Two Girls Named Honor Graduates at Tawas HS

Louise Lin Brock is valedictorian and Susan Carol Bischoff is salutatorian for the class of 1981 at Tawas Area High School, according to an announcement Monday by Prin. John Alexander.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brock of National City, Miss Brock had a straight-A, 4.0 grade point average during high school and Miss Bischoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bischoff of Tawas City, had a 3.78 scholastic grade point average.

Miss Brock will be entering Michigan State University in the fall and major in communications with a minor in journalism.

During her four years in high school, she was a member of the symphonic and marching bands for three years, class treasurer two years, class secretary in her senior year. She was named to the local chapter of the National Honor Society in her sophomore year and serves as vice president as a senior. She received a speech award as a sophomore.

She was named best actress in the presentation of "Our Town" as a junior, is president of the French Club and was a member of the first place team in multiple reading in forensics. Activities out of school include winning first place in non-fiction for the young authors writing contest, attended a Wisconsin world affairs seminar and is currently working in the studio of WIOS as a part-time broadcaster.

Miss Bischoff has had an active career in high school, serving as class representative to the student council in her junior year, was a member of the French Club as a junior, selected to the National Honor Society during her junior year.

In addition, she served on the junior prom committee, participated in varsity track for three years, powderpuff football in her junior and senior years, a member of the varsity club for four years and served as treasurer during her junior and senior years. She is secretary of the student council.

Previously employed at O'Connor's Pendleton Shop, she plans to attend Ferris State College in the fall to study retail fashion and merchandising.

City Proposes Campground

Land Acquisition Funds are Sought

An application is being prepared by City Mgr. Lowell Thomas for state land trust fund assistance in purchasing property west of the M-55 bridge for future recreational use.

Thomas told the city council Monday night that such funds are received by the state through leasing oil rights on land and has been earmarked for acquiring recreational sites.

The proposed site was included in the city's master plan for future recreational development and is being offered on the market. It includes 800 feet of frontage on the river and the four to five-acre parcel has been suggested as a location for a campground.

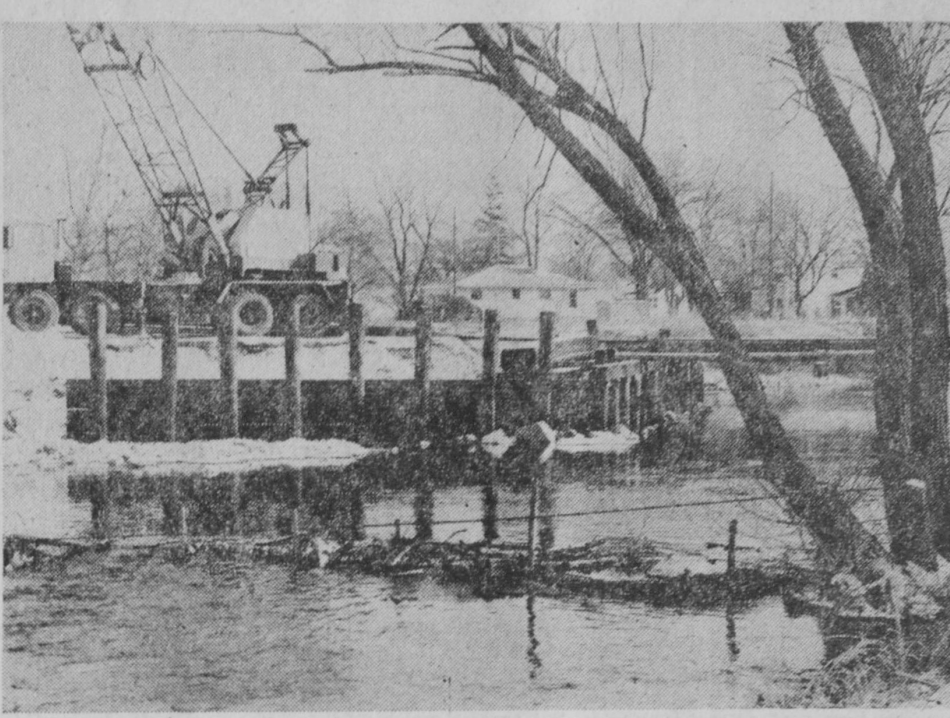

Thomas said that a request would be made for 100 percent funding and, if the city's application is not successful this year, the next application could include a contribution by the city. Because of present city commitments on other projects, he did not feel that matching city money should be included with this application.

Thomas said that funds are allocated according to a point system. He said that emphasis on land acquisition had been placed on urban areas. He said that policy was ironic in that the money is being obtained on oil and gas leases in Northern Michigan and most of the funds go toward buying property in the metropolitan area.

In other matters, Thomas said he had received no formal communication from the state highway department concerning the city council's objection to proposed removal of sidewalks on the M-55 bridge over the Tawas River. Two weeks ago, the city council protested removal of the concrete walks because of possible danger to pedestrians.

Thomas said, however, that he had been contacted by the district engineer's office concerning the proposal and the state is to review the council's objection.

A road tour is to be arranged prior to a future meeting of the council to give consideration to streets which will be included in the 1981 construction program.

State - Ordered Fence Blocking Migrating Perch

Leave it to the violator to discover new ways to poach fish. Iosco County Sheriff's Department said Monday that a report was received over the week-end that violators were dipping early run perch below the Whittemore Street bridge in Tawas City.

Investigation disclosed that a fence placed across the river last fall during construction of a new bridge at Whittemore Street was blocking the upstream migration of perch.

Large numbers of perch were collecting in the fast-moving water below the temporary "dam" and "violators made a killing using smelt nets," reported Deputy Sheriff Mark DeBeauvoir.

Under orders of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, contractors for the bridge construction placed a wire mesh fence across the river to collect debris falling into the stream. A similar fence was placed across Dead Creek below the site of a second bridge being constructed on Sixth Avenue.

In recent years, perch entering the river on spawning migrations are not hungry. This was not the case years ago when perch were easily taken on hook and line. As a result, poachers now use snagging hooks, nets or spears to take the perch. In addition, this year's run is earlier than usual.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas said Monday night that he contacted Edmonds Engineering Company, the city's consultant on the two bridge projects and the DNR is to be contacted for a determination concerning the fences.

Thomas said the DNR had absolutely required the contractors to install the fences blocking the two streams as a means of protecting the water during construction.

In the meantime, other violators are again using heavy snagging hooks to illegally catch steelhead trout which are beginning to enter the river.

It is expected that law enforcement will be increased along the stream to apprehend violators.

Tawas C. Council Supports Sunday Pkg. Liquor Sales

A letter sent to local governmental units asking for opinions concerning packaged liquor sales on Sundays, was termed by one member of the Tawas City Council Monday night as a ploy to delay action on the matter.

Coun. Donald Hayes said that the Iosco County Board of Commissioners had tabled action on adopting a resolution which would have permitted Sunday sales of liquor after 12 o'clock noon at state-licensed retail outlets.

Hayes said that retail packaged liquor store operators had appeared before the commission last month and requested the resolution. He said there was an April 15 deadline for licenses in order to begin Sunday sales on May 1.

Hayes expressed the opinion that Sunday liquor sales should be permitted in this county because it is a tourist area. He said that retail outlets must pay an additional 15 percent toward a Sunday license fee and that 55 percent of the permit fees are returned to the county.

He felt that the letter sent by the county commission was a "deliberate attempt to thwart" Sunday sales. If delayed, he felt a costly county referendum could be required.

"We should be doing everything we can do to encourage the tourist business," said Hayes. Coun. Robert Pawloski felt that some people might object to Sunday sales on religious grounds, but he felt that it was important that liquor license money was returned to the county. Coun. Hugo Keiser pointed out that under the present regulation, beer and wine sales are permissible on Sunday.

On motion of Hayes, a letter was sent to the board of commissioners supporting Sunday sale of liquor for consumption off premises.

When the matter was first considered by the county commission on February 18, local dealers asked that a resolution be adopted immediately permitting Sunday sales. It was stated that two Upper Peninsula counties had adopted resolutions permitting Sunday liquor sales effective March 31.

County commissioners questioned language of the act and the matter was tabled for clarification. The commission was later notified that action should not be taken by the county legislative body until after the effective date of the act on March 31.

David George, commission chairman, felt that each unit of local government should be contacted for opinions concerning Sunday liquor store sales. As a result, a letter was sent to each township and city.

AuSable Residents Favor Continued Shared Services

A straw vote Monday night indicated that AuSable Township residents were overwhelmingly opposed to discontinuing joint operation of police emergency services with neighboring Oscoda Township.

A public hearing had been called by the township board to determine if AuSable Township residents were interested in a proposal to end that township's share of funding the joint police department, as well as sharing the cost of cemetery upkeep.

A count of votes revealed that only eight persons favored discontinuance of funding AuSable Township's share of the operational cost, while 157 persons favored continuing the cooperative effort with Oscoda Township.

The proposed action reportedly would have saved AuSable Township from paying $60,000 in police department funding and another $6,000 for cemetery upkeep.

At its meeting last week, the Oscoda Township Board stated it would discontinue all services shared with AuSable Township if the latter dropped out of the police department and cemetery financial arrangement.

Appear Before ET Council

Ask Tax Relief for Elias Restaurant

A request for property tax abatement under Act 255 for construction of a new Elias Brothers Restaurant was taken under advisement Monday night by the East Tawas Council.

The request was presented for council consideration by Philip Michaels, operator of an Elias Brothers Restaurant south of Oscoda.

The matter was turned over to the city attorney to determine eligibility of the firm for establishment of a special tax abatement district. Council evaluation would follow prior to any action.

This program is similar to one utilized by other units of local government to encourage industrial expansion. Districts are established under state law which permit a 50 percent tax reduction on new construction over a 12-year period.

Michaels told the council that an offer had been received from a Tawas City group promoting the McKay property east of the city park as a site for a new restaurant.

