaced by buildings constructed of concrete blocks or in combination with brick.

Despite the changes over the years, if it was possible for an old-timer to return from his grave in Greenwood Cemetery, he would recognize Newman Street. The wooden false fronts, board sidewalks and sawdust "paving" are gone, but the old Holland and Bank Block would be familiar landmarks.

Future plans are now being made to beautify the street by replacing old concrete sidewalks, install a new lighting system, plant decorative trees and replace the asphalt over concrete street paving. One of the reoccurring problems over the years has been the sawdust and wood slabs which were used originally to fill the street—numerous depressions in the street surface have resulted and, with each patching job, the grade is too high.

Ripping up concrete, digging out and replacing the subsoil will be costly, but it is expected that the job will be undertaken in the not-too-distant future. That will result in another face lifting, but the old street will still be familiar to all—even to those who trudged barefoot through the sawdust. It will be worth the effort.

FIRES were responsible for changing much of the appearance of Newman Street. This blaze on October 16, 1926, destroyed the Opera House Block and all buildings on the east side of the street from State to West over with the exception of one old frame building occupied by a pool hall.

Power Company's Tawas District Won State-wide Job Safety Award

The 90 employees in Consumers Power Company's Tawas District had the best safety record in 1980 among 22 operating districts in the utility's 27,800-square-mile service area. To honor that outstanding achievement, Consumers Power awarded its Best Safety Performance Award to Tawas District employees.

John E. Wessels, Tawas District manager, accepted the award on behalf of all Tawas employees in ceremonies in Traverse City on January 6. James V. Feahr, Consumers Power's general safety supervisor in the utility's Jackson headquarters, made the presentation.

Tawas District employees finished 1980 without a single employee losing a day's work because of an accident. The district safety performance index, a formula used by the company to measure employee safety, was the lowest in the Tawas District in 1980. This was an 84 percent improvement over the district's 1979 safety record.

"This award is a great tribute to the workers in the Tawas District," J. G. Goense, Northern Region general manager, said. "Considering the distances traveled by the employees in all types of weather, and the daily hazards they face on the job, their 1980 safety performance is simply outstanding."

The safety award was presented for the first time this year and will be presented annually to the district achieving the best safety performance among Consumers Power's 22 operating districts.

SCD to Pick 2 Directors at Meeting

Two district directors will be elected to three-year terms at the annual meeting of Iosco County Soil Conservation District, to be held Wednesday, February 18, at Plainfield Township Hall, Hale. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. with a pot-luck dinner, followed by the business meeting at 8:30 o'clock. Those attending are asked to bring a dish to pass and table service. The district will provide the meat dish.

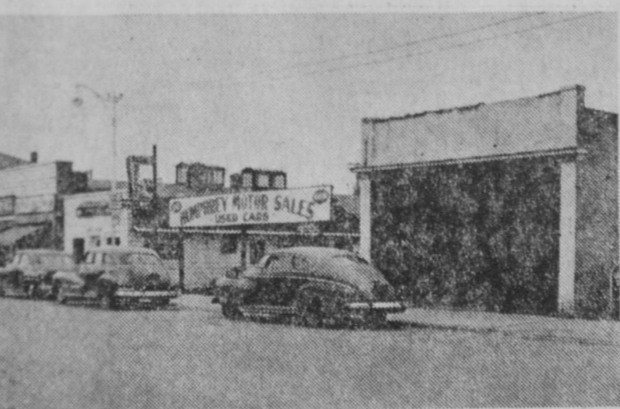

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Charles T. Bond, forester for the Dow Corning Corporation, who will give a presentation on Dow Corning's new wood-fueled power plant in Midland and how its opening will affect Iosco County wood lot owners.

All interested people are invited to attend the meeting. Call the district office, 362-2591, for reservations.

PRESENTING the Best Safety Performance Award to John E. Wessels, right, Tawas District manager, is James V. Feahr, Consumers Power general safety supervisor.

HARVEY WATSON snapped this view in 1949 showing the east intersection of Newman and Bay Streets before the construction of the Williams Building. Thomas White had a real estate office in the building at right, formerly occupied by the state liquor store.