A site was purchased about two years ago north of the "Y" intersection of US-23 and Tawas Beach Road for a new Elias Brothers Restaurant. Application was made for low interest funding under provisions of the Economic Development Act, but City Clerk Clyde Soper said he understood that private financing is now involved in the project.

In other matters, a group of Lincoln Street property owners appeared before the council and requested work on that street this year. Mayor Robert Bolen said that work had been delayed because of the city's $30,000 commitment toward construction of a new bridge over the Tawas River, but he said that the street would receive ditching, grading and stabilization this fall.

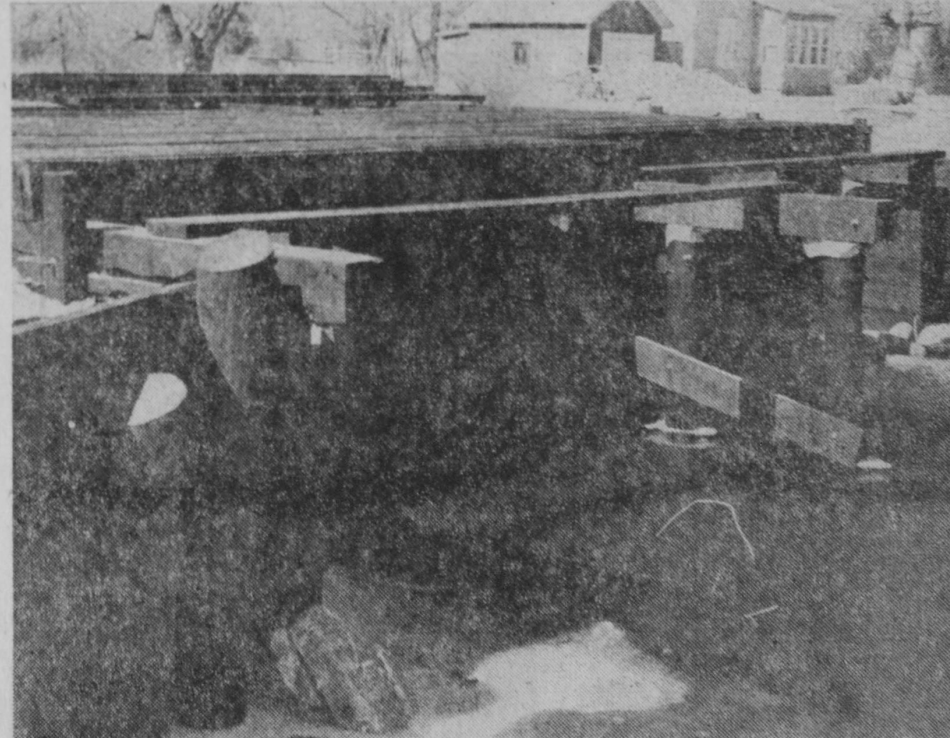

A request from Lyle Felske for a license to peddle produce at the city park was turned over to the ordinance committee. Felske announced he was establishing a produce outlet in the Herrick building near the north city limit. A request from Terry Montgomery for a license to peddle ice cream and popcorn on city streets this summer was also turned over to the ordinance committee.

A five-member committee was appointed by Mayor Bolen to continue a project of raising funds and developing a chapel at Greenwood Cemetery. Named were Kenny Schaaf, Montgomery, Earl Weaver, Charles Schreck II and Truman Barbier III.

A fund raising project had been started a number of years ago to finance the chapel, which would provide facilities for funerals at the cemetery.

The council adopted a resolution agreeing to pay one-half of the cost of purchasing property to expand the right-of-way for a new bridge over the Tawas River at Bridge Street. Cost to the city would be $1,125.

The council also agreed to make immediate payment on its share of funds to finance construction of the new bridge. The construction is to be a cooperative effort with the county road commission using state critical bridge funds.

THE WOODEN DECK on the Sixth Avenue bridge over Dead Creek is now under construction. Both projects are to be completed in the spring.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Three Former Ioscoans Charged in New Mexico Murder Case

Three former Iosco County residents are charged in a murder case near Silver City, New Mexico.

John Ballinger, former Oscoda resident, and his daughter-in-law, Phyllis Ballinger, are charged with conspiracy to commit murder; Gene Ballinger, husband of Phyllis, is charged with first degree murder.

A spokesman in the Grant County district attorney's office said that Gene and Phyllis Ballinger are in police custody in Florida and are fighting extradition to New Mexico. The father has been arraigned and trial has been set for July 14.

A fourth person, John Rizzo, and the three Ballingers are charged with conspiracy to murder Warren Uecker, a stockholder in the now defunct Pine Cienega Ranch near Silver City.

Rizzo originally was charged with the murder. Uecker was one of five stockholders in the ranch when he disappeared in July. During Rizzo's preliminary hearing in August, it was revealed that he led sheriff's investigators to Uecker's shallow grave on the ranch. Rizzo reportedly used "dowsing" equipment to find the body and the alleged murder weapon, a pistol. Dowsing equipment is used by treasure hunters much like a divining rod is used by some persons to find water underground.

According to the El Paso (Texas) Times, Rizzo reportedly told officers he suspected he was being set up to take the blame for Uecker's death. The preliminary hearing determined there was probable cause to hold Rizzo for trial in the case.

Gene Ballinger was the manager of the ranch at the time of the murder. He also published a treasure hunters newspaper that attracted persons from across the country to visit the ranch. Some stayed.

4-H Horse Club Members Can Win Quarter Horse

Iosco County 4-H Horse Club members are eligible to win two registered weanling quarter horse foals through the 1981 Bob Evans Farms 4-H Weanling Quarter Horse Award Program.

One boy and/or one girl will be nominated from Iosco County to compete in the state-wide program, according to Betty Hooker, county 4-H program assistant. One boy and one girl will be chosen as winners from county nominees across the state.

To qualify for the horse award program, applicants must be current 4-H horse project members and at least 13 but no more than 16 years old during the 1981 calendar year. They should complete a special nomination application and return it to the county 4-H office by April 1.

A panel of judges will select 10 finalists from across the state. Finalists will participate in interviews during 4-H Exploration Days in June at Michigan State University and two winners and alternates will be selected. The foals will be presented during the State 4-H Horse Show August 25.

For more information, contact Mrs. Hooker, 362-3449.

Tawas Band Continues Its Tradition of Top Ratings

For the 22nd consecutive year, Tawas Area Symphonic Band received four I ratings for an over-all first division rating in the District IX band and orchestra festival of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association on March 7 at Roscommon.

Although this performance makes the band eligible to participate in the state festival to be held April 25 at Sault Ste. Marie, the band will not be participating because of Easter vacation.

This is the 11th year the band entered the festival in a class above school's enrollment designation, receiving a top rating each time.

A first division rating is defined, in part, as "an unusually high standard of performance and musicianship, worthy of the distinction of being recognized as a first place winner. Bands from Alcona, Pinconning, Oscoda, Clare, Houghton Lake, Alpena, Standish-Sterling, Ogemaw Heights, Beaverton, Gladwin, Roscommon, Mio-AuSable, Arenac Eastern, Atlanta, Hillman, AuGres-Sims, Hale, Whittemore-Prescott and Farwell also participated at the Roscommon site.

Bands competed against set standards which varied slightly between classes of schools. Each band performed three numbers before three judges, then sight read two selections before a fourth judge. Tawas received three I ratings from the concert adjudicators and a I from the sight reading judge.

There is a combined total of 32 categories which the judges adjudicated each band. Tawas received four B and 28 A grades.

The band played "Il Bersagliere," by Boccalari; "Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night," by Del Borgo, and the required selection, "Kaddish," by McBeth.

Judges were Robert A. Stephenson, Northern Michigan University; William H. Rivard, Central Michigan University; Lorin Richtmeyer, Northern Michigan University; David Eldredge, Vassar Public Schools.

"This has been an exciting and musically rewarding year for the Tawas bands. Being able to capture the state class C marching band championship and to continue with the excellent tradition we have always had in concert performances reaffirms the strength and depth of the Tawas instrumental music programs," said Gene Salamony, band director.

Cancer Crusade Kickoff at Traverse City

American Cancer Society, Iosco Unit, held a board meeting Thursday, March 12, at the home of Marjorie Lyon, president. Discussion included the annual area crusade kickoff to be held at Traverse City Holiday Inn Friday, April 3, from 9:00 a. m. until 2:00 p. m., one of five division kickoffs to be held in Michigan.

Iosco County kickoff will be on Thursday, April 9, at the Masonic Temple, Tawas City. Dinner will be served starting at 6:30 p. m. and all crusade workers are urged to attend. Funeral homes now have memorial envelopes for those wishing to donate to the cancer fund and may be sent to American Cancer Society, Box 503, East Tawas.

The loan closet still has several items for the use of cancer patients in Iosco County at Dr. Carl Weber's office, Newman Street, East Tawas.

Dinners to Doors Program Needs More Volunteers

Volunteers to deliver dinners to shut-in residents of the area are needed by the Dinners to Doors program. Volunteers spend about an hour a month delivering the noon meal to individuals unable to prepare food for themselves. The number of participants varies but at the present time 10 persons are being serviced by the program.

By having the hot meal delivered from Iosco Medical Care Facility, participants are able to receive special diet selections and remain independent at their own homes. The program also provides daily contact with persons who may otherwise not receive any attention. Individuals may volunteer by calling Esther Ledworth, 362-4424. Meals may be delivered to qualifying persons by calling the same number.

TC Club Met March 11

Seventeen members of Twentieth Century Club convened Wednesday, March 11, at the home of Grace Woodburn for the first meeting after adjourning for the winter. The business session was led by Miss Woodburn in the absence of Mrs. Donald Lamb, president. Discussion included plans for the annual meeting slated for April 15 at the home of Mrs. Emil Deprest and a musical tea.

A book review, "The Kitchen Madonna" by Raner Goodden, was presented by Cleopatra Shelp and refreshments were served by Pauline Bennington and Florence Polson, hostesses.

Senior Citizens Heard Talk on Medicare

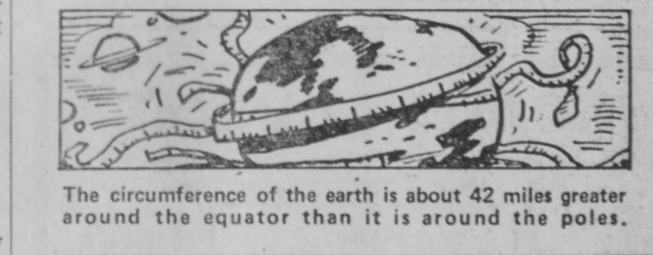

Seventy members of Tawas Area Senior Citizens met at the East Tawas Community Building Wednesday, March 11, when community singing and a sack lunch were enjoyed. Eleanor Mattson was a guest.

After a short business meeting, Elizabeth Murtaugh, representative of Medicare, showed slides and explained the program in association with other insurance coverage.

About 50 members participated in a bake walk. Prizes were won by Edith Edwards, Fred Francis, Edna Heinlein, Clara Botsford and Josephine Ashmore.

To Demonstrate Making Sugar Easter Eggs

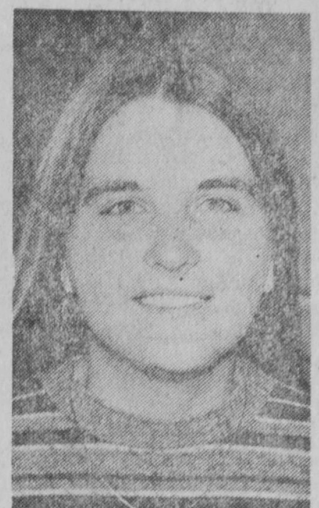

Regular monthly meeting of Tawas Bay Artists will be held Thursday, March 26, 7:00 p. m., at the art gallery. Alice Debaugh will give a demonstration on the art of making sugar Easter eggs. Hostesses for the evening will be Joan Blust and Wanda Race. The executive board held a productive meeting February 25 regarding the art show.

ARM Trains Volunteers in Clothing Alterations

ARM is a new Cooperative Extension Service program developed to train volunteers in the basic fundamentals of clothing alterations, repairs and mending for women and children. Isabel Jones, extension clothing and textiles specialist, will provide 20 hours of instruction for the selected ARM volunteers on techniques such as replacing zippers, taking in and letting out seams, remodeling garments, relining garments, weaving patches, turning collars and others!

In addition to the 20 hours of instruction, each participant receives a notebook, a demonstration kit and a certificate of completion. No fee is charged for the instruction or materials provided. Each ARM volunteer agrees to contribute at least 20 hours of assistance to the local Cooperative Extension Service office using information gained in ARM training for activities like teaching small groups ARM skills, planning ARM exhibits, teaching ARM skills to limited resource families, fashion activities for special events and other clothing creative endeavors.

Each person who becomes an ARM volunteer is eligible to participate in ARM for business, a program designed to assist individuals to increase their income by owning and managing a small ARM business in their home.

ARM training will be offered in Iosco County on April 24, 29 and 30. No more than 20 volunteers from Iosco, Alcona, Arenac and Ogemaw Counties can be accommodated. Individuals interested in participating may phone the MSU Cooperative Extension Service in Iosco County, 362-3449, and request an "ARM Volunteer Information" form. The form should be completed and returned by Wednesday, April 1.

Program Seeks New Foster Grandparent Volunteers

Foster Grandparent Program, sponsored by Northeast Michigan Community Service Agency, Incorporated, is seeking new volunteers for the program. To be eligible to be a foster grandparent, one must be 60 years of age or older and meet a low income guideline. A one person household may not have an income above $4,740 annually. The limit raises to $6,265 for a two-person household.

Foster grandparents serve 20 hours per week working with special needs children on a one-to-one basis. They usually work in elementary schools, day care centers or institutions. The main goal of the program is a loving, helping relationship between the older person and children. Foster grandparents receive a nontaxable stipend of $2 per hour. This stipend does not affect social security or public assistance. Foster grandparents are also provided transportation and one meal daily.

Individuals interested in being a foster grandparent may call 517/356-3474 or write to: Northeast Michigan Community Service Agency, Incorporated, Post Office Box 297, Alpena, MI 49707.

BETTER THE SECOND TIME AROUND

Don't let the leftovers scene plague you. Handled with a little imagination and treated with respect, they will serve you well. Cheesy Chicken 'n Rice is a one-skillet supper that provides a complete balanced entree for two and makes the most of leftover chicken and mixed vegetables. The inclusion of cheese in the preparation of packaged enriched pre-cooked rice adds a texture and flavor contrast and lends substance to this colorful, tasty dish.

- CHEESY CHICKEN 'N RICE
- 3/4 cup water
 - 1 teaspoon butter or margarine
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 2 slices (3/4 oz. or 1 oz. each) process American cheese
 - 3/4 cup Minute rice
 - 1 cup cooked mixed vegetables
 - 1 cup diced cooked chicken

Bring water, butter and salt to a boil in saucepan. Add cheese and stir until melted. Add rice, vegetables and chicken. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes. Stir before serving. Makes 3 cups or 2 servings.

Census Report Shows Slight Gain in Iosco

Latest information received on the population and housing unit counts conducted last April by the United States Census Bureau shows only a slight change from preliminary totals announced last July.

According to the final preliminary count announced last week, Iosco County had a population of 28,280 persons in 1980, as compared to 24,905 in 1970. This total was 926 higher than the preliminary figure announced eight months ago.

The report shows that there were 18,028 housing units in the county in 1980, as compared to 13,937 in 1970. This figure, too, was revised upward after the preliminary announcement with the addition of 217 units.

As was the case in 1970, most local units of government were not satisfied that the preliminary count was accurate last July and requested an official review by federal authorities.

Because of the slight change, local officials are not expected to believe the new figures, but the preliminary count probably will become official.

Every governmental unit in the county, with the exception of Oscoda Township and the City of Whittemore, shows an increase in population during the past 10 years.

The census is important to each unit because of the fact that federal revenue sharing and state income tax is returned to each unit based on population—only one factor in the criteria for the established formula.

Some interesting facts were shown in the preliminary count announced last year. That Iosco County's population is tending to get older and with fewer children was shown by the report that the average household's population numbered 2.71 persons in 1980, as compared to 3.22 in 1970. That percentage would be changed only slightly since last July.

The new preliminary count for each unit is as follows:

Alabaster Township—Population of 368 as compared to 280 in 1970, with 413 housing units as compared to 369 in 1970.

AuSable Township—A population of 2,192, as compared to 1,876 in 1970, with 1,206 housing units compared to 906 in 1970.

Baldwin Township—Population of 1,399, as compared to 953 in 1970, with 1,275 housing units compared to 975 in 1970.

Burleigh Township—Population of 757, as compared to 569 in 1970, with 346 housing units compared to 273 in 1970.

East Tawas—Population of 2,575, as compared to 2,372 in 1970, with 1,349 housing units compared to 1,056 in 1970.

Grant Township—Population of 1,051, compared to 607 in 1970, with 1,352 housing units compared to 1,181 in 1970.

Oscoda Township—Population of 11,358, as compared to 11,758 in 1970, with 5,573 housing units compared to 4,560 in 1970.

Plainfield Township—Population of 3,125, as compared to 2,036 in 1970, with 3,756 housing units compared to 2,646 in 1970.

Reno Township—Population of 562, as compared to 294 in 1970, with 262 housing units compared to 148 in 1970.

Sherman Township—Population of 473, as compared to 422 in 1970, with 264 housing units compared to 182 in 1970.

Tawas Township—Population of 1,461, compared to 1,253 in 1970, with 591 housing units compared to 415 in 1970.

Tawas City—Population of 1,965, as compared to 1,666 in 1970, with 924 housing units compared to 678 in 1970.

Whittemore—Population of 439, as compared to 460 in 1970, with 203 housing units compared to 174 in 1970.

Wilber Township—Population of 555, as compared to 359 in 1970, with 514 housing units compared to 374 in 1970.

Reno Township was the only unit of the county showing an increase in the number of persons living in each household and the additional 1,089 persons counted in Plainfield represented the largest percentage of increase in the county.

Following receipt of official totals of the 1980 population from the census bureau, reapportionment of seats at the congressional, state and local levels will follow, according to the one-man, one vote mandate of the supreme court.

Although not much change is expected in the city or township voting precincts, a different realignment might be anticipated on the county board of commissioners due to the substantial growth in Plainfield, Reno and Grant Townships, now included with one area of Oscoda Township as the Fifth District.

In addition to the population factor, there has been some discussion concerning expanding the county board of commissioners from its present five members back to nine or more members, which was the original number when the commission form of government was adopted in 1969.

Hale Eagles Defeated in Regional Bid

The Eagles fell before a North Star League rival, Posen, 68-54.

The Eagles of Coach Nelson Shellenbarger started off on the right foot by holding a 12-10 margin at the end of the first quarter, but Posen took the lead in the second quarter and was never headed after a 32-29 margin at intermission.

Hale managed to stay within striking distance and only two points separated the two teams in the third quarter, but a 20-13 charge by Posen in the final quarter put the game out of reach.

Tom Sanders and Kurt Wilson were scoring leaders for Hale with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

The Eagles ended the cage season with a record of 11 wins and 10 losses.

HALE VFW HELD MEETING

Sixteen members attended the March 16 meeting of Hale Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary No. 7435. Guests were Jane Eisenhaur, aide, and daughter, Jean, from Farwell and Grace VanHouten.

Elected delegates to the district are Peggy Hebel, Gola Mahon and Mary Ann Hodgins. Alternates are Nell White, Florence Joerin and Pauline Jansen.

Welcomed as new members were Lee Corey, Jean Ruthuff and Delores Matthews.

A donation was voted for the blind fund project of Ruth Smith, state president.

Refreshments were served by Hazel Young and Mrs. Hodgins.