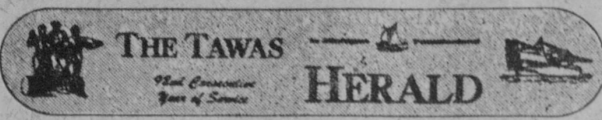

THIS VIEW of the west side of Newman Street shows the former Schill (Wickert's) Restaurant and Mooney buildings before being razed in the mid-1950s for the A&P Store located between East Tawas Recreation and the Holland Hotel.

THE INTERSECTION of US-23 and Newman Street looked like this in the mid-1950s. Entrance to the East Tawas State Park (now the city park) is at left. The highway was later widened to eliminate parking in the median (center) along the railroad tracks south of the Holland Hotel. (Turn to page 6 for additional pictures.)

Feb. 1 Deadline for Returning Property Forms

This corner has not taken the time to learn the reason behind the delay in mailing personal property statements this year—it is assumed that use of the new computerized system was the cause—but it will be absolutely asinine for local government to penalize those taxpayers who fail to return completed forms by February 1.

The personal property taxpayers of Tawas City, for instance, did not receive their forms through the mail until January 27!

These forms should have been mailed out in early December, which is attested to by the printed statement on the cover of the form: "If you should go out of business before December 31, 1980, it is imperative that you notify the assessor at once, in order that records pertaining to your property may be changed accordingly."

It does not help in the least that a tax on personal property is most discriminating against business. The state legislature wisely excluded farmers from paying personal property taxes on equipment some years ago, but that action, too, discriminates against the other small businessmen. In addition, the state later tacked on a new business activities tax which has damaged commerce and industry in this state to no end.

It is also interesting to note that postage on each one of these new forms costs 22 cents, as compared to the minimum cost used under the old system. At some future point in time, a saving could result in using the new method, but not this year.

It may be properly argued that the personal property taxpayer has the responsibility of obtaining the necessary forms, filling them out and submitting them by the due date. But there is a limit to one's understanding of the rationalism behind all problems of government, especially when prior notice could have been given why there would be a delay in mailing the forms this year.

But no matter, the law is the law and treasurers have the responsibility of collecting the personal property tax. If that officer fails to perform his duty, he can be held personally responsible—that particular tax must be collected in one way or another, even through padlocking or removal of goods; the treasurer or local unit failing to collect must pay the assessment at settlement time with the county treasurer.

Book Autograph Party Set by Minister-Author

The Rev. Charles E. Cerling, pastor of First Baptist Church in Tawas City, will introduce his new book, "Holy Boldness: How to Stand Up For What is Right," at an autograph party Saturday, February 14, at the Book Nook, East Tawas.

Although this is his first experience at authoring a book, he has written more than 50 articles with religious themes for magazines and occasionally has delved into writing about his favorite hobbies of hunting and fishing.

His publisher, Christian Herald Books of Chappaqua, New York, states that Cerling's 160-page book "is a sensitive consideration of the scriptural principle of speaking the truth in love."

Pointing out that all Christians are responsible to God for their actions, "Cerling challenges believers to base their lives on what they sense God to be saying, rather than being bound by the demands of other people," states Christian Herald Books.

"Christians are encouraged to stand firmly for what they believe to be right. The pursuit of truth might lead to confrontation with others and Cerling develops the concept of speaking the truth in love in this context. 'Holy Boldness' provides guidelines on handling conflict creatively, dealing with anger, reducing anxiety and developing a better self-image."

"This is a guidebook on loving and creatively communicating, even when it is difficult. This is an ideal book for those inclined to be ruled by timidity rather than the boldness of love. It is also a helpful tool for pastors and counselors."

Cerling has written this book as a result of his experience in a pastoral and counseling ministry. He has served as pastor of First Baptist Church since coming to Tawas City from Saginaw in December 1978, where he had served as family living counselor at Hopevale Memorial Church.

He is presently a doctoral candidate at Talbot Theological Seminary at Los Angeles, California, and his doctoral thesis concerns divorce adjustment, a subject which he will address during the coming spring at a community seminar to be held here. He presented a similar seminar here last summer to the local chapter of Parents Without Partners.

"I am in hope that this will be the first of a number of my books to be published," Cerling told the Herald Thursday. He plans to publish a series over the next three to four years within the theme of divorce counseling.

A native of Chicago, Illinois, he received a bachelor degree in psychology from Taylor University and holds two master degrees from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School. He and his wife, Geri, have three sons, David, Jon and Peter.