Next meeting will convene Monday, April 6, 7:00 p. m., at the post home.

State Approves $19,800 for Sheriff's Dept. Overtime

Iosco County Sheriff George Westcott received word Friday that the State Office of Highway Safety Planning has approved a $19,800 grant for the department. The money will be used for overtime for deputies to enforce the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit on the county road system. The new one year program is totally self-supporting, requiring no county funding.

Sheriff Westcott says the money will allow him to put more deputies on patrol throughout the year especially during high activity periods such as Memorial Day, Fourth of July and Labor Day. Residents will notice an increase in patrol activity within a month.

Bravettes Lost One Game in Tournament

Tawas Bravettes finished out the 1981 volleyball season March 7 by winning over the Clare Pioneers and then losing to Sanford Meridian in the district tournament at Clare.

The Tawas girls won two games over the Pioneers, 15-13 and 15-10. Stephanie Royster was top scorer with 13 points, followed by Becky Conn, who had six points. Nikki Painter was next with four points, Debbie Allen and Jan Johnson had three points each and Pam Epley added one.

Tawas lost two games to Sanford Meridian, 9-15 and 10-15. Johnson was top scorer with eight points, followed by Royster's four. Epley and Allen each had two points, while Conn, Painter and Debbie Wilke each contributed one point.

Two Burglaries Investigated

Two breakings and entries were investigated last week by Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

Burglaries were reported by Clifford Goodrow, a trailer home on Mill Station Road, and Edward Haxham, a hunting camp on Old State Road.

Youngster Hurt on Motorcycle

A nine-year-old motorcyclist, James R. Buckley, was injured March 14 and treated at Tawas Hospital after his machine tipped over on a Huron National Forest trail.

WORK is now nearing completion on the house constructed by building trades students of Tawas Area High School's vocational training program. This is the eighth house constructed by students in as many years and this school's building trades program is one of the most successful in this part of the state. This is the fourth house to be constructed by students on Victoria Lane in Tawas City. During the past eight years, more than one-quarter million dollars in new valuation has been added to the tax rolls by the young home builders. Students involved in the program work under two certified instructors, Robert Reasner and Lucky Kosto, and learn all phases of the construction process. The house will be offered for sale later this spring.

District Health Issues

Warning About DMSO

District Health Department No. 2 has recently received a warning issued by the Michigan Department of Public Health concerning dimethyl sulfoxide or DMSO. This product has been found to be used by persons suffering from the pain of arthritis. Its sale and use has become common enough to warn against it as a medication as it is being marketed.

DMSO, a product of the wood pulp industry that is sold as an industrial degreaser and solvent, is not something new. It was discovered in 1866. However, it was not until 1970 that it was approved for use in veterinary medicine for topical use on dogs and horses. In 1978, a medical grade was approved for human use in short-term treatment of a form of urinary bladder inflammation.

The industrial grade of DMSO that people are now buying is not pure enough and usually is too strong for human use. It contains impurities that can be carried into tissues and enter the blood stream. DMSO can also cause various forms of skin irritation and rashes.

DMSO is being studied to learn its benefits and hazards but it has not been approved by the Food and Drug Administration for use other than for treatment of urinary bladder inflammation. It is reported that topical (on the skin) use of DMSO on dogs on a regular basis has resulted in eye damage.

Research at John Hopkins Medical Institution shows that DMSO affects the immune system and misuse of the product could harm the body's natural defenses. It has been found that DMSO may, however, be beneficial to laboratory animals affected with the muscle disease, myasthenia gravis.

Florida, Louisiana and Oregon have approved DMSO for the treatment of arthritis pain but other states, including Michigan, have not. FDA approval is needed before it can be used for medicinal purposes.

Spring Brings Potential of Devastating Tornadoes

Michigan residents are advised by the state police emergency services division that the coming of spring brings with it the potential for devastating tornadoes in the state.

Capt. Peter Basolo, commander of the emergency division, said that a proclamation by Gov. William G. Milliken has designated March 15-21 as "Tornado Safety Week" in Michigan and that it alerts state residents to the need to know how to prepare themselves for possible tornado dangers.

The proclamation pointed out that Michigan since 1950 has had a total of 232 persons killed by a total of 516 tornadoes. One of the worst in recent years occurred on Palm Sunday, April 11, 1965, when storms struck several southern counties causing 53 deaths and $1-million dollars in property damages. In May last year, a tornado struck Kalamazoo and VanBuren Counties, killing five persons, injuring 97 and causing $2.9-million dollars in property damage.

Basolo emphasized that tornadoes can occur at any time of the night or day and in any month of the year. However, tornadoes occur most frequently in the April-July period and between the hours of 3:00 to 7:00 p. m.

The governor's proclamation noted that state and local governments, civil defense directors, weather services and the public and private school systems and the press, radio and television are cooperating in efforts to inform state residents about precautions, protection and general safety measures to be taken against tornado dangers.

Those persons having serious concerns regarding tornado safety are advised to contact their nearest state police post, local civil defense authorities, police and fire departments for assistance. Some agencies have information material to distribute concerning tornado safety.

Ruth E. Keiser of Tawas City passed away Thursday, March 12, at Provincial House Nursing Home at the age of 87 years. She was born August 6, 1893, in East Tawas. She and her husband, the late Hugo Keiser Sr., whom she married November 15, 1917, at Tawas City Methodist Church, founded Keiser's Drug Store in Tawas City.

She was a life member of Tawas United Methodist Church; charter member of United Methodist Women; life member of Tawas Bay Chapter No. 71, Order of the Eastern Star; member of Jesse C. Hodder American Legion Auxiliary; Twentieth Century Club, and Tawas City Garden Club.

A memorial service was conducted Saturday, March 14, at Tawas United Methodist Church with the Rev. Kenneth Tousley officiating. The family requests memorials be directed to the church.

Surviving are a daughter, Janet Rapp of Tawas City; one son, Hugo Keiser Jr. of Tawas City; three grandchildren; six great grandchildren, and two brothers, James Dillon of Tawas City and Gordon Dillon of Santa Barbara, California. Her husband predeceased her October 29, 1977.

Clayton Howard Died March 10

Clayton E. Howard of Long Lake, who expired Tuesday, March 10, at Grant Hospital, was laid to rest Saturday, March 14, in Lane Heights Cemetery, Lupton, following rites at Steuermol Funeral Home, Rose City.

He was born January 18, 1907, in Lupton and is survived by 13 children, six brothers and eight sisters.

Rites Friday for Darleen McArdle

The Rev. Kenneth Tousley will officiate at funeral rites Friday, March 20, 1:00 p. m. at Tawas United Methodist Church for Darleen McArdle of Oscoda, formerly of Tawas City, who expired Monday, March 16, at Petoskey where she was currently enrolled in registered nurse college course. Interment will be Memory Gardens Cemetery.

Mrs. McArdle had been employed at Oscoda Medical Clinic for 18 years after working as a medical secretary at Tawas Hospital.

Born December 21, 1934, she is survived by three sons, John, Robert and William McArdle; her mother, Hazel Deering of Tawas City; a brother, Donald Deering of Tawas City, and a sister, Delores Stewart of Thousand Oaks, California.

Friends may call at Jacques and Kobs West Chapel, Tawas City, after 7:00 p. m. Wednesday (today).

Apartment Bldg. Being Considered

At a meeting Thursday night, Tawas City Planning Commission is to discuss proposed rezoning of property north of Provincial House Nursing Home to permit construction of a new apartment building.

Ronald Shorkey, who was involved with construction of Manitou Village south of Provincial House, is asking the city to change zoning on the property from RA residential to RC multiple housing.

Either a 38-unit or 75-unit apartment house complex is being planned, depending if private or governmental funds are utilized. In either case, if rental of an apartment exceeds 25 percent of the individual's income, the remainder would be paid by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

DeShano Construction Company had made application for a 100-unit apartment complex on the property about two years ago, but the application was

SOUP: MAKE IT HOMEMADE BUT IN A HURRY

Nothing can beat a hearty bowl of hot soup to take the chill off a winter day. But with today's busy pace, it's often hard to find the time to make it from scratch.

Make homemade soup in a hurry by starting with Hamburger Helper®. The flavorful soup stock is made by combining the package of Sauce Mix with water. Add the noodles from the mix, vegetables and meat to serve a hearty bowl of soup with homemade taste in just 30 to 35 minutes. Here are two recipes to try.

QUICK ITALIAN SOUP

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1 pound ground beef | 1 can (16 ounces) whole tomatoes |
| 1/2 cup chopped onion | 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese |
| 1 package Hamburger Helper mix for lasagne | 1 cup chopped zucchini (about 1 small) |
| 5 cups water | |
| 1 can (8 1/4 ounces) whole kernel corn | |

Cook and stir ground beef and onion in Dutch oven until beef is brown; drain. Stir in Sauce Mix, water, corn (with liquid), tomatoes (with liquid) and cheese; break up tomatoes with fork. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Reduce heat; cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, 10 minutes. Stir in Noodles and zucchini; cover and cook 10 minutes longer. Sprinkle each serving with grated Parmesan cheese if desired. 5 or 6 servings.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Stir in Noodles and zucchini with the Sauce Mix. Continue as directed except—cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, 25 to 30 minutes.

QUICK BEEF SOUP

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 pound ground beef | 1/4 teaspoon salt |
| 1/2 cup chopped onion | 1/8 teaspoon pepper |
| 1 package Hamburger Helper mix for beef noodle | 1 can (16 ounces) whole tomatoes |
| 5 cups water | 1 package (10 ounces) frozen mixed vegetables or 2 cups cooked vegetables |
| 1 bay leaf | |

Cook and stir ground beef and onion in Dutch oven until beef is brown; drain. Stir in Sauce Mix, water, bay leaf, salt, pepper and tomatoes (with liquid); break up tomatoes with fork. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Reduce heat; cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, 10 minutes. Stir in Noodles and vegetables; cover and cook 10 minutes longer. 5 or 6 servings.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Stir in Noodles and vegetables with the Sauce Mix. Continue as directed except—cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, 20 minutes.

Attends Army Basic Training

Pvt. Harry E. Head Jr., son of Lila I. Head of Hale and Harry F. Head of Flint, is attending basic training at Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

During the training, students receive instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid and army history and traditions.

Frank Completes CG Course

Wayne A. Frank, United States Coast Guard boatswain's mate first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frank, Tawas City, was graduated from Aids to Navigation School March 11. During the five-week course at the Coast Guard Training Center, Governors Island, New York City, New York, students received instruction on the fundamentals of electricity, maintenance of batteries and the repair of lighted and unlighted buoys. In addition, they studied the procedures for safe operation of shipboard booms.

A 1965 graduate of Tawas Area High School, he joined the coast guard in March 1977. His wife, Deborah, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crawford, Tawas City.

Participated in Global Shield

United States Air Force Sgt. James M. Petrach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Petrach, East Tawas, has participated in Global Shield 81, the Strategic Air Command's (SAC) response to a simulated attack on the United States.

The service member is among the more than 100,000 United States Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps and Canadian personnel taking part in SAC's largest, no-notice, 20-day training exercise.

During one portion of Global Shield, more than 500 B-52 and FB-111 bombers and KC-135 tankers took off from 70 different locations in the United States and Guam within minutes of notification. This exercise is not related in any way to real world situations, according to a SAC spokesman.

working cattle ranch and a resort or vacation spot. Campsites were leased to some persons on a yearly basis," reported the El Paso Times.

At the time of Uecker's death, there was a feud between two factions of stockholders on the ranch. Some of the lease-holders on the ranch joined Uecker's side in the feud. They were said to be members of a neo-Nazi group who were trying to take over the ranch to use it as a military training ground.

Some of the lease-holders, according to the newspaper report, did admit to being members of the Committee of 10 Million, a group headed by Robert DePugh of Independence, Missouri.

DePugh had been the head of the Minutemen organization, which he once described as "America's last line of defense against Communism." He was arrested in Truth or Consequences, New Mexico, in 1969 after charges of bank robbery and firearms violations were filed against him.

On the other side, the newspaper report said that Gene Ballinger was accused of mismanaging the ranch by Uecker. Uecker was ranch treasurer. One of his reports revealed "discrepancies and irregularities" in the ranch operation. Ballinger said Uecker was accusing him of embezzlement.

The disagreements on the ranch escalated until the ranch resembled "an armed camp," according to Grant County Sheriff's Deputy Steve Douglas.

Gene Ballinger served a term in federal prison at Truth or Consequences after being convicted in 1971 of defrauding Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Hale of $750,000 through a check kiting scheme. He was convicted in Bay City Federal Court.

A former Iosco County deputy sheriff, Ballinger had started from scratch in the treasure hunting supply business at Oscoda in 1965 and built it to a point where it was known throughout the country. Prior to that, he and his wife had operated a collection agency in Tawas City.

Rotary Club OK'd for Food Trailer at River Mouth

Permission was granted Monday night by the Tawas City Council to Tawas Area Rotary Club to operate a food concession trailer on city-owned property at the mouth of the Tawas River.

Kenneth Thibault, club representative, said he had contacted restaurant owners of the community and received no objection to operation of the club's concession stand.

The trailer is to be located west of the Graystone Building on week-ends during the fishing season. Permission to use the property was granted until the end of the year. Use of the property is subject to review should any river mouth development take place this year.

The Rev. C. H. Symons, another club representative, asked the council to grant an open-ended permit to the club to use the property in future years without annual approval by the city.

City Mgr. Lowell Thomas pointed out that the city should not be encumbered in the future by any commitment by the present council. He said he did not know what future development might take place at the river mouth and a concession stand might be included in future plans. Both the city manager and Mayor David Westcott felt that the club's permit should be reviewed annually.

The city manager reported that no word has been received as yet concerning the fate of the city's application for $80,000 in Land Water and Conservation Act funding for the river mouth. Congress is currently considering a recommendation by the administration to cut such funding and it is not known locally if the city's application was received prior to the date proposed to end the program.

Thomas was given permission by the council to make application for coastal zone management funds to aid in construction of an interpretive center at the river mouth. The city manager reported that $25,000 from this source was used a year ago to assist the city in developing future shore line plans.

The application would be for $50,000, representing 80 percent of the cost. The matching 20 percent would be provided by the city. Application deadline is April 3.

In other matters, permission was granted to Tawas Council, Knights of Columbus, to conduct a Tootsie Roll sale April 10-11. Funds received would be contributed to the retarded children's program.

Recommended appointment by the mayor of John N. Brugger to the tax board of review was approved by the council. The appointment was made retroactive to January 31, when the term expired.

The council approved a $100 allocation to Tawas Chamber of Commerce to help promote the annual brown trout derby.

America's first parking meter was the Park-O-Meter, installed in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma on July 16, 1935. The charge was five cents.

Lloyd S. Little

CANDIDATE
 State Representative
 Arenac Iosco Ogemaw

SOME OF THE MEASURES proposed by L. S. Little when he was a successful candidate for the state legislature in 1923-24 were: Opposition to giving Detroit additional power in the state legislature; advocated a literacy test for voters; secured passage of a law limiting the amount of land to be used or tied up by one man or group of men for sporting purposes with the exclusion of the public. He is shown in a campaign portrait of that era at upper right.

It would be difficult to single out any one person who personified the spirit of dedicated public service demonstrated in Iosco County—each era in a county's history seems to have one or more individuals who would qualify—but the name of L. S. Little of Sand Lake would have to be considered when nominations are being received.

Little died May 15, 1974, but his name will long be remembered at the Iosco County Building, where he was the "watch-dog" over spending public funds. Strictly a member of the "old school," he was an insistent advocate of the policy that spending tax money is a public trust not to be considered lightly.

It is nice to report that his services to this county were recognized before his death—it does not always happen that way, for people have the habit of forgetting one's worth, especially when politics are involved.

In March 1972, a "This Is Your Life" scrapbook, featuring highlights of more than 25 years of public service, was presented to Little by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners.

Little and his wife, Lula, had been honored at a surprise dinner party the previous week by commission members and their wives. The affair marked the couple's 60th wedding anniversary.

A blank scrapbook was presented to the honored couple during the party. William Wewley, county commissioner from Hale, was directed to compile information for the presentation of the scrapbook during the commission's April session.

Old newspaper clippings and pictures were furnished by The Tawas Herald. The presentation came as a pleasant surprise to Little as the scrapbook contained an extensive collection of pictures which graphically portrayed his long service during an important period in the county's history.

His wife is now 92 years of age and makes her home at East Tawas. She is still in good health and enjoys visits by her grandchildren, but that scrapbook which she recently relocated is one of her prized possessions.

Little, who was born at Argyle, Sanilac County, February 29, 1892, represented the Iosco district in the state legislature in 1923-24. He and his wife had been residents of Sand Lake since 1920.

News clippings in the scrapbook indicate that Little was a member of the legislature in 1923 when the first "one buck" deer hunting law was passed.

He recalled that "roads were so bad in those days that I had to move to Lansing to make sure I would be able to show up for the sessions." Salaries were not very good then ($800 a year) and expense accounts were nonexistent. "I was 10 years paying off the debts I made serving in the legislature."

After moving back to the Sand Lake area he spent about 10 years as an insurance representative and operated a beef cattle farm in Grant and Reno Townships for about 45 years. He retired from that business in 1965.

Before coming to Iosco, Little had been a railroad telegrapher, employed by the Pere Marquette Railroad, the Michigan Central Railroad and Detroit and Mackinac Railway. At the outbreak of World War I, the government took over operation of the railroads and Little, who was drafted into the army, remained in the military's traffic section.

Although active in Republican politics since reaching voting age, he never found time to dabble in local politics until 1952, when he was elected to the old Iosco County Board of Supervisors.

He served on the county board until 1968, when the district commission form of government was adopted throughout the state. Little served as county finance chairman for many years and was chairman of the board of supervisors in 1965.

Little was one of two representatives of the Michigan Association of Counties appointed by the state legislature to a 24-member committee to make recommendations concerning an apportionment plan agreeable to all counties of the state. That was a big order as each area of the state had its own ideas on apportionment, but this had to be accomplished in 1968, according to a mandate handed down in Kent County Circuit Court.

Reapportionment at the county level was an offshoot of the rearranging of legislative districts on the state level, according to a guideline set up by the supreme court along the lines of the one-man, one vote mandate of the court.

Little advocated reapportioning boards of supervisors on a population basis, meaning that in Iosco County, the new county board would consist of from five to nine members rather than the previous 19-member board.