(Read John 15:12-17)

I was the youngest member of a close knit family. We all really enjoyed one another, had fun together and shared the joys and sorrows of life. We were, as the saying goes, sufficient unto ourselves. We each had our own friends but we each meant far more to one another than any friend outside the family meant to us. Suddenly, within a few short years, each member of my family died, leaving me alone.

It was only then that I learned the meaning of real friendship. Church members, neighbors, fellow teachers and mere acquaintances offered their sympathy by extending dinner invitations, suggesting trips into the country and sharing birthdays and holidays. These new friends did not take my family's place but they became wonderful substitutes. And, as I reminisce over the past, I now realize why our Lord placed such value on friendship. "No longer do I call you servants," Jesus said, "but I have called you friends."

PRAYER
Gracious God, we are grateful for our friends as well as our families. We thank Thee for the many ways in which friends ease life's burdens and cares. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Today, I will extend the hand of friendship to someone who is lonely.—Sylvia L. Klein (Pennsylvania)

Baptist Women Met January 27

Baptist Women's Missionary Society met at Tawas City Baptist Church Tuesday evening, January 27. Helen Ferguson, vice president, conducted the business meeting in the absence of Geri Cerling, president.

Seventeen members enjoyed a program, "How much of my life is my own," by Marjorie Brooks and refreshments were served by Lois Sayles and Frances Martin.

World Day of Prayer will be celebrated March 6.

Elder Sheridan Will Speak Here Feb. 8

Elder Ronald Sheridan of Mt. Pleasant, regional president of Michigan District, Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, will be guest speaker at the Sunday, February 8, 11:00 a.m. worship service at the Tawas City church. Members and guests are invited to attend.

Mental Health Board Meeting

Ausable Valley Community Mental Health Services Board will hold its next regular meeting Monday, February 9, 7:30 p.m., in the Commissioners Room, Iosco County Building, Tawas City. Area coverage of this board consists of the Counties of Iosco, Ogemaw and Oscoda.

Extend Public's Right to Know to Courtrooms

The public's right to know has been extended to the courtrooms by the United States Supreme Court through its ruling last week that states are not prohibited by the federal constitution from permitting cameras in courtrooms. The ruling made specific reference to the current ban on televising court proceedings.

This question has been debated for a number of years by courts on the one hand and the press on the other. The answer is not as simple as one might expect as there are some dangers lurking in the background. The principal danger is the return to the courtroom debacle of a few years ago during the murder trial of Dr. Sam Shepherd. That sensationalized case saw press photographers making complete fools of themselves by disrupting court proceedings.

Shepherd was "tried" in the press, not in the courtroom.

And it was not so many years ago when Circuit Court Judge Herman Dehnke admonished an attorney for a defendant in Iosco County Circuit Court to "square around and address your remarks to the jury," rather than to play to spectators in the gallery. With television cameras in the courtroom, it will be tempting for politicians to "play" to a much wider audience.

Another concern is the assumption that courts should decide cases on their merits and not particularly on how decisions are received by the public. Most proceedings are long and dull, but that is where arguments usually decide guilt or innocence, not the photogenic dramatic moments which seldom settle anything.

Sensationalism can be accomplished by the scribbling reporter as well as the photographer. It is expected that the press, in general, will live up to its new responsibilities in the courtrooms and not return to the lurid sensationalism before cameras were banned from courts. If not, this experiment in the public's right to know will fail.

TA Career Planning for Juniors

Tuesday, February 3, all juniors at Tawas Area High School participated in a career guidance and educational planning program, the ACT Career Planning Program, designed to help young adults make better decisions about their educational and career plans.

Participating students completed the career planning program assessment instrument which measures the students' career related interests, experiences, abilities and plans. The information is developed into a report for each student to help them relate this information about themselves to career options and the world of work.

The reports will be reviewed with students and their parents in group and individual counseling sessions following the administration of the program.

Thomas Pinski, guidance counselor at Tawas Area High School, stated that the career planning program is more than an assessment experience, but rather a first step or foundation for the start of each student's career journey.

Funding for administering the program is being provided by a special Region 7B CETA grant. This is the second year Tawas Area High School has participated in the project.

Braves Had Four Players in Double Figures Friday

Tawas Braves had four players scoring in double figures Friday night to turn back the Ogemaw Heights Falcons, 73-61.