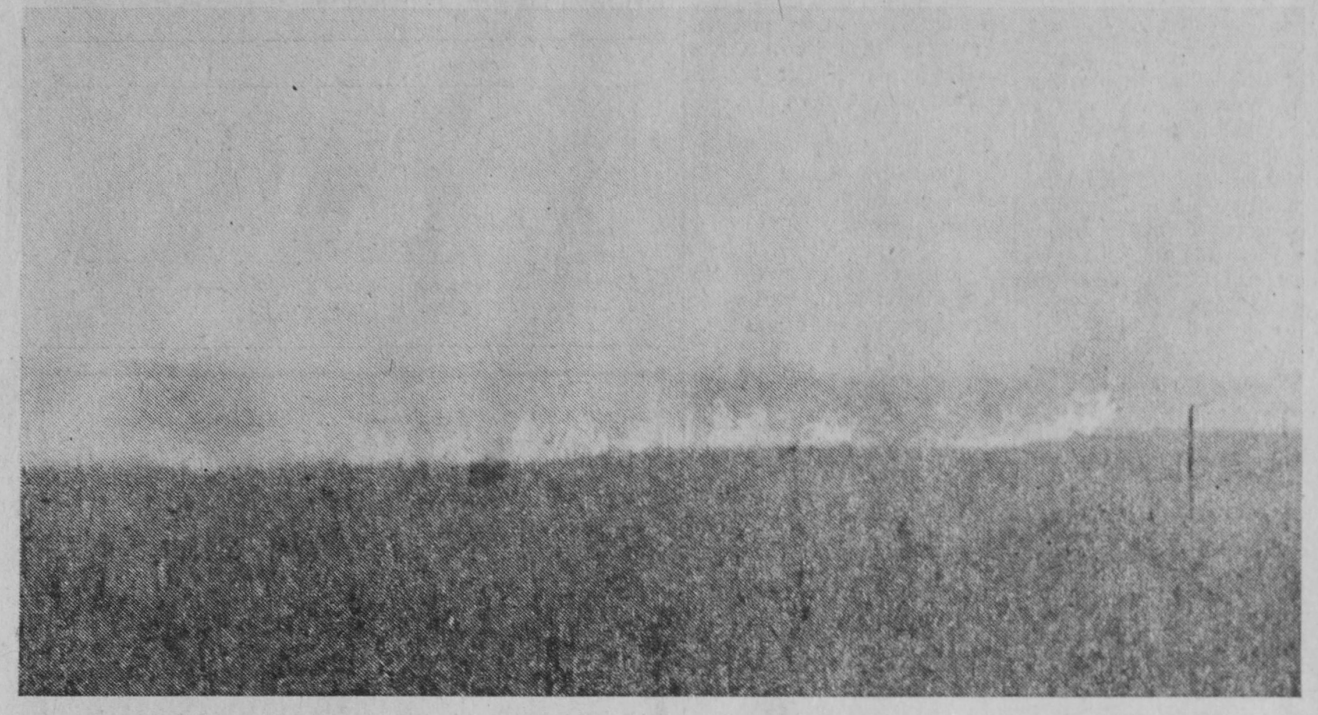

He also felt that members of the board should be called commissioners and that each township should continue to elect a supervisor, who would preside over township board meetings and act as the local assessing officer.

Little hammered home this idea concerning apportionment meetings of the state committee. The plan was finally adopted by the state legislature and, as a consequence, the township form of government was not dismantled and remains a strong force in this state.

Following redistricting of the county, he continued to serve Grant Township as supervisor until the end of 1970. In the November general election of that year, he was elected Eighth District commissioner.

During his many years of service at the county level, he had been a member of the board of supervisors during construction and planning for the county building and jail and served as chairman when the county medical care facility

Grass Fire Season Starts Early

TAWAS CITY Fire Department answered the second grass fire alarm of the pre-spring season Wednesday afternoon. Flames swept across a 40-acre field west of Alabaster Road-Oates Road intersection in Alabaster Township. There was no damage to property, although a strong wind swept flames toward several abandoned farm buildings. Firemen were unable to determine the origin of the blaze. Although weather conditions could change before this is published, all fire-fighting agencies of the county warn that a permit must be obtained before burning grass. Property owners are warned that court action can result if neighboring property is damaged by an out-of-control grass fire.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Farmers' Week Activities Listed MSU College Week Offers Something for Everyone

Details for Farmers' Week at Michigan State University, March 23-27, are listed in a free guidebook available at the Iosco County Cooperative Extension Service office by calling 362-3449. A variety of informative programs on crops, dairy science, family living and energy are among activities listed in the booklet.

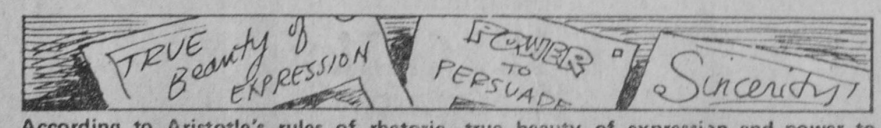

Exhibits will include a pedal bicycle to generate electricity, urban planning and landscaping, a special segment running Tuesday through Saturday on natural resources with programs on forest management; fly tying, rod making and fly casting; back yard activities, aquaculture, and wilderness survival. In all, 140 educational sessions will be open free to the public.

Where can one learn more about almost any topic that is of interest? At College Week, a four-day experience in lifelong learning June 22-25 at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

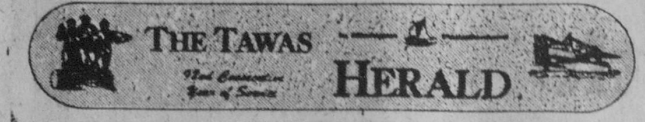

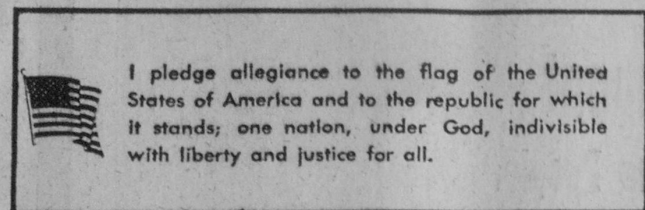

College Week, an annual event sponsored by the MSU Cooperative Extension Service, Family Living Education Program, the MSU College of Human Ecology, other MSU departments and many state-wide organizations, offers a choice of over 50 classes plus numerous special tours, workshops, film festivals and other free-time activities.

Whether one wants information about parenting, energy saving window treatments, handling stress, weight control, financing local government, developing leadership skills, motivating others to use their skills, financial planning, estate planning, enhancing marriage and family living or any one of numerous other topics, it can be obtained at College Week.

For a complete list of College Week classes, costs and scholarship information, contact the MSU Cooperative Extension Service office in Iosco County, 362-3449, or write to Post Office Box 599, Tawas City, MI 48763. Deadline for registration is Monday, June 1.

AuSable and Oscoda Could Break Ties

Eve Bassham, who pulled off an unprecedented upset last year by unseating AuSable Township's incumbent supervisor, has touched a rather sensitive nerve in her latest hassle with AuSable's big brother neighbor, Oscoda Township.

Although the two townships living side by side at the northeast end of the county had been at odds for a century or more, in recent years the hatchet has been buried and the two have been sleeping in a "common law bed," so to speak.

Explaining the above terminology, we mean that Oscoda and AuSable have jointly supported a number of services beneficial to each; namely, police and fire protection, cemetery care and a library system. Such an arrangement has enabled each township to retain its autonomy concerning its own internal political operation.

That system seems to have worked out quite well in the past as financing of these services represents the costliest items in any township's budget. Based on property valuations in each unit, Oscoda pays 77 percent and AuSable pays 23 percent of the costs for most of the services.

In such arrangements of co-habitation, disputes between partners are bound to arise, especially when population and valuation differences are considered. At times "big brother" may get somewhat overbearing—he pays the largest share of the cost—and relations may hit the skids until a suitable compromise is hammered out.

But, not since the days when the Louds became upset with high taxes in old AuSable City and were successful in gerrymandering township lines to attach their sawmill property to Oscoda, has there been such a dispute between the two neighbors.

As a means of cutting costs in its operation, AuSable Township Board has discussed the possibility of pulling out of its arrangement to finance both the Oscoda-AuSable Police Department and Pinecrest Cemetery, which is located in AuSable Township. A public meeting was to have been held on Monday of this week to pursue the matter with AuSable Township taxpayers.

The action, according to Supervisor Bassham, would save AuSable Township taxpayers about $60,000 in its share of supporting the joint police department and would save another $6,000 for cemetery upkeep.

In the meantime, an irate Oscoda Township Board issued the ultimatum that it would discontinue all services shared with AuSable if the latter decides to take its proposed action.

Supervisor Bassham was quoted as saying that police protection could be provided by the Iosco County Sheriff's Department at no additional cost to the township—and that may be the rub to which this con-alluded earlier.

Supt. Robert Foster of Oscoda Township has long contended that two townships—Oscoda and AuSable—along with two cities—East Tawas and Tawas City—are paying more than their fair share for operation of the Iosco County Sheriff's Department, inasmuch as the two townships and East Tawas financially support their own police departments, while Tawas City contracts with the county for its police protection.

Most, but not all, of the other units of the county contribute reimbursement from state liquor tax money to the county general fund to help finance the sheriff's department.

In a recent conversation, Foster contended that the county is not required to provide road patrols and that county responsibility rests only in providing for operation of a jail. He expressed the belief that other units of the county should share the operational cost of operating the sheriff's department, rather than to finance the department out of the county's general fund, saying this was unfair to the other four units.

Cullison states, "Today's youths are tomorrow's leaders and we have an awesome responsibility before God in developing tomorrow's leadership."

The Rev. Edward J. Fairbanks, host pastor, extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Things could become interesting at future meetings of the board of commissioners, which is scrambling to find ways to meet higher operational costs; its finance committee is scrutinizing each and every bill which comes before it—regardless of what may have been budgeted for each department—and this has led to some heated exchanges, especially with the sheriff's department.

Without further speculation by this corner, what transpired at Monday night's meeting of the AuSable Township Board may, indeed, prove interesting.

Opinions Vary on Arrest of Dope Smuggler

The scribbler of this corner has no idea of the length of time required to fly from Arizona to Michigan—it must be a matter of several hours, for it proved to be quite an important, but not the only point in a decision handed down last week by the Michigan Supreme Court.

Authorities in Kalamazoo County recently arrested a man getting off a plane from Arizona, whose luggage contained 14 bricks of marijuana. The dope smuggler got off on a technicality.

The case began at an Arizona airport when police of that state became suspicious of the defendant's dress, nervous behavior and believed other actions fit the profile of a dope smuggler. Police located his luggage on a conveyer belt, removed it and the search revealed the bricks of marijuana. The search was illegal in that no warrant had been obtained, so Arizona police marked some of the marijuana, put the cases back on the conveyer and notified Michigan authorities.

Seminar on Divorce at TC Church

First Baptist Church of Tawas City will be offering a divorce adjustment seminar beginning Tuesday, March 31, from 7:30-9:30 p. m. The seminar, which will run for eight weeks, will cover most major problems faced by those adjusting to separation or divorce.

Registration for the seminar is limited to the first 25 persons signing up. Anyone may register by calling 362-3175 or at the door on the first night. A fee is being charged.

The seminar leader, the Rev. Charles Cerling, pastor of the host church and specialist in matters dealing with separation and divorce, is currently working on a doctoral dissertation on the adjustment problems of the separated and divorced.

State Sunday School Head is Speaker

The Rev. Gary R. Cullison, state youth and Sunday school director for the Assemblies of God, Michigan District, will be the guest speaker at the East Tawas Assembly of God Church on Sunday morning, March 22, at 11 o'clock.

Cullison is a graduate of Central Bible College, Springfield, Missouri, and has pastored three Assemblies of God Churches in Michigan. He also served as assistant director of Muskegon Teen Challenge for 18 months and is director of two youth camps each summer at Grass Lake and Gaylord.

Cullison states, "Today's youths are tomorrow's leaders and we have an awesome responsibility before God in developing tomorrow's leadership."

The Rev. Edward J. Fairbanks, host pastor, extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

U.S. consumers spend only a third as much ($5.1 billion) on foreign travel as they do on religious and welfare activities ($15.4 billion).

ruler Kalamazoo police could have obtained a warrant for their search after being tipped off by Arizona authorities, but five of the other judges ruled that "when police have custody and control over personal luggage, a warrantless search cannot be justified on the basis of circumstances or mobility."

Only Chief Justice Mary Coleman ruled that Arizona officers "acted reasonably under the pressure of time and consideration for all concerned."

This corner would have to agree with Justice Coleman. Despite the possible violation of one's basic constitutional right resulting from an illegal search and seizure, it does seem reasonable that proper authorities should be permitted to check personal luggage carried by public conveyance when illegal dope—or even a bomb—is suspected.

Even if Kalamazoo authorities had obtained a search warrant, as suggested by Justice Williams, the warrantless search by Arizona authorities may have thrown the case out of court.

Such questions about constitutional guarantees are always important to all, but it does seem reasonable to believe that luggage being carried on commercial aircraft—involving the public—does not constitute one's home or even his person.

It must be admitted, however, that what one person considers to be a reasonable action may not seem to be so to another person—even with supreme court judges—and that is the reason for due process in our judicial system. Despite disagreements over rulings, the system is workable.

Lois Baker to Present Message

Women's Aglow Fellowship, an international Christian organization consisting of women who love to magnify the Lord Jesus Christ and are aglow with the Holy Spirit, will meet Saturday, March 21, 9:00 a. m., at Lakewood Shores Golf and Country Club. Lois Baker of East Tawas will present the message from Ecclesiastes 3:11, "He makes everything beautiful in His time," a message for the women who are suffering from broken relationships in their marriages or going through trials and heartache in all areas of their lives.

Mrs. Baker, a member of East Tawas Assembly of God Church, is prayer chairman for Oscoda Women's Aglow Fellowship, a prayer warrior, Bible teacher and a counselor.

All area women, regardless of denomination, are invited to attend.

New Creation Singers Will Appear Here

The New Creation Singers, a group of 10 young people from Alpena, will entertain with song and verse at the Tawas United Methodist Church Sunday, March 22, following the 5:00 p. m. pot-luck dinner. A 6:30 o'clock service in the sanctuary will feature the singers.

A love offering will be received to help defray expenses of the group.

Britt Heads New Farm Organization

15 Years Ago—
March 16, 1966—Warren Britt of Sherman Township was elected president of the Iosco County Unit of the National Farmers Organization. Other officers are Martin Siegrist, vice president; James Dobson, secretary, and John Ori, treasurer.

A Tawas City volunteer fireman, George Westcott, had an assist from fellow firemen last week. Westcott left his car at the city hall and drove a fire truck in answer to a grass fire on Meadow Road. Before the second truck left for the blaze, firemen noticed smoke emitting from Westcott's car. The vehicle's electrical system was damaged slightly by flames.

A survey conducted at Tawas Area School indicates that 89.3 percent of parents returning forms favored sex education at various levels in the school.

Workshop Would Help Lead a Meaningful Life

A workshop for women, designed to help them live a life rich with meaning and purpose, will begin Monday, March 23, at the base chapel. The workshop sessions are vividly presented by a full color, continuous motion film of Verna Birkley, a former teacher, counselor and, for seven years, dean of girls at Ben Lippen School in Asheville, North Carolina. The film is accompanied by graphically illustrated colorful visual aids. The nine-hour workshop is open to all women—single, married, mothers, widows, older, younger, homemakers, professional women, students—women of all walks of life and will be held March 23, 24 and 25. For further information on registration and fee, call 739-2957.

Consumer Tips

Some interesting and helpful facts you may not know about your phone service.

ARTIFICIAL LARYNX: THIS SMALL INSTRUMENT IS FOR PERSONS WHO HAVE LOST THE USE OF THEIR LARYNX. IT SUBSTITUTES ELECTRONIC VIBRATIONS FOR THE NATURAL VIBRATIONS OF THE VOICE. CALL YOUR LOCAL MICHIGAN BELL BUSINESS OFFICE FOR MORE INFORMATION.

800 NUMBERS: Some out-of-town businesses provide an "800" number that you can dial without charge. For example, when you want to call out of town about reservations, look for "800" numbers provided in ads by hotels, motels, resorts, airlines and ground transportation.

MOVING? AVOID UNNECESSARY PHONE CHARGES. PLAN HOW MANY PHONES AND WHAT KIND OF SERVICE YOU'LL NEED. THEN CALL AND TELL YOUR MICHIGAN BELL REPRESENTATIVE. REMEMBER, ONCE YOUR NEW SERVICE IS INSTALLED, EXTRA VISITS BY YOUR INSTALLER CAN MEAN EXTRA EXPENSES FOR YOU!

IN 1915, Michigan hooked up to the first cross-country long distance line and the first DETROIT-TO-SAN FRANCISCO call was made. It took 30 minutes to set up the three-minute call and cost the customer $16.70!

IN 1877, THE FIRST COMMERCIAL TELEPHONE LINE WAS USED BY A DETROIT DRUGSTORE. THE DETROIT POLICE DEPARTMENT WAS THE SECOND TO USE THE NEW BELL TELEPHONE. A NEWSPAPER ACCOUNT STATED THAT THE "TELEPHONE IN THE POLICE STATIONS CONTINUES TO AFFORD VISITORS AND ATTENDANTS MUCH ENTERTAINMENT."

EMERGENCY NUMBERS: HERE'S A LIFE-SAVING IDEA... IF YOU HAVE CHILDREN AT HOME, TEACH THEM HOW TO USE THE PHONE AND WHERE TO FIND EMERGENCY AND OTHER IMPORTANT NUMBERS IN CASE OF AN ACCIDENT, FIRE OR SUDDEN ILLNESS.

QUESTIONS ABOUT YOUR PHONE SERVICE?

"Hi, I'm one of the dozens of Michigan Bell Service Representatives serving customers like you throughout Michigan. If you have any questions about your phone service, look on the front of your phone bill for the number of your service representative. He or she is ready to help."

You can call on us.

ENTERTAINING IDEAS

CHEERY CHERRY DESSERT SQUARES

Creative cooks quickly discovered the versatility of canned cherry pie filling for many delicious non-pie purposes. It's become a favorite convenience ingredient that smart shoppers always keep on the cupboard shelf for all sorts of dessert possibilities.

Cheery Cherry Dessert Squares combine the convenience of cherry pie filling with cake mix for a marvelous sweet and tart treat. Colorful cherries are layered between a cookie-like crust and golden crumb topping.

This is a nice recipe for learning-to-cook cooks (either children or the man-of-the-house) to prepare.

CHEERY CHERRY DESSERT SQUARES

- 1 pkg. (double layer size) yellow cake mix
- 1 1/4 cups rolled oats*, divided
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine, divided
- 1 egg
- 1 can (30 oz.) Thank You Cherry Pie Filling
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 2 Tbsp. brown sugar

Preheat oven to 350°F. In mixing bowl, combine cake mix, 6 Tbsp. butter (set aside 2 Tbsp.) and 1 cup rolled oats (set aside 1/4 cup). Mix until crumbly with mixer or pastry blender. Remove 1 cup crumbs for topping. Add egg to mixture still in bowl; mix well. Pat this mixture into well-oiled 9x13x2-inch pan. Spread cherry pie filling over crust.

Make topping: To the reserved 1 cup crumbs, add the remaining 2 Tbsp. butter and 1/2 cup rolled oats, along with nuts and brown sugar. Mix till crumbly; sprinkle over cherries.

Bake at 350°F for 35-45 minutes or until golden brown. Serve slightly warm or cooled. Cut in 12 generous squares for dessert; top with whipped cream. Or serve as snack-size bars.

Other pie filling flavors (blueberry, apple, etc.) may be substituted. For apple squares, spice cake mix can be used.

*For extra B-vitamins, substitute 2 Tbsp. wheat germ for 2 Tbsp. rolled oats in crumb topping.

Insurance Firm Seeks Balance Due on DPW Water Project

Balboa Insurance Company has commenced suit in Iosco County Circuit Court to collect the balance due on constructing a water main extension in Au-Sable Township.

Named defendants were the Iosco County Department of Public Works and the County of Iosco.

The insurance firm had issued a performance bond for the project between the DPW and Draeger and Fasbender, Incorporated, general contractor.

The contractor defaulted on the work and the extension was completed August 21, 1979, by agents of Balboa. The insurance firm seeks to collect the remainder owed by the DPW in an amount exceeding $10,000.

ADD A DIVIDER

You may be able to multiply your space without subtracting too much from your budget if you divide your rooms. A room divider can often make one room do the work of two.

A good room divider is more than a wall. A little effort and imagination can make it a thing of beauty and versatility. Easily built, a room divider doubles for use as a storage system for everything from books to knickknacks.

Now, building a room divider, or many other home projects, can be easier than ever before. Redi-Cuts™ are the reason why.