The win helped to salvage an earlier loss at Ogemaw Heights. The Braves outscored the Falcons in two quarters and a wide third quarter margin in Tawas' favor actually provided the difference.

Falcon Coach Mike Zimmerman, upset over a couple of calls by officials, drew a technical foul which hurt his team's cause.

Tawas jumped off to a 21-14 margin at the end of the first quarter, but the Falcons narrowed the gap with a 19-17 edge in the second quarter. Neither team was particularly hot in the third quarter, but Tawas' 13 points smothered the five-point total of the Falcons.

Ogemaw Heights held the upper hand in the fourth quarter, but only slightly with a 23-22 margin.

The Braves completed 19 of 30 shots at the charity lanes and the Falcons meshed 19 of 25.

Tom Schriber led the Tawas scoring attack with 30 points on 11 field goals and eight foul shots. Jay Grabow, who opened the game with some deadly shooting from outside, was tied with Jon Dunn with 15 points each and Kelly Moffatt meshed 10 points.

Leading the Falcons were Lon Thompson and Joe Girard with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

The Junior Braves had tough going in their game with the Falcon junior varsity, losing by the score of 65-44. The Junior Braves trailed, 32-18, at intermission but came back to cut the visitor's margin to 34-32 late in the third quarter. The Falcons, led by Mike Cozad's 27 points, polished off Tawas in the final quarter, 25-10.

Elliott topped Tawas scorers with 10 points, followed by seven-point totals turned in by Loeffler and Groff.

Action this week found the Braves playing host Tuesday night to Oscoda and play at Pinconning Friday night.

Alcona Tigers in Squeak Over TA

Tawas Braves lost a 65-64 decision January 27 to the Alcona Tigers on the winners' home floor.

The Tigers jumped off to a 23-8 lead in the first quarter, but Tawas went ahead on a 26-8 second quarter margin. The Tigers were consistent in the second half with quarter scores of 17 each while Tawas scored 14 and 16 points.

Tom Schriber paced Tawas with 19 points. Grabow meshed 18 and Jon Dunn had 10.

Tawas completed 50 percent of its shots from the floor, 29 of 58, but had fewer attempts than the Tigers, who meshed 26 of 61. The Tigers won the game at the charity lanes, completing 13 of 23 shots, while Tawas meshed six of eight foul tosses.

The Junior Braves also lost by a close margin to Alcona, 58-54. Tawas had the upper hand, 16-11, at the end of the first quarter but Alcona held the scoring advantage in the next three quarters.

Scoring in double figures for Tawas were Chris Wojahn, 14; Rod Loeffler and Charles Elliott, 10 points each.

TA Matmen Won Over S-S Panthers

Tawas wrestlers won one of four events last week and extended their record to two wins and three losses in conference competition.

The Braves defeated Standish-Sterling, 60-18, in a meet at Roscommon, then lost to the host school, 47-21.

Winning matches against Standish-Sterling were Larry Erickson, Loren Irons, Russ Carney, Jeff Blust, Curt Leslie and Vern Long. Leslie pinned his opponent in 37 seconds, Carney turned the same trick in 39 seconds and Blust took 58 seconds to pin his opponent.

The Braves did not do as well against Roscommon. Turning in wins were Todd Bird, George Larson and Craig McMurray, who pinned his man in 26 seconds.

In a meet held Thursday night at Ogemaw Heights, Tawas lost to St. Peter and Paul, 42-30, and then lost to Ogemaw Heights, 48-21.

Turning in wins against Ogemaw were Larson, Dave Bronson, Craig McMurray and Blust. Winning for Tawas against St. Peter and Paul were Erickson, Bird and Carney.

CHINESE BEEF WITH BROCCOLI

Today's cook may have less time with which to prepare elaborate meals, but this doesn't mean the art of good cooking is dead. It means that today's recipes are tailored to contemporary schedules. They are simple, but do not sacrifice creative style or great taste.
The Beef With Broccoli featured here is one example of a classic Chinese dish which is a perfect solution to the "no time-to-cook" dilemma because most of the slicing and preparation of ingredients can be completed in advance. Actual cooking time is only six minutes. The tasty meat and vegetable combination, together with rice, is a completely well-balanced meal, made in a hurry.

The Beef With Broccoli is made with peanut oil, which is similar to authentic oils used in China. Peanut oil is recommended by many professional cooks for its lightness, which enhances the flavor of food. This quality makes it ideal for preparing delicate Chinese foods.

Planters 100% Pure Peanut Oil is also 100% natural, with nothing artificial added. Its unique processing method results in an unrefined, but pure oil.

The Beef With Broccoli is one example of recipes which may be entered in the national "Great Cuisines of the World" Recipe Contest being launched in your area. Those who pride themselves on their culinary skills will be invited to share their original recipes using Planters 100% Pure Peanut Oil. For contest rules, look in your favorite store or write to: Planters Oil Contest Rules, Drawer "A", Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Finalists' recipes will be considered in future Planters Oil recipe books. Recipes will be judged in six categories - French, Greek, Indonesian, Italian, Oriental and Spanish - in competition for one grand prize - an international dining tour for two to sample these marvelous cuisines. Second prize winners will receive six gourmet cooking school lessons and third prize winners will receive a set of Le Creuset Cookware. All contestants will receive a copy of "Frying Coast to Coast," a new Planters Oil booklet worth $1.50 providing more than 50 inspiring ideas for sautéing, stir-frying and deep frying. It also gives helpful frying hints and clarifies terminology. Beef With Broccoli, pictured here, is just one of the international favorites featured in the booklet.

BEEF WITH BROCCOLI
Makes 4 servings
2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen broccoli spears, partially thawed or 1 bunch fresh broccoli*
1/2 pound flank steak, thinly sliced across grain
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
1 tablespoon soy sauce
Water
1 clove garlic, crushed
5 tablespoons Planters Peanut Oil
1 can (8 oz.) sliced bamboo shoots, drained
1/2 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1 teaspoon salt

Cut broccoli flowerets and stems into 1 1/2-inch length about 1/2-inch thick; set aside.
Cut steak slices into 2-inch lengths.
In a small bowl, combine 1 teaspoon cornstarch, 1/4 teaspoon sugar, ginger, soy sauce, 1 1/2 teaspoons water and garlic; blend well. Mix beef with marinade; set aside. (Meat will absorb marinade.)

Preheat wok or large skillet; add 2 tablespoons peanut oil and heat 30 seconds. Add beef and brown until just slightly pink. Return beef to bowl.

Heat remaining 3 tablespoons peanut oil in wok or skillet. Stir in broccoli, bamboo shoots and mushrooms; stir-fry until broccoli is tender, 2-5 minutes. Add salt, remaining sugar, 3 tablespoons water and remaining cornstarch; mix well. Bring to a boil; stirring constantly until slightly thickened. Return meat and heat 1 minute. Serve immediately.

*If using fresh broccoli, break flowerets with stems from large stems. Peel skin from large and small stems.

THE TOP VIEW shows Newman Street as it appeared in the 1920s. The bottom picture was snapped in the 1950s before the city changed its method of plowing the street. After a storm, the snow is now plowed toward the center of the street and removed with a front end loader, rather than plowing the snow toward sidewalks on either side of the street.

THE BANK BLOCK constructed in 1887 at the southwest corner of Newman and State Streets is the oldest building still standing on Newman Street. The store at left is now occupied by Hennigar's and the central exchange of Michigan Bell Telephone Company was located for many years on the second floor at upper right.

BOARD SIDEWALKS were being replaced when this view was snapped shortly before 1965. Workmen are constructing a sewer line along the west side of the street.

Four Hale seniors visited the University of Michigan on January 21-22. The trip was made possible through a grant to Hale Area Schools by Winston Bailey, D. D. S.-PC; David Toeller, D. O., and William McCade, D. O.

The purpose of the trip was to better acquaint local students with the opportunities made available at the university.

The students, selected as the academic leaders in the 1980-81 senior class, were Darla Bissonette, Donna Wallace, Kristin Ketzler and Kurt Wilson. They were accompanied by Joseph VanderVeen, Hale Area High School counselor; Doctor Toeller, and their wives. The students joined a group of Whittemore-Prescott Area High School seniors selected in a similar manner and sponsored by the same group.

The trip afforded local students with the opportunity to see the university in action, visit Ford Nuclear Reactor, visit a mathematics class in session, eat and stay in the dormitory, each living separately from others in the group.