The lumber you need is available at Georgia-Pacific Registered Dealers' Redi-Cuts display racks... pre-cut to workable sizes, eliminating the need for expensive tools. One visit to the Redi-Cuts rack can help you on your way to building this useful, attractive room divider that will give you years of service and pleasure.

Here are a few tips from Georgia-Pacific to assure professional results:

- * Carefully measure and mark before cutting wood. Double-check your measurements. Use a sharp pencil for marking and, whenever possible, lay-up an identical piece of material to duplicate measurements from one board to another.

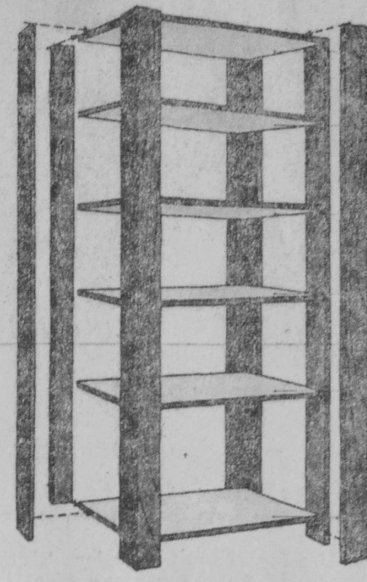

- * Use a saw with ten or twelve teeth per inch. If you use a circular saw, a plywood or all-purpose blade is best. Always cut with the wood's good (finished) side up when using a hand, table or radial arm saw; good side down when using a saber or circular saw.

- * You'll drill straighter, cleaner holes if you first punch a small hole on the board to start.

Here are the materials you'll need for your room divider:

Twenty-four 1"x3"x8' lumber; nine 1"x10"x4' lumber; six 4" chrome mortise (door-type) hinges and screws; glue, finishing nails or screws, wood filler, sandpaper, oil, paint or stain.

Cut all pieces as per plans. Next, sand and finish prior to assembly. Build and screw, gluing and nailing as you go. Finally, attach units with hinges.

You can use this diagram as a pattern for building a room divider.

To drill either a straight or angled hole, place a piece of scrap wood under the piece you're drilling.

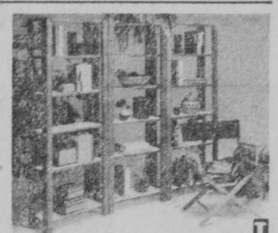

- * Use a little white glue even when using nails and screws.

- * Before finishing any piece of wood, fill all holes or surface irregularities, then sand.

Here are the materials you'll need for your room divider:

Twenty-four 1"x3"x8' lumber; nine 1"x10"x4' lumber; six 4" chrome mortise (door-type) hinges and screws; glue, finishing nails or screws, wood filler, sandpaper, oil, paint or stain.

Cut all pieces as per plans. Next, sand and finish prior to assembly. Build and screw, gluing and nailing as you go. Finally, attach units with hinges.

Here's the finished product: A handsome room divider for added storage.

Once you've stained or painted your room divider, and set it in place, you'll be amazed at the extra room you have—without having to add an extra room.

Tawas Chamber Has 109 Members

Tawas Area Chamber of Commerce had 109 members on its rolls effective March 1, according to a report Thursday by Roger Jackson, executive director.

Besides representing the area at all meetings of the East Michigan Tourist Association and Michigan Travel Bureau, the chamber of commerce acts as a clearinghouse for providing information and promotional folders to Michigan travel centers.

The chamber office on US-23 coordinates activities between different organizations in the Tawas area and the executive director represents the organization on the private industry council, is a member of the Northeastern Michigan Development Association and serves as chairman of the Huron Shoreline Tourist Alliance.

The chamber of commerce office staff answers numerous inquiries received daily.

The chamber of commerce is to sponsor four different promotional events during 1981.

The annual Brown Trout Derby is to be held April 17 through May 30. Winners are eligible to receive $5,000 in prizes—United States savings bonds—with four prizes offered in the brown trout division and three prizes in the lake trout division.

A fly fishing contest for brown trout is planned for the week-end of May 1-2. Separate prizes are to be offered.

The organization will sponsor the annual Tawas canoe race, sanctioned by the Michigan Canoe Racing Association, on June 13 and 14. Winners will receive a total of $1,000 in prizes. Professional canoeists are to race from the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock at East Tawas to the mouth of the Tawas River and then paddle upstream to the campgrounds on M-55.

On July 4, the chamber of commerce, in conjunction with the City of East Tawas and Tawas City, will sponsor a parade and fireworks.

The annual summer carnival is to be held July 20-26 at the Midway Family Discount Center in Baldwin Township. There will be fun for all with rides and concessions.

Farmers Week Activities Told

Two programs, cosponsored by the Michigan Beef Industry Commission and Michigan State University, will be presented during Farmers Week, March 23-27, at Michigan State University.

"Modernizing Your Livestock Show," scheduled for Tuesday, March 24, is designed for adults who are involved in any capacity with livestock shows. Featured at this session will be David Hessman, Clay County, Iowa, extension director. Hessman is in charge of Iowa's top district livestock show.

The fifth annual Michigan Beef Cattle Judging Clinic will be held on Friday, March 27, and will involve demonstrations and discussions of issues dealing with judging and evaluation of steers both on foot and on the rail, as well as judging of beef breeding stock and feeder steers. All classes will be officially placed and discussed by a panel of beef cattle experts.

Experts officiating at the clinic besides Hessman will be Craig Sherbahn, considered one of the top beef cattle judges in Indiana, and Richard Stuecken of Grand Rapids.

TO THE CUSTOMERS OF MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY

(Published by Direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission)

Case No. U-6790

NOTICE OF HEARING ON THE MATTER OF THE MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION'S INQUIRY INTO THE PROPOSED DIVESTITURE OF MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY BY THE AMERICAN NATURAL RESOURCES COMPANY

American Natural Resources Company (American Natural), the holding company parent of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company (Michigan Consolidated), has announced to the public at large that its Board of Directors has directed the management of American Natural to conduct studies to determine whether Michigan Consolidated should be separated from the American Natural System. The Commission is aware that such studies are under way and that upon completion, American Natural will decide whether or not to separate Michigan Consolidated. If the separation were to be implemented, Michigan Consolidated would no longer operate as a subsidiary of American Natural.

Michigan Consolidated is a gas distribution utility which supplies natural gas to more than one million retail customers in Michigan. It serves approximately 70,000 general service customers and 950,000 residential customers. Additionally, 200 large volume firm service industrial customers, along with 140 interruptible customers and 300 school customers are provided with natural gas service. The service area of Michigan Consolidated includes the Cities of Detroit, Grand Rapids and Muskegon, along with the northern portion of the Lower Peninsula and areas in the Upper Peninsula.

The Commission is concerned that a decision for divestiture by American Natural not act to impair the capability of Michigan Consolidated to continue to provide reliable and adequate gas service to its customers at reasonable rates. After careful consideration of this matter, and with recognition that specific aspects of any divestiture action as it concerns prudence on the part of Michigan Consolidated's management may be addressed in future contested rate proceedings, the Commission concludes that hearings of a fact-finding nature are in the public interest. It is the intent of the Commission that appropriate officials of Michigan Consolidated appear and present testimony as to what the proposal for divestiture is, and the underlying reasoning for any proposed divestiture of responsibilities, opportunities and resources.

The Commission has determined that:

a. The public interest requires that the Commission, on its own motion, inquire into the matter of the possible divestiture of Michigan Consolidated by American Natural.

b. Public hearings should be held for the purpose of receiving testimony from appropriate officials of Michigan Consolidated regarding the proposal for divestiture, the underlying reasoning for any proposed divestiture of responsibilities, opportunities and resources, the impact of the proposed divestiture on Michigan Consolidated's capability to render adequate, reliable and safe natural gas service to present and future customers, the impact of the proposed divestiture on Michigan Consolidated's capability to serve its customers at the lowest possible rates, and the Commission's jurisdiction in these matters.

c. The proceedings should be in the nature of a legislative inquiry and any interested person shall be provided the opportunity to present comments on the proposed divestiture.

d. Jurisdiction is pursuant to 1909 PA 300, as amended, MCLA 462.2 et seq.; 1919 PA 419, as amended, MCLA 460.51 et seq.; 1939 PA 3, as amended, MCLA 460.1 et seq.; 1969 PA 306, as amended, MCLA 24.201 et seq.; and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Administrative Code, 1968 Annual Supplement, R 460.11 et seq.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT:

A. A public hearing will commence at 9:30 a.m. on March 23, 1981 in the offices of the Commission, Mercantile Building, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan.

B. Michigan Consolidated shall file prepared testimony on or before March 16, 1981 addressing the above-mentioned areas of Commission interest.

C. American Natural is requested to fully participate in this inquiry and to provide testimony addressing the areas of Commission interest as set forth in paragraph B above.

D. The Staff of the Commission shall provide comments in the areas of Commission interest following its review of the testimony of Michigan Consolidated and of American Natural, if any.

E. All interested persons shall be provided the opportunity to present comments in the form of either testimony or prepared statements.

F. These proceedings be held in the nature of a legislative inquiry rather than an adversary hearing. Statements will be made under oath but will not be subject to cross-examination. Statements may be subject to questioning by the Commissioners, the Administrative Law Judge and the Commission Staff.

The Commission specifically reserves jurisdiction of the matters herein contained and the authority to issue such further order or orders as the facts and circumstances may require.

was constructed. He had also served on the county tax allocation board and represented this county on numerous regional and state committees. Following his long years of service, Little announced that 1972 would be his last year in public affairs. His wife recalled recently that she and her husband had planned to spend some time traveling to Colorado and other points around the country, but ill health forced him to give up that idea. Today, Mrs. Little enjoys re-reading the old clippings concerning her husband's active life and it is hoped that the scrapbook will one day be turned over to the Iosco County Historical Society for future preservation. Such public service careers should not be forgotten.
